The treasurer having admitted the defalcation, the state was not compelled to wait until the close of his term of office before commencing an action upon his bond. Idem.

1676. Duties of.

SEC. 3. He shall receive all moneys due and accruing to his county, and disburse the same, on the proper orders issued and attested by the county auditor.

1677. May appoint deputies.

SEC. 4. County treasurers may appoint one or more deputies, and may take from them bond with sureties; they shall have power to remove their deputies at pleasure, and every county treasurer and his sureties shall be liable for every official act of his deputies.

See sec. 2848.

1678. Office, location and hours.

SEC. 5. The county treasurer shall keep his office at the seat of justice of his county, and shall keep the same open for transaction of business during business hours; and he, and his deputies, are authorized to administer all oaths necessary in the discharge of the duties of his office.

See sec. 1564.

May have leave of absence, secs. 1566—1568.

1679. Accounts, arrangement of.

SEC. 6. He shall so arrange and keep his books that the amount received and paid out, on account of separate and distinct funds, or specific appropriations, shall be exhibited in separate accounts, as well as the whole receipts and expenditures by one general account.

1680. Books subject to inspection.

SEC. 7. He shall, at all times, keep his books and office subject to the inspection and examination of the board of county commissioners, and shall exhibit the money in his office to such board at least once a year, and as often as such board may require.

Board of examiners to count money in custody of treasurer, secs. 1549, 1551.

Cited, State ex rel. N. T. G. & T. Co. v. Grimes, 29 Nev. 60.

1681. To pay orders when funds—Procedure when no funds.

SEC. 8. He shall pay all orders of the county auditor when presented, if there be money in the treasury for that purpose, and write on the face of such order the date of redemption and his signature. If there be no funds to pay such order when presented, he shall indorse thereon, "Not paid for want of funds," and the date of such indorsement over his signature, which shall entitle such order thenceforth to draw legal interest; provided, that such interest shall cease from the date of notice by publication in some newspaper printed or circulated in his county, to be given by the county treasurer, that there are funds to redeem such outstanding orders, which notice such treasurer shall give in such case, and if there be no such newspaper, then by posting such notice at three public places in such county.

Payment of certificates of indebtedness, sec. 1563.

Cited, People ex rel. Flack v. County Commissioners, 1 Nev. 462.

1682. Orders and interest redeemed.

SEC. 9. When the county treasurer shall redeem any order on which interest is due, he shall note on such order the amount of interest by him paid thereon, and shall enter on his account the amount of such interest distinct from the principal.

1683. How redeemed—Received on taxes.

SEC. 10. County orders shall be redeemed by the treasurer according to the priority of the time of presentment; provided, such orders payable out of the county revenue shall be received in payment of county taxes, without any regard to the priority of presentment, or number; but such treasurer shall not pay any balance thereon over and above such tax, when there are outstanding orders unpaid for want of funds.

The only contract created by the certificate of indebtedness is that they shall be paid out of the general fund in the order of presentation or allowance. Esser v. Spaulding, 17 Nev. 289, 300.

1684. Redeemed orders, where deposited.

SEC. 11. The treasurer shall, on the first Monday in September, in each year, deposit with the county auditor all county orders redeemed, who shall receipt therefor.

1685. Removal of treasurer.

SEC. 12. Whenever suit shall have been commenced on the official bond of any delinquent treasurer, he may be removed by the board of county commissioners of his county.

1686. Annual settlements.

SEC. 13. The county treasurer shall annually make complete settlements with the board of county commissioners, at the regular September term thereof, and shall, at the expiration of his term of office, deliver to his successor all public moneys, books, and papers in his possession.

[Sec. 14 is superseded by the various salary acts.]

An Act authorizing county treasurers to place county funds in bank, on open account, under certain restrictions.

Approved March 12, 1885, 93

1687. Unanimous consent of bondsmen necessary.

SECTION 1. The county treasurers of the several counties in this state may, when a private or an incorporated bank is located at the county-seat, deposit, with unanimous consent of their bondsmen, county funds in such bank or banks upon open account; and when no such bank or banks exist at such county-seat, may deposit, with the unanimous consent of their bondsmen, county funds with any private or incorporated bank in the State of Nevada. Such accounts shall be kept in the name of the county in such manner as the board of county commissioners may prescribe. The balances in said banks, as certified to by the proper officer thereof, and by the oath of the county treasurer, may be counted as cash. All orders, checks or drafts drawn by the county treasurer on the banks with which county funds are deposited, shall be countersigned by the county clerk thereof, and shall bear on their face the number of the county warrant for which such order, check or draft is issued.

1688. Bondsman released by giving notice.

SEC. 2. Whenever any bondsman or bondsmen whose consent to deposit the county funds in any bank or banks has not been obtained in writing, such bondsman or bondsmen shall be released from all responsibility on the bond of said treasurer, upon giving notice as required by law.

COMPENSATION, FEES, SALARIES

An Act fixing the compensation of the various county officers (deputies) and of jailers in the several counties of this state.

Approved February 26, 1881, 86

1693. Salaries of deputies and jailer in certain counties.

SECTION 1. From and after the passage of this act the deputy county recorder, and deputy county clerks, and the jailer of the several counties (applicable to this act as hereinafter stated) shall receive a monthly compensation in the sum of one hundred dollars each for their services so rendered, respectively; provided, the provisions of this act shall be applicable only to counties of this state polling not less than sixteen hundred nor more than two thousand votes at any general election held in this state.

1694. Idem—Claims to be filed.

SEC. 2. The several officers named in this act shall file their respective bill for the monthly compensation with the county clerk of his county, duly authenticated, and the same shall be allowed by the board of county commissioners of the said counties, by virtue of this act, and the same to be duly audited by the county auditor, and the auditor is hereby authorized to draw a warrant on the county treasurer payable out of the salary fund.

1695. If no funds, certificate issued.

SEC. 3. In case there be no funds in the salary fund, the auditor is hereby authorized to deliver to the person or persons a certificate of indebtedness for the amount so allowed, the same to be registered (in number and date) as allowed by the board of county commissioners and approved by the county auditor.

An Act regulating the compensation of county officers in the several counties of this state, and other matters relating thereto

Approved March 11, 1885, 85

| 1696. Salaried officers to pay fees to county treasurer. | 1699. Fees payable in advance—Penalty. |
| 1697. Idem —Must make monthly statement. | 1700. Idem —Deficiency provided for. |
| 1698. Idem —Neglect, how punished. | 1701. State to allow compensation of revenue officers. |

[Sections 1—15, inclusive, fixing the salaries of county officers for the several counties in the state, have been superseded by subsequent acts fixing said salaries, and are therefore omitted.]

1696. Salaried officers to pay fees to county treasurer.

SEC. 16. The several officers named in this act, who shall receive salaries as sole compensation, shall collect and safely keep all fees, percentages, and compensation, of whatever nature and kind, allowed them by law for services rendered by them or their deputies in their several official capacities, and they shall, on the first Monday in each month, after said date, pay the same to the county treasurer of their respective counties.

1697. Idem—Must make monthly statement.

SEC. 17. The several officers named in this act, who are required to collect and pay fees and percentages to the county treasurer, shall, on the first Monday of each month, make out and file with said treasurer a full and accurate statement, under oath, of all fees, percentages, or compensation, of whatever nature or kind, [received] in their several official capacities during the preceding month; also, a duplicate copy to the county commissioners; in which statement they shall set forth the causes in which and the services for which such compensations were received; and it shall be the duty of each of said officers to keep a book in which shall be entered the items of every kind or description of services performed by them or their deputies, and the time of rendering said services and the amount allowed by law for each particular service, which book or books shall be open to the inspection of the board of county commissioners and every citizen, at all times.

1698. Idem—Neglect, how punished.

SEC. 18. For a wilful neglect or a refusal to comply with the provisions of this act, or for any one or more of them, any officer or officers herein named shall, on conviction, be subject to a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, to forfeit their offices, to imprisonment in the state prison not less than one year nor more than three years, or to any one or more of said penalties in the discretion of the court; provided, that nothing in this section shall be held to release them from the giving of any bonds required by law, from any civil responsibility to any and all persons in relation to the business of their said offices, that may be by other laws applicable to their said official duties.

1699. Fees payable in advance—Penalty.

SEC. 19. No salaried officer named in this act shall perform any service until the fees prescribed by law are paid; provided, that if any officer shall neglect or refuse to collect the legal fees for his services, he and his bondsmen shall be liable to pay double the amount of such fees not collected, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction.

NOTE—The following amendment to above section is special in its limitation but is herewith cited for information:

[SEC. 19. No salaried officer, named in this act, except justices of the peace and constables, in any township of this state wherein the number of legal votes cast at the general election held in eighteen hundred and eighty-six equaled or exceeded the number of seventeen hundred, shall perform any service until the fees prescribed by law are paid; provided, that if any officer, except justices of the peace and constables, elected as above, shall neglect or refuse to collect the legal fees for his services, he and his bondsmen shall be liable to pay double the amount of such fees not collected, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction; and, also provided, that the first moneys collected by the justices of the peace and constables, elected as above, and the first moneys collected in suits before justices so elected, shall be applied to the costs of the suit. As amended, Stats. 1887, 37.]

1700. Idem—Deficiency provided for.

SEC. 20. All fees and emoluments collected by the several salaried officers under the provisions of this act, shall be paid, upon a statement made under oath, to the county treasurer on the first Monday of each month, and by him kept in a fund to be known as the salary fund, and all warrants for the payment of the salaries provided by this act shall be drawn upon the salary fund. Whenever there is a surplus in said fund, the board of county commissioners may transfer it to the general fund; and whenever there is a deficiency, the board of county commissioners shall transfer to the salary fund a sufficient sum from the general fund to meet all warrants drawn against said salary fund.

1701. State to allow part compensation of revenue officers.

SEC. 21. The State of Nevada shall allow the several counties herein named, for the services rendered under the revenue act, by the auditor, assessor, and treasurer of each county, a sum which shall be the proportion of the state tax to the whole tax levied by the county on the basis of the salaries allowed by the act, including the compensations allowed for deputies by the commissioners. These allowances shall be made at the time of the semiannual settlement provided by law, upon vouchers furnished the county treasurer by the board of commissioners of each county.

See sec. 3749.

Inasmuch as the salaries of officers in each county have been fixed by special acts relating to the particular county, sections 1 to 15, inclusive, of an act regulating the compensation of county officers in the several counties of this state (Stats. 1885, 85; amended, 1887, 20, 29, 37, 56, 69, 106, 117, 125; 1889, 31, 49, 50, 98; 1893, 63; 1895, 41, 68) have been omitted.

For the same reason the act consolidating certain county and township officers and fixing salaries (Stats. 1885, 96; amended, 1889, 92; 1891, 129; 1893, 16; 1895, 19, 57) has been omitted.

The salary acts will be found among the special acts relating to each particular county under the proper heading.

The act of 1885, 85, supra, has had the following citations:

Secs. 1 and 8—The clause in "full for all services performed by himself or deputies" cannot be made applicable to the act of 1905, 109, so as to preclude compensation to the sheriff as collector for licenses since the act of 1885 is in conflict with acts of 1891 and 1905, and hence repealed, and especially since the office of collector of licenses has been regarded in all revenue laws as a distinct office. Bradley v. Esmeralda Co., 32 Nev. 168 (104 P. 1058-1060).

Sec. 2—This act is not in conflict with sec. 20 of art. 4 of the constitution.

It is within the power of the legislature to pass local or special laws regulating the compensation of county officers.

This act, so far as it relates to officers of Washoe County, is constitutional. State ex rel. Williams v. Fogus, 19 Nev. 247, 248, 250, 254.

Sec. 7—Cited, Turner v. Fish, 19 Nev. 296 (9 P. 884).

Sec. 21—This section is not repugnant to

Upon a previous act, fixing salaries of the various county officers of the several counties (Stats. 1879, 133), the following decisions were based:

Under section 17 of said act it was held that the right of every justice of the peace, elected or appointed after the act took effect, to salary or fees, should be determined by reference to the number of legal votes cast at the last general election preceding the time when the claim for his salary is preferred. State ex rel. Flanningham v. Storey Co., 16 Nev. 92-94.

The salary of county commissioners is regulated by the provisions of the salary act. The provision allowing mileage in the former law was intended as part of the compensation of commissioners for their services. The language of the salary act, that the salaries fixed "shall be in full for all services," and does not repeal Stats. 1885, 62. State ex rel. Hallock v. Donnelly, 20 Nev. 214-219.

The state is liable to a county for her proportion of the salaries of the assessor, auditor and treasurer.

This section is not repealed by Stats. 1891, 182-3, the latter act being simply a reenactment of the revenue law of 1865, except that it omits the provisions for the liability of the state for part of certain county officers' salaries, and it is not intended as a repeal of said act of 1865. State ex rel. Westerfield v. Tyrrell, 22 Nev. 421, 425 (41 P. 145).

Where the auditor, assessor and treasurer, ex officio, perform the duties of other county officers, not concerned in the collection of the revenue, and receive a salary in solido for the office and ex officio office or offices held by them, the state cannot be compelled to make the county an allowance upon any part of such salaries.

For the state to pay any part of the expenses of a county government not connected with the state's tax, would be in contravention of sec. 21 of art 17 of the constitution (ante, sec. 405). State ex rel. Lyon Co. v. La Grave, 24 Nev. 147-151 (50 P. 796).

excludes the idea that the legislature intended to allow the former provision on that subject to stand.

No contract is created between the government and the officer by his acceptance of the office. State ex rel. Scott v. Trousdale, 16 Nev. 357-359.

This act, authorizing the commissioners to transfer money from the general fund to the salary fund, is not in violation of the constitutional provision against impairing the obligation of contracts; nor is it repugnant to the act authorizing the transfer of surplus money from one fund to another (ante, sec. 244). Esser v. Spaulding, 17 Nev. 289 (30 P. 896).

SECTION 1. The superintendent of public instruction is authorized to make arrangements with the directors of any institutions for the deaf and dumb and the blind in the State of California, or in the State of Utah, for the admission, support, education and care of the deaf and dumb and the blind of this state, and for that purpose is hereby empowered to make all needful contracts and agreements to carry out the provisions of this act. As amended, Stats. 1905, 253; 1907, 371.

1703. Application for support and education. how made.

SEC. 2. Upon the application under oath of a parent, relative, guardian or nearest friend of any deaf, dumb or blind person, resident of this state, setting forth that by reason of deafness, dumbness, or blindness, such person is disqualified from being taught by the ordinary process of instruction or education, and that such parent, relative, guardian or nearest friend is unable to pay for his or her support, education and instruction in any of the aforesaid institutions, and file the same with the board of county commissioners of the proper county, and such board shall be satisfied of the truth thereof and such board shall have made application to the superintendent of public instruction for that purpose, it shall be the duty of the superintendent of public instruction to issue a certificate to that effect, which certificate being produced, shall be the authority of the directors of any of the institutions aforesaid for receiving such deaf and dumb or blind person. As amended, Stats. 1905, 253; 1907, 371.

1704. All intelligent deaf, dumb and blind to receive tuition.

SEC. 4. All deaf and dumb or blind persons that are not mentally or physically incapacitated to receive an education or instruction, that are free from offensive or contagious diseases, and are unable to pay for their support, education and instruction in any of the aforesaid institutions, and whose parent, relative, guardian or nearest friend is unable to pay for his or her support, education and instruction in any of the aforesaid institutions, shall be entitled to the benefits intended by this act, and it is hereby made the duty of the board of county commissioners of such county to make provisions, at the expense of the county, for carrying such person to the office of the superintendent of public instruction, who shall make necessary arrangements for carrying the person to any of the institutions of instruction before mentioned, at the expense of the state, payable out of the fund provided by this act. All deaf, dumb or blind persons over the age of twenty-one years seeking admission into the aforesaid institutions shall, before making application under this act, have been actual, bona fide residents of the State of Nevada for the period of five years preceding the date of making such application. As amended, Stats. 1905, 253; 1907, 371.

Original act, Stats. 1869, 103, has been wholly amended by the foregoing sections.

For further rights and duties of state superintendent of public instruction, see Public Schools, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

1705. Justice of peace ex officio registry agent—Commissioners may appoint for other precincts—Registry agent may appoint deputy.

SECTION 1. The justices of the peace of the several counties of the state shall be ex officio the registry agents of their respective townships, and, as such, their powers and duties shall be as hereinafter provided in this act; provided, that in any townships where, from any cause, there shall be no justice of the peace duly commissioned and qualified, or where an election district may be situated too distant from the office of the justice of the peace of said township, the commissioners of the county in which said election district is located may appoint some other competent person to perform the duties of registry agent, who shall be clothed with the same power and governed by the same restrictions as justices of the peace in the registration of the names of electors under the provisions of this act. All registry agents shall have power to administer oaths or affirmations, and do such other acts as may be necessary to fully carry out the provisions of this act. Any registry agent or ex officio registry agent may appoint a deputy registry agent who, upon the filing of his appointment and oath of office with the county clerk, shall have power to register voters, administer oaths or affirmations, and do all such other acts as may be done by a registry agent in carrying out the provisions of this act. Any registry agent or ex officio registry agent appointing any deputy shall be responsible for the compensation and acts of such deputy. As amended, Stats. 1911, 332.

The provisions of the registry law, when necessary to preserve the purity of elections, should be strictly pursued. Each elector must be registered and vote in the election precinct where he resides. Stinson v. Sweeney, 17 Nev. 309, 314, 315 (30 P. 997).

Where a noncompliance with the provisions of the registry or election laws, upon the part of the registry agent or officers of election, are not essential to preserve the purity of elections and the election is fairly and honestly conducted, the voters should not, on account of such irregularities, be deprived of their votes. Idem.

When there is no justice of the peace residing in an election district it is the duty of the county commissioners to appoint a suitable person to act as registry agent therein, and in remote precincts a non-resident may be appointed. Idem.

Registration is not an electoral qualification, but is only a means for ascertaining and determining whether the voter possesses the qualifications required by law, and to secure in an orderly and convenient manner the right of voting. State ex rel. Boyle v. Board of Examiners, 21 Nev. 67 (9 L. R. A. 385, 24 P. 614).

The constitution has committed the subject of registration of electors to the legislature for the purpose of determining who are qualified voters, and laws of this description must be calculated to facilitate and secure, rather than impede, the exercise of the right to vote. Id.

See ante, 255.

No provision having been made for registration, except in the case of death or resignation of registry agent, one acting for such registry agent when the registry agent is sick is without authority. State ex rel. McMillan v. Sadler, 25 Nev. 132 (58 P. 284, 59 P. 546, 63 P. 128).

Cited, State ex rel. Wilson v. Stone, 24 Nev. 309 (53 P. 497).

1706. Commissioners to provide stationery.

SEC. 2. The county commissioners of the several counties shall provide for the registry agents, in their respective counties, when and where required, all proper and necessary books and stationery to carry out the provisions of this act. They shall furnish to each registry agent a book which shall be known as the "Official Register," which shall be ruled in columns of suitable dimensions to provide for the following entries opposite the name of each elector, to wit:

First—Number on the register.

Second—Date of registry.

Third—Name of elector.

Fourth—Age of elector.

Fifth—Where born.

Sixth—Last place of residence before coming to Nevada.

Seventh—First place of residence in Nevada.

Eighth—Present number of ward, or name of electoral district.

Ninth—Description of residence.

Tenth—Certificate of naturalization exhibited. As amended, Stats. 1905, 190.

See sec. 1744.

1707. Directions as to registration.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the registry agents, at any time when called on to do so, between the hours of ten a. m. and six p. m. on all legal days, from and after the first day of August, and up to and including the twentieth day of October, prior to any general election, and in the case of any special or municipal election, provided for by law, twenty days prior to closing the register (which shall close ten days prior to the day of election), to receive and register the names of all persons legally qualified and entitled to vote at such election, or who will have legally acquired a residence (being otherwise qualified) and right to vote at such ensuing election according to the provisions of law under which such election may be held, in each election district within their respective townships, entering on the official register under the proper heading, the number and date of registry, the name (with the first or given name in full, if practicable), the age and nativity of the elector, last place of residence of elector before coming to Nevada, first place of residence of elector in Nevada, together with the number of the ward or name of precinct, and a particular description of the house, building or room in which the elector resides, such as will enable the officer or person desiring to serve notice of objection to vote to find the same without difficulty; and when the person so registered shall be of foreign birth, the fact of the exhibition of or failure to exhibit his certificate of naturalization shall be noted in the column provided for that purpose, which list, properly entered, as in this section required, shall be known as the "Official Register" of elections of their respective townships; provided, that for ten days next preceding the day set for closing the registry before any election mentioned in this act, said registry agents shall also be in attendance at their respective offices, and ready to register the names of applicants, at any time between the hours of seven and nine o'clock p. m., in addition to the hours heretofore required in this section; and provided further, that if any person shall fail or refuse to give his residence and the other information, with the particularity required in this section, he shall not be registered. As amended, Stats. 1905, 191; 1907, 195; 1909, 53.

Const., sec. 255.

Regarding registration in incorporated cities, official register to be furnished, see secs. 1727, 1729.

In precincts containing town or city, voters residing out of town are to be registered separately, sec. 1866.

The statute relating to removal of county-seats (Stats. 1867, 78), required an election to be held within fifty days after the order therefor: Held, that though the above section might render it impossible to hold an election within fifty days, still the former law was too clear and plain in its terms to mean that the fifty-day period could be extended. State ex rel. Hess v. Washoe Co., 6 Nev. 104, 108.

1708. Notice of expiration of time of registration published.

SEC. 4. The registry agents shall cause to be published in a newspaper published in their county, or if none be so published, then in the newspaper published nearest to their county-seat, for twenty days before the expiration of the time provided for registration, prior to any general election, and for ten days before the expiration of the time provided by law for registration prior to any special or municipal election, a notice to the effect that the time for the registration of the names of the qualified electors in election districts number ____ of township number ____, prior to the ____ election, (specifying the election), to be held on the ____ day of ____, A. D. 18__., for the county of ____ (or city of) ____, will expire at six o'clock p. m. on the ____ day of ____, A. D. 18 __. The publication of said notice shall continue until the expiration of the time provided for said registration; provided, that in remote or new and sparsely settled districts written notices posted at not less than five conspicuous places within said district may be substituted for the publication in a newspaper.

1709. Voter to take oath.

SEC. 5. Every person applying to be registered shall, before he shall be entitled to have his name registered, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation, which shall be administered by the registering agent; provided, that no elector who has taken said oath at the time of his previous registration shall be required to do so the second time in the same precinct, to wit:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I am a citizen of the United States, that I am of the age of twenty-one years, and will have actually and not constructively resided in this state six months, and in the county thirty days next preceding the day of the next ensuing election (or, in case of a municipal election, such length of time as may be required by the act of incorporation), that before coming to the State of Nevada I last resided at _____, in the State of _____ (designating such place of residence), that upon first coming to the State of Nevada I resided at _____, in said state (designating such place of residence), and that I am not registered elsewhere in this state. So help me God (or under the pains and penalties of perjury)."

Whenever an oath is required by the provisions of this act, the elector shall swear according to the form of his religious faith or belief and in such manner as may be considered most obligatory on his conscience. As amended, Stats. 1905, 192.

This section (in original act) held unconstitutional, Clayton v. Harris, 6 Nev. 64, 66, but the illegality was cured by above amendment.

The legislature can add no qualification to the right of suffrage to those prescribed by the constitution. Idem.

Cited, State ex rel. Whitney v. Findley, 20 Nev. 199 (19 A. S. 346, 19 P. 241).

1710. Oath required, when—Mandamus to compel registration—Resident and electoral year defined—When elector deemed registered.

SEC. 6. When any person shall appear and demand to be registered, whom the registry agent shall not know to be entitled to registry, under the qualifications required by law for the election then ensuing, the registry agent may question the applicant generally, either under oath or not, as to his qualifications as an elector, and, if satisfied, shall enter his name in the registry. But if the registry agent shall not be fully satisfied, or if the applicant be challenged by a qualified elector of the county, stating distinctly the grounds of challenge, the registry agent shall require the applicant to answer truly, under oath or affirmation the following questions, together with such other questions as said registry agent may consider necessary and proper, testing his qualifications as an elector for the ensuing election, to wit:

First—Are you a citizen of the United States?

Second—Are you now or will you be twenty-one years of age on or prior to the day of the next ensuing election?

Third—On the day of the next ensuing election will you have actually and not constructively resided in this state six months, and in this county thirty days (or in this city ___ days or ___ months, as provided by the act of incorporation) next preceding the day of said election?

Fourth—Are you now a resident of the election district in which you propose to be registered?

Fifth—Are you registered for this electoral year in any other election district in the name you have now given, or in any other name?

If any of the foregoing questions shall be answered in the negative, except the fifth, or that in the affirmative, the applicant shall not be registered; but if the applicant answer all the foregoing questions in the affirmative, except the fifth, and that in the negative, and the registry agent shall still believe, from the answers to such further questions as he may be led by circumstances to ask, that the applicant is not a qualified elector, he shall refuse to register the name of said applicant. But such applicant may then apply to the district court of his district, or the judge thereof, for a writ of mandamus to compel the proper registration of his name in such election district; and any elector may also apply to the district court of his district, or the judge thereof, for a writ of mandamus to compel the registry agent to erase from the registered list of electors the name of any person therein registered whom the applicant may know and be able to prove is not a qualified elector; provided, that said registry agent shall have notice and opportunity to be heard before said court, or the judge thereof, and show cause for his refusal. For the purpose of deciding contested questions of registration, the district judges of the various judicial districts shall hold court or sit in chambers at least one day in each county of their respective districts during the ten days immediately preceding any general election, during which days cases of contested registration shall take precedence of all other business before such judges or courts. All such cases shall be decided within forty-eight hours after being submitted, and every case shall be decided before the day of election. A resident, within the meaning of this act, shall be construed to mean a person who has resided or will have resided continuously within this state for six months, and in the precinct the time prescribed by law, next preceding the day of the next ensuing election. The electoral year shall commence on the first day of January and end on the thirty-first day of December of each year. Whenever in the same electoral year there shall be held in any township more than one election, general, special or municipal, any person registered for any one of such elections shall be deemed registered for all subsequent elections in the same year for which the residence qualification is included in or implied by the residence qualification of the previous election, and in all cases registration for a municipal election shall be deemed registration for any succeeding general election in the same year. The person so deemed registered shall be subject in all cases to be excluded from the registry by reason of the change of residence, or other causes, as provided elsewhere in this act. As amended, Stats. 1909, 56.

See sec. 1712.

Sec. 1751 requires registration for voters at the primary election; sec. 1733 makes registration for the primary sufficient for the general election.

Regarding registration in cities polling over 2,000 votes, see sec. 1726.

Under this section, the functions of the writ of mandamus are enlarged so as to allow a hearing of evidence and an enforcement by such writ of the proper registration of an elector or the erasure of a name improperly registered; being in effect a review of judicial or discretionary action of the registry agent. State ex rel. McGuire v. Waterman, 5 Nev. 323, 326.

1711. Naturalized citizen—Questions propounded.

SEC. 7. When a naturalized citizen shall apply for registration, his certificate of naturalization must be produced and stamped or written in ink by the registry agent, with his name and the year and county where presented, but if it shall satisfactorily appear to the registry agent, by the oath or affirmation of the applicant (and the oath or affirmation of one or more credible citizens, as to the credibility of such applicant, when deemed necessary), that such certificate of naturalization is lost or destroyed, or beyond the reach of the applicant for the time being, said registry agent shall register the name of said applicant, unless he be by law otherwise disqualified; provided, that in case of failure to produce the certificate of naturalization, the registry agent shall propound to him the following questions: First—In what year did you come to the United States? Second—In what state, county, court, and year did you declare your intention to become a citizen? Third—In what state, county, court, and year were you finally admitted to citizenship? Fourth—Where did you last see your certificate of naturalization? The answer to the above questions shall be taken down in the form of an affidavit, which shall be subscribed and sworn to by the applicant and retained in possession by the registry agent, and by him handed over to his successor; provided, that no person shall be required to make the affidavit twice before the same agent, or the successor of such agent, having in his possession a former affidavit.

1712. Names and notice to be posted—Challenges, how made—Application to district judge—Penalty against registry agent.

SEC. 8. On the day next succeeding that on which the registration of electors, prior to any election, mentioned in this act, shall have been closed, the registry agents shall, with all reasonable expedition, prepare, and cause to be written or printed a full and complete list of all the names registered by them, and then remaining on the official register, for each election district, alphabetically arranged, commencing always with the surname of each; and they shall have printed or written such reasonable number of copies of each district list as in their judgment may be necessary, at least five copies of which they shall cause to be posted up in as many public and conspicuous places within the district to which they apply, and the remainder of such lists shall be distributed among the electors of the respective districts. The registry agents shall give notice in said lists that they will receive objections to the right to vote, on the part of any person so registered, until six o'clock p. m. on the tenth day previous to the day of election; and also requesting all persons whose names may be erroneously entered in said lists to appear at his office and have such error corrected. Such objections to the right to vote shall be made only by a qualified elector in writing, setting forth the ground of the objection or disqualification, and sworn to, or affirmed to, to the best of his knowledge and belief. A copy of such written objections, with the name of the objector, together with a copy of notice, requiring the person objected to to appear before the registry agent at a time certain and specified therein, and answer under oath such questions as may be propounded to him by the registry agent touching his qualifications as an elector, shall be served on the person objected to, and such service shall be good when left at the place of residence of such person objected to, as the same shall appear in the official register, however general or indefinite may be the description of the same in said register. And no such objections shall be tried unless it shall appear by the return by an officer, or the sworn statement of an elector within the county, appended to such notice, that such objections and notice were by him duly served by copy, as in this section of this act required. At the time specified in the notice, or at such further time as the hearing may be adjourned to, the registry agent, upon being satisfied from the return or affidavit that proper service of notice has been had, as in this section provided, shall proceed to examine such person (if present), under oath, touching all matters specified in such written objections, and respecting his general qualifications as an elector, and the testimony of the person making the objections, and any further evidence offered (which the registry agent before whom objections are made may desire to hear in relation thereto). If the registry agent shall be satisfied, from the answers under oath of the person objected to, or other evidence, that he is not a qualified elector, as required by law, for the next ensuing election, or if such person, so notified as hereinbefore provided and required, shall fail to appear at the time set, or shall fail to show cause for his nonappearance, it shall be the duty of the registry agent to erase his name from the official register; provided, that any person whose name may have been so erased, may apply to the district court or the judge thereof, as is provided in section 6 of this act; provided, further, for a refusal of any registry agent to perform his duties as registry agent, he shall, on conviction thereof, before a court of competent jurisdiction, be punished by a fine of not less than thirty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not less than fifteen nor more than fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed. As amended, Stats. 1909, 56.

See State ex rel. McGuire v. Waterman, under sec. 6 of this act.

1713. Official registers copied—Index books—Check-lists—Copies delivered to inspectors of election—Transmission to county clerk.

SEC. 9. During the time intervening between the closing of any registration of electors and the day of the next ensuing election, the registry agents shall carefully copy from the official register, into suitable books, one for each election district within their respective townships, the names of all electors registered for such election district, alphabetically arranged (the surname first), entering opposite each name the number it bears on the official register, together with all other entries therein found opposite such name. The registry agent shall also prepare, not later than the day next preceding that on which the election is to be held, in "index books," one for each election district, and which shall be known as the "check-lists," lists of the names of all electors found on the official register for such election districts, alphabetically arranged (the surname first), with the number such name bears in the official register placed at the left of the name of the elector, and with a blank column at the right of the column of names, formed by two parallel perpendicular lines, in which the inspectors of election shall check the names of those voting, by some particular character, as for instance, thus: "V" for voted. Said blank columns last mentioned shall have written "headings" made by the registry agents, showing what particular election the said "check-lists" apply to, as for instance, "voted at general election, 1868," or "voted at city election, 1869." The copy of the official register, together with the "check-list," for election district, as herein provided, shall be carefully prepared and duly certified to by the registry agent, and delivered to some one of the inspectors of election in each election district, at a time not later than the day next preceding that on which such election is to be held, and such "check-lists" shall be carefully preserved and transmitted by the inspectors of election to the clerk of the board of county commissioners, in connection with and as a part of the "election returns," as provided by law.

It is the duty of the registry agent to pre- deliver the same to the inspectors. Stinson pare a certified check list of electors and v. Sweeney, 17 Nev. 309, 314, 315 (30 P. 997).

1714. Change of residence—Transfers—Certain electors have choice of precincts on certificate and affidavit.

SEC. 10. Any registered elector, moving from one election district to another, prior to the day of the ensuing election, may apply to the registry agent, before whom he has already been registered for that electoral year, at any time prior to the delivery of the certified copies of register to the inspectors of election, and have his name taken off the official register, and receive from the registry agent a certificate showing substantially that he was on a certified date duly registered in the official register of township No. _____, in the county of _____, and that his name has been erased at his own request; which certificate shall entitle him to have his name registered in the same manner as other names are registered, in any other election district, either within the same county or any other county, for said election; provided, that it shall satisfactorily appear to the registry agent receiving the certificate, and to whom application is made for the second registration, that the applicant will have resided such length of time within such county and election district, prior to the next ensuing election, as is or may be provided by law to entitle him to vote. Any registered elector employed in moving trains, stages, mails or otherwise upon any of the transportation routes in this state may apply to the registry agent before whom he has been already registered for that electoral year, at any time prior to the delivery of the certified copy of the register to the inspectors of election, and have his name taken off the official register and receive from the registry agent a certificate as above provided. Upon presenting, at any time not later than one hour prior to the closing of the polls, to the inspectors of election in any precinct on the railroad, stage line or transportation route on which he is employed, including the precinct in which he originally registered, the certificate mentioned above, and his written affidavit, which may be subscribed and sworn to before any of the inspectors of election, or any officer authorized to administer oaths, stating that he was so suddenly called away or detained by the transportation business in which he is employed that he did not have time to vote in the precinct in which he was originally registered, or to reregister under his transfer in that or any other precinct before the delivery of the certified copy of the register to the inspectors of election, the inspectors of election shall accept and file the certificate and affidavit and shall cause the name of the elector to be entered upon the certified copy of the register and the check-list under the designation "Electors allowed to vote upon presentation of certificate and affidavit on election day," and shall thereupon allow the elector to vote, the same as if his name had originally appeared upon the register, or certified copy thereof, and check-list. As amended, Stats. 1911, 332.

Under this statute, a voter, registered in a county where election precincts are not properly established and bounded, may take a certificate and be registered and vote in any other polling place in the county. State ex rel. McMillan v. Sadler, 25 Nev. 132 (58 P. 284, 59 P. 546, 63 P. 128).

1715. Registry agents to subscribe to oath—Form of oath.

SEC. 11. Before entering upon the duties prescribed in this act the registry agents (excepting justices of the peace who have been duly qualified) shall severally take and subscribe before an officer duly authorized to administer oaths the following oath or affirmation, which shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of their respective counties, to wit:

"I, -----, registry agent for election districts numbers ----- and -----, in the county of -----, and State of Nevada, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will perform all the duties of registry agent in and for said election districts according to law and the best of my ability, and that in the discharge of my duties as such registry agent I will honestly endeavor to prevent fraud, deceit, or any other manner of abuse of the elective franchise, so help me God (or under the pains and penalties of perjury)." As amended, Stats. 1881, 55.

1716. Compensation of registry agent—Accounts made out—Certain expenses to be paid by municipality.

SEC. 12. The several registry agents shall be entitled to receive, as full compensation for all services rendered by them under the provisions of this act (except for the collection of poll taxes), the sum of twenty-five cents for each name by them legally registered in each electoral year, which shall be a valid claim against their respective counties; and their accounts shall be made out so as to clearly show the number of names by them severally registered during that electoral year, and sworn to and filed with the board of county commissioners of their respective counties; and said claims, together with all other just and reasonable demands of other persons for books, advertising, and printing, necessarily incurred in carrying out the requirements of this act, shall be audited and paid out of the county funds of the several counties as other county charges; provided, that the expenses incurred in publishing the notices and printing the lists of electors prior to any municipal election, shall be a charge against, and shall be paid by the corporate authorities of the municipality holding such election.

[Sec. 13 repealed, Stats. 1871, 132.]

A justice of the peace in Storey County of one of the townships therein is not entitled to the compensation provided in this section, in addition to the salary named in section 11 of the salary act of 1885. Lobenstein v. County of Storey, 22 Nev. 382 (40 P. 1016).

1717. Not entitled to vote if not on register—Identification may be required.

SEC. 14. No person shall be entitled to vote at any election mentioned in this act, unless his name shall, on the day of election, appear in the "check-list" furnished by the registry agents to the inspector of election of the election district at which he offers to vote; and the fact that his name so appears in the "check-list" and in the copy of the official register in the possession of the inspectors of election, shall be prima facie evidence of his right to vote; provided, that when the inspectors of election shall have good reason to believe, or when they shall be informed by a qualified elector, that the person offering to vote is not the person who was registered in that name, the vote of such person shall not be received until he shall have proved his identity as the person who was registered in that name.

See secs. 1731 and 1790.

One whose name appears on the check list and copy of an official register furnished the election officers by the regular registry agent is entitled to vote although he was registered by one illegally acting for the registry agent. State ex rel. McMillan v. Sadler, 25 Nev. 132 (58 P. 284, 59 P. 546, 63 P. 128).

1718. Punishment for illegal registration, voting or attempt to vote.

SEC. 15. Any person who shall vote, or offer to vote, at any election mentioned in this act, but who shall not be a qualified elector, or any person who, being a qualified elector, shall vote or offer to vote in the name of any other registered elector, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and on conviction thereof before any court of competent jurisdiction, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than one nor more than three years; and any person who shall wilfully cause, or endeavor to cause, his name to be registered in any other election district than that in which he resides or will reside prior to the day of the next ensuing election; and any person who shall cause, or endeavor to cause, his name to be registered, knowing that he is not a qualified elector, or will not be a qualified elector on or before the day of the next ensuing election, in the election district in which he causes or endeavors to cause such registry to be made; and any other person who shall induce, aid, or abet any such person in the commission of either of such acts in this section enumerated and described, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof before any court of competent jurisdiction, shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by confinement in the county jail for not less than one month nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

1719. Punishment for perjury and violation when penalty is not prescribed.

SEC. 16. All wilful, corrupt, and false swearing or affirming before any registry agent shall be deemed perjury, and on conviction, shall be punished as such. If any registry agent, or any other person in any manner concerned, shall wilfully and corruptly violate any of the provisions of this act, the penalty for which is not herein specifically prescribed, he shall be punished for each and every offense whereof he shall be duly convicted, by imprisonment in the state prison for a term not less than one year nor more than five years, or by fine of not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

Under the former registration act (Stats. 1865, 380) it was held:

A person who was a qualified elector did not become disqualified by failure to pay his poll tax and to have his name registered until after the last day of the first week in October, A. D. 1865.

By provisions of said act all persons had until said time within which to have their names registered; no disqualification would result until after that time.

When all that is known of a person's citizenship is that his residence and home has been in a foreign country, the mere statement of a stranger that he was a citizen is not sufficient to establish a citizenship in this country against the presumption that will arise from his home being in another country. State v. Salge, 1 Nev. 455, 456, 458.

On application for registry by one who could not take the oath prescribed in this section, but was entitled under the constitution to the right of suffrage, it was held that the said oath was unconstitutional, and that, as the registry agents could not alter or modify it so as to leave out the objectionable part, the entire oath must fall. Davies v. McKeedy, 5 Nev. 369. See sec. 250, ante.

1720. Printing names of voters—Amount allowed.

SECTION 1. Whenever any board of county commissioners shall deem it necessary to have printed copies of the names upon the register of voters in any election precinct (as mentioned in section 8 of the act to which this act is supplementary), said board shall cause said list to be printed in such manner and for such time, in a newspaper or otherwise, as they may deem best calculated to give notice to the public of the names so registered, and shall cause copies thereof to be forthwith furnished to the registry agent of said precinct for posting, as required by said section 8; provided, that no registry list shall be printed at the charge or expense of a county, and no board of county commissioners shall allow, or auditor approve any claim therefor, in whole or in part, unless said printing shall have been done at the instance and order of said board; and provided further, that in no case shall the whole amount allowed by said board, approved by the auditor, or paid by the county for printing any registry list, exceed the sum of fifteen cents for each name upon said list and printed.

An Act to provide for the registration of voters in case of death or resignation of registry agent.

1721. Death of registry agent.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the chairman of the board of county commissioners of any county of this state, upon receiving notice from any responsible citizen of the death or resignation of any registry agent in their county, after the opening and prior to the closing of the books of registration, to immediately, without giving notice, appoint some competent person to fill such vacancy.

A registration made by one acting for the registry agent while the registry agent is sick is without authority. State ex rel.

McMillan v. Sadler, 25 Nev. 132 (58 P. 284, 59 P. 546, 63 P. 128).

1722. Qualification of appointee.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of such person, so appointed, to qualify within two days after receiving notice of such appointment.

1723. Failure to qualify.

SEC. 3. In case of the failure of such person so appointed to qualify within the time herein provided, voters may, upon producing evidence as to their right to vote, be registered at any other precinct in said county.

1724. Voters, when qualified.

SEC. 4. Any person so registered shall, upon presentation and surrender of a certificate of registration, signed by the registry agent of said precinct, be considered a legal voter in any precinct of said county.

1725. Construction of act.

SEC. 5. This act shall not be so construed as to interfere with the right of the full board of commissioners to make such appointment, except in cases herein provided.

McMillan v. Sadler, 25 Nev. 132.

An Act to provide for the registration of the names of electors and to prevent fraud at elections in certain incorporated cities within the State of Nevada, providing certain penalties and other matters properly appertaining thereto.

1726. Official register and stationery to be furnished by county commissioners.

SECTION 1. The county commissioners of the several counties shall provide for the registry agents, as now constituted by law, in their respective counties, when and where required all proper and necessary books and stationery to carry out the provisions of this act. They shall furnish to each registry agent whose duty it is to register the electors in any incorporated city within the State of Nevada, polling more than two thousand votes at the last preceding general election, a book to be known as the "Official Register," which shall be ruled in columns of suitable dimensions to provide for the following entries opposite the name of each elector, to wit: First—Number on the register. Second—Date of registry. Third—Name of elector. Fourth—Age of elector. Fifth—Where born. Sixth—Number of ward or name of electoral district. Seventh—Description of residence. Eighth—Certificate of naturalization exhibited. Ninth—Signature of the elector. Tenth—Number of identification statement. Each column shall be so marked by printed or written words at the top thereof on each page of such official register as to indicate the nature of the entries to be made therein. Such official register shall be in such number of volumes as shall equal the number of voting or polling-places in such incorporated city.

Const. sec. 255.
See sec. 1707.

1727. Duties of registry agent.

SEC. 2. In registering electors in any such incorporated city as mentioned in section 1 of this act, it shall be the duty of the registry agent to make the appropriate entries in each column of such official register, except in the ninth column, and in said ninth column it shall be the duty of the registry agent to procure from the elector his signature by having the elector sign therein his name in ink or indelible pencil; and the elector shall, with his own hand and without assistance, using an indelible pencil or ink, sign his name; provided, that if the elector alleges his inability to so sign, the registry agent shall read to the elector the following questions from a book to be furnished by the county commissioners and to be known as "Identification Statements for Registration Day," and said registry agent shall write down in said book the answers of the elector to said questions, each answer being written after the question to which it is an answer. Said questions so read shall be the following: What is your name? What is or was your father's full name? What is or was your mother's full name? What is your occupation? What is the name of your present employer? If unemployed, what is the name of your last employer? Where is or was his place of business? Are you married or single? Where did you actually reside immediately prior to taking up your present residence? At the bottom of each list of questions shall be printed the following statement: "I certify that I have read to the above-named elector each of the foregoing questions and that I have truly recorded his answers as above to each of said questions," and said registry agent, who has made the above record, shall forthwith sign his name to said certificate and date the same. The above questions shall be printed on separate sheets of paper which shall be furnished said registry agent, bound together in book form and numbered consecutively, and the number corresponding to the number consecutively, and the number corresponding to the number on each sheet, containing said list of questions shall be entered, when questions have been answered, in the tenth column in the official register of electors. Said book of identification statements shall be kept at all times by the registration agent or other proper officer or officers with the said official register.

See sec. 1707.

Voters residing out of town in precincts containing a town or city are registered differently, sec. 1866.

1728. Questions and answers transmitted to election board.

SEC. 3. Each of said registration agents shall cause such registrations of electors and said questions for identification to be so kept that the same shall be in form to be transmitted to the inspectors of elections, and all the electors registering shall be classified according to the polling or voting places at which they are each respectively entitled to vote, and all electors entitled to vote at any particular polling-place in the same book, or have the questions put to them recorded in one book or bound together in such manner as the registry agent shall determine, and no electors entitled to vote at different polling-places shall be registered in the same book. And no change shall be made in polling-places which in anywise interferes with the purposes of this act.

1729. Original official register delivered to election board.

SEC. 4. In addition to the books now required by law to be delivered by registry agents to the inspector or inspectors of elections, the registry agent shall deliver not later than the day preceding that on which the election is to be held, to some one of the inspectors of election in each polling or voting place in any such incorporated city, the original official register containing the names and original signatures of all electors registered and entitled to vote at such polling-place, together with the original or true and certified copies of the identification statements for all electors entitled to vote at such polling-place, if any there be.

1730. Oath of identification on transfer.

SEC. 5. If any elector registered under the provisions of this act shall transfer to any other incorporated city mentioned in section 1 thereof, or if any duly registered elector shall transfer to any such incorporated city, after the closing of registration, and shall demand his right to vote at the election and shall, by reason of such transfer, not be able to be identified thereat by his signature taken at the time of registering as provided in this act, or by said identification statements, he shall, if his right to vote be challenged or questioned, before being given a ballot, prove to the satisfaction of the inspector or inspectors of election, by the oath of two qualified electors, that he is the same person who so registered in said other voting precinct and has been transferred and is mentioned in said certificate of transfer, which oath shall be reduced to writing and by the elector subscribed and sworn to before one of the inspectors of election, who shall also sign his name thereto in a book to be known as the "Transfer Book," which shall be kept in the same manner as the other election books.

1731. Challenge and identification of voter—Prompting voter felony.

SEC. 6. At any and all elections hereafter to be held in any such incorporated city, if any person except as provided by section 5 demanding the right to vote shall be challenged, or his right to vote be questioned, he shall, before receiving a ballot, sign his name by his own hand and without assistance, using an indelible pencil or ink, in a book provided by the inspectors of elections and to be known as the "Signature Book" and to be so labeled in printed or written words in ink, together with the name and description of the polling-place. If the elector on election day alleges his inability to so sign, then one of the election clerks, to be designated by the chairman of the election board or chairman of the inspectors of elections, if there be a chairman, if not then by any inspector of elections for such polling-place, shall read the same list of questions to the elector as were required to be read at the time of registration from a book to be provided for election day, and to be known as "Identification Certificates for Election Day," and said clerk shall write the answers of the elector thereto. Each of these questions shall be numbered, and a number corresponding to the number on the statement sheet shall be entered opposite the name of the elector in the index book now provided for by law. The questions answered on registration day by the elector shall not be turned to until all the answers to said questions shall have been written down on election day by said election clerk. Any person who shall prompt a voter in answering any questions provided for in this act shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction shall be imprisoned in the penitentiary for not more than two years. At the bottom of each list of questions provided to be asked an elector on election day shall be printed or written the following statement: "I certify that I have read to the above-named elector each of the foregoing questions and that I have truly recorded his answers as above to each of said questions," and said election clerk who has made the said record shall sign his name to the said certificates and date the same, and note the time of day of making such record. The comparison of signatures of an elector made on registration and election days, or the comparison of the answers made by an elector on registration and election days shall be had in full view of watchers, and the right to challenge electors shall exist until the ballot shall have been deposited in the ballot-box. If the signatures or answers, as the case may be, made upon registration day do not correspond, in the judgment of a majority of the inspectors of elections, then the person so offering to vote shall not be entitled to a ballot. And that shall be the only test as to whether the person offering to vote is the same person who registered under the name offered to be voted by such person so offering to vote. No other identification of electors shall be necessary nor permitted.

See secs. 1717 and 1790 regarding challenge of voters at polls.

1732. This act supplementary to previous act.

SEC. 8. This act is intended to be supplemental to an act entitled "An act to provide for the registration of the names of electors and to prevent fraud at elections," approved March 5, 1869, and of all acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto.

An Act providing for a single registration of the names of electors to vote at any primary election and at the election for which candidates are nominated at such primary election.

Approved March 23, 1911, 335

1733. Registration at primary sufficient for regular election—Names to be copied.

SECTION 1. Hereafter when any qualified elector shall have registered a vote at any primary election under the provisions of section 17 of "An act to provide for the direct nomination of candidates for public office by electors, political parties and organizations of electors, without conventions, at elections to be known and designated as primary elections, determining the tests and conditions upon which electors, political parties and organizations of electors may participate in any such primary election, and establishing the rates of compensation for primary election officers serving at such primary elections; providing for the organization of political parties and the promulgation of their platforms, and providing the methods whereby the electors of political parties may express their choice for the registration of votes for said primary elections and the compensation of registry agents, and to provide penalties for violating the provisions of this act," approved March 23, 1909, and his name shall appear on the supplemental register provided for in said section 17, said elector shall not be required to register again in the same voting precinct as a qualification to vote at the election for which candidates were nominated at such primary election for which he has previously registered; and the registry agent shall copy the names appearing on said supplemental register into the registration books for said election the same as if such elector had registered for such election as now required by the registration laws of this state.

See secs. 1710 and 1751 in regard to registration and transfers.

For registration in cities polling over 2,000 votes, see sec. 1726.

An Act requiring registry agents to file with the county clerks a list of the registered voters in their precincts, and requiring each county clerk to certify the same to the secretary of state.

Approved March 19, 1901, 82

1734. Registry agent to file list.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of each and every registry agent, before receiving pay for his services as such, to send the county clerk of the county wherein he is serving, a full and complete list of the registered voters in his precinct, with their ages and postoffice address.

1735. County clerk to certify registry list to secretary of state.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of each and every county clerk throughout the state upon receiving the said list of registered voters from the different registry agents of the different precincts in each county, to furnish forthwith a certified copy of said registry list, containing the names and postoffice address of the said registered voters in each and every county, by precincts, to the secretary of state, who shall upon receipt file the same in his office.

PRIMARY ELECTION

An Act to provide for the direct nomination of candidates for public office by electors, political parties and organizations of electors, without conventions, at elections to be known and designated as primary elections, determining the tests and conditions upon which electors, political parties and organizations of electors may participate in any such primary election, and establishing the rates of compensation for primary election officers serving at such primary elections; providing for the organization of political parties and the promulgation of their platforms, and providing the methods whereby the electors of political parties may express their choice at such primary elections for United States senator, to provide for the registration of voters for said primary elections and the compensation of registry agents, and to provide penalties for violating the provisions of this act.

1736. Words and phrases construed.

SECTION 1. The words and phrases in this act shall, unless such construction be inconsistent with the context, be construed as follows:

The words "Primary Election," any and every primary nominating election provided for by this act.

The words "September Primary Election," the primary election held in September to nominate candidates to be voted for at the ensuing November election.

The word "Election," a general or city, or city and county election, as distinguished from a primary election.

The words "November Election," the presidential election, the general state election, district, county, township, or city and county election held in November.

This statute shall be liberally construed, so that the real will of the electors shall not be defeated by any informality or failure to comply with all provisions of law in respect to either the giving of any notice or the conducting of the primary election or certifying the results thereof.

See In re Primary Ballots, 33 Nev. —.

Mere irregularity of election officers in canvassing the ballots at a place other than the polling place will be disregarded, under provision of above section that the law shall be liberally construed, etc. Nicholson v. Comins, 33 Nev. — (111 P. 289-291).

Political parties are organizations of electors entertaining the same political opinions, attempting through an organization to elect officers of their own party faith and make their political doctrines the policy of the government. Riter v. Douglass, 32 Nev. 400 (109 P. 444).

This law is not invalid because it requires participating electors to declare a present intention to support the nominees for whom he votes. Idem.

A primary election is one for the nomination of candidates for the various parties.

This law is not invalid because it requires the payment of fees as a condition precedent to becoming a candidate, the fee being a reasonable one. Idem.

No religious test can be made a qualification of an elector. Idem.

See further citations of this case under section 250, ante.

This law, having made a radical change in the manner of making nominations for election, the provisions therein which preclude the withdrawal of a candidate after nomination supersede any provisions in earlier statutes permitting officers to resign, even if the candidate after nomination and before election were an officer within such former statute. State ex rel. Donnelly v. Hamilton, 33 Nev. — (111 P. 1027).

1737. How candidates may be nominated—Certain officers excepted.

SEC. 2. All candidates for elective public offices shall be nominated as follows:

1. By direct vote at primary elections held in accordance with the provisions of this act; or

2. By nominating petitions signed and filed as provided by existing laws. Party candidates for the office of United States senator shall be nominated in the manner provided herein for the nomination of candidates for state offices.

This act shall not apply to special elections to fill vacancies to the nomination of party candidates for presidential electors, nor to the nomination of officers of the incorporated cities, whose charters or ordinances now or may hereafter provide a system for nominating candidates for such offices, nor to the nomination of officers for reclamation and irrigation districts; nor to school district officers or school trustees; nor shall it be construed as restricting or affecting the right of political parties to hold, under existing laws, which are hereby continued in force for all such purposes, primaries and conventions for the selection of delegates to national conventions. As amended, Stats. 1911, 334.

See secs. 1834-1836.

Regarding nominations for United States senator, see sec. 1896.

1738. Date of primary elections.

SEC. 3. The September primary election shall be held in each precinct on the first Tuesday in September for the nomination of all candidates to be voted for at the ensuing November election. Any primary election other than the September primary election shall be held on Tuesday three weeks next preceding the election for which such primary election is held.

1739. Duty of secretary of state.

SEC. 4. 1. At least sixty days before the time for holding such September primary election in 1910, and biennially thereafter, the secretary of state shall prepare and transmit to each county clerk and to the city clerk in any city a notice in writing designating the offices for which candidates are to be nominated at such primary election.

2. Within ten days after the receipt of such notice such county clerk or city clerk in any city shall publish so much thereof as may be applicable to his county once in each week for six successive weeks, in not more than two newspapers published in such county or city and county.

3. In the case of September primary elections for the nomination of candidates for the city or city and county offices to be voted for at the November election in the odd-numbered years, the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body in any such city shall cause the publication of notice of such primary election, together with a complete statement of the offices for which candidates are to be nominated, once in each week for four successive weeks in not more than two newspapers of general circulation published in such city or city and county, the last publication to be made not more than forty and not less than fourteen days before such primary election.

4. In the case of primary elections other than the September primary elections the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of the political subdivision for which such primary election shall be held shall cause one publication of such notice to be given, such publication and posting to be not more than forty and not less than fourteen days before such primary election.

See, In re Primary Ballots, 33 Nev. —.

1740. Nomination papers, filed when; form of—(Candidates' statements.

SEC. 5. (a) The name of no candidate shall be printed on an official ballot used at any primary election unless, at least thirty days prior to the primary election, if the candidate is to be voted for at the September primary election, and at least fourteen days prior to the primary election other than the September primary election, he shall file a nomination paper with the proper official as hereinafter provided by this act, such nomination paper to be under oath and in substantially the following form:

NOMINATION PAPER OF _____ FOR THE OFFICE OF _____ State of Nevada, _____ }
 County of _____ } ss.

For the purpose of having my name placed on the official primary election ballot as a candidate for nomination by the _____ party as its candidate for the office of _____ I, the undersigned, _____, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I reside at No. _____ street, in the city, (or town) of _____, county of _____, State of Nevada, and that I am a qualified elector of the election precinct in which I reside; that I am a member of the _____ party; that I believe in and intend to support the principles and policies of such political party in the coming election; that I affiliated with such party at the last general election in this state, and I voted for a majority of the candidates of such party at the last general election (or did not vote at said last general election, giving reason); that I intend to vote for a majority of the candidates of said party at the ensuing election for which I seek to be a candidate; that if nominated as a candidate of said _____ party at said ensuing election I will accept such nomination and not withdraw; that I will not knowingly violate any election law or any law defining and prohibiting corrupt and fraudulent practice in campaigns and elections in this state; and that I will qualify for said office if elected thereto.

 Subscribed and sworn to before me this _____ day of _____, 19____.
 _____ notary public (or other officer authorized to administer an oath.)

(b) In the case of an elector seeking a nomination for the office of state senator or member of the assembly, he may include with his affidavit one of the two statements hereinafter set forth in this section and subdivision. His failure to include either such statement shall not be a valid ground for refusal to receive and file his nomination paper or papers by the secretary of state, county clerk or register of voters in any city and county as the case may be. Such statements, if any be made, shall be in substantially the following form:

I further declare to the people of Nevada, and to the people of _____ (senatorial or assembly) district that during my term of office, without regard to my individual preference, I will always vote for that candidate for United States senator in Congress who has received for that office the highest number of the people's votes for that position at the general election next preceding the election of a senator in Congress.

----- (Signature of candidate for nomination.)

If the candidate be unwilling to sign the above statement, he may sign the following declaration, which shall be filed with his nomination paper:

I further declare to the people of Nevada, and to the people of the ----- (senatorial or assembly) district that during my term of office I shall consider the vote of the people at any primary election for United States senator as nothing more than a recommendation, which I shall be at liberty wholly to disregard as I see fit.

----- (Signature of candidate for nomination.)

(c) Nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting the independent nomination of candidates to be voted for at any general election, by electors or bodies of electors, as now provided by law, but a candidate defeated at a primary election held under the provisions of this act shall be ineligible for nomination to the same office at the same election. As amended, Stats. 1911, 336.

See sec. 1737.

The question whether a candidate nominated at a primary election may have his name omitted from the general election ballot, is a matter of policy for the legislature, and where the legislature forbids the withdrawal of candidates nominated at a primary, the court cannot allow a candidate to withdraw even for deserving reasons. State ex rel. Donnelly v. Hamilton, 33 Nev. — (111 P. 1026).

At common law a citizen could be required to perform the duties of an office. Idem.

A candidate nominated at a primary election for a public office is not an officer within the statute allowing officers to resign. Idem.

Under this section and sections 24 and 27 of this act, one nominated at a primary election as the candidate of a political party for a public office cannot have his name omitted from the general election ballot, though he has since the primary become incapacitated from making an active campaign. Idem. (Norcross, C. J., dissenting).

1741. Nominations, where filed.

SEC. 6. All nomination papers provided for by this act shall be filed as follows:

1. For state officers, United States senators, representatives in Congress, and all officers voted for in districts comprising more than one county, in the office of the secretary of state.

2. For officers to be voted for wholly within one county, city, town or township, in the office of the county clerk of such county.

3. For city officers, in the office of the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of such city or municipality.

See secs. 1835-1837.

1742. Fees for filing nomination papers.

SEC. 7. Any candidate filing a nomination paper as provided in section 5a, with the proper officer as provided in section 6 shall pay to such officer a fee for such filing as follows:

If a candidate for nomination for any state office, or any district office voted for in more than one county, or representative or United States senator in Congress, one hundred dollars.

If a candidate for any district office voted for wholly in one county, fifty dollars.

If a candidate for any county office, twenty-five dollars.

If a candidate for state senator, twenty-five dollars.

If a candidate for assemblyman, fifteen dollars.

If a candidate for justice of the peace, constable or other town or township office, ten dollars.

No filing fee shall be required from a candidate for an office the holder of which receives no compensation. As amended, Stats. 1911, 338.

1743. Fees, how disposed of.

SEC. 8. The county clerk shall immediately pay to the county treasurer all fees received from candidates. The city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of any municipality shall immediately pay to the city treasurer all fees received from candidates.

Immediately after the last day for filing nomination papers the secretary of state shall pay to the state treasurer all fees received from candidates, and shall apportion the fees paid to him by each candidate equally among the counties within which such candidate is to be voted for and certify such apportionment to the state controller, who shall issue warrants on the state treasurer for the amount due each county and the state treasurer shall pay the same.

1744. Ballots and supplies provided at public expense.

SEC. 9. The expense of providing all ballots, blanks and other supplies to be used at any primary election provided for by this act, and all expenses necessarily incurred in the preparation for or the conduct of such primary election, shall be paid out of the treasury of the city, town or township, county or state, as the case may be, in the same manner, with like effect and by the same officers as in the case of election.

See secs. 1706, 1747 and 1833.

Section 1840 provides that ballots shall be printed under the supervision of county clerks in some newspaper or printing office in the county; or if there is no newspaper or printing office in the county where the work can be done, in any newspaper or printing office in the state; provided that the cost of printing ballots shall not exceed fifty dollars per thousand.

Section 1765 makes the provisions of the general law governing elections applicable to primary elections.

1745. List of candidates to be transmitted to county clerks by secretary of state—County clerk to publish list and notice of primary election.

SEC. 10. At least twenty-five days before any September primary election preceding a November election the secretary of state shall transmit to each county clerk of any county a certified list containing the names and post-office address of each person for whom nomination papers have been filed in the office of such secretary of state and who is entitled to be voted for in such county at such primary election, together with a designation of the office for which such person is a candidate and of the party or principle he represents.

Such county clerk shall forthwith, upon receipt thereof, publish under the proper party designation the title of each office, the names and addresses of all persons for whom nomination papers have been filed, the date of the primary election, the hours during which the polls will be open, and that the primary election will be held at the regular polling-places in each precinct, which shall be particularly designated. It shall be the duty of the county clerk to cause such publication to be made for two successive weeks prior to said primary election.

1746. Publication, how to be made.

SEC. 11. Every publication required by this act shall be made in not more than two newspapers of general circulation published in such county or city or town or township, and one of such newspapers shall represent the political party that cast at the last preceding general election the highest number of votes in such county or city or town or township, and one of such newspapers, if any, shall represent the party which cast the next highest number of votes at such election. In any case where the publication of the notices provided for by this act cannot be made as hereinbefore provided it shall be made in any newspaper having a general circulation in the city or county in which the notice is required to be published.

1747. Form and printing of ballots—Secretary of state to furnish paper—Instructions to voters.

SEC. 12. 1. All voting at primary elections within the meaning of this act shall be by ballot, and the respective tickets of all political parties shall be printed on the same ballot.

It shall be the duty of the county clerk of each county to provide such printed official ballots to be used at any September primary election for the nomination of candidates to be voted for in such county, town or township, at the ensuing November election.

It shall be the duty of the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of any municipality to provide such printed official ballots for any primary election other than the September primary election.

All official ballots shall be printed on plain white paper. The secretary of state shall furnish the paper necessary to print said ballots and it shall be the duty of the secretary of state to obtain and keep on hand a sufficient supply of such paper for ballots, and to furnish the same in quantities ordered to any county clerk.

Such paper shall be watermarked with a design furnished by the secretary of state in such manner that the said watermark shall be plainly discernible on the outside of such ballot when properly folded, and such design shall be changed at each primary election.

See sec. 1744 and note regarding printing and cost of ballots.

See secs. 1779, 1780.

2. Official primary election ballots used at any primary election for the nomination of candidates to be voted for at any presidential or general state election shall be not less than twelve inches wide, and enough wider to conform to the requirements of the following provisions of this section, and as long as the herein prescribed captions, headings, party designations, directions to voters, and lists of names of candidates, properly subdivided according to the several offices to be nominated for, may require; and no official primary election ballot shall be less than six and one-half inches wide.

3. Across the top of the ballot shall be printed in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than fifty-four point, the words: "Official Primary Election Ballot."

Beneath this shall be printed in not smaller than eighteen-point type the name of the county and town, or township, wherein such ballot is to be used, together with the date of such primary election.

In the case of official primary election ballots to be used at any primary election held for the nomination of candidates other than those to be voted for at a presidential or general state election the words "Official Primary Election Ballot" shall be printed thereon in heavy-faced gothic capital type not smaller than twenty-four point.

4. At least three-eighths of an inch below the name of the county and town or township as aforesaid, and the date of the primary election, shall be printed in ten-point black-faced type, double-ledged, the following, "Instructions to Voters":

Place a cross (X) in the square just below the name of the party whose candidates you desire to vote for.

The designation of more than one party will render your ballot void, and the failure to designate any party will render your ballot void if you vote for any candidate or candidates of more than one party.

To vote for a candidate of the party you have designated, make a cross (X) in the square at the right of the name of the person for whom you desire to vote.

Any votes for a candidate other than a candidate of the party you have designated, will be disregarded.

5. The "Instructions to Voters" shall be separated from the names of the several parties and the lists of candidates thereof and the designation of the several offices for which nominations are to be made by one light and one heavy line or rule.

Beneath the "Instructions to Voters" there shall be printed in as many separate parallel columns as there are political parties represented on said ballot and in said primary election, the names of the respective offices and the candidates for nomination therefor, with the name of said respective political parties in not smaller than eighteen-point black-faced type at the head of said respective parallel columns.

Immediately beneath the name of each party there shall be placed a voting square not less than one-half inch square, the lines bounding said square being four-point black-faced rule.

The names of said parties shall be separated from each other and from the names of the candidates and offices by lines.

The order of said party tickets constituting such respective parallel columns with the name of the party at the head of the respective columns as aforesaid shall be alphabetical from left to right according to the first letter of the names of political parties represented on said ballot.

6. The names of the candidates for each office shall be grouped in alphabetical order according to the surnames of the candidates for such office and each group shall be preceded by the designation of the office for which the candidates seek nomination and the words "Vote for one" or "Vote for two" or more, according to the number to be nominated. Such designation of the office to be nominated for and of the number of candidates to be nominated shall be printed in heavy-faced gothic type, not smaller than eight-point. The word or words designating the office shall be printed flush with the left-hand margin, and the words "Vote for one" or "Vote for two" or more, as the case may be, shall extend to the extreme right of the column and over the voting square. The designation of the office and the direction for voting shall be separated from the names of the candidates by a light line.

7. The names of the candidates shall be printed on the ballot, without indentation, in gothic capital type not smaller than eight-point, between light lines or rules three-eighths of an inch apart. To the right of the names of the candidates shall be printed a light line or rule so as to form a voting square three-eighths of an inch square.

Each group of names of candidates shall be separated from the succeeding group by one light and one heavy line or rule.

All official primary ballots shall have printed on the back and immediately below the center thereof, in eighteen-point gothic capital type the words "Official Primary Election Ballot," and beneath these words the respective counties in which each ballot is to be voted.

8. The primary election ballot shall be printed in the following form: [See next page.] As amended, Stats. 1911, 338.

Regarding form of primary election ballots, see In re Primary Ballots, 33 Nev. —.

1748. Sample ballots: clerk to print and distribute—To be posted and published for municipal elections.

SEC. 14. At least twenty days before the September primary election each city clerk or county clerk in any city or county shall prepare sample ballots for such election, placing thereon alphabetically, according to surnames under the appropriate title of each office the same as hereinbefore described for the official ballot, the names of all candidates for whom nomination papers have been duly filed with him, or have been certified to him by the secretary of state, to be voted for at the primary election in his county or city and county. Such sample ballots shall be printed on yellow paper, and be conspicuously marked with the words "Sample Ballot."

Such clerk shall forthwith submit a copy of said ballot to the chairman of the county committee of each political party represented on such ballot and shall mail a copy to each candidate for whom a nomination paper has been filed with him, or whose name has been certified to him by the secretary of state, to the postoffice address as given in such nomination paper or certification, and shall post a copy of said sample ballot in a conspicuous place in his office, and such clerk shall print for general distribution one sample ballot for each voter in each precinct, and shall distribute said sample ballots not less than ten days before said primary election by sending said sample ballots to the registration agent or agents of the several precincts for distribution.

On the tenth day before such primary election the county clerk shall correct any errors or omissions in the ballot, causing same to be printed as in this act provided, and to be distributed as provided by law, except that the number of ballots to be furnished to each voting precinct shall be apportioned at the ratio of one hundred and fifty such ballots for each one hundred voters registered in each precinct for each primary election.

In the case of primary elections for the nomination of candidates for city offices it shall be the duty of the city clerk or secretary of the legislative body of such city or municipality, or such other officer charged by law with the duty of preparing and distributing official ballots used at elections in such city or municipality, to prepare and distribute the sample and official primary election ballots, and so far as applicable and not otherwise provided herein the provisions of this act shall apply to the nomination of all candidates for city offices; provided, that the lists of candidates shall be posted and published at least ten days before such primary election and the official ballots printed at least four days before the day of holding such primary election. As amended, Stats. 1911, 342.

1749. Hours of election.

SEC. 15. The polls must be open at 8 o'clock of the morning of the day of primary election and must be kept open until 6 o'clock in the afternoon of the same day when the polls shall be closed; provided, however, if at the hour of closing there are any voters in the polling-place, or in line at the door, who are qualified to vote and have not been able to do so since appearing, the polls shall be kept open a sufficient time to enable them to vote. But no one who shall arrive at the polling-place after 6 o'clock in the afternoon shall be entitled to vote, although the polls may be open when he arrives. No adjournment or intermission shall be taken except as provided in the case of elections.

1750. Officers of election.

SEC. 16. The officers for primary elections shall be the same as provided by law for general elections, and such officers shall receive the same compensation for their services at primary elections as provided by law for general elections. It shall be the duty of the proper officers to furnish certified copies of the official register, together with the check-list for election district, to one of the inspectors of election as now provided by law.

1751. General election laws govern—Registry agent to furnish copy of register and to register and transfer certain voters—Compensation.

SEC. 17. That the qualifications and regulation of voters at primary elections shall be subject to the same tests and governed by the same provisions of law and rules and regulations as are now prescribed by law for other elections and the same officers who prepare and furnish registers for general elections shall prepare and furnish them for use at primary elections, and it shall be the duty of the proper officers to furnish a certified copy of the register and supplements thereto, for use at primary elections, which said register shall show the names of all voters entitled to vote at such elections. Said register shall be made by taking the names of all voters on the register used at the last general election in the city, town or county, together with supplemental registers or additions showing all additional registrations, changes and corrections made since the last general registration. The supplemental registers to be made as follows: All persons entitled to register or vote at any primary election in any town, city or county whose names are not upon the register, or who may be entitled to transfer their registration, shall be entitled to be registered or transferred so as to enable them to vote at such primary elections, and for that purpose it shall be the duty of the officer charged with the registration of voters of such town, city or county to keep his office open for at least fifty days prior to fifteen days immediately preceding such primary election, and to register all voters entitled to vote at such primary election.

Said registry agent shall be paid a reasonable sum for copying the names from one register to another, the amount to be fixed by the county commissioners of the county; for all new names he shall be paid as now allowed by law.

In regard to registration and transfers, see secs. 1710, 1714, and 1733.

Concerning registration in cities polling over 2,000 votes, see sec. 1726.

Certain electors may vote without being upon the register upon presentation of certificate and affidavit, under sec. 1714.

1752. Mode of voting—Instructions may be given voter—New ballot, when.

SEC. 18. Any elector desiring to vote at any primary election shall give his name and address to the ballot clerk who shall immediately announce the same, and the elector's right to vote may be challenged by any elector upon any of the grounds now allowed by law for a challenge for a right to vote at a general election, and such challenge to vote shall be disposed of in the same manner as now provided by law for challenges at general elections.

The voter shall be instructed, if necessary, by a member of the board as to the proper method of marking and folding his ballot and he shall then retire to an unoccupied booth and without undue delay stamp the same with a rubber stamp there found.

If he shall spoil or deface the ballot he shall at once return the same to the ballot clerk and receive another. As amended, Stats. 1911, 342.

1753. Manner of voting—Marking extra party or candidate nullifies ballot—Technical error.

SEC. 19. (a) The voter shall designate the political party the candidates of which he desires to vote for, by a cross (X) in the square immediately below the name of such party and he shall designate but one such party; if he shall designate more than one party it shall render such ballot void, and if he shall fail to so designate any party at all such ballot shall be void unless the voter shall have voted only for the candidates of one and the same political party, and shall not have voted for any candidate of any other political party, in which case such ballot shall be counted the same as if the voter had properly designated the party for whose candidates he voted. In case the voter designates one political party in the manner above provided and votes for candidates for nomination of any other political party than the party designated, such votes for such candidates of any other party than the one designated, shall be disregarded in the count.

(b) The voter shall designate his choice on the ballot of candidates of his party by stamping a cross (X) in the small square opposite the name of each candidate for whom he desires to vote. If he shall stamp more names than there are candidates to be nominated for any office, or if for any reason it is impossible to determine his choice for any office, his ballot shall not be counted for such office, but the rest of his ballot, if properly stamped, shall be counted, except as above provided in subdivision "a" of this section.

No ballot shall be rejected for any technical error which does not render it impossible to determine the voter's choice for candidates of his party, nor even though such ballot be somewhat soiled or defaced. As amended, Stats. 1911, 343.

1754. Folding and depositing ballot; checking register.

SEC. 20. When a voter has stamped his ballot he shall fold it so that its face shall be concealed and only the printed designation on the back thereof shall be visible, and hand the same to a member of the board in charge of the ballot-box. Such folded ballot shall be placed in the ballot-box in the presence of the voter, and the name of the voter checked upon the register as having voted.

1755. Polls open continuously.

SEC. 21. No adjournment or intermission whatever shall take place until the polls shall be closed and until all the votes cast at such polls shall be counted and the result publicly announced, but this shall not be deemed to prevent any temporary recess while taking meals or for the purpose of other necessary delay; provided, that no more than one member of the board shall at any time be absent from the polling-place.

1756. Canvass, how conducted.

SEC. 22. As soon as the polls are finally closed the judges must immediately proceed to canvass the votes cast at such primary election. The canvass must be public, in the presence of bystanders, and must be continued without adjournment until completed, and the result thereof declared. Except as hereinafter provided, the canvass shall be conducted, completed and returned as provided by law.

The number of ballots agreeing or being made to agree with the number of names on the lists, as now provided by law, the board must take the ballot from the box and count all the votes cast for each party candidate for the several offices and record the same on separate tally-lists for each party. As amended, Stats. 1911, 343.

1757. Canvass of votes—Clerk to forward statement—Secretary of state to compile returns of canvass.

SEC. 23. The board of county commissioners of each county, or in the case of a city or municipal primary election, the officers charged by law with the duty of canvassing the votes at any city or municipal election in such political subdivision, shall meet at the usual place at 1 o'clock in the afternoon of the first Friday after each primary election to canvass the returns.

If, at the time of meeting, the returns from each precinct in the county, city and county or other political subdivision in which polls were open have been received, the board must then and there proceed to canvass the returns; but if all these returns have not been received the board may adjourn to 1 o'clock in the afternoon of the following Monday, when the canvass shall begin and be continued until completed, which shall not be later than 6 o'clock in the afternoon of the tenth day following such primary election.

The clerk of the board must, as soon as the result is declared enter upon the records of such board a statement of such result, which statement shall contain the whole number of votes cast for each candidate of each political party, and a duplicate as to each political party shall be delivered to the county, city and county, or city chairman of each political party, as the case may be.

The clerk shall also make an additional duplicate statement in the same form, showing the votes cast for each candidate not voted for wholly within the limits of such county, or city and county. The county clerk in any county shall forthwith send to the secretary of state by registered mail one complete copy of all returns as to such candidates and as to all candidates for the state assembly, state senate, representatives in Congress, and judicial offices, except justices of the peace.

The clerk shall also prepare a separate statement of the names of the candidates of each political party who have received the highest number of votes for the several offices to be voted for wholly within such county, city and county or other political subdivision in which such primary election was held.

The secretary of state shall, not later than the twenty-fifth day after any primary election, compile the returns for all candidates voted for in more than one county, and for all candidates for the assembly, state senate, representatives in Congress and judicial officers, except justices of the peace, and shall make out and file in his office a statement thereof. As amended, Stats. 1911, 344.

1758. Certificates of nomination, how issued and transmitted—Certificate of election of county committeemen.

SEC. 24. The person receiving the highest number of votes at a primary election as the candidate for the nomination of a political party for an office shall be the candidate of the party for such office, and his name as such candidate shall be placed on the official ballot voted at the ensuing election.

It shall be the duty of the officers charged with the canvass of the returns of any primary election in any county, city and county, or municipality to cause to be issued official certificates of nomination to such party candidates as have received the highest number of votes as the candidates for the nomination of such party for any offices to be voted for wholly within such county, city and county, or municipality; and cause to be issued to such county committeemen a certificate of his election.

It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to issue official certificates of nomination to candidates nominated under provisions of this act for representatives in Congress and officers voted for in more than one county.

It shall also be the duty of the secretary of state to compile the returns for United States senator in Congress, if any, and prepare a statement thereof. A duplicate of such statement in so far as it shall be applicable to such party shall be transmitted to the state chairman of each political party. And it shall be the duty of the secretary of state to transmit duplicates of such statements to the speaker of the assembly and to the president of the senate on the first day of the next ensuing session of the legislature, together with his official certificates of nomination for the candidates for United States senator in Congress who received the highest number of votes cast by their respective party at the primary election. As amended, Stats. 1911, 345.

See State ex rel. Donnelley v. Hamilton, under section 5 of this act.

1759. County platforms, how formulated—State, county and executive committees—Vacancy.

SEC. 25. On the second Tuesday after any September primary election at the hour of 2 p. m. all the candidates of each political party to be voted for wholly within any county (including state senators and assemblymen) shall meet at the court house at the county-seat of such county and there organize, and adopt a county party platform and elect a county committee to consist of not less than one nor more than three electors from each voting precinct, but each precinct shall be represented by the same number of committeemen; such county committeemen shall hold office for the term of two years and until their successors are elected. A vacancy in such committee may be filled by the remaining members.

State central committees shall be selected as hereinafter provided; each such committee may select an executive committee and shall choose its officers by ballot and each committee and its officers shall have the powers usually exercised by said committees and the officers thereof in so far as may be consistent with this act.

The various officers and committees now in existence shall exercise the powers and perform the duties herein prescribed until their successors are chosen in accordance with the provisions of this act. As amended, Stats. 1911, 345.

1760. State platforms, how formulated — Proxies — State central and executive committees, how selected.

SEC. 26. In the years when a governor and other state officers are to be elected the candidates for state officers and for senate and assembly nominated by each political party whose term of office extends beyond the first Monday in January of the year next ensuing shall meet at the state capital at 2 o'clock in the afternoon on the fourth Tuesday of September after the date on which any primary election is held preliminary to such general state election. They shall forthwith formulate the state platforms of their party, which said state platform of each political party shall be framed at such time that it shall be made public not later than 6 o'clock in the afternoon of the following Thursday.

Members of such conventions may be represented thereat by proxy duly executed, but no person other than a member shall act as proxy for a member.

It shall also proceed to elect a state central committee, to consist of at least three members from each county, who shall hold office until a new state central committee shall have been selected. In years when a state convention assembles to select delegates to a national convention, to nominate a candidate for president and for vice-president of the United States, such state convention shall have the power to formulate their party platform and to select such new state central committee, which shall consist of at least one member from each county, which committee shall hold and exercise its power until the candidates for state offices and for senate and assembly to be voted for at the next ensuing state election shall assemble and select their successors. Such state central committee shall meet and organize at a time and place to be designated by the body selecting such state central committee, and such committee may then and thereafter select an executive committee. As amended, Stats. 1911, 346.

1761. Vacancies, how filled.

SEC. 27. Vacancies occurring after the holding of any primary election shall be filled by the party committee of the city, county, city and county, district or state, as the case may be.

See sec. 1839.

See State ex rel. Donnelly v. Hamilton, under section 5 of this act.

1762. Tie vote, how decided.

SEC. 28. In the case of a tie vote, if for an office to be voted for wholly within one county, or city and county, the county, city and county, and city board, as the case may be, shall forthwith summon the candidates who have received such tie votes to appear before such board, and such board in the presence of such candidates shall determine the tie by lot. In the case of a tie vote for an office to be voted for in more than one county, such tie shall be determined by lot by the secretary of state in the presence of the candidates.

1763. Errors may be ordered corrected.

SEC. 29. Whenever it shall be made to appear by affidavit to any justice of the supreme court or judge of the district court of the proper county that an error or omission has occurred or is about to occur in the placing of any name on an official primary election ballot, that any error has been or is about to be committed in printing such a ballot, or that any wrongful act has been or is about to be done by any judge or clerk of a primary election, county clerk, registrar of voters in any city and county, canvassing board or any member thereof, or other person charged with any duty concerning the primary election, or that any neglect of duty has occurred or is about to occur, such justice of the supreme court or judge of the district court shall order the officer or person charged with such error, wrong or neglect, to forthwith correct the error, desist from the wrongful act or perform the duty or forthwith show cause why he should not do so. Any person who shall fail to obey the order of such justice of the supreme court or judge of the district court shall be cited forthwith to show cause why he shall not be adjudged in contempt of court.

1764. Contested nomination, how proceeded with.

SEC. 30. Any candidate at a primary election desiring to contest the nomination of another candidate for the same office may proceed by affidavit within five days after the completion of the canvass as provided in section 23 of this act. And the contestee shall be required by the order of such justice of the supreme court or judge of the district court to appear and abide the further order of the court. As amended, Stats. 1911, 346.

1765. Neglect of filing officer punished—General law to govern primaries.

SEC. 31. Any officer in whose office any nomination paper has been properly filed who shall wrongfully either suppress, neglect or fail to cause the filing thereof to be noted at the proper time and in the proper place shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon trial and conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars or more than five hundred dollars or imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Any act or omission declared to be an offense by the general laws of this state concerning primaries and elections shall also in like case be an offense concerning primary elections as provided for by this act, and shall be punished in the same manner and form as therein provided, and all penalties and provisions of the law governing elections, except as herein otherwise provided shall apply in equal force to primary elections as provided for by this act. As amended, Stats. 1911, 347.

1766. State officers to prepare necessary forms.

SEC. 32. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state and attorney-general to prepare all necessary forms to carry out the provisions of this act within sufficient time for the use of such forms. As amended, Stats. 1911, 347.

SECTION 1. A general election shall be held in the several election precincts in this state, on the Tuesday next after the first Monday of November, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, and every two years thereafter, at which there shall be chosen all such officers as are by law to be elected in such year, unless otherwise provided for.

See Const., sec. 373.

Justice of the peace, registry agent, sec. 4926.

Election of county commissioners, sec. 1531.

Recount, sec. 1513.

Board of county commissioners to canvass returns, sec. 1513.

District judge to canvass returns of legislators and commissioners, sec. 1513.

An election can only be held by virtue of some constitutional provision or legal enactment, either expressly or by direct implication authorizing that particular election. Sawyer v. Haydon, 1 Nev. 75.

An election cannot be held at a time not fixed by law for such election. Daggett v. Collins, 2 Nev. 351.

An election for removal of county-seat must be held within fifty days after petition. Hess v. Washoe County, 6 Nev. 104.

Where the attorney-general refuses to bring an action against any person he has reason to believe unlawfully holds a state office, a person claiming an election to such office may, by leave of court, bring quo warranto on his own relation where he has no other remedy.

Quo warranto is the only remedy a person, who may be duly elected to a state office, has to oust one unlawfully holding the same, and have himself instituted. State ex rel. McMillan v. Sadler, 25 Nev. 131, 165 (58 P. 284, 59 P. 546, 63 P. 128).

1768. Precincts, how, when and where established—Inspectors of election—How appointed and notified.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the boards of county commissioners to establish election precincts and define the boundaries thereof, and to alter, consolidate and abolish the same as public convenience or necessity may require; provided: First—That no new precinct shall be established except upon the petition of ten or more qualified electors, permanently residing in the district sought to be established, showing that they reside more than ten miles from any polling-place in said county, unless it shall appear to the satisfaction of said board that not less than fifty qualified electors reside in said precinct, in which event said precinct may be established without regard to the distance which said electors reside from another polling-place or precinct. Second—That no election shall be held in any precinct in which there shall not be at least ten qualified electors, permanently residing therein at the time notice of holding an election therein shall be given. Third—All qualified electors residing in any election precinct in which there are less than ten qualified electors permanently residing at the time notice of holding elections are given, shall be entitled to register and vote in the election precinct having a polling-place nearest their residence, by the usual traveled route. Fourth—That no election precinct shall be established or election held at any place in any precinct within one mile of another voting place in the same county, unless there shall have been polled, at said voting place, at the next preceding general election, not less than fifty votes. It shall also be the duty of said boards of commissioners, at their first regular meeting in October preceding each general election (and fifteen days preceding each special election), to appoint three capable and discreet persons, possessing the qualifications of electors (who shall not all be of the same political party), to act as inspectors of elections at each election precinct; and the clerk of said boards shall forthwith make and deliver to said inspectors personally, notice thereof in writing, or deposit the same in the postoffice, registered, and postage prepaid, directed to the registry agent of the precinct for which each of said inspectors is appointed, and it shall be the duty of said registry agents, within ten days after the receipt thereof, to serve the same upon each of said inspectors of elections. As amended, Stats. 1875, 59; 1885, 21.

Where a new polling place is carved out of the territory of an established election precinct after all the electors residing therein have been properly registered, it is the duty of the registry agent to prepare a duly certified check list of the electors registered by him, residing within the limits of the new polling place, and deliver the same to the inspectors thereof. Stinson v. Sweeney, 17 Nev. 310, 316 (30 P. 997).

The provision of this section that inspectors and clerks of election "shall not be appointed from the same political party" is directory, and noncompliance therewith, in the absence of fraud, is not sufficient ground for rejecting the vote of a county or precinct. State ex rel. McMillan v. Sadler, 25 Nev. 131, 166, 176 (55 P. 284, 59 P. 546, 63 P. 128).

It is only those provisions of the election law relating to time and place of holding elections, the qualifications of voters and such others as are made essential prerequisites to the validity of an election, that are mandatory. Idem.

1769. Poll-books and supplies, how furnished and distributed.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners to cause their clerks to furnish the sheriff with poll-books and all other supplies required to be provided by said board for the inspectors and clerks of election, and the clerk shall at the same time deliver to the sheriff the ballot-boxes and keys, the official ballots, the sample ballots and the printed instructions which he is required to give for the guidance of voters for obtaining and marking their ballots, and the sheriff shall deliver said poll-books, supplies, ballot-boxes and keys, and said official ballots, sample ballots and printed instructions altogether to one of the inspectors of every election precinct in the county, at least one day before the time of holding any election. As amended, Stats. 1899, 107.

1770. Notice of election sent by clerk—Form of notice.

SEC. 4. The several boards of county commissioners shall cause their clerks at least twenty (20) days before any general election and at least fifteen (15) days before any special election, to make out, and send by mail to the respective registry agents of their counties, three (3) written or printed notices for the election, to be, as nearly as circumstances will admit, as follows:

Notice is hereby given that on the first Tuesday, the ____ day of _____ next, at the house of _____ (in city, town, district or precinct) of _____, in the county of _____, an election will be held for state, county, district, town or township officers (naming the offices to be filled, as the case may be), which election shall be opened not later than 8 o'clock a. m., and shall continue until 6 o'clock p. m. of the same day. Dated this _____ day of _____, A. D. _____. (Signed) A. B., Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners. As amended, Stats. 1899, 108.

Cited, State ex rel. Perry v. Arrington, 18 Nev. 413 (4 P. 735).

1771. Notice of election posted.

SEC. 5. The respective registry agents, to whom such notice shall be delivered, shall put up in three of the most public places of each precinct the notices referring to such precincts at least fifteen days previous to the time of holding any general election, and at least eight days previous to the time of holding any special election; one of said notices to be posted at the house where the election is authorized to be held, and the others at two of the most public and suitable places in the precinct. As amended, Stats. 1899, 108.

1772. Inspectors to notify board of unwillingness to serve—Failure to notify—Penalty.

SEC. 6. If in any precinct any of such inspectors are unwilling to serve as inspectors, they shall notify the board of county commissioners thereof, within five days after the receipt of the notice of their appointment, who shall immediately appoint some suitable person to fill the vacancy and to serve at such election. A failure to notify the board of county commissioners of an unwillingness to serve as an inspector, as herein provided, shall subject the person to a penalty of not less than ten nor more than one hundred dollars, to be sued for and recovered by said board of county commissioners, for the use of the county, before any justice of the peace of such county. If, through any accident, sickness, or inability, on the day of election, of such inspectors, or any one thereof, to serve, the inspector or inspectors present on the morning of the election may appoint some suitable person to fill the vacancy.

1773. Inspectors to appoint clerks—Term of service.

SEC. 7. The said inspectors shall choose two persons having similar qualifications with themselves to act as clerks of the election. The said inspectors shall be and continue inspectors of all elections of civil officers to be held at their respective precincts, until other inspectors shall be appointed as hereinbefore directed; and the said clerks of election may continue to act as such during the pleasure of the inspectors of election.

1774. Oath to be taken by inspectors and clerks.

SEC. 8. Previous to votes being taken the inspectors and clerks of election shall, severally, take the prescribed official oath, and, in addition thereto, an oath or affirmation in the following form, to wit: "I, A. B., do solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be) that I will perform the duties of inspector (or clerk as the case may be) of the election to be held this day, according to law and the best of my ability, and that I will studiously endeavor to prevent fraud, deceit, and abuse in any manner, in conducting the same. So help me God (or, if an affirmation, under the pains and penalties of perjury).

1775. Inspectors may administer oaths.

SEC. 9. In case there shall be no judge or justice of the peace present at the opening of the election, or in case such judge or justice shall be appointed inspector or clerk of the election, they are hereby empowered to administer the oath or affirmation to each other, and to the clerks of the election, and the person administering the oath or affirmation shall cause an entry thereof to be made and subscribed by him in the poll-books.

1776. Opening and closing polls—Adjournment.

SEC. 10. At all elections to be held under this act, the polls shall be opened at the hour of eight o'clock in the forenoon, and continue open until six o'clock in the afternoon of the same day, at which time the polls shall be closed; and, upon opening the polls, one of the clerks, under the direction of the inspectors shall make proclamation of the same; and thirty minutes before closing of the polls, proclamation shall be made in like manner, that the polls will be closed in half an hour; but the board may, in their discretion, adjourn the polls for one hour at any time they may think proper during the day, before four o'clock in the afternoon, proclamation of the same being made.

1777. Ballot-box, how provided and kept.

SEC. 11. There shall be provided and kept by the county commissioners of each county, at the expense of the county, a suitable ballot-box, with a lock and key, and furnish the same to the inspectors of each election precinct or district within their county.

1778. Ballot-box, form and care of.

SEC. 12. There shall be an opening through the lid of each box of no larger size than shall be sufficient to admit a single folded ballot. Before opening the polls, the ballot-box shall be carefully examined by the inspectors of election, that nothing may remain therein; it shall then be locked and the key thereof delivered to one of the inspectors, to be designated by the majority thereof, and shall not be opened during the election except in the manner and for the purposes hereinafter mentioned.

1779. Ballots; form, color and size.

SEC. 13. Every elector shall, in full view, deliver to one of the inspectors of the election a single ballot or piece of paper, on which shall be written or printed the names of the persons voted for, with a pertinent designation of the offices to which each person so named is intended by him to be chosen. Said ballot may be open or folded, as the voter may choose, and the said ballot shall, in color, size, form, and texture, conform to the requirements set forth in the proclamation of the county commissioners of each county; and further, that said ballot or ticket shall be free from marks, characters, or device or thing that would enable any person to distinguish by the back, or when folded, from any other legal ticket or ballot.

The ballots are required to be printed on tinted watermarked paper, furnished by secretary of state, for general elections, sec. 1843, and on white watermarked paper, furnished by him, for primary elections, sec. 1747.

1780. Manner of voting—Must be registered to vote—Answer under oath.

SEC. 14. It shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners at the time of issuing their election proclamation, as provided in section 4 of this act, which shall be a part of the said proclamation, to designate fully the color, size, form and texture of all ballots to be used at the ensuing election. Said ballot shall be of sufficient width to allow names to be written thereon. It shall be the duty of the inspectors of election at each poll, at every election, to have before them a certified copy of the register of voters of the precinct or district for which they are the inspectors provided by law; and the inspector to whom any ticket may be delivered, shall, upon receipt thereof, pronounce with an audible voice the name of the person offering to vote, and another one of the inspectors shall examine the certified copy of the register; and if the name of the person is found thereon, his ticket shall immediately be put in the ballot-box without being inspected, if it be a folded ballot. The name of the elector shall then be checked on the certified copy of the register, and the clerks of election shall enter his name and number in the poll-book. No person shall be permitted to vote whose name is not on the register, and who shall refuse to comply with the requirements of section 13 of this act. Said register shall be to said inspectors of election conclusive evidence of the right of the person to vote whose name appears upon the same; provided, that said inspectors of election may require any person to give true answers under oath or affirmation, to all such questions as they may desire to ask touching the identity of the person with the name in or under which he may wish to vote; provided, that in all cases said ballots shall be printed on a good quality of white book paper.

See note under last preceding section, and see secs. 1833 and 1840.

Secs. 1731 and 1825 provide for oath and identification of voter.

Regarding ballots for primary elections, see sec. 1747.

Sec. 1851.

Under sec. 1714 certain electors may vote upon presentation of certificate and affidavit without being upon the register.

1781. Poll-lists to correspond.

SEC. 15. At each adjournment of the polls, the clerks shall, in the presence of the inspectors, compare their respective poll-lists, compute and set down the number of votes, and correct all mistakes that may be discovered, according to the decision of a majority of the inspectors, until such poll-lists shall be made in all respects to correspond.

1782. Care of ballot-box and poll-books.

SEC. 16. The ballot-box shall then be opened and the poll-books placed therein; and such box shall then be locked, and a covering, which shall be indorsed by one of the inspectors, sealed or pasted over the opening in the lid of the said box so as to entirely cover the same, and the key delivered to another of the inspectors, and the box to a third, to be designated by a majority of the inspectors.

1783. Ballot-box and key to be kept separate.

SEC. 17. The inspector having the key shall keep it in his own possession, and deliver it again to the board of inspectors at the next opening of the polls; and the inspector having the care of the box shall carefully keep it, without opening it or suffering it to be opened, or the seal thereof to be broken or removed, and shall publicly, in that condition, deliver it to the board of inspectors at the next opening of the polls, when the seal shall be broken and the box opened, the poll-books taken out, and the box again locked.

1784. Ballot not to be exhibited.

SEC. 18. No ticket or ballot shall on the day of election be given or delivered to, or received by, any person except the inspector, or a judge acting as inspector, nor fold any ticket or unfold any ballot which he intends to use in voting, or exhibit to another in any manner by which the contents thereof may be known, or request another person to exhibit or disclose the contents of any ticket or ballot, within one hundred feet of the polling-place; provided, that in case any elector voting an open ticket, the inspector, or judge acting as inspector, may fold the same before placing it in the ballot-box.

1785. Names rejected, when.

SEC. 19. If the names of more persons are designated on any ballot found in the ballot-box, for the same office, than are to be chosen for such office, then, except in the cases provided for in the next section, all the names designated for such office must be rejected; and the fact of such rejection, and the reason therefor, must, at the time of such rejection, be disposed of as provided in section 26 of this act.

1786. Written and printed names for same office, which to be rejected.

SEC. 20. When, upon a ballot being found in any ballot-box, a printed name and a name written with ink or with pencil appears, and there are not so many persons to be chosen for the office, the printed name opposite the written name must be rejected, and the written one counted; or when, upon a ballot found in any ballot-box, a name has been erased, and another one substituted therefor in any other manner than by the use of a lead pencil or common writing ink, the substituted name must be rejected, and the name erased, if it can be ascertained from an inspection of the ballot, must be counted, and the fact thereof noted, and the said ballots disposed of as provided in section 26 of this act.

Marks or names upon a ballot cast at the general election renders it void.

See secs. 1852, 1858.

1787. Legality of ballots.

SEC. 21. Whenever a question arises in the board as to the legality of a ballot, or any part thereof, and the board decide in favor of the legality, such action shall be taken as in case of a rejected ballot.

1788. Betting on election a misdemeanor.

SEC. 22. Every person who makes, offers, or accepts any wager or bet upon the result of any election, or upon the success or failure of any person or candidate, or upon the number of votes to be cast, either in the aggregate or for any particular candidate, or upon the vote to be cast by any person, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

1789. Deputy sheriff's to be appointed.

SEC. 23. It shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners of the several counties of the state at their regular meeting in October preceding any general election (and fifteen days preceding each special election) to determine the number of special deputy sheriffs to be appointed by the sheriff of the several counties to serve at each election precinct, for the purpose of preserving order and making arrests, to be paid as other fees. As amended, Stats. 1901, 69.

1790. Challenge at polls—Oath.

SEC. 24. A person offering to vote may be orally challenged by any elector of the precinct, upon the ground that he is not the person entitled to vote as claimed, or has voted before on the same day, in which case the inspector or one of the judges shall tender him the following oath: "You do swear (or affirm) that you are the person whose name is entered upon the registry list of this precinct." In case such person refuse to take the oath so tendered, he shall not be allowed to vote, and the clerk of the election shall write the word "Challenged" opposite the name of each person challenged upon the registry.

See sec. 1731, regarding challenge of voters in cities.

See sec. 1717.

1791. Canvass to be public.

SEC. 25. As soon as the polls of the election shall be finally closed the inspectors shall immediately proceed to canvass the vote given at such election; and the canvass shall be public, and continue without adjournment until completed.

1792. Manner of canvass.

SEC. 26. The canvass shall commence by a comparison of the poll-lists from the commencement, and a correction of any mistake that may be found therein, until they shall be found to agree. The box shall then be opened, and the ballots contained therein taken out and counted by the inspectors, and opened so far as to ascertain whether each ballot is single; and if two or more ballots shall be found so folded together as to present the appearance of a single ballot, they shall be laid aside until the count of the ballots is completed; and if, on comparison of the count with the poll-lists and the appearance of such ballots, a majority of the inspectors shall be of the opinion that the ballots thus folded together were voted by one elector, they shall be rejected, and carefully sealed up in an envelope, upon which shall be written the reason of their rejection, and shall be signed by the inspectors, and placed back in the ballot-box, to be retained with the other ballots, as provided in section 29 of this act.

1793. Excess of ballots.

SEC. 27. If the ballots in the box shall be found to exceed in number the whole number of votes on the poll-lists, they shall be replaced in the box after being purged as above, and one of the inspectors, with his back turned to the box, shall publicly draw out and destroy therefrom so many ballots, unopened, as shall equal the excess.

1794. Counting—Form of returns.

SEC. 28. The ballots and poll-lists agreeing, or being made to agree, the board shall then proceed to count and ascertain the number of votes cast, and for whom cast, and when completed the clerks shall set down in their poll-books the name of every person voted for, written at full length, the office for which such person received such votes and the number he did receive, the number being expressed in writing at full length and also in figures; such entry to be made, as nearly as the circumstances will admit, in the following form, to wit:

At an election, held at the house of A. B., in the town (or precinct) of _____, in the county of _____, and the State of Nevada, on the ____ day of _____,

A. D. ---, the following-named persons received the number of votes annexed to their respective names for the following-described offices, to wit:

- A. B. had --- votes for member of Congress.
- C. D. had --- votes for state treasurer.
- E. F. had --- votes for state controller.
- G. H. had --- votes for state superintendent of public instruction.
- I. J. had --- votes for member of the state senate.
- K. L. had --- votes for member of the assembly.

(And in like manner for any other person voted for.)

When no question is made as to the right of electors to vote, and no question made as to the correctness of the returns made by the inspectors of election, the failure of inspectors to take the oath of office, and from thoughtlessness, to certify to the returns, as required by law, would not justify the exclusion of the votes. Stinson v. Sweeney, 17 Nev. 310.

1795. Inspectors shall file and make returns—Manner of delivery—Custodian—Ballots subject to inspection, when.

SEC. 29. The inspectors shall file the ballots on a string, inclose and seal the same together with one of the tally-lists and one of the poll-books, under cover, directed to the clerk of the board of county commissioners of the county in which such election was held, or such other officer as is herein provided, indorsed "Election Returns"; provided, that if said clerk of the board of county commissioners, as county clerk, or any one of the following-named county officers was voted for office at the last election, he shall not be the custodian of such election returns; but such returns shall be directed and delivered to the county officer who was not a candidate and voted for office in the following order: Second—The county recorder. Third—The county treasurer. Fourth—The county assessor. Fifth—The chairman of the board of county commissioners. Sixth—One of the county commissioners. And said custodian shall comply with the provisions of section 30 of this act. The packet thus sealed shall be conveyed by one of the inspectors or clerks of election, to be determined by lot, if they cannot otherwise agree, or by some other person to be agreed upon by the inspectors, and delivered to said clerk of the board of county commissioners, or the county officer, as herein provided, at his office, within ten days from the close of the polls. The poll-book, tally-list, certified copy of register, ballot-box and ballots thus inclosed and sealed shall, after the canvass of the votes by the board of county commissioners, be deposited in the office of the clerk of the board of commissioners, and preserved until the next general election. The other poll-book and tally-list shall be deposited with one of the inspectors of election, to be determined by lot, if not otherwise determined, agreed upon, and said poll-book and tally-list, together with the poll-book and tally-list deposited with the board of county commissioners, shall be subject to the inspection of any elector, at any time thereafter who may wish to examine the same; provided, however, that the ballots so deposited with the board of county commissioners shall not be subject to the inspection of any one, except in cases of contested elections, and then only by the judge, body or board before whom such election is being contested. As amended, Stats. 1879, 117.

1796. Canvass of votes—Certificate of election—Tie vote; recount—New election—Compensation of election officers.

SEC. 30. On the tenth day (or if that day shall fall on Sunday, then on the Monday following) after the close of any election, or sooner, if all the returns be received, the board of county commissioners shall proceed to open said returns and make abstracts of the votes. Such abstract of votes for member or members of Congress shall be on one sheet; the abstract for votes for members of the legislature shall be on one sheet; and the abstract of votes for district and state officers shall be on one sheet; and the abstract of votes for county and township officers shall be on one sheet. And it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners to cause a certificate of election to be made out by the respective clerks of said board of county commissioners to each of the persons having the highest number of votes for members of the legislature, district, county and township officers, respectively, and to deliver such certificate to the person entitled to it on his making application to said clerk at his office; provided, that when a tie shall exist between two or more persons for the senate or assembly or any other county, district or township officer, any of said persons shall have the right to demand of the board of county commissioners a recount of all the ballots cast for them for the office for which they were candidates; and provided further, that if after said recount has been had, the vote between them or any of them shall still remain a tie, the board of county commissioners shall order their clerk to give notice to the sheriff of the county, who shall immediately advertise another election, giving at least ten days' notice. And it shall be the duty of the said clerk of the said board of county commissioners of such county, on the receipt of the returns of any general or special election, to make out his certificate of election, stating therein the compensation to which the inspectors and clerks of election may be entitled by law for their services, and lay the same before the board of commissioners at their next session; and the said board shall order the compensation aforesaid, if correct, to be paid out of the county treasury. As amended, Stats. 1889, 42.

Sec. 1513 provides that if any candidate for a legislative, county, or township office, has a majority of ten or less upon the canvass of the returns, the defeated candidate may demand a recount.

The legislature has power to provide for the manner in which the result of an election shall be determined and declared, and their enactment in reference thereto is binding.

State ex rel. Guinan v. Meder, 22 Nev. 264, 271 (38 P. 668).

If the election was legal, it was the duty of the canvassers to canvass the vote and issue the certificate of election. Idem.

1797. Transmission of abstract—Penalty for failure—Justices of supreme court to canvass—In case of no choice.

SEC. 31. The board of county commissioners, after making the abstract of votes as provided in section 30, shall cause their clerk, by an order made and entered in the minutes of their proceedings, to make a copy of said abstract and forthwith transmit the same to the secretary of state at the seat of government. If the board of county commissioners should neglect or refuse to make the order, as required by this act, they, and each of them, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor in office, and shall, on conviction thereof, be liable to a fine of not less than one hundred dollars or more than five hundred dollars each, and imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten and not more than one hundred days each, or both such fine and imprisonment, and shall be removed from office. And on the third Monday of December succeeding such election, the chief justice of the supreme court and the associate justices, or a majority thereof, shall meet at the office of the secretary of state and shall open and canvass the vote for members of Congress, district and state officers; and the governor shall grant a certi-ificate of election to and commission the persons having the highest number of votes, and shall also issue proclamation declaring the election of such persons. But in case there shall be no choice by reason of any two or more persons having an equal and the highest number of votes for the same office, the senate and assembly shall convene in the assembly chamber on the second Monday of February, at the next regular session of the legislature after such election, and by joint vote of both houses elect one of said persons to fill said office; provided, when an election for electors of president and vice-president of the United States takes place, the vote thereof shall be canvassed at the same time and in the manner aforesaid. As amended, Stats. 1881, 40; 1889, 31.

The constitution provides for the canvass by the justices of the supreme court, sec. 297.

The canvass of the choice of the electors for United States senators is made in the same manner as for state officers, sec. 1890; Const., sec. 297.

1798. Defect or informality in returns—Certificate not withheld.

SEC. 32 No certificate shall be withheld on account of any defect or informality in the returns of any election, if it can with reasonable certainty be ascertained from such returns what office is intended, and who is entitled to such certificate; nor shall any commission be withheld by the governor, or board of county commissioners on account of any such defect or informality of any returns made to the office of the secretary of state or to the board of county commissioners.

1799. Delayed returns—Messenger, compensation of.

SEC. 33. If the returns of the election of any county in the state shall not be received at the office of the secretary of state on or before said third Monday of December succeeding such election, the said secretary may forthwith send a messenger to the clerk of the board of county commissioners of such county, whose duty it shall be to furnish said messenger with a copy of such returns; and the said messenger shall be paid out of the treasury of such county the sum of thirty cents for each mile he shall necessarily travel in going to and returning from said county. Whenever it shall be necessary, in the opinion of the board of county commissioners, to employ a messenger to convey the returns to the seat of government, and deliver them to the secretary of state, the person performing such service shall also be entitled to receive, as compensation, mileage at the rate of thirty cents per mile, computing the distance from the county-seat to the seat of government by the usual traveled route.

1800. District returns, how made—Abstract of votes.

SEC. 34. When two or more counties are united in one senatorial, representative, or judicial district for the election of any officers, the board of county commissioners of each county shall canvass the votes, according to law, of the voters of their respective counties for said officer or officers; and the commissioners of the county whose initial is the lowest on the alphabet shall transmit to the commissioners of the county of the highest initial a copy of the abstract of the votes for such officer or officers, when the said last commissioners shall make a final abstract and aggregate of said votes, and shall proceed to cause to be issued certificates of election, and otherwise to act as is provided in this and the two preceding sections.

1801. County clerk's duties in transmitting abstract—Penalty for neglect or failure—Certificate of postmaster.

SEC. 35. Whenever the returns are required to be transmitted by one clerk of a board of county commissioners to the secretary of state, it shall be the duty of such clerk, if not otherwise directed by the board of county commissioners, to deliver the same to some postmaster of the county, at the postoffice, to be transmitted by mail, taking from such postmaster, if it can be obtained, a certificate setting forth the time when such reports were deposited in the postoffice, which certificate the clerk shall file in his office. If the clerk of the board of county commissioners should neglect, or refuse to make out and transmit, the returns, or abstract, as required by this act, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor in office, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum not less than one hundred dollars, or more than five hundred dollars, and imprisonment in the county jail for not less than one month, or more than six months, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court, and shall be removed from office. As amended, Stats. 1881, 41.

Cited, in opinion of Hawley, J., dissenting, State ex rel. Galusha v. Davis, 20 Nev. 231 (19 P. 894).

1802. Per diem of inspector and clerk of election—Mileage of messenger.

SEC. 36. There shall be allowed out of the county treasury of such county to each inspector and each clerk of election five dollars per diem, but in no case to exceed twenty dollars for all services required by law to be performed by each of them at any one election. And to the person carrying the poll-books from the place of election to the clerk's office, and to the clerk of the board of county commissioners for attending at another county to canvass votes, the sum of fifteen cents per mile for going and fifteen cents per mile for returning, to be paid out of the county treasury. As amended, Stats. 1889, 35; 1899, 99.

1803. Any elector may contest election—Causes of contest.

SEC. 37. Any elector, of the proper county, may contest the right of any person declared duly elected to an office exercised in and for such county; and, also, any elector of a township may contest the right of any person declared duly elected to any office in and for such township, for any of the following causes: First—For malconduct on the part of the board of inspectors, or any member thereof. Second—When the person whose right to the office is contested was not at the time of election eligible to such office.

Offering, before election, to make a bond conditioned that, if elected, the candidate would return to the county treasury each month a portion of his salary, does not disqualify from holding office. Egan v. Jones, 21 Nev. 433, 434 (32 P. 929).

1804. Contest—Effect of misconduct of inspectors.

SEC. 38. When any election, held for an office exercised in and for a county, is contested on account of any malconduct on the part of the board of inspectors of any precinct, or any member thereof, the election shall not be annulled and set aside upon any proof thereof, unless the rejection of the vote of such precinct shall change the result as to such office in the remaining vote of the county.

This section construed to mean: "A person officially declared elected shall not be disturbed by vain and fruitless contests, and unless a different result of the election can be reached, his election shall not be contested." Lynip v. Buckner, 22 Nev. 435 (30 L. R. A. 354, 41 P. 762).

1805. Statement on contest—Time for filing—What to state.

SEC. 39. When any elector shall choose to contest the right of any person declared duly elected to such office, he shall, within forty days thereafter, file with the clerk of the district court a written statement, setting forth, specifically: First—The name of the party contesting such election, and that he is a qualified elector of the district, county, or precinct (as the case may be), in which such election was held. Second—The name of the person whose right to the office is contested. Third—The office. Fourth—The particular cause or causes of such contest. Said statement shall be verified by the affidavit of the contesting party that the matters and things therein contained are true, to the best of his knowledge and belief.

See secs. 1894, 1895.

1806. Allegations and proceedings when contest for illegal votes—Jurisdiction of district courts.

SEC. 40. When the reception of illegal votes is alleged as a cause of contest, it shall be sufficient to state generally that illegal votes were given to the person whose election is contested in the specified precinct or precincts, which, if taken from him, will reduce the number of his legal votes below the number of legal votes given to some other person for the same office; but no testimony shall be received of illegal votes unless the party contesting such election shall deliver to the opposite party, at least three days before such trial, a written list of the number of illegal votes, and by whom given, which he intends to prove on such trial; and no testimony shall be received of any illegal votes except such as are specified in such lists; provided, that in all cases of contested elections, the district court of the respective districts shall have original jurisdiction to try and determine all such cases, and may, by mandamus or otherwise, obtain all documentary evidence required by either of the parties litigant.

Held insufficient. Egan v. Jones, 21 Nev. 433 (32 P. 929).

The time of notice required to be given as to illegal votes relied upon, must be computed by including the first and excluding the last day, and the notice must be given three days before the trial commences, without regard to whether any evidence is introduced on the first day of the trial. Stinson v. Sweeney, 17 Nev. 310 (30 P. 997).

This section confers original jurisdiction upon district courts in this class of cases and section 44 provides that a certified copy of the judgment of the supreme court may be used as proof in certain cases. Nothing is said, in direct terms, upon the subject of new trials and appeals. The civil practice act provides a mode for review upon motion for new trial or appeal in all cases tried by district courts, and in enacting the election law, it was unnecessary to provide for any other mode of procedure. Lynip v. Buckner, 22 Nev. 435 (30 L. R. A. 354, 41 P. 762).

In an election contest, the ballots themselves furnish the primary and controlling evidence as to which party to the contest received the greater number of votes. Schneider v. Bray, 22 Nev. 272, 278 (39 P. 326).

The rule that, as between the ballots and a canvass of them, the ballots control, has no application where the ballots have been tampered with after they have been deposited in the box. Dennis v. Caughlin, 23 Nev. 188, 193 (44 P. 818).

The writ of prohibition does not lie to restrain a district judge from canvassing the returns in an election contest, since the party aggrieved by any erroneous action of the court has an adequate remedy by appeal. Turner v. Langan, 29 Nev. 281, 283 (88 P. 1088).

1807. Statement not rejected or proceedings dismissed for want of form.

SEC. 41. No statement of the cause of contest shall be rejected, nor the proceedings thereon dismissed, by any court before which such contest may be brought for trial, for want of form, if the particular cause or causes of contest shall be alleged with such certainty as will sufficiently advise the defendant of the particular proceedings or cause for which such election is contested.

1808. Time and place for hearing contest, how fixed.

SEC. 42. Upon such statement being filed, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the district court to inform the judge thereof, who shall fix the time and place to hear and determine such contested election; and the clerk shall give notice thereof, not less than ten nor more than twenty days from the date of such notice to the parties contesting, which said notice shall be served by the sheriff of the county upon the respective parties, as in other cases.

1809. Witnesses, subpoenas for.

SEC. 43. The said clerk shall issue subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum, as in civil actions at law, for witnesses in such contested election, at the request of either party, which shall be served by the sheriff as other subpoenas; and the district court shall have full power to issue attachments to compel the attendance of witnesses who shall fail to attend, who shall have been duly subpoenaed.

1810. Certificate of election—To whom shall issue.

SEC. 44. Upon the certified copy of a judgment of the district court, or a certified copy of the judgment of the supreme court, as the case may be, the clerk of the board of county commissioners shall issue a certificate to the person declared to be entitled to such certificate of election.

See Lynip v. Buckner, under section 40 of this act.

1811. Fees of clerk, sheriff and witnesses.

SEC. 45. The clerk, sheriff, and witnesses shall receive, respectively, the same fees from the party against whom the judgment is given as are allowed for similar services in the district court.

In special proceedings costs will not be allowed except by legislative action. Nor will fees be given to officers by the courts unless specially provided for by statute. Garrard v. Gallagher, 11 Nev. 382, 386.

As there is no provision made for the fees of officers or costs expended in a contest for members of the legislature, the remedy is left entirely to the discretion of the legislature. Idem.

1812. Office, when becomes vacant.

SEC. 46. Whenever an election shall be annulled and set aside by the judgment of the district court, and no appeal has been taken therefrom within thirty days, such certificate, if any has been issued, shall thereby be rendered void, and the office become vacant.

A judgment of the district court in an election contest declaring the election of a candidate whom the official returns showed had been defeated is not an annulment of an election within the meaning of this section. Lynip v. Buckner, 22 Nev. 426, 434 (30 L. R. A. 354, 41 P. 762).

1813. Contest of election of district judge.

SEC. 47. In case of any contest in regard to any election to fill the office of district judge, such contest shall be tried in like manner before the district court of the district nearest adjoining thereto.

1814. District attorney may bring action for unlawfully holding office.

SEC. 48. Any such action may be brought by the district attorney, in the name of the State of Nevada, upon his own information, or upon the complaint of any private party, against any person who unlawfully holds any public office within the state; and it shall be the duty of the district attorney to bring such action whenever he has reason to believe that any such office is unlawfully held or exercised by any person, or when he is directed so to do by the governor.

1815. When defendant arrested and held.

SEC. 49. Whenever such action is brought, the district attorney, in addition to the statement and cause of action, may also set forth in the complaint the name of the person rightly entitled to the office or franchise, with a statement of his right thereto; and in such case, upon proof by affidavit or otherwise, that the defendant has received fees or emoluments belonging to the office or franchise, by means of his usurpation thereof, an order may be granted by a judge of the supreme court, or a district judge, for the arrest of such defendant and holding him to bail; and thereupon he may be arrested and held to bail in the same manner and with the same effect, and subject to the same rights and liabilities as in other civil actions where the defendant is subject to arrest.

1816. Damages recoverable.

SEC. 50. If the judgment be rendered upon the right of the person so alleged to be entitled, in favor of such person, he may recover, by action, the damages which he shall have sustained by reason of the usurpation of the office or franchise by the defendant.

1817. One action brought against several persons.

SEC. 51. When several persons claim to be entitled or elected to the same office, one action may be brought by or against all such persons, in order to try their respective rights to such office.

1818. Contest for members of the legislature—Conduct of.

SEC. 52. In case of contest for senator or assemblyman in any county in this state, the party contesting shall file a statement in the office of the county clerk of the county in which such senator or assemblyman may be a resident, a concise statement of the grounds upon which he intends to rely, which statement shall be verified by affidavit; and it shall be the duty of the clerk to issue a commission, directed to a justice of the peace of such county, to meet at such time and place as shall be specified in such commission, not less than twenty nor more than thirty days from the filing of such papers, for the purpose of taking the deposition of such witnesses as the parties to such contest may wish to examine, and notice shall be served upon the person whose right to such office is contested, by the sheriff of the county, the same as provided for by law in like cases. As amended, Stats. 1899, 114.

These proceedings are special and the courts have no jurisdiction. Garrard v. Gallagher, 11 Nev. 382, 385.

When the statute gives a special remedy it must be followed, and the proceedings thereunder in contested election cases are substantially different from any common-law remedy. Idem.

The fact that the contestant of an election for the office of legislator had a remedy by this section, does not preclude him from prosecuting his remedy by recount before the board of county commissioners. Wright v. Washoe Co., 27 Nev. 34, 40 (71 P. 145).

1819. Justice of the peace empowered to issue subpoena—Written testimony.

SEC. 53. Said justice of the peace shall have power at any time to issue subpoenas for witnesses at the request of either party, to be served by the sheriff, as other subpoenas; and said justice shall have the same power to issue attachments and assess fines against witnesses as is given to justices of the peace in other trials instituted before him; and all testimony taken before him during such proceeding shall be in writing, and shall be certified to and forwarded by mail or express, or delivered to the clerk of the county. As amended, Stats. 1899, 115.

1820. County clerk to seal and transmit all papers to secretary of state.

SEC. 54. It shall be the duty of the said clerk to seal up such depositions, together with the original statement of the grounds of such contest, and a copy of the notice served upon the party whose right is contested, and the commission issued to the justice of the peace, and transmit the same by mail to the secretary of state, indorsing thereon the names of the contesting parties and the branch of the legislature before which such contest is to be tried. As amended, Stats. 1899, 115.

1821. Duty of secretary of state.

SEC. 56. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to deliver the same, unopened, to the presiding officer of the house in which such contest is to be tried, on or before the second day after the organization of the legislature next after taking such depositions; and such presiding officer shall immediately give notice to said house that said papers are in his possession.

1822. When either party may take depositions.

SEC. 57. At any time after notice of any contest shall be given, and before the trial of such contested election before the proper branch of the legislature, it may be lawful for either party to such contest to take depositions, to be read on the trial thereof in like manner and under the same rules as are allowed and required in cases of depositions to be read on any trial pending in the district court; and such depositions, when thus taken, shall be sealed up by the officer taking the same and directed to the secretary of state, who shall keep the same, unopened, and deliver them to the presiding officer of the house in which such contest is to be tried, to be disposed of by such officer as the depositions specified in the preceding section.

1823. Contesting election of state officers—Who may contest, and how.

SEC. 58. Any qualified elector of the state may contest the election of any person declared duly elected to any state office within this state by filing a specification of the grounds of such contest with the clerk of the supreme court, which specification shall be verified by oath or affirmation, and it is hereby made the duty of the attorney-general to prosecute such action in the name of the people of the state, before the supreme court, who shall have original jurisdiction in such cases; the justices, or either of them, shall have power to issue such process as may be necessary to the complete hearing and final determination of such action.

Sections 59 to 82, inclusive, of this act were repealed by implication by Stats. 1909, 293, after sections 59 to 62, inclusive, had been held unconstitutional as not germane to the title, in Bell v. District Court, 28 Nev. 280, 163 A. S. 854, 1 L. R. A. (N. S.) 843, 81 P. 875. See sec. 275, ante.

This last-named act was afterward incorporated in the criminal practice and crimes and punishments acts, and will be found in sections 6878-6907.

The object of this section is to protect the public from corrupt and neglectful officials by removing them from office. Bell v. District Court, 28 Nev. 298, 163 A. S. 854, 1 L. R. A. (N. S.) 843, 81 P. 875.

1824. Fraudulent action of officers of election—Felony.

SEC. 83. Every person charged with the performance of any duty under the provisions of any law of this state relating to elections, who wilfully neglects or refuses to perform it, or who, in his official capacity, knowingly and fraudulently acts in contravention or violation of any of the provisions of such laws, shall be deemed guilty of felony, and punishable by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

1825. Refusing to take oath or to answer questions—Misdemeanor.

SEC. 84. Every person who, after being required by the board of judges at any election, refuses to be sworn, or who, after being sworn, refuses to answer any pertinent question propounded by such board touching his right or the right of any other person to vote, is guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding three months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

See secs. 1726, 1731 and 1780 providing for oath and identification of voter.

1826. Fraudulent voting and other acts, felony.

SEC. 85. Every person not entitled to vote who fraudulently votes, and every person who votes more than once at any election, or knowingly hands in two or more tickets folded together, or changes any ballot after the same has been deposited in the ballot-box, or adds or attempts to add any ballot to those legally polled at any election, either by fraudulently introducing the same into the ballot-box before or after the ballots therein have been counted, or adds to or mixes with, or attempts to add to or mix with, the ballots lawfully provided, other ballots while the same are being counted or canvassed, or abstracts any ballots lawfully polled, at any other time with intent to change the result of such election, or carries away or destroys, or attempts to carry away or destroy, any poll-list or ballots, or ballot-box, for the purpose of breaking up or invalidating such election, or wilfully detains, mutilates, or destroys any election returns, or in any manner so interferes with the officers holding such election or conducting such canvass, or with voters lawfully exercising their right of voting at such election, as to prevent such election or canvass from being fairly held and lawfully conducted, shall be guilty of felony, punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding five years, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

1827. Fraudulent attempt to vote, misdemeanor.

SEC. 86. Every person not entitled to vote who fraudulently attempts to vote, or who being entitled to vote, attempts to vote more than once at any election, or who procures, aids, assists, counsels, or advises another to give or offer his vote at any election, knowing that the person is not qualified to vote, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

1828. For prying into secrecy of ballot, felony.

SEC. 87. Every inspector, judge, or clerk of an election, who, previous to putting the ballot of an elector in the ballot-box, attempts to find out any name on such ballot, or who opens or suffers the folded ballot of any elector which has been handed in, to be opened or examined previous to putting the same into the ballot-box, or makes or places any mark or device on any folded ballot, with the view to ascertain the name of any person for whom the elector has voted, or who, without the consent of the elector, discloses the name of any person which such inspector, judge, or clerk has fraudulently or illegally discovered to have voted for by such elector, is punishable by a fine of not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars. Every person who forges or counterfeits returns of an election purporting to have been held at a precinct, town, or ward, when no election was in fact held, or wilfully substitutes forged or counterfeit returns of election in the place of the true returns of a precinct, town, or ward where an election was actually held, is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for a term of not less than two nor more than ten years.

1829. Offering to appoint or procure appointment to any office in consideration of votes—Felony.

SEC. 91. Every person who, being a candidate at any election, offers or agrees to appoint or procure the appointment of any particular person to office, position, or employment as an inducement or consideration to any person to vote for, or procure, or aid in procuring the election of such candidate, or person not being a candidate, who communicates any offer made in violation of this and the preceding section, to any person with intent to induce him to vote for, or to procure or aid in procuring the election of the candidate, shall be deemed guilty of felony, punishable by imprisonment not exceeding five years or a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

1830. Selling liquor on election day—Misdemeanor.

SEC. 92. No person shall sell, give away, or furnish, or cause to be sold, given away, or furnished, either for or without pay, within this state, on any day upon which any general election is held, nor within the limits of any county or city on any day upon which any special or municipal election is held therein, any spirituous, malt, or fermented liquors or wines; and any one so doing shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than one nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court; and it shall be the duty of judges of the district courts of the several judicial districts in this state, to specially give this act in charge to every grand jury impaneled in their respective districts.

1831. Governor to offer rewards for arrest and conviction.

SEC. 93. The governor is hereby authorized and directed, at least thirty days previous to any general election and fifteen days previous to any special election, to issue a proclamation offering a reward of one hundred dollars for the arrest and conviction of any person violating any of the provisions of this act, when the crime is a misdemeanor; and a reward of two hundred dollars for the arrest and conviction of any person guilty of a felony, as herein provided; and such rewards to be paid until the total amount hereafter expended for the purpose reaches the sum of ten thousand dollars, payable out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated. And all moneys collected under the provisions of this act shall revert to the general school fund of the several counties where such case was brought.

1832. Secretary of state to issue this act in pamphlet form.

SEC. 94. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to cause to be printed in pamphlet form a requisite number of copies of this act, with marginal notes and properly indexed, a suitable number of which shall be forwarded by him to the county clerks of the several counties of this state, at least sixty days previous to the holding of any general election, and at least twenty days previous to the holding of any special election; and it is hereby made the duty of the said county clerks to inclose in each and every ballot-box sent out by them to be used at the various precincts of their respective counties, five or more copies of said act, as in their judgment they may deem proper.

An Act relating to elections and to more fully secure the secrecy of the ballot.

SECTION 1. All ballots cast in elections for public officers within this state shall be printed and distributed at public expense, as hereinafter provided. The printing of general tickets and cards of instruction for the electors of each county, and the delivery of the same to the election officers, as provided for in this act, shall be a county charge, the payment of which shall be provided for in the same manner as the payment of other county expenses, and in case of separate elections for city, town or district officers, the printing and delivery of tickets and cards of instruction shall be a charge upon the city, town or district in which said tickets and cards are to be used, the payment of which shall be provided for in the same manner as the payment of other city, county or district expenses.

See secs. 1779, 1780, 1858, 1861.

Regarding supplying and expense for ballots and supplies for primary election, see sec. 1744 and note.

1834. Nominations, how made—Convention defined.

SEC. 2. Any convention, as hereinafter defined, held for the purpose of making nominations for public office, and also electors to the number hereinafter specified, may nominate candidates for public offices, to be filled by election within the state. A convention within the meaning of this act is an organized assemblage of delegates representing a political party, which, at the last election, before the holding of such convention, polled at least three per cent of the entire vote cast in the state, county, district or other political division, for which the nomination is made.

As to nominations for most offices, see secs. 1737–1740.

1835. Nominations, how certified.

SEC. 3. All nominations made by any such convention shall be certified as follows: The certificate of nomination, which must be in writing, shall contain the name of each person nominated, his residence and the office for which he is nominated, and shall designate the party or principle which such convention represents. It shall be signed by the chairman and secretary of such convention, who shall add to their signatures their respective places of residence, and make oath, before an officer authorized to administer the same, that the matters stated in such certificate are true to the best of their knowledge and belief, and a certificate of the said oath shall be annexed to said certificate of nomination.

See sec. 1737.

1836. Nominations otherwise than by convention, how made.

SEC. 4. A candidate for public office may be nominated otherwise than by a convention in the manner following: A certificate of nomination containing the name of the candidate to be nominated, with the other information required to be given in the certificate provided for in section 3 of this act, shall be signed by electors residing within the district or political division for which candidates are to be presented equal in number to at least ten per cent of the entire vote cast at the last preceding election in the state, district or political division for which the nomination is to be made; provided, that such certificate shall not be valid unless signed by five voters. Said signatures need not all be appended to one paper, but each signer shall add to his signature his place of residence. One of the signers of each such certificate shall swear that the statements therein made are true to the best of his knowledge and belief, and a certificate of such oath shall be annexed. Such certificate of nomination shall have the same effect as the certificate of nomination made by a party convention. As amended, Stats. 1893, 113.

1837. Certificates filed with secretary of state for state offices; with county clerk for other offices.

SEC. 5. Certificates of nomination of candidates for offices to be voted for by the electors of the entire state, shall be filed with the secretary of state. Certificates of nomination of candidates for all other public offices shall be filed with the clerks of the respective counties wherein the officers are to be voted for and where a district embraces more than one county, such certificate shall be filed with the clerk of each of said counties.

See sec. 1741.

1838. Restrictions in making nominations.

SEC. 6. No certificate of nomination shall contain the name of more than one candidate for each office to be filled. No person shall join in nominating, under the provisions of section 4 of this act, more than one nominee for each office to be filled, and no person who has voted in a convention, either in person or by proxy, for or against a candidate for any office, shall join in nominating, in any manner, any other nominee for that office, and no person shall accept a nomination to more than one office.

1839. Certificates of nomination, when filed—Vacancy, how filled.

SEC. 7. Certificates of nomination required to be filed with the secretary of state shall be filed not more than sixty days nor less than fifty days before the day of election when the nomination is made by a convention, and not more than sixty days and not less than forty-five days before the day of election when the nomination is made under the provisions of section 4 of this act. Certificates of nomination required to be filed with the county clerks shall be filed not more than fifty days nor less than forty days before the day of election, when the nomination is made by a convention, and not more than fifty days nor less than thirty days before the day of election, when the nomination is made under the provisions of section 4 of this act. Should a vacancy occur from any cause in the list of nominees for any office, such vacancy may be filled at any time before the day of election by the convention or by a committee to which the convention has delegated power to fill such vacancies, or by petitioners as provided for by section 4 of this act. The chairman and secretary of such convention, or of such committee, or such petitioners, shall make out and file with the proper officer a certificate setting forth the name of the person nominated to fill such vacancy, the office for which he is nominated, the name of the person for whom the new nominee is to be substituted, and such further information as is required to be given in an original certificate of nomination. When such certificate is filed the officer with whom it is filed shall substitute the name of the person therein for the original nominee, by printing, if practicable, or by writing the name of the person there substituted. As amended, Stats. 1891, 88; 1893, 113.

No provision is made for the resignation of a candidate nominated for a public office. If such right exists it is wholly by implication under a strained construction of this section. State ex rel. McMillan v. Sadler, 25 Nev. 190 (58 P. 284, 59 P. 546, 63 P. 128).

This section recognizes that vacancies may exist "for any cause" which includes withdrawal after nomination.

See sec. 1761.

The candidate, having the unquestioned power to withdraw, when he gives proper notice of such withdrawal, a vacancy is created in the nomination for such office, which vacancy the proper committee has the power to fill, if it sees fit so to do. (Per Norcross, J., dissenting.) State ex rel. Donnelley v. Hamilton, 33 Nev. — (111 P. 1030, 1032).

1840. Secretary of state to certify names—County clerks to have ballots printed: maximum cost, fifty dollars per thousand.

SEC. 8. Not less than thirty-five days before an election to fill any public office, the secretary of state shall certify to the county clerk of each county within this state the name of each person and the name of the office for which he is nominated, as specified in the certificate of nomination filed with him. As amended, Stats. 1893, 113. (Section four.) The county clerks of the several counties of this state shall supervise the printing of the ballots, and such ballots, shall be printed at some newspaper or printing office in the county where the ballots are to be voted, and in case there is no newspaper or printing office in the county in which the work can be done, then said clerk is hereby authorized, empowered and directed to have said printing done in any newspaper or printing office in the state; provided, that the cost of printing said ballots shall not exceed the sum of fifty dollars per thousand. As supplemented, Stats. 1893, 114, and amended, Stats. 1899, 92.

Names of candidates for United States senator to be certified and placed on the ballot, sec. 1897.

The secretary of state is required to furnish to the county clerks tinted paper for ballots, with watermark, for general elections, sec. 1843, and to furnish white watermarked paper for primary elections, sec. 1747.

Separate ballots without the names of candidates for town or city officers are to be provided for voters residing within the precinct but without the limits of the city or the town, sec. 1868.

Clerk is to have the sample ballots for primary elections printed on yellow paper, sec. 1748.

The provisions of the law governing elections are made applicable to primary elections, except as otherwise provided, sec. 1765.

Regarding expense for ballots and supplies for primary elections, see sec. 1744.

1841. Nominations published.

SEC. 9. Not less than ten days before an election to fill any public office or offices, the county clerk shall cause to be published all the nominations certified to or filed with him. Said nominations shall be published in a newspaper printed within the county. When no newspaper is printed within the county, the publication shall be made by posting a copy of the ballot in a public place in each election precinct within the county, one of which copies shall be posted at the court house door. When publication is made by printing in newspapers, at least two publications by such newspaper shall be required, one of which shall appear in the last regular issue of such paper before election day.

1842. Secretary of state to certify questions.

SEC. 10. When any proposed constitution, constitutional amendment or other question is to be submitted to the popular vote, the secretary of state shall, within ninety days before the election at which such constitution, constitutional amendment or question is to be voted upon, certify the same to each county clerk of this state, sending to each of said clerks enough copies of such constitution, constitutional amendments or other questions to supply each inspector of election and enough additional copies to carry out the provisions of this act. And it is hereby made the duty of the county clerks of each county to have posted, ten days before the election, in each election precinct, three copies of said constitution, constitutional amendments or other questions to be voted on, one of which copies shall be posted at the place of holding the polls. If there is a newspaper published in the county, the county clerk shall cause to be published said constitution, constitutional amendment or other questions therein three times; one publication thereof shall be at least thirty days before election; another not less than twenty days, and the other not more than ten days before said election. Any secretary of state or county clerk of this state who shall fail to comply with the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be fined in a sum not less than $100, nor more than $500. As amended, Stats. 1903, 204.

Const. 283; see secs. 1796-9, 1880, 1881.

1843. Ballots how furnished—Secretary of state to provide paper.

SEC. 11. It shall be the duty of the county clerk to provide printed ballots for every election for public offices, in which any voters within the county participate, and to cause to be printed in the ballot prescribed herein, the name of each and every candidate whose name has been certified to, or filed with him, as provided in this act. Ballots other than those printed, as provided in this act, shall not be cast, or counted in any election. All ballots shall be printed on tinted paper, furnished by the secretary of state. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to obtain, and keep on hand, a sufficient supply of such paper for ballots, and to furnish the same in quantities ordered to any county clerk. Said paper shall be watermarked with a design furnished by the secretary of state, in such manner that the said watermark shall be plainly discernible on the outside of such ballot when properly folded. Such design shall be changed for each general election, and the same design shall not be used again at any general election within the space of eight years, but at any special or separate local election paper marked with the design used at any previous election may be used.

Regarding ballots and printing, see secs. 1779, 1780, 1833, 1857, 1864.

1844. Ballots, how made—What to contain—Questions other than the election of officers.

SEC. 12. On each ballot a perforated line shall extend from top to bottom, one-half inch from the right-hand side of such ballot, and upon the half-inch strip thus formed there shall be no writing or printing, except the number of the ballot, which shall be upon the back of the strip in such position that it shall appear on the outside when the ballot is folded. The number on each ballot shall be the same as that on the corresponding stub, and the ballots and stubs shall be numbered consecutively in each county. Where the names of candidates are printed in separate columns, the columns shall be separated by heavy rules, and on all ballots the names of candidates shall be separated by a rule extending to the extreme right of the column. All ballots shall contain the name of each and every candidate whose nomination for any office specified in the ballot has been certified to and filed according to the provisions of this act, and no other name. The names of the candidates for each office shall be arranged under the designation of the office in alphabetical order, according to surname, except that the names of candidates for presidential electors shall be arranged in groups as presented in the several certificates of nomination, and the names of the candidates for president and vice-president shall precede the proper groups of presidential electors; the political designation of each candidate shall be printed opposite his name. There shall be left at the end of the list of candidates for each office one blank space to be used when substituting names to fill vacancies. There shall be a margin at the right-hand side of the names at least one-half inch wide, so that the voter may clearly indicate in the way hereinafter described the candidate or candidates for whom he wishes to vote. Whenever any question is to be submitted to the vote of the people, it shall be printed upon the ballot in such manner as to enable the electors to vote upon the question in the manner hereinafter provided. There shall be printed on the ballots opposite the designation of each office such words as will aid the voter to indicate his choice of candidates, such as "vote for one," "vote for three," and the like.

See sec. 1897 regarding candidates for United States senator.

1845. Number of ballots and how bound.

SEC. 13. All ballots when printed shall be bound in stub-books of five, ten, twenty-five, fifty and one hundred ballots each. A record of the number of ballots printed for them shall be kept by the respective county clerks. As amended, Stats. 1899, 100.

Cited, Sweeney v. Hjul, 23 Nev. 427 (48 P. 1036).

1846. Number per registered voter.

SEC. 14. The county clerks shall provide for each election precinct in the county at least two ballots for each voter registered therein, and not more than five ballots in excess thereof. As amended, Stats. 1899, 100.

1847. Error in or omission of name—How corrected.

SEC. 15. Whenever it shall appear, by affidavit, that an error or omission has occurred in the publication of the name or description of any of the candidates nominated, or in the printing of the ballots, any member of the board of county commissioners, upon application by any voter, shall issue an order requiring the county clerk to correct such error.

1848. New election may be held.

SEC. 16. Before the opening of the polls, at any election, the county clerk shall cause to be delivered to the board of election of each election precinct in his county the proper number of tickets of the kind to be used in the election precinct. In case of prevention of an election in any precinct by reason of the loss or destruction of the ballots intended for that precinct, or for any other cause, the inspector or other election officer for the precinct shall make an affidavit setting forth the fact and transmit it to the governor of the state. Upon receipt of such affidavit, and upon the application of any candidate for any office to be voted for by the voters of such precinct, the governor shall order a new election in such precinct.

1849. How ballots to be furnished to voters.

SEC. 17. At the same time and in the same manner as inspectors and judges of election are now appointed in the state, there shall be appointed two clerks of election, who shall have charge of the ballots on election day, and shall furnish them to the voters in the manner hereinafter provided for. Said clerks of election shall possess the same qualifications, and receive the same compensation as inspectors of election. Said clerks shall be selected from the political parties which polled the largest and the next largest votes in the precinct at the last preceding general election.

1850. Booths, how provided.

SEC. 18. The board of county commissioners shall provide, at each polling-place within the county, a sufficient number of places, booths or compartments, in which voters may conveniently mark their ballots, so that in the marking thereof they may be screened from the observation of others, and a guard rail shall be so placed that only such persons as are inside said rail can approach within six feet of the ballot-box, and of such booths or compartments. The arrangements shall be such that neither the ballot-box nor the booths or compartments shall be hidden from the view of those just outside the guard rail. The number of such booths or compartments shall be not less than one for each fifty or fraction of fifty voters registered in the precinct. Each of said booths or compartments shall be kept provided with proper supplies and conveniences for marking ballots. No person, other than voters engaged in receiving, preparing or depositing their ballots, shall be permitted inside said guard rail during the time the polls are open, except by authority of the board of election, and in that case only for the purpose of keeping order and enforcing the law.

1851. How elector shall vote.

SEC. 19. Any person desiring to vote shall give his name and address to one of the clerks of election, who shall announce the same, and if the other clerk shall find the name upon the registry list he shall repeat the name and address. One ballot shall then be given to the voter, and the number of the said ballot shall be written by one of the clerks of election upon the registry list opposite the name of the voter receiving it.

See sec. 1780.

Certain electors may vote upon presentation of certificate and affidavit without being upon the register, under sec. 1714, as amended in 1911.

Cited, Sweeney v. Hjul, 23 Nev. 427 (48 P. 1036).

1852. Regulations as to voting.

SEC. 20. On receiving his ballot the voter shall immediately retire alone to one of the places, booth or compartments. He shall prepare his ballot by stamping a cross or X in the square, and in no other place, after the name of the person for whom he intends to vote for each office. In case of a constitutional amendment or other question submitted to the voters the cross or X shall be placed after the answer which he desires to give. Such stamping shall be done only with a stamp in black ink, which stamp, ink and ink-pad shall be furnished in sufficient number by the county clerk for each election precinct in the county. Before leaving the booth or compartment the voter shall fold his ballot in such a manner that the watermark and the number of the ballot shall appear on the outside, without exposing the stamps upon the ballot, and shall keep it so folded until he has voted. Having folded his ballot, the voter shall deliver it with the stamp, ink and ink-pad to the inspector, who shall announce the name of the voter and the number of his ballot. The clerk having the registry list in charge, if he finds the number to agree with the number of the ballot delivered to the voter, shall repeat the name and number, and shall mark opposite the name, the word "voted." The inspector shall then separate the strip bearing the number from the ballot, and shall deposit the ballot in the ballot-box. Said strip and number shall be immediately destroyed. As amended, Stats. 1901, 112.

Examples of distinguishing marks. Stro-snider v. Turner, 30 Nev. 155, 160, 162 (133 A. S. 710, 93 P. 502).

A ballot having the appearance of an attempt to make a second impression of the stamp to make it clearer, or to rectify some defect, is valid, though the second stamping does not exactly cover the first. Idem.

A ballot first marked with a cross with a corner of the stamp and then marked with a proper stamp beside the illegal one, was held illegal. Idem.

Instead of trying to rectify a mistake in marking the ballot, the voter should return it to the election officers and obtain a new one. Idem.

A ballot is unobjectionable, though some of the crosses stamped on it are imperfect. Idem.

1853. Occupation of booth.

SEC. 21. But one person shall occupy any one booth or compartment at one time, and no person shall remain in a booth or compartment longer than may be necessary to prepare his ballot, and in no case longer than ten minutes. As amended, Stats. 1893, 114.

1854. Spoiled ballots, how treated.

SEC. 22. Any voter who shall accidentally spoil a ballot may return such spoiled ballot to the clerks of election, and receive another one in its place. All the ballots thus returned shall be immediately canceled, by writing the word canceled across the face of the ballot, and, with those not distributed to the voters, shall be returned with the election returns. A voter who does not vote the ballot delivered to him shall, before leaving the space inside the guard rail, return such ballot to the clerks, who shall immediately cancel the same and return it in the same manner as a spoiled ballot. The clerks of election shall account for the ballots delivered to them, by returning a sufficient number of unused and spoiled ballots to make up, when added to the number of official ballots cast, the number of ballots delivered to them.

1855. Physical disability—Assistance.

SEC. 23. A voter who declares under oath that, by reason of physical disability, he is unable to mark his ballot, shall at his request be permitted to receive the assistance, in such marking, of an elector, other than any election officer, but no person shall be permitted to go inside the guard rail as an assistant to more than one voter.

1856. Ballot not deposited, when.

SEC. 24. No ballot shall be deposited in the ballot-box unless the watermark, as hereinbefore provided, appears thereon, and unless the slip containing the number of the ballot has been removed therefrom by the inspector.

1857. Sample ballots—Instructions to voters.

SEC. 25. The county clerk shall cause to be printed on plain white paper, without watermark or endorsement, except the words "sample ballot," at least as many copies of the form of ballot provided for use in each precinct as there shall be registered voters in any election precinct. And said county clerk shall furnish to each board of election, as many sample ballots as there shall be registered voters in said precinct, and on election day, the board of election shall furnish each voter on application one such sample ballot. Said county clerk shall also cause to be printed in plain type on cards, instructions for the guidance of voters for obtaining and marking their ballots. He shall furnish twelve such cards to the board of elections of each election precinct in the county, at the time and in the manner that ballots and sample ballots are furnished. The board of election shall post at least one of such cards in each booth provided for the preparation of ballots, and not less than three of such cards at other public places in and about the polling-places on the day of election. There shall be printed on such cards sections 27, 28, 29 and 30 of this act. As amended, Stats. 1899, 100.

1858. Irregular ballots thrown out.

SEC. 26. In counting the votes any ballots not bearing the watermark, as provided in this act, shall not be counted, but such ballot must be preserved and returned with the other ballots. When a voter marks more names than there are persons to be elected to an office, or if for any reason it is impossible to determine the voter's choice for any office, his vote for such office shall not be counted. Any ballot upon which appears names, words or marks written or printed, except as in this act provided, shall not be counted.

See secs. 1513, 1786.

Where inspectors fail to remove strips containing the numbers from the ballots before placing them in the ballot box, but it satisfactorily appeared that this was done through an innocent mistake and that it was not and could not have been used for purposes of bribery or intimidation, this fact should not have caused the rejection of the ballots. One purpose of this law was to exclude all ballots containing distinguishing marks, but marks satisfactorily appearing to have been inadvertently or accidentally made, and not for an evil purpose, should not be construed as identifying or distinguishing marks. Dennis v. Caughlin, 22 Nev. 447, 457 (58 A. S. 761, 29 L. R. A. 731, 41 P. 768).

1859. False or fraudulent certificate of nomination—False oath and other acts deemed felony.

SEC. 27. Any person who shall falsely make or fraudulently deface or destroy any certificate of nomination or any part thereof, or file any certificate of nomination knowing the same or any part thereof to be false, or suppress any certificate of nomination which has been duly filed, or any part thereof, or make use of, keep or furnish to others, except as in this act provided, any paper watermarked in imitation of ballot paper, or disclose to any person not engaged in the making, printing or distribution of ballots or ballot paper under the direction of the proper officer, the design of the watermark to be placed on the ballot paper, or print or be concerned in printing or have in his possession any imitation of an official ballot, or make any mark or indorsement on any ballot, or stub, by which the ballot can be distinguished from other ballots, or falsely swear that he is unable to mark his ballot by reason of physical disability, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be imprisoned in the state prison for a term not less than one year and not more than five years.

1860. Destruction of supplies.

SEC. 28. Any person who shall, during an election, remove or destroy any of the supplies or other conveniences placed in the booths or compartments, or shall, during an election, remove, tear down, or deface the cards of instruction posted, as prescribed by this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not less than fifty dollars, and not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not less than one month and not exceeding six months.

1861. Neglect of duty—Penalty.

SEC. 29. Any public officer, upon whom any duty is imposed by this act, who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to perform any such duty, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be imprisoned in the state prison for a term not less than one year and not exceeding five years.

1862. Various acts made misdemeanor.

SEC. 30. No person except a member of the board of election shall receive from any voter a ballot prepared by such voter. No person shall examine such ballot or solicit a voter to show the same. No person shall remove any ballot from any polling-place before the closing of the polls. No person shall apply for or receive a ballot at any election precinct other than the one on which he is entitled to vote. No person shall show his ballot to any person, after marking it, so as to reveal any of the names voted for. No person shall ask another within one hundred feet of the polling-place for whom he intends to vote. No voter shall receive a ballot from any other person than one of the clerks of election, nor shall any other person than a clerk of election deliver such ballot to such voter. No voter shall deliver to the board of election or to any member thereof any ballot other than the one received from a clerk of election. No voter shall place any mark upon his ballot by which it may afterwards be identified as the one voted by him. Any person violating any provision of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum not less than fifty dollars, and not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not less than one month and not exceeding six months.

An Act supplementary to an act entitled "An act relating to elections and to more fully secure the secrecy of the ballot," approved March 13, 1891.

Approved March 18, 1901, 78.

1863. Rejected ballots canvassed on separate sheet—Returns posted and transmitted.

SECTION 1. Before the close or final adjournment of any board of election in any voting precinct in this state, the inspectors shall canvass and count any and all ballots rejected by them, on a separate tally-sheet, in the same manner as legal ballots are now canvassed and counted, and transmit said sheet to the board of county commissioners in the ballot-box, with the other papers and documents, and the result of the vote cast for any and all candidates, and on any and all questions submitted, so far as can be determined, shall be posted immediately thereafter in some conspicuous place on the building in which the election is held, a duplicate copy of which shall be placed in the ballot-box with the other election returns and papers, to the board of county commissioners, and the county clerk shall keep a record of the same.

See sec. 1873.

An Act supplemental to an act entitled "An act relating to elections and to more fully secure the secrecy of the ballot."

Approved March 19, 1901, 82

1864. Reasons for rejection to be endorsed on ballot—Unlawful to mark.

SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful for any clerk or inspector of election to place any mark whatsoever upon any ballot other than a "spoiled" ballot; provided, however, that when such clerks or inspectors of election shall reject a ballot for any alleged defect or illegality, it shall be the duty of such inspectors of election to certify over their signatures upon the back of each and every ballot rejected that such ballot or ballots were in fact rejected and briefly stating their reasons therefor.

An Act relating to elections.

1865. Voting places not to have over 480 voters.

SECTION 1. The several boards of county commissioners in the counties of this state in providing for and proclaiming election precincts shall so arrange and divide the voting places in their respective counties, so that no greater number than four hundred voters shall vote in one precinct; provided, that where there are registered over four hundred and less than four hundred and eighty, then one polling-place shall be sufficient for said precinct.

See sec. 1768.

An Act concerning the election of town and city officers in this state and matters properly connected therewith.

1866. Voters in and out of town registered separately.

SECTION 1. The registry agents of every voting precinct in this state, containing within its limits a town or city, the boundaries of which are described by metes and bounds, shall register all voters, residents of said town or city, separately from the voters who reside within the said voting precinct but without the limits of said town or city, or he shall designate after the name of each voter whether he is a resident within or without said town or city; provided, that when there are no officers to be elected exclusively for said town or city such separate registration shall not be required.

See secs. 1707 and 1727.

1867. Residence to be designated on register.

SEC. 2. The registry agents, in preparing the official register for any voting precinct as described in section 1 of this act for the use of election officers, of the precinct and the wards thereof, if any there be, shall designate after the name of each voter, or in some other appropriate and intelligible manner, the residence of the voter, whether within or without the limits of the town or city, so that the election officers can readily determine whether or not voters are qualified to vote for town or city officers, if any such are to be elected.

1868. Different ballots for voters out of town.

SEC. 3. The county clerk shall cause to be placed upon the official ballots to be used at any voting precinct containing within its limits a town or city, as described in section 1 of this act, the names of all candidates for office for said town or city, in manner as now provided by law to be voted for exclusively by the electors of said town or city; provided, that he shall furnish sufficient ballots without the names of candidates for town or city officers, for use of the voters of the precinct who reside without the limits of said town or city, and the number of all ballots furnished for use in said precincts, and the wards thereof, if any there be, shall be as now provided by law, and shall be apportioned according to the relative number of each class of voters as herein designated.

See secs. 1840, 1843-1846.

1869. Ballots with town candidates for town voters only.

SEC. 4. The election officers of every voting precinct and the wards thereof, if any there be, shall, in manner as now provided by law, furnish the voters of said precinct or the wards thereof, with ballots with or without the names of the candidates for town, or city officers, according as the voter is a resident within or without the limits of said town or city as shown by the official registry list for use of the election officers of said precincts, or the wards thereof, as in this act provided, and no ballot containing names of candidates to be voted for exclusively by residents of the town or city shall be given to any voter who resides without the limits of said town or city.

1870. Manner of voting.

SEC. 5. Except as herein specially provided, the manner of voting and conducting the election shall be as now provided by law.

1871. Applicable to wards.

SEC. 6. Whenever any officer or officers of any town or city as herein mentioned are to be voted for exclusively by the qualified voters of any ward or wards of said town or city, then all of the provisions of this act concerning the registration and manner of voting for town or city officers shall apply to said ward or wards.

1873. Inspectors shall post bulletin.

SECTION 1. At every election hereafter to be held in this state, in precincts which are, by the usually traveled route, more than fifty miles distant from the county-seat, and wherein less than fifty voters shall be registered for that election, the inspectors shall, before they adjourn, post conspicuously at the polling-place, a bulletin, signed by each of them, stating the number of ballots cast for each candidate and for and against each question which has been voted upon.

See sec. 1863.

1874. Ballots and returns by registered mail, sealed.

SEC. 2. They shall also, before they adjourn, seal the ballots in a strong envelope, writing across the back thereof the words "Ballots (here give the name) Precinct," and also sign the names thereon. They shall then place the envelope containing the ballots, together with one of the tally-lists and one of the poll-books, in a sealed package, the weight of which, including the wrapper or box, must be less than the limit of weight allowed to be transmitted by mail. They shall then address the same to the proper officer at the county-seat, stating in writing on the outside of the package the contents thereof, and deliver it to one of their number, to be chosen by lot, who shall immediately, without opening it or permitting it to be opened, deliver it to the nearest postmaster and pay the postage thereon, and have the package registered.

1875. Inspector, how paid for mailing returns.

SEC. 3. The inspector who delivers the package shall be paid the amount expended by him in paying the postage on the package, and fifteen cents per mile for going to and fifteen cents per mile for returning from the postoffice, in the same manner and out of the same fund as other election expenses are paid; provided, that no such mileage shall be paid unless the total distance necessarily traveled in going and returning be greater than two miles.

1876. Returns to be kept in sealed package.

SEC. 4. In cases where this act shall apply the ballots shall, after they reach the county-seat, be kept in sealed packages by the proper officer, instead of in the ballot-boxes.

1877. Ballot-box to remain in custody of inspectors.

SEC. 5. In precincts where this act shall apply, the ballot-box may remain in the custody of the inspectors until the next election, when it shall be turned over to the inspectors of said election, and in such cases the tally-lists, poll-books and other books and papers may be sent in sealed packages by registered mail to one of the inspectors.

An Act providing for the manner of submitting constitutional amendments to the voters of the State of Nevada.

Approved March 5, 1887, 122

1878. Board of examiners shall order proposed amendments published.

1880. Commissioners' proclamation.

1881. Canvass and return.

1879. Publisher shall print and clerk mail copies of paper to voters.

1878. Board of examiners shall order proposed amendments published.

SECTION 1. Whenever the conditions prescribed by the constitution of the State of Nevada for amending the same have been complied with by the legislature, the state board of examiners shall order such proposed amendments to the constitution published in one daily newspaper of general circulation, published in the State of Nevada, for a period of ninety days next preceding any general election held in this state, when any proposed amendments are pending.

Const. 283, sec. 1842.

This act is a reasonable requirement, sanctioned by the constitution, and amendments voted on without compliance with such requirements are inoperative. (Hawley, J., dissenting.) State ex rel. Galusha v. Davis, 20 Nev. 222-227 (19 P. 894).

The adoption by the legislature of the registry lists of the general election of 1888 for the special election held three months later in 1889 is not obnoxious to constitutional requirements, but on the contrary is commendable as being calculated to facilitate, rather than to impede, the exercise of the right to vote. State ex rel. Boyle v. Board of Examiners, 21 Nev. 69 (9 L. R. A. 385, 24 P. 614).

1879. Publisher shall print and clerk mail copies of paper to voters.

SEC. 2. The publisher of the newspaper publishing the proposed amendments, as required by this act, shall print and send to the county clerk of each county in this state, as many copies of said newspapers containing the publication of said proposed amendments as there were registered voters for the general election of eighteen hundred and eighty-six, and the printing and mailing of said extra copies required under this act shall be done by the publisher without expense to the state. It is hereby made the duty of the clerk of each county to mail to every registered voter within his county a copy of the newspaper containing the proposed amendments.

1880. Commissioners' proclamation.

SEC. 3. The several boards of county commissioners in this state, before the next general election after final agreement by the legislature to any proposed amendments to the constitution, shall, in their proclamation, order that there be printed on the ballots: "Amendment No. ----, Yes"; or "Amendment No. ----, No."

See sec. 1770.

1881. Canvass and return.

SEC. 4. The vote on an amendment to the constitution shall be canvassed and returned in the same manner as is or may be provided by law for the canvass and return of votes for elective officers.

See secs. 1796, 1842, 1863, 1884.

1882. Referendum petition.

1885. Question to be printed on ballot.

1883. More than one petition allowed.

1886. Majority of voters control on referendum.

1884. Secretary of state to certify questions—County clerks to publish.

1882. Referendum petition.

SECTION 1. Whenever ten per centum or more of the voters of this state, as shown by the number of votes cast at the last preceding general election for justice of the supreme court, shall express their wish that any law or resolution made by the legislature be submitted to the vote of the people, they shall file with the secretary of state, not less than four months before the time set for such general election, a petition, which petition shall contain the names and residences of at least ten per centum of the voters of this state, demanding that a referendum vote be had by the people of the state at the next general election upon the bill or resolution on which the referendum is demanded.

1883. More than one petition allowed.

SEC. 2. The names of the electors so petitioning need not all be upon one petition, but may be contained in one or more petitions; but each petition must be verified by at least one of the voters who has signed such petition, and such voter making such verification must swear that the persons signing said petition are qualified voters of this state. Said petition may be verified upon information and belief.

1884. Secretary of state to certify questions—County clerks to publish.

SEC. 3. That upon receipt of said petition by the secretary of state he shall file the same, and at the next general election shall submit the question of the approval or disapproval of said law or resolution to the people of the state to be voted upon at the next ensuing election wherein any state or congressional officer is to be voted for, or wherein any question may be voted upon by the electors of the entire state. And the secretary of state shall certify the said law to the several county clerks in this state, and they shall publish the same in accordance with the provisions of law requiring the said county clerks to publish questions and constitutional amendments which are to be submitted for popular vote.

1885. Question to be printed on ballot.

SEC. 4. That the title of the act shall be set out on the ballot, and the question printed upon the ballot for the information of the voter shall be as follows: Shall the act (setting out the title thereof) be approved? And the votes cast upon such question shall be counted and canvassed as are the votes for state officers counted and canvassed.

See secs. 1843-46, 1868.

1886. Majority of electors control on referendum.

SEC. 5. When a majority of the electors voting at a state election shall by their vote signify approval of a law or resolution, such law or resolution shall stand as the law of the state, and shall not be overruled, annulled, set aside, suspended or in any way made inoperative, except by a direct vote of the people. When a majority shall so signify disapproval, the law or resolution so disapproved shall be void and of no effect.

An Act to provide for taking the votes of electors of the State of Nevada, who may be in the military service of the United States.

ELECTION OF UNITED STATES SENATOR

An Act to secure the election of United States senator in accordance with the will of the people and the choice of the electors of the state, and to obtain an expression of such choice, and to prevent fraud and official dereliction of duty in connection with such election.

Approved March 14, 1899, 86

1896. Candidates nominated, how.

1897. Certificates of nomination filed with the secretary of state—Ballot, how prepared.

1898. Candidates to be submitted at general election—Secretary of state to transmit result of official canvass to the legislature.

1899. Not to apply to vacancies, when.

1900. No reward used in aid of candidates.

1896. Candidates nominated, how.

SECTION 1. At the general election next preceding the expiration of the time for which any United States senator was elected or appointed to represent the State of Nevada in Congress, candidates for the choice of the electors of this state for United States senator may be nominated in the same manner as provided by law for the nomination of state officers, and they may be nominated either by certificate of nomination, by a party convention, or under the provisions of any direct primary law which may now or hereafter be enacted, or by certificate of nomination signed by electors equal to ten per cent of the entire vote cast at the preceding election. As amended, Stats. 1909, 158.

See sec. 1737.

1897. Certificate of nomination filed with the secretary of state—Ballot, how prepared.

SEC. 2. Such certificates of nomination shall be filed with the secretary of state, who shall certify the names of all candidates as shown therein to the various county clerks as now required by law in case of candidates for state offices, and the several county clerks in preparing the ballots to be voted at any such general election shall place thereon the names of all such candidates under the words "Choice for United States Senator, vote for one," and there shall be a margin at the right-hand side of these names, at least one-half inch wide, where the voter may indicate his choice of said candidates by making a cross or X.

See secs. 1840, 1844.

1898. Candidates to be submitted at general election—Secretary of state to transmit result of official canvass to the legislature.

SEC. 3. The names of all candidates so-nominated shall be submitted to the electors of the state for them to express their choice at every such general election, and the vote upon such choice shall be taken, returned, canvassed and certified by the same authority and in the same way as the vote for state officers is taken, canvassed, returned and certified, and in manner and form complying with the requirements and provisions of an act relating to elections and to more fully secure the secrecy of the ballot, approved March 13, 1891, and of the various acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, and the secretary of state shall, within five days after the convening of the next session of the legislature following any such election, transmit to each branch thereof the result of the official canvass of the vote upon said choice and candidates.

1899. Not to apply to vacancies, when.

SEC. 4. The provisions of this act shall not apply to the filling of any vacancy in the office of United States senator which may occur by death, resignation or removal between the date sixty days prior to any general election and the adjournment of the next session of the legislature.

1900. No reward used in aid of candidate.

SEC. 5. No person shall, either in aid of his own candidacy or election, or in aid of the candidacy or election of any other person for the choice of the electors for United States senator, give, pay, expend or promise any money or reward to any one whomsoever.

U. S. Revised Stats. secs. 14-19

1901. When senators to be elected.

SEC. 14. The legislature of each state which is chosen next preceding the expiration of the time for which any senator was elected to represent such state in Congress shall, on the second Tuesday after the meeting and organization thereof, proceed to elect a senator in Congress.

1902. Mode of election.

SEC. 15. Such election shall be conducted in the following manner: Each house shall openly, by a viva voce vote of each member present, name one person for senator in Congress from such state, and the name of the person so voted for, who receives a majority of the whole number of votes cast in each house, shall be entered on the journal of that house by the clerk or secretary thereof; or if either house fails to give such majority to any person on that day, the fact shall be entered on the journal. At twelve o'clock meridian of the day following that on which proceedings are required to take place as aforesaid, the members of the two houses shall convene in joint assembly, and the journal of each house shall then be read, and if the same person has received a majority of all the votes in each house, he shall be declared duly elected senator. But if the same person has not received a majority of the votes in each house, or if either house has failed to take proceedings as required by this section, the joint assembly shall then proceed to choose by viva voce vote of each member present, a person for senator, and the person who receives a majority of all the votes of the joint assembly, a majority of all the members elected to both houses being present and voting, shall be declared duly elected. If no person receives such majority on the first day, the joint assembly shall meet at twelve o'clock meridian of each succeeding day during the session of the legislature, and shall take at least one vote, until a senator is elected.

1903. Vacancy occurring before meeting of legislature, how filled.

SEC. 16. Whenever on the meeting of the legislature of any state a vacancy exists in the representation of such state in the senate, the legislature shall proceed, on the second Tuesday after meeting and organization, to elect a person to fill such vacancy, in the manner prescribed in the preceding section for the election of a senator for a full term.

1904. Vacancy during session of legislature, how filled.

SEC. 17. Whenever during the session of the legislature of any state a vacancy occurs in the representation of such state in the senate, similar proceedings to fill such vacancy shall be had on the second Tuesday after the legislature has organized and has notice of such vacancy.

1905. Election of senators certified.

SEC. 18. It shall be the duty of the executive of the state from which any senator has been chosen, to certify his election, under the seal of the state, to the president of the senate of the United States.

1906. Countersign of certificate.

SEC. 19. The certificate mentioned in the preceding section shall be countersigned by the secretary of state of the state.

An Act prescribing the manner of electing United States Senators.

Approved March 7, 1865, 238

1907. Elections, when held.

1908. Joint convention to proceed to elect.

1909. How held—Voting viva voce—Majority necessary to elect.

1910. Absence of majority causes adjournment until next day.

1911. When governor shall convene joint convention.

1912. Presiding officer.

1913. Certificate of election.

1914. Temporary appointment, how made and transmitted.

1907. Elections, when held.

SECTION 1. All regular elections of United States senators for this state shall be held at the regular session of the legislature which convenes next preceding the commencement of the term which is to be filled. All special elections shall be held by the legislature in session at the time any vacancy or vacancies may occur in such senatorial representation, or at the succeeding session of the legislature which may convene after the occurrence of such vacancy.

1908. Joint convention to proceed to elect.

SEC. 2. Whenever an election is to be held for a United States senator, in pursuance of the constitution of the United States, the senate and assembly shall, within twenty days after the commencement of the session of the legislature, meet together in joint convention, in the assembly chamber, on such a day, and at such an hour, as may by joint or concurrent resolution of the two houses be agreed upon, and by joint vote proceed to such election; and until an election is had, such joint convention may adjourn from time to time as may be determined by a majority of the members comprising such joint convention, upon a vote to be taken by "ayes and noes."

1909. How held—Voting viva voce—Majority necessary to elect.

SEC. 3. At all such elections the voting shall be viva voce, and a majority of all the votes given shall be necessary to elect a senator.

Const. sec. 254.

1910. Absence of majority causes adjournment until next day.

SEC. 4. The joint convention shall do no act, except to adjourn, during the absence of a majority of all the members-elect of either the senate or assembly; and the withdrawal or absence of such majority shall cause an adjournment of such joint convention until the succeeding legislative day, at twelve (12) m.

1911. When governor shall convene joint convention.

SEC. 5. If the legislature shall, at any time as herein provided, fail to unite in joint convention within twenty days after the commencement of the session of the legislature for the election of such senator, it shall be the duty of the governor of this state, by proclamation, to convene the senate and assembly in joint convention within not less than five days, nor exceeding ten days, from the publication of his proclamation for such purpose; and the joint convention, when so assembled, shall proceed to elect the senator or senators as herein provided.

1912. Presiding officer.

SEC. 6. At all sessions of such joint conventions the president of the senate, or, in his absence, the president pro tem. of such senate shall be the presiding officer.

1913. Certificate of election.

SEC. 7. When any such election is made, the presiding officer of the senate for the time being, and the speaker of the assembly, shall certify the same to the governor of the state, and he shall cause a credential thereof to be made out, with the great seal of state affixed thereto, certifying to such election and deliver or transmit the same to the person so elected.

1914. Temporary appointment, how made and transmitted.

SEC. 8. Whenever the executive of this state shall, by virtue of the constitution of the United States, make a temporary appointment of a senator, he shall deliver or transmit to such senator a credential, under the great seal of the state, certifying said appointment, and may in case of emergency, telegraph the matter of such appointment, which shall have like effect as if certified in the manner hereinbefore provided.

U. S. Const. sec. 94.

1915. Employer liable for injury or death of workman.

SECTION 1. If in any employment to which this act applies personal injury disabling a workman from his regular service for more than ten days, or death by accident, arising out of and in the course of employment is caused to a workman, the workman so injured, or in case of death, the member of his family, as hereinafter defined, shall be entitled to receive from his employer, and the said employer shall be liable to pay, the compensation provided for in this act; provided, that recovery hereunder shall not be barred where such employee may have been guilty of contributory negligence where such contributory negligence is slight and that of the employer is gross in comparison, but in which event the compensation may be diminished in proportion to the amount of negligence attributable to such employee, and it shall be conclusively presumed that such employee was not guilty of contributory negligence in any case where the violation of any statute enacted for the safety of employees contributed to such employee's injury; and it shall not be a defense: (1) That the employee either expressly or impliedly assumed the risk of the hazard complained of; (2) That the injury or death was caused in whole or in part by the want of ordinary or reasonable care of a fellow-servant. No contract, rule or regulation shall exempt the employer from any of the provisions of the preceding section of this act.

1916. Terms defined.

SEC. 2. "Employer" includes any body of persons corporate or incorporate and the legal personal representative of a deceased employer. "Workman" includes every person who is engaged in an employment to which this act applies, whether by way of manual labor or otherwise, and where his agreement is one of service or apprenticeship or otherwise, and is expressed or implied, is oral or in writing. Any reference to a workman who has been injured shall, where the workman is dead, include a reference to his legal personal representative or to his dependents or other person to whom compensation is payable. "Dependents" means wife, father, mother, husband, sister, brother, child or grandchild; provided, that they were wholly or partly dependent upon the earnings of the workman at the time of his death.

1917. Hazardous callings enumerated.

SEC. 3. This act shall apply to workmen engaged in manual or mechanical labor in the following employments within this state, each of which is hereby determined to be especially dangerous, in which from the nature, condition or means of prosecution of the work therein, extraordinary risks to the life and limb of workmen engaged therein are inherent, necessarily or substantially unavoidable, and to each of which employments it is deemed necessary to establish a new system of compensation for accidents to workmen.

(a) The erection or demolition of any bridge or building in which there is, or in which the plans or specifications require iron or steel framework;

(b) The operation of elevators, elevating machines or derricks or hoisting apparatus used within or on the outside of any bridge or building for the conveying of material in connection with the erection or demolition of such bridge or building;

(c) Work on scaffolds of any kind elevated twenty feet or more above the ground, water or floor beneath, in the erection, construction, painting, alteration or repair of buildings, bridges or structures;

(d) Construction, operation, alteration, or repair of wires, cables, switchboards or apparatus charged with electric currents;

(e) The operation on railroads of locomotives, engines, trains, motors or cars propelled by gravity, steam, electricity or other mechanical power, or the construction or repairs of railroad tracks and roadbeds over which such locomotives, engines, trains, motors, or cars are operated;

(f) Construction, operation, alteration, or repairs of locomotives, engines, trains, motors or cars in or about the shops, round-houses, or other places, where the same is done;

(g) Construction, operation, alteration or repairs to mills, smelters or mines, including every shaft or pit in the course of being sunk, and every crosscut, drift, station, winze, level or inclined planes through which workmen pass to and from work, and all works, machinery, tramways, ladders or passages, both below ground and above ground, in and adjacent to any mine;

(h) All work necessitating dangerous proximity to gunpowder, blasting powder, dynamite or any other explosives, where the same are used as instrumentalities of the industry;

(i) The construction of tunnels.

The employers to whom this act shall apply shall be any person or persons, association, partnership or corporation carrying on any such industry as aforesaid.

1918. Prompt notice of accidents to be given employers.

SEC. 4. Notice of accidents must be given to the employer as soon as practicable after the happening thereof, and the claim for compensation with respect to such accident within six months from the occurrence of such accident causing the injury, or in case of death, within six months from the time of death; provided, always, that the want of, or any defect or inaccuracy in, such notice shall not be a bar to the maintenance of such proceedings if it is found in the proceedings for settling the claim that the employer is not prejudiced in his defense by the want, defect or inaccuracy, and that such want, defect or inaccuracy was occasioned by mistake or other reasonable cause. Notice in respect of an injury under this act shall give the name and address of the person injured, and shall state in ordinary language the cause of the injury, if known, the date at which it was sustained, and shall be served on the employer, or, if there is more than one employer, upon one of such employers. The notice may be served by delivering the same to or at the residence or place of business of the person upon whom it is to be served, or the notice may also be served by post, by a registered letter addressed to the person on whom it is to be served at his last known place of residence or place of business, and if served by post shall be deemed to have been served at the time when the letter containing the same would have been delivered in the ordinary course of post, and in proving the service of such notice it shall be sufficient to prove that the notice was properly addressed and registered. Where the employer is a body of persons, natural or artificial, the notice may also be served by delivering the same at, or by sending it by post in a registered letter addressed to the employer at the office, or, if there be more than one office, any one of the offices of such body.

1919. Compensation. how determined in case of death.

SEC. 5. The amount of compensation in case death results from injury, or for death accruing within five years as a result of injury, shall be:

(a) If the workman leave any person or persons who at the time of the accident were wholly dependent upon his earnings, a sum equal to his earnings in the employment of the same employer during the three years next preceding the injury, or the sum of two thousand dollars, whichever of these sums is the greater, but not exceeding in any case three thousand dollars; provided, that the total sum of any weekly payments made under this act shall be deducted from such sum; and if the period of the workman's employment by the same employer has been less than the said three years, then the amount of his earnings during the said three years shall be deemed to be nine hundred and thirty-six times his average daily earnings during the period of his actual employment under the same employer.

(b) If the workman leave only person or persons who at the time of the accident were partly dependent upon his earnings, a sum equal to 50 per cent of the amount payable under the foregoing provisions of this section;

(c) If the workman leave no person at the time of the accident who was dependent upon his earnings, the reasonable expenses of his medical attendance and burial, not exceeding in all three hundred dollars.

Whatever sum is payable under this section in case of death of the injured workman shall be paid to his legal representatives for the benefit of such dependents, and if he leaves no such dependents, then to the public administrator, for the benefit of the person or persons to whom the expenses of medical attendance and burial are due.

1920. Compensation, how determined in temporary or permanent injury.

SEC. 6. The amount of compensation in case of total or partial disability resulting from injury shall be:

(a) A weekly payment during the disability, beginning within ten days after the injury, 60 per cent of his average weekly earnings in such employment during the previous twelve months if he has been so long employed, but if not, then for any less period during which he has been in the employment of the same employer, so long as there is complete disability; and that proportion of the said percentage which the depleted earning capacity for that service bears to the total disability when the injury is only partial, but in no event shall the total of all payments under this act exceed the sum of three thousand dollars;

(b) In addition to the foregoing payments, if the injured person lose both feet or both hands, or one foot and one hand, or both eyes or one eye and one foot or one hand, he shall receive, during a full period of five years, 40 per cent of his average weekly earnings, or if he lose one foot, one hand or one eye, the additional compensation therefor shall be 15 per cent of his average weekly earnings, the amount of such earnings to be computed in the same manner as the foregoing 60 per cent; provided, that in no case shall all the payments received herein exceed in any month the whole wages earned when the injury occurs, nor shall the added percentages continue longer than to make all payments aggregate three thousand dollars.

1921. Employee must submit to physical examination.

SEC. 7. Any workman entitled to receive weekly payments under this act is required, if requested by the employer, to submit himself for examination by a duly qualified medical practitioner or surgeon provided and paid for by the employer, at a time and place reasonably convenient for the workman, within three weeks after the injury, and thereafter at intervals not oftener than once in six weeks. A copy of the report of the examining physician shall be furnished to the workman. If a dispute then exists as to the workman's condition or amount of weekly compensation such dispute shall be determined by arbitration under this act, or by judicial procedure as hereinafter provided; provided, also, that any and all disputes arising under this act may be first submitted to a board of arbitration, and in case of failure to settle it, resort may be had to courts of justice.

1922. Arbitration, how conducted.

SEC. 8. Arbitration proceedings shall be as follows: The employer and the workman may each choose one arbitrator, the two arbitrators thus chosen shall choose a third, and the three arbitrators shall hear the facts of the dispute within three months after having been chosen, and within two weeks thereafter, render a decision, which, if unanimous, shall be final and binding on both parties.

1923. Failure of arbitration, court proceedings.

SEC. 9. On failure of the board of arbitration to reach an adjustment of the dispute above referred to, either party may apply to a court of competent jurisdiction, and have an adjudication as in any other controversy. And the findings and judgment of the court shall be conclusive on all parties concerned. Said courts may compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of evidence, as in all other cases provided for by law, and the judgment of said court may continue and diminish or increase the weekly payments, subject to the maximum provided in this act. The prevailing party in any action, brought under the provisions of this act, shall be entitled to his costs of suit and reasonable attorney's fees; provided, that nothing in this act shall operate to defeat the constitutional right of appeal.

1924. Employer responsible for contractor or subcontractor.

SEC. 10. If any employer who shall be the principal, enters into a contract with an independent contractor to do part of such employer's work, or if such contractor enters into a contract with a subcontractor to do all or any part of the work comprised in such contractor's contract with the employer, the said principal shall be liable to pay to any workman employed in the execution of the work, any compensation under this act, which he would have been liable to pay if that workman had been immediately employed by him; and where compensation is claimed from the principal, then reference to the principal shall be substituted for reference to the employer, except the amount of compensation shall be calculated with reference to the earnings of the workman under the contractor or employer by whom he is immediately employed. Where such principal is liable to pay compensation he shall be entitled to be indemnified by any person who would have been liable to pay compensation to the workman independently of this section. Nothing in this section shall be construed as preventing a workman from recovering compensation under this act, from the contractor or subcontractor, instead of the principal; nor shall this section apply in any case where the accident shall occur elsewhere than on or in or about the premises on which the principal has undertaken to execute the work or which are otherwise under his control or management.

1925. Employee not compelled to proceed under this act—Choice of remedies.

SEC. 11. Nothing in this act contained shall be held or deemed to require any workman or his personal representatives to proceed under its terms and provisions for the recovery of compensation of damages for death or accidental injury. But if the workman or his personal representatives shall so elect, he or they may disregard the provisions of this act and may pursue any other remedy at law for the recovery of such compensation of damages for or on account of such death or injury. The right of election or choice of remedies shall be exercised solely by such workman or his representatives.

1926. Claim for compensation preferred debt.

SEC. 12. A claim for compensation for the injury or death of any employee or any reward or judgment entered thereon shall be entitled to a preference over the other debts of the employer if and to the same extent as the wages of such employee shall be so preferred, but this section shall not impair the lien of any judgment entered upon any award.

1927. Assignment, when claim becomes legal.

SEC. 13. The making of a lawful claim against an employer for compensation under this act for the injury or death of his employee shall operate as an assignment of any assignable cause of action in tort which the employee or his personal representative may have against any other party for such injury or death, and such employer may enforce in his own name the liability of such other party.

1928. Claims may be compromised.

SEC. 14. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as impairing the right of parties interested after the injury or death of an employee to compromise or settle upon such terms as they may agree upon any liability which may be claimed to exist under this act on account of such injury or death, nor as conferring upon the dependents of any injured employee any interest which he may not divert by such settlement or for which he or his estate shall in the event of such settlement by him be accountable to such dependents or any of them.

An Act to provide for the amicable adjustment of differences that may arise between employers and employees.

Approved March 29, 1907, 375

1929. Arbitration—Governor to act.

1933. Agreements must be acknowledged—
Report to governor.

1930. Board of arbitration.

1931. Decision of arbitrators.

1934. Obligations of parties.

1932. May issue subpoenas and compel attendance.

1935. Compensation of arbitrators.

1929. Arbitration—Governor to act.

SECTION 1. That whenever a controversy concerning wages, hours of labor, or conditions of employment shall arise between an employer and his employees, seriously interrupting or threatening to interrupt the business of the employer, the governor shall, upon the request of either party to the controversy, with all practicable expedition, put himself in communication with the parties to such controversy, and shall use his best efforts, by mediation and conciliation, to amicably settle the same. He may either exercise such powers of conciliation himself, or appoint a commission for such purpose. If such efforts of conciliation shall be unsuccessful, the governor shall at once endeavor to bring about an arbitration of such controversy in accordance with the provisions of this act.

1930. Board of arbitration.

SEC. 2. That whenever such controversy shall arise between an employer and his employees which cannot be settled by mediation and conciliation in the manner provided in the preceding section, such controversy may, with the consent of the parties to the controversy, be submitted to the arbitration of a board of three persons who shall be chosen in the manner following: One shall be named by the employer directly interested; the other by the labor organization to which the employees directly interested belong, or if they belong to more than one, such arbitrator shall be agreed upon and designated by the concurrent action of all such labor organizations. The two thus chosen shall select the third commissioner of arbitration, but in the event of their failure to name such arbitrator within five days after their first meeting, the three arbitrators shall be named by the governor. A majority of said arbitrators shall be competent to make a binding and valid award under the provisions hereof. The submission shall be in writing, shall be signed by the employer and by the labor organization or organizations representing employees, shall specify the time and place of meeting of such board of arbitration, shall state the questions to be decided, and shall contain appropriate provisions by which the respective parties shall stipulate as follows:

First—That the board of arbitration shall commence their hearings within ten days from the date of the appointment of the third arbitrator, and shall find and file their award within thirty days from the date of the appointment of the third arbitrator; and that pending the arbitration the status existing immediately prior to the dispute shall not be changed; provided, that no employee shall be compelled to render personal service without his consent.

Second—That the award and the papers and proceedings, including the testimony relating thereto certified under the hands of the arbitrators, shall be filed in the clerk's office of the district court for the district wherein the controversy arises or the arbitration is entered into, and shall be final and conclusive upon both parties, unless set aside for error of law apparent on the record.

Third—That the respective parties to the award will each faithfully execute the same, and that the same may be specifically enforced in equity so far as the powers of a court of equity permit; provided, that no injunction or other legal process shall be issued which shall compel the performance by any laborer against his will of a contract for personal labor or service.

Fourth—That employees dissatisfied with the award shall not by reason of such dissatisfaction quit the service of the employer before the expiration of three months from and after the making of such award without giving thirty days' notice in writing of their intention so to quit. Nor shall the employer dissatisfied with such award dismiss any employee or employees on account of such dissatisfaction before the expiration of three months from and after the making of such award without giving thirty days' notice in writing of his intention so to discharge.

Fifth—That said award shall continue in force as between the parties thereto for the period of one year after the same shall go into practical operation, and no new arbitration upon the same subject between the same employer and the same class of employees shall be had until the expiration of said one year if the award is not set aside as provided.

1931. Decision of arbitrators.

SEC. 3. That the award being filed in the clerk's office of the district court, as hereinbefore provided, shall go into practical operation, and judgment shall be entered thereon accordingly at the expiration of ten days from such filing, unless within such ten days either party shall file exceptions thereto for matter of law apparent on the record, in which case said award shall go into practical operation and judgment be entered accordingly when such exceptions shall have been finally disposed of either by said district court or on appeal therefrom. At the expiration of ten days from the decision of the district court upon exception taken to said award as aforesaid, judgment shall be entered in accordance with said decision, unless during said ten days either party shall appeal therefrom to the supreme court of the State of Nevada. In such case only such portion of the record shall be transmitted to the supreme court as is necessary to a proper understanding and consideration of the questions of law presented by said exceptions and to be decided. The determination of said supreme court upon said questions shall be final, and being certified by the clerk thereof to said district court, judgment pursuant thereto shall thereupon be entered by said district court. If exceptions to an award are finally sustained, judgment shall be entered setting aside the award, but in such case the parties may agree upon a judgment to be entered disposing of the subject-matter of the controversy, which judgment when entered shall have the same force and effect as judgment entered upon award.

1932. May issue subpoenas and compel attendance.

SEC. 4. That for the purposes of this act the arbitrators herein provided for, or either of them, shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations, sign subpoenas, require the attendance and testimony of witnesses, and the production of such books, papers, contracts, agreements, and documents material to a just determination of the matters under investigation, as may be ordered by the courts; and may invoke the aid of the said courts to compel witnesses to attend and testify, and to produce such books, papers, contracts, agreements and documents as the courts shall determine to be material and competent evidence.

1933. Agreements must be acknowledged—Report to governor.

SEC. 5. That every agreement of arbitration under this act shall be acknowledged by the parties before a notary public or clerk of the district court of the state, and when so acknowledged a copy of the same shall be filed with and recorded by the county recorder of the county in which the arbitration is entered into, and a copy shall also be sent to the governor who shall file the same in the office of the secretary of state, who shall cause a notice in writing to be served upon the arbitrators, fixing the time and place for a meeting of said board, which shall be within fifteen days from the execution of said agreement of arbitration; provided, however, that the governor shall decline to call a meeting of the arbitrators under such agreement unless it be shown to his satisfaction that the employees signing the submission represent or include a majority of all the employees in the service of the same employer and of the same grade and class, and that an award pursuant to said submission can justly be regarded as binding upon all such employees.

1934. Obligations of parties.

SEC. 6. That during the pendency of arbitration under this act it shall not be lawful for the employer, party to such arbitration, to discharge the employees, parties thereto, except for inefficiency, violation of law, or neglect of duty; nor for the organization representing such employees to order, nor for the employees to unite in, aid or abet, strikes against said employer; nor, during a period of three months after an award under such an arbitration, for such employer to discharge any such employees, except for the causes aforesaid, without giving thirty days' written notice of an intent so to discharge; nor for any of such employees, during a like period, to quit the service of said employer without just cause, without giving to said employer thirty days' written notice of an intent so to do; nor for such organization representing such employees to order, counsel, or advise otherwise. Any violation of this section shall subject the offending party to liability for damages; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent any employer, party to such arbitration, from reducing the number of its or his employees whenever in its or his judgment business necessities require such a reduction.

1935. Compensation of arbitrators.

SEC. 7. The agreement of arbitration shall provide for the compensation of arbitrators, and their traveling and other necessary expenses.

An Act to prohibit the use of deception, misrepresentation, false advertising or false pretenses in the procuring of employees to work in any department of labor in the State of Nevada, and fixing penalties, criminal and civil, for the violation thereof.

Approved March 22, 1911, 315

1936. Unlawful to misrepresent labor conditions.

SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, persons, company, corporation, society, association or organization of any kind doing business in this state, by himself, itself, themselves, his, its, or their agents, or attorneys to induce, influence, persuade or engage workmen to change from one place to another in this state, or to bring workmen of any class or calling into this state to work in any of the departments of labor in this state, through means of false or deceptive representations, false advertising or false pretenses concerning the kind and character of the work to be done, or amount and character of the compensation to be paid for such work, or the sanitary or other conditions of their employment, or as to the existence or nonexistence of a strike, or other trouble pending between employer and employees at the time of or prior to such engagement, proposal or contract for such employment of workmen.

1937. Penalties.

SEC. 2. Any person, persons, company, corporation, society, association or organization of any kind doing business in this state, as well as his, their, or its agents, attorneys, servants or associates found guilty of violating section one (1) of this act, or any part thereof, shall be fined in a sum not less than two hundred dollars ($200), nor more than two thousand dollars ($2,000), or confined in the county jail for a period of not less than sixty days nor more than one year, or when the defendant or defendants is or are a natural person or persons, by both such fine and imprisonment.

1938. Right of action defined.

SEC. 3. Any workman of this state or any workman of another state who has been or shall be influenced, induced or persuaded to engage with any person mentioned in section one (1) of this act, or any company, corporation, or society or organization mentioned in section one (1) of this act, through or by means of any of the things therein prohibited, after this act becomes in force and effect, and each of such workmen shall have a cause of action for recovery and may recover at law, for all damages that each of such workmen shall have sustained in consequence of the false or deceptive representations, false advertising or false pretenses, used to induce him to change his place of employment, or place of abode in case such workman shall not be then employed at the time of such inducement and hiring, against any person or persons, corporations, companies or associations, directly or indirectly causing such damages; and in any action under this act, for the recovery of such damages, the court shall have the power to award a reasonable attorney's fee in favor of the prevailing party and to be taxed as costs against the losing party therein.

An Act to prohibit the issuance of non-negotiable acknowledgments of indebtedness in payment for wages due employees, and providing a punishment for the violation of the provisions of this act.

1939. Checks and orders must be negotiable.

SECTION 1. No person or corporation engaged in any business or enterprise of any kind in this state shall issue, in payment, or as evidence of, any indebtedness for wages due an employee, any order, check, memorandum, or other acknowledgment of indebtedness unless the same is a negotiable instrument payable without discount, in cash on demand, at some bank or other established place of business; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall in any way limit or interfere with the right of any such employee, by agreement, to accept from any such person or corporation, as an evidence or acknowledgment of indebtedness for wages due him, a negotiable instrument, payable at some future date with interest.

1940. Penalty.

SEC. 2. Any violation of this act shall be a misdemeanor or punishable by a fine of not exceeding $500.

An Act to regulate the hours of work or labor of men employed or working on or about the surface of underground mine workings, and providing for the punishment of violations of this act.

1941. Legal day's work for surface employees.

SECTION 1. The number of hours of work or labor of mechanics, engineers, blacksmiths, carpenters, top men, and all workmen employed or working on or about the surface or surface workings of any underground mine workings, shall not exceed eight (8) hours in any period of twenty-four (24) hours, except in cases of emergency where life or property is in imminent danger.

1942. Penalties.

SEC. 2. Any person who violates any of the provisions of this act, or any person, corporation, employer or agent who hires, contracts with, or in any manner causes or induces any person to work or labor on or about the surface or surface workings of any underground mine workings for more than eight hours in any period of twenty-four hours, except in cases of emergency where life or property is in imminent danger, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not longer than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

See secs. 289 to 295, inclusive, of crimes act, post, secs. 6554 to 6560, annotated.

An Act making it a misdemeanor to collect hospital fees from persons in certain cases.

1943. Hospital fees, when collection unlawful.

SECTION 1. It is hereby made unlawful for any person or persons, contractor or contractors, firm, company, corporation, or association, or the managing agent of any person or persons, contractor or contractors, firm, company, corporation, or association, to collect, demand, force, compel, or require, either monthly, annually, or for any other period of time, any sum of money for hospital fees from any person or laborer at any place in this state where no convenient, comfortable, and well-equipped hospital is maintained at some town or place for the accommodation, relief and treatment of persons in his or their employ, and from whom hospital fees are collected; provided, that any person or persons, contractor or contractors, firm, company, corporation, or association, or the managing agent of same, may care for or cause to be cared for, any person in his or their employ, from whom hospital fees are collected, at any private or public hospital, sanitarium, or other convenient and comfortable place, without expense to the person or patient from whom hospital fees are collected; and provided further, the distance and facilities for the comfort and conveyance of any patient come within the intent and meaning of section 2 of this act.

1944. Act construed.

SEC. 2. For the purpose of this act, the words "town or place," mentioned in section 1 of this act, shall be construed to mean any town, headquarters, or place, at which town, headquarters, or place, and tributary places, sufficient hospital fees are collected to maintain a hospital in keeping with the hospital fees collected, and the words "distance and facilities for the comfort and conveyance of any patient," mentioned in section 1 of this act, shall be construed to mean the nearest hospital, and most comfortable means of conveyance at hand, or that can be procured in a reasonable time; provided, that if at the nearest hospital the proper medical treatment cannot be secured, then it shall not be a misdemeanor to take any person or patient a greater distance or to another hospital.

1945. Penalty.

SEC. 3. Any person or persons violating the provisions of this act shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not less than two hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than one hundred days nor more than two hundred and fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

EXPLOSIVES

An Act authorizing and requiring the boards of county commissioners of the several counties of Nevada to prohibit, under certain conditions, the storage of explosive or combustible materials within a certain distance of the limits of any town or incorporated city in this state.

Approved March 17, 1905, 203

1946. On petition, commissioners to prohibit storage—Exceptions.

SECTION 1. Whenever there shall be filed with the board of county commissioners of any county in this state a petition signed by ten per cent of the residents of any town or incorporated city within said county, said ten per cent to be computed from the number of persons paying taxes in said town or incorporated city according to the last preceding assessment roll, praying that the storage of gunpowder, or explosive or combustible materials be prohibited within the limits of such town or city, said board shall, at the meeting of such board when such petition is filed, make and enter on the minutes of its proceedings an order prohibiting the storage of explosive or combustible materials within such distance of said town or city as said board may deem safe and proper; provided, that the distance named in said order for such storage shall not be less than one-fourth mile from the limits of such town or city; provided further, that nothing in this act contained shall be so construed as to prohibit or prevent the storage by any person, firm or corporation within the limit prescribed by the order of any board, of not more than one hundred pounds of black and smokeless gun or rifle powder, and not more than five hundred gallons of kerosene oil, nor to prohibit or prevent the keeping within such limits of shotgun or rifle shells and cartridges and cartridge percussion caps by any business firm or individual, nor to prohibit or prevent the storing of powder under ground in mines.

1947. Misdemeanor of county commissioners—Penalty.

SEC. 2. Any board of county commissioners, or any member thereof, failing, neglecting or refusing to comply with all of the provisions of section 1 of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and proceedings shall at once be instituted by the district attorney of the county, or may be instituted by any citizen of the county, against such board, or against any member thereof, and upon conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction, the members or any member of such board shall be fined in a sum not less than one hundred ($100) dollars nor more than five hundred ($500) dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not less than thirty (30) days nor more than six months, or may be punished by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court. Such conviction shall ipso facto remove such board, or any member thereof so convicted, from office, notice of the vacancy thereby created to be certified by the district attorney of the county to the governor of the state, and the governor, within twenty days from the receipt of such notice, to make appointments to fill such vacancy as may be created.

1948. Order published.

SEC. 3. The order mentioned in section 1 of this act to be made by said board may be published by the clerk of said board for two weeks successively in some newspaper published and printed in the town to which said order applies, or, a copy of such order shall be conspicuously posted in three public places in said town or city, which said publication or posting shall constitute due notice to all concerned, and any person, firm, company or corporation continuing to store any explosive or combustible materials within the limit prescribed by such order and notice, after two weeks subsequent to the giving of such notice or after three weeks subsequent to the making of such order, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof in any court of competent jurisdiction, shall be fined in any sum not less than one hundred ($100) dollars nor more than five hundred ($500) dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail for a term not less than thirty days nor more than six months, or may be punished by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

Act ceding jurisdiction over land for the Indian School in Ormsby County, Stats. 1897, p. 49.

An Act ceding the jurisdiction of this state over certain lands owned by the United States.

Approved January 18, 1883, 13

1949. Jurisdiction ceded to the United States—Reservation by state—Plat to be filed—Service of process.

SECTION 1. That the jurisdiction of this state is hereby ceded to the United States of America over all such pieces or parcels of land within the limits of this state as have been or shall hereafter be selected and acquired by the United States for the purpose of erecting postoffices, custom houses or other structures exclusively owned by the general government and used for its purposes; provided, that an accurate description and plat of such lands so acquired, verified by the oath of some officer of the general government having knowledge of the facts, shall be filed with the governor of this state; and further provided, that this cession is upon the express condition that the State of Nevada shall so far retain concurrent jurisdiction with the United States in and over all lands acquired or hereafter acquired as aforesaid; that all civil or criminal process issued by any court of competent jurisdiction, or officers having authority of law to issue such process, and all orders made by such court, or any judicial officer duly empowered to make such orders, and necessary to be served upon any person, may be executed upon said lands and in the buildings that may be erected thereon, in the same way and manner as if jurisdiction had not been ceded as aforesaid.

1950. Exemption from taxation.

SEC. 2. The lands aforesaid, when so acquired, shall forever be exempt from all taxes and assessments so long as the same shall remain the property of the United States.

An Act ceding the jurisdiction of this state over certain lands to be acquired by the United States.

Approved February 24, 1885, 40

1951. Ceding jurisdiction—Exception.

SECTION 1. The jurisdiction of this state is hereby ceded to the United States of America over all pieces or parcels of land within the limits of this state that may be selected or acquired by the United States for the purpose of erecting thereon a public building or public buildings for the accommodation of the United States courts, the postoffice and other government offices; and the United States shall have exclusive jurisdiction over the same during the time said United States shall be or remain the owner thereof, for all purposes except the administration of the criminal laws of this state, and the service of any civil process therein or thereon.

Under the provisions of art. 1, sec. 8, U. S. Const. (ante, 127), land purchased for the purposes therein enumerated ipso facto falls within the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States.

Postoffices and federal court houses are "needful buildings" under the provisions of said section.

Where a state cedes to the United States exclusive jurisdiction over land purchased as a site for a public building, "for all purposes except the administration of the criminal laws of this state," the state has no jurisdiction for the punishment of crimes committed on the purchased land but only the right to execute criminal process thereon for the violation of its laws committed elsewhere within the state. State ex rel. Jones v Mack, 23 Nev. 362, 366 (62 A. S. 811, 47 P 763).

1952. Lands exempt from taxation.

SEC. 2. The lands aforesaid, when so acquired, shall forever be exempt from all taxes and assessments so long as the same shall remain the property of the United States.

1956. Townsites platted by occupants—Disposition of lots.

SEC. 2382. In any case in which parties have already founded, or may hereafter desire to found, a city or town on the public lands, it may be lawful for them to cause to be filed with the recorder for the county in which the same is situated, a plat thereof, for not exceeding six hundred and forty acres, describing its exterior boundaries according to the lines of the public surveys, where such surveys have been executed; also giving the name of such city or town, and exhibiting the streets, squares, blocks, lots, and alleys, the size of the same, with measurements and area of each municipal subdivision, the lots in which shall each not exceed four thousand two hundred square feet, with a statement of the extent and general character of the improvements; such map and statement to be verified under oath by the party acting for and in behalf of the persons proposing to establish such city or town; and within one month after such filing there shall be transmitted to the general land office a verified transcript of such map and statement, accompanied by the testimony of two witnesses that such city or town has been established in good faith, and when the premises are within the limits of an organized land district, a similar map and statement shall be filed with the register and receiver, and at any time after the filing of such map, statement, and testimony in the general land office it may be lawful for the president to cause the lots embraced within the limits of such city or town to be offered at public sale to the highest bidder, subject to a minimum of ten dollars for each lot; and such lots as may not be disposed of at public sale shall thereafter be liable to private entry at such minimum, or at such reasonable increase or diminution thereafter as the secretary of the interior may order from time to time, after at least three months' notice, in view of the increase or decrease in the value of the municipal property. But any actual settler upon any one lot, as above provided, and upon any additional lot in which he may have substantial improvements shall be entitled to prove up and purchase the same as a preemption, at such minimum, at any time before the day fixed for the public sale.

Purpose of act, Jones v. Petaluma, 36 Cal. 230; Aleman v. Petaluma, 38 Cal. 553.

Decisions judicial in character and not subject to collateral attack. King v. McAndrews, 111 Fed. 860.

Possessory rights cannot be destroyed without compensation. V. & T. R. R. v. Lynch, 13 Nev. 92.

1957. Adjustment of extension limits after public survey.

SEC. 2383. When such cities or towns are established upon unsurveyed lands, it may be lawful, after the extension thereto of the public surveys, to adjust the extension limits of the premises according to those lines, where it can be done without interference with rights which may be vested by sale; and patents for all lots so disposed of at public or private sale shall issue as in ordinary cases.

1958. Secretary of interior may have survey and plat of town or city made, when.

SEC. 2384. If within twelve months from the establishment of a city or town on the public domain, the parties interested refuse or fail to file in the general land office a transcript map, with the statement and testimony called for by the provisions of section 2382, it may be lawful for the secretary of the interior to cause a survey and plat to be made of such city or town, and thereafter the lots in the same shall be disposed of as required by such provisions, with this exception, that they shall each be at an increase of fifty per centum on the minimum of ten dollars per lot.

Act approved July 1, 1864 (13 Stat. 343, secs. 2, 3, and 4).

King v. McAndrews, 111 Fed. 860.

1959. Adjustment of size of lots; excessive area.

SEC. 2385. In the case of any city or town, in which the lots may be variant as to size from the limitation fixed in section 2382, and in which the lots and buildings, as municipal improvements, cover an area greater than six hundred and forty acres, such variance as to size of lots or excess in area shall prove no bar to such city or town claim under the provisions of that section; but the minimum price of each lot in such city or town, which may contain a greater number of square feet than the maximum named in that section, shall be increased to such reasonable amount as the secretary of the interior may by rule establish.

1960. Title of lots subject to recognized veins.

SEC. 2386. Where mineral veins are possessed, which possession is recognized by local authority, and to the extent so possessed and recognized, the title to town lots to be acquired shall be subject to such recognized possession and the necessary use thereof; but nothing contained in this section shall be so construed as to recognize any color of title in possessors for mining purposes as against the United States.

Act approved March 3, 1865 (13 Stat. 530, sec. 2). (See sec. 2392, Rev. Stats. and sec. 16, act of March 3, 1891, 26 Stat. 1101, infra.)

1962. Entry to be noticed; statement to be filed.

SEC. 2388. The entry of the land provided for in the preceding section shall be made, or a declaratory statement of the purpose of the inhabitants to enter it as a townsite shall be filed with the register of the proper land office, prior to the commencement of the public sale of the body of land in which it is included, and the entry or declaratory statement shall include only such land as is actually occupied by the town, and the title to which is in the United States; but in any territory in which a land office may not have been established, such declaratory statements may be filed with the surveyor-general of the surveying district in which the lands are situated, who shall transmit the same to the general land office.

1963. Limits of townsite; regulation as to.

SEC. 2389. If upon surveyed lands, the entry shall in its exterior limit be made in conformity to the legal subdivisions of the public lands authorized by law; and where the inhabitants are in number one hundred, and less than two hundred, shall embrace not exceeding three hundred and twenty acres; and in cases where the inhabitants of such town are more than two hundred, and less than one thousand, shall embrace not exceeding six hundred and forty acres; and where the number of inhabitants is one thousand and over one thousand, shall embrace not exceeding twelve hundred and eighty acres; but for each additional one thousand inhabitants, not exceeding five thousand in all, a further grant of three hundred and twenty acres shall be allowed.

1964. Certain acts of trustees void.

SEC. 2391. Any act of the trustees not made in conformity to the regulations alluded to in section 2387 shall be void.

Act approved March 2, 1867 (14 Stat. 541). (See similar act approved May 23, 1844, 5 Stat. 657, repealed by act approved July 1, 1864, 13 Stat. 344, sec. 5).

Acts approved June 23, 1874 (18 Stat. 254, sec. 3), and March 3, 1877 (19 Stat. 392).

1965. Title to mines cannot be acquired.

SEC. 2392. No title shall be acquired, under the foregoing provisions of this chapter, to any mine of gold, silver, cinnabar, or copper; or to any valid mining claim or possession held under existing laws.

Act approved March 2, 1867 (14 Stat. 542), and act approved June 8, 1868 (15 Stat. 67). (See sec. 2386, Rev. Stats., supra, and sec. 16, act of March 3, 1891, 26 Stat. 1101, infra.)

See citations under sec. 1961.

1966. Lands for federal purposes exempted.

SEC. 2393. The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to military or other reservations heretofore made by the United States, nor to reservations for lighthouses, custom houses, mints, or such other public purposes as the interests of the United States may require, whether held under reservations through the land office by title derived from the crown of Spain, or otherwise.

Act approved March 2, 1867 (14 Stat. 542).

1967. Costs of surveying; expenses to be paid by claimants.

SEC. 2394. The inhabitants of any town located on the public lands may avail themselves, if the town authorities choose to do so, of the provisions of sections 2387, 2388, and 2389; and, in addition to the minimum price of the lands embracing any townsite so entered, there shall be paid by the parties availing themselves of such provisions all costs of surveying and platting any such townsite, and expenses incident thereto incurred by the United States, before any patent issues therefor; but nothing contained in the sections herein cited shall prevent the issuance of patents to persons who have made or may hereafter make entries, and elect to proceed under other laws relative to townsites in this chapter set forth.

Act approved June 8, 1868 (15 Stat. 67).

1968. Area for townsite limited.

That the existence or incorporation of any town upon the public lands of the United States shall not be held to exclude from preemption or homestead entry a greater quantity than twenty-five hundred and sixty acres of land, or the maximum area which may be entered as a townsite under existing laws, unless the entire tract claimed or incorporated as such townsite shall, including and in excess of the area above specified, be actually settled upon, inhabited, improved, and used for business and municipal purposes.

1969. Restriction of townsite by other entries.

SEC. 2. That where entries have been heretofore allowed upon lands afterwards ascertained to have been embraced in the corporate limits of any town, but which entries are or shall be shown, to the satisfaction of the commissioner of the general land office, to include only vacant unoccupied lands of the United States, not settled upon or used for municipal purposes, nor devoted to any public use of such town, said entries, if regular in all respects, are hereby confirmed and may be carried into patent; provided, that this confirmation shall not operate to restrict the entry of any townsite to a smaller area than the maximum quantity of land which, by reason of present population, it may be entitled to enter under said section 2329 of the Revised Statutes.

1970. Excessive area; election of part of lands.

SEC. 3. That whenever the corporate limits of any town upon the public domain are shown or alleged to include lands in excess of the maximum area specified in section 1 of this act, the commissioner of the general land office may require the authorities of such town, and it shall be lawful for them, to elect what portion of said lands, in compact form and embracing the actual site of the municipal occupation and improvement, shall be withheld from preemption and homestead entry; and thereafter the residue of such lands shall be open to disposal under the homestead and preemption laws. And upon default of said town authorities to make such selection within sixty days after notification by the commissioner, he may direct testimony respecting the actual location and extent of said improvements, to be taken by the register and receiver of the district in which such town may be situated; and, upon receipt of the same, he may determine and set off the proper site according to section 1 of this act, and declare the remaining lands open to settlement and entry under the homestead and preemption laws; and it shall be the duty of the secretary of each of the territories of the United States to furnish the surveyor-general of the territory for the use of the United States a copy duly certified of every act of the legislature of the territory incorporating any city or town, the same to be forwarded by such secretary to the surveyor-general within one month from date of its approval.

1971. Town may make additional entry.

SEC. 4. It shall be lawful for any town which has made, or may hereafter make entry of less than the maximum quantity of land named in section 2389 of the Revised Statutes to make such additional entry, or entries, of contiguous tracts, which may be occupied for town purposes as when added to the entry or entries theretofore made will not exceed twenty-five hundred and sixty acres; provided, that such additional entry shall not together with all prior entries be in excess of the area to which the town may be entitled at date of the additional entry by virtue of its population as prescribed in said section 2389.

Act approved March 3, 1877 (19 Stat. 392).

1972. Lands for towns may be reserved on reclamation projects—Reservations for public purposes.

That the secretary of the interior may withdraw from public entry any lands needed for townsite purposes in connection with irrigation projects under the reclamation act of June seventeenth, nineteen hundred and two, not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres in each case, and survey and subdivide the same into town lots, with appropriate reservations for public purposes.

1973. Sale of lots: expenses: proceeds.

SEC. 2. That the lots so surveyed shall be appraised under the direction of the secretary of the interior and sold under his direction at not less than their appraised value at public auction to the highest bidders, from time to time, for cash, and the lots offered for sale and not disposed of may afterwards be sold at not less than the appraised value under such regulations as the secretary of the interior may prescribe. Reclamation funds may be used to defray the necessary expenses of appraisal and sale, and the proceeds of such sales shall be covered into the reclamation fund.

1974. Public reservations: improvement of.

SEC. 3. That the public reservations in such townsites shall be improved and maintained by the town authorities at the expense of the town; and upon the organization thereof as municipal corporations the said reservations shall be conveyed to such corporations by the secretary of the interior, subject to the condition that they shall be used forever for public purposes.

1975. Water rights for established towns: payment for.

SEC. 4. That the secretary of the interior shall, in accordance with the provisions of the reclamation act, provide for water rights in amount he may deem necessary for the towns established as herein provided; and may enter into contract with the proper authorities of such towns, and other towns or cities on or in the immediate vicinity of irrigation projects, which shall have a water right from the same source as that of said project for the delivery of such water supply to some convenient point, and for the payment into the reclamation fund of charges for the same to be paid by such towns or cities, which charges shall not be less nor upon terms more favorable than those fixed by the secretary of the interior for the irrigation project from which the water is taken.

1976. Surplus power may be leased by secretary of interior.

SEC. 5. That whenever a development of power is necessary for the irrigation of lands under any project undertaken under the said reclamation act, or an opportunity is afforded for the development of power under any such project, the secretary of the interior is authorized to lease for a period not exceeding ten years, giving preference to municipal purposes, any surplus power or power privilege, and the moneys derived from such leases shall be covered into the reclamation fund and be placed to the credit of the project from which such power is derived; provided, that no lease shall be made of such surplus power or power privilege as will impair the efficiency of the irrigation project.

Act approved April 16, 1906 (34 Stat. 116).

1977. Secretary of interior may withdraw and dispose of certain townsites.

SEC. 4. Whenever, in the opinion of the secretary of the interior, it shall be advisable for the public interest, he may withdraw and dispose of townsites in excess of one hundred and sixty acres under the provisions of the aforesaid act, approved April sixteenth, nineteen hundred and six, and reclamation funds shall be available for the payment of all expenses incurred in executing the provisions of this act, and the aforesaid act of April sixteenth, nineteen hundred and six, and the proceeds of all sales of townsites shall be covered into the reclamation fund.

Act approved June 27, 1906 (34 Stat. 520).

1978. Townsites on mineral lands—Exemption of veins—Surface rights.

SEC. 16. That townsite entries may be made by incorporated towns and cities on the mineral lands of the United States, but no title shall be acquired by such towns or cities to any vein of gold, silver, cinnabar, copper, or lead, or to any valid mining claim or possession held under existing law. When mineral veins are possessed within the limits of an incorporated town or city, and such possession is recognized by local authority or by the laws of the United States, the title to town lots shall be subject to such recognized possession and the necessary use thereof and when entry has been made or patent issued for such townsites to such incorporated town or city, the possessor of such mineral vein may enter and receive patent for such mineral vein, and the surface ground appertaining thereto; provided, that no entry shall be made by such mineral-vein claimant for surface ground where the owner or occupier of the surface ground shall have had possession of the same before the inception of the title of the mineral-vein applicant.

Where mineral is known to exist at time of patent, Moran v. Horsky, 21 Mont. 345,

NOTE—The following excerpt from a bulletin issued by the United States general land office, 1909, under the title "United States Laws and Regulations Relating to Townsites, etc.," is given here as showing the construction placed on the statutes relating to mineral townsites by the authorities of the general land office:

TOWNSITES ON MINERAL LANDS.

In view of the numerous inquiries touching the rights of claimants for mineral lands situated within townsites, as opposed to rights which may be acquired to such lands under the townsite laws, it is deemed appropriate to herein recite the principal rules applicable to the subject, so far as they seem clear from the law itself or are indicated by the trend of adjudicated cases.

The general townsite laws, comprised in secs. 2380 to 2394, U. S. Rev. Stats., authorize the entry of townsites, or the sale of lots therein, upon public lands which may include unpatented mineral claims, but the rights of mineral claimants upon any land entered or sold under said townsite laws are expressly protected by secs. 2386 and 2392. These two sections recognize the superior rights, as against any townsite claimant—whether corporate, community, or individual—of all claimants for mineral veins possessed agreeably to local custom, or for any valid mining claim or possession held under existing law. The precedence and superiority so accorded to mineral claims, however, depend in final analysis upon the question of fact whether, at date of townsite entry or lot sale, the lands claimed under the mining laws were "known to contain minerals of such extent and value as to justify expenditures for the purpose of extracting them" (31 L. D. 87). Where an affirmative showing in such behalf is made in due course by the mineral claimant, his right to a patent for the land (subject to the distinction hereinafter noted as to incorporated towns) will not be prejudiced by any previous townsite entry, deed, or patent covering the same land (26 L. D. 144; 29 L. D. 426; 32 L. D. 211; 34 L. D. 276 and 596).

Under said general townsite laws, as construed by the department and the courts, an entry including unpatented mineral lands may be made for an incorporated town as well as for an unincorporated town, the law requiring that in the former case the entry shall be made by the corporate authorities, and in the latter by the county judge (34 L. D. 24). While such general right of entry by or for incorporated towns and cities is therefore independent of anything contained in sec. 16 of the act of March 3, 1891 (26 Stats. 1095), it will be seen that that section in terms announces the right to enter mineral lands. The protection afforded to mineral claims by the body of sec. 16 is similar to that given generally in said secs. 2386 and 2392, Rev. Stats., but the proviso to sec. 16 is as follows:

Provided, That no entry shall be made by such mineral-vein claimant for surface ground where the owner or occupier of the surface ground shall have had possession of the same before the inception of the title of the mineral-vein applicant.

This department has never viewed said proviso as warranting, under any circumstances, the allowance of entry for a mineral vein independently of "the surface ground appertaining thereto," nor is such an entry provided for in the general mining laws. But said proviso creates one distinction between unincorporated and incorporated towns as regards the relative rights of townsite occupants and mineral claimants, which is, that whereas the townsite patent will, in either case, carry absolute title to any mineral not known to exist at the date of townsite entry, the adverse rights of mineral and townlot claimants within incorporated towns are hinged upon priority of initiation. That is to say, that after entry is made for such town, no entry by a mineral-vein applicant will be allowed for any land owned and occupied under the townsite law by a party whose possession antedated the inception of the mineral applicant's claim, even though such land was known, at date of the townsite entry, to contain valuable minerals.

Subject to the distinction above noted, the foregoing principles apply to all mineral claims within townsites entered or disposed of under any of the laws above mentioned, and also to mineral claims within townsites disposable under special acts containing no reference to the rights of mining claimants.

The law does not require that townsite entries shall exclude any mineral claim or possession except such as may have been patented (29 L. D. 21). Mineral claims which have not been patented may be excluded from a townsite entry at the option of the townsite applicant, who must, in that event, furnish satisfactory proof that the exclusion covers a "valid mining claim or possession held under existing law" (33 L. D. 542). The exclusion of a millsite claim from a townsite entry is necessary only in cases where the millsite claimant shall have been in occupation of the ground, under regular location, from a time antedating its occupation for townsite purposes. The issue of priority in such cases may be raised by the townsite applicant, the millsite claimant, or the government.

And when such allotments shall have been made, and the consent of the Indians obtained as aforesaid, the president shall, by proclamation, open the land so relinquished to settlement, to be disposed of under existing laws.

STATE LAWS

An Act prescribing rules and regulations for the execution of the trust arising under the act of Congress entitled "An act for the relief of the inhabitants of cities and towns upon the public lands," approved March second, eighteen hundred and sixty-seven.

Approved February 20, 1869, 68

1980. Corporate authorities required to convey title.
1981. Title conveyed to whom—Deed to be executed so as to admit of record.

1982. Notice to be given within ninety days after the receipt of patent—How given.
1983. Claimant to sign statement in writing—When debarred—How made in certain cases.
1984. When proceedings to be certified to district court—Clerk to serve notice—Conveyance to be made upon final determination of contest.
1985. Appeal.
1986. Deed to be made out on payment of purchase money and expenses—Limitation of fees and costs—Deeds to minors or insane persons, how made.
1987. If lots are not conveyed within one year, they are to be sold—Exceptions.
1988. Trustees may discharge trust after going out of office.

1980. Corporate authorities required to convey title.

SECTION 1. When the corporate authorities of any city or town, or the judge of the district court for any county or district in this state, in which any unincorporated town may be situate, shall have entered at the proper land office the land, or any part of the land, settled and occupied as the site of such city or town, pursuant to and by virtue of the act of the Congress of the United States entitled "An act for the relief of the inhabitants of cities and towns upon the public lands," approved March second, eighteen hundred and sixty-seven, it shall be the duty of such corporate authorities or judge to dispose of and convey the title to such lands, or to the several blocks, lots, parcels, or shares thereof, to the persons hereinafter specified.

Cited, Wright v. Cradlebaugh, 3 Nev. 345; Smith v. Stewart, 13 Nev. 66.

The act of Congress was intended for the benefit and protection of the actual citizens of the town against those making claim to the land for purely speculative purposes.

Said act is the paramount law, and the legislature cannot limit or extend the rights of claimants, or dispose of the trust in any other manner than is prescribed by said act.

There is nothing in said act which limits the proof upon the part of claimants to their interests in the land at the time of entry thereof in the land office. If the land at that time is vacant, it is subject to location and occupancy by any person at any time prior to the issuance of a patent.

It was not the intention of Congress, nor of the legislature that the unoccupied lands within the townsite at the time of the entry should become the property of the citizens of the town. Lechler v. Chapin, 12 Nev. 67, 74.

To entitle an applicant to a deed, he must be an actual occupant, or entitled to the occupancy of the land. Idem.

If a party abandons the land, or fails to keep his title good and leaves it vacant and unoccupied, he cannot strengthen his claim to the land by any act committed by him after the actual occupancy of the premises by another person. Idem.

1981. Title conveyed to whom—Deed to be executed so as to admit of record.

SEC. 2. Any such corporate authorities or judge holding the title to any such land in trust, as declared in said act of Congress, shall, by a good and sufficient deed of conveyance, grant and convey the title to each and every block, lot, share, or parcel of the same, to the person or persons who shall have, possess, or be entitled to the right of possession or occupancy thereof, according to his, her or their several and respective right or interest in the same, as they existed in law or equity at the time of the entry of such lands, or to his, her or their heirs or assigns; and when any parcel or share of such lands shall be occupied or possessed by one or more persons claiming the same by grant, lease, or sale from one or more other persons, the respective right and interest of such persons, in relation to each other, in the same, shall not be changed or impaired by any such conveyance. Every deed of conveyance made by such corporate authorities or judge, pursuant to the provisions of this act, shall be so executed and acknowledged as to admit the same to be recorded.

Cited, In re Smith, 4 Nev. 257.

The facts authorizing the grantees to receive a deed from the trustee need not be recited in the deed. A bargain and sale deed in the usual form reciting a consideration of one dollar is sufficient to convey the title to the land and is prima facie evidence that it was delivered to the party intended to receive it. Terry v. Berry, 13 Nev. 514, 522.

1982. Notice to be given within ninety days after the receipt of patent—How given.

SEC. 3. Within ninety days after the receipt by them or him of a patent for such lands, the corporate authorities or judge entering the same shall give public notice thereof by publishing such notice in a newspaper printed and published in the county in which such city or town shall be situated, or in case there shall not be any newspaper published in said county, then in some newspaper printed and published at the seat of government of this state. Such notice shall be so published once in each week for at least six successive weeks, or thirty days daily; and said notice shall also be posted in six of the most public places in said city or town for thirty days, and shall contain a correct description of the lands so entered, as the same is stated in the patent. As amended, Stats. 1871, 163.

It is not open to a lot claimant who files application for a lot in pursuance of a notice published on the receipt of receiver's duplicate receipt from the U. S. land office before the issuance of the patent to question the sufficiency and regularity of the notice. State ex rel. Jennett v. Stevens, 33 Nev. — (116 P. 601).

1983. Claimant to sign statement in writing—When debarred—How made in certain cases.

SEC. 4. Each and every person, company of persons, associations, or corporations, claiming to be an occupant or occupants, or to have, possess, or be entitled to the right of occupancy or possession of such lands, or any block, lot, share, or parcel thereof, shall, within six months after the first publication of such notice, in person, or by his, her, their, or its duly authorized agent or attorney, sign a statement in writing, containing a correct description of the particular parcel or parts in which he, she, they, or it claim to be entitled to receive, and deliver the same to or into the office of such corporate authorities or judge; and all persons failing to sign and deliver such statement within the time specified in this section, shall be forever debarred the right of claiming or recovering such lands, or any interest or entail therein, or in any part, parcel, or share thereof, in any court of law or equity; provided, that the bar to the right of claiming or recovering such lands, or any interest or entail therein, as in this section provided, shall not apply to minors or insane persons; and, provided further, that all applications for conveyances under this act for the benefit of minors and insane persons shall be made by the guardian or trustee of such minor or insane person, and all applications for such conveyances for the benefit of married women may be made by their husbands, if in this state; but in case of the absence of the husband from this state, or his refusal to make such application, then such married woman may apply in her own name. As amended, Stats. 1871, 163.

Under former act (Stats. 1866, 54) it was held, though an occupant of a town lot, by neglecting to present his claim may be barred of the "right of claiming or recovering such lands or any interest or estate therein," there is nothing to prevent him from showing, in defense to ejectment by a person who procures a deed, that such plaintiff has no title and thus protecting his possession. Treadway v. Wilder, 8 Nev. 92, 98, 99.

1984. When proceedings to be certified to district court—Clerk to serve notice—Conveyance to be made upon final determination of contest.

SEC. 5. Should two or more persons claim adversely the title to any lot or lots, or parcels of land within the boundaries of such city or town, the corporate authorities or judge having entered the same, shall immediately after the time for filing claims has expired, certify and transmit all proceedings and papers had or being before them or him in the premises, to the district court of the county in which said lot or lots, or parcels of land are situated. Upon the receipt of the papers, properly certified, and upon payment of court fee and costs, the clerk of such district court shall enter the case upon the register of actions, the name of the claimant whose claim was first filed with and by such corporate authorities or judge being entered upon such register as plaintiff, and the other claimant or claimants as defendant, and thereafter the cause shall proceed in all respects as in cases originally brought in said court. The clerk shall, upon the receipt by him of such papers and proceedings, serve upon each claimant, his agent, or attorney, a written notice that the claim of such claimant is contested, which notice shall specify the particular lot, block, or parcel so contested, and the name of the adverse claimant. Upon the final determination of such contest, the clerk of the district court, or supreme court as the case may be, shall forthwith certify the decision to the corporate authorities or judge; and upon the receipt of such decision, duly certified, the corporate authorities or judge shall, as in other cases, make out, execute, and deliver to the party or parties in whose favor the decision is made, a conveyance in fee simple for the lot or lots, or parcels of land awarded in such decision.

1985. Appeal.

SEC. 6. Any party in such action deeming himself or herself aggrieved by the determination or judgment of the district court in such cases, may appeal therefrom to the supreme court, as in other cases.

1986. Deed to be made out on payment of purchase money and expenses— Limitation of fees and costs—Deeds to minors or insane persons, how made.

SEC. 7. After the issuance of the patent for such lands, it shall be the duty of the corporate authorities or judge to whom such patent shall issue, to make out, execute, and deliver to each person, company, association, or corporation, who may be legally entitled to the same, a deed in fee simple for such part or parts, lot or lots, of land on payment of his, her, their, or its proper and due proportion of the purchase money for such land, together with his, her, their, or its proportion of such sums as may be necessary to pay for streets, alleys, squares, and public grounds, not to exceed fifty cents for each lot, and also such further sums as shall be a reasonable compensation for executing and acknowledging such deed, not exceeding the sum of three dollars for the first, and one dollar for each additional lot claimed by the same owner, for counsel fee, and for moneys expended in the acquisition of the title and the administration of the trust, including reasonable charges for time and services while employed in such trust, not exceeding the sum of one dollar for each lot; provided, that no estimate shall be made for counsel fee, unless the same shall have been actually and necessarily expended; and the foregoing charges shall be full payment for all expenses attending the execution, except for revenue stamps; provided, that deeds made under the provisions of this act for the benefit of minors and insane persons, shall be to the guardian or trustee of such minor or insane person, as the case may be, in trust for such minor or insane person. As amended, Stats. 1871, 164.

A deed given by a trustee under above act of Congress is not conclusive in its effect; and if given to one not an occupant or having the right of occupancy as contemplated, that fact may be shown and the deed in such case will fall, as absolutely void and of no effect. Treadway v. Wilder, 8 Nev. 92, 98, 99.

If the grantee was not in occupancy or entitled to occupancy of the land, the trustee could have no authority to execute a deed, and it may be collaterally attacked as void and of no effect. Idem.

A district judge who acts as trustee of a townsite, acts by virtue of his office as judge, and he is not an inferior officer to his associate judge of the district, and such associate judge cannot by mandamus control the action of the trustee. Jennett v. Stevens, 33 Nev. — (111 P. 1025, 1026).

The compensation allowed under this section to trustee, although he became such trustee by virtue of his office as district judge, is not a fee or perquisite of the office of district judge within the meaning of Const., art. 6, sec. 10 (ante, 325), nor is it an office within the provision of the constitution prohibiting a judge from accepting any office other than a judicial office during the term for which he is elected (ante, sec. 326).

Since the duties of townsite trustee do not naturally belong to the office of district judge and it is not incumbent upon a district judge to accept such trust, he may accept compensation for his services as trustee. State ex rel. Jennett v. Stevens, 33 Nev. — (116 P. 601).

The words "together with" show that the limitation of 50 cents was the maximum that could be apportioned to buy all the land within the townsite, inclusive of that within the streets, alleys, squares and public grounds, and does not apply merely to the amount for the streets, alleys, squares and public grounds.

The word "including" shows that the charges for time and services of the trustee were to be embraced within the maximum charge, which was also to be inclusive of counsel fees and for moves expended in the acquisition of the title and the administration of the trust. State ex rel. Jennett v. Stevens, 33 Nev. — (116 P. 601). —

Though a writ of mandate would lie to compel a townsite trustee to make a deed to a claimant, as required by this section, on payment of the maximum amount which the trustee could impose where the tender is of a less amount, the writ will not lie. State ex rel. Jennett v. Stevens, 33 Nev. — (116 P. 601).

Under this section, prohibition is a proper remedy to prevent the sale of the lots where the failure to legally convey to the proper owners is due to the imposition of excessive charges by the townsite trustee as a condition precedent thereto. State ex rel. Schloss v. Stevens, 33 Nev. — (116 P. 605).

Where a townsite trustee on the refusal of a lot claimant to pay excessive charges imposed, proceeds to sell the lot, there is no adequate remedy but by writ of prohibition; individual suits to settle the rights of the claimant not being an adequate remedy. Idem.

1987. If lots are not conveyed within one year, they are to be sold— Exceptions.

SEC. 8. If all the lots, blocks, shares, or parcels of such land are not legally conveyed to the proper owners before the expiration of one year after the same shall have been passed upon by the corporate authorities or judge, or in case of contest, within thirty days after such contest shall have been finally determined, the same shall be sold to the highest bidder, and the proceeds applied to the erection of public buildings for the benefit of such city or town, or to the construction of water-works for the purpose of conveying water into such city or town, after paying their proportionate share of the purchase money and other expenses, including expenses incurred by publication and sale. Notice of the sale authorized by this section shall be published as is provided for the notice required by section 3 of this act; provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to the sale of real estate belonging to minors or insane persons, except upon an order of court authorizing such sale, which order may be made by the court upon an ex parte application, under oath, of the trustee named in this act. As amended, Stats. 1877, 186.

1988. Trustees may discharge trust after going out of office.

SEC. 9. Any corporate authorities or judge becoming a trustee under said act of Congress, who shall, prior to the final execution of their trust, as provided in this act, go out of office, shall be and they are hereby authorized and empowered to discharge and execute all trusts which they may have assumed, in all respects in the same manner and subject to the same duties and requirements as if they had continued in office.

It seems that a deed made by a trustee purporting to act under the law of Congress of May 23, 1844, providing for the disposition of townsites to the occupants is not conclusive in its effect; and if given to one not an occupant or having the right of occupancy as contemplated, that fact may be shown and the deed in such case will fall, as absolutely void and of no effect. Treadway v. Wilder, 8 Nev. 91; 9 Nev. 67.

See Lechler v. Chapin, 12 Nev. 65.

Facts authorizing grantee to receive deed need not be recited. Terry v. Berry, 13 Nev. 514.

An Act to amend an act entitled an act prescribing rules and regulations for the execution of trust, arising under the act of Congress entitled "An act for the relief of the inhabitants of cities and towns on public lands," approved March second, eighteen hundred and sixty-seven; approved February tenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-nine.

Approved March 8, 1871, 163

[Secs. 1, 2, and 3 are inserted in the preceding act in lieu of the sections which they amend.]

1989. Claimants not to be affected—Publication.

SEC. 4. Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to in any manner affect any of the provisions contained in section 4 of the act of which this act is amendatory, in those cases where notice to claimants prior to the passage of this act has been published in a newspaper for ten or more successive weeks, and at least six months shall have elapsed since the first publication of said notice; but the trust shall in all particulars be carried out and executed in accordance with the provisions of said section 4.

1990. Survey of townsites—How paid for.

SEC. 5. In all cases where it shall become necessary in the opinion of the citizens of the town to make a survey of any townsite for the purpose of identifying or locating the lots, blocks, squares, streets, or alleys contained within the limits of said townsite, a fee of ----- cents for each lot shall be paid to the trustees to defray the expenses of said survey, which said fee shall be paid by the claimants pro rata.

Under this section, a claimant, who not only fails to show that the charges made by the trustee for a survey is illegal, but who relies on the survey made by him, will not be heard to question the validity as affecting the right of a trustee to compensation therefor.

Under this section the maximum fee for each lot is one dollar. State ex rel. Jennett v. Stevens, 33 Nev. — (116 P. 601).

1991. Failure or disability of trustee, how remedied.

SEC. 6. In case of death, or ninety days' absence from this state, or other disability of the trustees to execute the trust created by said act of Congress, it shall be lawful for the corporate authorities or judge of the district in which any such city or town is situated, who may succeed said trustee in office, to assume said trust, and they or he shall be authorized and they are hereby empowered to execute the same in all respects in the same manner, subject to all the duties and requirements as provided in this act.

An Act supplementary to an act entitled an act prescribing rules and regulations for the execution of the trust arising under the act of Congress entitled "An act for the relief of the inhabitants of cities and towns upon the public lands," approved March second, eighteen hundred and sixty-seven; approved February twentieth, eighteen hundred and sixty-nine.

Approved February 8, 1875, 52

1992. Trustees of townsite to record patent—Proof of payment of taxes not required.

SECTION 1. Whenever the corporate authorities or judge shall have received a certificate of entry, patent, or other evidence of title to the real estate embraced within the limits of any town or city, it shall be the duty of said corporate authorities or judge to cause the same to be recorded in the land records of the proper county, and to entitle said certificate of entry, patent, or other evidence of title, to be recorded by the county recorder, it shall not be necessary to present or make, nor shall the county recorder require any oath or affirmation that all or any part of the taxes for county and state purposes, assessed, due, or payable upon said real estate, have been paid.

1993. Sale of unclaimed lots or lands—Disposition of proceeds.

SEC. 2. All lots, blocks, shares, or parcels of land within the boundaries of such town or city, which shall not have been claimed as provided in section 4 of said act, approved February twentieth, eighteen hundred and sixty-nine, shall, after the limitation provided in said section 4 has expired, be sold, and the proceeds of such sale disposed of as provided in section 8 of said act.

1994. Officers' fees.

SECTION 1. The several officers and persons named in this act may demand and receive for their services rendered in discharging the duties imposed upon them by law, the fees and compensation hereinafter specified.

Former act in relation to fees, Stats. 1861, 247, cited, State ex rel. Ford v. Hoover, 5 Nev. 144.

Officers can only demand such fees as the law has fixed and authorized for the performance of their official duties. Washoe Co. v. Humboldt Co., 14 Nev. 123.

This act contains but one general subject and matter properly connected therewith, and is not in conflict with Const., art 4, sec. 17 (sec. 275, ante). Russell v. Esmeralda Co. 32 Nev. 304 (107 P. 890, 891).

Nor does it conflict with Const., art 4, secs. 20, 21 (secs. 278, 279, ante). Idem.

1995. County clerks.

SEC. 3. The county clerks of the several counties in this state [polling 800 votes or less] shall be entitled to fees as follows: For entering each suit on the clerk's register of actions, and making the necessary entry therein during the trial, one dollar; for filing each paper, twenty-five cents; for issuing summons, one dollar; for entering every appearance seventy-five cents; for entering return of every writ or process, seventy-five cents; for issuing subpoena, for each witness, fifty cents; for entering each cause on the calendar, and making a copy thereof for each term of the district court, one dollar; for entering every motion, exception, rule, order, or default, fifty cents; for entering every discontinuance, dismissal, or nonsuit, fifty cents; for calling or swearing every jury, one dollar; for administering every oath or affirmation, twenty-five cents; for receiving and entering each verdict of a jury, seventy-five cents; for entering every final judgment, for the first folio, one dollar, and for each subsequent folio, thirty cents; for filing judgment roll, fifty cents; for docketing judgment against each judgment debtor, fifty cents; for issuing execution, one dollar; for entering satisfaction of judgment, for each debtor, fifty cents; for entering every notice of appeal, fifty cents; for copying any proceeding, record, or paper, for each folio, thirty cents; for receiving and entering every remittitur from the supreme court, and accompanying papers, fifty cents; for every certificate, one dollar; for issuing every commission to take testimony, one dollar; for issuing every process under seal, other than subpoena, one dollar; for every certificate under seal, one dollar; for issuing letters testamentary, or of administration, one dollar; for writing and posting notices, when required, for each copy, fifty cents; for recording all instruments, for each folio, thirty cents; for searching the files of each year in his office (but not to charge suitors or attorneys), fifty cents; for taking each bond and justification thereof required by law, one dollar; for taking justification to bond, for each name, fifty cents; for taking acknowledgments of deeds or other instruments, including certificate and seal, for the first name, one dollar, and for each subsequent name, twenty-five cents; for issuing every decree or order of sale of mortgaged property, or writ of injunction, for the first folio, one dollar, and for each subsequent folio, thirty cents; for entering each suit in the plaintiff's and defendant's index, one dollar; for registering each paper when required by law, fifty cents; for making out naturalization papers, including all necessary oaths, affirmations, and certificates, for the first papers, five dollars; for making out naturalization papers, including all necessary oaths, affirmations, and certificates, for the final papers, ten dollars; for each day's attendance on the board of county commissioners, five dollars; provided, the same shall in no case exceed one hundred dollars per annum in the aggregate.

This section does not apply to Eureka County (see Stats. 1891, 38), nor to Washoe County, (Stats. 1909, 196).

See sec. 749, prohibiting fees in certain cases.

See sec. 1223, providing fee for clerk in corporate elections.

Allowed to retain fees for services in relation to location of public lands, sec. 1614.

A clerk, in preparing a transcript on appeal, is only entitled to receive pay for copying such papers, documents and statements as constitute the record in a criminal case as provided by law. State v. Rover, 13 Nev. 17.

The clerk is not entitled to any fees from the county, for issuing time checks or certificates to each individual juror.

The clerk is only entitled to charge for such motions and orders as are properly entered in the records of the court. Washoe Co. v. Humboldt Co., 14 Nev. 124.

1996. Recorders.

SEC. 4. The following fees to the several county recorders [in counties polling 800 votes or less] are hereby established: For receiving, filing, and entering documents required to be recorded, twenty-five cents; for filing and entering any paper not to be recorded, fifty cents; for making all necessary indexes to each paper filed or recorded, for each name to be indexed, fifty cents; for recording any instrument, paper, or document, for each folio, thirty cents; for every certificate under seal, one dollar; for every entry of discharge of mortgage on the margin of records, fifty cents; for abstract of title for each document embraced thereby, one dollar; for searching records and files, for each document necessarily examined, fifty cents; for recording any survey or map other than town plat, for each course, fifty cents; for recording town plat, for each lot or separate subdivision exhibited thereby, twenty-five cents; for each folio of lettering or figuring thereon, or in the certificate and description of the same, one dollar; for recording certificates of marriage, death, divorce or birth, one dollar; for copy of any record or document in his office, the same fees as for recording; for taking acknowledgment, including certificate and seal, for first signature, one dollar; for each additional signature, twenty-five cents; for recording or copying any paper in a foreign language, double the fees as when in English; no map or plat shall be recorded exceeding in size two folios of the usual sized records; for preparing the abstract of unsatisfied mortgages required for the board of equalization, for each, twenty-five cents.

For filing annual statements of mining corporations, sec. 1331.

See citation from Davis v. Thompson, 1 Nev. 17, under recorders, sec. 1632.

1997. Sheriffs.

SEC. 5. The fees allowed to sheriffs in the counties of this state [polling 800 votes or less] shall be as follows: For serving a summons or complaint, or any other process by which an action or proceeding is commenced, on every defendant, two dollars; for traveling in making such service, per mile, in going only, to be computed in all cases from the court house of the county, fifty cents for the first ten miles, and for each and every additional mile, forty cents; provided, that if any two or more papers are required to be served in the same suit at the same time, where parties live in the same direction, one mileage only shall be charged; for taking bond, or undertaking in any case in which he is authorized to take the same, one dollar and fifty cents; for copy of any writ, process, or other paper, when demanded or required by law, for each folio, thirty cents; for serving every notice, rule, or order, one dollar; for serving a subpoena, for each witness summoned, fifty cents; for traveling, per mile, in serving such subpoena or venire, in going only, fifty cents for the first ten miles, and for each and every additional mile, forty cents; but when two or more witnesses or jurors live in the same direction, traveling fees shall be charged only for the most distant; for serving an attachment on property, or levying an execution, or executing an order of arrest, or order for delivery of personal property, three dollars, together with traveling fees, as in cases of summons; for serving an attachment on any ship, boat, or vessel, in proceedings to enforce any lien thereof created by law, five dollars; for making and posting notices and advertising for sale on execution or under any judgment or order of sale, not to include the cost of publication in a newspaper, two dollars; for commissions for receiving and paying over money on execution or process, where lands or personal property has been levied on, advertised, and sold, on the first five hundred dollars, four per cent; not exceeding one thousand dollars, but over five hundred dollars, two per cent; on all over one thousand dollars and not exceeding fifteen hundred dollars, and on all sums above that amount, one per cent; for commissions for receiving and paying over money on execution without levy, or when the lands or goods levied on shall not be sold, on the first thousand dollars, one per cent; on all over that sum, one-half per cent; the fees herein allowed for the levy of an execution, for advertising, and for making and collecting money on an execution, shall be collected from the defendants by virtue of such execution, in the same manner as the same may be therein directed to be made; for drawing and executing every sheriff's deed, to be paid by the grantee, who shall, in addition, pay for the acknowledgment thereof, five dollars; for serving a writ of possession, or restitution, putting any person into possession entitled thereto, five dollars; for traveling in the service of any process not hereinbefore mentioned, for each mile necessarily traveled, for going only, fifty cents for the first ten miles, and for each and every additional mile, forty cents; for attending, when required, on any court, in person or by deputy, for each day, to be paid out of the county treasury, five dollars; for bringing up a prisoner on habeas corpus to testify or answer to any court, or for examination as to the cause of his arrest and detention, or to give bail, two dollars; he shall also be allowed further compensation for his trouble and expense in taking possession of property under attachment or execution or other process, and of preserving the same, as the court from which the writ or order may issue shall certify to be just and reasonable; for holding each inquest or trial of right of property, when required, to include all services in the matter except mileage, ten dollars; for attending on the supreme court, either in person or [by] deputy, to be paid out of the state treasury as other claims, for each day, eight dollars; for every arrest in a criminal proceeding, three dollars; for serving each subpoena in criminal cases, fifty cents; for executing every sentence of death, fifty dollars; for summoning a grand jury of twenty-four persons, fifteen dollars; for summoning each trial jury of twelve persons, six dollars; for each additional juror, fifty cents; for service of any process in [a] criminal case, the same mileage as in civil cases; in serving subpoenas or venire in criminal cases, he shall receive mileage for the most distant only, where witnesses and jurors live in the same direction; for all services in justices' courts, the same fees as are allowed to constables. As amended, Stats. 1875, 147.

As to duties of sheriff in regard to charging for service of summons, collection for mileage and posting of notices, see Feusier v. Virginia City, 3 Nev. 58.

For fees of sheriff and other officers in case of a criminal case transferred from one county to another, see Washoe Co. v. Humboldt Co., 14 Nev. 123, 130, 131.

A sheriff is not authorized to withhold money for his expenses incurred in preserving personal property levied upon, unless his charges have been certified to by the district judge as just and reasonable. Nash v. Muldoon, 16 Nev. 409.

The county from which a criminal case is transferred is liable for the fees of the sheriff in summoning a jury upon a special venire for that particular case. Washoe Co. v. Humboldt Co., 14 Nev. 123.

When a venire is issued to a sheriff for thirty jurors, and he finds only twenty-four: field, that he was entitled to his fees "for miles actually traveled in attempting to find and serve jurors whose names appeared upon the venire, but who could not be found and served." Idem.

The sheriff is not entitled to any compensation for bringing the defendant into court during the trial. Idem.

The sheriff is entitled to five dollars for each day's attendance. He cannot charge extra for a night session. Idem.

The sheriff is not authorized by the statute to serve a subpoena upon witnesses residing in any other county, except it is within the same judicial district. Idem.

If a sheriff, for the sake of obtaining employment, agrees in advance to render official services for a party to a suit, and to receive nothing unless such party recovers in the action, he will be bound by his agreement and cannot recover his fees without showing that such party did recover in the suit. Baker v. McLeod, 14 Nev. 148.

1998. Coroners.

SEC. 6. The fees of coroners [in counties polling 800 votes or less] shall be as follows: For all services in summoning a jury of inquest, three dollars; for swearing a jury, fifty cents; for issuing warrant of arrest, seventy-five cents; for issuing subpoena to each witness, twenty cents; for each mile necessarily traveled in going to the presence of the dead body, twenty-five cents; for swearing each witness, twenty cents; for taking down testimony, per folio, twenty cents; for each day necessarily employed in holding an inquest, five dollars. All of said fees shall be paid out of the county treasury as other demands. For all services by him while acting as sheriff, the same fees as are allowed to sheriffs for similar services. As amended, Stats. 1893, 24.

1999. Constables.

SEC. 7. The following fees shall be allowed to constables [in counties polling 800 votes or less]: For serving summons or other process by which suit is commenced in civil cases, one dollar; for summoning a jury before a justice of the peace, two dollars; for taking a bond or undertaking, one dollar; for serving an attachment against the property of [a] defendant, two dollars; for serving subpoenas, for each witness, twenty-five cents; for summoning and swearing a jury to try the rights of property, and taking the verdict, two dollars; for receiving and taking care of property on execution, attachment, or order, his actual necessary expenses, to be allowed by the justice who issued the execution, upon the affidavit of the constable that such charges are correct, and the expenses necessarily incurred; for [a] copy of any writ, process, or other paper, when demanded or required by law, per folio, thirty cents; for drawing and executing every constable's deed, to be paid by the grantee, who shall also pay the acknowledgment thereof, five dollars; for each certificate of sale of real estate under execution, one dollar; for collecting all sums on execution, to be charged against the defendant in execution, two per cent; in levying an execution or executing an order of arrest in civil cases, or order for the delivery of personal property, with traveling fees as for summons, two dollars; for making and posting notices, and advertising property for sale on execution, not to include the cost of publication in a newspaper, two dollars; for mileage in serving summons, attachment, execution, order, venire, subpoena, or other process in civil cases, for each mile necessarily traveled, in going only, fifty cents for the first ten miles, and for each and every additional mile, forty cents; provided, that when two or more persons are served in the same suit, mileage shall only be charged for the most distant, if they live in the same direction; for service and travel in criminal cases, the same fees as are allowed sheriffs for like services; for all other services, except for attending court, the same fees as are allowed sheriffs for similar services. As amended, Stats. 1875, 149.

The above section does not apply to Ormsby, Humboldt, Elko nor Eureka Counties. See Stats. 1885, 129; 1887, 76.

2000. Witnesses.

SEC. 8. Witnesses required to attend in any of the courts of this state [in counties polling 450 votes or less] shall be entitled to the following fees: For attending in any civil suit or proceeding, before any court of record, referee, commissioner, or justice of the peace, for each day, three dollars; for traveling to the place of trial, fifty cents per mile; provided, that no person shall be obliged to testify in a civil action unless his fees and mileage have been tendered him, or he shall not have demanded the same; and provided further, that no person shall be obliged to testify in a civil action unless his fees have been tendered him, if he shall demand the same, for mileage and one day's attendance; for each subsequent day's attendance the witness is entitled to demand, in advance, his fees from the party in whose favor he has been subpoenaed, and in case of refusal, is exonerated from further attendance; witness fees, in civil cases, shall be taxed as disbursement costs against the defeated party, upon proof, by affidavit, that the disbursements have actually been made; costs shall not be allowed for more than two witnesses to the same fact or series of facts, nor shall a party plaintiff or defendant be allowed any fees for attendance as a witness in his own behalf. This provision shall be held to apply to courts of justices of the peace, as well as to all other courts and judicial proceedings. For criminal cases, no witness fees shall be allowed.

See sec. 2043.

Fees for mileage or attendance of the opposite party's witnesses cannot be taxed, and judgment therefor entered against the losing party, when such witnesses have not been subpoenaed in the case according to law, or sworn or examined, although present in court at the request of the successful party. (Hawley, C. J., dissenting.) Meagher v. Van Zandt, 18 Nev. 230-236 (2 P. 57).

2001. Jurors.

SEC. 9. Fees shall be allowed to jurors [in counties polling 450 votes or less] as follows: For each day, to be paid in civil cases by the party in whose favor the verdict is rendered, but to be recoverable as costs from the losing party, three dollars; excepting in justice's courts, when the fee shall be two dollars. If, in any trial in a civil action, before any court, the jury be from any cause discharged without finding a verdict, the fees of such jury shall be paid by the plaintiff, but may be recovered back as costs if he afterward obtain judgment; until they are paid, no further proceedings shall be had in the action. No person shall receive any fees for serving as a juror on a coroner's inquest. No fees shall be allowed to grand or trial jurors in criminal cases.

See sec. 2043.

NOTE—See sec. 2476, as amended, Stats. 1909, 321.

The act of 1871, 56, relating to the fees of jurors and requiring the auditor to draw his warrant on the treasurer therefor upon the certificate of the clerk showing the amount due, is peremptory, and admits the exercise of no discretion on the part of the auditor. Gillette v. Sharp, 7 Nev. 245.

Jurors are entitled to compensation for the time they are in attendance on the court, whether impaneled for the trial of causes or not, except when they are impaneled in the trial of a criminal case, and they reside within five miles of the court house. Thornburg v. Hermann, 1 Nev. 473.

A juror's claim for fees on the certificate of the clerk should be audited like any other demand against the county. Idem.

The county from which a criminal cause is transferred is properly chargeable for one day's attendance of each juror present on the first day of the trial of the case. Washoe Co. v. Humboldt Co., 14 Nev. 123.

2002. County auditors.

SEC. 10. The fees of county auditors [in counties polling 800 votes or less] shall be as follows: For filing treasurer's receipts and issuing licenses, to be paid by the party, fifty cents; the county auditor shall receive for all services rendered by him in the discharge of the duties imposed on him by law, other than those especially enumerated, for each folio, thirty cents; for filing and indorsing each paper, twenty-five cents, except the property schedule rendered him by the assessor, for which he shall receive no fees.

2003. Justices of the peace.

SEC. 12. Justices of the peace [in counties polling 800 votes or less] shall be allowed the following fees for their services: For filing each paper, twenty-five cents; for issuing any writ or paper, by which suit is commenced, one dollar; for entering cause in docket, fifty cents; for subpoena to each witness, twenty-five cents; for administering oath or affirmation, twenty-five cents; certifying to the same, twenty-five cents; for issuing writ of attachment or arrest, or order for the delivery of property, two dollars; for entering any final judgment, per folio, for the first folio, one dollar; for each additional folio, fifty cents; for taking and approving any bond or undertaking, required by law to be taken or approved by him, one dollar; for issuing a venire, one dollar; for taking deposition, per folio, twenty-five cents; for issuing commissions to take testimony, one dollar; for copy of any judgment, order, docket, proceeding or paper in his office, per folio, twenty-five cents; for entering satisfaction of judgment, fifty cents; for issuing execution, one dollar; for taking acknowledgments of deeds or other instruments, including certificates, for the first name, one dollar; for each subsequent name, twenty-five cents; for issuing super-sedeas to an execution, one dollar; for making up and transmitting transcript and paper on appeal, two dollars; for issuing search warrant, one dollar; for celebrating marriage and returning certificate to the recorder, five dollars; for issuing writ of restitution, one dollar; for all services and proceedings in a criminal action, the same fees as are allowed in civil cases, but in no case shall there be a charge against the county exceeding in any one case the sum of ten dollars; provided, that in preliminary examinations in criminal cases, the justice of the peace, sitting as a committing magistrate, shall be allowed, in addition to other fees allowed by law, fifty cents for the first folio, and twenty-five cents for each additional folio; for taking bail after commitment in criminal cases, to be collected from the defendant, one dollar; for entering any cause without process, one dollar; for entering judgment by confession, as in the district court, three dollars; for each motion, exception, rule, order, default, dismissal, discontinuance or nonsuit, and for filing each paper required to be filed, twenty-five cents. As superseded, Stats. 1867, 101; 1895, 20.

The act of 1867, 101, in so far as it relates to counties polling over 800 votes, is repealed by secs. 41 and 42 of the following act, but it is amended by act of 1895, 20, which latter act is given here.

The above section does not apply to Ormsby, Humboldt, Elko, nor Eureka Counties, see Stats. 1885, 129; 1887, 76.

Secs. 13 and 14 identical with secs. 14 and 15 of following act.

2004. Notaries public.

SEC. 15. The fees of notaries public [in counties polling 800 votes or less] shall be as follows: For drawing and copying every protest for the nonpayment of a promissory note, or for the nonpayment or nonacceptance of a bill of exchange, draft or check, two dollars; for drawing and serving every notice of nonpayment of a promissory note, of the nonpayment or nonacceptance of a bill of exchange, order, draft, or check, one dollar; for drawing an affidavit, deposition, or other paper, for which provision is not herein made, for each folio, thirty cents; for taking an acknowledgment; or proof of a deed, or other instrument, to include the seal and the writing of the certificate, for the first signature, one dollar, and for each additional signature, fifty cents; for administering an oath or affirmation, twenty-five cents; for every certificate, to include writing the same, and the seal, fifty cents.

[Secs. 16-29, inclusive, are superseded by secs. 17, et seq., of the following act.]

Where it is necessary to have a survey of the premises where the crime was committed, in order to properly present the case to the jury, the county commissioners are authorized to allow a reasonable compensation for such survey. Washoe Co. v. Humboldt Co., 14 Nev. 123.

SECTION 1. The several officers and persons named in this act may demand and receive for their services rendered in discharging the duties imposed upon them by law, the fees and compensation hereafter specified.

Cited, State ex rel. Love v. Elko Co., 21 Nev. 21 (23 P. 935).

This act contains but one general subject in conflict with Const. art. 4, sec. 17, (sec. 274, ante).

Nor does it conflict with art. 4, secs. 20 and 21 (secs. 278, 279, ante).

This act operates alike on all persons similarly situated and is not in violation of the 14th amendment to the federal constitution (ante, 185). Russell v. Esmeralda Co., 32 Nev. 304 (107 P. 890-892).

The above section does not apply to Ormsby, Humboldt, Elko, nor Eureka Counties; see Stats. 1885, 129; 1887, 76.

2012. Witnesses.

SEC. 8. Witnesses required to attend in any of the courts of this state [in counties polling over 450 votes] shall be entitled to the following fees: For attending in any civil suit or proceeding before any court of record, referee, commissioner or justice of the peace, two dollars; for traveling to the place of trial, thirty cents per mile for each mile necessarily and actually traveled; provided, that no person shall be obliged to testify in a civil action unless his fees and mileage have been tendered him, or he shall not have demanded the same; and, provided further, that no person shall be obliged to testify in a civil action unless his fees have been tendered him if he shall demand the same, for mileage and one day's attendance; for each subsequent day's attendance the witness is entitled to demand, in advance, his fees from the party in whose favor he has been subpoenaed, and in case of refusal, is exonerated from further attendance. Witness fees in civil cases shall be taxed as disbursement costs, against the defeated party upon proof, by affidavit, that the disbursements have actually been made. Costs shall not be allowed for more than two witnesses to the same fact or series of facts, nor shall a party plaintiff or defendant be allowed any fees for attendance as a witness in his own behalf. This provision shall be held to apply to courts of justices of the peace, as well as to all other courts and judicial proceedings. For criminal cases no witnesses fees shall be allowed.

2013. Jurors.

SEC. 9. Each person summoned to attend as a grand or trial juror in counties polling over four hundred and twenty-five votes, unless he be excused by the court at his own request from serving on the day he is summoned to attend, shall receive three dollars per day for each day he may be in attendance and fifteen cents per mile in traveling to and returning from court. In civil cases the per diem of each juror engaged in the trial of the cause, shall be paid each day in advance by the party who shall have demanded the jury, but in case the party paying such fees be the prevailing party, the fees so paid shall be recoverable as costs from the losing party. If the jury from any cause be discharged in a civil action without finding a verdict and the party who demands the jury shall afterwards obtain judgment, the fees so paid shall be recoverable as costs from the losing party. Jurors in justice courts shall receive but two dollars per day in civil cases; provided, that no fees shall be allowed trial jurors in criminal cases in justice courts. The fees paid to a juror by the parties in a civil case shall be deducted from the amount due him, and the balance only shall become a charge against the county. As amended, Stats. 1885, 25; 1887, 62; 1909, 321.

Trial jurors in the regular panel are entitled to receive from the county mileage and in addition per diem when accepted and sworn in criminal cases. These fees, together with those received in civil cases, constitute their entire compensation for attendance, travel and services rendered. Phillips v. Eureka Co., 19 Nev. 348-351, 355 (11 P. 32).

2014. County auditors.

SEC. 10. The fees of county auditors [in counties polling over 800 votes] shall be as follows: For filing treasurer's receipts and issuing licenses, to be paid by the party, twenty-five cents; the county auditor shall receive for all services rendered by him in the discharge of the duties imposed on him by law, other than those especially enumerated, for each folio, twenty cents; for filing and indorsing each paper, twenty cents, except the property schedules, for which he shall receive no fees.

2021. Monthly statement.

SEC. 19. It shall be the duty of the county clerks, county recorders, county surveyors, sheriffs, public administrators, justices of the peace, and constables on the first Monday in July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three, and every three months thereafter, to make out and file with the county commissioners of their several counties a full and correct statement, under oath, of all fees, percentage or compensation, of whatever nature or kind, received in their said several official capacities during the preceding three months, in which statement they shall set forth the cause in which and the services for which such compensations were received; provided, that nothing in this act shall be so construed as to require personal attendance in filing such statements; and such statements may be transmitted by mail, express or otherwise directed to the clerk of said board of county commissioners.

2022. Duty of district judge.

SEC. 20. It shall be the duty of the district judge to give this act specially in charge to the grand jury.

2023. Violation a misdemeanor.

SEC. 21. Any officer who shall violate any of the provisions of the seventeenth, eighteenth, and nineteenth sections of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one thousand dollars.

Cited, Phillips v. Eureka Co., 19 Nev. 352 (11 P. 32).

2024. Taking unlawful fees—Punishment.

SEC. 22. If any officer shall take more or greater fees than are herein allowed, he shall be liable to indictment, and, on conviction, shall be removed from office, and fined in any sum not exceeding one thousand dollars.

2025. To post table of fees.

SEC. 23. Every officer whose fees are ascertained and fixed by this act shall publish and set up in his office fair tables of his fees, according to this act, within one month from its passage, in some conspicuous place for the inspection of all persons who have business in his office, upon pain of forfeiting for each day of his omission so to do a sum not exceeding twenty dollars, which may be recovered by any person by action before any justice of the peace of the same county, with costs.

2026. Cost of publication.

SEC. 24. When by law any publication is required to be made by an officer of any suit, process, notice, order or other paper, the cost of such publication shall, if demanded, be tendered by the party to whom such order, process, notice or other papers was granted before such officer shall be compelled to make publication thereof.

2027. Fees in advance.

SEC. 25. All fees prescribed in this act shall be payable in advance, if demanded; and if any officer shall not have received any or all of his fees, which may be due him for services rendered by him in any suit or proceedings, he may have execution therefor in his own name against the party or parties from whom they are due, to be issued from the court where the action is pending, upon the order of the judge or court upon affidavit filed.

2028. Commissioners of deeds.

SEC. 26. Commissioners of deeds appointed by the governors of any of the states of the United States of America, or of any of the territories thereof, to reside in the State of Nevada, may receive for services rendered in this state the compensation hereinafter expressed, and none other, that is to say: For drawing an affidavit, deposition or other paper, for each folio, thirty cents; for administering an oath or affirmation, twenty-five cents; for putting his seal to such instruments, fifty cents; for taking acknowledgment, or proof of deed or other instrument, to include the seal and the writing of the certificate, for the first signature, one dollar, and for each additional signature, fifty cents.

2029. Misconduct.

SEC. 27. Each commissioner of deeds residing in this state, shall be subject to all the pains and penalties for official delinquency or extortions, as is provided in this act for official misconduct.

2030. District court fees.

SEC. 28. At the time of the commencement of every civil action or other proceeding in the several district courts of this state, the plaintiff shall pay the clerk of the court in which said action shall be commenced the sum of three dollars, in gold or silver coin, except as herein otherwise provided. At the commencement of any proceeding in any district court for the purpose of procuring an appointment of administration upon the estate of any deceased person, the party instituting such proceedings shall pay the clerk of said court the sum of one dollar and fifty cents in gold or silver coin.

Provisions of this and the four succeeding sections is in compliance with the provisions of Const., sec. 331, ante.

The fact that the docket fee was paid by the clerk instead of the plaintiff cannot be taken advantage of by defendant. Rose v. Richmond M. Co., 17 Nev. 25.

2031. Appeal, justice's court.

SEC. 29. Whenever any appeal shall be taken in a civil action or proceeding from the judgment or decision of the court of a justice of the peace, or other tribunal inferior to the district court, the party appealing shall, before the return to said appeal shall be allowed to be filed in the appellate court, pay to the clerk of such appellate court the sum of one dollar, in gold or silver coin; which said several fees above provided for shall be known as "court fees," and no such action shall be deemed commenced, proceedings instituted, or appeal perfected until the said fees shall be paid as aforesaid.

2032. Fees on appeal to supreme court.

SEC. 30. Whenever any appeal from the final judgment or any order of a district court shall be taken to the supreme court, the party appealing shall, at or before the filing of the transcript on such appeal in the supreme court, pay the clerk of the supreme court the sum of five dollars in gold or silver coin as and for a court fee; and the clerk of the supreme court shall not file any such transcript in his office until such fee is paid.

2033. Duty of clerks to give receipts and pay over money.

SEC. 31. It shall be the duty of said clerks, on the demand of any party asking it, to give a receipt to the party paying such fee for the same, specifying the title of the cause in which the same shall be paid and the date and amount of such payment; and it shall be the further duty of the several clerks of the district courts of this state, on the first Monday of each and every month, to pay over to the county treasurer of the county all moneys received by them for such court fees, together with a brief note of the cases in which the same were received, which money shall be payable in the district judge salary fund of the district embraced in the county where the same shall be received.

2034. Clerk of supreme court to pay over money.

SEC. 32. The clerk of the supreme court shall, on the first Monday in each month, pay to the state treasurer all moneys received by him for court fees, rendering to said treasurer a brief note of the cases in which the same were received. The money so received by the treasurer shall be placed in the supreme judges' salary fund, and the same shall be used for no other purpose.

2035. Expenses of jurors.

SEC. 33. In all cases when a jury is kept together by order of the court during a trial, or by failure to agree upon a verdict, after the cause has been submitted to them by the court, the expenses of their board and lodging shall be taxed as other disbursements and expenses in favor of the prevailing party; no verdict shall be entered or judgment rendered thereon until the same is paid or tendered. The clerk shall receive and properly disburse all money paid for the expenses of jurors, as in this section provided to be paid.

2036. Folio, how construed.

SEC. 34. The term folio, when used as a measure for computing fees or compensation, shall be construed to mean one hundred words, counting every figure necessarily used as a word. Any portion of a folio, when in the whole draft or paper there should not be a complete folio, and when there shall be an excess over the last folio exceeding a quarter of a folio, shall be computed as a folio. The filing of a paper shall be construed to include the certificate of the same.

2037. Sheriff, constable, coroner; mileage.

SEC. 35. When any sheriff, constable or coroner serves more than one process in the same cause, not requiring more than one journey from his office, he shall receive mileage only for the most distant service.

2038. No witness fees for attorney.

SEC. 36. No attorney or counselor at law, in any case, shall be allowed any fees for attending as a witness in such case.

2039. No fees for oath of office.

SEC. 37. No fees shall be charged by any officer for administering and certifying the oath of office.

2040. Mileage, where computed from.

SEC. 38. Mileage shall be computed from the court house of the county in all cases where mileage is chargeable by the sheriff, and for other officers the same shall be for the actual distance traveled, and every fraction of a mile shall be computed as a mile.

2041. When not to charge fees on returns—Penalty.

SEC. 39. No sheriff or other officers shall be allowed to charge or receive any fee or compensation whatever for the return written upon any summons, subpoena, writ of attachment, execution, order of sale, or other paper; and any officer violating terms of this section shall be indicted, and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not less than three hundred dollars, and shall upon conviction thereof be removed from office.

2042. Not to apply to legislative officers.

SEC. 40. This act shall not extend to nor affect any law relating to the salaries or compensation of officers of the senate or assembly of the State of Nevada, nor to the salary of any state or county officer, or deputy thereof.

2043. Application of act.

SEC. 41. The provisions of section 8 and section 9 of this act shall not apply to or affect any county in this state wherein the total vote at the last election did not exceed four hundred and fifty, and the provisions of this act shall not apply to or affect the fees of the officers of any county in this state wherein the total vote of the last election did not exceed eight hundred, and the same shall apply to all future elections, and it is hereby provided that in such counties "An act to regulate fees and compensation for official and other services in the State of Nevada," approved March 9, 1865 [see sec. 1994, et seq.], and the act amendatory thereto, shall remain in full force and effect. As amended, Stats. 1893, 103.

2044. Repeal.

SEC. 42. This act repeals all other acts and parts of acts now in force, relating to fees of officers, which fees are collectible by said officers from the persons for whom said services are rendered.

Special fee acts for Ormsby County, Stats. 1887, 126; 1897, 19.

An Act relating to the certification of public records or documents and the fees chargeable therefor.

Approved March 8, 1909, 78

2045. Fees for prepared copies.

SECTION 1. Whenever any person shall present to the custodian or other person authorized to make and certify copies of any public record or document in any and all counties of the state not divided in the year 1909 a printed or typewritten copy of any such record or document, or any part thereof, it shall be the duty of such custodian or person to forthwith compare such copy with the original thereof and make the same a true and correct copy thereof and officially certify the same as such and the fees and compensation legally chargeable or receivable therefor shall be only one-third of what said fees or compensation would have been if said custodian or person had made and certified said copy.

An Act fixing and regulating the fees to be charged by county recorders and district mining recorders for recording certificates of labor on mining claims.

Approved March 18, 1911, 100

2046. Recording fees fixed.

SECTION 1. From and after the passage and approval of this act the county recorders and district mining recorders of this state shall charge the following fees for recording certificates of proof of labor on mining claims: Fifty cents for recording any such certificates that embrace therein one claim, and an additional fee of twenty-five cents for each and every additional mining claim embraced in said certificate; provided, that if any such certificate shall contain more than one hundred words an additional fee of thirty cents shall be charged for each one hundred words or fractional part thereof in excess of said first one hundred words.

Providing for establishment of private fish hatcheries, sections 2076-2084.

Providing for protection and preservation of game, sections 2085-2100.

To regulate and license hunting of game birds and animals and taking or catching of fish, sections 2101-2112.

To prevent shipment of wild game, section 2113.

An Act to provide for the preservation of fish in the waters of this state, and matters properly relating thereto.

Approved March 14, 1903, 114

2047. Unlawful to pollute streams.

2048. Certain cases misdemeanor.

2049. Fishways and ladders.

2050. Punishment for violation.

2051. Unlawful to transplant or transport in certain cases.

2047. Unlawful to pollute streams.

SECTION 1. Every person who places or allows to pass or who places where it can pass or fall into or upon any of the waters of this state at any time, any lime, gas, tar, cocculus indicus, slag, acids, or other chemical, sawdust, shavings, slabs, edgings, mill or factory refuse, or any substance deleterious to fish, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine not less than two hundred and fifty nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail in the county in which the conviction shall be had, for not less than one hundred and twenty-five or two hundred and fifty days; provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to mills or works for the reduction of ores, nor against the owners or operators of such mills or works so far as concerns the operator of such mills or works.

2048. Certain cases misdemeanor.

SEC. 2. All persons, firms, companies, associations or corporations, who have erected or who may hereafter erect any dams, water weirs or other obstructions to the free passage of fish in the rivers, streams, lakes or other waters of the State of Nevada, shall construct and keep in repair fishways or fish ladders at all such dams, water weirs, or other obstruction; so that at all seasons of the year fish may ascend above such dams, water weirs or other obstructions, to deposit their spawn. Any person or persons, firm, company, association or corporation failing to comply with the provisions of this section after having been notified and required so to do by the proper authority, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than twenty-five days nor more than one hundred and fifty days.

2049. Fishways and ladders.

SEC. 10. Any person or persons who shall at any time wilfully or knowingly destroy, injure or obstruct any fishway or fish ladder, or any person or persons who shall at any time take or catch any fish in any manner within one hundred feet of any dam containing a fishway or fish ladder, which is required by law, shall be deemed guilty of [a] misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished as provided in section 11 of this act. Nothing in this section shall be so construed as to prohibit the taking of fish for spawning or transplanting purposes, by the state board of fish commissioners or other authorized persons.

2050. Punishment for violation.

SEC. 11. Any person or persons violating the provisions of sections 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 or 10 of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty nor more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten nor more than fifty days or by both such fine and imprisonment.

2051. Unlawful to transplant or transport in certain cases.

SEC. 12. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, company, association or corporation, to at any time transport or offer for transportation to any place outside of this state any lake, river or brook trout or land-locked salmon, which are intended to be offered for sale; and any person who shall so transport or offer for transportation any lake, river or brook trout or land-locked salmon, white fish or wide-mouthed bass which are thereafter offered for sale or sold at any place outside of this state, or are offered for sale after being transported outside of this state, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than twenty-five nor more than two hundred and fifty days or by both such fine and imprisonment.

State Board of Fish Commissioners, secs. 4482, 4483.

Under former law (1893, 128, amended Stats. 1895, 83) providing that trout shall not be caught "between the first day of October of each year and the first day of June of each year" it was held that the intention of the legislature was to forbid the catching of trout from October of one year to June of the next.

Also, where an act forbids the catching of trout from the rivers and also from the lakes, even if the provision as to the lakes is so self-contradictory that it cannot be enforced, this will not invalidate the provision against catching from the rivers. Ex Parte Hewlett, 22 Nev. 333-335 (40 P. 96).

A former law (Stats. 1909, 121) was held unconstitutional because it directed that a portion of the fines collected thereunder for violation thereof should be paid to the informer. Ex Parte McMahon, 26 Nev. 243-245 (66 P. 294).

See sec. 355, ante.

An Act to prevent the unlawful destruction of fish and game; to provide for the appointment of fish and game wardens in the several counties of this state, and to define their duties and compensation.

Approved March 12, 1901, 57

2052. Fish and game wardens to be appointed.

2053. Powers of warden.

2054. Duties—Removal.

2055. Salary—How fixed and paid.

2052. Fish and game warden to be appointed.

SECTION 1. It is hereby made the duty of the several boards of county commissioners in this state, at their first regular meeting in April, nineteen hundred and one, and annually thereafter, upon the petition of twenty or more resident taxpayers, to appoint a fish and game warden for their respective counties, who shall reside in the county for which he is appointed. Each warden so appointed, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall take his oath of office, and give an undertaking to the State of Nevada for the use of the respective counties thereof, with two or more sureties, to be approved by the board of county commissioners conditionally [conditioned] for the faithful performance of his duties, and in such sum as the county commissioners of the several counties may deem sufficient for the faithful performance of the duties of his office and the enforcement of the requirements of this act.

2053. Powers of warden.

SEC. 2. Said warden is hereby empowered [and it shall be his duty] to enforce the state laws and all county and municipal ordinances relative to the protection of fish and game; and he shall be vested with the power to make arrests for the violation of such laws and ordinances in any county in this state; to appoint a deputy or deputies who shall have power to transact all official business appertaining to said officer, to the same extent as their principal; provided, that said warden shall be responsible for the compensation of such deputy or deputies, and shall be responsible on his official bond for all malfeasance or nonfeasance of the same. Bonds for the faithful performance of the duties of his official deputy or deputies may be required of said deputy or deputies by said principal.

2054. Duties—Removal.

SEC. 3. Said fish and game warden shall report quarterly to the board of county commissioners of his county, giving a detailed statement of all arrests made, convictions had, fines collected, and generally in regard to the management of his office. Such officers may be removed by the board of county commissioners, for intemperance, neglect of duty or other good and sufficient reasons.

2055. Salary, how fixed and paid.

SEC. 4. The salary of the fish and game wardens shall be fixed by the county commissioners of the various counties of this state, out of the fish and game preservation fund; provided, that in case of a deficiency in the fish and game preservation fund, such deficiency shall be paid out of the general fund of the various county treasuries. The salary of said fish and game wardens shall not be more than one hundred dollars, nor less than twenty dollars per month. Said warden shall be allowed a sum not to exceed twenty-five dollars per month for expenses incurred by him in the performance of his duties. As amended, Stats. 1903, 179; 1909, 327.

An Act giving authority to the boards of county commissioners of the several counties of this state to extend the close season for fishing in streams and waters of a certain class, and providing for the enforcement of the same.

2056. To protect certain waters.

SECTION 1. The boards of county commissioners of the several counties of this state, each within its own county, are hereby authorized to extend the closed season for fishing in streams and waters within their county which now are, or hereafter shall have been, stocked with food fishes by others than the state or its fish commissioner, or authorized agent, to such periods as may in their opinion be required for the protection of the fish in said stream and waters, to the end that the supply of fish for food may be permanently increased.

2057. Order published—Provisos.

SEC. 2. This act shall be made effective by an order of the board of county commissioners published in a newspaper within the county, which order shall name the stream or streams and waters within the county in which the catching of fish is to be restricted, and shall state the period over which the close season is to extend; provided, that no such order shall be effective without such publication for the period of at least one month before the date upon which the order is to take effect; and further provided, that no such publication shall be made at an expense to the county of more than three dollars.

2058. Violation misdemeanor—Penalty.

SEC. 3. Any person who shall violate the provisions of said order of the board of county commissioners shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not to exceed thirty ($30) dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail not to exceed fifteen (15) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court, for each offense.

An Act to provide for the protection and the preservation of trout and other fish in the waters of the State of Nevada and other matters pertaining thereto, and to state in part what shall be evidence of its violation, and to prescribe penalties for its violation, and to provide for its enforcement, and to repeal all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith.

2059. Closed season.

SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, firm, company, or corporation, to take, catch, or kill, or to attempt to take, catch, or kill, any river trout, lake trout, or brook trout, white-fish, land-locked salmon, royal chinook salmon, or large-mouthed or small-mouthed black bass, in or from any of the streams, lakes, rivers, or other waters of the State of Nevada, between the sixteenth day of October of each year and the thirtieth day of April of the succeeding year, both dates being included.

2060. Unlawful to sell or possess during closed season.

SEC. 2. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, firm, company, or corporation in the State of Nevada to buy, sell, or offer or expose for sale or to have in his, their, or its possession, any river trout, lake trout, or brook trout, salmon, white-fish, or large-mouthed or small-mouthed black bass taken or caught from any of the waters of this state within the closed season specified in this act.

2061. Certain methods of taking prohibited.

SEC. 3. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, firm, company or corporation to take, catch, or kill, or to attempt to take, catch, or kill, in or from any stream, lake, or river, or any other waters of the State of Nevada, any trout, salmon, white-fish, bass, perch, or any other fish of any species whatever with any seine, net, spear, set-line, set-hooks, grab-hook, trot-line or snag-line, or in the manner known as snagging, or with any weir-fence, trap, giant powder, or other explosive, or explosive compound, or with or by means of any bait constituted or prepared in whole or in part of or from the spawn, eggs or ova of trout, salmon, or of any other species of fish whatever; or with or by any means whatever except with hook and line attached to a rod held in the hands and in the manner known as angling; that is, with baited hook, fly-hook, spoon-hook, or other anglers' lure.

2062. Regulations concerning hotels and dealers.

SEC. 4. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, firm, company, or corporation, cold-storage company, tavern, or hotel keeper, restaurant, or eating-house keeper, butcher, or market man, in this state to buy, sell, or offer or expose for sale, or to have in his, their, or its possession, any trout, salmon, white-fish, or fish of any species whatever taken from any of the waters of the State of Nevada by or with any of the means specified as unlawful in this act or in any preceding act.

2063. Regulations concerning size.

SEC. 5. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, firm, company or corporation, to kill, or to retain in his, their, or its possession any lake trout, river trout, land-locked salmon, or royal chinook salmon, taken from the waters of this state less than seven inches in length; or any large-mouthed or small-mouthed black bass, or Sacramento perch, less than eight inches in length, or any red-spotted eastern brook trout (Salvelinus fontinalis) less than six inches in length.

2064. Concerning transportation of fish.

SEC. 6. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, railroad, railway company or corporation, express company, stage line, transportation company, or any common carrier in the State of Nevada to accept or receive for shipment or for transportation from any one person or in the name of any one firm, company, or association, in any one calendar day, more than ten pounds of trout, land-locked salmon, or royal chinook salmon, or of large-mouthed or small-mouthed black bass, taken or caught in or from any of the waters of the State of Nevada; provided, that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to prevent the shipment, or receipt or acceptance, of ten trout on one calendar day from any single consignor, and it shall be unlawful for any person or persons, firm, company, association, or corporation, transportation company, or common carrier to offer or present or to receive or accept for shipment, carriage, or transportation any box, bundle, package, basket, or other container whatsoever in which are enclosed any of the fishes herein specified, unless the box, bundle, basket, package, or other container aforesaid shall be so wrapped, tied, or constructed that it shall be easily opened for inspection or examination, and unless it shall bear a conspicuous label, easily read, which shall state the contents thereof, together with the name and address of the consignor thereof and the name and address of the consignee; and false statement on the aforesaid label either as to the contents enclosed or as to the true name or address of the consignor thereof or of the consignee shall be construed as a violation of this act.

2065. Limit of catch.

SEC. 7. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, firm, company, or corporation to take, catch, or kill from any of the waters of the State of Nevada or to have in his, their, or its possession on any one calendar day, more than ten pounds of trout, or of land-locked salmon, or royal chinook salmon, or large-mouthed or small-mouthed black bass, or Sacramento perch, or white-fish caught in the waters of this state; provided, that nothing in this act shall be so interpreted as to prevent or to prohibit the taking of ten trout or salmon, or other fish specified in this act.

2066. Unlawful to fish within 100 feet of dam.

SEC. 8. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons in the State of Nevada at any time or season to take, catch, or kill, or to attempt so to take, catch, or kill, any lake trout, river trout, brook trout, land-locked salmon, royal chinook salmon, large-mouthed or small-mouthed black bass, Sacramento perch, or any other species of fish whatever, within a distance of one hundred feet above or below any dam in this state containing a fishway or fish-ladder.

2067. Same applying to irrigation works.

SEC. 9. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, firm, company or corporation in the State of Nevada to take, catch, or kill, or to attempt to take, catch, or kill, any lake trout, river trout, brook trout, land-locked salmon, royal chinook salmon, white-fish, large-mouthed or small-mouthed black bass, Sacramento perch, or any other fish of any species whatever, at any time or season, whatever, within a distance of one mile below any dam of the United States reclamation service containing a fishway or fish-ladder, and lying within the State of Nevada.

2068. Night fishing defined and prohibited.

SEC. 10. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, firm, company or corporation, in the State of Nevada, to take, catch, or kill, or attempt to take, catch, or kill, any lake trout, river trout or brook trout, land-locked salmon, royal chinook salmon, large-mouthed or small-mouthed black bass, Sacramento perch, or any other fish of any species whatever from any of the waters of the State of Nevada, on any calendar day after two hours after sunset, and on any calendar day before one hour before sunrise.

2069. Officers empowered to enforce act.

SEC. 11. The fish commissioners of the State of Nevada, the members of the Nevada state police, and every fish or game warden throughout the state, and every sheriff and constable in his respective county is and are hereby authorized and required to enforce this act and to seize any game or fish taken or held in possession in violation of this act, and he or they shall have full power and authority and it shall be the duty of every such officer with or without a warrant, to open, enter, or examine all camps, wagons, cars, automobiles, stages, tents, packs, warehouses, stores, outhouses, stables, barns, and other places, boxes, barrels, baskets, and packages, where he has reason to believe any fish taken or held in violation of any of the provisions of this act is or are to be found, and to seize the same; provided, that a dwelling house actually occupied can be entered for examination only in pursuance of a warrant.

2070. Officers may call for assistance.

SEC. 12. In case Indians or any other persons in the State of Nevada shall engage in the killing of trout or other fishes in violation of any of the provisions of this act, and shall be in such numbers as to be beyond the reasonable power of any fish or game warden of the state fish commission to control, or in case of forcible resistance to the enforcement thereof, it shall be the duty of the sheriff, or sheriffs of the county or counties where such violation exists, upon the demand of such commissioners or any warden to aid him in the enforcement of this act, and to call to his assistance at once a sufficient number of persons to enforce the same promptly and effectually; or if by him deemed necessary, said commissioners or said warden may call such assistance without the intervention of the sheriff. The failure without good cause of any person or persons to respond and to render such assistance shall be deemed a violation of this act.

2071. Penalties—Evidence.

SEC. 13. Any person or persons, firm, company, or corporation, association, or common carrier in this state who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor; and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than twenty-five dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail in the county where the conviction is had for any term not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. It shall be no defense in a prosecution for violation of any of the provisions of this act that the trout or other fish in question were taken or killed outside the State of Nevada; nor shall it be any defense in any prosecution for violation of any of the provisions of this act that the trout or fish were taken or killed by one other than he in whose possession said trout or other fish were found. The act of passing a line into or on any of the waters of the State of Nevada as though in the act of fishing, shall be in itself sufficient evidence of an attempt to take or to catch fish within the meaning of this act. The presence in or on the body in flank, back, or belly of any of the fishes herein specified of deep incised wounds or cuts such as are made by spears, grab-hooks, trout-hooks, or snag-hooks, shall be construed as in itself sufficient evidence that the said fish were taken in violation of the provisions of this act.

2072. Does not apply to private fish ponds or streams.

SEC. 14. Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prohibit the taking of trout or other fish, by the rightful owners thereof or by their agents in any manner, at any season whatever, from the waters of private ponds by them constructed or maintained for the purpose of raising trout or other fishes; nor to prohibit the sale of trout or other fishes or of their fry or ova from private hatcheries lying wholly or in part within the State of Nevada.

2073. Fish and eggs may be taken for scientific purposes.

SEC. 15. Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to hinder or to prevent or prohibit the taking of trout or of other fishes, or of their fry, eggs or ova, at any time, in any manner or by any means or in any suitable place or location by the Nevada fish commission or by their agents or by anyone whom they may authorize, for the purposes of breeding or propagation, or of scientific study or investigation.

2074. Repeal.

SEC. 16. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with any of the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

2075. Unconstitutionality of portion not to affect rest.

SEC. 17. If in connection with any prosecution for violation of any of the provisions of this act, or in any other way, any section of this act shall be hereafter adjudged unconstitutional, or inoperative, or invalid and of no force and effect, then the unconstitutionality, invalidity, or inefficiency of said section shall not extend to any other section or sections of this act which are not so adjudged unconstitutional, inoperative, invalid, or inefficient, nor to the constitutionality, validity, or the force and effect of the entire act.

An Act providing for the establishment of private hatcheries for artificial propagation, culture and maintenance of food fishes, for their regulation and licensing, and for the sale, shipment, transportation and disposition of fish raised and propagated therein or thereby, and prescribing a penalty for the violation of the provisions thereof.

Approved March 20, 1911, 279

2076. May be established.

2078. Restrictions regarding sales.

2077. Products may be sold.

2079. County license for hatchery.

2080. License for dealers.

2081. Invoice with every sale—Form of.

2082. Invoice attached to shipment.

2083. False invoice illegal—Proprietors to report.

2084. Penalty.

2076. May be established.

SECTION 1. Any person may establish a private fish hatchery for the artificial propagation, culture and maintenance of food fishes; and any person lawfully conducting any such private fish hatchery, and engaged in the artificial propagation, culture and maintenance of fishes, may take them in his own enclosed waters wherein the same are so cultivated and maintained, at any time and for the purposes herein mentioned and none other.

2077. Products may be sold.

SEC. 2. The products of such fish hatchery, fish spawn, fry and fish may be sold at any time of the year by such hatchery, or their then vendees, after having first complied with the terms of this act, and the regulations of the state fish commission in relation thereto.

Secs. 4482-4483.

2078. Restrictions regarding sales.

SEC. 3. No fish spawn, fry or fish from any private hatchery shall be sold under the terms of this act, unless location and plan of such hatchery be approved by the state fish commission, and the same duly licensed as a private hatchery.

2079. County license for hatchery.

SEC. 4. Each private fish hatchery, before it shall be entitled to the benefits of this act, shall pay to the county treasurer of the county wherein such hatchery is located, an annual license fee of ten dollars ($10), and such fee shall be credited to the game and fish preservation fund of such county.

2080. License for dealers.

SEC. 5. Every person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of buying and selling, packing and preserving, or otherwise dealing in trout or other food fishes, obtained from private hatcheries of this state, shall procure a license for such business from the fish and game warden of the county wherein such selling, packing, and preserving is done, and shall pay an annual license fee of $2.50.

2081. Invoice with every sale—Form of.

SEC. 6. When the proprietor of any licensed fish hatchery shall sell or dispose of any fish as herein provided, he shall at the same time deliver to the purchaser or donee or attach thereto an invoice signed by the proprietor, or his agent, stating the number of his license, and the name of such hatchery, the date of disposition, the kind, and as near as practicable the weight and number of such fish, the name and address of the purchaser, consignee or donee. Such invoice shall authorize transportation and use for six days after this date, and shall be substantially in the following form:

STATE OF NEVADA, DEPARTMENT OF FISH COMMISSION
Private Hatchery Invoice

Name of hatchery,
Number of license, Date,, 191...
Kind and number of fish,
Weight of same, pounds.
Name of consignee,
Address of consignee,

This authorizes transportation within this state, possession and sale for six days after date, if attached to article.

By, Proprietor.
....., Agent.

Such proprietor or his agent shall at the same time mail, postpaid, or otherwise deliver, a duplicate of such invoice to the county fish and game warden of the county in which such hatchery is located; provided, that no invoice shall be required in case of fish lawfully taken or killed in such private hatchery during the open season therefor, and within the quantity provided by law while in the possession of the person killing the same, during the open season and for five days thereafter.

2082. Invoice attached to shipment.

SEC. 7. When any such fish for which an invoice is required is to be shipped by rail, express or other carrier, public or private, the invoice shall be securely attached thereto, or to the package containing the same, in plain sight and the same may then be lawfully carried and delivered within this state to the consignee named in such invoice. If such fish is held, exposed or offered for sale, or sold by the consignee, or kept in any storage, hotel, restaurant, cafe or boarding-house, such invoice shall be kept attached thereto as aforesaid until the same shall have been prepared for consumption. In case of a sale or disposal of a part of such fish, the vendor shall at the same time make a copy of such invoice and indorse thereon the date of sale, the number and kind of fishes disposed of, and the name of the purchaser, and sign and deliver the same to the purchaser or donee, who shall keep it attached as aforesaid until the fish is prepared for consumption, and the same shall have the same force and effect as the original invoice.

2083. False invoice illegal—Proprietors to report.

SEC. 8. Any wilful misstatement in, or any omission of a substantial requirement from any invoice or copy thereof, shall render the same void and be deemed a violation of this act, and the possession of such fish shall be unlawful, and the possession of any fish without such invoice or a copy thereof, attached thereto, when so as above required, shall be unlawful. The proprietor of every private hatchery, licensed under the preceding sections, shall whenever required by the state fish commission, make and send to the commission a report showing as near as practicable the kind and number of the fish added and disposed of during the year preceding, and on hand at the date of the invoice.

2084. Penalty.

SEC. 9. Any person or persons, or the agent of any corporation or company, violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100), nor more than two hundred dollars ($200), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

2101. Must procure license.

SECTION 1. Every person in the State of Nevada, who hunts, pursues or kills any of the wild birds or animals, or who takes or catches any of the fishes that are protected by the laws of this state, without first procuring a license therefor, as provided in this act, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

2102. Officers to issue license.

SEC. 2. Licenses granting the privilege to hunt, pursue or kill wild birds or animals, or to take or catch fish during the open season as fixed by law, shall be issued and delivered, upon application, by the county clerk of any of the counties of this state, or by the fish and game warden of any of the counties of this state, which license shall have stamped thereon the words "Hunting License No _____, State of Nevada. Expires February 28, 19____," with the registration number and appropriate year stamped therein. Said licenses shall be prepared and furnished to the county clerk by the board of county commissioners, which board shall take receipt therefor by number and quantity from the county clerk, and the county clerk shall be responsible therefor and shall account for the same to the auditor of said county every three months after receipt thereof.

2103. Price of licenses.

SEC. 3. The license herein provided for shall be issued as follows:

First—To any citizen of the United States who is a bona fide resident of the State of Nevada, upon the payment of one dollar.

Second—To any citizen of the United States, not a bona fide resident of the State of Nevada, upon the payment of ten dollars.

Third—To any person not a citizen of the United States, upon the payment of twenty-five dollars.

2104. County clerk to keep record.

SEC. 4. Every person applying for and procuring a license as herein provided, shall give to the county clerk his name and resident address, which information shall be by the clerk or board entered in a book kept for that purpose, and provided by said board of county commissioners, together with a statement of the date of issuance, the number of license issued to such person and description of such person, by age, height, race, and color of the eyes and hair.

2105. License good for one year.

SEC. 5. All licenses issued as herein provided shall be valid, and shall authorize the person to whom issued, to hunt, pursue and kill game birds and animals and to take or catch fish during the open season fixed therefor by law, on and from the first day of March, 1909, until the date of expiration stamped thereon, but no license shall continue in force for a period longer than one year.

2106. Disposition of money from licenses.

SEC. 6. All moneys collected for licenses as provided herein, shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the game and fish preservation fund, which fund is hereby created, and the moneys in said fund shall be applied to the payment of the expenses incurred in the prosecution of offenders, and for the revenue to pay fish and game wardens and deputies when necessary to hire deputy fish and game warden or wardens.

2107. Lost license, how restored.

SEC. 7. Not more than one license shall be issued to any one person for the same fiscal year, except upon an affidavit by the applicant that the one issued has been lost or destroyed, and no license issued as herein provided shall be transferable, or used by any other person than the one to whom it was issued.

2108. Must exhibit license; penalty for failure.

SEC. 8. Every person having a license as provided herein, who while hunting or fishing refuses to exhibit such license upon the demand of any officer authorized to enforce the fish and game laws of the state, or any other peace officer of the state, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and every person lawfully having said license, who transfers or disposes of the same to another person to be used as a hunting or fishing license, shall forfeit the same.

2109. Punishment.

SEC. 9. Every person violating any of the provisions of this act shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not less than $10, nor more than $100, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than five, nor more than fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

2110. County money appropriated.

SEC. 10. There is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the county treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of seventy-five dollars for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, to be used by the board of county commissioners for the printing and binding of suitable books and blanks required herein, and for the purchase of metal licenses. The county auditor is hereby directed to draw his warrant for said amount in favor of said board of county commissioners at such times and in such amounts as may be needed from time to time, and the treasurer is hereby directed to pay the same.

2111. Exceptions.

SEC. 11. The provisions of this act shall not apply to any person who, on his own land, during the open season, hunts, pursues or kills any of the wild birds or animals, or takes or catches any of the fish protected by the laws of this state, nor to women or to boys under fourteen years of age.

2112. Where license shall be procured.

SEC. 12. The license herein provided for shall be procured from the county of which the applicant is a resident, and may be used in any county in the State of Nevada. Nonresidents of the state may procure a license in any county.

An Act to prevent the shipment of wild game from this state.

2113. Penalty.

SECTION 1. Every railroad company, express company, transportation company, or other common carrier, their officers, agents and servants, and every other person who shall transport, carry or take out of this state, or who shall receive for the purpose of transporting from the state, any deer, buck, doe or fawn or any mountain sheep or antelope, or any quail, sage chicken, prairie chicken, grouse, dove, wild duck or goose, except for purposes of propagation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Any person found guilty of a violation of any of the provisions of this section, shall be fined in a sum not less than twenty ($20) dollars nor more than five hundred ($500) dollars or be imprisoned in the county jail not less than ten nor more than ninety days or by both such fine and imprisonment.

FORESTRY

To provide for protection of timbered lands, sections 2114-2117.

To preserve young forest trees, sections 2118-2120.

An Act to provide for the protection of timbered lands.

Approved March 3, 1871, 113

2114. Unlawful to cut or remove timber.

SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful for any person or corporation to cut down or remove, or cause to be cut down or removed, any wood, timber, or trees on or from any land in this state, to which land this state, or any person or corporation has or may have an inchoate title, or any title less than fee simple, and the provisions of this section shall apply to the owner of such inchoate title, or title less than fee simple, the same as to other persons and corporations.

2115. Cutting timber, misdemeanor.

SEC. 2. If any owner of an inchoate title to land in this state, or title to such land less than fee simple, or any other person or corporation, shall violate the provisions of the first section of this act, such person or corporation shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars.

2116. Cutting timber on state land, penalty.

SEC. 3. If any person shall cut down or remove any tree, wood, or timber from any land in this state, to which this state has a fee simple title, or an inchoate title, by reason of grant from the United States, such person shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by fine as provided in section 2 of this act.

2117. Issue of fact as to title to real estate—Timber for domestic purposes.

SEC. 4. If an issue of fact be joined, as to the title to real estate, in any action under the provisions of this act, such action shall thereupon be certified by the justice of the peace in whose court it may be pending to the district court of the same county, and therein tried and finally determined as if the same had been originally commenced therein; provided, that nothing in this act shall be so construed as to affect or impair the provisions of an act entitled "An act prescribing the mode of maintaining and defending possessory actions on public lands in this state," approved March ninth, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five [see sec. 5849, et seq.]; and provided further, that nothing in this act contained shall be so construed as to prevent the cutting and using by actual settlers upon such lands as are herein specified of such wood as may be necessary for domestic uses, or of such timber as may be necessary for making permanent improvements upon such lands.

An Act to preserve young forest trees.

2118. Misdemeanor to sell certain kinds of wood.

SECTION 1. It shall be a misdemeanor to sell or offer for sale any live or growing wood obtained from any common, white, yellow, or sugar-pine tree, or any fir, tamarack, spruce, or flat-leaved cedar tree less than one foot in diameter two feet from the ground.

2119. Object, to protect water supply.

SEC. 2. The object of this act is to protect the second or later growth of wood and timber on lands in this state, and it shall be [so] construed, in order that the natural water supply of the state may be preserved and its young forests saved from wanton destruction.

2120. Penalty.

SEC. 3. Any person convicted of the violation of any provision of this act shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500), or imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not to exceed six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

FRANCHISES

To provide for the sale of street railway franchises in towns, sections 2121-2128.

Concerning the granting of franchises by boards of county commissioners, sections 2129-2141.

See, also, Corporations, secs. 1261-1264.

An Act to provide for the sale of street railway franchises in the towns of this state, and matters properly relating thereto.

Approved March 19, 1901, 79

2121. Street railway franchises.

2122. Proposals to be advertised.

2123. Proceeds of sale of.

2124. Proviso.

2128. Duration of franchise.

2121. Street railway franchises.

SECTION 1. The county commissioners, town trustees, aldermen, supervisors or other authorities directly entrusted with the management of affairs of any town or city in this state, shall be and hereby are authorized to sell to the highest responsible bidder any street railway franchise through and over any street or streets of such town, according to the provisions of section 2 of this act.

2122. Proposals to be advertised.

SEC. 2. Whenever any person, persons, association, company or corporation shall apply to the proper authorities of any town in this state, for a franchise to construct and operate a street railway within the limits of such town, then the said authorities, whether a board of aldermen, town trustees, county commissioners or supervisors, shall advertise in full the proposed franchise, offering the same for sale to the highest responsible bidder. The advertisement of said franchise shall be published for a period of not less than ninety days, and no privilege shall be conveyed or granted by the said town authorities to any successful bidder, unless the same privilege shall have appeared in full in the advertisement for bids, as an essential part thereof. Beside the essential and all features of the proposed franchise, said advertisement shall contain a statement naming the day upon which all bids for said franchise will be opened, and shall state in detail and specifically the street or streets over and through which the proposed street railway is to run, so that the entire course and extent thereof shall be clearly shown; and no franchise shall be given or issued which has not been so specifically and fully described and advertised.

2123. Proceeds of sale of.

SEC. 3. The entire proceeds of the sale of such franchise as may be sold, in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall be devoted to and expended for the purpose of improving and paving the streets of said town.

2124. Proviso.

SEC. 4. No franchise granted according to the provisions of this act shall be construed so as to in any way interfere with the ordinary and necessary procedure of the town authorities in establishing or conducting any of the essential features of town improvement or the maintenance of sewers, water and gas pipes, cross walks, paving or other public convenience.

2125. Streets to be kept in good repair.

SEC. 5. Every purchaser of a franchise, according to the provisions of this act, and every person, persons, company, association or corporation, operating the street railway under said franchise, shall maintain and keep in repair, equally as good as the adjoining portions of the street, immediately surrounding or including said track, that portion of the street included between the rails of said track and also for a distance of two feet outside of said track, on each side thereof.

2126. To furnish bond.

SEC. 6. Every person, persons, company, association or corporation, purchasing a franchise under the provisions of this act, shall furnish a good and sufficient bond to faithfully carry out the provisions under which the franchise is purchased.

2127. Cost of advertising, how paid.

SEC. 7. The cost of advertising according to the provisions of this act shall be paid by the successful bidder, but the first applicant for the franchise must deposit with the proper town officials a sum sufficient to pay the cost of advertising as herein provided, and any other necessary incidental expense, which sum so deposited shall be returned to the first applicant in case some other bidder is successful and gets the franchise.

2128. Duration of franchise.

SEC. 8. No franchise shall be given under the provisions of this act for a period longer than twenty years.

An Act concerning the granting of franchises by boards of county commissioners, prescribing the terms under which said franchises shall be granted, and repealing certain acts pertaining thereto, and allowing corporations, associations and persons having franchises obtained under other laws of this state to obtain the benefits of this act, and providing for other matters properly connected therewith.

2140. Certain acts repealed—Proviso.

2141. Certain act not repealed.

2129. Certain franchises, when granted.

SECTION 1. The board of county commissioners of any county in this state is hereby authorized and empowered to grant to any person, company, corporation, or association the franchise, right, and privilege to construct, install, operate, and maintain street railways, electric light, heat, and power lines, gas and water mains, telephone and telegraph lines, and all necessary or proper appliances used in connection therewith or appurtenant thereto, in the streets, alleys, avenues, and other places in any unincorporated town or city in such county, and along the public roads and highways of such county, when the applicant therefor shall comply with the terms and provisions of this act.

2130. Mode of application for—Duration.

SEC. 2. Any person, company, corporation or association desiring such franchise, right or privilege for any purpose specified in section 1 of this act shall file with the board of county commissioners of the county wherein such franchise, right or privilege is to be exercised, an application in writing which shall contain and set forth: First, the name of the applicant and the time for which said franchise, right or privilege is desired, not exceeding twenty-five years. Second, the places where such franchise, right or privilege is to be exercised, and, if in any unincorporated town or city, the streets, avenues, alleys and other places through, over, under or along which such franchise, right or privilege is sought. Third, if such application shall be for a street railway, it shall contain a designation of the route of the proposed line in any such county, and shall specify the width of ground desired to be included in its right of way. Fourth, a map or plat correctly showing and delineating, so far as practicable, the proposed route, or right of way of any such street railway, light, heat or power, telegraph or telephone lines, and the places where such gas or water mains shall be laid or installed.

2131. Petition—Advertisement.

SEC. 3. An applicant shall also file with such application and as a part thereof, if such franchise, right or privilege is to be exercised within any unincorporated town or city in such county, a petition in writing, signed by a majority of the resident taxpayers of such unincorporated town or city. Said taxpayers must be residents and owners of real estate situated in said county, and paying taxes upon said real estate; provided, that if such street railway, electric light, heat, and power lines, gas, and water mains, telegraph and telephone lines shall not pass through any unincorporated town, or city, no petition need be filed with the said application for the franchise. Upon receipt of such application for such franchise, right or privilege, accompanied by a deposit sufficient in amount to cover the cost of publication, to be fixed by said board of county commissioners, it shall be the duty of such board to cause such application to be published once a week for four consecutive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation, published in such county nearest the place where such application shall take effect, if such there be, and if not, then such application shall be posted for a like period by the county clerk of such county in three public places therein, together with a notice specifying a day not later than ten days after the completion of such publication, or, at the next regular meeting of such board after the completion of such period of publication, when objections to the granting of such franchise, right or privilege as applied for, shall be heard.

2132. Objections, how heard.

SEC. 4. On the day specified in such notice for the hearing thereof, or at the next regular meeting of such board thereafter, all objections to the granting of such franchise shall be presented to said board of county commissioners. The board shall proceed at once with the consideration of the application, but may adjourn the hearing from time to time, not exceeding in all thirty (30) days, until a final decision is reached.

2133. Petition, when granted.

SEC. 5. If upon full consideration of all the facts the board of county commissioners determine that a majority of the resident taxpayers, as hereinbefore provided, have signed said petition and desire said franchise allowed, they shall fix the terms and prescribe the conditions under which said franchise is to be granted, the character or kinds of service to be rendered, the maximum rates to be charged for the service, and such other matters properly connected therewith; and shall thereupon grant such franchise subject to said terms and conditions.

2134. Guarantee required.

SEC. 6. The county commissioners at the time of granting any such authority, franchise and right of way, shall require the applicant to enter into an undertaking to the county in a sum to be determined by the board of county commissioners, with surety or sureties approved by such board, conditioned that such applicant shall commence active construction of such telephone, telegraph, light, heat or power lines, the laying of gas or water mains, or such street-car system, for which such franchise, right or privilege is granted, within sixty days from the date of the granting of such franchise, right or privilege, and prosecute the construction thereof to completion with due diligence; failing to comply with the conditions of such undertaking to pay into the treasury of the county to which such undertaking is given the sum of money mentioned therein and forfeit all rights to such franchise, right or privilege.

2135. Certain portion of profits to school fund.

SEC. 7. Every applicant for a franchise for any of the purposes mentioned in section 1 of this act, shall, within ten days after such franchise is granted, file with the county recorder of such county an agreement properly executed by the grantee of such franchise, right or privilege to pay annually on the first Monday of July of each year to the county treasurer of the county wherein such franchise, right or privilege is to be exercised, for the benefit of the school fund of such county, two per cent of the net profits made by such grantee in the operation of any public utility for which such franchise is granted, and no power, function, right or privilege shall be exercised until such agreement shall be filed.

2136. Grantee to submit statement.

SEC. 8. The grantee of any franchise, right or privilege secured under the terms and provisions of this act shall file annually, on or before the first Monday of March in each year, with the assessor of the county wherein it is engaged in business, under such franchise, right or privilege, an affidavit made by its president and secretary setting forth the gross receipts and expenses for the preceding year, and the net profits, if any, for the same period.

2137. Details of construction.

SEC. 9. Every person, company, corporation or association receiving a franchise under the provisions of this act shall provide a plant with all necessary appurtenances of approved construction for the full performance of his, her, their or its franchise duties, rights and obligations, and for the needs, comfort and convenience of the inhabitants of the various unincorporated towns and cities, county or place to which such franchise relates; shall keep such plants and appurtenances, including all tracks, cars, poles, wires, pipes, mains and other attachments in good repair, so as not to interfere with the passage of persons or vehicles, or the safety of persons or property. The board of county commissioners shall, when granting such franchise have authority to so fix and direct the location of all tracks, poles, wires, mains, pipes and other appurtenances upon the public streets, alleys, avenues and highways as to best serve the convenience of the public, and such board shall likewise have authority to change the location of any such appurtenances and permit, upon proper showing, all necessary extensions thereof when the interest or convenience of the public shall so require. All poles, except poles from which trolley wires are suspended for street-car lines, from which wires are suspended for electric railroads, power, light or heating purposes within the boundaries of unincorporated towns and over public highways shall not be less than thirty (30) feet in height, and the wires strung thereon shall not be less than twenty-five feet above the ground, and every person, company, association or corporation operating a telephone, telegraph or electric light, heat or power line, or any electric railway line, shall, with due diligence, provide itself, at its expense, a competent electrician to cut, repair and replace wires in all cases where such cutting or repairing or replacing is made necessary by the removal of buildings or other property through the public streets or highways. And no person, company, corporation or association shall be granted an exclusive franchise nor shall any board of county commissioners have authority to grant a franchise in such manner or under such terms or conditions as to hinder or obstruct the granting of franchises to other grantees, or in such manner as to obstruct or impede reasonable competition in any business or public service to which this act applies.

2138. Eminent domain.

SEC. 10. If the owner of any real property upon or over which the proposed line of the grantee of the franchise is to run, shall object to the use of his said property for such purpose, the land reasonably necessary therefor may be condemned in the manner prescribed by law for the condemnation of land for the public use, such condemnation to be in a proceeding brought for the purpose by the grantee of the franchise. If any property, real or personal, abutting or adjacent to the line of the right of way of said franchise shall be injured or damaged by the running or operation of the said line under said franchise, the grantee of the franchise shall be liable, in an action at law, for all such injuries and damages, due to the negligence of the grantee.

2139. Other acts also govern.

SEC. 11. All persons, companies, associations or corporations in the business of conducting street railways, telephone, telegraph, electric light and power lines, gas or water mains in any of the cities, towns or places mentioned in this act under the provisions of any other act providing for the granting of such franchises, and who or which has not fully complied with the provisions of the act under which his, her, their, or its franchise was obtained, may, nevertheless, have and enjoy all the privileges and benefits of this act; provided, that such person, company, association or corporation shall, within six months after the passage of this act, file in the office of the secretary of state, and in the office of the county recorder of the county in which such person, company, corporation or association maintains its principal office or place of business, a duly executed and acknowledged acceptance of the terms, conditions and provisions of this act, which acceptance, in case of a corporation, shall be evidenced by a duly attested or certified copy of a resolution of its board of directors; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to relieve any such person, company, association or corporation of any duty or obligation provided in any act or contained in any franchise under which any person, company, association or corporation is now operating.

2140. Certain acts repealed—Proviso.

SEC. 12. An act granting to persons and corporations the right to supply electric power, heat and light to the inhabitants of the counties, cities and counties, cities and towns of the State of Nevada, and granting to such persons and corporations the right to construct and maintain poles and wires on the county roads and highways and in the streets of said cities and counties, cities and towns of this state, and to conduct electricity over said wires, and provide for the punishment of obstruction, hindrance or damage thereto, approved March 2, 1901, the same being chapter 25 of the Laws of 1901; also an act entitled "An act to define the rights and responsibilities of owners of electric light lines and power lines in the State of Nevada," approved March 29, 1907, the same being chapter 190 of the Laws of 1907; also "An act to empower the county commissioners of the several counties of the State of Nevada to grant a right of way for the construction of telephone, telegraph and electric power lines, underground pipe lines, street-car lines and other railway lines across and along the public roads and highways of the State of Nevada, and matters relating thereto," approved March 29, 1907, the same being chapter 196 of the Laws of 1907, and all other acts and parts of acts conflicting with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed; provided, however, that neither this repealing clause nor any other provision of this act shall be so construed as to deprive the railroad commission of Nevada, or any public service commission of this state now existing or hereafter created, of full power to regulate and control, as prescribed by law, the service, practices, regulations and charges subject to the maximum charges fixed by the board of county commissioners upon granting the franchise, and subject also to the provisions of section 7 of this act, of all public utilities receiving franchises as herein provided.

2141. Certain act not repealed.

SEC. 13. This act shall not be construed in any way to repeal any portion of an act entitled "An act concerning franchises for furnishing electric light, heat, and power," approved March 20, 1909.

2142. Amount exempt—Except purchase money—Mortgages—Selection of property—Held as joint tenants.

SECTION 1. The homestead, consisting of a quantity of land, together with the dwelling-house thereon and its appurtenances, not exceeding in value five thousand dollars, to be selected by the husband and wife, or either of them, or other head of a family, shall not be subject to forced sale on execution, or any final process from any court, for any debt or liability contracted or incurred after November thirteenth, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, except process to enforce the payment of the purchase money for such premises, or for improvements made thereon, or for legal taxes imposed thereon, or for the payment of any mortgage thereon, executed and given by both husband and wife, when that relation exists. Said selection shall be made by either the husband or wife or both of them, or other head of a family, declaring their intention in writing to claim the same as a homestead. Said declaration shall state when made by a married person or persons that they or either of them are married, or if not married, that he or she is the head of a family, and they or either of them, as the case may be, are, at the time of making such declaration, residing with their family, or with the person or persons under their care and maintenance, on the premises, particularly describing said premises, and that it is their intention to use and claim the same as a homestead, which declaration shall be signed by the party or parties making the same, and acknowledged and recorded as conveyances affecting real estate are required to be acknowledged and recorded; and from and after the filing for record of said declaration, the husband and wife shall be deemed to hold said homestead as joint tenants; provided, that if the property declared upon as a homestead be the separate property of either spouse, both must join in the execution and acknowledgment of the declaration; and if such property shall retain its character of separate property until the death of one or the other of such spouses, then and in that event the homestead right shall cease in and upon said property, and the same belong to the party (or his or her heirs) to whom it belonged when filed upon as a homestead; and, provided further, that tenants in common may declare for homestead rights upon their respective estates in lands, and the improvements thereon; and hold and enjoy homestead rights and privileges therein, subject to the rights of their cotenants, to enforce partition of such common property as in other cases of tenants in common. As amended, Stats. 1879, 140.

For constitutional provisions, see sec. 288, ante.

Upon death of husband, widow or children entitled to remain in possession of homestead and have same set apart for them. See secs. 5956, 5957.

The homestead right is purely statutory, not existing at common law.

If a declaration of homestead is filed on community property by either spouse, the homestead vests in the survivor on the death of either, and the court must set aside the homestead in community property, even though it was not declared during the life of a deceased spouse; the property being exempt from debts of the surviving spouse or sale under execution.

Stats. 1861, c. 55, regulating the settlement of estates, provided in sec. 123 for the setting aside of the homestead to the widow and minor children, and sec. 126 provided that if there was no law in force exempting property from execution certain property should be set aside, including the homestead, as defined in that section. The homestead act of 1865 (Stats. 1864-65, c. 72), sec. 1, as amended in 1879 (Stats. 1879, c. 131) provided that if the property declared a homestead be separate property both must join in the declaration, and if it remain separate property until the death of one spouse homestead rights therein shall cease, and it shall belong to the party or his heirs to whom it belonged when filed upon; and sec. 4 of the act of 1879 (Stats. 1879, c. 131) provided that no exemption to the surviving spouse should be allowed, where the homestead declaration had been filed upon the separate property of either spouse, as provided in sec. 1. Section 101 of the act of 1897 (Stats. 1897, c. 106) authorizes the court, upon the return of the inventory, to set apart for the use of decedent's family the homestead as designated by the general homestead law "now in force," whether designated as required by said law or not; and further provides that if the property declared upon to be separate property both spouses must join in the declaration, and if it remain separate property until the death of one the homestead rights shall cease, and it shall belong to the party to whom it belonged when filed upon. Sec. 126 of the act of 1861 was omitted from the act of 1897, and sec. 123, corresponding to sec. 101 of the latter act, was modified. Held, under sec. 101, construed with the other statutes, that a widow cannot have set apart to her as a homestead land which was her husband's separate property at his death, and had not been declared on as a homestead; there being other heirs. In re Cook, 33 Nev. — (117 P. 27).

Under former act (Stats. 1861, 24) the following decision was rendered:

Erecting a house and residing therein with one's family dedicates that building as a homestead. It makes no difference that the house erected is large or suitable for a lodging-house and used for such purpose. Being once dedicated as a homestead, it can only be divested of that character by the joint deed of husband and wife. A married woman can only convey by following prescribed forms.

No conveyance by the husband alone, and no lease made by him, could divest the property of its character as a homestead.

The statute which requires the owner of the property to make his claim of homestead is merely directory, and if the husband does not make such claim and point out the homestead property to the officers when it was levied on, the wife may do so. Goldman v. Clarke, 1 Nev. 607-611.

Cited, In re Cooke, 33 Nev. — (117 P. 30).

The law exempts from forced sale a tract of land on which the homestead is located to the extent of $5,000 in value.

It does not limit or prescribe the other uses to which the land may be put if one use it for a homestead.

It makes no difference that the land is divided by imaginary lines. The entire tract of land, if not exceeding above value, is protected.

When the homestead tract does not exceed above value, the husband cannot execute a mortgage on any portion thereof without the concurrence of the wife. Clarke v. Sharon, 1 Nev. 568-572.

See Hawthorne v. Smith, 3 Nev. 182 (93 A. D. 397), under sec. 288, ante.

See Hopper v. Parkinson, 5 Nev. 238, under sec. 288, ante.

A decree ordering the sale of property claimed by one of the partners as a homestead, will not be set aside where the evidence shows the partnership is insolvent; that the partner claiming the homestead is largely indebted to it; that partnership funds were used to considerable extent in building the house claimed as a homestead and there is some evidence that the land was purchased and improvements made with money derived from that source alone. Rhodes v. Williams, 12 Nev. 21.

Repeals by implication are not favored, and are only held to have occurred in case of irreconcilable repugnancy between the latter and former enactments, where the two cannot stand together and there is no such repugnancy between probate act and the homestead act.

Under this act the homestead is exempted from liability for the debts of the owner, so long, at least, as he continues the head of the family, no matter whether the debts were contracted before or after the family relation commenced or before or after the homestead was dedicated.

The only effect of a written abandonment of a homestead was to invest the husband with the power to alienate the premises or subject them to some specific lien during the continuance of the abandonment. Estate of Walley, 11 Nev. 260, 263.

See, Smith v. Stewart, 13 Nev. 69, 74-76, under sec. 288, ante.

When a declaration of homestead is filed, the property is held by husband and wife as joint tenants, and upon the death of either the homestead property vests absolutely in the survivor. (Beatty, J., dissenting.) Smith v. Shrieves, 13 Nev. 303, 309, 315-318, 327.

See, Roberts v. Greer, 22 Nev. 318, 332, under sec. 288, ante.

A homestead cannot be carved out of land held and claimed by parties as copartners. Terry v. Berry, 13 Nev. 515.

A tenant in common cannot acquire a right of homestead to government land of which he is in possession for himself and his cotenants. Reinhart v. Bradshaw, 19 Nev. 255 (9 P. 245).

No person is entitled to the benefit of the homestead law without filing a written declaration claiming the premises as a homestead. Lachman v. Walker, 15 Nev. 422-424.

A homestead in fact, in the absence of a recorded declaration that it has been selected as such, can be mortgaged by the husband alone, without the consent of his wife. Child v. Singleton, 15 Nev. 461, 463, 464.

A wife who has filed a declaration of homestead on community property is not affected with notice of a prior recorded mortgage executed by her husband which misdescribes the property. Adams v. Baker, 24 Nev. 162, 169 (77 A. S. 799, 51 P. 252).

Cited, State ex rel. N. T. G. & T. Co. v. Grimes, 29 Nev. 29.

The issue as to whether property sought to be set aside to a widow of a homestead is separate or community property, is raised by a petition showing that the husband was in possession when he died; the presumption being in favor of the community in such case. State ex rel. Cook v. Langan, 32 Nev. 176, 105 P. 568.

2143. Exemption not to extend to liens—Abandonment.

SEC. 2. Such exemption shall not extend to any mechanic's, laborer's, or vendor's lien lawfully obtained; but no mortgage or alienation of any kind, made for the purpose of securing a loan or indebtedness upon the homestead property, shall be valid for any purpose whatsoever; provided, that a mortgage or alienation to secure the purchase money, or pay the purchase money, shall be valid if the signature of the wife be obtained to the same, and acknowledged by her separately and apart from her husband; nor shall said homestead property be deemed to be abandoned without a declaration thereof in writing, signed and acknowledged by both husband and wife, or other head of a family, and recorded in the same office and in the same manner as the declaration of claim to the same is required to be recorded, and the acknowledgment of the wife to such declaration of abandonment shall be taken separately and apart from her husband; provided, that if the wife be not a resident of this state, her signature and the acknowledgment thereof shall not be necessary to the validity of any mortgage or alienation of said homestead before it becomes the homestead of the debtor.

That portion of above act, in so far as it provides that no valid mortgage for the purpose of securing a loan or indebtedness can be made by husband or wife upon their homestead, is unconstitutional. Dunker v. Chedie, 4 Nev. 378.

The provisions of art. 4 of Const. sec. 30

(ante, 288), expressly prohibits the legislature from exempting the homestead from forced sale upon a lien created by husband and wife for a loan or indebtedness. Idem.

See Hawthorne v. Smith, Dunker v. Chedie, Hopper v. Parkinson, under preceding section and ante, 288.

2144. Appraisalment when value exceeds amount exempt—Excess to be sold—Entire premises to be sold, when.

SEC. 3. Whenever execution has been issued against the property of a party claiming said property as a homestead, and the creditor in such judgment shall make oath before the judge of the district court of the county in which such premises are situated, that the cash value of such premises exceeds, to the best of the creditor's information and belief, the sum of five thousand dollars, it shall be the duty of such judge, upon notice to the debtor, to appoint three disinterested and competent persons as appraisers to estimate and report as to the value of such premises, and if the same exceeds said sum, whether they can be divided so as to leave the premises amounting to the homestead exemption without material injury. If it appear, upon such report, to the satisfaction of the judge, that the premises can be thus divided, he shall order the excess to be sold under execution. If it appear that the premises cannot be thus divided, and the value thereof exceeds the exemption allowed by this act, he shall order the entire premises to be sold, and out of the proceeds the sum of five thousand dollars to be paid to the defendant in execution, and the excess to be applied to the satisfaction on the execution; provided, that no bid shall be received by the officer making the sale under five thousand dollars; and provided, further, that when the execution is against the husband, whose wife is living, the judge may, in his discretion, direct the five thousand dollars to be deposited in court, to be paid out only upon the joint receipt of the husband and wife, and it shall possess all the protection against legal process and voluntary disposition of the husband as were the original homestead premises.

2145. To revert in case of death—Proviso—Exemption and descent to heirs—Litigation.

SEC. 4. The homestead and all other property exempt by law from sale under execution, shall, upon the death of either spouse, be set apart by the court as the sole property of the surviving spouse, for his or her benefit and that of his or her legitimate child or children; and in the event of there being no surviving spouse, or legitimate child or children of either, then the property shall be subject to administration and to the payment of his or her debts and liabilities; provided, that the exemption made by this act and the act of which it is amendatory shall not extend to unmarried persons, except when they have the care and maintenance of minor brothers or sisters, or both, or of a brother's or sister's minor children, or of a father or mother, or of grandparents, or unmarried sisters living in the house with them; and in all such cases the exemption shall cease upon the cessation of the terms upon which it is granted; and upon the death of such unmarried person, the property shall descend to his or her heirs, as in other cases, unless disposed of by will, subject to administration and the payment of debts and liabilities; and, provided further, that no exemption to the surviving spouse shall be allowed in cases where the homestead declaration has been filed upon the separate property of either husband or wife, as provided in section 1 of this act; provided, nothing in this act shall be held or construed to in any manner affect existing rights or pending litigation; but all such rights and litigation shall be determined by the act before in force, and of which this act is amendatory, As amended, Stats. 1879, 141.

In construing the homestead law of this state: Held, that when a declaration of homestead is filed, the property is held by the husband and wife as joint tenants, and that upon the death of either the homestead property vests absolutely in the survivor. Smith v. Shrieves, 13 Nev. 303.

When no declaration has been filed upon the homestead property, no joint tenancy is created; in such case, if it was common property, one-half vested in the wife upon the death of the husband, and the other half vested in the minor children of said deceased and his wife. Idem.

See Roberts v. Greer, 22 Nev. 318.

See Estate of Walley and Smith v. Shrieves, under sec. 1 of this act.

The words "set apart" in this act and the probate law are used in the sense that property set apart should belong absolutely to the persons for whose benefit the statute made provision. Powell v. Campbell, 20 Nev. 240 (19 A. S. 350, 2 L. R. A. 615, 20 P. 156).

See Roberts v. Greer, 22 Nev. 327, under sec. 288, ante.

It is no objection to the allowance to a widow and minor children of a $5,000 homestead out of property valued at $7,500, that the order fails to define the boundary or extent of the premises necessary to reach the sum allowed, and fails to find whether they can be divided. Quinn v. Quinn, 27 Nev. 176 (74 P. 5).

2146. How to convey when wife is insane.

SEC. 5. If the wife of any owner of a homestead shall be insane, and such owner shall desire to convey such homestead, or any interest therein, he may petition the district court in which such homestead may be situated for license to convey the same, and such court, upon reasonable and not less than twenty days' notice of such petition to the kindred of such insane wife, residing in this state (which notice may be personal or by publication in some newspaper in the county, or directed by the court), may hear and determine such petition, and may license such owner to convey such homestead, or any interest therein, by his sole deed; which license shall be recorded in the office where such homestead is recorded, and thereupon such sole deed shall have the same operation as if such wife had been sane and joined in such deed.

2147. Idem—Court may make special order.

SEC. 6. On granting such license, such court may make such special order as to the investment or disposition of the funds derived from conveyance, as a court of chancery could do in the case of the funds of married women.

2148. Idem—Appeal allowed.

SEC. 7. On the hearing of such petition for license, any of such kindred may appear and be heard in the premises, and may appeal from any order made on the subject in the same manner provided for other appeals from decrees of the district court.

2149. Property not exempt from sale for taxes.

SEC. 8. Nothing in this act shall be so construed as exempting any real or personal property from sale for taxes.

2150. Regarded as gold coin.

SEC. 9. In all cases wherein an amount or sum is stated in this act the same shall be held and regarded as so much money in gold coin.

2154. Baggage heretofore left may be sold.

2151. Proprietor may sell baggage.

SECTION 1. Whenever any person shall leave a hotel or lodging-house, indebted to the proprietor or proprietors thereof, and shall remain absent for the period of six months, it shall be lawful for such proprietor or proprietors to sell, or cause to be sold, at public auction, any baggage or property of such person so indebted, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay such indebtedness, expenses and charges of sale, which may have been left at such hotel or lodging-house by such person.

2152. Proceeds, how disposed of.

SEC. 2. All baggage or property, of whatever description, left at a hotel or lodging-house for the period of twelve months, may be sold at public auction by the proprietor or proprietors thereof, and the proceeds arising from such sale, after deducting the expenses and charges of sale and storage, shall be paid over to the county treasurer of the county in which such baggage or property is left, to be held by him for the period of six months for the benefit of the owner thereof, at which time, if the same be not paid to the owner, or some person legally entitled to the same, it shall be transferred to the school fund of the county.

2153. Sales, how made.

SEC. 3. All sales made under the preceding sections of this act shall be made by a licensed auctioneer, or by some constable of the township in which such baggage or property may be left; provided, that no sale shall be valid unless a notice of such sale shall be posted up in three public places in such township for the period of twenty days immediately preceding the day of sale, giving a particular description of the property to be sold, the time and place of such sale, the name of the hotel or lodging-house at which such baggage or property may be left, the names of the owner or owners of such baggage or property, when known, and signed by such auctioneer or constable.

2154. Baggage heretofore left may be sold.

SEC. 4. It shall be lawful for the proprietor or proprietors of any hotel or lodging-house, at which any baggage or property may have heretofore been left, to cause the same to be sold under the provisions of this act; provided, that for the purposes of such sale, such baggage or property shall be considered as left at such hotel or lodging-house at the date of the passage of this act.

2155. Separate property of wife—Of husband.

SECTION 1. All property of the wife, owned by her before marriage, and that acquired by her afterwards by gift, bequest, devise, or descent, with the rents, issues, and profits thereof, is her separate property; and all property of the husband, owned by him before marriage, and that acquired by him afterwards by gift, bequest, devise, or descent, with the rents, issues, and profits thereof, is his separate property.

The rights of husband and wife to property acquired before the adoption of the constitution, and before the passage of any statute providing for the separate or common property of husband and wife, must be governed by the common law. Darrenberger v. Haupt, 10 Nev. 43, 46.

The act of 1865, 239, did not operate retrospectively so as to affect the rights or interests of husband and wife to property previously acquired. Idem.

Prior to the adoption of this statute property rights are governed by the common law, 2156. Community property.

SEC. 2. All other property acquired, after marriage, by either husband or wife, or both, except as provided in sections 14 and 15 in this act, is community property.

In a complaint by a husband to recover a chose in action given in the name of his wife, but belonging to the community, it is sufficient for him, to show his right of action, to allege either that he is the owner or that it is common property, and even both allegations in the same complaint will not render it demurrable. Crow v. Vansickle, 6 Nev. 146.

The husband for the purpose of bringing suit upon choses in action which are common property, so far as the disposition of said property is concerned, is the sole owner, and he alone is the proper party to bring actions upon them. Idem.

In a suit on a note given in the name of a wife, though in fact the common property of herself and husband, she has no such interest as to make her a necessary or proper party. Idem.

In an action against husband and wife, where the wife recovered judgment for costs, but judgment was rendered against the husband for a sum in excess of the wife's judgment, it was proper to allow plaintiff's motion to discharge the larger judgment pro tanto by the smaller, since the parties are substantially the same. Adams v. Baker, 24 Nev. 375-378 (55 P. 362).

The presumption is that all property acquired during coverture belongs to the community, and the burden rests upon the per-2157. Inventory of separate property of wife recorded—Supplemental inventory.

SEC. 3. A full and complete inventory of the separate property of the wife, exclusive of money in specie, must be made out and signed by her, and all the property which was owned by the husband at the time of marriage is his separate property, and the rents, issues and profits of his separate estate do not become common property. Lake v. Bender, 18 Nev. 361 (4 P. 711).

Property which is exempt from execution by statute may be transferred by the owner free from any claim of his creditors, and a gift of such property by a husband to his wife is valid and cannot be defeated by his creditors. Bailey v. Littell, 24 Nev. 294, 305 (53 P. 308).

son claiming it as separate property to overcome this presumption by sufficient proof. Lake v. Bender, 18 Nev. 361, 404, 411 (4 P. 711).

It is not necessary to prove that property is the product of the joint efforts of husband and wife in order that it may be declared community estate. If it is acquired after marriage by the efforts of the husband alone and not by gift, grant or devise, or by exchange of his individual property or from the rents, issues or profits of his separate estates, it belongs to the community. Idem.

The profits of separate property which accrue mainly from the property rather than from the joint efforts of husband and wife, or either of them, belong to the owner of the property, although the labor and skill of one or both may have been given to the business; but if the profits come mainly from the efforts of their labor and skill, they belong to the community. Idem.

Where title to land purchased with money after marriage is taken in the name of the wife, the land is "community property" under the husband's control, so that an action for injury thereto may be maintained by him alone. Malmstrom v. People's D. D. Co., 32 Nev. 246 (107 P. 98, 102).

acknowledged or proved in the manner required for the acknowledgment of proof of a conveyance of real property by an unmarried woman, and shall be recorded, if she be a resident of this state, in the office of the recorder of the county in which she resides; and if there be included in such inventory any real estate lying in any other county, also in the office of the recorder of such other county; or, if she be not a resident of this state, then in the office of the recorder of each county wherein any portion of the property, real or personal, is situated, located, or used; and from time to time thereafter, a further and supplemental inventory shall be made out, signed, acknowledged, or proved and recorded in like manner, of all other separate property afterwards acquired by the wife, excepting money whilst in specie and unconverted, and the rents, issues, and profits of her separate property, included in the original or any subsequent inventory, if the same be money, so long as it shall remain in specie and unconverted.

2158. Filing to be notice.

SEC. 4. When the wife is a resident of this state, the filing for record of the inventory of her separate property in the office of the recorder of the county in which she resides is notice of her title to the same, except as to any real estate situate in another county; and as to such real estate, the filing for record of the inventory thereof, in the office of the recorder of the county wherein the same is situate, is notice of her title thereto. When the wife is not a resident of this state, the filing for record of the inventory of her separate property in the office of the recorder of the county wherein any portion of such property, real or personal, included in the inventory is situate, located, or used, is notice of her title as to all such property situate, located, or used in such county.

2159. Failure to file, effect of.

SEC. 5. When the wife is a resident of this state, the failure to file for record an inventory of her separate property in the office of the recorder of the county in which she resides, or the omission from the inventory, filed for record in such office, of any part of such property, except as to real estate situate in another county, is prima facie evidence, as between the wife and purchasers in good faith and for a valuable consideration from the husband, that the property of which no inventory has been so filed, or which has been omitted from the inventory, is not the separate property of the wife; and as to any real estate situate in another county, the failure to file for record an inventory thereof in the office of the recorder of the county wherein the same is situate, or the omission from the inventory filed for record in such office, of any part of such real estate, is prima facie evidence, as between the wife and such purchasers as aforesaid, that such real estate of which no inventory has been so filed, or which has been omitted from the inventory, is not her separate property. When the wife is not a resident of this state, the failure to file for record an inventory of her separate property in the office of the recorder of the county wherein any portion of such property is situate, located, or used, or the omission from the inventory filed in such office, of any part of such property, is, as to all such property situate, located or used in that county, of which no inventory has been so filed, or which has been omitted from the inventory, prima facie evidence, as between the wife and such purchasers as aforesaid, that the same is not her separate property.

2160. Husband to control community property.

SEC. 6. The husband has the entire management and control of the community property, with the like absolute power of disposition thereof, except as hereinafter provided, as of his own separate estate; provided, that no deed of conveyance, or mortgage, of a homestead as now defined by law regardless of whether a declaration thereof has been filed or not, shall be valid for any purpose whatever unless both the husband and wife execute and acknowledge the same as now provided by law for the conveyance of real estate. As amended, Stats. 1897, 24.

See Adams v. Baker, under secs. 2 and 13 of this act.

2161. No estate in dower or by courtesy.

SEC. 7. No estate is allowed the husband as tenant by courtesy, upon the death of his wife, nor is any estate in dower allotted to the wife upon the death of her husband.

2162. May hold as tenants in common.

SEC. 8. A husband or wife may hold real or personal property as joint tenants, tenants in common, or as community property.

2163. Wife to control her separate property.

SEC. 9. The wife may, without the consent of her husband, convey, charge, incumber, or otherwise in any manner dispose of her separate property.

See secs. 1018, 1036, 1037.

The exception to the common-law disability of a married woman to contract or maintain a suit, in case of abandonment by her husband, does not apply except in case the abandonment is absolute and embraces a total renunciation of marital relations. Beckman v. Stanley, 8 Nev. 257.

The right of married women to alienate land in this state, whether their separate estate or community property, does not depend upon the common law, but upon our statutes; so that a wife's deed or mortgage, without her husband's joining in it, though he has abandoned her for years, is inoperative and void. Idem.

A married woman who holds the title to her separate property may execute a mortgage thereon in her own name. Rickards

v. Hutchinson, 18 Nev. 215, 222 (2 P. 52, 4 P. 702).

The assignment by a married woman of a note and mortgage upon real estate, the same being her separate property, as collateral security for the payment of her husband's debts, without any fraud or improper inducements, and with the intention of binding her separate estate, is a valid contract, and is enforceable in equity against her separate estate. Cartan v. David, 18 Nev. 325-329 (4 P. 61).

Married women having been granted the right to control their separate property, must assume the risks which ordinarily follow. Having the right to make contracts respecting their separate estates, they must be held liable to the same extent as other citizens. Idem.

2164. Upon death of wife community property to go to husband except in abandonment.

SEC. 10. Upon the death of the wife the entire community property belongs, without administration, to the surviving husband, except that in case the husband shall have abandoned his wife and lived separate and apart from her without such cause as would have entitled him to a divorce, the half of the community property subject to the payment of its equal share of the debts chargeable to the estate owned in community by the husband and wife, is at her testamentary disposition in the same manner as her separate property, and in the absence of such disposition goes to her descendants equally, if such descendants are in the same degree of kindred to the decedent; otherwise, according to the right of representation; and in the absence of both such disposition and such descendants, goes to her other heirs at law, exclusive of her husband.

2165. Upon death of husband, how disposed of—Homestead set apart—Property subject to debts of husband.

SEC. 11. Upon the death of the husband one-half of the community property goes to the surviving wife, and the other half is subject to the testamentary disposition of the husband, and in the absence of such disposition goes to his surviving children equally, and in the absence of both such disposition and surviving children, the entire community property belongs without administration to the surviving wife, except as hereinafter provided, subject, however, to all debts contracted by the husband during his life that were not barred by the statute of limitation at the time of his death; provided, however, that the homestead set apart by the husband and wife, or either of them, before his death, and such other property as may be exempt by law from execution or forced sale, shall be set apart for the use of the widow and minor heirs, and if no minor heirs, for the use of the widow. In case of the dissolution of the community by the death of the husband, the entire community property is equally subject to his debts, the family allowance and charges and expense of administration; provided, however, that if in the absence of said testamentary disposition the surviving wife and children, and in the absence of such children the wife shall pay or cause to be paid all indebtedness legally due from said estate, or secure the payment of the same to the satisfaction of the creditors of said estate, then and in such case the said community property shall not be subject to administration. As amended, Stats. 1881, 103; 1883, 16.

Upon the death of an intestate, without issue, leaving a widow and brothers and sisters, a distribution of one-half of the proceeds of real property belonging to the estate to the widow and one-half to the brothers and sisters was held correct under the rules of the common law. Clark v. Clark, 17 Nev. 124, 128 (28 P. 238).

The title to community property after a man's death is vested in the widow, subject to the payment of the debts, and if the widow pays all the indebtedness legally due from the estate, then the community property is not subject to administration. Wright v. Smith, 19 Nev. 143, 146, 147 (7 P. 365).

2166. Division in case of divorce.

SEC. 12. In case of the dissolution of the marriage by decree of any court of competent jurisdiction, the community property must be equally divided between the parties, and the court granting the decree must make such order for the division of the community property, or the sale and equal distribution of the proceeds thereof, as the nature of the case may require; provided, that when the decree of divorce is rendered on the ground of adultery or extreme cruelty, the party found guilty thereof is only entitled to such portion of the community property as the court granting the decree may, in its discretion, from the facts in the case, deem just and allow; and such allowance shall be subject to revision on appeal in all respects, including the exercise of discretion, by the court below.

Upon granting a divorce the question as to the amount of allowance for the support of the wife is left to the legal discretion of the trial court, and should not be interfered with in the appellate court unless the discretion has been abused. Lake v. Bender, 18 Nev. 361, 382, 404 (4 P. 711).

Facts justifying an increase of monthly allowance. Idem.

2167. Earnings of wife.

SEC. 13. The earnings of the wife are not liable for the debts of the husband.

A judgment for costs recovered by a married woman is not her earnings, so as to be exempt from the debts of her husband, especially when there is no showing where the money paid out as costs had been earned by her, but on the contrary it was shown that they were paid out of money "earned, obtained or accumulated" by the husband and wife since their marriage, so as to be community property. Adams v. Baker, 24 Nev. 375-378 (55 P. 362).

2168. Earnings of wife and minor children while living separate.

SEC. 14. The earnings and accumulations of the wife and of her minor children, living with her, or in her custody, while she is living separate from her husband, are the separate property of the wife.

2169. Earnings of wife deemed gift, when.

SEC. 15. When the husband has allowed the wife to appropriate to her own use her earnings, the same, with the issues and profits thereof, is deemed a gift from him to her, and is, with such issues and profits, her separate property.

2170. Debts of wife contracted before marriage.

SEC. 16. The separate property of the husband is not liable for the debts of the wife, contracted before the marriage.

2171. Debts of husband.

SEC. 17. The separate property of the wife is not liable for the debts of her husband, but is liable for her own debts, contracted before or after marriage.

2172. Separate property.

SEC. 18. Except as mentioned in the next section, neither husband nor wife has any interest in the property of the other.

2173. Contract between husband and wife.

SEC. 19. Either husband or wife may enter into any contract, engagement, or transaction with the other, or with any other person, respecting property, which either might enter into if unmarried, subject in any contract, engagement, or transaction between themselves, to the general rules which control the actions of persons occupying relations of confidence and trust towards each other.

See Cartan v. David, under sec. 11 of this act.

The statute in respect to community property recognizes the superiority of the husband. Crawford v. Crawford, 24 Nev. 410, 417 (56 P. 94).

In every fiduciary relation the law implies that one of the parties has a superiority over the other, and that the contract between them is to the advantage of the one presumably superior. Idem.

In this case, after reciting the facts, it was held that there was no evidence of undue influence or fraud vitiating the contract within the rule that conveyances between persons occupying fiduciary or confidential relations are presumably fraudulent. Idem.

2174. Contract of separation.

SEC. 20. A husband and wife cannot by any contract with each other alter their legal relations except as to property, and except that they may agree to an immediate separation, and may make provision for the support of either of them and of their children during such separation.

2175. Idem—Consideration of.

SEC. 21. The mutual consent of the parties is a sufficient consideration for such an agreement as is mentioned in the last section.

2176. Necessaries furnished wife, husband bound for.

SEC. 22. If the husband neglects to make adequate provision for the support of his wife, any other person may, in good faith, supply her with articles necessary for her support, and recover the reasonable value thereof from the husband.

2177. Husband not liable for support, when.

SEC. 23. A husband abandoned by his wife is not liable for her support until she offers to return, unless she was justified by his misconduct in abandoning him.

2178. Support of husband by wife, when required.

SEC. 24. The wife must support the husband out of her separate property, when he has no separate property, and they have no community property, and he, from infirmity, is not able or competent to support himself.

2179. Wife may sue and be sued when living separate.

SEC. 25. When the wife is living separate and apart from her husband she may sue and be sued alone.

2180. Property rights to be governed by this act—Proviso.

SEC. 26. The property rights of husband and wife are governed by this act, unless there is a marriage contract or settlement containing stipulations contrary thereto.

2181. Marriage contracts to be in writing—Form of.

SEC. 27. All marriage contracts or settlements must be in writing, and executed and acknowledged or proved in like manner as a conveyance of land is required to be executed and acknowledged or proved.

2182. Marriage contract to be recorded.

SEC. 28. When such marriage contract or settlement is acknowledged or proved it must be recorded in the office of the recorder, of every county in which any real estate may be situated which is conveyed or affected by such contract.

2183. Record of contract to impart notice.

SEC. 29. When such marriage contract or settlement is deposited in the recorder's office for record it shall, as to all property affected thereby in the county where the same is deposited, impart full notice to all persons of the contents thereof.

Cited, State ex rel. N. T. G. & T. Co. v. Grimes, 29 Nev. 59.

2184. Contract not valid, when.

SEC. 30. No such marriage contract or settlement shall be valid as to any real estate, or affect the same, except as between the parties thereto, until it shall be deposited for record with the recorder of the county in which such real estate is situate.

2185. Marriage contract of minors.

SEC. 31. A minor, capable of contracting marriage, may make a valid marriage contract or settlement.

2186. Acknowledgment of wife to convey realty.

SEC. 32. No estate in the real property a married woman possesses is affected by any conveyance or other instrument, except a will purporting to be executed or acknowledged by her, unless the same be acknowledged by her in the manner that conveyances by married women are required to be acknowledged.

2187. Wife's power of attorney, how acknowledged.

SEC. 33. A power of attorney of a married woman, authorizing the execution of an instrument conveying or affecting her real property, shall be acknowledged as above mentioned.

2188. Acknowledgment, effect of.

SEC. 34. A conveyance or other instrument affecting or relating to real estate, except a will made by a married woman, has no validity until acknowledged as above provided; but when so acknowledged has the same effect as if she were unmarried.

See secs. 1018, 1036, 1037.

2189. Acts repealed—Saving clause.

SEC. 35. An act entitled "An act defining the rights of husband and wife," approved March seventh, eighteen hundred and sixty-five [p. 239], and all other acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act, are hereby repealed; provided, that no rights already vested, or any proceeding already taken, shall be affected by anything in this act contained.

An Act to authorize married women to transact business in their own names as sole traders.

Approved February 6, 1867, 49

2190. Right to transact business, how.

2191. Applicants to give notice—Hearing of application—Order—To be recorded.

2192. Rights and liabilities of sole traders.

2193. Responsible for maintenance of children.

2194. Husband not responsible for wife's debts—Exception.

2190. Right to transact business, how.

SECTION 1. Married women shall have the right to carry on and transact business under their own name, and on their own account, by complying with the regulations prescribed in this act.

The sole trader act was passed for the protection of married women. It was designed only to protect the wife against an improvident and worthless husband. The business in which she is engaged cannot be carried on for the purpose of defrauding any creditor of her husband.

The words "managed" and "superintended," as used in the statute, are synonymous. The husband cannot direct, conduct, or control the business in which his wife is engaged, or any part of it.

If the wife allows the husband to exercise his own judgment and discretion, and to direct, conduct, and control the business, or any separate branch of it, she brings herself within the prohibition of the statute, and must suffer the consequences.

The fact whether the husband was employed at fixed wages or an agreed salary, whether he received a reasonable compensation for his labor or rendered his services gratuitously, would be material in enabling the jury to determine whether or not the transaction was sincere and bona fide, or only a colorable device to cheat, wrong, and defraud the creditors of the husband.

If the husband intermingles his skill, industry and energy with the labor of his wife without receiving, or without any agreement that he should receive, any compensation for his time and attention, then the profits arising from said business, and the property paid for with such funds, would be community property (ante, 2156), and would be liable for the husband's debts. Youngworth v. Jewell, 15 Nev. 45-49.

2191. Applicants to give notice—Hearing of application—Order—To be recorded.

SEC. 2. Any married woman residing within this state, desirous to avail herself of the benefit of this act, shall give notice thereof, by advertising in some public newspaper published in the county in which she has resided, for four successive weeks preceding such application; provided, if no newspaper be published in said county, said publication shall be made by posting advertisements in three of the most public places in said county, four weeks prior to the day of application. Such notice shall set forth that it is her intention to make application to the district court of said county, on the day therein named, for an order of said court permitting her to carry on business in her own name and on her own account; and it shall specially set forth the nature of the business to be carried on. On the day named in the notice, or at such future time as the court may appoint, on filing proof of publication, the court shall proceed to examine the applicant, on oath, as to the reasons which induce her to make the application; and if it appear to the court that a proper case exists, it shall make an order, which shall be entered on the minutes, that the applicant be authorized and empowered to carry on, in her own name and on her own account, the business, trade, profession, or art named in the notice; but the insolvency of the husband, apart from other causes tending to prevent his supporting his family, shall not be deemed to be sufficient cause for granting this application. Any creditor of the husband may oppose such application, and may show that it is made for the purpose of defrauding such creditor, and preventing him from collecting his debt, or will occasion such result, and if it shall so appear to the court, the application shall be denied. On the hearing, witness may be examined on behalf of either party. Before making the order, the court or judge shall administer to the applicant the following oath:

"I, A. B., do, in the presence of Almighty God, truly and solemnly swear, that this application is made in good faith, for the purpose of enabling me to support myself and my children (if the applicant have minor children), and not with any view to defraud, delay, or hinder any creditor or creditors of my husband; and that of the moneys so to be used in said business, not more than five hundred dollars has come, either directly or indirectly, from my husband. So help me God."

A certified copy of such order, with the said oath indorsed thereon, shall be recorded in the office of the recorder of the county where the business is to be carried on, in a book to be kept for such purpose.

Cited, State ex rel. N. T. G. & T. Co. v. Grimes, 29 Nev. 59.

2192. Rights and liabilities of sole traders.

SEC. 3. After the order has been duly made and recorded, as provided in the second section of this act, the person named shall be entitled to carry on such business in her own name, and the property, revenues, moneys, and credits, so invested, shall belong exclusively to such married woman, and shall not be liable for any debts of her husband; and said married woman shall be allowed all the privileges, and be liable to all legal process, now or hereafter provided by law, against debtors and creditors, and may sue and be sued alone, without being joined with her husband. But nothing contained in this act shall be deemed to authorize a married woman to carry on business in her own name when the same is managed or superintended by her husband.

Cited, State ex rel. N. T. G. & T. Co. v. Grimes, 29 Nev. 59.

2193. Responsible for maintenance of children.

SEC. 4. Any married woman availing herself of the benefit of this act, shall be responsible for the maintenance of her children.

2194. Husband not responsible for debt—Exception.

SEC. 5. The husband of the wife availing herself of the benefit of this act, shall not be responsible for any debts contracted by her in the course of the said business, without the special consent of her husband, given in writing; nor shall his separate property be taken on execution for any debts contracted by her.

The sole trader act was passed for the protection of married women. It was designed only to protect the wife against an improvident and worthless husband. The business in which she is engaged cannot be carried on for the purpose of defrauding any creditor of her husband. Youngworth v. Jewell, 15 Nev. 45.

The words "managed" and "superintended," as used in the statute, are synonymous. The husband cannot direct, conduct, or control the business in which the wife is engaged, or any part of it. Idem.

HOSPITAL FOR MENTAL DISEASES

An Act to determine and definitely fix the legal name of the public institution for the care of the indigent insane belonging to the State of Nevada.

Approved March 12, 1895, 44

2196. Legal name.

SECTION 1. The public institutions of the State of Nevada and the buildings appertaining thereto, established and maintained for the care of the indigent insane of the state, shall hereafter be known as and called the Nevada hospital for mental diseases.

2197. Words considered identical.

SEC. 2. The words "Insane Asylum," "Institute for the Care of the Insane," and all words of like import, now or heretofore used in any law, process, investigation, subpoena or commitment, or in relation to any board or commission pertaining to or in any way concerning the arrest, examination, detention or care of the insane or mentally diseased in the State of Nevada shall be deemed to relate to, and be the equivalent of, Nevada hospital for mental diseases, and hereafter, all processes and proceedings, relating to the insane or mentally diseased of the State of Nevada, shall run and be held in that name.

An Act creating a board of commissioners for the care of the indigent insane of the State of Nevada.

Approved February 4, 1887, 39

2198. Board created.

SECTION 1. The governor, state controller and state treasurer are hereby constituted a board of commissioners for the purpose of providing for the care and maintenance of the indigent insane of the state.

2199. Quorum.

SEC. 2. A majority of said board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

An Act to provide for the care of the insane of the State of Nevada, and create a fund for that purpose.

Approved March 2, 1869, 104

[Section 1 obsolete.]

2200. Guardian—Payment of charges required.

SEC. 3. The district judge shall cause inquiry to be made touching the ability of insane persons committed by him to bear the expenses attending the arrest, examination, transmission to the capital, and such other charges as may be necessary in order to properly provide for his or her support. In any case where the insane person is able, by the possession of money, or real or personal property, to pay said expenses, the district judge shall appoint a guardian for said insane person, who shall be subject to the general law in relation to guardians, as far as the same may be applicable; and when there is not sufficient money in hand, the judge shall order the sale of the property of such person, or so much thereof as may be necessary, and from the proceeds said guardian shall pay all proper costs and charges incidental to arrest, transmission and proper care and support of such insane person during the period of his or her insanity, or so long as there shall be sufficient means to meet said charges and expenses. And in case such insane person has no means applicable to his or her own support; but has kindred in the degree of husband or wife, or (if a minor) father or mother living within this state, of sufficient means and ability to support such insane person, the judge before whom the examination is had shall order that all expenses and charges be paid by the nearest of such kindred, or may assess the same among such kindred as he may deem just and equitable, causing such charges as the state may be obligated to pay to the directors of the asylum at Stockton, to be paid quarterly in advance to the secretary of state, together with all costs and expenses necessarily incurred in transmitting said person to said asylum. And from the date of such order of the district judge, such expenses and charges shall be a lien against the property of such kindred, and may be enforced as other liens against real or personal property.

2201. Payment of expenses by guardian—Bond.

SEC. 4. The district judge shall require of the guardian of any insane person appointed by him, in addition to the bond now required by law to be given by guardians, to enter into bond with good and sufficient sureties, payable to the State of Nevada, conditioned for the prompt payment in advance to the secretary of state of all charges and expenses set forth in this act, so long as said insane person shall be cared for and supported by this state, or so long as said means or property shall be sufficient therefor, which bond shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state at the same time that other papers in relation to insane persons are filed; and all sums of money so received by the secretary of state, as well as those sums received from kindred, as provided in section 3 of this act, shall be paid over to the state treasurer to the credit and become a part of the insane fund created by section 7 of this act, under a sworn statement at least once in every three months, and for all moneys thus paid the secretary of state shall take duplicate receipts, one of which shall be filed with the state controller. When the means of any insane person shall become exhausted, or the kindred mentioned in this act shall become unable longer to provide for the support of such insane person, upon a proper showing to the judge of the district court where such person was committed, he shall certify such fact to the secretary of state, who shall immediately transfer the same to the indigent list, and from the date of such certificate said guardian or kindred, as the case may be, shall be relieved from any further liability on account of such bond or insane person.

Sec. 1 cited, Ormsby Co. v. State, 6 Nev. 283.

When a district judge was pronounced insane and sent to an insane asylum under the provisions of this act, and upon a certificate the governor appointed another person to fill his office as in case of a vacancy: Held, that the office was not vacant and that the appointment of another judge was void.

State ex rel. O'Neale v. McClinton, 5 Nev. 329, 333.

The finding and declaration of an incumbent of the office of district judge to be insane in accordance with the provisions of this act, does not create a vacancy in his office. Idem. (See Const. 336, ante.)

[Secs. 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 are obsolete.]

An Act to provide for the taking care of the insane of the State of Nevada.

Approved February 24, 1881, 59

[Sections 1-10, obsolete, omitted.]

[Secs. 11 and 12, regarding bonds and payment thereof, obsolete, or nearly so.]

2202. Powers of commissioners—Rules and regulations—Submit report to the legislature.

SEC. 13. The board of commissioners, as named in this act, shall have full power and exclusive control of and over all the grounds, buildings, property and inmates of the asylum, and shall furnish or cause to be furnished all needful supplies, provisions, and medicines for the care of the insane, and have charge of all other matters connected with the institution. They shall establish such rules, regulations, and by-laws for the construction and government thereof as they may deem proper. The board of commissioners shall cause to be kept a record of their proceedings, which shall at all times be open to inspection by a committee of the legislature. During the first week of the session a report shall be submitted to the legislature, showing the annual receipts and expenditures, the condition of the asylum, number of patients admitted during the year, number remaining in the asylum at the date of report, and all matters touching the general affairs of the institution as they may deem proper, and shall from time to time visit the asylum, examine into its affairs, condition, government, and make thorough inspection thereof. * * *

2203. Superintendent—His qualifications, pay.

SEC. 14. The board of commissioners shall elect one resident physician who shall be the general superintendent of the asylum, subject at all times to the order and direction of said board, who shall have power at any time to discharge and remove said superintendent whenever in their judgment it shall be deemed proper for the best interest of the state. The superintendent so elected shall reside at the asylum, be a graduate in medicine, and receive a salary of two thousand four hundred dollars per year, payable monthly, in equal installments. He shall cause to be kept a fair and full account of all his doings, and of the entire business and operations of the institution, and submit a monthly report to the board of commissioners. The superintendent shall employ all necessary help needed at the asylum, subject to the approval of the board of commissioners.

2204. District judge's duty, in regard to commitments—Form of certificates.

SEC. 15. From and after the completion of this asylum, and when it shall be ready for the reception of patients, the insane patients now in California shall be received therein, and it shall be the duty of the judge of the district court in each judicial district in this state, upon the application of any person, under oath, setting forth that any person, by reason of insanity, is unsafe to be at large, or is suffering under mental derangement, to cause the said person to be brought before him at such time and place as he may direct; and the said judge shall also cause to appear at the same time and place one or more licensed practicing physicians, who shall proceed to examine the person alleged to be insane; and if said physicians, after careful examination, shall certify upon oath that the charge is correct, and if the judge is satisfied that such person is, by reason of insanity, unsafe to be at large, and is incompetent to provide for his or her own proper care and support, and has no property applicable for such purpose, and no kindred in the degree of husband or wife, father or mother, children, brother or sister living within this state of sufficient means or ability to provide properly for such care and support, he shall cause the said indigent insane person to be conveyed to the insane asylum of this state, at the expense of the state, and place the said person in charge of the proper person having charge of the said asylum, together with a copy of the complaint, commitment, and physician's certificate, which shall be in such form as the board of commissioners may prescribe.

2205. Paying patients—Medical care of indigents.

SEC. 16. Paying patients whose friends or property can pay their expenses, shall pay according to the terms directed by the board of commissioners; but the insane poor shall, in all respects, receive the same medical care and treatment from the institution, and good, wholesome food, and no record of debt shall be made against them.

2206. Claims approved and payment provided.

SEC. 17. All sums due for the support, care, and clothing of the insane, and all other needful expenses of the asylum shall be certified by the board of commissioners of said asylum and approved by the board of examiners, as now provided by the constitution of the State of Nevada, and audited by the controller, and paid by the state treasurer, out of any moneys in the state treasury appropriated for that purpose.

2207. Warrants.

SEC. 18. The state controller is hereby authorized to draw his warrant in favor of the commissioners for their incidental expenses in carrying out the provisions of this act, after the board of examiners have properly allowed the same.

For expenses of transportation of indigent insane persons and convicts, see secs. 7589-7591.

This act embraces but one subject, the care of the insane, which is fairly expressed in its title.

The different steps by which the result is to be accomplished, are not different subjects but minor parts of the same general subject. Klein v. Kinkead, 16 Nev. 194, 200, 201.

See ante, sec. 275.

In providing for the erection of an insane asylum, the statute declared that the board of commissioners might adopt or reject any and all bids not deemed reasonable or satisfactory, but in determining bids for the same work or material the lowest responsible bid should be taken. It was held that the provision for the lowest responsible bid is mandatory; but in ascertaining whether or not a bidder was responsible, the board was required to deliberate and decide and in doing so they exercised judicial functions. Hoole v. Kinkead, 16 Nev. 217, 220, 222.

In deciding upon the responsibility of bidders, it was the duty of the board to consider their pecuniary ability to perform the contract and to ascertain which ones, in point of skill, ability and integrity, would be most likely to do faithful, conscientious work, and to fulfill the terms of the contract. Idem.

An Act to provide for the transfer of insane convicts to the state insane asylum.

Approved March 1, 1883, 102

2208. When removed to asylum.

SECTION 1. Whenever a convict, while undergoing imprisonment in the Nevada state prison, shall become insane and be so adjudged by a commission of lunacy appointed by the court as in other cases of insanity, it shall be the duty of the warden to deliver such convict to the superintendent of the state insane asylum at Reno, Nevada, for detention and treatment therein.

2209. When returned to state prison—Escape.

SEC. 2. The superintendent of the insane asylum shall receive such insane convict and safely keep him, and if such convict be restored to sanity before the expiration of his sentence to said prison, shall deliver him to the warden thereof, who shall retain such convict therein for the unexpired term of his sentence, unless said convict shall be released by order of the board of pardons. An escape from said insane asylum by any convict confined therein under the provisions of this act, shall be deemed an escape from the state prison, and be punished as such.

An Act to further provide for the commitment of insane persons to the insane asylum.

Approved February 21, 1889, 40

2210. County clerk may commit.

SECTION 1. Whenever, by reason of the absence of the district judge from the county, an insane person cannot be brought before him for examination, he may be taken before the county clerk of such county, and thereupon said county clerk shall be vested with power to hold such examination and discharge such person or commit him to the insane asylum in the same manner as may be now done by the district judge.

An Act to provide for the admission of certain persons into the Nevada state insane asylum.

Approved February 27, 1893, 58

2211. Idiots and feeble-minded persons admitted to the insane asylum, how and when.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the district judge in each judicial district of this state, upon the application of any person under oath that any person within said district who has been a bona fide resident of the state for more than five years and of the county wherein he is at the time residing for one full year next preceding the making of said application, is an idiot or feeble-minded person, to cause such person to be brought before him at such time and place as he may direct, and the said judge shall also cause to appear at such time and place such witnesses as he may deem proper and one or more licensed practicing physicians. Said physicians shall proceed to examine the person and the witnesses so brought before said judge, the witnesses to be placed under oath, and if said physicians, after careful examination, shall certify upon oath that the charge is correct, giving their reasons therefor, and if the district judge is satisfied that such person is an idiot or a feeble-minded person and is incompetent to provide for his or her own proper care and support, and has no property applicable to such purpose, and no kindred in the degree of husband or wife, father or mother, child, brother or sister living within this state of sufficient means or ability to provide properly for such care and support, and is further satisfied that it will be for the best interest of said indigent and the county of which he is at the time a resident, he shall cause the said indigent, idiot or feeble-minded person to be conveyed to the insane asylum of this state at the expense of the county of which said person was a bona fide resident during the period of one year next preceding the making of such application, and placed in charge of the proper person having charge of said asylum, together with a copy of the complaint, commitment and physicians' certificate, which shall be in such form as the board of commissioners for the care of the indigent insane of the State of Nevada may prescribe.

2212. Expense of care of such persons, how provided for.

SEC. 2. The county of which any person committed to said asylum, under the provisions of section 1 of this act, was a bona fide resident during all of the year next preceding the making of application for his or her said commitment, shall pay into the treasury of the State of Nevada, quarterly, on the first Monday of January, April, July and October, from and ever after such commitment, the actual expense of maintaining and keeping such person at said asylum, for which said county shall be liable to the State of Nevada, the amount of said expense to be certified to the board of commissioners of such county by the superintendent of said insane asylum.

2213. Labor or material—Contractor held as owner or agent.

SECTION 1. Every person performing labor upon, or furnishing material of the value of five (5) dollars or more, to be used in the construction, alteration or repair of any building or other superstructure, railroad, tramway, toll road, canal, water ditch, flume, aqueduct or reservoir, building, bridge, fence, or any other structure, has a lien upon the same for the work or labor done or material furnished by each, respectively, whether done or furnished at the instance of the owner of the building or other improvement, or his agent; and all miners, laborers and others who work or labor to the amount of five (5) dollars or more in or upon any mine, or upon any shaft, tunnel, adit, or other excavation, designed or used for the purpose of prospecting, draining or working any such mine; and all persons who shall furnish any timber or other material, of the value of five (5) dollars or more, to be used in or about any such mine, whether done or furnished at the instance of the owner of such mine or his agent, shall have, and may each respectively claim and hold, a lien upon such mine for the amount and value of the work or labor so performed, or material furnished; and every contractor, subcontractor, architect, builder, or other persons, having charge or control of any mining claim, or any part thereof, or of the construction, alteration or repair, either in whole or in part, of any building or other improvement, as aforesaid, shall be held to be the agent of the owner, for the purposes of this chapter. As amended, Stats. 1881, 49.

Kerr, C. C. P. 1183.

Employees to have preferred lien for wages in case of insolvent corporations, sec. 1187.

A former act (Stats. 1867, 48), allowing liens in favor of laborers for work done on mining claims, did not give a lien for labor done before its passage. Hunter v. Savage Cons. S. M. Co., 4 Nev. 153-155.

Where lien was intended to apply only to labor thereafter done, it was held that the first day's labor for which a lien could attach was not the day of the passage of the statute, but the day after. Idem.

This statute contemplates a formal suit, a publication of notice, and appearance upon the part of lien claimants other than those commencing the suit, and a disposition of the entire matter of liens against the property affected, in one proceeding; and any person prejudiced by error in the proceeding may object. Elliott v. Ivers, 6 Nev. 287, 289.

The paper called a mechanic's lien is simply evidence that the acts required by statute have been performed and that therefore the lien created by the statute has attached; and an assignment of such paper with all rights thereunder is an assignment of the debt as well as of the lien. Skyrme v. Occidental M. & M. Co., 8 Nev. 220.

The mechanic's lien law is to be liberally construed so as to give lien claimants the benefits intended by the legislature. Skyrme v. Occidental M. & M. Co., 8 Nev. 221.

A repeal of an old law relating to mechanics' liens by a new law containing all the essential parts of the law repealed, does not destroy existing rights thereunder. Capron v. Strout, 11 Nev. 310.

When the work is continuous, although done under different contracts, the lien is preserved by giving notice within sixty days after the work is completed. Idem.

2214. Liens on city lots.

SEC. 2. Any person who, at the request of the owner of any lot in any incorporated city or town, grades, fills in or otherwise improves the same, or the street in front of or adjoining the same, has a lien upon such lot for his work done and materials furnished.

Kerr, C. C. P. 1191.

2215. Land subject to lien.

SEC. 3. The land occupied by any building or other superstructure, railroad, tramway, toll road, canal, water ditch, flume, aqueduct, or reservoir, bridge, or fence, together with a convenient space about the same, or so much as may be required for the convenient use and occupation thereof, to be determined by the court on rendering judgment, is also subject to the lien, if at the commencement of the work, or of the furnishing of the materials for the same, the land belonged to the person who caused said building, improvement, or structure to be constructed, altered, or repaired; but if such person owned less than a fee simple estate in such land, then only his interest therein is subject to such lien.

Kerr, C. C. P. 1185.

Where a foreman of a mine is employed to "boss" the men at work in a mine, keep their time and give them orders for their pay, his employment is of that kind that is protected under this law. Idem.

County recorders are authorized to administer the oath and certify to the verification required in filing mechanics' liens. Arrington v. Wittenberg, 12 Nev. 99, 101.

The lien law is to be liberally construed. A substantial compliance with its provisions is all that is required. Hunter v. Truckee Lodge, 14 Nev. 24, 27, 40, 44.

The legislature intended to give subcontractors and material-men direct liens upon the premises for the value of their labor and materials regardless of payments on the principal contract made prior to the time within which the law required a notice of their claim to be recorded. Lonkey v. Cook, 15 Nev. 58.

Cited, Gould v. Wise, 18 Nev. 266, 267 (3 P. 30).

Where materials were furnished from time to time, as ordered on a running account, on an understanding that they were to be used in the construction of a building, and the material-man had reasonable grounds to expect that the materials would be ordered from time to time to finish the building, the materials were furnished under an entire and continuing contract. Tonopah Lumber Co. v. Nevada Amusement Co., 30 Nev. 445, 446, 456 (97 P. 636).

While a material-man's lien can only legally exist when perfected as prescribed by the statute creating it, yet the statute, being remedial, must be liberally construed, and a substantial compliance is sufficient. Idem.

Testimony showing that the land and reduction works had been leased together, and sold together, tends to prove that the property subjected to the liens has been treated as a unit and used for a common purpose, and in the absence of any other testimony or objections, the court has the right to infer that the land so used and treated was reasonably convenient for the use of the reduction works. Gould v. Wise, 18 Nev. 254, 265 (3 P. 30).

2216. Priority of liens.

SEC. 4. The liens provided for in this chapter are preferred to any lien, mortgage or other incumbrance which may have attached subsequent to the time when the building, improvement, or structure was commenced, work done, or materials were commenced to be furnished; also, to any lien, mortgage, or other incumbrance of which the lien holder had no notice and which was unrecorded at the time the building, improvement, or structure was commenced, work done, or the materials were commenced to be furnished; (every mortgage or incumbrance imposed upon, or conveyance made of, property affected by the liens herein provided for between the time when the building, improvement, structure, or work thereon was commenced, or the materials thereof were commenced to be furnished, and the expiration of the time herein fixed in which liens therefor may be filed whatever the terms of payment may be, shall be subordinate and subject to the liens in full herein authorized, regardless of the date of filing of said liens). As amended, Stats. 1899, 98.

Kerr, C. C. P. 1186.

Lien held subordinate to mortgage. Capron v. Strout, 11 Nev. 304.

2217. Duty of owner to file affidavit on completion—Time within which lien claim may be filed—Contents of same—Amendments—Substitution of parties.

SEC. 5. It shall be the duty of the owner of any building, improvement, or structure, mentioned in section 1 of this act, upon or after the completion thereof, or of any alteration or repair thereof, to file or cause to be filed with the county recorder of the county where the same or some part thereof is situated, an affidavit, under the oath of himself or of some other person conversant with the facts, stating that such building, improvement or structure, or the alteration or repair thereof, as the case may be, has been completed, giving the date of such completion, and a description of the same sufficient for identification. If any such affidavit be filed before the building, improvement or structure, or the alteration or repair thereof, as the case may be, has in fact been completed, such filing shall be void and a mere nullity, and the time within which any claim of lien as hereinafter provided shall be filed, shall not commence to run until after such building, improvement or structure, or the alteration or repair thereof, as the case may be, has in fact been completed, and a valid and legal affidavit thereafter been filed. Every person claiming the benefit of this chapter shall, not earlier than ten days after the completion of his contract, or the delivery of material by him, or the performance of his labor, as the case may be, and not later than fifty days after filing of the owner or other person as aforesaid of the affidavit hereinbefore provided for, or within fifty days after the performance of any labor in a mining claim, file for record with the county recorder of the county where the property or some part thereof is situate, a claim containing a statement of his demand after deducting all just credits and offsets, with the name of the owner or reputed owner if known, also the name of the person by whom he was employed or to whom he furnished the material, with a statement of the terms, time given, and conditions of his contract, and also a description of the property to be charged with the lien sufficient for identification, which claim must be verified by the oath of himself or some other person.

Upon the trial of any action or suit to foreclose such lien no variance between the lien and the proof shall defeat the lien or be deemed material unless the same shall result from fraud or be made intentionally, or shall have misled the adverse party to his prejudice, but in all cases of immaterial variance the claim of lien may be amended, by amendment duly recorded, to conform to the proof. No error or mistake in the name of the owner or reputed owner contained in any claim of lien shall be held to defeat the lien, unless a correction of the lien in this particular shall prejudice the rights of an innocent, bona fide purchaser or encumbrancer for value. But upon the trial, if it shall appear that an error or mistake has been made in the name of the owner or reputed owner, or that the wrong person has been named as owner or reputed owner, in any such claim of lien, the court shall order an amended claim of lien to be recorded with the recorder where the original claim was recorded, and shall issue to the person who is so made to appear to be the original or reputed owner, a notice directing such person or persons to be and appear, within the same time as is provided by law for the appearance in other actions after the service of summons, and said notice shall be served in all respects as a summons is required to be served, before said court and to show cause why he should not be substituted in said claim of lien and in said suit in lieu of the person so made defendant and alleged to be owner or reputed owner by mistake, and to further show why he should not be bound by the judgment or decree of the court. And such proceedings shall be had therein as though the party so cited to appear had been an original party defendant in the action or suit, and originally named in the claim of lien as owner or reputed owner, and the rights of all parties shall thereupon be fully adjudicated. As amended, Stats. 1903, 51; 1911, 320.

Kerr, C. C. P. 1187.

In an action for the foreclosure of a mechanic's lien, where the complaint states that the work was done and materials furnished at the special instance and request of the agent of the defendant, a plea that the "plaintiffs ought not to be allowed to maintain this action" because they had obtained a judgment against the said agents, constitutes no defense to the action. Dickson v. Corbett, 11 Nev. 277.

The fact that plaintiffs recovered a judgment against the agent, only proves that he also made himself personally liable on the contract which he entered into on behalf of his principal. Idem.

A complaint describing the property as a large building on certain lots in a certain block belonging to defendant, together with a convenient space of ground around the same, was held sufficiently specific. Idem.

The claimant is only required to file his notice before the expiration of thirty days after the completion of the building. Hunter v. Truckee Lodge, 14 Nev. 24, 28, 30.

It is not essential to the validity of a mechanic's lien to specify the items of the account. It is sufficient to set forth a statement of the demand showing its nature and character and the amount due or owing thereon.

If there are no special terms, time or conditions given in the contract, none need be stated in the lien. Lonkey v. Wells, 16 Nev. 271, 272, 276.

A contractor must file his lien within sixty days after his contract is completed. Every other person entitled to a lien must file it within thirty days after the completion of the building. Idem.

A mechanic's lien, although the act giving it is to be liberally construed, is purely of statutory creation, and can only be maintained by a substantial observance of, and compliance with, the provisions of the statute. Malter v. Falcon M. Co., 18 Nev. 209, 212, 213 (2 P. 50).

The omissions in the notice and claim, of a mechanic's lien, as recorded, cannot, in essential particulars, be aided by any averments in the complaint, or by extrinsic evidence. Idem.

It is essential to the validity of a lien, under the provisions of the statute, that the name of the owner, or reputed owner, of the building, improvement or structure, upon which the lien is sought to be enforced, should be stated. If the name of the owner is unknown that fact ought to be stated, and the name of the reputed owner given. These facts should be stated, independent of the description of the property, in a direct, clear and positive manner. Idem.

The mere fact that a lien claimant has included in his statement charges for which the law allows no lien will not defeat that portion for which he is entitled to a lien when the charges are separately stated. Maynard v. Ivey, 21 Nev. 241, 244 (29 P. 1090).

A statement claiming a mechanic's lien is sufficient, which describes the property sought to be charged, gives the name of the owner, the names of the persons by whom claimant was employed, and the total amount due after deducting all credits and offsets. A lien claimant is not required to particularize the number of days he has labored upon different parts of the property sought to be charged. Idem.

Cited, State ex rel. N. T. G. & T. Co. v. Grimes, 29 Nev. 59.

A mechanic's lien claim, stating that it is for "outside work on house and painting on inside blinds, $190" does not substantially comply with this section and is insufficient to support a lien. Porteous Decorative Co. v. Fee, 29 Nev. 375, 381 (91 P. 135).

A material-man furnished materials as ordered, from time to time, by the contractors. Owing to strikes and the stringency of the money market, the work on the building ceased. Subsequently a room therein was finished according to the original plans. The material-man furnished materials when the work was resumed. Held, that the materials were furnished under a continuing contract, and the filing, within fifty days after the completion of the work, of a claim for a lien for all materials, was sufficient. Tonopah Lumber Co. v. Nevada Amusement Co., 30 Nev. 446, 456 (97 P. 636); Self & Sellman Co. v. Savage, 34 Nev. —.

2218. Liens upon separate buildings—Amount to be stated.

SEC. 6. In every case in which one claim is filed against two or more buildings, mining claims, or other improvements owned by the same person, the person filing such claim must at the same time designate the amount due to him on each of such buildings, mining claims, or other improvements, otherwise the lien of such claim is postponed to other liens. The lien of such claimant does not extend beyond the amount designated, as against other creditors having liens by judgment or otherwise, upon either of such buildings or other improvements, or upon the land upon which the same are constructed.

Kerr, C. C. P. 1188.

2219. Record of claim.

SEC. 7. The recorder must record the claim in a book kept by him for that purpose, which record must be indexed as deeds and other conveyances are required by law to be indexed, and for which he may receive the same fees as are allowed by law for recording deeds and other instruments.

Kerr, C. C. P. 1189.

2220. Limitation of lien as to time.

SEC. 8. No lien provided for in this chapter binds any building, mining claim, improvement, or structure for a longer period than six months after the same has been filed, unless proceedings be commenced in a proper court within that time to enforce the same; or, if a credit be given, then ninety days after the expiration of such credit; provided, nevertheless, that if there are other claims outstanding against the property, no time or credit shall be given upon the lien after the expiration of the six months in which proceedings are required to be commenced, which will tend to delay or postpone the collection of other claims or incumbrances against the property; but no lien continues in force for a longer time than two years from the time the work is completed by any agreement to give credit.

Kerr, C. C. P. 1190

2221. Owner must post notices, or property will be responsible.

SEC. 9. Every building or other improvement mentioned in section 1 of this act, constructed upon any lands with the knowledge of the owner or the person having or claiming any interest therein, shall be held to have been constructed at the instance of such owner or person having or claiming any interest therein, and the interest owned or claimed shall be subject to any lien filed in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, unless such owner or person having or claiming an interest therein shall, within three days after he shall have obtained knowledge of the construction, alteration or repair, or the intended construction, alteration or repair, give notice that he will not be responsible for the same, by posting a notice in writing to that effect in some conspicuous place upon said land, or upon the building or other improvement situate thereon.

Kerr, C. C. P. 1192.

The interest of the owner of reduction works may be subjected to lien claims, notwithstanding the labor and materials have not been performed and furnished at his instance if knowing that alterations and repairs are being made by the lessee he fails to give notice that he will not be responsible therefor. Gould v. Wise, 18 Nev. 253, 258, 259, 265 (3 P. 30).

Evidence that the owner had an agent, residing in the vicinity of the premises who personally visited the reduction works and knew that the work was being done and improvements being made, is prima facie sufficient to charge the owner with knowledge of that fact. Idem.

Persons performing labor or furnishing material used in operating and "carrying on" reduction works, are entitled to a lien against the property (Leonard, J., dissenting in part). Idem.

The notice required by the section, to be effective, must be given by posting a notice in writing, proof of personal service being held not sufficient. Rosina v. Trowbridge, 20 Nev. 106 (17 P. 751).

A complaint, in an action to foreclose a material-man's lien, brought against the owner, lessee, and contractors, which alleges that the owners at all times knew that the lessee was constructing a building, and did not at any time give notice that they would not be responsible therefor, sufficiently charges the owners with "knowledge," within this section. Tonopah Lumber Co. v. Nevada Amusement Co., 30 Nev. 445, 456 (97 P. 636).

2222. Recovery upon lien—Owner may recover from original contractor.

SEC. 10. The contractor shall be entitled to recover, upon a lien filed by him, only such amount as may be due to him according to the terms of his contract after deducting all claims of other parties, for work done and material furnished, as aforesaid; and in all cases where a lien shall be filed under this chapter, for work done or materials furnished to any contractor, he shall defend any action brought thereupon at his own expense; and, during the pendency of such action, the owner may withhold from the contractor the amount of money for which such lien is filed; and in case of judgment against the owner or his property upon the lien, the said owner shall be entitled to deduct, from any amount due or to become due by him to the contractor, the amount of such judgment and costs; and if the amount of such judgment and costs shall exceed the amount due by him to the contractor, or if the owner shall have settled with the contractor, he shall be entitled to recover back from the contractor any amount so paid by him, the said owner, in excess of the contract price, and for which the contractor was originally the party liable.

Kerr, C. C. P. 1193.

A covenant in a bond, "to secure the plaintiff and keep it harmless from all liens and claims of liens," is a contract of indemnity and is not violated by simply permitting liens to be filed. It would only be broken when plaintiff was actually damaged by reason of liens or claims of liens. Carson Opera House Association v. Miller, 16 Nev. 333-336.

Plaintiff was not authorized to withhold any part of the contract price until suits to enforce the liens were pending, and it could not refuse to pay money according to the contract until the contractors were in default. Idem.

Cited, Truckee Lodge v. Wood, 14 Nev. 293, 301.

2223. Rank or order of liens.

SEC. 11. In every case in which different liens are asserted against any property, the court, in the judgment, must declare the rank of each lien, or class of liens, which shall be in the following order, viz.:

First—Labor.

Second—All persons other than original contractors and subcontractors.

Third—The subcontractors.

Fourth—The original contractors.

And the proceeds of the sale of the property must be applied to each lien, or class of liens, in the order of its rank. As amended, Stats. 1909, 103.

Kerr, C. C. P. 1194.

Cited, Arrington v. Wittenberg, 12 Nev. 101.

2224. Claims consolidated, when.

SEC. 12. Any number of persons claiming liens may join in the same action; and when separate actions are commenced the court may consolidate them. The court may also allow, as part of the costs, the moneys paid for filing and recording the lien, and shall also allow to the prevailing party reasonable attorney's fees. As amended, Stats. 1903, 51; 1909, 169.

Kerr, C. C. P. 1195.

2225. Exempt from attachment.

SEC. 13. Whenever materials have been furnished for use in the construction, alteration, or repair of any building or other improvement, such materials shall not be subject to attachment, execution, or other legal process, to enforce any debt due by the purchaser of such materials, except a debt due for the purchase money thereof, so long as in good faith the same are about to be applied to the construction, alteration, or repair of such building, mining claim, or other improvement.

2226. Personal action not impaired.

SEC. 14. Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed to impair or affect the right of any person to whom any debt may be due for work done or material furnished, to maintain a personal action to recover such debt against the person liable therefor.

Kerr, C. C. P. 1197.

2227. Action on lien—Trial of—Sale of premises—Justice courts.

SEC. 15. Said liens may be enforced by an action in any court of competent jurisdiction, on setting out in the complaint the particulars of the demand, with a description of the premises to be charged with the lien; and at the time of filing the complaint and issuing the summons the plaintiff shall cause a notice to be published at least once a week, for three successive weeks, in one newspaper published in the county, and if there is no newspaper published in the county, then in such mode as the court may determine, notifying all persons holding or claiming liens under the provisions of this act on said premises, to be and appear before said court on a day specified therein, and during a regular term of such court, and to exhibit then and there the proof of their said liens. On the day appointed, the court shall enter judgment according to the right of the parties, and shall, by decree, proceed to hear and determine the said claims in a summary way, or may refer the same to a referee to ascertain and report upon said liens and the amount justly due thereon; and all liens not so exhibited shall be deemed to be waived in favor of those which are so exhibited. On ascertaining the whole amount of said liens with which the said premises are justly chargeable, as hereinbefore provided, the court shall cause said premises to be sold in satisfaction of said liens and costs, including costs of suit; and any party in whose favor such judgment may be rendered may cause the premises to be sold within the time and in the manner provided for sales on execution, issued out of any district court, for the sale of real estate; and if the proceeds of sale, after the payment of costs, shall not be sufficient to satisfy the whole amount of such liens included in the decree of sale, then such proceeds shall be apportioned according to the right of the several parties. In case the proceeds of such sale amount to more than the sum of said liens and the cost of sale, then the remainder shall be paid over to the owner of said property; and each party whose claim is not satisfied in the manner hereinbefore provided for, shall have personal judgment for the residue against the party legally liable for the same; provided, such person has been personally summoned or has appeared in the action. (SEC. 2.) Section 15 of an act entitled "An act to secure liens to mechanics and others, and to repeal all other acts in relation thereto," as to action on, trial of, and sale of premises under mechanics' liens, shall be applicable to such actions in a justice court, where the sum involved does not exceed three hundred dollars. As amended, Stats. 1907, 192.

Kerr, C. C. P. 1198.

Failure of a plaintiff, in an action to foreclose a mechanic's lien, to publish notice of the suit, will not deprive a lien claimant, who intervenes in the action, of his right to have an adjudication of his claim. Elliott v. Ivers, 6 Nev. 288.

Where, in a suit to foreclose a mechanic's lien, certain lien claimants intervene and defendant answered and demurred to their interventions, it was held that the court acquired jurisdiction of the subject-matter, and the parties, and the whole thereof; and that the plaintiff could not, by dismissal of the suit, prevent an adjudication as to the rights of the interveners. Idem.

Where a complaint to foreclose mechanics' liens fails to show that they were filed within six months before the commencement of the action, it was held that the omission was one which should be taken advantage of by demurrer, and that after issue joined and decision rendered on the merits, the pleading would be upheld by every legal intendment. Skyrme v. Occidental M. & M. Co., 8 Nev. 219.

The sufficiency of a complaint for foreclosure of mechanics' liens it to be determined by the statute, and if there is a substantial compliance with its requirements it is sufficient. Idem.

Mechanics' liens are assignable and may be enforced by action in the name of the assignee. Idem.

Where various holders of liens assigned to one upon understanding that he was to bring suit in his own name, each assignor to bear his proportion of the expense and to share pro rata in the amount realized, it was held, that a suit by such assignee on all the liens might be maintained. Idem.

2228. Satisfaction and discharge of lien.

SEC. 16. The claimant of any such lien filed as aforesaid, on the payment of the amount thereof, together with the costs incurred and the acknowledgment of satisfaction, shall, at the request of any person interested in the property charged therewith, enter or cause to be entered an acknowledgment of satisfaction of the same [of] record within ten days from the request, and for failure of the claimant to enter satisfaction within the time, shall forfeit and pay to the person making the request the sum of twenty dollars per day until the same shall be entered, to be recovered in the same manner as other debts.

2229. Liens may be assigned.

SEC. 17. Two or more creditors of the same class may assign their claims, duly verified, to any other creditor or person of the same class, and the assignee may commence and prosecute the action upon them all in his own name. All liens under this act shall be assignable as any other chose in action.

2230. Liens by wood choppers—Proceedings—Jurisdiction.

SEC. 18. All persons who shall perform work or labor upon any tract or tracts of lands, by cutting or cording the wood or timber growing, or being thereon, shall have and may each, respectively, claim and hold a lien upon the wood or timber so cut or corded, for the amount in value of the work or

Form of assignment sustained. Idem.

No particular words are necessary to constitute an assignment of the debt; it is sufficient that the intent of the parties to effect an assignment be clearly established. Idem. Cited, Arrington v. Wittenberg, 12 Nev. 101.

The court proceeded to hear and determine a case without proof that notice had been given to other lien claimants, and it was held that as there was no showing that there were other lien claimants, the defendant could not have been prejudiced, and is not entitled to a new trial. Lonkey v. Wells, 16 Nev. 272, 277.

In an action to enforce a lien for labor performed upon a mine in which defendant was a partner and held the legal title in trust for the benefit of his copartners, he pleaded this fact in his answer, alleging knowledge thereof by plaintiff. It was held, that such portion of the answer was properly stricken out, the other members of the firm not being necessary, although proper parties to the suit. Rosina v. Trowbridge, 20 Nev. 105, 109, 110, 112, 118 (17 P. 751).

It was also held immaterial what plaintiff knew in regard to the ownership of the mine at the time he worked therein, and that ownership in the other members of the firm of an interest in a mine did not affect defendant's liability. Idem.

In an action to foreclose a number of liens against a mining claim of a nonresident corporation, it was held that the statutory notice, as published to lien holders, was no notice to defendant of the pendency of the action. Lonkey v. Keyes S. M. Co., 21 Nev. 313, 314, 320 (17 L. R. A. 351, 31 P. 57).

labor so performed, by retaining possession of the same, until the whole amount due for such work or labor shall have been paid; provided, that any lien claimed and held, as aforesaid, shall be deemed to be waived, unless an action be brought in some court of competent jurisdiction, for the recovery of the amount for which such lien is claimed as security, within sixty days after such wood or timber shall have been taken into possession by the claimant; and the fact that such lien is claimed, shall be set out in the complaint, together with a description of, and the number of cords of wood, or feet of timber, retained in possession by the claimant. If the judgment be for the plaintiff in such action, the execution shall direct the same, with costs, to be satisfied out of the wood or timber so retained, if the same shall be sufficient; if not, then the balance to be satisfied out of any other property of the defendant in the same manner provided by law. In all cases where two or more persons are jointly engaged under a contract or employment, in cutting or cording wood or timber, on any tract or tracts of land in this state, any one of such persons may claim, have, hold and enforce a lien, for all the work or labor performed, as in this section provided, and for the benefit of the other persons jointly interested with him; in such cases, in all actions brought under the provisions of this section, it shall be the duty of the court, in case the judgment shall be for the plaintiff, to designate in such judgment the amount due each of the persons interested. Possession of wood or timber within the meaning of this section shall be deemed to be in the person or persons cutting or cording wood or timber, for the purposes of this act, from the time of cutting or cording the same; and shall not be deemed to have been released or yielded by the person or persons performing the work or labor, as herein provided, except such person or persons, by word or act clearly and distinctly declare, or evidence his or their intention to so release or yield possession; and in cases of a joint contract or employment, the possession of any part of the wood or timber, cut or corded, shall not be deemed yielded or released without the assent of all the persons cutting or cording the same, manifested as in this section provided. Justices of the peace shall have jurisdiction of all actions under the provisions of this act, when the amount claimed does not exceed three hundred dollars. As amended, Stats. 1879, 52.

2231. Foundrymen. liens of.

SEC. 19. All foundrymen and boilermakers, and all persons performing labor, or furnishing machinery, or boilers, or castings, or other materials for the construction, or repairing, or carrying on of any mill, manufactory, or hoisting works, shall have a lien on such mill, manufactory, or hoisting works, for such work or labor done on such machinery, or boiler, or castings, or other material furnished by each respectively; and all the provisions of this act respecting the mode of filing, recording, securing, and enforcing the liens of contractors, subcontractors, journeymen, laborers, and others, and the word "superstructure," wherever it occurs in this act, shall be applicable to the provisions of this section of this act.

The word "on" before "such machinery" should read "or." The change of the word "or" to "on" in the statute was a clerical mistake and should be disregarded. Gould v. Wise, 18 Nev. 261. Cited, Idem, pp. 254, 260.

| 2233. Stock at large must have particular brand. | 2239. Penalty for using unrecorded brand. |
| 2234. Brand to be recorded—Fees for. | 2240. Not more than half ear removed—Penalty. |
| 2235. Transcript of marks and brands. | 2241. Mark and brand unlawful if not recorded—Sales—Counterbrand. |
| 2236. Neglect of recorder—Penalty. | 2242. Mismarking or misbranding to defraud a misdemeanor. |
| 2237. Stock, when to be branded—Evidence. | |
| 2238. But one mark and brand to be used. | |

2233. Stock at large must have particular brand.

SECTION 1. Owners of horses, mules, cattle, sheep, goats, or hogs, running at large, must have a mark or brand, and counterbrand, different from any one in use by any other person, so far as may be known.

2234. Brand to be recorded—Fees for.

SEC. 2. Every such owner shall record with the recorder of his county, his mark, brand, and counterbrand, by delivering to said recorder his mark, cut upon a piece of leather, and his brand and counterbrand burnt upon it, and the same shall be kept in the recorder's office; a certified copy thereof made by the recorder, with the seal of his office attached thereto, shall be deemed evidence on the trial of any action in a court of competent jurisdiction, as to the ownership of all animals legally marked or branded as hereinafter provided. The recorder shall enter in a book to be kept by him for that purpose, a copy of said marks, brands, and counterbrands, provided that such recorder shall be satisfied that such brand and counterbrand tendered to him for record is unlike any other mark, brand, or counterbrand in the county, or as far as his knowledge extends, is different from any other in the state. For recording the mark, brand, and counterbrand, and transmitting the same as hereinafter provided, the recorder shall be entitled to demand and receive two dollars.

2235. Transcript of marks and brands.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of every recorder in this state to transmit to the recorders of the adjoining counties, a transcript of all the marks, brands, and counterbrands recorded in his office, which shall be filed by any such recorders in their offices, and reference thereto shall be made in every case of application for the record of marks and brands under this act.

2236. Neglect of recorder—Penalty.

SEC. 4. Any recorder knowingly and wilfully neglecting or refusing to comply with the provisions of this act, shall forfeit and pay for every such neglect or refusal, any sum not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars, to be recovered before any justice of the peace of said county where such neglect or refusal may occur, by any person suing therefor, together with all costs and damages that may occur by such neglect or refusal.

2237. Stock, when to be branded—Evidence.

SEC. 5. Every person shall brand his horses and mules, and mark and brand his cattle before they are twelve months old, and mark his sheep, goats, and hogs before they are six months old. On the trial of an action as provided in section 2 of this act, to recover possession of any animal which is marked or branded as provided in this act, the mark and brand shall be primary evidence that the animal belongs to the owner or owners of the mark or brand, and that he, she, or they were entitled to the possession of the said animal at the time of the commencement of the action.

2238. But one mark and brand to be used.

SEC. 6. No person shall use more than one mark, brand, or counterbrand; provided, however, this shall not extend to those persons who are the owners of more than one ranch or farm.

2239. Penalty for using unrecorded brand.

SEC. 7. If any person shall use any mark, brand, or counterbrand, other than the one recorded by him, except by the consent of the owner of such other mark, brand, or counterbrand, he shall be liable to forfeit and lose to any person suing therefor, the stock so marked or branded with any other than his proper mark or brand recorded by him.

2240. Not more than half ear removed—Penalty.

SEC. 8. No person, company, corporation, or association shall be allowed to use a mark made by cutting off more than half of the ear, measuring from the tip or extreme outer limit of the ear towards the animal's head, or by cutting the ear on both sides to a point. All companies, corporations, associations or individuals who may now be using such marks are hereby required to change the same immediately after the passage of this act. Any person who shall, either for himself, or as agent for any company, corporation or association, violate any of the provisions of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail for a period not to exceed six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. As amended, Stats. 1901, 18.

2241. Mark and brand unlawful if not recorded—Sales—Counterbrand.

SEC. 9. No mark, brand, or counterbrand shall be considered as lawful if not recorded as specified in this act; and all persons selling or disposing of any cattle which are not intended for slaughter, or any horses, mares, mules, jacks, or jennies, shall be required to counterbrand them on the shoulder, or give a written descriptive bill of sale; and any person failing to so counterbrand said animals, or give such written bill of sale, shall lose all benefits of this act, and all rights to use said brand as evidence in any court under this act.

The provisions of this section have no application to the use of such mark or brand in the identification of cattle as evidence in a criminal prosecution for larceny. State v. Cardelli, 19 Nev. 320, 328 (10 P. 433).

2242. Mismarking or misbranding to defraud, a misdemeanor.

SEC. 10. Any person, who with intent to defraud, shall wilfully mismark or misbrand any stock not his own, on conviction thereof shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for the period of not less than ten days nor more than one hundred days, or a fine of not less than twenty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment, as the court may impose. As amended, Stats. 1887, 88.

This section, before amendment, contained a provision in relation to the unlawful killing of stock and making it a felony and was therefore held unconstitutional under the provisions of Const., sec. 277, ante, in State v. Silver, 9 Nev. 227. This defect was cured by above amendment.

An Act regulating the use of marks and brands of stock, and the recording thereof, and providing penalties for the violation thereof and repealing all acts in conflict therewith.

Approved March 20, 1909, 128

- 2243. Similar brand in same place not to be used.
- 2244. Idem—Change of record—Other restrictions.
- 2245. Idem—Changes to be recorded without charge.
- 2246. Restrictions as to recording.
- 2247. Penalties.
- 2248. Idem.

2243. Similar brand in same place not to be used.

SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, firm, association, copartnership or corporation to have a brand and mark stock therewith, upon the same place on the animal marked and branded, which brand is similarly placed on the animal branded and is similar in form and design to, or a modification of, any brand or mark recorded prior thereto, in accordance with the laws now in effect regulating the recording of marks and brands of stock.

2244. Idem—Change of record—Other restrictions.

SEC. 2. From and after the passage of this act, it shall be unlawful for any person or persons, firm, association, copartnership or corporation to mark and brand stock on the same place on the animal marked and branded, with a brand similar in form and design to, or a modification of any prior recorded brand, after having been served with a written notice by the owner of said prior recorded brand to change the place where the similarly formed or designed or modified brand is placed on the animals branded and marked therewith, and shall place the said brand or mark upon a different place on all animals marked and branded therewith thereafter; and shall, within ninety days after receiving such written notice, have the change in the location of said brand made in the proper records in the offices of the respective county recorders where said brands are recorded.

2245. Idem—Changes recorded without charge.

SEC. 3. All such changes in the locations of brands or marks made necessary by the provisions of this act, shall be made by the respective county recorders without charge. The respective county recorders may and shall, upon the application of the owner or owners of the similarly designed or formed or modified brand, amend the original record of said brand so as to cause it to conform to the provisions of this act.

2246. Restrictions as to recording.

SEC. 4. It shall be unlawful for any county recorder to record any mark or brand which shall be similar in form and design to any prior recorded brand, or any modification thereof, if said brand or mark is to be placed upon the same place on the animal branded or marked therewith as the prior recorded brand, to which it is similar in form and design, or a modification thereof.

2247. Penalties.

SEC. 5. Any person or persons, or the agent or agents of any firm, association, copartnership or corporation violating the provisions of sections 1 and 2 of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than five years, or by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than three thousand dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

2248. Idem.

SEC. 6. Any county recorder violating the provisions of section 4 of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars.

An Act concerning unlawful stock.

| 2249. Stallions at large unlawful. | 2254. Idem —Notices to be posted. |
| 2250. Idem —Duty of persons taking up. | 2255. Idem —Restitution of property. |
| 2251. May be sold—Proceeds, how disposed of. | 2256. Idem —Forfeiture of property—Sale by constable. |
| 2252. Original horses not allowed to run at large—Constable may sell. | 2257. Idem —Arbitration of charges. |
| 2253. Hogs or goats trespassing. | 2258. Idem —Fees of constable. |
| | 2259. Surplus money paid to whom. |

2249. Stallions at large unlawful.

SECTION 1. From and after the passage of this act, it shall be unlawful for stallions, of the age of two years and upwards, to run at large among the settlements of this state.

2250. Idem—Duty of persons taking up.

SEC. 2. If the owner or owners, or the agent of any owner or owners, shall permit any animal as aforesaid, contrary to the provisions of the first section of this act, to run at large in the settled portions of this state, it shall be lawful for any person to take up and confine the same, giving information to the owner or owners, or agent as aforesaid, of such seizure, if the party or parties shall be known; or, if they shall not be known, then posting notices, conveying such information, in three of the most public places in the township or district in which the animal is taken up. If, at the expiration of ten days from the date of such information given, or of such notice posted, the owner, owners, or agent, as aforesaid, of such animal, shall not appear and legally reclaim it, by paying all the expenses that may have been incurred in the taking up, confining and keeping of the animal, then it shall be lawful for the taker up to have it emasculated at the risk and additional expense of the owner or owners.

2251. May be sold—Proceeds, how disposed of.

SEC. 3. If, at the expiration of thirty days thereafter, no such owner, owners, nor agent shall appear and legally reclaim such animal as aforesaid, then it shall be the duty of the person having possession of it to deliver the same to the constable of the township in which the animal has been found and confined, whose duty it shall be, after three days' notice of the intent, to make sale of the same to the highest cash bidder, and after paying all the necessary expenses incurred in the premises, then to pay the residue of the proceeds of such sale into the treasury of the county in which such sale shall have taken place, for the benefit of the common school fund; provided, however, that if the owner or owners of such property shall make claim to it at any time before such sale can legally be made, nothing in this act shall be construed to exempt such owner or owners from payment of all expenses incurred.

2252. Original horses not allowed to run at large—Constable may sell.

SEC. 4. No original horse shall be allowed to run at large in any of the settled portions of this state, and any owner or owners of such horse who shall permit it to run at large for the space of five days shall be liable to a forfeiture of the same. Any person shall be authorized to take up the same; and it is hereby made the duty of such person to deliver the animal, immediately, to the constable of the township in which it may be taken up, who, after twenty days' notice, by written or published notification of the intent, posted in two conspicuous places in such township, shall proceed to sell the same to the highest cash bidder; and, after all expenses incurred in the premises shall have been defrayed, the residue of the proceeds of such sale, if there be any, shall be paid into the treasury of the county in which such sale shall have taken place, to be appropriated to the common school fund.

2253. Hogs or goats trespassing.

SEC. 5. Any hog or hogs, goat or goats, found trespassing upon the premises of any person or persons in this state, may be taken up by the owner or owners of such premises, and safely kept at the expense of the owner or owners of the hog or hogs, goat or goats, so found trespassing. As amended, Stats. 1875, 146.

2254. Idem—Notices to be posted.

SEC. 6. All persons taking up hogs trespassing upon their lands, whether inclosed or not, shall, immediately thereafter, post notices in three conspicuous places in the precincts in which such persons reside, containing a description of the ear or other marks of such hogs, whereby the owners may identify them as their property.

2255. Idem—Restitution of property.

SEC. 7. If the owners of such hogs come forward within ten days of the time when such notices were posted, and prove them to be their property, the person or persons taking them up shall deliver them to such owner or owners, upon their paying all the costs, charges, and damages sustained by reason of their trespassing.

2256. Idem—Forfeiture of property—Sale by constable.

SEC. 8. If, however, the owner or owners shall not claim the same within ten days, then the person taking up such hogs shall immediately notify a constable of the precinct wherein the trespass has been committed, and the constable shall proceed to sell, at public auction, after giving five days' notice of such sale, by posting notices in three public places in said precinct, all such hogs so taken up; provided, that the owners may prove their property and receive the same, by paying all costs and damages, at any time before such sale can take place.

2257. Idem—Arbitration of charges.

SEC. 9. If the parties cannot agree as to the amount of charges and damages, then each party may choose one disinterested person, and they may choose a third person, who shall determine the amount thereof; and should the owners not come forward, then the constable shall select three disinterested persons to determine the amount.

2258. Idem—Fees of constable.

SEC. 10. The fees of the constable, under the provisions of this act, shall be the same as allowed by law for all similar services.

2259. Surplus money paid to whom.

SEC. 11. If there shall be any surplus money arising from the proceeds of such sales, after paying all costs, charges and damages, the constable shall pay the same to the owner or owners of such hogs sold; provided, that they prove they are entitled to it within fifteen days after the sale, otherwise he shall pay it into the treasury of the county in which such sale shall have been made, taking the receipt of the treasurer for the same, for the benefit of the common school fund.

2260. Liability of constable—Misdemeanor.

SEC. 12. Any constable refusing or neglecting to pay to the county treasurer, or to the owner or owners, the surplus derived from any sale made under the provisions of this act, shall be liable for the same on his official bond, and shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars.

An Act to prohibit certain live stock from running at large upon the streets, highways or commons of the cities and towns of the State of Nevada.

Approved February 11, 1893, 19

2261. Animals not to run at large in town—Limits defined.

SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful for the owner or owners, or any person or persons having in charge any cow, calf, bull, steer, heifer, horse, gelding, mare, colt, jack, jenny, mule or any neat-foot animal, or any number of such animals, to permit or allow them to run at large within the ordinary limits of any city or town of this state between the hours of six o'clock p. m. and seven o'clock a. m. of each day, during any period of the year. Said ordinary limits shall be defined as follows: Within an incorporated city or town, the limits shall be as defined in said incorporated clause or clauses; and within a town or city not incorporated in this state, the said ordinary limits shall be defined as follows: Within such city or town with fifty or more inhabitants, the said limits shall be defined as being within a radius of half mile, radiating from the postoffice of said city or town.

2262. Duties of sheriffs and constables.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the sheriff, deputy and deputies, constable and policemen of or in any town described in section 1 of this act, to impound any or all animals mentioned herein.

2263. Fine for violation.

SEC. 3. The owner or owners, agent or agents, or person or persons having charge of such animal or animals, shall be fined five dollars for each and every violation of this act, and as much more, as in the discretion of the court having jurisdiction thereof, may deem a sufficient amount to cover all damages.

2264. When animals may be impounded and sold—Disposition of proceeds.

SEC. 4. Any officer, officers, person or persons named in section 2 of this act, having in his charge, after they have been impounded, any of the animals mentioned in this act, shall post a notice that such animal or animals are in his charge, and if not taken out by the owner or owners, agent or agents, person or persons in charge, by paying all costs, charges and damages, will be sold. After the expiration of ten days the officer or officers, person or persons having such animal or animals, and having given notice as aforesaid, shall post three written or printed notices in conspicuous places in the town or city where such animal or animals have been taken up, describing the same, giving all marks or brands, if any, and that such animal or animals will be sold by him to pay the charges that have, and will have accrued, against the property, and the costs. He shall sell to the highest bidder, and upon payment of the purchase money shall turn over to the buyer the animal or animals sold, and after deducting the costs of impounding and all accrued costs, including the costs of feeding, keeping and selling, shall pay the balance, if any remains, into the county treasury, where it shall remain subject to the laws governing escheats.

2265. Duty of officers.

SEC. 5. It is hereby made the duty of the several officers in this act named, to enforce its provisions, and a failure to do so shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and any officer found guilty thereof shall be fined in a sum not exceeding twenty dollars.

An Act to protect the live stock of this state from disease, and providing a penalty for driving or allowing diseased stock to run at large upon the public lands.

Approved February 19, 1887, 72

2266. Unlawful to drive diseased stock on highway.

SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful to drive any horse infected with glanders, or pink eye; any sheep infected with scab, or foot rot; and neat cattle infected with Spanish or Texas or splenic fever, or with pleuro-pneumonia; any hog infected with cholera or trichina, or any of said animals that are infected with or that have been exposed to any of the above diseases whatever, along any highway or traveled road in this state.

2267. To be enclosed or herded.

SEC. 2. The owner of any animal or animals so infected or diseased, as mentioned in section 1 of this act, or that has been exposed to any contagious disease, and the person or persons in charge thereof shall keep such animal or animals safely enclosed or securely herded upon lands owned by or held in actual possession by them under the laws of this state by the owner or person in charge of such animal or animals.

2268. Penalty—Entitled to recover damages.

SEC. 3. Every person who may violate either of the preceding sections of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished therefor by a fine not less than thirty nor exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in [the] county jail for a term not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court, and the owner or owners of any animal or animals injured or damaged by any act or omission in violation of the provisions of this act shall be entitled to recover the amount of damages sustained from the owner or owners of the diseased live stock from which the contagion came, and shall also be entitled to recover the costs of prosecution.

An Act to prevent the spread of contagious diseases among live stock of the State of Nevada, and to quarantine against other states or infected districts.

2269. Proclamation of quarantine—Proviso.

SECTION 1. Whenever, upon the application of ten or more citizens of this state to the governor, asking for a proclamation of quarantine against any state or states, district or districts, infected by contagious diseases prevailing among live stock of said states or districts, the governor may issue a proclamation giving notice to such state or district, by mailing to the governor of said state or states, district or districts, where such disease exists, a copy of said proclamation in which it shall be stated that all diseased or infected, and all stock having been exposed to any infectious or contagious disease or diseases, are prohibited from entering within the borders of this state during the time of quarantine; provided, that said prohibition shall not apply to any stock being transported through and beyond the limits of this state by any railroad company by permit or authority granted by any agent or inspector acting under the instruction and authority of the United States government.

2270. Governor to employ veterinary.

SEC. 2. The governor shall at all times have the power to employ a veterinary surgeon to investigate epidemic and contagious diseases affecting live stock in this state.

2271. Misdemeanor—Penalty.

SEC. 3. Any person who, in violation of the quarantine regulations expressed in section 1 of this act by bringing the live stock into this state from the state or district so quarantined, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars and not more than two thousand dollars, together with all the costs of treatment and disinfection, and the stock so treated and disinfected shall be held by the veterinary surgeon appointed by the governor for the full cost of treatment and fine imposed and shall not be released until both fine and costs are paid.

An Act to provide for immediate destruction of domestic animals dying of contagious or infectious diseases.

Approved February 25, 1905, 32

2272. Disposal of bodies—Animals dying of infectious diseases must be burned or buried—Proviso.

SECTION 1. It is hereby made the duty of any person, firm or corporation, or of the officers or agents of any person, firm or corporation, owning or claiming any cattle, sheep, pigs, horses or other animals that shall die of any contagious or infectious disease, to cause any of said animals dying as aforesaid to be burned or buried with not less than three feet of earth over the carcass within twenty-four hours after the knowledge of death as aforesaid shall have come to said person, firm, corporation, officers or agents; provided, however, this act shall not apply to domestic animals dying without a limit of one mile of any town, city, inhabited ranch house, or one-half mile of any public highway, situated in the State of Nevada.

2273. Idem—Penalty.

SEC. 2. Any person, firm or corporation, or the officers or agents of any person, firm or corporation, that shall fail or refuse to comply with the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail for any term not less than ten days nor more than twenty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

An Act concerning estray animals.

| 2278. Penalty for moving estrays. | 2283. Taker up not liable for escape, or death. |
| | 2284. Stallions and Spanish bulls to be castrated. |

2274. Estrays to be reported to a justice—Procedure—Failure misdemeanor—Larceny.

SECTION 1. Every person finding any stray horse, mare, colt, jack, or jenny, or any neat-foot animal, or any number of these animals, upon his farm or premises, or upon the public highway or domain, and shall take the same up for keeping, shall, within ten days, if said animal or animals remain on his farm or premises, or keeping, go before some justice of the peace of his township, and give, under oath, a full description of the marks and brands, color, and kind of such animal or animals, also the time, and all necessary information that will lead to the cause of the said animal or animals coming into his keeping, that may have come to his knowledge, and the marks and brands have not been altered since they came to his farm or premises; provided, no animal shall be considered an estray if the owner is known to the person finding it. At the time the taker up appears before the justice, as aforesaid, the justice shall, without delay, appoint two disinterested appraisers, who are resident householders of the county, to appraise and describe such animal or animals, and cause a notice of such estray or estrays, with a full description of the same, giving the brands, marks and colors thereon, to be published once a week for two consecutive months, in a newspaper published at the county-seat of the county in which the animal or animals may be taken up, and if there be no newspapers published at the county-seat, then the said notice shall be published in the newspaper nearest to the same. The said justice shall also cause three notices to be posted of such estrays, in conspicuous places, one of which shall be the justice's office, and the others the vicinity of the place where the estray animal or animals may have been taken up. For refusing or neglecting to comply with the provisions of this section of this act, justices of the peace shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor in office, and the taker up of such estray or estrays shall be deemed guilty of grand or petit larceny, according to the value of the estray animal or animals taken up, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished as is provided in the law of the State of Nevada entitled "An act concerning crimes and punishments." As amended, Stats. 1877, 90.

2275. Record of estray—How restored to owner.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the said justice to record the description, together with full information given by the taker up, and the justice shall, within ten days, if the estray animal or animals is or are not before proved by their proper owner, transmit a full transcript to the county recorder of his county, and the said recorder shall record the same in his estray book; said book shall be subject to examination by all persons making application to the recorder, and also the estray book of the justice of the peace; and every person claiming and proving said estray animal or animals that has or have been posted by this act, shall have restitution of the property so claimed, by paying all costs and such charges as may be awarded to the taker up by the justice of the peace of his county.

2276. Penalty for neglect to comply with act.

SEC. 3. Any person knowing of any horse, mare, colt, mule, jack, or jenny, or any number of neat cattle, or any number of these animals, running at large on his farm or premises, and not knowing the proper owner, who refuses or neglects to comply with the requisitions of the foregoing section, shall be subject to a fine not exceeding the value of the stock so neglected to be posted, recoverable before any court having jurisdiction of the same.

2277. Estrays not to be used.

SEC. 4. No person shall be allowed or permitted to use, or cause to be used, to profit or otherwise, any animal within his charge or keeping, under the foregoing provisions of this act; and any persons failing or refusing to comply with the requisitions set forth in this section shall be deemed guilty of grand or petit larceny, according to the value of the same, and, on conviction thereof, be punished in accordance with the provisions of the act concerning crimes and punishments. As amended, Stats. 1877, 91.

2278. Penalty for moving estrays.

SEC. 5. The owners of any stray animal, which is legally taken up under the provisions of this act, shall not be permitted to take, lead, or drive the same from the farm or possession of the person legally possessed of such animal, until proven and charges paid according to the provisions of this act; and any person knowingly and wilfully violating the provisions of this section, shall be subject to all the penalties that he would be subject to under the statute law, provided he had no claim on such animal.

See sec. 2232.

2279. Removing, larceny, when.

SEC. 6. If any one shall remove any stray animal from any rancho, or farm, or inclosure, contrary to the provisions of this act, who shall not be the owner of the same, he shall be deemed guilty of grand or petit larceny, according to the value of the property.

2280. Right to reclaim forfeited.

SEC. 7. If the owner of any lost or stray animal shall not appear and prove his property therein within three months, provided they are neat-foot animals and valued at fifty dollars and under that amount, and six months, provided they are horses, mules, or other animals, and valued at one hundred dollars and upwards, after the same is posted, he shall forfeit his right thereto, and the property in such animal shall be vested in the taker up, on his paying into the county treasury the one-half appraised value thereof, as fixed by the appraisers as aforesaid.

2281. Moneys paid, how disposed of.

SEC. 8. All moneys paid into the county treasury, under the provisions of this act as above provided, shall become a part and belong to the county school fund of the county in which the proceedings are had, and be drawn from the county treasury on proper warrant, and shall be exclusively appropriated to the county school fund, and for no other purpose.

2282. Fees of justice and recorder—Costs, by whom paid.

SEC. 9. The justice of the peace and recorder shall receive for their services in any one case, whether for one or more animals, two dollars and fifty cents each; and all other officers or persons shall receive for their services the same fees as are allowed for similar services within the county. All costs and charges accruing [accruing] under this act shall be paid by the person taking up the estray animal or animals, but shall be reimbursed by the owner, upon proof and delivery of his property. As amended, Stats. 1877, 186.

2283. Taker up not liable for escape or death.

SEC. 10. If any stray animal die or escape from the possession of the taker up, at any time before the expiration of six months from the taking up, he shall not be held liable in any manner on account of such animal.

2284. Stallions and Spanish bulls to be castrated.

SEC. 11. That if any stallion one and a half years old or upwards, shall be found running at large, out of the enclosed ground of the owner or keeper of said horse, it shall be lawful for any person to take up such horse, and forthwith give notice to the owner or keeper thereof, if said owner or keeper be known; and if the owner or keeper do not appear within three days thereafter, and pay to the said taker up five dollars as a compensation for his trouble, the taker up shall proceed to advertise said horse; and the same proceedings shall be had in every respect, as hereinbefore provided in cases of stray horses; provided, that the taker up may, at the expiration of twenty days from the time of advertising, castrate, or procure to be castrated, the said horse, which shall be done at the risk and expense of the owner. And all Spanish bulls of one and a half years old and upwards, found running at large, shall be castrated, or cut, as hereinbefore provided.

Act cited, Chase v. Chase, 15 Nev. 261.

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act to provide for the appointment of inspectors of hides, defining their duties, and mode of compensation," approved March 3, 1881.

Approved March 10, 1897, 72

2285. Appointment of hide inspector—Duties.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of any district court in this state, upon the application in writing, of three or more property owners in any township of any county within said district, to appoint in and for such township, and for such length of time as may be deemed necessary not exceeding two years, an inspector of hides, whose duty it shall be to examine, when requested so to do by any three taxpayers of said township, the hides of any or all cattle killed in said township, and to mark each hide inspected in such a manner as may be indicated by the district judge, and shall, upon the request of said taxpayers as aforesaid, have the right, and it shall be his duty to go upon the premises of any resident of such township and make search for any hides concealed, or which such inspector or said taxpayers may have reason to believe are concealed upon said premises, and shall report, in writing, to the district attorney of the county in which he has been appointed at such times as may be designated by the district court making the appointment, giving the number of hides inspected, the brands or other marks upon such hides, the names of the persons in whose possession they were found, and whether the persons having them in possession had killed the cattle from which the hides were taken, or had obtained them from other persons, and the names of such persons.

2286. Idem—Compensation.

SEC. 2. The rate of compensation of such inspectors shall be fixed by the court at the time the appointments are made, and shall be paid by the parties on whose petition they are appointed, or by the taxpayers upon whose request they act, as provided in section 1 of this act.

Above act supersedes act of 1881, 118.

An Act to protect horse growers.

Approved March 9, 1889, 97

2287. Punishment for erroneous pedigree.

SECTION 1. Any person who shall sell any stallion within the limits of this state, intended for breeding purposes, and who shall give a false or erroneous written pedigree, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and on conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a term of not less than one year nor more than five years, and such person so offending shall be liable to the person so purchasing for all damages he may sustain by reason of such false record of pedigree; provided, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to any representation concerning pedigree unless the same has been reduced to writing and signed by the party so making the same.

2288. To keep pedigree posted—Penalty.

SEC. 2. Every person who shall keep a stallion for the service of mares shall keep posted in a conspicuous place on or near the stable where such stallion is kept, a full and complete pedigree of such stallion headed by the name by which said stallion is known; provided, that in cases where the pedigree is unknown such fact shall be inserted in such notice in lieu of pedigree. Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, and as a further punishment for the offense the owner or keeper of such horse shall have no legal right to collect any charges made for services of such horse.

An Act providing for the inspection of horses about to be driven or shipped out of the state; creating the sheriffs of the several counties inspectors of horses, and prescribing their duties as such; prohibiting the transportation by railroad companies of horses without inspection; and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act.

2289. Inspection of horses required before removal from state.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of every person or persons, firm, association or corporation, shipping or driving any horses out of this state to hold the same at some convenient place for inspection as hereinafter provided by this act, and it shall be unlawful for any person or persons, firm, association or corporation to ship, drive or in any manner remove beyond the boundaries of this state any herd, band or carload of horses until the same shall have been duly inspected as hereinafter provided for.

2290. Idem—Railroad companies held liable.

SEC. 2. It shall be unlawful for any railroad company to receive for transportation beyond the boundaries of this state any herd, band or carload of horses until the same shall have been duly inspected as hereinafter provided by this act, and until such railroad company shall have been furnished with a certificate by a duly authorized inspector of the county in which the shipment is to be made showing that the brands upon such horses have been duly inspected as required by this act, and any railroad company, or any officer, agent or servant of any railroad company who shall violate the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars and not more than five thousand dollars, in the discretion of the court.

2291. Sheriffs to be inspectors—Report.

SEC. 3. The sheriff of each county shall be an inspector of horses under the provisions of this act and it is hereby made the duty of the sheriff of each county to perform the duties hereinafter provided as such live stock inspector, and he shall keep a record of all inspections made, giving the name of the owner and shipper of any horses, the several brands, the number of the car and the destination of the shipment. He shall file with the board of county commissioners of his county, on the first day of each month, a complete report of all inspections made during the month, and shall also furnish a copy of such report to the official newspaper of the county, and such report shall be published at the expense of the county, and the publisher of such paper shall forward a copy of his paper free of charge, containing such report, to each of the sheriffs of the state.

2292. Sheriff to give clearance certificate—Expenses.

SEC. 4. Every person or persons, firm, association or corporation, their or either of their agents, servants or employees having charge of any horses destined for transportation by rail or to be driven beyond the limits of this state, shall make application to the sheriff of the county in which such stock is located, or to his duly authorized agent to inspect the brand or brands of any such horses, stating in such application the time and place, when and where said horses will be ready for inspection; and it shall be the duty of such sheriff or his deputy so notified to attend at the time and place designated in such application and inspect said horses, make the necessary record, and give the necessary certificate required by the provisions of this act, free of charge to the owner of said horses or to said railroad company or corporation; provided, however, that the actual and necessary expenses of the sheriff or his deputy, in making such inspection, shall be paid by the county; provided, further, that in all cases of horses transported out of this state by rail, the place of inspection shall be at some stock yard near the proposed point of shipment of said horses from this state; and provided further, that if the owner or person in charge of said horses shall cause any unreasonable delay or loss of time to such sheriff or his deputy so notified to attend, such owner or person in charge of any such horses shall pay the expenses and salary of such inspector during such delay or loss of time not to exceed five dollars per day.

2293. Sheriff to inspect all brands on horses—Report.

SEC. 5. It shall be the duty of the sheriff or his deputy who shall be notified as hereinafter provided, to inspect the brands of all horses transported or driven out of this state, and make a sworn report to the board of county commissioners of the result of such inspection at least once in every thirty days. It shall also be the duty of such sheriff or his deputy to furnish any person, firm, association or corporation or either of their agents, servants or employees, having horses destined for transportation by rail or to be driven beyond the limits of this state, with a certificate to the effect that he has duly inspected the brands of all such horses therein enumerated, and that he has a full and complete record of such horses.

2294. False certificate; punishment.

SEC. 6. Any sheriff or his deputy who shall knowingly make any false certificate under the provisions of this act, and who shall knowingly swear falsely as to the truth of any report made by him to the board of county commissioners, or who shall accept any bribe or compensation for the performance or failure to perform the duties prescribed by this act, shall upon conviction thereof be guilty of a felony, and be fined in a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars or imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding five years, or both, at the discretion of the court.

2295. Avoiding inspection; punishment.

SEC. 7. Any person or persons, who shall violate any of sections 1, 4, and 5 of this act, or who shall remove any band, herd, or carload of horses beyond the limits of this state without having the same inspected as required by the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than five hundred dollars and not more than five thousand, or be imprisoned in the state prison of this state for a period not less than one year nor more than three years, or both such fine and imprisonment. But nothing in this act contained shall be construed as in any manner affecting the laws now in force respecting the larceny of live stock.

2296. Inspection fee—Lien—Sale of unclaimed horses—Redemption—Proof.

SEC. 8. A fee of twenty-five cents per head shall be charged on all horses inspected under the provisions of this act, and such fee or charge shall be a lien upon the horses inspected until the same shall be paid. Said fees shall be in full compensation for all services rendered in making such inspection; provided, however, that said sheriffs shall have power and are hereby authorized to sell all unclaimed horses which shall come into their possession while in the discharge of their duties as such inspectors in the manner and form now prescribed for the advertising and sale of personal property under writ of execution and shall pay the proceeds of such sale, less the actual expenses of advertising, care and keeping of such unclaimed horses, into the county treasury to the credit of the general fund of the county; provided, further, that if ownership of such estrays shall be established to the satisfaction of the board of county commissioners of the county in which such animals are sold, within one year after the date of notice of sale of such unclaimed horses, it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners to cause a county warrant to be issued against the general fund of the county in favor of the owner or owners of such unclaimed horses in the amount of the net proceeds derived from such sale. Proof of ownership shall be by affidavit of the owner or owners and at least one credible corroborative witness.

2298. County commissioners to appoint sheep inspector—Bond.

SECTION 1. It is hereby made the duty of the several boards of county commissioners in this state, at their first regular meeting in April, nineteen hundred and one, and annually thereafter, to appoint an inspector of sheep for each of the counties of this state, who shall reside in the county for which he is appointed. Each inspector so appointed, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall take his oath of office, and give an undertaking to the people of the State of Nevada, for the use of the respective counties thereof, with two or more sureties, to be approved by the board of county commissioners, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties, and in such sum as the county commissioners of the several counties may deem sufficient for the faithful performance of the duties of his office and the enforcement of the requirements of this act. As amended, Stats. 1901, 70.

2299. Powers and duties of inspector—Deputies.

SEC. 2. Said inspector is hereby empowered (and it shall be his duty) to administer oaths and to personally examine all sheep and bands of sheep in his county every year, between the first day of March and the first day of July, and again between the first day of September and the first day of December of each and every year, and also at any time he may be called to do so, by request in writing, of at least five persons owning or controlling any sheep or band of sheep, said persons making a written statement that said sheep (stating their locality and name of owner) are affected with some infectious or contagious disease, to at once proceed to examine said sheep, and if upon examination said sheep are found to be affected or infected with any infectious or contagious disease, and there is imminent or immediate danger of the spreading of said disease, and that it will cause great and irreparable injury to other owners in the vicinity of said infected or affected sheep, the said inspector, shall forthwith issue his orders quarantining said sheep, and he shall engage a sufficient number of persons to hold said sheep secure from other sheep, and shall immediately dip, or cause to be dipped, all of said sheep found to be so affected. Each inspector may appoint one or more deputies, not exceeding one for each precinct, for whose acts he shall be responsible, and by any of whom he may perform any act required of him by this act, except the semiannual inspections, which shall be made by the inspector in person; and it shall be the duty of the inspector to advertise in at least one local paper, if there be one in his county, at his own expense, the names and postoffice address of any and all of his deputies.

Any indebtedness incurred under the provisions of this act, except for which the inspector should pay, may be recovered by such inspector in his official capacity, by an action in any court having jurisdiction of the amount. He shall also, at the request of the owner or owners of any sheep about to be brought from any other state or territory into this state, make an examination of such sheep, and if found free from all contagious or infectious disease, certify to such fact, as provided in section 3 of this act. As amended, Stats. 1899, 37.

2300. Duties of inspector as to sheep coming into the state—Penalty.

SEC. 3. Any person, company, corporation, or association intending to bring, or cause to be brought, sheep from any other state or territory into this state must first obtain from an inspector of sheep, duly appointed under this act, a certificate that said sheep are free from all infectious and contagious disease, before crossing the boundary line of this state; and it shall be the duty of every inspector, at the request of any person, company, association, or corporation owning or controlling any sheep in his county, or within twenty miles of the line of such county, upon being tendered the amount of his compensation for other special examinations as herein provided, to with all convenient speed examine any sheep he shall be requested so to examine, and if such sheep be sound and free from all infectious and contagious diseases, and are perfectly sound, to give his written certificate to said applicant, over his official signature, setting forth the soundness and freedom from disease of said sheep, together with the date of such examination, and permit and authorize such applicant to move such sheep to all counties of this state. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars.

See sec. 2315.

2301. Permit to move sheep—Penalties.

SEC. 4. Any person, company, corporation, or association desiring to move his or its sheep which are not sound, or are affected or infected with scab or any infectious or contagious disease, shall obtain from the inspector a traveling permit; but such permit shall only be granted for the purpose of moving said sheep to some place where they may be treated for said disease, and by such route as the inspector may designate. Any person, company or corporation violating the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars; and any party injured or damaged by the reason of the moving of said sheep, without such permit, shall be entitled to recover off of said person, company, or corporation, by a civil action, three times the amount of damage, direct and consequential, that said party has actually sustained by reason thereof.

2302. Infectious diseases in sheep—Dipping—Misdemeanor.

SEC. 5. Whenever, on examination of any bands or herds of sheep kept or herded in any county of this state, the inspector shall find such sheep, or any portion of them, afflicted with scab or any infectious or contagious disease, he shall forthwith notify the person in charge of such sheep, in writing, to dip such sheep for said disease within a period of thirty days from such notice, and also, during such period to keep such sheep from contact with other sheep by such means as he may direct; and if the owner or owners, or person or persons in charge of such sheep shall not dip said sheep for said disease, as required by said notice, within said thirty days, or if said diseased sheep shall not be kept from contact with other sheep that are free from said disease, by such means as the said inspector may specify, the owner or owners, or person or persons controlling said sheep, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars; and in case said sheep have not been dipped for said disease, the inspector shall immediately take possession of said sheep and dip them for said disease, and all expenses incurred in so doing, including a compensation of three dollars per day for every day, or part of a day, in which the inspector may be engaged in dipping said sheep shall become a lien upon said sheep, and the inspector shall hold the sheep until the same is paid; or, if it be not paid within ten days after such dipping is completed, he shall collect the same together with the costs and expenses of collection, by advertising and selling said sheep, or so many thereof as may be necessary, in the manner provided by law for the sale of personal property upon execution. If, however, at the expiration of thirty days from such notice as before mentioned, the inspector finds that said sheep have been dipped for such disease, but are still infected with the same disease, then he shall instruct the owner or controller of said sheep to dip said sheep a second time as soon as possible, but with an interval between the dippings of not less than fifteen nor more than thirty days, and if, upon examination at the end of thirty days further, the inspector finds that said sheep have been dipped but are still infected, then he shall at once take possession of said sheep and dip them for said disease, as above specified. If, however, upon examination, he finds that said sheep have not been dipped for said disease, he shall seize said sheep and dip them for said disease, as above specified, and the owner or owners shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars; provided, no person, company or corporation shall be required to dip a band of ewes in which there are ewes with lambs at any time between the first day of March and the first day of July of any year. As amended, Stats. 1899, 38.

2303. Fees of inspector, how paid.

SEC. 6. The sheep inspectors of the several counties of this state shall be entitled to an animal fee of one-half cent per head while making the regular semiannual inspection required by this act, and which shall be collected by him at the time of making the first inspection only. He shall also be allowed to collect a fee of three dollars per day for every day or part of a day in which he shall be engaged in making special inspections, or in inspecting sheep for the purpose of granting traveling permits, or certificates of soundness, together with ten cents per mile for the distance necessarily traveled by him in making such inspections; provided, that no person, company, or corporation owning or controlling any band or bands of sheep, and holding a certificate of soundness issued by the inspector of the proper county, within thirty days of such time as such person, company, or corporation shall desire to move said band or bands, shall be required to have a traveling permit for the purpose of moving said sheep from one locality to another within the county in which said sheep are located.

2304. Penalties for failure of inspector.

SEC. 7. Any inspector, who shall at any time grant a permit to allow any sheep to travel without first having examined such sheep, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than one hundred nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars; and for any violation or failure of any inspector to comply with the requirements of this act, it is hereby made the duty of the district attorney of the county where such inspector may reside to forthwith institute, in the name of the state, an action on his official bond against said inspector and his sureties for the enforcement herein provided for.

2305. Failure to report sheep with scab misdemeanor.

SEC. 8. Any person or persons owning or having under their control any sheep which are infected with scab or other contagious disease for a period of fifteen days, without reporting the same to the inspector, in writing, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars. Upon such notice, the inspector shall proceed as provided in section 5 of this act. Any person, company or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be liable in a civil action for all damages sustained by any other person, company or corporation in consequence of such violation.

2306. Persons having interest jointly and severally liable—Herder to give information—Misdemeanor.

SEC. 9. In any proceedings arising under the provisions of this act all persons having any interest in sheep concerning which said proceedings is had, shall be deemed the owners of such sheep, and such owners shall be liable severally and jointly for violations of this act. Any herder, shepherd or other person in charge of sheep, or who shall wilfully refuse to give an inspector information as to the condition of sheep in his charge shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

2307. Prosecutions may be made, how.

SEC. 10. The provisions of this act requiring sheep inspectors to prosecute for violation of its provisions shall not be so construed as to prevent such prosecutions from being commenced and prosecuted by other persons, as in other criminal actions.

2308. Permit to move from county to county to be obtained.

SEC. 11. Any person, company, or corporation shall, before moving any sheep from one county to another in this state, first obtain from an inspector a traveling permit; and any violation of this section shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars.

2309. Certificate for transportation.

SEC. 12. It shall be unlawful for any person, company, or corporation, owning, controlling or managing any railroad car, or other thing used for transportation, to allow any sheep to be carried thereon unless the party in charge of said sheep shall first produce a certificate (which shall not have been issued more than thirty days prior to the date upon which said sheep shall be shipped or transported) from an inspector appointed under this act, or of an act amendatory to this act, that said sheep are free from scab, scabbies, and infectious and contagious diseases. Any violation of this section shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and any person, company, or corporation violating any of its provisions shall be fined in a sum not less than one hundred nor more than two hundred and fifty dollars.

2310. Penalty for having in possession scabby sheep.

SEC. 13. Any person, company, or corporation, who shall own or have in his or their possession any sheep or band or herd of sheep affected with any contagious or infectious disease, knowing such sheep to be so affected, or after having received notice that said sheep are so affected, who shall permit such sheep to run at large, or who shall keep such sheep where other sheep not affected with such disease shall be exposed to such contagious or infectious disease, or who shall sell, trade, or give away such sheep, without first informing the party to whom the sheep are sold, traded, or given, that such sheep are diseased, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum not less than two hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars.

2311. False charges, liability for making.

SEC. 14. If any person or persons shall make complaint against another person, company, or corporation for violation of any of the provisions of this act, and said information shall prove false, the person so informing shall pay all costs, damages, expenses and disbursements incurred by reason of such complaint.

2312. Act to be printed and distributed.

SEC. 15. The state printer is hereby authorized and directed to print five hundred copies of this act, in addition to the usual number printed, for the use of county officers as required by law, and the secretary of state is hereby directed to distribute the same to the several county assessors of this state as he may deem proper. The said additional copies herein provided for shall be furnished to owners of sheep on application, free of charge.

An Act supplemental to an act entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to prevent the dissemination of contagious diseases among sheep; to provide for the appointment of sheep inspectors in the several counties of this state, and to define their duties and compensation,' approved February 23, 1893," approved March 6, 1899.

2313. Inspector to collect fees—When paid.

SECTION 1. The inspector of sheep in any county of this state where sheep are inspected shall collect the fees for such inspection in two annual installments; the first installment to be paid prior to the thirtieth day of June, and the second installment to be paid prior to the thirty-first day of December of each year.

2314. Sheep, when dipped.

SEC. 2. It is hereby made compulsory on the part of any person or persons owning or controlling sheep in this state, between the first day of July and the first day of December in each year, where scab is visible, to dip the infected sheep twice at interval of from ten to fourteen days.

2315. Sheep from other states.

SEC. 3. Any person or persons owning or controlling sheep and driving or bringing them into this state from any state, shall without delay, on entering this state, notify the nearest sheep inspector of their presence, with sheep, within this state.

See sec. 2300.

2316. Duty of inspectors—Expenses, sale to pay.

SEC. 4. The sheep inspectors of the several counties of this state are hereby authorized, empowered and instructed that, on the neglect or refusal of any person or persons owning or controlling sheep to comply with the provisions of this act in respect to the dipping of infected sheep, to dip or cause to be dipped said infected sheep, the expenses of which shall be a charge against the band of sheep so infected, and unless the claim or demand is otherwise liquidated, the sheep inspector shall sell to the highest bidder a sufficient number of sheep from out the infected band to satisfy the claim.

An Act to prohibit herding or grazing of sheep within three miles of any town or village.

2317. Unlawful to herd within three miles of town.

SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful for any person to herd or cause to be herded or grazed, any number of sheep on any unoccupied land within a radius of three miles of the postoffice of any town or village that has a population of fifty or more persons; provided, that this shall not apply to sheep driven to railroad to be shipped or sheared.

2318. Idem—A misdemeanor—Punishment.

SEC. 2. Any person who, for himself, or as agent or employee of any other person, firm, corporation, company or association, shall violate the provisions of section 1 of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine in any sum not less than fifty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars for each and every offense, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than twenty-five days nor more than one hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment as the courts may order.

An Act in relation to herding, grazing and driving of sheep.

2319. Prohibited from grazing on lands of others or within one mile of ranch house.

SECTION 1. It is not lawful for any person owning or having charge of sheep to herd the same, or permit them to be herded, on the land or possessory claims of other persons, or to herd the same or permit them to be grazed within one mile of a bona fide home or bona fide ranch house; provided, that nothing in this act shall prevent the owners from herding or grazing their sheep on their own lands; and provided further, that nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prevent sheep being driven along any public highway.

2320. Penalty for violation—Damages.

SEC. 2. The owner or agent of such owner of sheep violating the provisions of section 1 of this act, on complaint of the party or parties injured before any justice of the peace for the precinct where either of the interested parties may reside, is liable to the party injured for all damages sustained, and if the trespass be repeated is liable to the party or parties injured for the second and every subsequent offense in double the amount of damages sustained.

2321. Sheep, when deemed estrays.

SEC. 3. When the owner or agents of such owner of sheep found trespassing upon the land or possessory claims of another, is unknown to the party or parties injured by such trespass, all sheep so trespassing may be treated as estrays.

An Act to prohibit swine from running at large and being free commoners.

Approved March 2, 1885, 50

2322. Swine not to be free commoners.

SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons, who are the owner or owners, or who may have charge of any swine within this state, to allow them to run at large and be free commoners.

2323. Owners of swine responsible for twice the value of property destroyed.

SEC. 2. Any swine belonging to any person or persons, or under the charge of any person or persons, that shall break into any yard, flower or vegetable garden, or in any inclosure whatever, or shall root up or destroy any pasture, field or growing grass for hay purposes, or any kind of growing crop whatever, whether the same be inclosed or not, such person or persons, owner or owners, shall be subject to such damages as shall be equal to twice the value of the property broken into, eaten up or destroyed.

2324. Actions tried, where.

SEC. 3. All actions for damages arising under the provisions of this act shall be tried and determined in the court having jurisdiction thereof, as in other cases made and provided.

An Act entitled "An act to make it unlawful for the owner or owners of swine, goat or goats to allow them to run at large during a certain period of each year, from and after the approval of this act."

Approved February 19, 1879, 42

2325. Goats and swine prohibited to run at large during certain season.

SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful, from and after the passage of this act, for any person or persons, who are the owner or owners, or who may have charge of any swine, goat or goats, within this state, to allow them to run at large and be free commoners, from and after the first day of March to the tenth day of November of each and every year. But the intervening period between the tenth day of November to the first day of March of each year, such swine, goat or goats, may be free commoners.

2326. Owners subject to damages—Amount of damages.

SEC. 2. Any swine, goat or goats, belonging to any person or persons, that shall break into any yard, flower or vegetable garden, or any inclosure whatever, or shall root up or destroy any pasture, field, or growing grass for hay purposes, or any kind of growing crop whatever, whether the same be inclosed or not during the period that such swine, goat or goats are prohibited to run at large and be free commoners, by section 1 of this act, such owner or owners shall be subject to such damages as shall be equal to twice the value of the property broken into, eaten up or destroyed.

2327. Actions, where tried.

SEC. 3. All actions for damages arising, under the provisions of this act shall be tried and determined in the court having jurisdiction thereof, as in other causes made and provided.

An Act relating to trespass of swine, sheep, and goats.

Approved March 5, 1885, 67

2328. Unlawful for swine, goats or sheep to run at large in city or town limits.

SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful for any swine, sheep, goat or goats, to run at large, or the owner or owners, or any person or persons, having in charge any swine, sheep, goat or goats, to permit or allow them to run at large within the ordinary limits of any city or town of this state, during any period of the year. Said ordinary limits shall be defined as follows: Within an incorporated city or town the limits shall be as defined in said incorporated clause or clauses; and within a town or city not incorporated in this state, the said ordinary limits shall be defined as follows: Within such city or town, which contains one hundred or more inhabitants, the said limits shall be defined as being within a radius of one mile, radiating from the postoffice of said city or town.

2329. Idem.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of any sheriff or constable, and the privilege of any citizen, of or in any town described in section 1 of this act, to impound any swine, sheep, goat, or goats. As amended, Stats. 1901, 46.

2330. Owners may be fined.

SEC. 3. The owner or owners, agent or agents, having jurisdiction over, or charge of, any swine, sheep, goat or goats, shall be fined five dollars for each and every violation of this act, and as much more as in the wisdom of the court having jurisdiction may deem a sufficient amount to cover all damages.

2331. Manner in which impounded animals may be sold—Escheats.

SEC. 4. Any constable, person or persons having in his charge, after they have been impounded, any swine, sheep, goat or goats, shall post a notice that such animal or animals are in his charge, and if not taken out by the owner will be sold. After the expiration of ten days the person having such animal or animals, and having given notice as aforesaid, shall post three written or printed notices in conspicuous places in the town or city where such animal or animals have been taken up, describing the same, giving all marks or brands, if any, and that such animal or animals will be sold by him to pay the charges that have and will have accrued against it, and costs. He shall sell to the highest bidder, and upon payment of the purchase money shall turn over to the buyer the animal or animals sold, and after deducting the damages and costs of sale, shall pay the balance, if any remains, into the county treasury, where it shall remain subject to the laws governing escheats.

An Act to prevent the trespassing of animals upon private property.

Approved December 12, 1862, 13

2332. Liability of owner of stock for trespass.

SECTION 1. If any horse, mule, jack, jenny, hog, sheep, goat, or any head of neat cattle, shall break into any grounds inclosed by a lawful fence, the owner or manager of such animal shall be liable to the owner of such inclosed premises for all damages sustained by such trespass; and if the trespass be repeated by neglect of the owner or manager of said animals, he shall for the second and every subsequent offense or trespass be subject to double the damages of such trespass to the owner of said premises.

2333. Animals not to be injured—Treated as estrays—Jurisdiction.

SEC. 2. If any owner or occupier of any grounds or crops trespassed upon, provided said ground be enclosed within a fence, by animals entering upon or breaking into his or their grounds, whether enclosed by a lawful fence or not, shall kill, maim, or materially injure the animal or animals so trespassing, he, she, or they shall be liable to the owner of such stock for all damages, and for the costs accruing from a suit for such damages, when necessarily resorted to for their recovery; provided, the owner or occupier of such grounds or crops so damaged and trespassed upon, may take up and safely keep, at the expense of the owner or owners thereof, after due notice to said owners, if known, such animals, or so many of them as may be necessary to cover the damages he may have sustained, for ten days, and if not applied for by the proper owner or owners before the expiration of ten days, the same may be posted under the stray laws of the state, and before restitution shall be had by the owner or owners of such animals, all damages done by them, as well also as the expense of posting and keeping them, shall be paid. Any justice of the peace in the township or precinct shall have jurisdiction of all such reclamation of animals, together with the damages, expense of keeping and posting the same, when the amount claimed does not exceed one hundred dollars.

2334. Lands of two or more under one inclosure—Damages by one to other.

SEC. 3. When two or more persons shall cultivate lands under one inclosure, neither of them shall place or cause to be placed any animal on his, her or their ground, to the injury or damage of the other or others, but shall be liable for all damages thus sustained by the other or others; and if repeated, after due notice is given, and for every subsequent repetition, double damages, to be recovered in any court having jurisdiction.

See Chase v. Chase, 15 Nev. 259.

An Act to prevent trespass upon real estate by live stock, fixing damages therefor, and other matters relating thereto, and to repeal an act entitled "An act to prevent trespass upon real estate by live stock, and other matters relating thereto," approved March 15, 1889.

Approved February 18, 1893, 30

2335. Consent of owner of range to be obtained.

SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to herd or graze any live stock upon the lands of another without having first obtained the consent of the owner or owners of the land so to do; provided, that the person claiming to be the owner of said lands has the legal title thereto, or an application to purchase the same, with first payment made thereon.

The act of 1903, 47, did not repeal this act by implication. Pyramid L. & S. Co. v. Pierce, 30 Nev. 237 (95 P. 210).

2336. Damages, how recovered—Stock may be attached—Lien superior.

SEC. 2. The live stock which is herded or grazed upon the lands of another, contrary to the provisions of the first section of this act, shall be liable for all damages done by said live stock while being unlawfully herded or grazed on the lands of another, as aforesaid, together with costs of suit and reasonable counsel fees, to be fixed by the court trying an action therefor, and said live stock may be seized and held by writ of attachment issued in the same manner provided by the general laws of the State of Nevada, as security for the payment of any judgment which may be recovered by the owner or owners of said lands for damages incurred by reason of a violation of any of the provisions of this act, and the claim and lien of a judgment or attachment in such an action shall be superior to any claim or demand which arose subsequent to the commencement of said action.

The provision for an attorney's fee in this section in favor of the party recovering damages is a proper police regulation and is constitutional. Pyramid L. & S. Co. v. Pierce, 30 Nev. 237 (95 P. 210).

Cited, Dangberg v. Ruhenstroth, 26 Nev. 455 (70 P. 320).

Cited, State ex rel. Jones v. Brown in dissenting opinion of Sweeney, J., 30 Nev. 501 (98 P. 871).

This statute merely contemplates an action at law for damages, and an action brought thereunder is in no sense an equity proceeding, so as to give the district court jurisdiction. Dangberg v. Ruhenstroth, supra.

2337. Act not applicable to certain stock.

SEC. 3. This act shall not apply to any live stock running at large on the ranges or commons.

Act of 1889, 129, to prevent trespass upon real estate by live stock and the act of 1903, 47, both since repealed, are cited in Pyramid L. & S. Co. v. Pierce, 30 Nev. 237 (95 P. 210).

The act of 1877, 76, now repealed, but incorporated in the crimes and punishment act, was cited in Chase v. Chase, 15 Nev. 262.

The act of 1862, 13, to prevent the trespassing of animals upon private property was also cited in same case in support of the principle that no action can be sustained for injuries done to real estate, or to the crops growing thereon by horses and cattle that are allowed to run at large unless the land is enclosed with a lawful fence.

A previous act to regulate marks and brands of stock, Stats. 1873, 99, was cited in same case.

MARRIAGE

An Act relating to marriage and divorce.

Approved November 28, 1861. 94

2338. Marriage a civil contract.
2339. Legal age—Consanguinity—Consent of parents.
2340. Who may perform marriage—License—Minister must be licensed—Must exhibit license—Clerk to keep record.
2341. Marriage licenses—County clerk to grant—Fee of clerk and recorder.
2342. Solemnization—No particular form—Two witnesses.
2343. Marriage certificate.
2344. Record of certificates—Form of.

2346. Failure to record certificate a misdemeanor—Penalty.
2347. Making of false certificate a gross misdemeanor.
2348. Unauthorized persons performing—Ceremony where known legal impediment—Gross misdemeanor.
2349. Want of power unknown—Marriage valid.
2350. Record presumptive evidence of marriage.
2351. Illegitimate children legitimized.
2352. Fines—Application of.
2353. Forms used by Friends or Quakers valid.
2354. When void without decree of divorce.
2355. Marriage of parties incapable of assenting or when fraud practiced—When void.
2356. When not to be judged a nullity—Insanity—Cohabitation after disability removed.
2357. Actions for annulment.

2338. Marriage a civil contract.

SECTION 1. That marriage, so far as its validity in law is concerned, is a civil contract, to which the consent of the parties capable in law of contracting, is essential.

Defendant was married in 1893 to S. by written contract. Subsequently the parties separated by mutual consent and thereafter the defendant was formally married to L. by justice of the peace. It was held that the marriage to S. was a valid marriage, and that the subsequent marriage to L. constituted bigamy in defendant. State v. Zichfeld, 23 Nev. 304 (62 A. S. 800, 34 L. R. A. 784, 46 P. 802).

2339. Legal age—Consanguinity—Consent of parents.

SEC. 2. Male persons of the age of eighteen years, and female persons of the age of sixteen years, not nearer of kin than second cousins or cousins of the half blood, and not having a husband or wife living, may be joined in marriage; provided, always, that male persons under the age of twenty-one years, and female persons under the age of eighteen years, shall first obtain the consent of their fathers, respectively, or in case of the death or incapacity of their fathers, then of their mothers or guardians; and provided, further, that nothing in this act shall be construed so as to make the issue of any marriage illegitimate if the person or persons shall not be of lawful age. As amended, Stats. 1867, 88; 1891, 15.

Sec. 3 repealed, Stats. 1867, 89.

Bigamy, penalty for, secs. 6456-6457.

Incest, penalty for, sec. 6458.

Abandonment of wife or child, penalty for, sec. 6446; failure to support, penalty for, sec. 6481.

Gross misdemeanor for person of white race to intermarry with person of black, brown, yellow or red race, or for any person to perform ceremony of marriage in such case, secs. 6514-6516.

See State v. Zichfeld, under sec. 1 of this act.

The lawful age of marriage in this state is eighteen years in males and sixteen years in females, and marriages made by persons of such age are valid and binding, though made without consent of parents or guardians. Fitzpatrick v. Fitzpatrick, 6 Nev. 63.

When a female of the age of sixteen years entered into a marriage "without force or fraud, and with her full and free consent," it was held that there was no ground of divorce on account of want of legal age, though there was no consent by any parent or guardian. Idem.

The proviso in this section, that the issue of a marriage of persons not of lawful age shall not be illegitimate, refers to the issue of marriages under eighteen years in males and sixteen in females. Idem.

The proviso in this section against the illegitimacy of the issue of a marriage of persons not of lawful age, does not indicate any intention on the part of the legislature to render marriages of males between eighteen and twenty-one, or of females between sixteen and eighteen, void on account of being made without the consent of guardian or parents. Idem.

2340. Who may perform marriage—License—Ministers must be licensed—Must exhibit license—Clerk to keep record.

SEC. 4. It shall be lawful for any ordained minister of any religious society or congregation within this state, who has or hereafter may obtain a license for that purpose, as hereinafter provided, or for any justice of the supreme court, or for any judge of the district court in his district, or justice of the peace in his county, to join together as husband and wife all persons not prohibited by this act; provided, that the persons herein authorized to perform said marriage ceremony shall first receive the license previously issued, as hereinafter provided, to the persons wishing to be married. Any minister of the gospel, upon producing to the district court of any county, or district within this state, credentials of his being a regularly ordained minister of any religious society or congregation, shall be entitled to receive from said court a license authorizing him to solemnize marriages within this state so long as he shall continue a regular minister in such society or congregation. It shall be the duty of any minister licensed to solemnize marriages as aforesaid to produce to the county clerk in every county in which he shall solemnize any marriage, his license so obtained, and the said clerk shall thereupon enter the name of such minister upon record as a minister of the gospel duly authorized to solemnize marriages within this state, and shall note the court from which such license issued, for which service no charge shall be made by such clerk. The record so made, or the certificate thereof by the said clerk under the seal of his office, shall be good evidence that said minister was duly authorized to solemnize marriages. As amended, Stats. 1867, 88; 1899, 47; 1901, 19; 1911, 317.

Misdemeanor to perform marriage without license, secs. 6479-6480.

2341. Marriage license—County clerk to grant—Fee of clerk and recorder.

SEC. 5. Previous to persons being joined in marriage, a license shall be obtained for that purpose from the county clerk of the county where the persons, or one of them, intending to be married, reside (or in case the persons intending to be married do not reside in this state, then from any county clerk in the state). The county clerk may inquire of the party applying for marriage license upon oath or affirmation relative to the legality of such contemplated marriage; and if the clerk shall be satisfied that there is no legal impediment thereto, then he shall grant such marriage license, and if any of the persons intending to marry shall be under age, and shall not have been previously married, the consent of the parent or guardian shall be personally given before the clerk, or certified under the hand of such parent or guardian, attested by two witnesses, one of whom shall appear before said clerk and make oath that he saw the parent or guardian, whose name is annexed to such certificate subscribed, or heard him or her acknowledge the same, whereupon the clerk is authorized to issue and sign such license, affixing thereto the seal of the county. The clerk shall be entitled to receive as his fee for issuing the license the sum of one dollar, and if any clerk shall in any other manner issue or sign any marriage license, he shall forfeit and pay a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars to and for the use of the party aggrieved. The clerk shall also at the time of issuing such license collect the sum of one dollar and pay the same over to the county recorder as his fee for recording the certificate named in section 8. As amended, Stats. 1867, 89; 1899, 48.

The above provisions are formal and directory, and do not render void a common-law marriage by consent per verba de presenti.

2342. Solemnization—No particular form—Two witnesses.

SEC. 6. In the solemnization of marriage, no particular form shall be required, except that the parties shall declare, in the presence of the judge, minister, or magistrate, and the attending witnesses, that they take each other as husband and wife; and in every case there shall be at least two witnesses present, besides the person performing the ceremony.

2343. Marriage certificate.

SEC. 7. When a marriage shall have been solemnized the persons solemnizing the same shall give to each of the parties, if required, a certificate thereof, specifying therein the names and residence of the parties, and of at least two witnesses present, and the time and place of such marriage. As amended, Stats. 1867, 89.

2344. Record of certificate—Form of.

SEC. 8. Every person solemnizing a marriage shall make a record thereof, and within thirty days after such marriage shall make and deliver to the recorder of deeds of the county where such license was issued a certificate, under his hand, containing the particulars mentioned in the preceding section. The certificate may be in the following form:

State of Nevada, County of _____, ss.

This is to certify that the undersigned, a justice of the peace of said county (minister of the gospel, or judge, etc., as the case may be), did on the ____ day _____, A.D. 18____, join in lawful wedlock A. B. and C. D., with their mutual consent, in presence of E. F. and G. H., witnesses. J. P., justice of the peace. As amended, Stats. 1899, 48.

2345. Certificate to be filed and recorded by county recorder.

SEC. 9. All such certificates shall be filed and recorded by the said recorder in a book to be kept by him for that purpose; and he shall receive a fee of one dollar from the county clerk who shall be entitled to collect the same from the parties applying for such license before he issues the license. As amended, Stats. 1899, 49.

2346. Failure to record certificate—Penalty.

SEC. 10. Every person solemnizing a marriage who shall fail or neglect to make and deliver to the recorder, a certificate thereof, within the time specified in section 8, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished by a fine of not less than twenty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than ten days nor more than fifty days or by both such fine and imprisonment; and every recorder whose legal fees therefor shall have been tendered him, who shall fail or neglect to record such certificate, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than fifty days or more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. As amended, Stats. 1903, 70.

2347. False certificate—Gross misdemeanor.

SEC. 11. If any person shall wilfully make any false certificate of any marriage or pretended marriage, he shall forfeit for every such offense a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, or may be imprisoned in the territorial prison not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

2348. Unauthorized persons performing—Ceremony where known legal impediment—Gross misdemeanor.

SEC. 12. If any person shall undertake to join others in marriage, knowing that he is not lawfully authorized so to do, or knowing to any legal impediment to the proposed marriage, he shall on conviction be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, and be imprisoned in the territorial prison until such fine is paid.

2349. Want of power unknown—Marriage valid.

SEC. 13. No marriage solemnized before any person professing to be a judge, justice, or minister, shall be deemed or adjudged to be void, nor shall the validity thereof be in any way affected on account of any want of jurisdiction or authority, provided it be consummated with a full belief on the part of the persons so married, or either of them, that they have been lawfully joined in marriage.

2350. Record presumptive evidence of marriage.

SEC. 14. The original certificate and records of marriage made by the judge, justice, or minister, as prescribed in this act, and the record thereof by the recorder of the county, or a copy of such record duly certified by such recorder, shall be received in all courts and places as presumptive evidence of the fact of such marriage.

2351. Illegitimate children legitimized.

SEC. 15. Illegitimate children shall become legitimized by the subsequent marriage of their parents with each other.

2352. Fines—Application of.

SEC. 16. All fines and forfeitures arising in consequence of a breach of this act shall be paid into the county treasury for the use of common schools; and in all cases, when a violation of the provisions of this act is not declared a misdemeanor, said fines and forfeitures shall be recovered by a civil action, to be brought by any person aggrieved, or by the county treasurer.

See sec. 355 (constitution).

2353. Forms used by Friends or Quakers valid.

SEC. 17. All marriages solemnized among the people called "Friends" or "Quakers," in the forms heretofore practiced and in use in their meetings, shall be good and valid.

2354. When void without decree of divorce.

SEC. 18. All marriages which are prohibited by law on account of consanguinity between the parties, or on account of either of them having a former husband or wife then living, shall, if solemnized within this territory, be absolutely void without any decree of divorce or other legal proceedings.

2355. Marriage of parties incapable of assenting or when fraud practiced—When void.

SEC. 19. When either of the parties to a marriage, for want of age or understanding, shall be incapable of assenting thereto, or when fraud shall have been proved, and there shall have been no subsequent voluntary cohabitation of the parties, the marriage shall be void from the time its nullity shall be declared by a court of competent authority.

Forcing woman against her will to marry is a felony and conviction thereof operates as a divorce, sec. 6444.

2356. When not to be judged a nullity—Insanity—Cohabitation after disability removed.

SEC. 20. In no case shall a marriage be adjudged a nullity, on the ground that one of the parties was under the age of legal consent, if it shall appear that the parties, after they attained such age, had, for any time, freely cohabited together as husband and wife, nor shall the marriage of any insane person be adjudged void, after his restoration to reason, if it shall appear that the parties freely cohabited together as husband and wife after such insane person was restored to a sound mind.

See Fitzpatrick v. Fitzpatrick, under sec. 2 of this act.

2357. Actions for annulment.

SEC. 21. When a marriage is supposed to be void, or the validity thereof is disputed, for any of the causes mentioned in the two preceding sections, either party may file a complaint in the probate court of the county where the parties or one of them, resided, for annulling the same; and such complaint shall be filed, and proceedings shall be had thereon, as in the case of proceedings in said court for a divorce, and upon due proof of the nullity of the marriage, it shall be adjudged null and void.

NOTE—The probate court as it existed under territorial law was abolished by the constitution and its jurisdiction conferred upon the district court, see secs. 316, 407, also 386.

Remainder of act, secs. 22-29, relating to divorce, will be found under that head in civil procedure, see secs. 5838-5845.

SECTION 1. That it shall hereafter be unlawful for any person, or persons, to practice medicine, surgery or obstetrics in this state without first obtaining a license so to do as hereinafter provided.

Section 6 of a previous act on this subject (Stats. 1875, 47), which contained a provision that it shall not apply "to those who have practiced medicine or surgery in this state for a period of ten years next preceding the passage of this act," was held not in violation of Const., art 4, sec. 21 (ante, 279). Ex Parte Spinney, 10 Nev. 323.

Based upon the same act: To make a defense for the sale of opium by a practicing physician complete, the defendant must show that he comes within the provisions of this act. State v. Ching Gang, 16 Nev. 62.

Act cited, State v. Cons. Virginia M. Co., 16 Nev. 443.

The act of 1889, 88, relating to this subject is wholly repealed by this act, providing that it shall be unlawful for any person to practice medicine without first obtaining a license, and making no provision for a temporary license. State ex rel. Weyerhorst v. Lee, 28 Nev. 380 (82 P. 229).

2359. Governor to appoint board of examiners—Qualifications of—Term of office.

SEC. 2. Within thirty days after this law goes into effect, it shall be the duty of the governor of the State of Nevada to appoint a state board consisting of five members, which shall be known as the board of medical examiners of the State of Nevada, and shall be reputable practicing physicians, duly licensed as such by some legally chartered medical institution in the United States, and who shall have been actually engaged in the practice of medicine in the State of Nevada, three of whom shall be selected from the school of medicine known as the regular, one from the school known as the eclectic, and one from the school known as the homeopathic. This board shall be selected without regard to their individual political beliefs, and they shall hold office for the time for which they were appointed, viz., two for four years, one for three years, one for two years, and one for one year from the date of their appointment, and shall serve until their successors are appointed and qualified. Hereafter one member shall be appointed annually for the term of four years. In the event of a vacancy occurring in said board, or absence from the state for a period of six months without permission, the governor shall appoint a person duly qualified under this act to fill the unexpired term.

2360. Oath.

SEC. 3. Each member of said board shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, take the constitutional oath of office, and shall, in addition, make oath that he is a graduate in medicine, and a legally qualified practitioner of medicine in this state.

2361. Board to meet and organize—Regular and special meetings, notice of.

SEC. 4. The said board shall meet in Carson City, Nevada, on the first Monday in May, 1905, and shall organize by electing from its number a president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, who shall hold their respective positions during the pleasure of the board. Said board shall hold its regular meetings on the first Monday in May and the first Monday of November of each year, at such time and place as shall be most convenient to the said board, and due notice of all special meetings of the board shall be given by publication twice a week for each of the two weeks next preceding such meeting, in three papers published in the State of Nevada. Special meetings of the board may be held at the call of the president, and the same notice thereof shall be given as in the case of regular meetings.

2362. To adopt rules—Administer oaths—Seal—Duty of secretary.

SEC. 5. Said board may, from time to time, adopt such rules as may be necessary to enable it to carry into effect the provisions of this act. Any member of said board may administer oaths in all matters pertaining to the duties of said board, and the board shall have the authority to take evidence as to any matter cognizable by it. Such board shall procure a seal, and shall receive through its secretary applications for the certificates provided to be issued under this act.

2363. Issuance of certificates—Quorum—Certificates of other boards—Proviso.

SEC. 6. A majority of said board shall constitute a quorum to transact all business. All certificates issued by said board shall bear its seal and the signatures of its president and secretary, and shall authorize the person to whom it is issued to practice medicine in all its branches in this state, upon complying with the requirements of this act. Said board may, in its discretion, accept and register, upon payment of the registration fee, and without examination of the applicant, any certificate which shall have been issued to him by the medical examining board of the District of Columbia, or of any state or territory of the United States; provided, however, that the legal requirements of such medical examining board shall have been, at the time of issuing such certificate, in no degree or particular less than those of Nevada at the time when such certificate shall be presented for registration to the board created by this act; and provided further, that the provisions in this paragraph contained shall be held to apply only to such of said medical examining boards as accept and register the certificates granted by this board without examination by them of the ones holding such certificates.

2364. Certificate must be procured—Method—Evidence—Time limitation.

SEC. 7. After this law goes into effect, any person desiring to practice medicine, surgery, or obstetrics or any of the various branches of medicine in this state, shall, before beginning to practice, procure from the state board of medical examiners a certificate that such person is entitled to practice medicine, surgery, or obstetrics in this state. In order to procure such certificate the applicant shall submit to the said board his or her diploma, issued by some legally chartered medical school, the requirements of which medical school shall have been at the time of granting such diploma in no particular less than those prescribed by the association of American medical colleges for that year, and he must accompany said diploma or license with an affidavit setting forth the number and duration of terms the applicant was required to be in attendance, and that he is the lawful possessor of the same, that he is the person therein named, and that the diploma or license was procured without fraud or misrepresentation of any kind. Such application shall be accompanied by the affidavit of two freeholders, resident of the same county in which the applicant resides, stating that the applicant is the identical person named in the accompanying diploma, and that he or she is of good moral standing and reputable. In addition to such affidavit, said board may hear such further evidence as, in its discretion, it may deem proper as to any of the matters embraced in said affidavit. If it should appear from such evidence that said affidavit is untrue in any particular, or if it should appear that the applicant is not of good moral character, the application must be rejected. Said board shall retain such diploma such time as is necessary, but in no case shall said board retain such diploma to exceed two weeks. All such diplomas and affidavits shall be addressed to the secretary of the board.

2365. Applicant's qualification and examination—Fee.

SEC. 8. Applicants for certificates to practice medicine, surgery or obstetrics in the State of Nevada shall be required to present a diploma from a legally recognized college, and to pass a satisfactory examination before the state board of medical examiners as to his or her qualifications. The applicant must appear personally before the board, and the examination shall be conducted in the English language, and shall be, in whole or in part in writing, and in each branch shall obtain seventy-five per cent, and shall be on the following subjects, to wit: Anatomy, physiology, materia medica, and therapeutics, chemistry, bacteriology, pathology, toxicology, obstetrics, surgery, general medicine, diseases of the skin, eye, ear, nose, throat, brain, genito-urinary system. Said examination shall be fair and impartial, and the questions of such character as will determine the fitness of the applicant to practice his or her profession. When applicant applies for examination in materia medica and therapeutics and theory and practice of medicine, he shall designate in which school of medicine he desires to practice, and only the member or members of the board who belong to the school so designated shall participate in this part of the examination. Examinations shall be practical in character, and designed to discover the applicant's fitness to practice medicine and surgery. If an applicant fail in his first examination, he may, after not less than six months, be reexamined, without additional fee. If he fails in a second examination, he shall not thereafter be entitled to another examination in less than one year after the date of second examination, and shall be required to pay for such examination the full fee. The examination papers shall form a part of the records of said board, and shall be kept on file by the secretary, and said records shall be open to public inspection whenever requested after the examination; provided, that any person, who is a regular graduate from a regularly chartered college of the practice of the system of what is generally known and recognized as the drugless system, may present themselves for examination under the regulations hereinbefore specified, and shall be required to pass an examination in all the subjects noted, with the exception of materia medica and therapeutics, and upon the passing satisfactorily of said examination by the board, shall have issued to them a license to practice the said system of drugless medicine in this state, under the same rules and regulations prescribed and required of the practitioners of other systems of medicine. Each applicant, on making application, shall pay to the secretary of the board a fee of twenty-five dollars ($25), at the same time the diploma and affidavit is filed with him, and this fee shall not be returned in the event of the applicant's failing to pass a satisfactory examination. Any person who may hereafter be granted a license to practice medicine and surgery in this state under this act, upon the grounds of reciprocity with other states and without examination, shall pay a fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) for such license. As amended, Stats. 1907, 194; 1911, 380.

2366. Right of appeal to courts.

SEC. 9. Any unsuccessful applicant shall have the right to appeal to the courts, requiring the said board to show cause why such applicant should not be permitted to practice medicine, surgery or obstetrics in the State of Nevada.

2367. Register of applicants—List to be furnished county clerks.

SEC. 10. Said board shall procure a book for the purpose of recording the names of all persons to whom it issued certificates. In this book shall be entered the names of the applicants, together with the name of the school granting the diploma, the date of the diploma, the number of terms the applicant attended school, residence of applicant, and the date of issuance of certificate. This book shall be retained by the secretary, who shall note the unsuccessful applicants, furnishing the same information as is given above. The secretary shall furnish each county clerk in this state a complete list of persons to whom certificates have been issued, after each meeting of the board. Such list shall be retained and filed by the county clerk and it shall show the name, age, and location of the holder of each certificate, together with the name of the institution conferring the degree, and the date of the issuance of certificate.

2368. Compensation and expenses of board—Salary of secretary.

SEC. 11. The members of the board shall serve without compensation, except that their actual expenses incurred while attending a regular or special meeting of the board shall be refunded; provided, that the secretary shall receive a semiannual salary of one hundred and fifty ($150) dollars for his services. All moneys received by the board shall be paid out on its order for its expenses, and the traveling expenses of the members, and if the moneys received are not sufficient to meet such expenses, then the board shall certify to the board of examiners, with accompanying vouchers, over its seal and the signatures of its president and secretary, the amount actually necessary to meet the remainder of its expenses, and upon the approval of said claim by the board of examiners the state controller shall draw his warrant upon any moneys in the general fund not otherwise appropriated, and the state treasurer shall pay the same.

2369. Certificate filed with recorder—Refusal and revocation of certificates—Unprofessional conduct defined—Right of appeal.

SEC. 12. Every person to whom the board shall issue a certificate shall present the same to the county recorder of the county in which he desires to practice, and have the same recorded, and shall pay the fee usually paid for recording such papers. The board may refuse a certificate to any applicant guilty of unprofessional conduct, and may revoke any certificate for a like cause. In all cases of refusal or revocation the party aggrieved may appeal to the courts. The words "unprofessional conduct," as used in this act, are hereby declared to mean:

First—The procuring or aiding or abetting in procuring a criminal abortion.

Second—The obtaining of any fee on the assurance that a manifestly incurable disease can be permanently cured.

Third—The wilfully betraying a professional secret.

Fourth—All advertising of medical business in which grossly improbable statements are made.

Fifth—All advertising of any medicines, or of any means, whereby the monthly periods of women can be regulated, or the menses reestablished if suppressed.

Sixth—Conviction of any offense involving moral turpitude.

Seventh—Habitual intemperance.

2370. "Practice" defined—Proviso—Exceptions—Sufficiency of charge in indictment for violation of act.

SEC. 13. For the purposes of this act the words "practice of medicine, surgery and obstetrics," shall mean to open an office for such purpose, or to announce to the public, or to any individual in any way, a desire or willingness, or readiness to treat the sick or afflicted in any county in the State of Nevada; or to investigate or diagnosticate, or to offer to investigate or diagnosticate any physical or mental ailment, or disease, of any person, or to give surgical assistance to, or to suggest, recommend, prescribe or direct for the use of any person, any drug, medicine, appliance or other agency, whether material or not material, for the cure, relief or palliation of any ailment or disease of the mind or body, or for the cure or relief of any wound, fracture, or bodily injury, or deformity, after having received or with the intent of receiving therefor, either directly or indirectly, any money, gift, or any other form of compensation. It shall also be regarded as practicing medicine within the meaning of this act if any one shall use in connection with his or her name, the words or letters "Dr.," "Doctor," "Professor," "M. D.," or "Healer," or any other title, word, letter or other designation intended to imply or designate him or her as a practitioner of medicine, or surgery, or obstetrics in any of its branches; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit gratuitous services of druggists or other persons in cases of emergency, or the domestic administration of family remedies, and this act shall not apply to commissioned surgeons of the United States army or navy in the discharge of their official duties, nor shall it apply to professional or other nurses in the discharge of their duties as nurses, nor to physicians who are called into this state for consultation, and who are legally qualified to practice in the state where he or she resides. In charging any person in an affidavit, information or indictment with a violation of this act by practicing medicine, surgery or obstetrics without a license, it shall be sufficient to charge that he or she did, upon a certain day, and in a certain county of this state, engage in the practice of medicine, he, or she, not having a license to do so, without averring any further or more particular facts concerning the same.

2371. Practicing without license, misdemeanor—Penalty—Proceedings at law.

SEC. 14. Any person who shall practice medicine, surgery or obstetrics in this state without first complying with the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than fifty days, nor more than one hundred and eighty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment for each and every such offense. Any person may institute proceedings at law provided for in this act.

2372. False impersonation, penalty for.

SEC. 15. Every person filing for record, or attempting to file for record, the certificate issued to another, falsely claiming himself to be the person named in such certificate, or falsely claiming himself to be the person entitled to the same, shall be guilty of felony, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison not less than one year nor exceeding five years.

2373. Issuing false certificate, penalty for.

SEC. 16. Any person assuming to act as a member of a state board of medical examiners, or who shall sign, or subscribe, or issue or cause to be issued, or seal or cause to be sealed, a certificate authorizing any person to practice medicine or surgery in this state, except the person so acting and doing shall have been appointed a member of said board of medical examiners as in this act provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than sixty nor more than one hundred and eighty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

2374. Registration fee—Free to certain persons—Proviso.

SEC. 17. Every person practicing medicine, surgery or obstetrics in the State of Nevada on the first Monday of May, 1905, shall submit to the said board his, or her, diploma for registration, and a fee of twenty-five ($25) dollars shall accompany such diploma; provided, that the owner of such diploma shall, if he or she was practicing medicine, surgery or obstetrics prior to the passage of the act approved March 15, 1899, and has not complied with said act of March 15, 1899, pay a fee of five ($5) dollars for such registration, but said person shall submit to the board said diploma on the first Monday of May, 1905; provided further, that all persons who have complied with the act of March 15, 1899, shall be entitled to full registration by the said board of medical examiners, and nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent such registration, and the secretary of said board shall enter free of all charge, upon the record book of said board, the names of all persons who have complied with the act of March 15, 1899. And be it further provided, that a certificate of registration or license issued by the proper examining board of any state, which agrees on reciprocal registration with this state, may be accepted as evidence of qualification for reciprocal registration in this state; provided, that the holder of such certificate was, at the time of such registration, the legal possessor of a diploma issued by a medical college in good standing in this state, and that the date thereof was prior to the passage of this act.

2411. Only one entry allowed—Time for proof and payment.
2412. Conflicting claims—Preference—Commissioner may make rules.
2413. Prior rights not impaired—Mines of gold, silver or copper excluded.
2414. Timber may be felled subject to regulations of secretary of interior.
2415. Register and receiver to ascertain if timber is being cut for unauthorized purposes.
2416. Penalty for violation.
2417. Reservations in patents for rights of way for ditches and canals.
2418. Townsites on mineral lands authorized—Possessors of veins protected.
2419. Lands entered under the mineral laws not included in restriction to 320 acres.
2420. Forest reservations, when to be established; valuable mineral lands not to be included—Use of timber and stone by settlers and miners—Egress and ingress of settlers within reservations—Restoration of mineral or agricultural lands to public domain.
2421. Repayment of deposits for mineral surveys.

For schedule of state mining laws, see section 2422.

The following subsection numbers are from United States Revised Statutes:

2375. Possessory actions for recovery of mining titles or damages.

SEC. 910. No possessory action between persons, in any court of the United States, for the recovery of any mining title, or for damages to any such title, shall be affected by the fact that the paramount title to the land in which such mines lie is in the United States, but each case shall be adjudged by the law of possession.

2378. Dimensions of mining claims upon veins or lodes—End lines must be parallel.

SEC. 2320. Mining claims upon veins or lodes of quartz or other rock in place bearing gold, silver, cinnabar, lead, tin, copper, or other valuable deposits, heretofore located, shall be governed as to length along the vein or lode by the customs, regulations, and laws in force at the date of their location. A mining claim located after the tenth day of May, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, whether located by one or more persons, may equal, but shall not exceed, one thousand five hundred feet in length along the vein or lode; but no location of a mining claim shall be made until the discovery of the vein or lode within the limits of the claim located. No claim shall extend more than three hundred feet on each side of the middle of the vein at the surface, nor shall any claim be limited by any mining regulation to less than twenty-five feet on each side of the middle of the vein at the surface, except where adverse rights existing on the tenth day of May, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, render such limitation necessary. The end lines of each claim shall be parallel to each other.

2380. Locator's rights—Surface and veins apexing on claim.

SEC. 2322. The locators of all mining locations heretofore made or which shall hereafter be made, on any mineral vein, lode, or ledge, situated on the public domain, their heirs and assigns, where no adverse claim exists on the tenth day of May, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, so long as they comply with the laws of the United States, and with state, territorial, and local regulations not in conflict with the laws of the United States governing their possessory title, shall have the exclusive right of possession and enjoyment of all the surface included within the lines of their locations, and of all veins, lodes and ledges throughout their entire depth, the top or apex of which lies inside of such surface lines extended downward vertically, although such veins, lodes, or ledges may so far depart from a perpendicular in their course downward as to extend outside the vertical side lines of such surface locations. But their right of possession to such outside parts of such veins or ledges shall be confined to such portions thereof as lie between vertical planes drawn downward as above described, through the end lines of their locations, so continued in their own direction that such planes will intersect such exterior parts of such veins or ledges. And nothing in this section shall authorize the locator or possessor of a vein or lode which extends in its downward course beyond the vertical lines of his claim to enter upon the surface of a claim owned or possessed by another.

For the state law, see sec. 2425.

2381. Owners of tunnels, rights of.

SEC. 2323. Where a tunnel is run for the development of a vein or lode, or for the discovery of mines, the owners of such tunnel shall have the right of possession of all veins or lodes within three thousand feet from the face of such tunnel on the line thereof, not previously known to exist, discovered in such tunnel, to the same extent as if discovered from the surface; and locations on the line of such tunnel of veins or lodes not appearing on the surface, made by other parties after the commencement of the tunnel, and while the same is being prosecuted with reasonable diligence, shall be invalid, but failure to prosecute the work on the tunnel for six months shall be considered as an abandonment of the right to all undiscovered veins on the line of such tunnel.

For the state law regarding the location of tunnels, see secs. 2440 to 2443.

2382. Money expended on tunnel considered expended on lode—Period for annual work.

SEC. 2324. The miners of each mining district may make regulations not in conflict with the laws of the United States, or with the laws of the state or territory in which the district is situated, governing the location, manner of recording, amount of work necessary to hold possession of a mining claim, subject to the following requirements: The location must be distinctly marked on the ground so that its boundaries can be readily traced. All records of mining claims hereafter made shall contain the name or names of the locators, the date of the location, and such a description of the claim or claims located by reference to some natural object or permanent monument as will identify the claim. On each claim located after the tenth day of May, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, and until a patent has been issued therefor, not less than one hundred dollars' worth of labor shall be performed or improvements made during each year. On all claims located prior to the tenth day of May, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, ten dollars' worth of labor shall be performed or improvements made by the tenth day of June, eighteen hundred and seventy-four, and each year thereafter, for each one hundred feet in length along the vein until a patent has been issued therefor; but where such claims are held in common, such expenditure may be made upon any one claim; and upon a failure to comply with these conditions the claim or mine upon which such failure occurred shall be open to relocation in the same manner as if no location of the same had ever been made, provided that the original locators, their heirs, assigns, or legal representatives, have not resumed work upon the claim after failure and before such location. Upon the failure of any one of several coowners to contribute his proportion of the expenditures required hereby, the coowners who have performed the labor or made the improvements may, at the expiration of the year, give such delinquent coowner personal notice in writing or notice by publication in the newspaper published nearest the claim for at least once a week for ninety days, and if at the expiration of ninety days after such notice in writing or by publication such delinquent should fail or refuse to contribute his proportion of the expenditure required by this section his interest in the claim shall become the property of his coowners who have made the required expenditures. Act of Congress, May 10, 1872; c. 152, sec. 5.

Where a person or company has or may run a tunnel for the purpose of developing a lode or lodes, owned by said person or company, the money so expended in said tunnel shall be taken and considered as expended on said lode or lodes, whether located prior to or since the passage of said act; and such person or company shall not be required to perform work on the surface of said lode or lodes in order to hold the same as required by said act. As amended, February 11, 1875; 18 Stat. 318.

Provided, that the period within which the work required to be done annually on all unpatented mineral claims shall commence on the first day of January succeeding the date of location of such claim, and this section shall apply to all claims located since the tenth day of May, anno Domini eighteen hundred and seventy-two. As amended, January 22, 1880, sec. 2.

For requirements under the state law, see secs. 2423-2428, 2430-2432.

Refusing to adhere to a contrary doctrine announced in Lavagnino v. Uhlig, 198 U. S. 443, the court in Nash v. McNamara, 30 Nev. 114, held that the junior location made on ground covered by a valid existing senior location will not prevail over a relocation on the same ground made after failure to do the work on the senior location.

The later case of Farrell v. Lockhart, 210 U. S. 146, follows the decision in the Nevada case, instead of the one in Lavagnino v. Uhlig, so that it may now be considered as settled that located mining ground is not subject to relocation until after forfeiture or abandonment.

Anntd. vol. 5, pp. 19-31, cases and notes.

A part owner of a mining claim who holds an option to purchase the interest of a coowner has the right to tender the contribution of the latter to the cost of assessment work to avoid a forfeiture. Knickerbocker v. Halla (C. C. A.), 177 Fed. 172.

The provisions of Rev. Stats. sec. 2324 (U. S. Comp. Stats. 1901, p. 1426), for the extinguishment of the interest of a coowner in a mining claim for his failure to contribute to the assessment work required thereby, is constitutional and valid. Van Sice v. Ixex Mining Co. (C. C. A.), 173 Fed. 895.

Where stakes were set to mark the boundaries of a mining claim and proper notices posted, it was sufficient marking upon the ground, even though the corner stakes were not inscribed with the name of the claim. Bingham Amalgamated Copper Co. v. Ute Copper Co. (C. C.), 181 Fed. 748.

A failure to perform the annual assessment work on a mining claim does not in and of itself work a forfeiture, but only permits a relocation, and cannot aid an adverse location which was made prior to the year in which the failure occurred. Idem.

Where several mining claims are held in common and are contiguous, the assessment work may be done on any one of them or on adjacent patented land or on public land, if it tends to develop them, but mining claims which touch only at a common corner held not contiguous. Anvil Hydraulic & Drainage Co. v. Code (C. C. A.), 182 Fed. 205.

2383. Patents for mineral lands, how obtained.

SEC. 2325. A patent for any land claimed and located for valuable deposits may be obtained in the following manner: Any person, association, or corporation authorized to locate a claim under this chapter, having claimed and located a piece of land for such purposes, who has, or have, complied with the terms of this chapter, may file in the proper land office an application for a patent, under oath, showing such compliance, together with a plat and field notes of the claim or claims in common, made by or under the direction of the United States surveyor-general, showing accurately the boundaries of the claim or claims, which shall be distinctly marked by monuments on the ground, and shall post a copy of such plat, together with a notice of such application for a patent, in a conspicuous place on the land embraced in such plat previous to the filing of the application for a patent, and shall file an affidavit of at least two persons that such notice has been duly posted, and shall file a copy of the notice in such land office, and shall thereupon be entitled to a patent for the land, in the manner following: The register of the land office, upon the filing of such application, plat, field notes, notices, and affidavits, shall publish a notice that such application has been made, for the period of sixty days, in a newspaper to be by him designated as published nearest to such claim; and he shall also post such notice in his office for the same period. The claimant at the time of filing this application, or at any time thereafter, within the sixty days of publication, shall file with the register a certificate of the United States surveyor-general that five hundred dollars' worth of labor has been expended or improvements made upon the claim by himself or grantors; that the plat is correct, with such further description by such reference to natural objects or permanent monuments as shall identify the claim, and furnish an accurate description to be incorporated in the patent. At the expiration of the sixty days of publication the claimant shall file his affidavit, showing that the plat and notice have been posted in a conspicuous place on the claim during such period of publication. If no adverse claim shall have been filed with the register and the receiver of the proper land office at the expiration of the sixty days of publication, it shall be assumed that the applicant is entitled to a patent, upon the payment to the proper officer of five dollars per acre, and that no adverse claim exists; and thereafter no objection from third parties to the issuance of a patent shall be heard, except it be shown that the applicant has failed to comply with the terms of this chapter; provided, that where the claimant for a patent is not a resident of or within the land district wherein the vein, lode, ledge, or deposit sought to be patented is located, the application for patent and the affidavits required to be made in this section by the claimant for such patent may be made by his, her, or its authorized agent, where said agent is conversant with the facts sought to be established by said affidavits; and provided, that this section shall apply to all applications now pending for patents to mineral lands.

For regulations of the secretary of the interior regarding mining claims and procedure for obtaining patents, see sec. 2421.

2384. Adverse claim—Proceedings on—Affidavits of citizenship or of applicant out of district.

SEC. 2326. Where an adverse claim is filed during the period of publication, it shall be upon oath of the person or persons making the same, and shall show the nature, boundaries, and extent of such adverse claim, and all proceedings, except the publication of notice and making and filing of the affidavit thereof, shall be stayed until the controversy shall have been settled or decided by a court of competent jurisdiction, or the adverse claim waived. It shall be the duty of the adverse claimant, within thirty days after filing his claim, to commence proceedings in a court of competent jurisdiction, to determine the question of the right of possession, and prosecute the same with reasonable diligence to final judgment; and a failure so to do shall be a waiver of his adverse claim. After such judgment shall have been rendered, the party entitled to the possession of the claim, or any portion thereof, may, without giving further notice, file a certified copy of the judgment-roll with the register of the land office, together with the certificate of the surveyor-general that the requisite amount of labor has been expended or improvements made thereon, and the description required in other cases, and shall pay to the receiver five dollars per acre for his claim, together with the proper fees, whereupon the whole proceedings and the judgment-roll shall be certified by the register to the commissioner of the general land office, and a patent shall issue thereon for the claim, or such portion thereof as the applicant shall appear, from the decision of the court, to rightly possess. If it appears from the decision of the court that several parties are entitled to separate and different portions of the claim, each party may pay for his portion of the claim with the proper fees, and file the certificate and description by the surveyor-general, whereupon the register shall certify the proceedings and judgment-roll to the commissioner of the general land office, as in the preceding case, and patents shall issue to the several parties according to their respective rights. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the alienation of a title conveyed by a patent for a mining claim to any person whatever. Act of Congress of May 10, 1872, c. 152, sec. 7.

If, in any action brought pursuant to section 2326 of the Revised Statutes, title to the ground in controversy shall not be established by either party, the jury shall so find, and judgment shall be entered according to the verdict. In such case costs shall not be allowed to either party, and the claimant shall not proceed in the land office or be entitled to a patent for the ground in controversy until he shall have perfected his title. As amended, March 3, 1881, 21 Stat. L. 505.

The adverse claim required by section 2326 of the Revised Statutes may be verified by the oath of any duly authorized agent or attorney in fact of the adverse claimant cognizant of the facts stated; and the adverse claimant, if residing or at the time being beyond the limits of the district wherein the claim is situated, may make oath to the adverse claim before the clerk of any court of record of the United States or the state or territory where the adverse claimant may then be, or before any notary public of such state or territory.

SEC. 2. That applicants for mineral patents, if residing beyond the limits of the district wherein the claim is situated, may make any oath or affidavit required for proof of citizenship before the clerk of any court of record, or before any notary public of any state or territory. As amended, April 26, 1882, 22 Stat. L. 49.

2385. Description of vein or claims on surveyed and unsurveyed lands—Monuments on patented claims control.

SEC. 2327. The description of vein or lode claims upon surveyed lands shall designate the location of the claims with reference to the lines of the public survey, but need not conform therewith; but where patents have been or shall be issued for claims upon unsurveyed lands, the surveyors-general, in extending the public survey, shall adjust the same to the boundaries of said patented claims so as in no case to interfere with or change the true location of such claims as they are officially established upon the ground. Where patents have issued for mineral lands, those lands only shall be segregated and shall be deemed to be patented which are bounded by the lines actually marked, defined, and established upon the ground by the monuments of the official survey upon which the patent grant is based, and surveyors-general in executing subsequent patent surveys, whether upon surveyed or unsurveyed lands, shall be governed accordingly. The said monuments shall at all times constitute the highest authority as to what land is patented, and in case of any conflict between the said monuments of such patented claims and the descriptions of said claims in the patents issued therefor the monuments on the ground shall govern, and erroneous or inconsistent descriptions or calls in the patent descriptions shall give way thereto.

For authorities and cases concerning this section, see annotations to secs. 2325 and 2326, ante.

2386. Pending applications—Existing rights.

SEC. 2328. Applications for patents for mining claims under former laws now pending may be prosecuted to a final decision in the general land office; but in such cases where adverse rights are not affected thereby, patents may issue in pursuance of the provisions of this chapter; and all patents for mining claims upon veins or lodes heretofore issued shall convey all the rights and privileges conferred by this chapter where no adverse rights existed on the tenth day of May, eighteen hundred and seventy-two.

The statute construed. New Dunderberg M. Co. v. Old, 79 Fed. Rep. 604; Blake v. Butte S. M. Co., 2 Utah, 61; Carson City G. & S. M. Co. v. N. Star M. Co., 73 Fed. 597.

2387. Placers subject to entry similarly to lodes—Conformity of to surveys—Limits of.

SEC. 2329. Claims usually called "placers," including all forms of deposit, excepting veins of quartz, or other rock in place, shall be subject to entry and patent, under like circumstances and conditions, and upon similar proceedings, as are provided for vein or lode claims; but where the lands have been previously surveyed by the United States, the entry in its exterior limits shall conform to the legal subdivisions of the public lands.

2388. Subdivisions of ten-acre tracts; maximum of placer locations—Preemption and homestead claims not impaired.

SEC. 2330. Legal subdivisions of forty acres may be subdivided into ten-acre tracts; and two or more persons, or associations of persons, having contiguous claims of any size, although such claims may be less than ten acres each, may make joint entry thereof; but no location of a placer claim, made after the ninth day of July, eighteen hundred and seventy, shall exceed one hundred and sixty acres for any one person or association of persons, which location shall conform to the United States surveys; and nothing in this section contained shall defeat or impair any bona fide preemption or homestead claim upon agricultural lands, or authorize the sale of the improvements of any bona fide settler to any purchaser.

2389. Conformity of placer claims to surveys—Limitation of claim.

SEC. 2331. Where placer claims are upon surveyed lands, and conform to legal subdivisions, no further survey or plat shall be required, and all placer-mining claims located after the tenth day of May, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, shall conform as near as practicable with the United States system of public land surveys, and the rectangular subdivisions of such surveys, and no such location shall include more than twenty acres for each individual claimant; but where placer claims can not be conformed to legal subdivisions, survey and plat shall be made as on unsurveyed lands; and where by the segregation of mineral lands in any legal subdivision a quantity of agricultural land less than forty acres remains, such fractional portion of agricultural land may be entered by any party qualified by law, for homestead or preemption purposes.

2390. What evidence of possession to establish right to patent—Statute limitations—Lien not impaired by patent.

SEC. 2332. Where such person or association, they and their grantors, have held and worked their claims for a period equal to the time prescribed by the statute of limitations for mining claims of the state or territory where the same may be situated, evidence of such possession and working of the claims for such period shall be sufficient to establish a right to a patent thereto under this chapter, in the absence of any adverse claim; but nothing in this chapter shall be deemed to impair any lien which may have attached in any way whatever to any mining claim or property thereto attached prior to the issuance of a patent.

2391. Proceedings for patent for placer claims containing lode.

SEC. 2333. Where the same person, association, or corporation is in possession of a placer claim, and also a vein or lode included within the boundaries thereof, application shall be made for a patent for the placer claim, with the statement that it includes such vein or lode, and in such case a patent shall issue for the placer claim, subject to the provisions of this chapter, including such vein or lode, upon the payment of five dollars per acre for such vein or lode claim and twenty-five feet of surface on each side thereof. The remainder of the placer claim or any placer claim not embracing any vein or lode claim shall be paid for at the rate of two dollars and fifty cents per acre, together with all costs of proceedings; and where a vein or lode, such as is described in section 2320, is known to exist within the boundaries of a placer claim, an application for a patent for such placer claim which does not include an application for the vein or lode claim shall be construed as a conclusive declaration that the claimant of the placer claim has no right of possession of the vein or lode claim; but where the existence of a vein or lode in a placer claim is not known, a patent for the placer claim shall convey all valuable mineral and other deposits within the boundaries thereof.

2395. Annual labor may be done on one for not over five contiguous oil claims.

Where oil lands are located under the provisions of title thirty-two, chapter six, Revised Statutes of the United States, as placer mining claims, the annual assessment labor upon such claims may be done upon any one of a group of claims lying contiguous and owned by the same person or corporation, not exceeding five claims in all; provided, that said labor will tend to the development or to determine the oil-bearing character of such contiguous claims, Act approved February 12, 1903, 32 Stat. 825.

ADDITIONAL SECTIONS OF UNITED STATES REVISED STATUTES

2396. Surveyor-general to appoint surveyors of mining claims—Fixing and sworn statement of charges.

SEC. 2334. The surveyor-general of the United States may appoint in each land district containing mineral lands as many competent surveyors as shall apply for appointment to survey mining claims. The expenses of the survey of vein or lode claims, and the survey and subdivision of placer claims into smaller quantities than one hundred and sixty acres, together with the cost of publication of notices, shall be paid by the applicants, and they shall be at liberty to obtain the same at the most reasonable rates, and they shall also be at liberty to employ any United States deputy surveyor to make the survey. The commissioner of the general land office shall also have power to establish the maximum charges for surveys and publication of notices under this chapter; and, in case of excessive charges for publication, he may designate any newspaper published in a land district where mines are situated for the publication of mining notices in such district, and fix the rates to be charged by such paper; and to the end that the commissioner may be fully informed on the subject, each applicant shall file with the register a sworn statement of all charges and fees paid by such applicant for publication and surveys, together with all fees and money paid the register and the receiver of the land office, which statement shall be transmitted, with the other papers in the case, to the commissioner of the general land office.

2397. Verification of affidavits—Contest and proofs as to character of land.

SEC. 2335. All affidavits required to be made under this chapter may be verified before any officer authorized to administer oaths within the land district where the claims may be situated, and all testimony and proofs may be taken before any such officer, and, when duly certified by the officer taking the same, shall have the same force and effect as if taken before the register and receiver of the land office. In cases of contest as to the mineral or agricultural character of land, the testimony and proofs may be taken as herein provided on personal notice of at least ten days to the opposing party; or if such person cannot be found, then by publication of at least once a week for thirty days in a newspaper, to be designated by the register of the land office as published nearest to the location of such land; and the register shall require proof that such notice has been given.

2398. Where veins intersect—Right of way.

SEC. 2336. Where two or more veins intersect or cross each other, priority of title shall govern, and such prior locations shall be entitled to all ore or mineral contained within the space of intersection; but the subsequent location shall have the right of way through the space of intersection for the purposes of the convenient working of the mine. And where two or more veins unite, the oldest or prior location shall take the vein below the point of union, including all the space of intersection.

2399. Patents for nonmineral lands for millsites.

SEC. 2337. Where nonmineral land not contiguous to the vein or lode is used or occupied by the proprietor of such vein or lode for mining or milling purposes, such nonadjacent surface ground may be embraced and included in an application for a patent for such vein or lode, and the same may be patented therewith, subject to the same preliminary requirements as to survey and notice as are applicable to veins or lodes; but no location hereafter made of such nonadjacent land shall exceed five acres, and payment for the same must be made at the same rate as fixed by this chapter for the superficies of the lode. The owner of a quartz mill or reduction works, not owning a mine in connection therewith, may also receive a patent for his millsite, as provided in this section.

2401. Vested rights of water—Rights of way for canals.

SEC. 2339. Whenever, by priority of possession, rights to the use of water for mining, agricultural, manufacturing, or other purposes, have vested and accrued, and the same are recognized and acknowledged by the local customs, laws, and the decisions of courts, the possessors and owners of such vested rights shall be maintained and protected in the same; and the right of way for the construction of ditches and canals for the purposes herein specified is acknowledged and confirmed; but whenever any person, in the construction of any ditch or canal, injures or damages the possession of any settler on the public domain, the party committing such injury or damage shall be liable to the party injured for such injury or damage. Act of Congress of July 26, 1866.

Water rights and ditch rights acquired on Snyder v. Colorado Gold Dredging Co. public lands held not affected by disposition (C. C. A), 181 Fed. 62. of the lands under the public land laws.

2403. Mineral lands on which no valuable mines are discovered open to homesteads.

SEC. 2341. Wherever, upon the lands heretofore designated as mineral lands, which have been excluded from survey and sale, there have been homesteads made by citizens of the United States, or persons who have declared their intention to become citizens, which homesteads have been made, improved, and used for agricultural purposes, and upon which there have been no valuable mines of gold, silver, cinnabar, or copper discovered, and which are properly agricultural lands, the settlers or owners of such homesteads shall have a right of preemption thereto, and shall be entitled to purchase the same at the price of one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre, and in quantity not to exceed one hundred and sixty acres; or they may avail themselves of the provisions of chapter 5 of this title, relating to "Homesteads."

2404. When lands may be set apart as agricultural lands.

SEC. 2342. Upon the survey of the lands described in the preceding section, the secretary of the interior may designate and set apart such portions of the same as are clearly agricultural lands, which lands shall thereafter be subject to preemption and sale as other public lands, and be subject to all the laws and regulations applicable to the same.

2405. Additional land districts and officers—Power of president to provide.

SEC. 2343. The president is authorized to establish additional land districts, and to appoint the necessary officers under existing laws, wherever he may deem the same necessary for the public convenience in executing the provisions of this chapter.

2406. Provisions of this chapter not to affect acquired rights or Sutro Tunnel.

SEC. 2344. Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed to impair, in any way, rights or interests in mining property acquired under existing laws; nor to affect the provisions of the act entitled "An act granting to

A. Sutro the right of way and other privileges to aid in the construction of a draining and exploring tunnel to the Comstock lode, in the State of Nevada," approved July twenty-five, eighteen hundred and sixty-six.

2407. Grant of lands to states or corporations not to include mineral lands.

SEC. 2346. No act passed at the first session of the thirty-eighth Congress, granting lands to states or corporations to aid in the construction of roads or for other purposes, or to extend the time of grants made prior to the thirtieth day of January, eighteen hundred and sixty-five, shall be so construed as to embrace mineral lands, which in all cases are reserved exclusively to the United States, unless otherwise specially provided in the act or acts making the grant.

COAL-LAND LAWS

2408. Entry of coal lands.

SEC. 2437. Every person above the age of twenty-one years, who is a citizen of the United States, or who has declared his intention to become such, or any association of persons severally qualified as above, shall, upon application to the register of the proper land office, have the right to enter, by legal subdivisions, any quantity of vacant coal lands of the United States not otherwise appropriated or reserved by competent authority not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres to such individual person, or three hundred and twenty acres to such association, upon payment to the receiver of not less than ten dollars per acre for such lands where the same shall be situated more than fifteen miles from any completed railroad, and not less than twenty dollars per acre for such lands as shall be within fifteen miles of such road.

Under Rev. Stats. sec. 2347 (U. S. Comp. Stats. 1901, p. 1440), persons cannot lawfully associate themselves together to enter coal lands in severalty in tracts of 160 acres each, to be held for the joint benefit of all. United States v. Portland Coal and Coke Co. (C. C.), 173 Fed. 566.

2409. Persons in possession making improvements have preference of entry.

SEC. 2348. Any person or association of persons severally qualified, as above provided, who have opened and improved, or shall hereafter open and improve, any coal mine or mines upon the public lands, and shall be in actual possession of the same, shall be entitled to a preference right of entry, under the preceding section, of the mines so opened and improved; provided, that when any association of not less than four persons, severally qualified as above provided, shall have expended not less than five thousand dollars in working and improving any such mine or mines, such association may enter not exceeding six hundred and forty acres, including such mining improvements.

2410. Time for filing claims.

SEC. 2349. All claims under the preceding section must be presented to the register of the proper land district within sixty days after the date of actual possession and the commencement of improvements on the land, by the filing of a declaratory statement therefor; but when the township plat is not on file at the date of such improvement, filing must be made within sixty days from the receipt of such plat at the district office; and where the improvements shall have been made prior to the expiration of three months from the third day of March, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, sixty days from the expiration of such three months shall be allowed for the filing of a declaratory statement, and no sale under the provisions of this section shall be allowed until the expiration of six months from the third day of March, eighteen hundred and seventy-three.

2411. Only one entry allowed—Time for proof and payment.

SEC. 2350. The three preceding sections shall be held to authorize only one entry by the same person or association of persons; and no association of persons any member of which shall have taken the benefit of such sections, either as an individual or as a member of any other association, shall enter or hold any other lands under the provisions thereof; and no member of any association which shall have taken the benefit of such sections shall enter or hold any other lands under their provisions; and all persons claiming under section 2348 shall be required to prove their respective rights and pay for the lands filed upon within one year from the time prescribed for filing their respective claims; and upon failure to file the proper notice, or to pay for the land within the required period, the same shall be subject to entry by any other qualified applicant.

2412. Conflicting claim—Preference—Commissioner may make rules.

SEC. 2351. In case of conflicting claims upon coal lands where the improvements shall be commenced, after the third day of March, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, priority of possession and improvement, followed by proper filing and continued good faith, shall determine the preference right to purchase. And also where improvements have already been made prior to the third day of March, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, division of the land claimed may be made by legal subdivisions, to include as near as may be, the valuable improvements of the respective parties. The commissioner of the general land office is authorized to issue all needful rules and regulations for carrying into effect the provisions of this and the four preceding sections.

2413. Prior rights not impaired—Mines of gold, silver or copper excluded.

SEC. 2352. Nothing in the five preceding sections shall be construed to destroy or impair any rights which may have attached prior to the third day of March, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, or to authorize the sale of lands valuable for mines of gold, silver, or copper.

ACTS OF CONGRESS PASSED SUBSEQUENT TO THE REVISED STATUTES, AND APPLICABLE TO THE STATE OF NEVADA

An Act authorizing the citizens of Colorado, Nevada, and the territories to fell and remove timber on the public domain for mining and domestic purposes.

Approved June 3, 1878, 20 Stat. L. 88

2414. Timber may be felled, subject to regulations of secretary of interior.

All citizens of the United States and other persons, bona fide residents of the State of Colorado, or Nevada, or either of the Territories of New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Wyoming, Dakota, Idaho, or Montana, and all other mineral districts of the United States, shall be, and are hereby authorized and permitted to fell and remove, for building, agricultural, mining, or other domestic purposes, any timber or other trees growing or being on the public lands, said lands being mineral, and not subject to entry under existing laws of the United States, except for mineral entry, in either of said states, territories, or districts of which such citizens or persons may be at the time bona fide residents, subject to such rules and regulations as the secretary of the interior may prescribe for the protection of the timber and of the undergrowth growing upon such lands, and for other purposes; provided, the provisions of this act shall not extend to railroad corporations.

2415. Register and receiver to ascertain if timber is being cut for unauthorized purposes.

SEC. 2. That it shall be the duty of the register and the receiver of any local land office in whose district any mineral land may be situated to ascertain from time to time whether any timber is being cut or used upon any such lands, except for the purposes authorized by this act, within their respective land districts; and if so, they shall immediately notify the commissioner of the general land office of that fact; and all necessary expenses incurred in making such proper examinations shall be paid and allowed such register and receiver in making up their next quarterly accounts.

2416. Penalty for violation.

SEC. 3. Any person or persons who shall violate the provisions of this act, or any rules and regulations in pursuance thereof made by the secretary of the interior, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, and to which may be added imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months.

An Act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the government for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and ninety-one, and for other purposes.

2417. Entry under all land laws restricted to 320 acres—Reservations in patents for right of way for ditches and canals.

No person who shall after the passage of this act, enter upon any of the public lands with a view to occupation, entry, or settlement under any of the land laws shall be permitted to acquire title to more than three hundred and twenty acres in the aggregate, under all of said laws, but this limitation shall not operate to curtail the right of any person who has heretofore made entry or settlement on the public lands, or whose occupation, entry or settlement, is validated by this act; provided, that in all patents for lands hereafter taken up under any of the land laws of the United States or on entries or claims validated by this act west of the one hundredth meridian it shall be expressed that there is reserved from the lands in said patent described a right of way thereon for ditches or canals constructed by the authority of the United States.

Modified by sec. 2419, so as to allow the acquiring of mines in addition to 320 acres of other land.

An Act to repeal the timber-culture laws, and for other purposes.

Approved March 3, 1891, 26 Stat. L. 1095

2418. Townsites on mineral lands authorized—Possessors of veins protected.

SEC. 16. That townsite entries may be made by incorporated towns and cities on the mineral lands of the United States, but no title shall be acquired by such towns or cities to any vein of gold, silver, cinnabar, copper, or lead, or to any valid mining claim or possession held under existing law. When mineral veins are possessed within the limits of an incorporated town or city, and such possession is recognized by local authority or by the laws of the United States, the title to town lots shall be subject to such recognized possession and the necessary use thereof, and when entry has been made or patent issued for such townsites to such incorporated town or city, the possessor of such mineral vein may enter and receive patent for such mineral vein, and the surface ground appertaining thereto; provided, that no entry shall be made by such mineral-vein claimant for surface ground where the owner or occupier of the surface ground shall have had possession of the same before the inception of the title of the mineral-vein applicant.

Regarding townsites on mineral lands and exemption of veins, see secs. 1960, 1965 and 1978, note.

2419. Lands entered under the mineral laws not included in restriction to 320 acres.

SEC. 17. That reservoir sites located or selected and to be located and selected under the provisions of "An act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the government for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and eighty-nine, and for other purposes," and amendments thereto, shall be restricted to and shall contain only so much land as is actually necessary for the construction and maintenance of reservoirs, excluding so far as practicable lands occupied by actual settlers at the date of the location of said reservoirs, and that the provisions of "An act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the government for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and ninety-one, and for other purposes," which reads as follows, viz: "No person who shall after the passage of this act enter upon any of the public lands with a view to occupation, entry, or settlement under any of the land laws shall be permitted to acquire title to more than three hundred and twenty acres in the aggregate under all said laws," shall be construed to include in the maximum amount of lands the title to which is permitted to be acquired by one person only agricultural lands and not include lands entered or sought to be entered under mineral land laws.

See Cent. Dig., vol. 41, title, Public Lands, B-11, sec. 85, and subsequent annuals under same title.

An Act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the government for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, and for other purposes.

Approved June, 4, 1897, 30 Stat. L. 34, 35, 36

2420. Forest reservations, when to be established—Valuable mineral lands not to be included—Use of timber and stone by settlers and miners—Egress and ingress of settlers within reservations—Restoration of mineral or agricultural lands to public domain.

All public lands heretofore designated and reserved by the president of the United States under the provisions of the act approved March third, eighteen hundred and ninety-one, the orders for which shall be and remain in full force and effect, unsuspended and unrevoked, and all public lands that may hereafter be set aside and reserved as public forest reserves under said act, shall be as far as practicable controlled and administered in accordance with the following provisions:

No public forest reservation shall be established, except to improve and protect the forest within the reservation, or for the purpose of securing favorable conditions of water flows, and to furnish a continuous supply of timber for the use and necessities of citizens of the United States; but it is not the purpose or intent of these provisions, or of the act providing for such reservations, to authorize the inclusion therein of lands more valuable for the mineral therein, or for agricultural purposes, than for forest purposes.

The secretary of the interior may permit, under regulations to be prescribed by him, the use of timber and stone found upon such reservations, free of charge, by bona fide settlers, miners, residents, and prospectors for minerals, for firewood, fencing, buildings, mining, prospecting, and other domestic purposes, as may be needed by such persons for such purposes; such timber to be used within the state or territory, respectively, where such reservations may be located.

Nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting the egress or ingress of actual settlers residing within the boundaries of such reservations, or from crossing the same to and from their property or homes; and such wagon roads and other improvements may be constructed thereon as may be necessary to reach their homes and to utilize their property under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the secretary of the interior. Nor shall anything herein prohibit any person from entering upon such forest reservations for all proper and lawful purposes, including that of prospecting, locating, and developing the mineral resources thereof; provided, that such persons comply with the rules and regulations covering such forest reservations.

Upon the recommendation of the secretary of the interior, with the approval of the president, after sixty days' notice thereof, published in two papers of general circulation in the state or territory wherein any forest reservation is situated, and near the said reservation, any public lands embraced within the limits of any forest reservation which, after due examination by personal inspection of a competent person appointed for that purpose by the secretary of the interior, shall be found better adapted for mining or for agricultural purposes than for forest usage, may be restored to the public domain. And any mineral lands in any forest reservation which have been or which may be shown to be such, and subject to entry under the existing mining laws of the United States and the rules and regulations applying thereto, shall continue to be subject to such location and entry, notwithstanding any provisions herein contained.

Under act of Congress of June 4, 1897, c. 2, 30 Stats. 34 (U. S. Comp. Stats. 1901, p. 1538), authorizing the location of mining claims within a forest reserve, the rights of a locator of a mining claim on a forest reserve are substantially the same as those conferred by Rev. Stats., sec. 2322 (U. S. Comp. Stats. 1901, p. 1425), on a locator on the public domain; but it was held that the locator having acquired a possessory right only, was not entitled to erect and maintain a saloon on the mining claim located in the forest reserve without a permit from the secretary of agriculture.

The act of June 4, 1897, c. 2, 30 Stats. 34 (U. S. Comp. Stats. 1901, p. 1538), conferring on the secretary of the interior power, subsequently transferred to the secretary of agriculture, to make rules for the regulation and government of forest reserves, subject to specific provisions, was not unconstitutional as attempting to delegate legislative power to an executive officer. United States v. Rizzinelli (D. C.), 182 Fed. 675.

An Act for relief of applicants for mineral surveys.

2421. Repayment of deposits for mineral surveys.

That the secretary of the treasury be, and he is hereby, authorized and directed to pay, out of the moneys heretofore or hereafter covered into the treasury from deposits made by individuals to cover cost of work performed and to be performed in the offices of the United States surveyors-general in connection with the survey of mineral lands, any excess in the amount deposited over and above the actual cost of the work performed, including all expenses incident thereto for which the deposits were severally made or the whole of any unused deposit; and such sums, as the several cases may be, shall be deemed to be annually and permanently appropriated for that purpose. Such repayments shall be made to the person or persons who made the several deposits, or to his or their legal representatives, after the completion or abandonment of the work for which the deposits were made, and upon an account certified by the surveyor-general of the district in which the mineral land surveyed, or sought to be surveyed is situated and approved by the commissioner of the general land office.

NOTE—As the rules and regulations of the interior department, as far as authorized by various acts of Congress, have the force and effect of laws so long as they remain unchanged, they are given below.

REGULATIONS

NATURE AND EXTENT OF MINING CLAIMS

1. Mining claims are of two distinct classes: Lode claims and placers.

Lode Claims

2. The status of lode claims located or patented previous to the 10th day of May, 1872, is not changed with regard to their extent along the lode or width of surface; but the claim is enlarged by sections 2322 and 2328, by investing the locator, his heirs or assigns, with the right to follow, upon the conditions stated therein, all veins, lodes, or ledges, the top or apex of which lies inside of the surface lines of his claim.

3. It is to be distinctly understood, however, that the law limits the possessory right to veins, lodes, or ledges, other than the one named in the original location, to such as were not adversely claimed on May 10, 1872, and that where such other vein or ledge was so adversely claimed at that date the right of the party so adversely claiming is in no way impaired by the provisions of the Revised Statutes.

4. From and after the 10th day of May, 1872, any person who is a citizen of the United States, or who has declared his intention to become a citizen, may locate, record, and hold a mining claim of fifteen hundred linear feet along the course of any mineral vein or lode subject to location; or an association of persons, severally qualified as above, may make joint location of such claim of fifteen hundred feet, but in no event can a location of a vein or lode made after the 10th day of May, 1872, exceed fifteen hundred feet along the course thereof, whatever may be the number of persons composing the association.

5. With regard to the extent of surface ground adjoining a vein or lode, and claimed for the convenient working thereof, the Revised Statutes provide that the lateral extent of locations of veins or lodes made after May 10, 1872, shall in no case exceed three hundred feet on each side of the middle of the vein at the surface, and that no such surface rights shall be limited by any mining regulations to less than twenty-five feet on each side of the middle of the vein at the surface, except where adverse rights existing on the 10th day of May, 1872, may render such limitation necessary; the end lines of such claims to be in all cases parallel to each other. Said lateral measurements cannot extend beyond three hundred feet on either side of the middle of the vein at the surface, or such distance as is allowed by local laws. For example: 400 feet cannot be taken on one side and 200 feet on the other. If, however, 300 feet on each side are allowed, and by reason of prior claims but 100 feet can be taken on one side, the locator will not be restricted to less than 300 feet on the other side; and when the locator does not determine by exploration where the middle of the vein at the surface is, his discovery shaft must be assumed to mark such point.

6. By the foregoing it will be perceived that no lode claim located after the 10th of May, 1872, can exceed a parallelogram fifteen hundred feet in length by six hundred feet in width, but whether surface ground of that width can be taken depends upon the local regulations or state or territorial laws in force in the several mining districts; and that no such local regulations or state or territorial laws shall limit a vein or lode claim to less than fifteen hundred feet along the course thereof, whether the location is made by one or more persons, nor can surface rights be limited to less than fifty feet in width unless adverse claims existing on the 10th day of May, 1872, render such lateral limitation necessary.

7. Locators cannot exercise too much care in defining their locations at the outset, inasmuch as the law requires that all records of mining locations made subsequent to May 10, 1872, shall contain the name or names of the locators, the date of the location, and such a description of the claim or claims located, by reference to some natural object or permanent monument, as will identify the claim.

8. No lode claim shall be located until after the discovery of a vein or lode within the limits of the claim, the object of which provision is evidently to prevent the appropriation of presumed mineral ground for speculative purposes, to the exclusion of bona fide prospectors, before sufficient work has been done to determine whether a vein or lode really exists.

9. The claimant should, therefore, prior to locating his claim, unless the vein can be traced upon the surface, sink a shaft or run a tunnel or drift to a sufficient depth therein to discover and develop a mineral-bearing vein, lode, or crevice; should determine, if possible, the general course of such vein in either direction from the point of discovery, by which direction he will be governed in marking the boundaries of his claim on the surface. His location notice should give the course and distance as nearly as practicable from the discovery shaft on the claim to some permanent, well-known points or objects, such, for instance, as stone monuments, blazed trees, the confluence of streams, point of intersection of well-known gulches, ravines, or roads, prominent buttes, hills, etc., which may be in the immediate vicinity, and which will serve to perpetuate and fix the locus of the claim and render it susceptible of identification from the description thereof given in the record of locations in the district, and should be duly recorded.

10. In addition to the foregoing data, the claimant should state the names of adjoining claims, or, if none adjoin, the relative positions of the nearest claims; should drive a post or erect a monument of stones at each corner of his surface ground, and at the point of discovery or discovery shaft should fix a post, stake, or board, upon which should be designated the name of the lode, the name or names of the locators, the number of feet claimed, and in which direction from the point of discovery, it being essential that the location notice filed for record, in addition to the foregoing description, should state whether the entire claim of fifteen hundred feet is taken on one side of the point of discovery, or whether it is partly upon one and partly upon the other side thereof, and in the latter case, how many feet are claimed upon each side of said discovery point.

11. The location notice must be filed for record in all respects as required by the state or territorial laws and local rules and regulations, if there be any.

12. In order to hold the possessory title to a mining claim located prior to May 10, 1872, the law requires that ten dollars shall be expended annually in labor or improvements for each one hundred feet in length along the vein or lode. In order to hold the possessory right to a location made since May 10, 1872, not less than one hundred dollars' worth of labor must be performed or improvements made thereon annually. Under the provisions of the act of Congress approved January 22, 1880, the first annual expenditure becomes due and must be performed during the calendar year succeeding that in which the location was made. Where a number of contiguous claims are held in common, the aggregate expenditure that would be necessary to hold all the claims, may be made upon any one claim. Cornering locations are held not to be contiguous.

13. Failure to make the expenditure or perform the labor required upon a location made before or since May 10, 1872, will subject a claim to relocation, unless the original locator, his heirs, assigns, or legal representatives have resumed work after such failure and before relocation.

14. Annual expenditure is not required subsequent to entry, the date of issuing the patent certificate being the date contemplated by statute.

15. Upon the failure of any one of several coowners to contribute his proportion of the required expenditures, the coowners, who have performed the labor or made the improvements as required, may, at the expiration of the year, give such delinquent coowner personal notice in writing, or notice by publication in the newspaper published nearest the claim for at least once a week for ninety days; and if upon the expiration of ninety days after such notice in writing, or upon the expiration of one hundred and eighty days after the first newspaper publication of notice, the delinquent coowner shall have failed to contribute his proportion to meet such expenditures or improvements, his interest in the claim by law passes to his coowners who have made the expenditures or improvements as aforesaid. Where a claimant alleges ownership of a forfeited interest under the foregoing provision, the sworn statement of the publisher as to the facts of publication, giving dates and a printed copy of the notice published, should be furnished, and the claimant must swear that the delinquent coowner failed to contribute his proper proportion within the period fixed by the statute.

TUNNELS

16. The effect of section 2323, Revised Statutes, is to give the proprietors of a mining tunnel run in good faith the possessory right to fifteen hundred feet of any blind lodes cut, discovered, or intersected by such tunnel, which were not previously known to exist, within three thousand feet from the face or point of commencement of such tunnel, and to prohibit other parties, after the commencement of the tunnel, from prospecting for and making locations of lodes on the line thereof and within said distance of three thousand feet, unless such lodes appear upon the surface or were previously known to exist. The term "face," as used in said section, is construed and held to mean the first working face formed in the tunnel, and to signify the point at which the tunnel actually enters cover; it being from this point that the three thousand feet are to be counted upon which prospecting is prohibited as aforesaid.

17. To avail themselves of the benefits of this provision of law, the proprietors of a mining tunnel will be required, at the time they enter cover as aforesaid, to give proper notice of their tunnel location by erecting a substantial post, board, or monument at the face or point of commencement thereof, upon which should be posted a good and sufficient notice, giving the names of the parties or company claiming the tunnel right; the actual or proposed course or direction of the tunnel, the height and width thereof, and the course and distance from such face or point of commencement to some permanent well-known objects in the vicinity by which to fix and determine the locus in manner heretofore set forth applicable to locations of veins or lodes, and at the time of posting such notice they shall, in order that miners or prospectors may be enabled to determine whether or not they are within the lines of the tunnel, establish the boundary lines thereof, by stakes or monuments placed along such lines at proper intervals, to the terminus of the three thousand feet from the face or point of commencement of the tunnel, and the lines so marked will define and govern as to specific boundaries within which prospecting for lodes not previously known to exist is prohibited while work on the tunnel is being prosecuted with reasonable diligence.

18. A full and correct copy of such notice of location defining the tunnel claim must be filed for record with the mining recorder of the district, to which notice must be attached the sworn statement or declaration of the owners, claimants, or projectors of such tunnel, setting forth the facts in the case; stating the amount expended by themselves and their predecessors in interest in prosecuting work thereon; the extent of the work performed, and that it is bona fide their intention to prosecute work on the tunnel so located and described with reasonable diligence for the development of a vein or lode, or for the discovery of mines, or both, as the case may be. This notice of location must be duly recorded, and, with the said sworn statement attached, kept on the recorder's files for future reference.

Placer Claims

19. But one discovery of mineral is required to support a placer location, whether it be of twenty acres by an individual, or of one hundred and sixty acres or less by an association of persons.

20. The act of August 4, 1892, extends the mineral land laws so as to bring lands chiefly valuable for building stone within the provisions of said law by authorizing a placer entry of such lands. Registers and receivers should make a reference to said act on the entry papers in the case of all placer entries made for lands containing stone chiefly valuable for building purposes. Lands reserved for the benefit of public schools or donated to any state are not subject to entry under said act.

21. The act of February 11, 1897, provides for the location and entry of public lands chiefly valuable for petroleum or other mineral oils, and entries of that nature made prior to the passage of said act are to be considered as though made thereunder.

22. By section 2330 authority is given for subdividing forty-acre legal subdivisions into ten-acre tracts. These ten-acre tracts should be considered and dealt with as legal subdivisions, and an applicant having a placer claim which conforms to one or more of such ten-acre tracts, contiguous in case of two or more tracts, may make entry thereof, after the usual proceedings, without further survey or plat.

23. [Omitted.]

24. A ten-acre subdivision may be described, for instance if situated in the extreme north-east of the section, as the "NE. $\frac{1}{4}$ of the NE. $\frac{1}{4}$ of the NE. $\frac{1}{4}$ " of the section, or, in like manner, by appropriate terms, wherever situated; but, in addition to this description, the notice must give all the other data required in a mineral application, by which parties may be put on inquiry as to the land sought to be patented. The proofs submitted with applications must show clearly the character and extent of the improvements upon the premises.

25. The proof of improvements must show their value to be not less than five hundred dollars and that they were made by the applicant for patent or his grantors. This proof should consist of the affidavit of two or more disinterested witnesses. The annual expenditure to the amount of $100, required by section 2324, Revised Statutes, must be made upon placer as well as lode locations.

26. Applicants for patent to a placer claim, who are also in possession of a known vein or lode included therein, must state in their application that the placer includes such vein or lode. The published and posted notices must also include such statement. If veins or lodes lying within a placer location are owned by other parties, the fact should be distinctly stated in the application for patent and in all the notices. But in all cases, whether the lode is claimed or excluded, it must be surveyed and marked upon the plat, the field notes and plat giving the area of the lode claim or claims and the area of the placer separately. An application which omits to claim such known vein or lode must be construed as a conclusive declaration that the applicant has no right of possession to the vein or lode. Where there is no known lode or vein, the fact must appear by the affidavit of two or more witnesses.

27. By section 2330 it is declared that no location of a placer claim, made after July 9, 1870, shall exceed one hundred and sixty acres for any one person or association of persons, which location shall conform to the United States surveys.

28. Section 2331 provides that all placer mining claims located after May 10, 1872, shall conform as nearly as practicable with the United States system of public land surveys and the rectangular subdivisions of such surveys, and such locations shall not include more than twenty acres for each individual claimant.

29. The foregoing provisions of law are construed to mean that after the 9th day of July, 1870, no location of a placer claim can be made to exceed one hundred and sixty acres, whatever may be the number of locators associated together, or whatever the local regulations of the district may allow; and that from and after May 10, 1872, no location can exceed twenty acres for each individual participating therein; that is, a location by two persons can not exceed forty acres, and one by three persons cannot exceed sixty acres.

30. The regulations hereinbefore given as to the manner of marking locations on the ground, and placing the same on record; must be observed in the case of placer locations so far as the same are applicable, the law requiring, however, that all placer mining claims located after May 10, 1872, shall conform as near as practicable with the United States system of public land surveys and the rectangular subdivisions of such surveys, whether the locations are upon surveyed or unsurveyed lands.

Conformity to the public land surveys and the rectangular subdivisions thereof will not be required where compliance with such requirement would necessitate the placing of the lines thereof upon other prior located claims or where the claim is surrounded by prior locations.

Where a placer location by one or two persons can be entirely included within a square forty-acre tract, by three or four persons within two square forty-acre tracts placed end to end, by five or six persons within three square forty-acre tracts and by seven or eight persons within four square forty-acre tracts, such locations will be regarded as within the requirements where strict conformity is impracticable.

Whether a placer location conforms reasonably with the legal subdivisions of the public surveys is a question of fact to be determined in each case and no location will be passed to patent without satisfactory evidence in this regard. Claimants should bear in mind that it is the policy of the government to have all entries whether of agricultural or mineral lands as compact and regular in form as reasonably practicable, and that it will not permit or sanction entries or locations which cut the public domain into long narrow strips or grossly irregular or fantastically shaped tracts. (Snow Flake Fraction Placer, 37 L. D. 250.)

REGULATIONS UNDER SALINE ACT

31. Under the act approved January 31, 1901, extending the mining laws to saline lands, the provisions of the law relating to placer mining claims are extended to all states and territories and the district of Alaska, so as to permit the location and purchase thereunder of all unoccupied public lands containing salt springs, or deposits of salt in any form, and chiefly valuable therefor, with the proviso, "That the same person shall not locate or enter more than one claim hereunder."

32. Rights obtained by location under the placer mining laws are assignable, and the assignee may make the entry in his own name; so, under this act a person holding as assignee may make entry in his own name; provided, he has not held under this act, at any time, either as locator or entryman, any other lands; his right is exhausted by having held under this act any particular tract, either as locator or entryman, either as an individual or as a member of an association. It follows, therefore, that no application for patent or entry, made under this act, shall embrace more than one single location.

33. In order that the conditions imposed by the proviso, as set forth in the above paragraph, may duly appear, the notice of location presented for record and the application for patent must each contain a specific statement under oath by each person whose name appears therein that he never has, either as an individual or as a member of an association, located or entered any other lands under the provisions of this act. Assignments made by persons who are not severally qualified as herein stated will not be recognized.

PROCEDURE TO OBTAIN PATENT TO MINERAL LANDS

Lode Claims

34. The claimant is required, in the first place, to have a correct survey of his claim made under authority of the surveyor-general of the state or territory in which the claim lies, such survey to show with accuracy the exterior surface boundaries of the claim, which boundaries are required to be distinctly marked by monuments on the ground. Four plats and one copy of the original field notes in each case will be prepared by the surveyor-general; one plat and the original field notes to be retained in the office of the surveyor-general; one copy of the plat to be given the claimant for posting upon the claim; one plat and a copy of the field notes to be given the claimant for filing with the proper register, to be finally transmitted by that officer, with other papers in the case, to this office, and one plat to be sent by the surveyor-general to the register of the proper land district, to be retained on his files for future reference. As there is no resident surveyor-general for the State of Arkansas, applications for the survey of mineral claims in said state should be made to the commissioner of this office, who, under the law, is ex officio the U. S. surveyor-general.

35. The survey and plat of mineral claims required to be filed in the proper land office with application for patent must be made subsequent to the recording of the location of the claim (if the laws of the state or territory or the regulations of the mining district require the notice of location to be recorded), and when the original location is made by survey of a United States mineral surveyor such location survey cannot be substituted for that required by the statute, as above indicated.

36. The surveyor-general should designate all surveyed mineral claims by a progressive series of numbers, beginning with survey No. 37, irrespective as to whether they are situated on surveyed or unsurveyed lands, the claim to be so designated at date of issuing the order therefor, in addition to the local designation of the claim; it being required in all cases that the plat and field notes of the survey of a claim must, in addition to the reference to permanent objects in the neighborhood, describe the locus of the claim with reference to the lines of public surveys by a line connecting a corner of the claim with the nearest public corner of the United States surveys, unless such claim be on unsurveyed lands at a distance of more than two miles from such public corner, in which latter case it should be connected with a United States mineral monument. Such connecting line must not be more than two miles in length, and should be measured on the ground direct between the points, or calculated from actually surveyed traverse lines if the nature of the country should not permit direct measurement. If a regularly established survey corner is within two miles of a claim situated on unsurveyed lands, the connection should be made with such corner in preference to a connection with a United States mineral monument. The connecting line or traverse line must be surveyed by the mineral surveyor at the time of his making the particular survey and be made a part thereof.

37. (a) Promptly upon the approval of a mineral survey the surveyor-general will advise both this office and the appropriate local land office, by letter (Form 4-286), of the date of approval, number of the survey, name and area of the claim, name and survey number of each approved mineral survey, with which actually in conflict, name and address of the applicant for survey, and name of the mineral surveyor who made the survey; and will also briefly describe therein the locus of the claim, specifying each legal subdivision or portion thereof, when upon surveyed lands, covered in whole or in part by the survey; but hereafter no segregation of any such claim upon the official township survey records will be made until mineral entry has been made and approved for patent, unless otherwise directed by this office.

(b) Upon application to make agricultural entry of the residue of any original lot or legal subdivision of forty acres, reduced by mining claims for which patent applications have been filed and which residue has already been reallocated in accordance therewith, the local officers will accept and approve the application as usual, if found to be regular. When such an application is filed for any such original lot or subdivision, reduced in available area by duly asserted mining claims but not yet relotted accordingly, the local officers will promptly advise this office thereof; and will also report and identify any pending application for mineral patent affecting such subdivision which the agricultural applicant does not desire to contest. The surveyor-general will thereupon be advised by this office of such mining claims, or portions thereof, as are proper to be segregated, and directed to at once prepare, upon the usual drawing-paper township blank, diagram of amended township survey of such original lot or legal forty-acre subdivision so made fractional by such mineral segregation, designating the agricultural portion by appropriate lot number, beginning with No. 1 in each section and giving the area of each lot, and will forthwith transmit one approved copy to the local land office and one to this office. In the meantime the local officers will accept the agricultural application (if no other objection appears), suspend it with reservation of all rights of the applicant if continuously asserted by him, and upon receipt of amended township diagram will approve the application (if then otherwise satisfactory) as of the date of filing, corrected to describe the tract as designated in the amended survey.

(c) The register and receiver will allow no agricultural claim for any portion of an original lot or legal forty-acre subdivision, where the reduced area is made to appear by reason of approved surveys of mining claims and for which applications for patent have not been filed, until there is submitted by such agricultural applicant a satisfactory showing that such surveyed claims are in fact mineral in character; and applications to have lands asserted to be mineral, or mining locations, segregated by survey, with the view to agricultural appropriation of the remainder, will be made to the register and receiver for submission to the commissioner of the general land office, for his consideration and direction, and must be supported by the affidavit of the party in interest, duly corroborated by two or more disinterested persons, or by such other or further evidence as may be required in any case, that the lands sought to be segregated as mineral are in fact mineral in character; otherwise, in the absence of satisfactory showing in any such case, such original lot or legal subdivision will be subject to agricultural appropriation only. When any such showing shall be found to be satisfactory and the necessary survey is had, amended township diagram will be required and made as prescribed in the preceding section.

38. The following particulars should be observed in the survey of every mining claim:

(1) The exterior boundaries of the claim; the number of feet claimed along the vein, and, as nearly as can be ascertained, the direction of the vein, and the number of feet claimed on the vein in each direction from the point of discovery or other well-defined place on the claim should be represented on the plat of survey and in the field notes.

(2) The intersection of the lines of the survey with the lines of conflicting prior surveys should be noted in the field notes and represented upon the plat.

(3) Conflicts with unsurveyed claims, where the applicant for survey does not claim the area in conflict, should be shown by actual survey.

(4) The total area of the claim embraced by the exterior boundaries should be stated, and also the area in conflict with each intersecting survey, substantially as follows:

	Acres
Total area of claim.....	10.50
Area in conflict with survey No. 302.....	1.56
Area in conflict with survey No. 948.....	2.33
Area in conflict with Mountain Maid lode mining claim, unsurveyed.....	1.48

It does not follow that because mining surveys are required to exhibit all conflicts with prior surveys the areas of conflict are to be excluded. The field notes and plat are made a part of the application for patent, and care should be taken that the description does not inadvertently exclude portions intended to be retained. The application for patent should state the portions to be excluded in express terms.

39. The claimant is then required to post a copy of the plat of such survey in a conspicuous place upon the claim, together with notice of his intention to apply for a patent therefor, which notice will give the date of posting, the name of the claimant, the name of the claim, the number of the survey, the mining district and county, and the names of adjoining and conflicting claims as shown by the plat survey. Too much care cannot be exercised in the preparation of this notice, inasmuch as the data therein are to be repeated in the other notices required by the statute, and upon the accuracy and completeness of these notices will depend, in a great measure, the regularity and validity of the proceedings for patent.

40. After posting the said plat and notice upon the premises, the claimant will file with the proper register and receiver a copy of such plat and the field notes of survey of the claim, accompanied by the affidavit of at least two credible witnesses that such plat and notice are posted conspicuously upon the claim, giving the date and place of such posting; a copy of the notice so posted to be attached to and form a part of said affidavit.

41. Accompanying the field notes so filed must be the sworn statement of the claimant that he has the possessory right to the premises therein described, in virtue of a compliance by himself (and by his grantors, if he claims by purchase) with the mining rules, regulations, and customs of the mining district, state, or territory in which the claim lies, and with the mining laws of Congress; such sworn statement to narrate briefly, but as clearly as possible, the facts constituting such compliance, the origin of his possession and the basis of his claim to a patent. The vein or lode must be fully described, the description to include a statement as to the kind and character of mineral, the extent thereof, whether ore has been extracted and of what amount and value and such other facts as will support the applicant's allegation that the claim contains a valuable mineral deposit.

42. This sworn statement must be supported by a copy of each location notice, certified by the legal custodian of the record thereof, and also by an abstract of title of each claim, completed to the date of filing said statement and certified by the legal custodian of the records of transfers, or by a duly authorized abstracter of titles. The certificate must state that no conveyances affecting the title to the claim or claims appear of record other than those set forth.

Abstracters will be required to attach to each abstract certified by them a certificate stating that they have filed in the office of the commissioner of the general land office a certified copy of the existing statute by which they are authorized to compile abstracts of title, and evidence in the form of a certificate by the proper state, territorial, or county officer that they have complied with the requirements of such statute.

43. In the event of the mining records in any case having been destroyed by fire or otherwise lost, affidavit of the fact should be made, and secondary evidence of possessory title will be received, which may consist of the affidavit of the claimant, supported by those of any other parties cognizant of the facts relative to his location, occupancy, possession, improvements, etc.; and in such case of lost records, any deeds, certificates of location or purchase, or other evidence which may be in the claimant's possession and tend to establish his claim, should be filed.

44. Before receiving and filing an application for mineral patent local officers will be particular to see that it includes no land which is embraced in a prior or pending application for patent or entry, or for any lands embraced in a railroad selection, or for which publication is pending or has been made by any other claimants, and if, in their opinion, after investigation, it should appear that a mineral application should not, for these or other reasons, be accepted and filed, they should formally reject the same, giving the reasons therefor, and allow the applicant thirty days for appeal to this office under the rules of practice.

Local officers will give prompt and appropriate notice to the railroad grantee of the filing of every application for mineral patent which embraces any portion of an odd-numbered section of surveyed lands within the primary limits of a railroad land grant, and of every such application embracing any portion of unsurveyed lands within such limits (except as to any such application which embraces a portion or portions of those ascertained or prospective odd-numbered sections only, within the limits of the grant in Montana and Idaho to the Northern Pacific Railroad company, which have been classified as mineral under the act of February 26, 1895, without protest by the company within the time limited by the statute or the mineral classification whereof has been approved).

Should the railroad grantee file protest and apply for a hearing to determine the character of the land involved in any such application for mineral patent, proceedings thereunder will be had in the usual manner.

Any application for mineral patent, however, which embraces lands previously listed or selected by a railroad company will be disposed of as provided by the first section of this paragraph, and the applicant afforded opportunity to protest and apply for a hearing or to appeal.

Notice should be given to the duly authorized representative of the railroad grantee, in accordance with rule 17 of practice. When the claims applied for are upon unsurveyed land, the burden of proving that they are situate within prospective odd-numbered sections will rest upon the railroad.

Evidence of service of notice should be filed with the record in each case.

45. Upon the receipt of these papers, if no reason appears for rejecting the application, the register will, at the expense of the claimant (who must furnish the agreement of the publisher to hold applicant for patent alone responsible for charges of publication), publish a notice of such application for the period of sixty days in a newspaper published nearest to the claim, and will post a copy of such notice in his office for the same period. When the notice is published in a weekly newspaper, nine consecutive insertions are necessary; when in a daily newspaper, the notice must appear in each issue for sixty-one consecutive issues. In both cases the first day of issue must be excluded in estimating the period of sixty days.

46. The notices so published and posted must embrace all the data given in the notice posted upon the claim. In addition to such data the published notice must further indicate the locus of the claim by giving the connecting line, as shown by the field notes and plat, between a corner of the claim and a United States mineral monument or a corner of the public survey, and thence the boundaries of the claim by courses and distances.

47. The register shall publish the notice of application for patent in a paper of established character and general circulation, to be by him designated as being the newspaper published nearest the land.

48. The claimant at the time of filing the application for patent, or at any time within the sixty days of publication, is required to file with the register a certificate of the surveyor-general that not less than five hundred dollars' worth of labor has been expended or improvements made, by the applicant or his grantors, upon each location embraced in the application, or if the application embraces several contiguous locations held in common, that an amount equal to five hundred dollars for each location has been so expended upon, and for the benefit of, the entire group; that the plat filed by the claimant is correct; that the field notes of the survey, as filed, furnish such an accurate description of the claim as will, if incorporated in a patent, serve to fully identify the premises, and that such reference is made therein to natural objects or permanent monuments as will perpetuate and fix the locus thereof; provided, that as to all applications for patents made and passed to entry before July 1, 1898, or which are by protests or adverse claims prevented from being passed to entry before that time, where the application embraces several locations held in common, proof of an expenditure of five hundred dollars, upon the group will be sufficient, and an expenditure of that amount need not be shown to have been made upon, or for the benefit of, each location embraced in the application.

49. The surveyor-general may derive his information upon which to base his certificate as to the value of labor expended or improvements made from the mineral surveyor who makes the actual survey and examination upon the premises, and such mineral surveyor should specify with particularity and full detail the character and extent of such improvements, but further or other evidence may be required in any case.

50. It will be convenient to have this certificate indorsed by the surveyor-general, both upon the plat and field notes of survey filed by the claimant as aforesaid.

51. After the sixty days' period of newspaper publication has expired, the claimant will furnish from the office of publication a sworn statement that the notice was published for the statutory period, giving the first and last day of such publication, and his own affidavit showing that the plat and notice aforesaid remained conspicuously posted upon the claim sought to be patented during said sixty days' publication, giving the dates.

52. Upon the filing of this affidavit the register will, if no adverse claim was filed in his office during the period of publication, and no other objection appears, permit the claimant to pay for the land to which he is entitled at the rate of five dollars for each acre and five dollars for each fractional part of an acre, except as otherwise provided by law, the receiver issuing the usual receipt therefor. The claimant will also make a sworn statement of all charges and fees paid by him for publication and surveys, together with all fees and money paid the register and receiver of the land office, after which the complete record will be forwarded to the commissioner of the general land office and a patent issued thereon if found regular.

53. At any time prior to the issuance of patent protest may be filed against the patenting of the claim as applied for, upon any ground tending to show that the applicant has failed to comply with the law in any matter essential to a valid entry under the patent proceedings. Such protest cannot, however, be made the means of preserving a surface conflict lost by failure to adverse or lost by the judgment of the court in an adverse suit. One holding a present joint interest in a mineral location included in an application for patent who is excluded from the application, so that his interest would not be protected by the issue of patent thereon, may protest against the issuance of a patent as applied for, setting forth in such protest the nature and extent of his interest in such location, and such a protestant will be deemed a party in interest entitled to appeal. This results from the holding that a coowner excluded from an application for patent does not have an "adverse" claim within the meaning of sections 2325 and 2326 of the Revised Statutes. (See Turner v. Sawyer, 150 U. S. 578-586.)

54. Any party applying for patent as trustee must disclose fully the nature of the trust and the name of the cestui que trust; and such trustee, as well as the beneficiaries, must furnish satisfactory proof of citizenship; and the names of beneficiaries, as well as that of the trustee, must be inserted in the final certificate of entry.

55. The annual expenditure of one hundred dollars in labor or improvements on a mining claim, required by section 2324 of the Revised Statutes, is solely a matter between rival or adverse claimants to the same mineral land, and goes only to the right of possession, the determination of which is committed exclusively to the courts.

56. The failure of an applicant for patent to a mining claim to prosecute his application to completion, by filing the necessary proofs and making payment for the land, within a reasonable time after the expiration of the period of publication of notice of the application, or after the termination of adverse proceedings in the courts, constitutes a waiver by the applicant of all rights obtained by the earlier proceedings upon the application.

57. The proceedings necessary to the completion of an application for patent to a mining claim, against which an adverse claim or protest has been filed, if taken by the applicant at the first opportunity afforded therefor under the law and departmental practice, will be as effective as if taken at the date when, but for the adverse claim or protest, the proceedings on the application could have been completed.

Placer Claims

58. The proceedings to obtain patents for placer claims, including all forms of mineral deposits excepting veins of quartz or other rock in place, are similar to the proceedings prescribed for obtaining patents for vein or lode claims; but where a placer claim shall be upon surveyed lands, and conforms to legal subdivisions, no further survey or plat will be required. Where placer claims cannot be conformed to legal subdivisions, survey and plat shall be made as on unsurveyed lands.

59. The proceedings for obtaining patents for veins or lodes having already been fully given, it will not be necessary to repeat them here, it being thought that careful attention thereto by applicants and the local officers will enable them to act understandingly in the matter, and make such slight modifications in the notice, or otherwise, as may be necessary in view of the different nature of the two classes of claims; the price of placer claims being fixed, however, at two dollars and fifty cents per acre or fractional part of an acre.

60. In placer applications, in addition to the recitals necessary in and to both vein or lode and placer applications, the placer application should contain, in detail, such data as will support the claim that the land applied for is placer ground containing valuable mineral deposits not in vein or lode formation and that title is sought not to control water courses or to obtain valuable timber, but in good faith because of the mineral therein. This statement, of course, must depend upon the character of the deposit and the natural features of the ground, but the following details should be covered as fully as possible: If the claim be for a deposit of placer gold, there must be stated the yield per pan, or cubic yard, as shown by prospecting and development work, distance to bedrock, formation and extent of the deposit, and all other facts upon which he bases his allegation that the claim is valuable for its deposits of placer gold. If it be a building stone or other deposit than gold claimed under the placer laws, he must describe fully the kind, nature, and extent of the deposit, stating the reasons why same is by him regarded as a valuable mineral claim. He will also be required to describe fully the natural features of the claim; streams, if any, must be fully described as to their course, amount of water carried, fall within the claim; and he must state kind and amount of timber and other vegetation thereon and adaptability to mining or other uses.

If the claim be all placer ground, that fact must be stated in the application and corroborated by accompanying proofs; if of mixed placers and lodes, it should be so set out, with a description of all known lodes situated within the boundaries of the claim. A specific declaration, such as is required by section 2333, Revised Statutes, must be furnished as to each lode intended to be claimed. All other known lodes are, by the silence of the applicant, excluded by law from all claim by him, of whatsoever nature, possessory or otherwise.

While this data is required as a part of the mineral surveyor's report under paragraph 167, in case of placers taken by special survey, it is proper that the application for patent incorporate these facts under the oath of the claimant.

Inasmuch as in case of claims taken by legal subdivisions, no report by a mineral surveyor is required, the claimant, in his application in addition to the data above required, should describe in detail the shafts, cuts, tunnels, or other workings claimed as improvements, giving their dimensions, value, and the course and distance thereof to the nearest corner of the public surveys.

As prescribed by paragraph 25, this statement as to the description and value of the improvements must be corroborated by the affidavits of two disinterested witnesses.

Applications awaiting entry, whether published or not, must be made to conform to these regulations, with respect to proof as to the character of the land. Entries already made will be suspended for such additional proofs as may be deemed necessary in each case.

Local land officers are instructed that if the proofs submitted in placer applications under this paragraph are not satisfactory as showing the land as a whole to be placer in character, or if the claims impinge upon or embrace water courses or bodies of water, and thus raise a doubt as to the bona fides of the location and application, or the character and extent of the deposit claimed thereunder, to call for further evidence, or if deemed necessary, request the specific attention of the chief of field service thereto in connection with the usual notification to him under the circular instructions of April 24, 1907, and suspend further action on the application until a report thereon is received from the field officer.

MILLSITES

61. Land entered as a millsite must be shown to be nonmineral. Millsites are simply auxiliary to the working of mineral claims, and as section 2337, which provides for the patenting of millsites, is embraced in the chapter of the Revised Statutes relating to mineral lands, they are therefore included in this circular.

62. To avail themselves of this provision of law, parties holding the possessory right to a vein or lode claim, and to a piece of nonmineral land not contiguous thereto for mining or milling purposes, not exceeding the quantity allowed for such purpose by section 2337, or prior laws, under which the land was appropriated, the proprietors of such vein or lode may file in the proper land office their application for a patent, under oath, in manner already set forth herein, which application, together with the plat and field notes, may include, embrace, and describe, in addition to the vein or lode claim, such noncontiguous millsite, and after due proceedings as to notice, etc., a patent will be issued conveying the same as one claim. The owner of a patented lode may, by an independent application, secure a millsite if good faith is manifest in its use or occupation in connection with the lode and no adverse claim exists.

63. Where the original survey includes a lode claim and also a millsite the lode claim should be described in the plat and field notes as "Sur. No. 37, A," and the millsite as "Sur. No. 37, B," or whatever may be its appropriate numerical designation; the course and distance from a corner of the millsite to a corner of the lode claim to be invariably given in such plat and field notes, and a copy of the plat and notice of application for patent must be conspicuously posted upon the millsite as well as upon the vein or lode claim for the statutory period of sixty days. In making the entry no separate receipt or certificate need be issued for the millsite, but the whole area of both lode and millsite will be embraced in one entry, the price being five dollars for each acre and fractional part of an acre embraced by such lode and millsite claim.

64. In case the owner of a quartz mill or reduction works is not the owner or claimant of a vein or lode claim the law permits him to make application therefor in the same manner prescribed herein for mining claims, and after due notice and proceedings, in the absence of a valid adverse filing, to enter and receive a patent for his millsite at said price per acre.

65. In every case there must be satisfactory proof that the land claimed as a millsite is not mineral in character, which proof may, where the matter is unquestioned, consist of the sworn statement of two or more persons capable, from acquaintance with the land, to testify understandingly.

CITIZENSHIP

66. The proof necessary to establish the citizenship of applicants for mining patents must be made in the following manner: In case of an incorporated company, a certified copy of their charter or certificate of incorporation must be filed. In case of an association of persons unincorporated, the affidavit of their duly authorized agent, made upon his own knowledge or upon information and belief, setting forth the residence of each person forming such association, must be submitted. This affidavit must be accompanied by a power of attorney from the parties forming such association, authorizing the person who makes the affidavit of citizenship to act for them in the matter of their application for patent.

67. In case of an individual or an association of individuals who do not appear by their duly authorized agent, the affidavit of each applicant, showing whether he is a native or naturalized citizen, when and where born, and his residence, will be required.

68. In case an applicant has declared his intention to become a citizen or has been naturalized, his affidavit must show the date, place, and the court before which he declared his intention, or from which his certificate of citizenship issued, and present residence.

69. The affidavit of the claimant as to his citizenship may be taken before the register or receiver, or any other officer authorized to administer oaths within the land districts; or, if the claimant is residing beyond the limits of the district, the affidavit may be taken before the clerk of any court of record or before any notary public of any state or territory.

70. If citizenship is established by the testimony of disinterested persons, such testimony may be taken at any place before any person authorized to administer oaths, and whose official character is duly verified.

71. No entry will be allowed until the register has satisfied himself, by careful examination, that proper proofs have been filed upon the points indicated in the law and official regulations. Transfers made subsequent to the filing of the application for patent will not be considered, but entry will be allowed and patent issued in all cases in the name of the applicant for patent, the title conveyed by the patent, of course, in each instance inuring to the transferee of such applicant where a transfer has been made pending the application for patent.

72. The mineral entries will be given the current serial numbers according to the provisions of the circular of June 10, 1908, whether the same are of lode or of placer claims or of millsites.

73. In sending up the papers in a case the register must not omit certifying, to the fact that the notice was posted in his office for the full period of sixty days, such certificate to state distinctly when such posting was done and how long continued. The schedule of papers, form 4-252f, should accompany the returns with all mineral applications and entries allowed.

POSSESSORY RIGHT

74. The provisions of section 2332, Revised Statutes, will greatly lessen the burden of proof, more especially in the case of old claims located many years since, the records of which, in many cases, have been destroyed by fire, or lost in other ways during the lapse of time, but concerning the possessory right to which all controversy or litigation has long been settled.

75. When an applicant desires to make his proof of possessory right in accordance with this provision of law, he will not be required to produce evidence of location, copies of conveyances, or abstracts of title, as in other cases, but will be required to furnish a duly certified copy of the statute of limitation of mining claims for the state or territory; together with his sworn statement giving a clear and succinct narration of the facts as to the origin of his title, and likewise as to the continuation of his possession of the mining ground covered by his application; the area thereof; the nature and extent of the mining that has been done thereon; whether there has been any opposition to his possession, or litigation with regard to his claim; and if so, when the same ceased; whether such cessation was caused by compromise or by judicial decree, and any additional facts within the claimant's knowledge having a direct bearing upon his possession and bona fides which he may desire to submit in support of his claim.

76. There should likewise be filed a certificate, under seal of the court having jurisdiction of mining cases within the judicial district embracing the claim, that no suit or action of any character whatever involving the right of possession to any portion of the claim applied for is pending, and that there has been no litigation before said court affecting the title to said claim or any part thereof for a period equal to the time fixed by the statute of limitations for mining claims in the state or territory as aforesaid other than that which has been finally decided in favor of the claimant.

77. The claimant should support his narrative of facts relative to his possession, occupancy, and improvements by corroborative testimony of any disinterested person or persons of credibility who may be cognizant of the facts in the case and are capable of testifying understandingly in the premises.

ADVERSE CLAIMS

78. An adverse claim must be filed with the register and receiver of the land office where the application for patent is filed or with the register and receiver of the district in which the land is situated at the time of filing the adverse claim. It must be on the oath of the adverse claimant, or it may be verified by the oath of any duly authorized agent or attorney in fact of the adverse claimant cognizant of the facts stated.

79. Where an agent or attorney in fact verifies the adverse claim, he must distinctly swear that he is such agent or attorney, and accompany his affidavit by proof thereof.

80. The agent or attorney in fact must make the affidavit in verification of the adverse claim within the land district where the claim is situated.

81. The adverse claim so filed must fully set forth the nature and extent of the interference or conflict; whether the adverse party claims as a purchaser for valuable consideration or as a locator. If the former, a certified copy of the original location, the original conveyance, a duly certified copy thereof, or an abstract of title from the office of the proper recorder should be furnished, or if the transaction was a merely verbal one he will narrate the circumstances attending the purchase, the date thereof, and the amount paid, which facts should be supported by the affidavit of one or more witnesses, if any were present at the time, and if he claims as a locator he must file a duly certified copy of the location from the office of the proper recorder.

82. In order that the "boundaries" and "extent" of the claim may be shown, it will be incumbent upon the adverse claimant to file a plat showing his entire claim, its relative situation or position with the one against which he claims, and the extent of the conflict; provided, however, that if the application for patent describes the claim by legal subdivisions, the adverse claimant, if also claiming by legal subdivisions, may describe his adverse claim in the same manner without further survey or plat. If the claim is not described by legal subdivisions, it will generally be more satisfactory if the plat thereof is made from an actual survey by a mineral surveyor, and its correctness officially certified thereon by him.

83. Upon the foregoing being filed within the sixty days' period of publication, the register, or in his absence the receiver, will immediately give notice in writing to the parties that such adverse claim has been filed, informing them that the party who filed the adverse claim will be required within thirty days from the date of such filing to commence proceedings in a court of competent jurisdiction to determine the question of right of possession, and to prosecute the same with reasonable diligence to final judgment, and that, should such adverse claimant fail to do so, his adverse claim will be considered waived and the application for patent be allowed to proceed upon its merits.

84. When an adverse claim is filed as aforesaid, the register or receiver will indorse upon the same the precise date of filing, and preserve a record of the date of notifications issued thereon; and thereafter all proceedings on the application for patent will be stayed, with the exception of the completion of the publication and posting of notices and plat and the filing of the necessary proof thereof, until the controversy shall have been finally adjudicated in court or the adverse claim waived or withdrawn.

85. Where an adverse claim has been filed and suit thereon commenced within the statutory period and final judgment rendered determining the right of possession, it will not be sufficient to file with the register a certificate of the clerk of the court setting forth the facts as to such judgment, but the successful party must, before he is allowed to make entry, file a certified copy of the judgment roll, together with the other evidence required by section 2326, Revised Statutes.

86. Where such suit has been dismissed, a certificate of the clerk of the court to that effect or a certified copy of the order of dismissal will be sufficient.

87. After an adverse claim has been filed and suit commenced, a relinquishment or other evidence of abandonment of the adverse claim will not be accepted, but the case must be terminated and proof thereof furnished as required by the last two paragraphs.

88. Where an adverse claim has been filed, but no suit commenced against the applicant for patent within the statutory period, a certificate to that effect by the clerk of the state court having jurisdiction in the case, and also by the clerk of the circuit court of the United States for the district in which the claim is situated, will be required.

APPOINTMENT OF SURVEYORS FOR SURVEY OF MINING CLAIMS AND CHARGES

89. Section 2334 provides for the appointment of surveyors to survey mining claims, and authorizes the commissioner of the general land office to establish the rates to be charged for surveys and for newspaper publications. Under this authority of law the following rates have been established as the maximum charges for newspaper publications in mining cases:

(1) Where a daily newspaper is designated the charge shall not exceed seven dollars for each ten lines of space occupied, and where a weekly newspaper is designated as a medium of publication five dollars for the same space will be allowed. Such charge shall be accepted as full payment for publication in each issue of the newspaper for the entire period required by law.

It is expected that these notices shall not be so abbreviated as to curtail the description essential to a perfect notice, and the said rates established upon the understanding that they are to be in the usual body type used for advertisements.

(2) For the publication of citations in contests or hearings involving the character of lands the charges shall not exceed eight dollars for five publications in weekly newspapers or ten dollars for publications in daily newspapers for thirty days.

90. The surveyors-general of the several districts will, in pursuance of said law, appoint in each land district as many competent surveyors for the survey of mining claims as may seek such appointment, it being distinctly understood that all expenses of these notices and surveys are to be borne by the mining claimants and not by the United States. The statute provides that the claimant shall also be at liberty to employ any United States mineral surveyor to make the survey. Each surveyor appointed to survey mining claims before entering upon the duties of his office or appointment shall be required to enter into a bond of not less than $5,000 for the faithful performance of his duties.

91. With regard to the platting of the claim and other office work in the surveyor-general's office, that officer will make an estimate of the cost thereof, which amount the claimant will deposit with any assistant United States treasurer or designated depository in favor of the United States treasurer, to be passed to the credit of the fund created by "individual depositors for surveys of the public lands," and file with the surveyor-general duplicate certificates of such deposit in the usual manner.

92. The surveyors-general will endeavor to appoint surveyors to survey mining claims so that one or more may be located in each mining district for the greater convenience of miners.

93. The usual oaths will be required of these surveyors and their assistants as to the correctness of each survey executed by them.

The duty of the surveyor ceases when he has executed the survey and returned the field notes and preliminary plat thereof with his report to the surveyor-general. He will not be allowed to prepare for the mining claimant the papers in support of an application for patent, or otherwise perform the duties of an attorney before the land office in connection with a mining claim.

The surveyors-general and local land officers are expected to report any infringement of this regulation to this office.

94. Should it appear that excessive or exorbitant charges have been made by any surveyor or any publisher, prompt action will be taken with a view of correcting the abuse.

FEEES OF REGISTERS AND RECEIVERS

95. The fees payable to the register and receiver for filing and acting upon applications for mineral-land patents are five dollars to each officer, to be paid by the applicant for patent at the time of filing, and the like sum of five dollars is payable to each officer by an adverse claimant at the time of filing his adverse claim. (Sec. 2238, R. S., par. 9.)

[Paragraphs 96, 97, and 98 are superseded by the general circular instructions of June 10, 1908.]

HEARINGS TO DETERMINE CHARACTER OF LANDS

99. The rules of practice in cases before the United States district land offices, the general land office, and the department of the interior will, so far as applicable, govern in all cases and proceedings arising in contests and hearings to determine the character of lands.

100. Public land returned by the surveyor-general as mineral shall be withheld from entry as agricultural land until the presumption arising from such a return shall be overcome by testimony taken in the manner hereinafter described.

101. Hearings to determine the character of lands:

(1) Lands returned as mineral by the surveyor-general.

When such lands are sought to be entered as agricultural under laws which require the submission of final proof after due notice by publication and posting, the filing of the proper nonmineral affidavit in the absence of allegations that the land is mineral will be deemed sufficient as a preliminary requirement. A satisfactory showing as to character of land must be made when final proof is submitted.

In case of application to enter, locate, or select such lands as agricultural, under laws in which the submission of final proof after due publication and posting is not required, notice thereof must first be given by publication for sixty days and posting in the local office during the same period, and affirmative proof as to the character of the land submitted. In the absence of allegations that the land is mineral, and upon compliance with this requirement, the entry, location, or selection will be allowed, if otherwise regular.

(2) Lands returned as agricultural and alleged to be mineral in character.

Where as against the claimed right to enter such lands as agricultural it is alleged that the same are mineral, or are applied for as mineral lands, the proceedings in this class of cases will be in the nature of a contest, and the practice will be governed by the rules in force in contest cases.

[Paragraphs 102 to 104, inclusive, are superseded by appropriate instructions relative to nonmineral proofs in railroad, state, and forest lieu selections contained in separate circulars.]

105. At hearings to determine the character of lands the claimants and witnesses will be thoroughly examined with regard to the character of the land; whether the same has been thoroughly prospected; whether or not there exists within the tract or tracts claimed any lode or vein of quartz or other rock in place bearing gold, silver, cinnabar, lead, tin, or copper, or other valuable deposit which has ever been claimed, located, recorded, or worked; whether such work is entirely abandoned, or whether occasionally resumed; if such lode does exist, by whom claimed, under what designation, and in which subdivision of the land it lies; whether any placer mine or mines exist upon the land; if so, what is the character thereof—Whether of the shallow-surface description, or of the deep cement, blue lead, or gravel deposits; to what extent mining is carried on when water can be obtained, and what the facilities are for obtaining water for mining purposes; upon what particular ten-acre subdivisions mining has been done, and at what time the land was abandoned for mining purposes, if abandoned at all. In every case, where practicable, an adequate quantity or number of representative samples of the alleged mineral-bearing matter or material should be offered in evidence, with proper identification, to be considered in connection with the record, with which they will be transmitted upon each appeal that may be taken. Testimony may be submitted as to the geological formation and development of mineral on adjoining or adjacent lands and their relevancy.

106. The testimony should also show the agricultural capacities of the land, what kind of crops are raised thereon, and the value thereof; the number of acres actually cultivated for crops of cereals or vegetables, and within which particular ten-acre subdivision such crops are raised; also which of these subdivisions embrace the improvements, giving in detail the extent and value of the improvements, such as house, barn, vineyard, orchard, fencing, etc., and mining improvements.

107. The testimony should be as full and complete as possible; and in addition to the leading points indicated above, where an attempt is made to prove the mineral character of lands which have been entered under the agricultural laws, it should show at what date, if at all, valuable deposits of minerals were first known to exist on the lands.

108. When the case comes before this office, such decision will be made as the law and the facts may justify. In cases where a survey is necessary to set apart the mineral from the agricultural land, the proper party, at his own expense, will be required to have the work done by a reliable and competent surveyor to be designated by the surveyor-general. Application therefor must be made to the register and receiver, accompanied by description of the land to be segregated and the evidence of service upon the opposite party of notice of his intention to have such segregation made. The register and receiver will forward the same to this office, when the necessary instructions for the survey will be given. The survey in such case, where the claims to be segregated are vein or lode claims, must be executed in such manner as will conform to the requirements in section 2320, Revised Statutes, as to length and width and parallel end lines.

109. Such survey when executed must be properly sworn to by the surveyor, either before a notary public, United States commissioner, officer of a court of record, or before the register or receiver, the deponent's character and credibility to be properly certified to by the officer administering the oath.

110. Upon the filing of the plat and field notes of such survey with the register and receiver, duly sworn to as aforesaid, they will transmit the same to the surveyor-general for his verification and approval, who, if he finds the work correctly performed, will furnish authenticated copies of such plat and description both to the proper local land office and to this office, made upon the usual drawing-paper township blank.

The copy of plat furnished the local office and this office must be a diagram verified by the surveyor-general, showing the claim or claims segregated, and designating the separate fractional agricultural tracts in each forty-acre legal subdivision by the proper lot number, beginning with No. 1 in each section, and giving the area in each lot, the same as provided in paragraph 37 in the survey of mining claims on surveyed lands.

111. The fact that a certain tract of land is decided upon testimony to be mineral in character is by no means equivalent to an award of the land to a miner. In order to secure a patent for such land, he must proceed as in other cases, in accordance with the foregoing regulations.

Blank forms for proofs in mineral cases are not furnished by the general land office.
[Rules 112 and 113 relate to the district of Alaska.]

MINERAL LANDS WITHIN NATIONAL FORESTS

114. The act of June 4, 1897, provides that "any mineral lands in any forest reservation which have been or which may be shown to be such, and subject to entry under the existing mining laws of the United States and the rules and regulations applying thereto, shall continue to be subject to such location and entry," notwithstanding the reservation. This makes mineral lands in the forest reserves subject to location and entry under the general mining laws in the usual manner.

The act also provides that "the secretary of the interior may permit, under regulations to be prescribed by him, the use of timber and stone found upon such reservations, free of charge, by bona fide settlers, miners, residents, and prospectors for minerals, for firewood, fencing, buildings, mining, prospecting, and other domestic purposes, as may be needed by such persons for such purposes; such timber to be used within the state or territory, respectively, where such reservations may be located."

Transfer of National Forests

Act of February 1, 1905 (33 Stat. 628)

The secretary of the department of agriculture shall, from and after the passage of this act, execute or cause to be executed all laws affecting public lands heretofore or hereafter reserved under the provisions of section 24 of the act entitled "An act to repeal the timber-culture laws, and for other purposes," approved March 3, 1891, and acts supplemental to and amendatory thereof, after such lands have been so reserved, excepting such laws as affect the surveying, prospecting, locating, appropriating, entering, relinquishing, reconveying, certifying, or patenting of any of such lands.

SURVEYS OF MINING CLAIMS

General Provisions

115. Under section 2334, Revised Statutes, the U. S. surveyor-general "may appoint in each land district containing mineral lands as many competent surveyors as shall apply for appointment to survey mining claims."

116. Persons desiring such appointment should therefore file their applications with the surveyor-general for the district wherein appointment is asked, who will furnish all information necessary.

117. All appointments of mineral surveyors must be submitted to the commissioner of the general land office for approval.

118. The surveyors-general have authority to suspend or revoke the commissions of mineral surveyors for cause. Before final action, however, the matter should be submitted to the commissioner of the general land office for approval.

119. Such surveyors will be allowed the right of appeal from the action of the surveyor-general in the usual manner. Such appeal should be filed with the surveyor-general, who will at once transmit the same, with a full report, to the general land office.

120. Neither the surveyor-general nor the commissioner of the general land office has jurisdiction to settle differences, relative to the payment of charges for field work, between mineral surveyors and claimants. These are matters of private contract and must be enforced in the ordinary manner, i. e., in the local courts. The department has, however, authority to investigate charges affecting the official actions of mineral surveyors, and will, on sufficient cause shown, suspend or revoke their appointment.

121. The surveyors-general should appoint as many competent mineral surveyors as apply for appointment, in order that claimants may have a choice of surveyors, and be enabled to have their work done on the most advantageous terms.

122. The schedule of charges for office work should be as low as is possible. No additional charges should be made for orders for amended surveys, unless the necessity therefor is clearly the fault of the claimant, or considerable additional office work results therefrom.

123. [Omitted.]

124. Mineral surveyors will address all official communications to the surveyor-general. They will, when a mining claim is the subject of correspondence, give the name and survey number. In replying to letters they will give the subject-matter and date of the letter. They will promptly notify the surveyor-general of any change in postoffice address.

125. Mineral surveyors should keep a complete record of each survey made by them and the facts coming to their knowledge at the time, as well as copies of all their field notes, reports, and official correspondence, in order that such evidence may be readily produced when called for at any future time. Field notes and other reports must be written in a clear and legible hand or typewritten in noncopying ink, and upon the proper blanks furnished gratuitously by the surveyor-general's office upon application therefor. No interlineations or erasures will be allowed.

126. No return by a mineral surveyor will be recognized as official unless it is over his signature as a United States mineral surveyor, and made in pursuance of a special order from the surveyor-general's office. After he has received an order for survey he is required to make the survey and return correct field notes thereof to the surveyor-general's office without delay.

127. The claimant is required, in all cases, to make satisfactory arrangements with the surveyor for the payment for his services and those of his assistants in making the survey, as the United States will not be held responsible for the same.

128. A mineral surveyor is precluded from acting, either directly or indirectly, as attorney in mineral claims. His duty in any particular case ceases when he has executed the survey and returned the field notes and preliminary plat, with his report, to the surveyor-general. He will not be allowed to prepare for the mining claimant the papers in support of his application for patent, or otherwise perform the duties of an attorney before the land office in connection with a mining claim. He is not permitted to combine the duties of surveyor and notary public in the same case by administering oaths to the parties in interest. It is preferable that both preliminary and final oaths of assistants should be taken before some officer duly authorized to administer oaths, other than the mineral surveyor. In cases, however, where great delay, expense, or inconvenience would result from a strict compliance with this rule, the mineral surveyor is authorized to administer the necessary oaths to his assistants, but in each case where this is done, he will submit to the proper surveyor-general a full written report of the circumstances which required his stated action; otherwise he must have absolutely nothing to do with the case, except in his official capacity as surveyor. He will not employ chainmen interested therein in any manner.

Method of Survey

129. The survey made and returned must, in every case, be an actual survey on the ground in full detail, made by the mineral surveyor in person after the receipt of the order, and without reference to any knowledge he may have previously acquired by reason of having made the location survey or otherwise, and must show the actual facts existing at the time. This precludes him from calculating the connections to corners of the public survey and location monuments, or any other lines of his survey through prior surveys made by others and substituting the same for connections or lines of the survey returned by him. The term survey in this paragraph applies not only to the usual field work, but also to the examinations required for the preparation of affidavits of five hundred dollars expenditure, descriptive reports on placer claims, and all other reports.

130. The survey of a mining claim may consist of several contiguous locations, but such survey must, in conformity with statutory requirements, distinguish the several locations, and exhibit the boundaries of each. The survey will be given but one number.

131. The survey must be made in strict conformity with, or be embraced within, the lines of the location upon which the order is based. If the survey and location are identical, that fact must be clearly and distinctly stated in the field notes. If not identical, a bearing and distance must be given from each established corner of survey to the corresponding corner of the location, and the location corner must be fully described, so that it can be identified. The lines of the location, as found upon the ground, must be laid down upon the preliminary plat in such a manner as to contrast and show their relation to the lines of survey.

132. In view of the principle that courses and distances must give way when in conflict with fixed objects and monuments, the surveyor will not, under any circumstances, change the corners of the location for the purpose of making them conform to the description in the record. If the difference from the location be slight, it may be explained in the field notes.

133. No mining claim located subsequent to May 10, 1872, should exceed the statutory limit in width on each side of the center of vein or 1,500 feet in length, and all surveys must close within 50-100 feet in 1,000 feet, and the error must not be such as to make the location exceed the statutory limit, and in absence of other proof the discovery point is held to be the center of the vein on the surface. The course and length of the vein should be marked upon the plat.

134. All mineral surveys must be made with a transit, with or without solar attachment, by which the meridian can be determined independently of the magnetic needle, and all courses must be referred to the true meridian. The variation should be noted at each corner of the survey. The true course of at least one line of each survey must be ascertained by astronomical observations made at the time of the survey; the data for determining the same and details as to how these data were arrived at must be given. Or, in lieu of the foregoing, the survey must be connected with some line the true course of which has been previously established beyond question, and in a similar manner, and, when such lines exist, it is desirable in all cases that they should be used as a proof of the accuracy of subsequent work.

135. Corner No. 1 of each location embraced in a survey must be connected by course and distance with nearest corner of the public survey or with a United States location monument, if the claim lies within two miles of such corner or monument. If both are within the required distance, the connection must be with the corner of the public survey.

136. Surveys and connections of mineral claims may be made in suspended townships in the same manner as though the claims were upon unsurveyed land, except as hereinafter specified, by connecting them with independent mineral monuments. At the same time, the position of any public-land corner which may be found in the neighborhood of the claim should be noted, so that, in case of the release of the township from suspension, the position of the claim can be shown on the plat.

137. A mineral survey must not be returned with its connection made only with a corner of the public survey, where the survey of the township within which it is situated is under suspension, nor connected with a mineral monument alone, when situated within the limits of a township the regularity and correctness of the survey of which is unquestioned.

138. In making an official survey, corner No. 1 of each location must be established at the corner nearest the corner of the public survey or location monument, unless good cause is shown for its being placed otherwise. If connections are given to both a corner of the public survey and location monument, corners Nos. 1 should be placed at the corner nearest the corner of the public survey. When a boundary line of a claim intersects a section line, courses and distances from point of intersection to the government corners at each end of the half mile of section line so intersected must be given.

139. In case a survey is situated in a district where there are no corners of the public survey and no monuments within the prescribed limits, a mineral monument must be established, in the location of which the greatest care must be exercised to insure permanency as to site and construction.

140. The site, when practicable, should be some prominent point, visible for a long distance from every direction, and should be so chosen that the permanency of the monument will not be endangered by snow, rock, or landslides, or other natural causes.

141. The monument should consist of a stone not less than 30 inches long, 20 inches wide, and 6 inches thick, set halfway in the ground, with a conical mound of stone 4 feet high and 6 feet base alongside. The letters U. S. L. M., followed by the consecutive number of the monument in the district, must be plainly chiseled upon the stone. If impracticable to obtain a stone of required dimensions, then a post 8 feet long, 6 inches square, set 3 feet in the ground, scribed as for a stone monument, protected by a well-built conical mound of stone of not less than 3 feet high and 6 feet base around it, may be used. The exact point for connection must be indicated on the monument by an X chiseled thereon; if a post is used, then a tack must be driven into the post to indicate the point.

142. From the monument, connections by course and distance must be taken to two or three bearing trees or rocks, and to any well-known and permanent objects in the vicinity, such as the confluence of streams, prominent rocks, buildings, shafts, or mouths of adits. Bearing trees must be properly scribed B. T. and bearing rocks chiseled B. R., together with the number of the location monument; the exact point on the tree or stone to which the connection is taken should be indicated by a cross or other unmistakable mark. Bearings should also be taken to prominent mountain peaks, and the approximate distance and direction ascertained from the nearest town or mining camp. A detailed description of the locating monument, with a topographical map of its location, should be furnished the office of the surveyor-general by the surveyor.

143. Corners may consist of—

First—A stone at least 24 inches long set 12 inches in the ground, with a conical mound of stone 1½ feet high, 2 feet base, alongside.

Second—A post at least 3 feet long by 4 inches square, set 18 inches in the ground and surrounded by a substantial mound of stone or earth.

Third—A rock in place.

A stone should always be used for a corner when possible, and when so used the kind should be stated.

144. All corners must be established in a permanent and workmanlike manner, and the corner and survey number must be neatly chiseled or scribed on the sides facing the claim.

The exact corner point must be permanently indicated on the corner. When a rock in place is used, its dimensions above ground must be stated and a cross chiseled at the exact corner point.

145. In case the point for the corner be inaccessible or unsuitable, a witness corner, which must be marked with the letters W. C. in addition to the corner and survey number, should be established. The witness corner should be located upon a line of the survey and as near as possible to the true corner, with which it must be connected by course and distance. The reason why it is impossible or impracticable to establish the true corner must always be stated in the field notes, and in running the next course it should be stated whether the start is made from the true place for corner or from witness corner.

146. The identity of all corners should be perpetuated by taking courses and distances to bearing trees, rocks, and other objects, as prescribed in the establishment of location monuments, and when no bearings are given it should be stated that no bearings are available. Permanent objects should be selected for bearings whenever possible.

147. If an official mineral survey has been made in the vicinity, within a reasonable distance, a further connecting line should be run to some corner thereof; and in like manner all conflicting surveys and locations should be so connected, and the corner with which connection is made in each case described. Such connections will be made and conflicts shown according to the boundaries of the neighboring or conflicting claims as each is marked, defined, and actually established upon the ground. The mineral surveyor will fully and specifically state in his return how and by what visible evidences he was able to identify on the ground the several conflicting surveys and those which appear according to their returned tie or boundary lines to conflict, if they were so identified, and report errors or discrepancies found by him in any such surveys. In the survey of contiguous claims which constitute a consolidated group, where corners are common, bearings should be mentioned but once.

148. The mineral surveyor should note carefully all topographical features of the claim, taking distances on his lines to intersections with all streams, gulches, ditches, ravines, mountain ridges, roads, trails, etc., with their widths, courses, and other data that may be required to map them correctly. All municipal or private improvements, such as blocks, streets and buildings, should be located.

149. If, in running the exterior lines of a claim, the survey is found to conflict with the survey of another claim, the distances to the points of intersection and the courses and distances along the line intersected from an established corner of such conflicting claim to such points of intersection, should be described in the field notes; provided, that where a corner of the conflicting survey falls within the claim being surveyed, such corner should be selected from which to give the bearing, otherwise the corner nearest the intersection should be taken. The same rule should govern in the survey of claims embracing two or more locations the lines of which intersect.

150. A lode and millsite claim in one survey will be distinguished by the letters A and B following the number of the survey. The corners of the millsite will be numbered independently of those of the lode. Corner No. 1 of the millsite must be connected with a corner of the lode claim as well as with a corner of the public survey or United States location monument.

151. When a placer claim includes lodes, or when several contiguous placer or lode locations are included as one claim in one survey, there must be given to the corners of each location constituting the same a separate consecutive numerical designation, beginning with corner No. 1 in each case.

152. Throughout the description of the survey, after each reference to the lines or corners of a location, the name thereof must be given, and if unsurveyed, the fact stated. If reference is made to a location included in a prior official survey, the survey number must be given, followed by the name of the location. Corners should be described once only.

153. The total area of each location and also the area in conflict with each intersecting survey or claim should be stated. But when locations embraced in one survey conflict with each other such conflicts should only be stated in connection with the location from which the conflicting area is excluded.

154. It should be stated particularly whether the claim is upon surveyed or unsurveyed public lands, giving in the former case the quarter section, township, and range in which it is located, and the section lines should be indicated by full lines and the quarter-section lines by dotted lines.

155. The title-page of the field notes must contain the postoffice address of the claimant or his authorized agent.

156. In the mineral surveyor's report of the value of the improvements all actual expenditures and mining improvements made by the claimant or his grantors, having a direct relation to the development of the claim, must be included in the estimate.

157. The expenditures required may be made from the surface or in running a tunnel, drifts, or crosscuts for the development of the claim. Improvements of any other character, such as buildings, machinery, or roadways, must be excluded from the estimate, unless it is shown clearly that they are associated with actual excavations, such as cuts, tunnels, shafts, etc., are essential to the practical development of and actually facilitate the extraction of mineral from the claim.

158. All mining and other improvements claimed will be located by courses and distances from corners of the survey, or from points on the center or side lines, specifying with particularity and detail the dimensions and character of each, and the improvements upon each location should be numbered consecutively, the point of discovery being always No. 1. Improvements made by a former locator who has abandoned his claim cannot be included in the estimate, but should be described and located in the notes and plat.

159. In case of a lode and millsite claim in the same survey the expenditure of five hundred dollars must be shown upon the lode claim.

160. If the value of the labor and improvements upon a mineral claim is less than five hundred dollars at the time of survey, the mineral surveyor may file with the surveyor-general supplemental proof showing five hundred dollars expenditure made prior to the expiration of the period of publication.

161. The mineral surveyor will return with his field notes a preliminary plat on blank sent to him for that purpose, protracted on a scale of two hundred feet to an inch if practicable. In preparing plats the top is north. Copy of the calculations of areas by double meridian distances and of all triangulations or traverse lines must be furnished. The lines of the claim surveyed should be heavier than the lines of conflicting claims.

162. Whenever a survey has been reported in error the surveyor who made it will be required to promptly make a thorough examination upon the premises and report the result, under oath, to the surveyor-general's office. In case he finds his survey in error he will report in detail all discrepancies with the original survey and submit any explanation he may have to offer as to the cause. If, on the contrary, he should report his survey correct, a joint survey will be ordered to settle the differences with the surveyor who reported the error. A joint survey must be made within ten days after the date of order unless satisfactory reasons are submitted, under oath, for a postponement. The field work must in every sense of the term be a joint and not a separate survey, and the observations and measurements taken with the same instrument and chain, previously tested and agreed upon.

163. The mineral surveyor found in error, or, if both are in error, the one who reported the same, will make out the field notes of the joint survey, which, after being duly signed and sworn to by both parties, must be transmitted to the surveyor-general's office.

164. Inasmuch as amended surveys are ordered only by special instructions from the general land office, and the conditions and circumstances peculiar to each separate case and the object sought by the required amendment, alone govern all special matters relative to the manner of making such survey and the form and subject-matter to be embraced in the field notes thereof, but few general rules applicable to all cases can be laid down.

165. The amended survey must be made in strict conformity with, or be embraced within, the lines of the original survey. If the amended and original surveys are identical, that fact must be clearly and distinctly stated in the field notes. If not identical, a bearing and distance must be given from each established corner of the amended survey to the corresponding corner of the original survey. The lines of the original survey, as found upon the ground, must be laid down upon the preliminary plat in such manner as to contrast and show their relation to the lines of the amended survey.

166. The field notes of the amended survey must be prepared on the same size and form of blanks as are the field notes of the original survey, and the word "amended" must be used before the word "survey" wherever it occurs in the field notes.

167. Mineral surveyors are required to make full examinations of all placer claims at the time of survey and file with the field notes a descriptive report, in which will be described—

(a) The quality and composition of the soil, and the kind and amount of timber and other vegetation.

(b) The locus and size of streams, and such other matter as may appear upon the surface of the claims.

(c) The character and extent of all surface and underground workings, whether placer or lode, for mining purposes, locating and describing them.

(d) The proximity of centers of trade or residence.

(e) The proximity of well-known systems of lode deposits or of individual lodes.

(f) The use or adaptability of the claim for placer mining, and whether water has been brought upon it in sufficient quantity to mine the same, or whether it can be procured for that purpose.

(g) What works or expenditures have been made by the claimant or his grantors for the development of the claim, and their situation and location with respect to the same as applied for.

(h) The true situation of all mines, salt licks, salt springs, and millsites which come to the surveyor's knowledge, or a report by him that none exist on the claim, as the facts may warrant.

(i) Said report must be made under oath and duly corroborated by one or more disinterested persons.

168. The employing of claimants, their attorneys, or parties in interest, as assistants in making surveys of mineral claims will not be allowed.

169. The field work must be accurately and properly performed and returns made in conformity with the foregoing instructions. Errors in the survey must be corrected at the surveyor's own expense, and if the time required in the examination of the returns is increased by reason of neglect or carelessness, he will be required to make an additional deposit for office work. He will be held to a strict accountability for the faithful discharge of his duties, and will be required to observe fully the requirements and regulations in force as to making mineral surveys. If found incompetent as a surveyor, careless in the discharge of his duties, or guilty of a violation of said regulations, his appointment will be promptly revoked.

Approved March 29, 1909.

Approved March 16, 1897, 103

2422. Who may locate—Form and posting of notice.

SECTION 1. Any person, a citizen of the United States or one who has declared his intention to become such, who discovers a vein or lode, may locate a claim upon such vein or lode by defining the boundaries of the claim in the manner hereinafter described, and by posting a notice of such location at the time and point of discovery, which notice must be posted upon one of the several monuments prescribed in section 2 of this act, and such notice must contain:

First—The name of the lode or claim;

Second—The name of the locator or locators;

Third—The date of the location;

Fourth—The number of linear feet claimed in length along the course of the vein, each way from the point of discovery, with the width on each side of the center of the vein, and the general course of the vein or lode as near as may be. As amended, Stats. 1907, 418.

See federal statute and note, secs. 2377, 2400.

In order to hold a mining ledge, it is not necessary that the notice of location should be placed on the ore or any part of the vein or lode; it is sufficient if it be placed in such reasonable proximity and relation to the ledge as, in connection with the work done under it, to give notice to all comers what ledge is intended. Phillpotts v. Blasdel, 8 Nev. 61.

Placing a notice of location headed with a certain name upon a lode of ore is to christen it with such name. Idem.

There is no law to prevent a person from relocating his own mining claim by a different name; and if he does so and then conveys it by the latter name, there is no reason why the existence of the former location should invalidate the deed. Idem.

An alien who has never declared his intention to become a citizen, is not a qualified locator of mining ground, and he cannot hold a mining claim either by actual possession or by location against one who connects himself with the government title by compliance with the mining law. Golden Fleece G. & S. M. Co. v. Cable Con. G. & S. M. Co., 12 Nev. 312.

The mining laws of the United States recognize and sanction the custom of the miners among organized mining districts to adopt local laws or rules governing the location, recording and working of claim not in conflict with state or federal legislation. Idem.

This section not requiring that the location notice shall contain a recital that a discovery has there been made, a notice containing such recital is not prima facie evidence of the discovery. Fox v. Myers, 29 Nev. 169 (86 P. 793).

The posting of a notice under this section at a certain point establishes that at that point locator claims a discovery. Idem.

Where conflicting claimants both posted their notices at the same point, such fact, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, warranted a presumption that both based their claims of a discovery on the same natural conditions, and that discovery of mineral, therefore, for the purposes of the case, presumptively existed. Idem.

Where mining claims were located on a designated date, by posting the requisite notice and by the proper marking of their boundaries within ninety days thereafter, the right to the ground covered by them related back to the time of the posting of the notice and segregated the land from the public domain, so that a subsequent location was invalid until after there had been a failure to do the work required by the statutes to be done within ninety days from the posting of the notice; but where the notices were posted and the claims were not staked within ninety days thereafter, the locations were not completed, and they were not segregated from the public domain, though such posting carried the right to define the boundaries within ninety days.

Where a senior location of mining claims was not a valid and existing location at the time of a junior location, the junior locator became entitled to hold the claims for ninety days, and, by instituting his suit to recover the claims before the expiration of ninety days, he could recover judgment for possession and damages to the end of that period, and, if he should fail to do the required work within ninety days, the claims would become subject to relocation by others. Nash v. McNamara, 30 Nev. 114, 129, 142, 16 L. R. A. (N. S.) 168, 133 A. S. 694, 93 P. 405.

2423. Location work—Boundaries, how and when defined.

SEC. 2. The locator of the lode mining claim must sink a discovery shaft upon the claim located four feet by six feet to the depth of at least ten feet from the lowest part of the rim of such shaft at the surface, or deeper, if necessary to show by such work a lode deposit of mineral in place; a cut or crosscut or tunnel which cuts the lode at a depth of ten feet or an open cut along the said ledge or lode, equivalent in size to a shaft four feet by six feet by ten feet deep, is equivalent to a discovery shaft. The locator must define the boundaries of his claim by removing the top of a tree (having a diameter of not less than four inches) not less than three feet above the ground, and blazing and marking the same, or by a rock in place, capping such rock with smaller stones, such rock and stones to have a height of not less than three feet, or by setting a post or stone one at each corner and one at the center of each side line. When a post is used, it must be at least four inches in diameter by four and one-half feet in length set one foot in the ground. When it is practically impossible, on account of bed-rock or precipitous ground, to sink such posts, they may be placed in a mound of earth or stones, or where the proper placing of such posts or other monuments is impracticable or dangerous to life or limb, it shall be lawful to place such posts or monuments at the nearest point properly marked to designate its right place. When a stone is used (not a rock in place) it must be not less than six inches in diameter and eighteen inches in length set two-thirds of its length in the top of a mound of earth or stone, four feet in diameter and two and one-half feet in height. All trees, posts or rocks used as monuments, when not four feet in diameter at the base, shall be surrounded by a mound of earth or stone four feet in diameter by two feet in height, which trees, posts, stones or rock monuments must be so marked as to designate the corners of the claim located; provided, however, that the locator of a mining claim shall within twenty days from the date of posting the notice of location define the boundaries of said claim by placing at each corner and at the center of each side line one of the hereinbefore described monuments, and shall within ninety days of the date of posting said location notice perform the location work hereinbefore prescribed. As amended, Stats. 1899, 93; 1901, 97; 1907, 419.

For requirements under the federal statute, see secs. 2378, 2382, and note. See Murray v. Osborne under sec. 7 of this act.

The mining laws of the locality govern the location and manner of developing the mines, and when they directly point out how such mining claims must be located, and how the possession once acquired is to be maintained, that course must be strictly pursued. Mallett v. Unele Sam G. & S. M. Co., 1 Nev. 188, affirmed, Gleeson v. Martin White Mining Co., 13 Nev. 442.

No valid location of a mining claim can be made until a vein, or deposit, of gold, silver, or metalliferous ore, or rock in place has been discovered. Overman S. M. Co. v. Corcoran, 15 Nev. 147.

Assays of rock which was taken from a mining claim, long after the date of its location, are competent evidence, as tending to show that the locators had discovered a vein at the time of the location. Southern Cross v. Europa M. Co., 15 Nev. 385.

It is the record of a mining claim, and not the notice of location, that must contain such reference to a natural object or permanent monument as will identify the claim, and only then when the local laws require a record to be made. Brady v. Husby, 21 Nev. 453; Poujade v. Ryan, 21 Nev. 449 (33 P. 659).

Where the record of a mining claim contains such reference to a natural object or permanent monument as might under any circumstances identify the claim, the record is admissible in evidence, and it becomes a question of fact as to whether such reference is sufficient. Idem.

In the absence of all evidence upon the point it will be presumed that the reference is sufficient for identification. Idem.

The court cannot take judicial notice of the existence in a particular district of a rule requiring claims to be recorded. Such rule, if it exists, must be proven the same as any other fact in the case. Idem.

The presumption, in the first instance, is that the owner of the mine owns all the veins found within his boundary lines, but when there is evidence tending to prove that the vein in controversy apexes outside those lines, this, if sufficient, will rebut that presumption; and as the burden of proving ownership is, when denied, always upon the party alleging it, he must also meet and overcome this evidence, or he will fail in establishing his title. Jones v. Prospect T. Co., 21 Nev. 339 (31 P. 642).

By "rock in place," as used in the mining statutes, is meant rock that is enclosed and embraced in the general mass of the mountain, as distinguished from the float, soil and debris of the surface; and it is not material where the rock or mineral was originally formed or deposited, or that the vein matter is loose, or broken, or disintegrated. Idem.

To enable a party to maintain a right to a mining claim after it has been acquired, he must continue to comply substantially with the laws of Congress and of the state, and the local regulations of miners in force in the district where the claim is located.

A failure to comply with the laws and regulations in force in the district, whether national, state or local, works a forfeiture of the claim, whether such laws or regulations so provide or not, and the same becomes subject to location by any qualified locator.

This section is not in conflict with the act of Congress, which gives the locator one year in which to do the one hundred dollars' worth of labor prescribed by Congress as a condition of holding the claim.

The state cannot, by its legislation, dispense with the performance of the conditions imposed by national law, in order to hold a mining claim, but it may require a reasonable additional amount of work to be done annually, or to complete the location, and, after location, a reasonable additional amount of work within a reasonable time, less than the time prescribed by Congress for the annual expenditure. Sisson v. Sommers, 24 Nev. 379, 386 (77 A. S. 815, 55 P. 829).

A patent to a mining claim conveys title to all the surface thereof. Abbott v. Primeaux, 16 Nev. 361.

A junior location made on ground covered by a valid existing senior location will not prevail over a relocation of the same ground, made after failure to do the work on the senior location. Nash v. McNamara, 30 Nev. 114, 16 L. R. A. (N. S.) 168, 133 A. S. 694, 93 P. 405.

The declarations of a locator that he located but one ledge may operate as an estoppel against his claiming both, where it afterwards appears that there are in fact two distinct ledges. Van Valkenburg v. Huff, 1 Nev. 147.

In a dispute as to the extent of a mining company's claim, the declarations of the president of the company as to the position of the boundaries, if objected to, are not admissible in evidence. Overman S. M. Co. v. American M. Co., 7 Nev. 313.

Notice of mining location construed. Weill v. Lucerne M. Co., 11 Nev. 200.

Deed of mining claim, how construed. Idem.

Second location of mining ground when not an abandonment of the first. Idem.

If the statute of the United States has not been complied with, and a patent is issued without authority of law, it is absolutely void. Rose v. Richmond M. Co., 17 Nev. 26 (37 P. 1105), affirmed, 114 U. S. 576.

2424. Location notice—Form and recording—Authenticated copy evidence.

SEC. 3. Any locator or locators of a mining claim, after having established the boundaries of said claims, and after having complied with the provisions of this act with reference to the establishment of such boundaries, may file with the district mining recorder a notice of location, setting forth the name given to the lode or vein, the number of linear feet claimed in length along the course of the vein, the date of location, the date on which the boundaries of the claim were completed, and the name of the locator or locators. Should any claim be located in any section or territory where no district has been as yet formed, or where there is no district recorder, the locator or locators of such claims may file with the county recorder, notice of location as set forth above, and said notice of location will be prima facie evidence in all courts of justice of the first location of said lode or vein. Within ninety days of the date of posting the location notice upon the claim the locator shall record his claim with the mining district recorder and the county recorder of the mining district or county in which such claim is situated by location certificate which must contain:

First—The name of the lode or vein;

Second—The name of the locator or locators;

Third—The date of the location and such description of the location of said claim, with reference to some natural object or permanent monument, as will identify the claim;

Fourth—The number of linear feet claimed in length along the course of the vein each way from the point of discovery, with the width on each side of the center of the vein, and the general course of the lode or vein as near as may be;

Fifth—The dimensions and locations of the discovery shaft or its equivalent, sunk upon the claim;

Sixth—The location and description of each corner, with the markings thereon.

Any record of the location of a lode mining claim which shall not contain all the requirements named in this section shall be void. All records of lode or placer mining claims, millsites or tunnel rights heretofore made by any recorder of any mining district or any county recorder are hereby declared to be valid and to have the same force and effect as records made in pursuance of the provisions of this act. And any such record, or a copy thereof duly verified by a mining recorder or duly certified by a county recorder shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated. As amended, Stats. 1907, 420.

See secs. 2382, 2469.

It is the record of a mining claim, and not the notice of location that must contain the reference to the natural object and only then when the local laws require a record to be made. Brady v. Husby, 21 Nev. 453, 33 P. 801.

Where the record of a mining claim contains such reference to a natural object as might under any circumstances identify the claim, the record is admissible in evidence, and it becomes a question of fact as to whether such reference is sufficient. Idem.

Where there is a mining district recorder whose place of business is publicly known, it is essential to a valid record of a mining claim that the certificate of location be recorded with the district recorder as well as with the county recorder. Ford v. Campbell, 29 Nev. 578 (92 P. 206).

Where the certificate of location described the claim as situated about two miles from a certain town, without giving any direction, such description did not constitute a substantial compliance with this section. Idem.

Recording a certificate of location is not made an essential requisite to a valid location by the laws of the United States. Idem.

The recording of a certificate of location of a mining claim is not essential to the validity of the location. Idem.

Facts held insufficient to indicate an abandonment of rights under prior location. Idem.

Cited, State ex rel. N. T. G. & T. Co. v. Grimes, 29 Nev. 59.

A notice of location of a mining claim is not required to be recorded. Gibson v. Hjul, 32 Nev. 360 (108 P. 759, 761).

A notice of location of a mining claim, while not answering the requirements of this section for a certificate of location, and so not evidence of an act of location, is admissible in support of a claim of adverse possession and to explain testimony. Idem.

Filing of a defective certificate of a location of a mining claim or failure to file any certificate, does not invalidate the claim. Idem.

Notice of location of a mining claim is not required to be strictly exact, and is not controlling; courses and distances given therein yielding to monuments erected on the ground. Idem.

Though ore was not discovered in a so-called "discovery shaft," it is enough that the locator subsequently found valuable ore in other workings on the claim, and where ore was unquestionably discovered did more than the equivalent of that required for a discovery shaft. Idem.

That the end lines of a mining claim are not parallel, does not invalidate the location but only affects extralateral rights. Idem.

2425. What location includes.

SEC. 4. The location or record of any vein or lode claim shall be construed to include all surface ground within the surface lines thereof, and all lodes and ledges throughout their entire depth, the top or apex of which lies inside of such lines extended downward, vertically with all parts of such lodes or veins as continue to dip beyond the side lines of the claim, but shall not include any portion of such lodes, veins, or ledges beyond the end lines of the claim, or the end lines continued, whether by dip or otherwise, or beyond the side lines in any other manner than by the dip of the lode.

For the federal statute, see sec. 2380.

See Ford v. Campbell, under sec. 3 of this act.

Regarding extralateral rights where mining ground is patented under lapping locations to the same persons, see Round Mountain M. Co. v. Round Mountain Sphinx M. Co., 34 Nev. —.

2426. Lode not to be followed beyond end lines.

SEC. 5. If the top or apex of the lode in its longitudinal course extends beyond the exterior lines of the claim at any point on the surface, or as extended vertically downward, such lode may not be followed in its longitudinal course where it is intersected by the exterior lines.

See sec. 2380.

The U. S. patent does not convey the veins or ledges which apex outside the boundary lines of the mine extended downward vertically, and the mine owner is not necessarily the owner of such veins. Jones v. Prospect M. T. Co., 21 Nev. 339 (31 P. 642).

2427. Defective and additional certificate—Change of boundaries—Existing rights.

SEC. 6. If at any time the locator of any mining claim heretofore or hereafter located, or his assigns, shall apprehend that his original certificate was defective, erroneous, or that the requirements of the law had not been complied with before filing; or shall be desirous of changing his surface boundaries or of taking in any part of an overlapping claim which has been abandoned; or in case the original certificate was made prior to the passage of this law, and he shall be desirous of securing the benefits of this act, such locator or his assigns may file an additional certificate, subject to the provisions of this act; provided, that such relocation does not interfere with the existing rights of others at the time of such relocation, and no such relocation or the record thereof shall preclude the claimant or claimants from proving any such titles as he or they may have held under previous location.

See sec. 2382.

2428. Relocation—Work to be done—New boundaries—Record.

SEC. 7. The relocation of abandoned lode claims shall be by sinking a new discovery shaft and fixing new boundaries in the same manner as if it were the location of a new claim; or the relocater may sink the original discovery shaft ten feet deeper than it was at the time of abandonment, in which case the record must give the depth and dimensions of the original discovery shaft at the date of such relocation, and erect new or adopt the old boundaries, renewing the posts or monuments if removed or destroyed. In either case a new location stake shall be erected. In any case, whether the whole or part of an abandoned claim is taken the record may state that the whole or any part of the new location is located as abandoned property. If it is not known to the relocater that his location is on an abandoned claim, then the provisions of this section do not apply.

See sec. 2382.

To enable a party to maintain a right to a mining claim after the right is acquired, it is necessary that he continue substantially to comply with all the mining rules and customs. Oreamuno v. U. S. G. & S. M. Co., 1 Nev. 215.

Abandonment is a mixed question of law and fact. If in fact a person intend to give up his claim and quit paying assessments in pursuance of that intention, it is an abandonment. Idem.

A party who insists upon forfeiture or abandonment and relies thereon to build up a right in himself to the thing abandoned, is bound to establish the fact or facts upon which his asserted claim depends. Idem.

There can be no strict abandonment of property without the intention so to do. The bare lapse of time, short of the statute of limitations and unaccompanied by other circumstances would be no evidence of abandonment. Mallett v. Uncle Sam G. & S. M. Co., 1 Nev. 189.

On the question of estoppel in relocation of mining claim, see Sever v. Gregovich, 16 Nev. 325.

If an application for a patent to mine be abandoned and the applicant fails to do assessment work on his ground without having obtained a certificate of purchase, the ground may be relocated. South End M. Co. v. Tinney, 22 Nev. 19 (35 P. 89).

Where one or more of the parties first locating mining ground afterwards make a second location upon the same lode, with the names of other parties added to the notice of location, it appearing that at the time of the second location the ground was undeveloped, and it was not known that both notices were on the same lode, and it further appearing that the second notice was posted for the express purpose of protecting the original location: Held, that the second location did not of itself constitute an abandonment of the first location. Weill v. Lucerne M. Co., 11 Nev. 200.

The question of abandonment is one of intention. Whether it was the intention of the locators in the first notice to abandon their interest in the ground derived from said first notice of location, was a question of fact for the jury to determine from all the facts and circumstances of the case. Idem.

A party cannot locate a valid claim to a lode already located and legally possessed by others. Mining claims are not open to relocation until the rights of a former locator have been abandoned, forfeited or otherwise come to an end. Rose v. Richmond M. Co., 17 Nev. 26 (37 P. 1105, affirmed, 114 U. S. 576).

Where the first claimant who takes up the claim is not a citizen, or has forfeited his right by noncompliance with the mining laws, or abandoned his claim, the mining ground staked off by him, is open to location by any citizen of the United States. Golden Fleece M. Co. v. Cable Consolidated Co., 12 Nev. 312.

A locator of a mining claim on which an old tunnel had been run, who cleaned out the tunnel for a distance of about thirty feet, and who drove the tunnel ahead five or six feet, and who thereby removed several times the quantity of earth necessary to do work in new ground for the construction of a shaft or cut equivalent to a shaft, performed the statutory discovery work. Murray v. Osborne, 33 Nev. — (111 P. 31-34).

2429. Survey and certificate of surveyor becomes part of record and evidence.

SEC. 8. Where a locator, or his assigns, has the boundaries and corners of his claim established by a United States deputy mineral surveyor, or a licensed surveyor of this state, and his claim connected with a corner of the public or minor surveys of an established initial point, and incorporates into the record of the claim the field notes of such survey, and attaches to and files with such location certificate a certificate of the surveyor, setting forth: First, that said survey was actually made by him, giving the date thereof; second, the name of the claim surveyed and the location thereof; third, that the description incorporated in the declaratory statement is sufficient to identify. Such survey and certificate becomes a part of the record, and such record is prima facie evidence of the facts therein contained.

2430. Assessment work—$4 for eight hours.

SEC. 9. The amount of work done or improvements made during each year to hold possession of a mining claim shall be that prescribed by the laws of the United States, to wit: One hundred dollars annually. In estimating the worth of labor required to be performed upon any mining claim, to hold the same under the laws of the United States, the value of a day's labor is hereby fixed at four dollars; provided, however, that in the sense of this statute eight hours of labor actually performed upon the mining claim shall constitute a day's labor.

See sec. 2382.

In an action of ejectment, to recover the possession of a mining claim, where the defendant relies upon a forfeiture by plaintiff, for failure to do the necessary work required by the act of Congress (Rev. Stats. 2326), such forfeiture need not be specially pleaded. Steel v. Gold Lead M. Co., 18 Nev. 80 (1 P. 448).

After the purchase price is paid, and the receiver's receipt is taken, the locator's right to a patent is vested, and he is not required to do assessment work. Deno v. Griffin, 20 Nev. 249 (20 P. 308). Writ of error dismissed, 163 U. S. 683.

See Ford v. Campbell, under sec. 3 of this act.

2431. Affidavit of work performed—Record—Evidence.

SEC. 10. Within sixty days after the performance of labor or making of improvements, required by law to be annually performed or made upon any mining claim, the person in whose behalf such labor was performed, or improvements made, or some one in his behalf, shall make and have recorded by the mining district recorder or the county recorder in books kept for that purpose in the mining district or county in which such mining claim is situated, an affidavit setting forth the amount of money expended, or value of labor or improvements made, or both, the character of expenditures or labor or improvements, a description of the claim or part of the claim affected by such expenditures, or labor or improvements, for what year, and the name of the owner or claimant of said claim at whose expense the same was made or performed. Such affidavit, or a copy thereof, duly certified by the county recorder, shall be prima facie evidence of the performance of such labor or the making of such improvements, or both.

See sec. 2445.

See Ford v. Campbell, under sec. 3 of this act.

2432. Notice to a delinquent coowner—Penalty for failure to give receipt—Affidavit—Evidence.

SEC. 11. Whenever a coowner or coowners shall give to a delinquent coowner or coowners the notice in writing or notice by publication provided for in section 2324, Revised Statutes of the United States, an affidavit of the person giving such notice, stating the time, place, manner of service, and by whom and upon whom such service was made, shall be attached to a true copy of such notice, and such notice and affidavit must be recorded by the mining district recorder or the county recorder, in books kept for that purpose, in the mining district or county in which the mining claim is situated; within ninety days after the giving of such notice, or if such notice is given by publication in a newspaper, there shall be attached to a printed copy of such notice an affidavit of the printer or his foreman or principal clerk of such paper, stating the date of the first, last and each insertion of such notice therein, and when and where the newspaper was published during that time, and the name of such newspaper. Such affidavit and notice shall be recorded as aforesaid within one hundred and eighty days after the first publication thereof. The original of such notice and affidavits, or a duly certified copy of the record thereof, shall be evidence that the delinquent mentioned in section 2324 has failed or refused to contribute his proportion of the expenditure required by that section and of the service or publication of said notice; provided, the writing or affidavit hereinafter provided for is not of record. If such delinquent shall, within the ninety days required by section 2324 aforesaid, contribute to his coowner or coowners his proportion of such expenditures, such coowner or coowners shall sign and deliver to the delinquent or delinquents a writing, stating that the delinquent or delinquents by name, has within the time required by section 2324 of the Revised Statutes of the United States contributed his share for the year, upon the mine, and further stating therein the district, county and state where the same is situate and the book and page where the location notice is recorded; such writing shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of said county. If such coowner or coowners shall fail to sign and deliver such writing to the delinquent or delinquents within twenty days after such contribution, the coowner or coowners so failing as aforesaid shall be liable to a penalty of one hundred dollars, to be recovered by any person for the use of the delinquent or delinquents in any court of competent jurisdiction. If such coowner or coowners fail to deliver such writing within said twenty days, then the delinquent with two disinterested persons having personal knowledge of such contribution, may make affidavit setting forth in what manner, the amounts of, to whom and upon what mine, such contribution was made.

Such affidavit, or a record thereof in the office of the county recorder of the county in which said mine is situate, shall be prima facie evidence of such contribution.

This section supersedes act of March 5, 1887, 136.

For the federal statute regarding notice to delinquent coowners, see sec. 2382. Cited, State ex rel. N. T. G. & T. Co. v. Grimes, 29 Nev. 59.

2433. Notice to claim but one location.

SEC. 12. No notice of location of a lode claim shall claim more than one location, whether the location be made by one or several persons. And if such notice purport to claim more than one location it shall be absolutely void, except as to the first location therein described. And if they are described together, or so that it cannot be told which location is first described, the notice of location shall be void as to all.

2434. Location of placer claim, how made—Boundaries—United States survey.

SEC. 13. The location of a placer claim shall be made in the following manner: By posting thereon, upon a tree, rock in place, stone, post, or monument, a notice of location, containing the name of the claim, name of locator or locators, date of location, and number of feet or acres claimed, and by marking the boundaries and the location point in the same manner and by the same means as required by the laws of this state for marking the boundaries of lode claim locations; provided, that where the United States survey has been extended over the land embraced in the location, the claim may be taken by legal subdivisions, and, except the marking of the location point as hereinbefore prescribed, no other markings than those of said survey shall be required. As amended, Stats. 1899, 94.

See secs. 2387-2389.

2435. Location work on placer—Location certificate—Record—Evidence.

SEC. 14. Within ninety days after the posting of the notice of location of a placer claim, the locator shall perform not less than twenty dollars worth of labor upon the claim for the development thereof, and shall have recorded by the mining district recorder and the county recorder of the district and county in which the claim is situated a certificate which shall state the name of the claim, designating it as a placer claim, name of locator or locators, date of location, number of feet or acres claimed, a description of the claim with regard to some natural object or permanent monument, so as to identify the claim, and the kind and amount of work done by him as herein required, and the place on the claim where said work was done. This certificate, or the record thereof, or a duly certified copy of said record, shall be prima facie evidence of the recitals therein. But if such certificate do not state all the facts herein required to be stated, it shall be void. As amended, Stats. 1899, 94.

See secs. 2469-2473.

2436. Millsite.

SEC. 15. The proprietor of a vein or lode claim or mine, or the owner of a quartz mill or reduction works, may locate five acres of nonmineral land as a millsite.

For the federal statute relating to location of millsites, see sec. 2499.

2437. Millsite—Location notice, what to contain—Marking boundaries.

SEC. 16. The locator of a millsite location shall locate his claim by posting a notice of location thereon, which must contain: 1st, the name of the locator or locators; 2d, the name of the vein or lode claim, or mine, of which he is the proprietor, or the name of the quartz mill or reduction works of which he is the owner; 3d, the date of the location; 4th, the number of feet or acres claimed; 5th, a description of the claim by such reference to a natural object or permanent monument as shall identify the claim or mill-site. And by marking the boundaries of his claim in the same manner as provided in this act for the marking of the boundaries of a placer mining claim, so far as the same may be applicable thereto.

2438. Millsite—Location notice to be recorded.

SEC. 17. The locator of a millsite claim or location shall within thirty days from the date of his location record his location with the mining district recorder and the county recorder of the district or county in which such location is situated, by a location certificate which must be similar in all respects to the one posted on the location.

See Ford v. Campbell, under sec. 3 of this act.

Cited, State ex rel. N. T. G. & T. Co. v. Grimes, 29 Nev. 59.

2439. Millsite—When location of void—Necessary record—Description.

SEC. 18. Any record of a millsite location which shall not contain the name of the locator or locators, the name of the vein or lode claim or mine of which the locator is the proprietor, or the name of the quartz mill or reduction works of which the locator is the owner, the number of feet or acres claimed, and such description as shall identify the claim with reasonable certainty, shall be void.

2440. Tunnel right, how located—What notice must contain.

SEC. 19. The locator of a tunnel right or location shall locate his tunnel right or location by posting a notice of location at the face or point of commencement of the tunnel which must contain: 1st, the name of the locator or locators; 2d, the date of the location; 3d, the proposed course or direction of the tunnel; 4th, the height and width thereof; 5th, the position and character of the boundary monuments; 6th, a description of the tunnel by such reference to a natural object or permanent monument as shall identify the claim or tunnel right.

See sec. 2381.

2441. Tunnel right—Boundaries—Monuments—Size of claim.

SEC. 20. The boundary lines of the tunnel shall be established by stakes or monuments placed along such lines at an interval of not more than three hundred feet from the face or point of commencement of the tunnel to the terminus of three thousand feet therefrom. The stakes or monuments shall be of the same size and character as those provided for lode or placer claims in this act.

2442. Tunnel right—When location to be recorded.

SEC. 21. The locator of a tunnel right or location shall within sixty days from the date of the location record his location with the mining district recorder and the county recorder of the county or district in which such location is situated, which must be similar in all respects to the one posted on the location. Any record of a tunnel right or location which shall not contain all the requirements named in this section shall be void.

Cited, State ex rel. N. T. G. & T. Co. v. Grimes, 29 Nev. 59.

See Ford v. Campbell, under sec. 3 of this act.

2443. Tunnel—Location of blind lodes in.

SEC. 22. All blind lodes, or veins or lodes not previously known to exist, discovered in a tunnel run for the development of a vein or lode, or for the discovery of mines, and within three thousand feet from the face of such tunnel, shall be located upon the surface and held in like manner as other lode claims under the provisions of this act.

See sec. 2381.

2444. Provisions of this act applicable.

SEC. 23. The provisions of this act shall be construed as equally applicable to all classes of locations except where the requirement as to any one class is manifestly inapplicable to any other class or classes.

2445. Certificate of location and labor need not be sworn to.

SEC. 24. Certificates of location and of labor and improvements necessary to hold claims need not be sworn to, and are not required to be in any specified form, nor to state facts in any specific order; but must truly state the required facts.

The words "necessary to hold claims," do not refer to "certificates of location," but only to the words "labor and improvements," which referred to the provisions of the federal statutes in regard to annual labor. Ford v. Campbell, 29 Nev. 578 (92 P. 206).

2446. Recording of locations when no district recorder.

SEC. 25. Where there is no mining district, or where a district having once existed the residence of the officers within the district and their places of business within the district where the books are kept are not publicly known, district recording shall not be required of the locator or claim owner. But recording shall be required in the office of the county recorder in all cases; as well where there is a district recorder as where there is none.

Secs. 24 and 25 added, Stats. 1899, 95.

An Act to provide for the location of lands containing salt.

Approved February 24, 1865, 172

2447. Location of saline lands.

SECTION 1. Any person may locate, claim, and hold not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres of the public lands within this state containing salt or saline matter.

For the federal law relating to location of saline lands, see sec. 2392.

2448. Duty of persons locating salt lands—Survey—Recording plat.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of any person or persons locating salt lands to have the same surveyed by the county surveyor of the county in which said lands are located, within thirty days from the date of location; and the surveyor shall, within thirty days from the completion of said survey, make and deliver to the party employing him to make the survey, a correct description and plat of the lands thus surveyed, and the same shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of said county within thirty days from the delivery thereof by the surveyor.

2449. Location made prior to passage of act ratified.

SEC. 3. All locations made prior to the passage of this act upon saline lands are hereby ratified and confirmed to the locators thereof, their heirs and assigns; provided, the parties now holding and occupying said lands shall, within sixty days from the passage of this act, have the same surveyed and recorded as provided in section 2 of this act.

2450. When subject to relocation.

SEC. 4. All persons claiming and holding saline lands under the provisions of this act shall keep and hold actual possession of said lands by occupying the same, and whenever said lands are abandoned for a period longer than sixty days, the same shall be subject to relocation.

An Act for the better protection of the rights of locators of mining claims.

Approved March 20, 1907, 193

2451. Recorder to give receipt for location certificate—To contain what.

SECTION 1. Whenever the locator of a mining claim shall file his certificate of location in accordance with the law and pay the prescribed fees therefor, it shall be the duty of the mining district recorder, and of the county recorder, with whom said certificate is filed, forthwith to give such locator, or his agent, a receipt therefor; said receipt shall contain name of the claim given in notice filed and date of location thereof, stating the day and hour such certificate of location was filed.

2452. Receipt prima facie evidence.

SEC. 2. The receipt called for in section 1 of this act shall be prima facie evidence that the certificate of location has been duly filed, and the date of filing.

2453. Mining recorder to procure seal—Exemption.

SEC. 3. Each district mining recorder shall provide a seal on which shall be engraved the name of the mining district, the county and state, with which said seal he shall authenticate all of his official acts, which seal, together with his official documents and books, shall not be liable to be seized on execution.

2454. County recorder to notify mining recorders.

SEC. 4. It shall be the duty of the several county recorders, within ten days after the passage of this act, to notify each of the several district mining recorders in their respective counties of the passage of this act, which shall take effect on and after the first day of April, 1907.

2455. Violation misdemeanor—Penalty.

SEC. 5. Any mining district recorder or county recorder neglecting or refusing to comply with the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred ($500) dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

An Act to encourage mining.

Approved March 3, 1887, 102

2456. May enter upon mineral lands—Compensation for injury—Improvements may be condemned.

SECTION 1. The several grants made by the United States to the State of Nevada reserved the mineral lands. Sales of such lands made by the state were made subject to such reservation. Any citizen of the United States, or person having declared his intention to become such, may enter upon any mineral lands in this state, notwithstanding the state's selection, and explore for gold, silver, copper, lead, cinnabar, or other valuable mineral, and upon the discovery of such valuable mineral may work and mine the same in pursuance of the local rules and regulations of the miners and the laws of the United States; provided, that after a person who has purchased land from the state has made valuable improvements thereon, such improvements shall not be taken or injured without full compensation. But such improvement may be condemned for the uses and purposes of mining in like manner as private property is by law condemned and taken for public use. Mining for gold, silver, copper, lead, cinnabar, and other valuable mineral, is the paramount interest of this state, and is hereby declared to be a public use.

See secs. 2458-2459.

For condemnation of property, see secs. 5606-5629.

2457. State disclaims interest in mineral lands.

SEC. 2. Every contract, patent or deed hereafter made by this state or the authorized agents thereof, shall contain a provision expressly reserving all mines of gold, silver, copper, lead, cinnabar and other valuable minerals that may exist in such land, and the state, for itself and its grantees, hereby disclaims any interest in mineral lands heretofore or hereafter selected by the state on account of any grant from the United States. All persons desiring titles to mines upon lands which have been selected by the state must obtain such title from the United States under the laws of Congress, notwithstanding such selection. As amended, Stats. 1897, 36.

Regarding the reservation of mines from entries of other lands under the act of Congress, see sec. 2407.

One taking a patent to such lands, with such reservation acquired no interest in a mine located after his application was filed and before the patent issued, notwithstanding the selection by the state under the grant from the government determined that the lands were agricultural and nonmineral within the meaning of the grant. Stanley v. Hirsching, 26 Nev. 55, 66 (63 P. 59).

An Act supplementary to an act entitled "An act to encourage the mining, milling, smelting or other reduction of ores in the State of Nevada," approved March 1, 1875.

Approved March 14, 1907, 140

2458. Prospector may enter on private land.

SECTION 1. Any person, a citizen of the United States, may enter upon any unfenced and unimproved land in the State of Nevada held in private ownership, excepting mining claims and mining property already located or occupied for mining purposes, and may prospect thereon for gold, silver or other valuable minerals or metals, being responsible to the owner of the land for all damage done thereon.

See sec. 2456.

2459. May locate mineral deposit thereon and acquire title, how.

SEC. 2. Any person, a citizen of the United States, discovering a ledge or deposit containing gold, silver or other valuable mineral or metals in or upon any unfenced and unimproved land in this state held in private ownership, excepting mining claims or mining property already located or occupied for mining purposes, may locate such ledge or deposit, in accordance with the laws of the United States and of this state in respect to the location of mining claims, the same as though such ledge or deposit was found upon the public domain, and may acquire title to such land so located by means of the special proceedings prescribed in this act. The said special proceedings shall be substantially as follows: There shall be filed in the clerk's office of the district court in the county where the real estate is situated a petition verified according to law, stating therein the names of the person or persons presenting the petition; that he or they have discovered a ledge or deposit containing gold, silver, or some other valuable mineral or metal; the description by metes and bounds, or by some other accurate designation of the tract or tracts of land, located in the manner of mining claims as herein provided and desired to be appropriated for mining purposes; that said land is more valuable for mining purposes than the purpose for which the same is being held; the names of those in possession of said land, and those claiming any right, title or interest therein, so far as the same can be obtained by reasonable diligence.

2460. Method of proceeding prescribed.

SEC. 3. That the proceedings following the filing of such petition shall be as prescribed in that certain act of the legislature of this state entitled "An act to encourage the mining, milling, smelting or other reduction of ores in the State of Nevada," approved March 1, 1875, in so far as the same are not inconsistent with the provisions of this act.

2461. Title, how acquired.

SEC. 4. If upon the hearing of the petition filed as provided in this act it appears to the satisfaction of the court or judge thereof that the land in question is more valuable for mining than for the purpose for which the same is being used, then the petitioner or petitioners shall acquire title thereto in manner similar to that prescribed in the act to which this act is supplementary.

2462. Basis for determining value.

SEC. 5. In determining the value of the land as a basis for the compensation which the petitioner or petitioners shall pay to the owners thereof, the minerals therein contained shall not be considered as going to make up the value, but the value which shall govern is the reasonable value of the land for the use to which the same has previously been put, or reasonably might be expected to be put in the future, by the owners thereof.

NOTE—The act of which this act is supplementary is covered by chapter 66 of civil practice act and is for that reason omitted, secs. 5606-5629.

An Act amendatory of and supplemental to an act entitled "An act to provide for the better preservation of the mining records in certain districts in this state," approved March 6, 1879.

Approved February 10, 1881, 33

2463. County recorders to be ex officio district mining recorders at county-seat.

SECTION 1. In every mining district in this state, in which the seat of government of any county is situated, the county recorder of said county shall be ex officio district mining recorder, subject in the discharge of his duties to such rules, regulations, and compensations as may be now in force or hereafter prescribed by the mining laws of the mining districts respectively to which this act is applicable. He shall, as such ex officio mining recorder, be responsible on his official bond for the faithful performance of the duties of his office and the correct and safe keeping of all the records thereof, and the correct and safe keeping of the copies of all the records mentioned and referred to in section 2 of this act.

2464. Duties of mining recorders to certify and transmit copies quarterly.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of each and every mining recorder of the several mining districts in the state, on or before the first Monday in January, April, July and October in each year, to transcribe into a suitable book or books, to be provided for that purpose, and to deposit and file with the county recorders of the respective counties in which said mining districts may be located, a full, true, and correct copy of the mining records of the respective mining districts for the three months next preceding said first Mondays in January, April, July and October, duly certified under oath; provided, this section shall not apply to the mining recorder created by section 1 of this act.

2465. County commissioners to provide books.

SEC. 3. There shall be provided by the county commissioners of the several counties in this state, and furnished to each mining recorder, on his application, suitable books, into which the mining records mentioned in section 2 of this act shall be transcribed.

2466. Fees to recorders.

SEC. 4. The several mining recorders shall receive for services herein required by section 2 of this act, one dollar for the transcript of each claim, including the oath, which shall be paid at the time of recording by the parties making the locations.

2467. Copies of records introduced in court in evidence.

SEC. 5. The certified copies of the mining records certified to be deposited and filed as herein provided, shall be received in evidence, and have the same force and effect in all courts as the original.

2468. Penalty for not complying.

SEC. 6. Any person neglecting or refusing to comply with the provisions of section 2 of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Original act, Stats. 1879, 80, consisted of but one section and that is amended. It is therefore omitted as having been superseded by this act.

An Act to provide for the better preservation of the mining records of this state, and to repeal all other acts in conflict with this act.

Approved February 14, 1885, 27

2469. Duties of mining recorders—Duplicate notices for county recorders.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of each and every mining recorder of the several mining districts of the state to require all persons locating and recording a mining claim to make a duplicate copy of each and every mining notice, which copy the said mining recorder shall carefully compare with the original, and mark "duplicate" on its face or margin, and he shall immediately deposit with or transmit the same to the county recorders of the respective counties in which said mining district may be located.

See secs. 2382-2435.

2470. Fees to be collected.

SEC. 2. The said district mining recorders, at the time of comparing said duplicate notices with the original, shall collect from the locators of said mining claims the sum of one dollar for each and every notice compared, which sum he shall transmit, together with the said duplicate notices, to the county recorders of the respective counties in which said mining claims shall be located.

2471. Duplicate to be forwarded to county recorder.

SEC. 3. Whenever, owing to the distance of the mining district from the county-seat, it becomes inconvenient for the district mining recorder to personally deposit the duplicate copy with the county recorder, then in that case he may forward the same by mail or express, or such other manner as will insure safe transit and delivery to the county recorder.

2472. Fees for recording—Location out of district recorded with county recorder.

SEC. 4. The county recorders of the several counties shall receive for their services for recording each of said duplicate notices mentioned in section 2 of this act, the sum of one dollar; provided, that in case the location is made outside of an organized mining district or in the absence of a mining recorder in any organized district, then the person or persons making such location shall within ninety days after making such location transmit a duplicate copy of such notice to the recorder of the county in which the location is made and the recorder shall record the same for a fee of one dollar. As amended, Stats. 1897, 77.

2473. Duplicate notice evidence same as original.

SEC. 5. The record of any original or duplicate notice of the location of a mining claim in the office of the county recorder as herein provided, shall be received in evidence, and have the same force and effect in the courts of the state, as the original mining district records. As amended, Stats. 1897, 77.

See sec. 2435.

2474. Penalty.

SEC. 6. Any person neglecting or refusing to comply with the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by such fine and imprisonment.

For recording of mining claims, see sec. 2424.

An Act to regulate grubstake contracts and prospecting agreements, and to provide for the recording of the same.

Approved March 29, 1907, 370

2475. Contracts to be recorded—Evidence.

SECTION 1. All grubstake contracts and prospecting agreements hereafter entered into, and which may in any way affect the title of mining locations, or other locations under the mining laws of this state, shall be void and of no effect, except between the parties to said contract or agreement, unless the instrument shall first have been recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which said instrument is made. The instrument or instruments shall be duly acknowledged before a notary public or other person competent to take acknowledgments. Grubstake contracts and prospecting agreements, duly acknowledged and recorded as provided for in this act, shall be prima facie evidence in all courts of justice in this state in all cases wherein the title to mining locations and other locations under the mining laws of this state are in dispute.

An Act for the encouragement of mining.

Approved March 7, 1865, 228

2476. Mining companies may sue minority owners for expenditures.

SECTION 1. When three or more persons, owning or claiming as joint tenants in common, or coparceners, a majority of the number of feet, shares, or interests in any mining claim in this state, shall have formed, or shall hereafter form themselves into a corporation or organized association, for the purpose of working and developing such mining claim, and shall actually proceed to work and develop the same, such corporation or association may, without demand, except by commencement of action, institute in any court of competent jurisdiction, suit in its corporate or associate name, as upon an implied contract for the payment of money, against any person not a stockholder in or member of such corporation or association, owning or claiming to own in said mining claim as joint tenant, tenant in common, or coparcener, for his or her proportion of the money actually expended, or indebtedness assumed by such corporation or association, in the actual and necessary working and development of said mining claim.

2477. Money expended or indebtedness assumed.

SEC. 2. The proportion of money expended or indebtedness assumed by such corporation or association, and for the payment of which such joint tenant, tenant in common, or coparcener, is made liable under the provisions of this act, shall be deemed such an amount of money or indebtedness as bears the same proportion to the whole amount of money expended or indebtedness assumed, as the interest in the mining claim owned or claimed by such joint tenant, tenant in common, or coparcener, bears to the whole of the mining claim.

2478. Who may join in suit—Issue of facts—Judgment to be separate.

SEC. 3. Any number of such joint tenants, tenants in common, or coparceners, may be joined as parties defendant in any suit instituted under the provisions of this act; but each defendant shall be entitled to plead separately; and when the cause shall be tried by jury, as many of the separate issues of fact as may be agreed upon by the parties may be determined by the same jury. Judgment shall be rendered for or against each defendant separately, and the costs of suit may be apportioned among the several parties defendant, against whom judgment may be rendered, in such manner as to the court may appear just and equitable; provided, that in all cases the defendant, prior to the institution of suit under the provisions of this act, shall be entitled to three weeks' notice of the intention of such corporation or association to institute such suit, which notice may be either personally or by the publication in some newspaper published in the county within which such mining claim is located; and if none be published in said county, then in the nearest adjoining county.

2479. What summons shall specify.

SEC. 4. The summons shall specify: First, the amount of money actually expended, or indebtedness assumed, by such corporation or association, in the actual and necessary working and development of said mining claim; and, second, the amount due from each joint tenant, tenant in common, or coparcener, as his or her proportion of such money or indebtedness.

2480. Where suit to be brought—Service of summons.

SEC. 5. All suits instituted under the provisions of this act shall be brought in the county within which the mining claim may be located; and where the defendant is a nonresident of the county within which suit is brought, but a resident of the state, service of summons may be had personally, as in other cases, or by publication in the same manner as provided by law for service of summons by publication where the defendant is a nonresident of the state and a resident of the State of California; and all of the provisions of law regulating proceedings in other civil cases shall, so far as the same are applicable, apply to suits instituted under this act.

2481. Lien.

SEC. 6. The amount of money expended or indebtedness assumed, by such corporation or association, as the proportion due from such joint tenant, tenant in common, or coparcener, for the actual and necessary working and development of said mining claim, shall be a lien in favor of such corporation or association upon the interest of such joint tenant, tenant in common, or coparcener, in such mining claim, from the time such money was expended, or indebtedness assumed, by such corporation or association; which lien shall bind such interest from the time of such payment or assumption as against any subsequent purchaser, mortgagee, or other person acquiring a lien upon, or title to, or interest in, the same. Suit may be instituted against the person owning or claiming such interest at the time of the commencement of the action for the recovery of the whole amount due upon such interest; and all judgments rendered in any action instituted under the provisions of this act, and any execution issued thereon, shall bind and run against such interest, and no other property of the defendant shall be subject to execution on said judgment.

2482. Sales to be absolute.

SEC. 7. All sales of any interest in a mining claim under an execution issued on a judgment obtained in any suit instituted under the provisions of this act shall be absolute, and the purchaser shall be entitled to the immediate possession of the interest purchased by him at such sale.

An Act to facilitate the recovery of ores, gold, silver, lead or copper, taken by theft or trespass, and to provide a punishment for the violations of the provisions thereof.

Approved March 29, 1907, 416

2483. Assayers and buyers to keep record—What shall state.

SECTION 1. That every assayer, person, partnership, association or corporation engaged, or who or which may hereafter be engaged, directly, indirectly or occasionally in the business, or who or which, being engaged in other business, shall at any time assay, mill, sample, reduce, ship, transport, buy, purchase, trade in, barter, concentrate, smelt, refine or sell metalliferous bearing ores, free gold, gold dust, gold amalgam, gold nuggets, gold specimens, gold bullion, free silver, silver nuggets, silver bullion, lead or lead bullion, copper or copper bullion, shall keep and preserve a book of records thereof, in which shall be entered at the times they shall occur the following entries, with the dates thereof:

First—The name of the assayer, person, persons, partnership, association or corporation on whose behalf such ore, free gold, gold dust, gold amalgam, gold nuggets, gold specimens, gold bullion, free silver, silver nuggets, silver bullion, lead, lead bullion, copper or copper bullion, is delivered, or purchased, or sampled, or transported, or sold, or reduced, or smelted, or milled, as the case may be.

Second—The weight or quantity thereof, and a short description of each and every lot or consignment thereof.

Third—The name or names of the teamster or teamsters, packer or packers, or other person or persons actually delivering or transferring the same, and each and every portion of the same, and the name or names of the owner or owners of the team, pack train, railway or express company, automobile or other conveyance used or employed in and for such delivery.

Fourth—The name and location of the mine, mining claim, mining location, or other premises from which the same has been or purports to have been extracted, mined or procured, and if the products or property consists of concentrates, amalgam, bullion concentrates, free gold or free silver, there shall also be recorded the name and location of the mill, concentrator, refinery or smelter which milled or purported to have milled, reduced, concentrated, smelted or refined the same, and for whom such milling, reducing, refining, concentration or smelting was done.

Fifth—The date of the receipt thereof, and whether received by purchase, barter, trade or gift, or for treatment, concentration, reduction, sampling, refining, assay, transportation, sale, exchange or otherwise.

Sixth—Whether [whenever] the assayer, person, partnership, association or corporation receiving any property hereinabove specifically designated, shall become the owner thereof by purchase, barter, trade or exchange, there shall also be recorded in said book a statement showing the amount and terms of such purchase, barter, trade or exchange.

Seventh—Whenever the assayer, person, partnership, association or corporation receiving any property hereinabove specifically designated, shall become the owner thereof by purchase, barter, trade or exchange there shall also be recorded in said book a statement showing the amount and terms of such purchase, barter, trade or exchange.

Seventh—Whenever the assayer, person, partnership, association, or corporation receiving any property herein specifically designated shall as agent, factor, broker or in any other capacity sell, barter, trade or exchange the same for and in behalf of the owner or reputed owner thereof, there shall also be recorded in said book the date, names of the parties, the amount and character of the property sold or disposed of, (by) and the amount of such transaction.

Eighth—The interest, if any, of the delivering person, partnership, association or corporation in the property or any part thereof herein above specifically designated, whether as owner, lessee, pledgee, superintendent, foreman or workman in the mine, mining claim, mining location, premises, mill, concentrator, sampler, refiner or smelting works from which the same was or purports to have been mined or treated.

2484. Stolen ore, how recovered—Affidavit—Examination of books.

SEC. 2. Whenever affidavit shall be made by any person before any justice of the peace or district judge that any ore, free gold, gold dust, gold amalgam, gold nuggets, gold specimens, gold bullion, free silver, silver nuggets, silver bullion, lead, lead bullion, copper or copper bullion has been stolen or unlawfully taken from him or from any copartnership, association or corporation in which he is interested, or in which he is an officer or agent, stating as near as may be the character, amount and value thereof, such person by himself, or his attorneys, or both, upon presentation of such affidavit, or a copy thereof, duly certified as such by the officer before whom the same is verified, shall have access to such book or books of any and every assayer, person, partnership, association or corporation hereby required to keep the same, and may freely and without hindrance or interference, read and examine all entries which may have been made therein during a period of sixty days next preceding the date of such affidavit; provided, nevertheless, that the person making such affidavit or the partnership, association or corporation, or in whose behalf the same is made, shall at the time thereof have a present ownership or interest in the assay office, mine, claim, premises, mill, smelter, concentrator, refinery or establishment, from which such ores, free gold, gold dust, gold amalgam, gold specimens, gold bullion, silver, silver nuggets, silver bullion, lead, lead bullion, copper, copper bullion, has been stolen or unlawfully taken or alleged to have been stolen or unlawfully taken.

2485. Failure to keep or making false record punished.

SEC. 3. Every assayer, person, copartnership, association or corporation described in section 1 of this act, who or which shall fail, refuse or neglect to keep the book or books, or to make the entries therein as hereby required, or who or which shall make or cause to be made any false or fictitious entry therein, or who or which shall refuse the right of inspection thereof to any person entitled thereto, as herein provided, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than three hundred dollars or more than one thousand dollars.

2486. Failure, refusal or neglect no defense.

SEC. 4. If any assayer, person, partnership, association or corporation shall fail, refuse or neglect to make the inquiries or secure the information necessary to the making of the proper[ty] entries in said book as provided in section 1 of this act, or shall so negligently and imperfectly make such entry or entries that the nature, character or value of the ore or other property therein mentioned the assayer, partnership, person, association or corporation delivering the same or receiving the proceeds thereof cannot be ascertained, identified or determined, or shall fail, neglect or refuse to keep such book or books, or shall wilfully lose or mislay or wilfully or knowingly permit to be lost or mislaid the said book or books, or that the same cannot be produced for inspection as herein provided, such failure, refusal or neglect shall not excuse, protect or operate as a defense to any such assayer, partnership, association or corporation as defendant or defendants in any action or prosecution brought or instituted under the provisions of this act.

An Act to regulate the purchase of ore.

Approved March 29, 1907. 365

2487. Possessor of mining claim deemed owner of ore.

SECTION 1. Any person, copartnership, association or corporation in the actual and peaceable possession of any mining claim, under claim or color of title, and engaged in the mining, shipment and treatment, or sale of ores therefrom, shall, as to all persons purchasing such ore or ores in good faith and without notice as herein provided, of the title or claim of title or ownership of any other person, copartnership, association or corporation thereto shall be deemed to be the lawful owner or owners of such ore or ores.

2488. Purchaser in good faith deemed owner.

SEC. 2. Any person who, or copartnership, association or corporation which shall in good faith and in the usual course of business and without notice, as hereinafter provided, purchase and obtain delivery of any ore or ores from any person, copartnership, association or corporation in possession of the mines, mining claim or claims, from which such ore or ores shall have been mined and extracted, shall be deemed the owner or owners of such ores except as herein provided; and he or they shall not be liable to, or subject to any action at law or in equity, for the recovery of the same or the value thereof by any person, copartnership, association or corporation who or which may thereafter be adjudged to be the owner or owners of such mine, mines, mining claim or claims.

2489. Notice not to purchase—Action for recovery of ore—Injunction.

SEC. 3. If any person, copartnership, association or corporation shall be or shall claim to be the owner or owners, or entitled to the possession or enjoyment of any mine, mines, mining claim, claims or premises, then in the possession of some other person, copartnership, association or corporation claiming to be the owner or owners or entitled to the possession thereof, and mining, shipping and treating or selling the ore therefrom, may, if he, they, or it shall intend or desire to hold purchasers of or those intending to purchase such ore or ores, responsible for the value thereof, serve or cause to be served upon such purchaser or purchasers, or intending purchaser or purchasers, a notice in writing, which shall contain the name of the mine, mines, mining claim, claims or premises, the name of the person, copartnership, association or corporation claiming or asserting ownership or right to the possession or enjoyment thereof, the name or names of the person, copartnership, association or corporation in possession of and mining, shipping and selling ore therefrom, and warning such purchaser or purchasers, or intending purchaser or purchasers, that he, they or it will be held liable and responsible for all ore or ores by him, them, or it purchased and delivered or to be purchased and delivered from such mine, mines, mining claim, claims or premises by such person, copartnership, association or corporation, or his, their or its heirs, assigns or agents subsequent to the service of such notice. Within thirty days from and after the service of such notice, the person, copartnership, association or corporation serving or causing to be served the same, shall institute an action to enforce his, their or its title in some court of competent jurisdiction against the person, copartnership, association or corporation in possession of and mining and shipping ore from such mine, mines, mining claim, claims or premises, and to enjoin him, them or it from the mining or shipment and sale of ores taken therefrom, pending such action, and at once notify such purchaser or purchasers or intending purchaser or purchasers of such ore or ores of the pendency of such action; provided, that if the notice hereinabove required shall be served after an action shall have been instituted, it shall not be necessary to commence another under the provisions hereof.

2490. Claimant serving notice and not bringing suit liable for double damages.

SEC. 4. If any person, copartnership, association or corporation claiming title to or right of possession of such mine, mines, mining claim, claims or premises, not having before then brought action, shall serve a notice upon any purchaser or purchasers or intending purchaser or purchasers of ore or ores, as provided in section 3 of this act, and shall fail or neglect to institute an action as herein required, such notice shall be deemed to have been waived, and the party or parties serving such notice shall be liable to the parties injured thereby in double damages including costs and reasonable attorney fees, and such purchaser or purchasers or intending purchaser or purchasers shall not be bound by anything therein contained.

2491. Purchaser responsible to real owner.

SEC. 5. Any purchaser of ore or ores, who or which shall have received the notice herein provided for, and followed or preceded by the commencement of an action, as herein set forth, [who] shall purchase or continue to purchase and receive ores taken from the mine, mines, mining claim, claims or premises named therein, shall be liable and responsible for the value thereof to the person, copartnership, association or corporation who or which shall be ultimately adjudged or decreed to be the owner or entitled to the possession thereof.

An Act to protect the rights of owners of stock shares and other interests in the mineral and metal-yielding mines of this state.

Approved February 21, 1877, 80

2492. Provision for inspection of mines by stockholders.

SECTION 1. Any person who shall be the bona fide owner of stock shares representing the value of one-fifth of one per cent of the original capital stock of any company incorporated for the purpose of working upon and mining in any lode, ledge, deposit, or bed of the precious metals, or useful minerals, in this state, and any number of persons who shall be bona fide owners of an aggregate number of mining shares, amounting in value to one-fifth of one per cent of said capital stock, at the time application for a permit to examine any such mine shall be made, such owner or owners of mining stock shall, upon a written order from the county clerk, or from the justice of the peace of the county in which such lode, ledge, deposit, or bed is located, be entitled to the privilege of fully examining all of the shafts, adits, borings, drifts, stopes, hoisting apparatus, and every and all properties and appurtenances belonging to any such mining company; provided, that not more than one owner of said percentage or aggregate percentages of such mining stock shall either in person, or by an accredited agent, be entitled to such written order for examination of any specified mine or mining property, oftener than twice in one month; these days shall, however, not be more than fourteen, nor less than fifteen days apart. It shall be the duty of the superintendent or other person or parties in charge of any incorporated mining claim, or mining property in this state, to keep posted in some conspicuous place at or near the mine, the day of the week in which authorized stockholders may be admitted under the provisions of this act. As amended, Stats. 1879, 57.

2493. Registration—Applicant for privileges—Oath—Fee.

SEC. 2. The county clerk, or justice of the peace, in each of the counties of this state, shall keep in his office a suitable book of registration, in which he shall enter the names of all persons who shall be entitled to the privileges granted by this act; and the county clerks or justices of the peace of the several counties in this state are hereby authorized to administer an oath or affirmation to each and every application for said privileges; and for administering such oath or affirmation, and for registering the name of the applicant, the clerk or justice of the peace shall receive a fee of one dollar, to be paid by the applicant at the time of registration.

2494. Stock certificate to be presented—Oath of applicant.

SEC. 3. Upon making application as provided in section 2 of this act, for the privilege of entering and examining any of the mining properties mentioned in section 1 of this act, the applicant shall present to the county clerk or justice of the peace, certificates of stock shares representing in value one-fifth of one per cent of the original capital stock of the company whose mine or mining property he or she desires to examine. Thereupon the applicant shall make oath or affirmation that the said stock certificate or stock certificates presented by him or her are actually his or her own property, or that such certificates of stock at the time of presentation really belong to the party or parties whom he or she is, under the provisions of section 1 of said act, authorized to represent. As amended, Stats. 1879, 57.

2495. Order for admission to mine.

SEC. 4. Immediately upon complying with the provisions of section 3 of this act, it shall be the duty of the county clerk, or justice of the peace, to furnish the applicant with a written order for admission to the mine and mining properties which he or she may desire to examine. As amended, Stats. 1879, 58.

2496. Penalty for refusal.

SEC. 5. Any mining superintendent, or mining foreman, or mining secretary of any incorporated mining company in this state, acting under and for such mining company, who shall fail or refuse to comply with any of the conditions mentioned in section 1 of this act, shall for each and every such failure or refusal be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction, shall be fined in any sum not less than one hundred ($100) dollars, and not exceeding five hundred ($500) dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not less than thirty days and not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

In construing the provisions of this act, it was held that the superintendent cannot be held guilty of a misdemeanor for refusing to permit the qualified stockholders to examine the mine.

Penal statutes must be plainly written, so that every one may know with certainty what acts or omissions constitute the crime. Ex Parte Deidesheimer, 14 Nev. 311.

Notwithstanding that the criminal provision of this act has been annulled by the above decision, it has been thought best to publish the act.

MONEY AND INTEREST

In relation to money of account and interest, sections 2497-2500.

Concerning the payment in money of debts and other obligations, section 2501.

An Act in relation to money of account and interest.

Approved November 28, 1861, 99

2497. Money of account.

SECTION 1. The money of account of this territory shall be the dollar, cent and mill; and all the accounts in the public offices, and other public accounts, and all proceedings in courts, shall be kept and had in conformity to this regulation.

Cited, Hastings v. B. M. Co., 2 Nev. 96.

In an action to recover delinquent taxes, where plaintiff was allowed to introduce in evidence the original assessment roll, notwithstanding there was no dollar mark attached to the figures purporting to indicate the amount of the tax due or assessed, it was held that the fair and reasonable presumption, in the absence of anything to show the contrary, was that the figures disposed in perpendicular columns in the form prescribed by statute, indicated dollars and cents and that the admission of the roll in evidence was not error. State v. Eureka Con. M. Co., 8 Nev. 27, 28.

2498. Accounts not vitiated.

SEC. 2. Nothing contained in the preceding section shall vitiate or affect any account, charge or entry originally made, or any note, bond or other instrument, expressed in any other money of account, but the same shall be reduced to dollars, or parts of dollars, as hereinbefore directed, in any suit thereupon.

2499. Legal interest rate seven per cent.

SEC. 4. When there is no express contract, in writing, fixing a different rate of interest, interest shall be allowed at the rate of seven per cent per annum for all moneys after they become due on any bond bill or promissory note, or other instrument of writing, on any judgment recovered before any court in this state for money lent, for money due on the settlement of accounts from the day on which the balance is ascertained, and from money received to the use of another. As amended, Stats. 1887, 82.

See Cox v. Smith, 1 Nev. 161, under sec. 5 of this act.

The amendment above changes the rate from ten to seven per cent.

Interest exceeding the rate specified in this section cannot be recovered unless the promise to pay it be in writing. Williams v. Glasgow, 1 Nev. 533.

The execution must be authorized by the judgment, and must follow it in every essential particular, not only as to material matters of form, but also as to the amount for which it is rendered. Hastings v. Johnson, 1 Nev. 613.

Only the original claim or demand draws interest after judgment. When an execution is issued directing the collection of interest on the interest included in the judgment, and a sale of property is made to satisfy such excess of interest, the sale is nugatory even against a bona fide purchaser. Idem.

The clerk cannot go behind the judgment to see whether a part or the whole of a judgment is to bear interest, nor what rate of interest, if any, it is to bear. (Per Beatty, J.) Idem.

When a party borrows money and agrees to pay a certain rate of interest until due, the contract is broken when the day of payment is passed, and the note remains unpaid. After breach, in the absence of a continuing contract as to interest, the statute fixes the damages to be recovered. McLane v. Abrams, 2 Nev. 199, 204-207.

By our statute, the rate of interest (or damage for detention) after breach is the same as that fixed by the contract before breach. Idem.

Interest constitutes no part of the original demand; it is simply a statutory allowance for delay. Ash v. Parkinson, 5 Nev. 16.

This section does not allow interest on money due on an open account; and a judgment allowing such interest where there is no special agreement, is so far erroneous. Flannery v. Anderson, 4 Nev. 438, 443.

On actions to recover personal property wrongfully taken, interest from the time of taking may always be given as damages without proof of special damage. Blackie v. Cooney, 8 Nev. 41.

Where an answer admitted an account for goods sold and delivered, it was held that such answer amounted to an ascertainment of the balance of account, and that interest was due from that time upon such balance. Skinker v. Clute, 9 Nev. 343, 345.

If a party claims and is entitled to any interest, it should be inserted in the judgment. Solen v. V. & T. R. R. Co., 15 Nev. 318-320.

Interest is allowable upon the amount of a judgment recovered in an action ex delicto. Idem.

This section means that interest shall be allowed at the legal rate on all moneys after they become due on any judgment recovered in any court in the state. Smith v. D. V. L. S. & L. Co., 21 Nev. 86, 93 (25 P. 448).

Interest, as such, can only be collected where authorized by statute. In an action upon contract, where there has been no settlement and the balance due upon the contract is uncertain and unascertained, interest cannot be collected. Vietti v. Nesbitt, 22 Nev. 390, 399 (41 P. 151).

In an accounting between partners, where it is shown that one of the firm, prior to the dissolution of the partnership, is allowed to take firm property, the other partner is allowed interest upon the value of the property from the date of its appropriation by the other. Folsom v. Marlette, 23 Nev. 460 (49 P. 39).

2500. Any interest rate may be agreed to—Principal only to draw interest after judgment.

SEC. 5. Parties may agree, in writing, for the payment of any rate of interest whatever on money due, or to become due, on any contract. Any judgment rendered on such contract, shall conform thereto, and shall bear the interest agreed upon by the parties, and which shall be specified in the judgment; provided, only the amount of the original claim or demand shall draw interest after judgment.

See sec. 5271.

It is a well-settled rule in courts of equity that a contract for future compound interest will not be enforced. The rule in courts of law is not so well settled in regard to such contracts. Cox v. Smith, 1 Nev. 161.

Our statute does not sanction compound interest. Contracts in regard to compound interest must stand or fall by the established rules of equity and common-law courts.

See, also, citations under sec. 4 of this act.

An Act concerning the payment in money of debts and other obligations.

Approved February 15, 1893, 121

2501. Official bonds and certain obligations payable in legal money.

SECTION 1. On and after the passage of this act, all official bonds and undertakings, and also all obligations of debt, judgments or executions stated in terms of dollars and to be paid in money, shall be payable in either the standard silver or gold coins or other legal money authorized by the Congress of the United States. As amended, Stats. 1895, 13.

NAMES AND EMBLEMS

Changing names of individuals, see secs. 5335-5337.

An Act to protect the Grand Army of the Republic, benevolent, humane, fraternal, charitable or other organizations in the use of their names and emblems, and providing penalties for the violation thereof.

Approved March 15, 1911, 65

2502. Unlawful to use name of incorporated society or association without authority.

SECTION 1. No person, society, association, or corporation shall assume, adopt or use the name of a military, ex-military, patriotic, benevolent, humane, fraternal or charitable organization, incorporated under the laws of this or any other state, or of the United States, or a name so nearly resembling the name of such incorporated organization as to be a colorable imitation thereof, or calculated to deceive persons not members, with respect to such corporation. In all cases where two or more such societies, associations, or corporations claim the right to the same name, or to names substantially similar, as above provided, the organization which was first organized and used the name, and first became incorporated under the laws of the United States or of any state in the Union, shall be entitled in this state to the prior and exclusive use of such name, and the rights of such societies, associations or corporations, and of their individual members shall be fixed and determined accordingly.

See secs. 6716-6717.

2503. Illegal wearing of insignia prohibited.

SEC. 2. No person shall wear or exhibit the badge, button, emblem, decoration, insignia, or charm, or shall assume or use the name of any military, ex-military, patriotic, humane, fraternal or charitable corporation, incorporated under the laws of this or any other state, or of the United States, or shall assume or claim to be a member thereof, or of a military, ex-military, patriotic, benevolent, humane, fraternal or charitable corporation, the name of which shall so nearly resemble the name of any other corporation existing prior to the organization of the corporation or association of which such person may claim to be a member, the name whereof may be calculated to deceive the people with respect to any such prior corporation, unless he shall be authorized under the laws, statutes, rules, regulations and by-laws of such former corporation, to wear such badge, button, emblem, decoration, insignia or charm or to use and assume such name as a member thereof.

2504. Injunction may issue, when.

SEC. 3. Whenever there shall be an actual or threatened violation of the above act, an application may be made to the court or judge having jurisdiction, to issue an injunction upon notice to the defendant of not less than five days, for an injunction so restraining such actual or threatened violation, or if it shall appear to such court or justice that the defendant is in fact using the name of a military, ex-military, patriotic, benevolent, humane, fraternal or charitable corporation, incorporated as aforesaid, or a name so nearly resembling it as to be calculated to deceive the public, or is wearing or exhibiting the badge, insignia or emblem of such corporation without authority thereof, and in violation of the above act, an injunction may be issued by said court or justice enjoining or restraining such actual or threatened violation, without requiring proof that any person has in fact been misled or deceived thereby.

2505. Penalties.

SEC. 4. Any person wilfully violating the provisions of sections 1 and 2 of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than fifty dollars ($50), nor more than five hundred dollars ($500), or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period not to exceed six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Subsection numbers refer to United States Revised Statutes.

2506. Honorably discharged soldiers exempt from certain formalities.

SEC. 2166. Any alien, of the age of twenty-one years and upward, who has enlisted, or may enlist, in the armies of the United States, either the regular or the volunteer forces, and has been, or may be hereafter honorably discharged, shall be admitted to become a citizen of the United States, upon his petition, without any previous declaration of his intention to become such; and he shall not be required to prove more than one year's residence within the United States previous to his application to become such citizen; and the court admitting such alien shall, in addition to such proof of residence and good moral character, as now provided by law, be satisfied by competent proof of such person's having been honorably discharged from the service of the United States.

2507. Aliens of African nativity and descent.

SEC. 2169. The provisions of this title shall apply to aliens being free white persons, and to aliens of African nativity and to persons of African descent. As amended, 1875.

2508. Naturalization to alien enemies prohibited.

SEC. 2171. No alien who is a native citizen or subject, or a denizen of any country, state, or sovereignty with which the United States are at war, at the time of his application, shall be then admitted to become a citizen of the United States; but persons resident within the United States, or the territories thereof, on the eighteenth day of June, in the year one thousand eight hundred and twelve, who had before that day made a declaration, according to law, of their intention to become citizens of the United States, or who were on that day entitled to become citizens without making such declaration, may be admitted to become citizens thereof, notwithstanding they were alien enemies at the time and in the manner prescribed by the laws heretofore passed on that subject; nor shall anything herein contained be taken or construed to interfere with or prevent the apprehension and removal, agreeably to law, of any alien enemy at any time previous to the actual naturalization of such alien.

2509. Alien seamen of merchant vessels.

SEC. 2174. Every seaman, being a foreigner, who declares his intention of becoming a citizen of the United States in any competent court, and shall have served three years on board of a merchant vessel of the United States subsequent to the date of such declaration, may, on his application to any competent court, and the production of his certificate of discharge and good conduct during that time, together with the certificate of his declaration of intention to become a citizen, be admitted a citizen of the United States; and every seaman, being a foreigner, shall, after his declaration of intention to become a citizen of the United States, and after he shall have served such three years, be deemed a citizen of the United States for the purpose of manning and serving on board any merchant vessel of the United States, anything to the contrary in any act of Congress notwithstanding; but such seaman shall, for all purposes of protection as an American citizen, be deemed such, after the filing of his declaration of intention to become such citizen.

2510. Naturalization of Chinese prohibited.

SEC. 14. That hereafter no state court or court of the United States shall admit Chinese to citizenship; and all laws in conflict with this act are hereby repealed. Twenty-Second Statutes at Large, p. 58.

2511. Aliens honorably discharged from service in navy or marine corps.

Any alien of the age of twenty-one years and upward who has enlisted or may enlist in the United States navy or marine corps, and has served or may hereafter serve five consecutive years in the United States navy or one enlistment in the United States marine corps, and has been or may hereafter be honorably discharged, shall be admitted to become a citizen of the United States upon his petition, without any previous declaration of his intention to become such; and the court admitting such alien shall, in addition to proof of good moral character, be satisfied by competent proof of such person's service in and honorable discharge from the United States navy or marine corps. Twenty-Eighth Statutes at Large, p. 124.

An Act to validate certain certificates of naturalization.

Approved June 29, 1906; Stat. 1905-6, Part I, p. 630

2512. Certain defective certificates—How validated.

Naturalization certificates issued after the act approved March third, nineteen hundred and three, entitled "An act to regulate the immigration of aliens into the United States," went into effect, which fail to show that the courts issuing said certificates complied with the requirements of section 39 of said act, but which were otherwise lawfully issued, are hereby declared to be as valid as though said certificates complied with said section; provided, that in all such cases application shall be made for new naturalization certificates, and when the same are granted, upon compliance with the provisions of said act of nineteen hundred and three, they shall relate back to the defective certificates, and citizenship shall be deemed to have been perfected at the date of the defective certificate.

2513. Idem—Illinois.

SEC. 2. All the records relating to naturalization, all declarations of intention to become citizens of the United States, and all certificates of naturalization filed, recorded, or issued prior to the time when this act takes effect in or from the criminal court of Cook County, Illinois, shall for all purposes be deemed to be and to have been made, filed, recorded, or issued by a court with jurisdiction to naturalize aliens, but shall not be by this act further validated or legalized.

2514. Immigration and naturalization bureau.

The designation of the bureau of immigration in the department of commerce and labor is hereby changed to the "Bureau of Immigration and Naturalization," which said bureau, under the direction and control of the secretary of commerce and labor, in addition to the duties now provided by law, shall have charge of all matters concerning the naturalization of aliens. That it shall be the duty of the said bureau to provide, for use at the various immigration stations throughout the United States, books of record, wherein the commissioners of immigration shall cause a registry to be made in the case of each alien arriving in the United States from and after the passage of this act of the name, age, occupation, personal description (including height, complexion, color of hair and eyes), the place of birth, the last residence, the intended place of residence in the United States, and the date of arrival of said alien, and, if entered through a port, the name of the vessel in which he comes. And it shall be the duty of said commissioners of immigration to cause to be granted to such alien a certificate of such registry, with the particulars thereof.

2515. Additional offices, employees.

SEC. 2. The secretary of commerce and labor shall provide the said bureau with such additional furnished offices within the city of Washington, such books of record and facilities, and such additional assistants, clerks, stenographers, typewriters, and other employees as may be necessary for the proper discharge of the duties imposed by this act upon such bureau, fixing the compensation of such additional employees until July first, nineteen hundred and seven, within the appropriations made for that purpose.

2516. Courts having jurisdiction to naturalize.

SEC. 3. Exclusive jurisdiction to naturalize aliens as citizens of the United States is hereby conferred upon the following specified courts:

United States circuit and district courts now existing, or which may hereafter be established by Congress in any state, United States district courts for the Territories of Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Hawaii, and Alaska, the supreme court of the District of Columbia, and the United States courts for the Indian Territory; also all courts of record in any state or territory now existing, or which may hereafter be created, having a seal, a clerk, and jurisdiction in actions at law or equity, or law and equity, in which the amount in controversy is unlimited.

The naturalization jurisdiction of all courts herein specified, state, territorial, and federal, shall extend only to aliens resident within the respective judicial districts of such courts.

The courts herein specified shall, upon the requisition of the clerks of such courts, be furnished from time to time by the bureau of immigration and naturalization with such blank forms as may be required in the naturalization of aliens, and all certificates of naturalization shall be consecutively numbered and printed on safety paper furnished by said bureau.

2517. Procedure.

SEC. 4. An alien may be admitted to become a citizen of the United States in the following manner and not otherwise:

First—He shall declare on oath before the clerk of any court authorized by this act to naturalize aliens, or his authorized deputy, in the district in which such alien resides, two years at least prior to his admission, and after he has reached the age of eighteen years, that it is bona fide his intention to become a citizen of the United States, and to renounce forever all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince, potentate, state, or sovereignty, and particularly, by name, to the prince, potentate, state or sovereignty of which the alien may be at the time a citizen or subject. And such declaration shall set forth the name, age, occupation, personal description, place of birth, last foreign residence and allegiance, the date of arrival, the name of the vessel, if any, in which he came to the United States, and the present place of residence in the United States of said alien; provided, however, that no alien who, in conformity with the law in force at the date of his declaration, has declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States shall be required to renew such declaration.

Second—Not less than two years nor more than seven years after he has made such declaration of intention he shall make and file, in duplicate, a petition in writing, signed by the applicant in his own handwriting and duly verified, in which petition such applicant shall state his full name, his place of residence (by street and number, if possible), his occupation, and, if possible, the date and place of his birth; the place from which he emigrated, and the date and place of his arrival in the United States, and, if he entered through a port, the name of the vessel on which he arrived; the time when and the place and name of the court where he declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States; if he is married he shall state the name of his wife and, if possible, the country of her nativity and her place of residence at the time of filing his petition; and if he has children, the name, date, and place of birth and place of residence of each child living at the time of the filing of his petition; provided, that if he has filed his declaration before the passage of this act he shall not be required to sign the petition in his own handwriting.

Provided further, that any person belonging to the class of persons authorized and qualified under existing law to become a citizen of the United States who has resided constantly in the United States during a period of five years next preceding May first, nineteen hundred and ten, who, because of misinformation in regard to his citizenship or the requirements of the law governing the naturalization of citizens has labored and acted under the impression that he was or could become a citizen of the United States and has in good faith exercised the rights or duties of a citizen or intended citizen of the United States because of such wrongful information and belief may, upon making a showing of such facts satisfactory to a court having jurisdiction to issue papers of naturalization to an alien, and the court in its judgment believes that such person has been for a period of more than five years entitled upon proper proceedings to be naturalized as a citizen of the United States, receive from the said court a final certificate of naturalization, and said court may issue such certificate without requiring proof of former declaration by or on the part of such person of their intention to become a citizen of the United States, but such applicant for naturalization shall comply in all other respects with the law relative to the issuance of final papers of naturalization to aliens.

The petition shall set forth that he is not a disbeliever in or opposed to organized government, or a member of or affiliated with any organization or body of persons teaching disbelief in or opposed to organized government, a polygamist or believer in the practice of polygamy, and that it is his intention to become a citizen of the United States and to renounce absolutely and forever all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince, potentate, state, or sovereignty, and particularly by name to the prince, potentate, state, or sovereignty of which he at the time of filing of his petition may be a citizen or subject, and that it is his intention to reside permanently within the United States, and whether or not he has been denied admission as a citizen of the United States, and, if denied, the ground or grounds of such denial, the court or courts in which such decision was rendered, and that the cause for such denial has since been cured or removed, and every fact material to his naturalization and required to be proved upon the final hearing of his application.

The petition shall also be verified by the affidavits of at least two credible witnesses, who are citizens of the United States, and who shall state in their affidavits that they have personally known the applicant to be a resident of the United States for a period of at least five years continuously, and of the state, territory, or district in which the application is made for a period of at least one year immediately preceding the date of the filing of his petition, and that they each have personal knowledge that the petitioner is a person of good moral character, and that he is in every way qualified, in their opinion, to be admitted as a citizen of the United States.

At the time of filing his petition there shall be filed with the clerk of the court a certificate from the department of commerce and labor, if the petitioner arrives in the United States after the passage of this act, stating the date, place, and manner of his arrival in the United States, and the declaration of intention of such petitioner, which certificate and declaration shall be attached to and made a part of said petition. As amended, Stats. A. L. 1909-10, p. 831.

Third—He shall, before he is admitted to citizenship, declare on oath in open court that he will support the constitution of the United States, and that he absolutely and entirely renounces and abjures all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince, potentate, state, or sovereignty, and particularly by name to the prince, potentate, state, or sovereignty of which he was before a citizen or subject; that he will support and defend the constitution and laws of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic, and bear true faith and allegiance to the same.

Fourth—It shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the court admitting any alien to citizenship that immediately preceding the date of his application he has resided continuously within the United States five years at least, and within the state or territory where such court is at the time held one year at least, and that during that time he has behaved as a man of good moral character, attached to the principles of the constitution of the United States, and well disposed to the good order and happiness of the same. In addition to the oath of the applicant, the testimony of at least two witnesses, citizens of the United States, as to the facts of residence, moral character, and attachment to the principles of the constitution shall be required, and the name, place of residence, and occupation of each witness shall be set forth in the record.

Fifth—In case the alien applying to be admitted to citizenship has borne any hereditary title, or has been of any of the orders of nobility in the kingdom or state from which he came, he shall, in addition to the above requisites, make an express renunciation of his title or order of nobility in the court to which his application is made, and his renunciation shall be recorded in the court.

Sixth—When any alien who has declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States dies before he is actually naturalized the widow and minor children of such alien may, by complying with the other provisions of this act, be naturalized without making any declaration of intention.

2518. Idem—Clerk to post notice of proceedings.

SEC. 5. The clerk of the court shall, immediately after filing the petition, give notice thereof by posting in a public and conspicuous place in his office, or in the building in which his office is situated, under an appropriate heading, the name, nativity, and residence of the alien, the date and place of his arrival in the United States, and the date, as nearly as may be, for the final hearing of his petition, and the names of the witnesses whom the applicant expects to summon in his behalf; and the clerk shall, if the applicant requests it, issue a subpoena for the witnesses so named by the said applicant to appear upon the day set for the final hearing, but in case such witnesses cannot be produced upon the final hearing other witnesses may be summoned.

2519. Petitions, when may be filed—Unlawful to naturalize within thirty days of election.

SEC. 6. Petitions for naturalization may be made and filed during term time or vacation of the court and shall be docketed the same day as filed, but final action thereon shall be had only on stated days, to be fixed by rule of the court, and in no case shall final action be had upon a petition until at least ninety days have elapsed after filing and posting the notice of such petition; provided, that no person shall be naturalized nor shall any certificate of naturalization be issued by any court within thirty days preceding the holding of any general election within its territorial jurisdiction. It shall be lawful, at the time and as a part of the naturalization of any alien, for the court, in its discretion, upon the petition of such alien; to make a decree changing the name of said alien, and his certificate of naturalization shall be issued to him in accordance therewith.

2520. Anarchists and polygamists disqualified.

SEC. 7. No person who disbelieves in or who is opposed to organized government, or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining and teaching such disbelief in or opposition to organized government, or who advocates or teaches the duty, necessity, or propriety of the unlawful assaulting or killing of any officer or officers, either of specific individuals or of officers generally, of the government of the United States, or of any other organized government, because of his or their official character, or who is a polygamist, shall be naturalized or be made a citizen of the United States.

2521. Must speak English—Exceptions.

SEC. 8. No alien shall hereafter be naturalized or admitted as a citizen of the United States who cannot speak the English language; provided, that this requirement shall not apply to aliens who are physically unable to comply therewith, if they are otherwise qualified to become citizens of the United States; and provided further, that the requirements of this section shall not apply to any alien who has prior to the passage of this act declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States in conformity with the law in force at the date of making such declaration; provided further, that the requirements of section 8 shall not apply to aliens who shall hereafter declare their intention to become citizens and who shall make homestead entries upon the public lands of the United States and comply in all respects with the laws providing for homestead entries on such lands.

2522. Hearings in open court.

SEC. 9. Every final hearing upon such petition shall be had in open court before a judge or judges thereof, and every final order which may be made upon such petition shall be under the hand of the court and entered in full upon a record kept for that purpose, and upon such final hearing of such petition the applicant and witnesses shall be examined under oath before the court and in the presence of the court.

2523. Proof by depositions, when permitted.

SEC. 10. In case the petitioner has not resided in the state, territory, or district for a period of five years continuously and immediately preceding the filing of his petition he may establish by two witnesses, both in his petition and at the hearing, the time of his residence within the state, provided that it has been for more than one year, and the remaining portion of his five years' residence within the United States required by law to be established may be proved by the depositions of two or more witnesses who are citizens of the United States, upon notice to the bureau of immigration and naturalization and the United States attorney for the district in which said witnesses may reside.

2524. Government may oppose petition.

SEC. 11. The United States shall have the right to appear before any court or courts exercising jurisdiction in naturalization proceedings for the purpose of cross-examining the petitioner and the witnesses produced in support of his petition concerning any matter touching or in any way affecting his right to admission to citizenship, and shall have the right to call witnesses, produce evidence, and be heard in opposition to the granting of any petition in naturalization proceedings.

2525. Duties of clerks of courts.

SEC. 12. It is hereby made the duty of the clerk of each and every court exercising jurisdiction in naturalization matters under the provisions of this act to keep and file a duplicate of each declaration of intention made before him and to send to the bureau of immigration and naturalization at Washington, within thirty days after the issuance of a certificate of citizenship, a duplicate of such certificate, and to make and keep on file in his office a stub for each certificate so issued by him, whereon shall be entered a memorandum of all the essential facts set forth in such certificate. It shall also be the duty of the clerk of each of said courts to report to the said bureau, within thirty days after the final hearing and decision of the court, the name of each and every alien who shall be denied naturalization, and to furnish to said bureau duplicates of all petitions within thirty days after the filing of the same, and certified copies of such other proceedings and orders instituted in or issued out of said court affecting or relating to the naturalization of aliens as may be required from time to time by the said bureau. In case any such clerk or officer acting under his direction shall refuse or neglect to comply with any of the foregoing provisions he shall forfeit and pay to the United States the sum of twenty-five dollars in each and every case in which such violation or omission occurs, and the amount of such forfeiture may be recovered by the United States in an action of debt against such clerk.

Clerks of courts having and exercising jurisdiction in naturalization matters shall be responsible for all blank certificates of citizenship received by them from time to time from the bureau of immigration and naturalization, and shall account for the same to the said bureau whenever required so to do by such bureau. No certificate of citizenship received by any such clerk which may be defaced or injured in such manner as to prevent its use as herein provided shall in any case be destroyed, but such certificate shall be returned to the said bureau; and in case any such clerk shall fail to return or properly account for any certificate furnished by the said bureau, as herein provided, he shall be liable to the United States in the sum of fifty dollars, to be recovered in an action of debt, for each and every certificate not properly accounted for or returned.

2526. Fees, disposal of.

SEC. 13. The clerk of each and every court exercising jurisdiction in naturalization cases shall charge, collect, and account for the following fees in each proceeding:

For receiving and filing a declaration of intention and issuing a duplicate thereof, one dollar.

For making, filing, and docketing the petition of an alien for admission as a citizen of the United States and for the final hearing thereon, two dollars; and for entering the final order and the issuance of the certificate of citizenship thereunder, if granted, two dollars.

The clerk of any court collecting such fees is hereby authorized to retain one-half of the fees collected by him in such naturalization proceeding; the remaining one-half of the naturalization fees in each case collected by such clerks, respectively, shall be accounted for in their quarterly accounts, which they are hereby required to render the bureau of immigration and naturalization, and paid over to such bureau within thirty days from the close of each quarter in each and every fiscal year, and the moneys so received shall be paid over to the disbursing clerk of the department of commerce and labor, who shall thereupon deposit them in the treasury of the United States, rendering an account therefor quarterly to the auditor for the state and other departments, and the said disbursing clerk shall be held responsible under his bond for said fees so received.

In addition to the fees herein required, the petitioner shall, upon the filing of his petition to become a citizen of the United States, deposit with and pay to the clerk of the court a sum of money sufficient to cover the expenses of subpoenaing and paying the legal fees of any witnesses for whom he may request a subpoena, and upon the final discharge of such witnesses they shall receive, if they demand the same from the clerk, the customary and usual witness fees from the moneys which the petitioner shall have paid to such clerk for such purpose, and the residue, if any, shall be returned by the clerk to the petitioner; provided, that the clerks of courts exercising jurisdiction in naturalization proceedings shall be permitted to retain one-half of the fees in any fiscal year up to the sum of three thousand dollars, and that all fees received by such clerks in naturalization proceedings in excess of such amount shall be accounted for and paid over to said bureau as in case of other fees to which the United States may be entitled under the provisions of this act. The clerks of the various courts exercising jurisdiction in naturalization proceedings shall pay all additional clerical force that may be required in performing the duties imposed by this act upon the clerks of courts from fees received by such clerks in naturalization proceedings.

And in case the clerk of any court exercising naturalization jurisdiction collects fees in excess of the sum of six thousand dollars in any fiscal year the secretary of commerce and labor may allow salaries, for naturalization purposes only, to pay for clerical assistance, to be selected and employed by that clerk, additional to the clerical force, for which clerks of courts are required by this section to pay from fees received by such clerks in naturalization proceedings, if in the opinion of said secretary the naturalization business of such clerk warrants further additional assistance; provided, that in no event shall the whole amount allowed the clerk of a court and his assistants exceed the one-half of the gross receipts of the office of said clerk from naturalization fees during such fiscal year; provided further, that when, at the close of any fiscal year, the business of such clerk of court indicates in the opinion of the secretary of commerce and labor that the naturalization fees for the succeeding fiscal year will exceed six thousand dollars the secretary of commerce and labor may authorize the continuance of the allowance of salaries for the additional clerical assistance herein provided for and employed on the last day of the fiscal year until such time as the remittances indicate in the opinion of said secretary that the fees for the then current fiscal year will not be sufficient to allow the additional clerical assistance authorized by this act.

Payment for the additional clerical assistance herein authorized shall be in the manner and under such regulations as the secretary of commerce and labor may prescribe. As amended, Stats. A. L. 1909-1910, p. 830.

2527. Declarations and petitions to be bound and numbered.

SEC. 14. The declarations of intention and the petitions for naturalization shall be bound in chronological order in separate volumes, indexed, consecutively numbered, and made part of the records of the court. Each certificate of naturalization issued shall bear upon its face, in a place prepared therefor, the volume number and page number of the petition whereon such certificate was issued, and the volume number and page number of the stub of such certificate.

2528. Proceedings to set aside naturalization.

SEC. 15. It shall be the duty of the United States district attorneys for the respective districts, upon affidavit showing good cause therefor, to institute proceedings in any court having jurisdiction to naturalize aliens in the judicial district in which the naturalized citizen may reside at the time of bringing the suit, for the purpose of setting aside and canceling the certificate of citizenship on the ground of fraud or on the ground that such certificate of citizenship was illegally procured. In any such proceedings the party holding the certificate of citizenship alleged to have been fraudulently or illegally procured shall have sixty days personal notice in which to make answer to the petition of the United States; and if the holder of such certificate be absent from the United States or from the district in which he last had his residence, such notice shall be given by publication in the manner provided for the service of summons by publication or upon absentees by the laws of the state or the place where such suit is brought.

If any alien who shall have secured a certificate of citizenship under the provisions of this act shall, within five years after the issuance of such certificate, return to the country of his nativity, or go to any other foreign country, and take permanent residence therein, it shall be considered prima facie evidence of a lack of intention on the part of such alien to become a permanent citizen of the United States at the time of filing his application for citizenship, and, in the absence of countervailing evidence, it shall be sufficient in the proper proceeding to authorize the cancelation of his certificate of citizenship as fraudulent, and the diplomatic and consular officers of the United States in foreign countries shall from time to time, through the department of state, furnish the department of justice with the names of those within their respective jurisdictions who have such certificates of citizenship and who have taken permanent residence in the country of their nativity, or in any other foreign country, and such statements, duly certified, shall be admissible in evidence in all courts in proceedings to cancel certificates of citizenship.

Whenever any certificate of citizenship shall be set aside or canceled, as herein provided, the court in which such judgment or decree is rendered shall make an order canceling such certificate of citizenship and shall send a certified copy of such order to the bureau of immigration and naturalization; and in case such certificate was not originally issued by the court making such order it shall direct the clerk of the court to transmit a copy of such order and judgment to the court out of which such certificate of citizenship shall have been originally issued. And it shall thereupon be the duty of the clerk of the court receiving such certified copy of the order and judgment of the court to enter the same of record and to cancel such original certificate of citizenship upon the records and to notify the bureau of immigration and naturalization of such cancelation.

The provisions of this section shall apply not only to certificates of citizenship issued under the provisions of this act, but to all certificates of citizenship which may have been issued heretofore by any court exercising jurisdiction in naturalization proceedings under prior laws.

2529. Punishment for issuing false certificates.

SEC. 16. Every person who falsely makes, forges, counterfeits, or causes or procures to be falsely made, forged, or counterfeited, or knowingly aids or assists in falsely making, forging, or counterfeiting any certificate of citizenship, with intent to use the same, or with the intent that the same may be used by some other person or persons, shall be guilty of a felony, and a person convicted of such offense shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than ten years, or by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

2530. Punishment for selling counterfeits.

SEC. 17. Every person who engraves or causes or procures to be engraved, or assists in engraving, any plate in the likeness of any plate designed for the printing of a certificate of citizenship, or who sells any such plate, or who brings into the United States from any foreign place any such plate, except under the direction of the secretary of commerce and labor, or other proper officer, and any person who has in his control, custody, or possession any metallic plate engraved after the similitude of any plate from which any such certificate has been printed, with intent to use such plate or suffer the same to be used in forging or counterfeiting any such certificate or any part thereof; and every person who prints, photographs, or in any other manner causes to be printed, photographed, made or executed, any print or impression in the likeness of any such certificate, or any part thereof, or who sells any such certificate, or brings the same into the United States from any foreign place, except by direction of some proper officer of the United States, or who has in his possession a distinctive paper which has been adopted by the proper officer of the United States for the printing of such certificate, with intent to unlawfully use the same, shall be punished by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars, or by imprisonment at hard labor for not more than ten years, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

2531. Punishment for illegally issuing certificates.

SEC. 18. It is hereby made a felony for any clerk or other person to issue or be a party to the issuance of a certificate of citizenship contrary to the provisions of this act, except upon a final order under the hand of a court having jurisdiction to make such order, and upon conviction thereof such clerk or other person shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than five years and by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, in the discretion of the court.

2532. Punishment for unlawful possession.

SEC. 19. Every person who without lawful excuse is possessed of any blank certificate of citizenship provided by the bureau of immigration and naturalization, with intent unlawfully to use the same, shall be imprisoned at hard labor not more than five years or be fined not more than one thousand dollars.

2533. Punishment for neglect to render accounts.

SEC. 20. Any clerk or other officer of a court having power under this act to naturalize aliens, who wilfully neglects to render true accounts of moneys received by him for naturalization proceedings or who wilfully neglects to pay over any balance of such moneys due to the United States within thirty days after said payment shall become due and demand therefor has been made and refused, shall be deemed guilty of embezzlement of the public moneys, and shall be punishable by imprisonment for not more than five years, or by a fine of not more than five thousand dollars, or both.

2534. Punishment for receiving illegal fees.

SEC. 21. It shall be unlawful for any clerk of any court or his authorized deputy or assistant exercising jurisdiction in naturalization proceedings, to demand, charge, collect, or receive any other or additional fees or moneys in naturalization proceedings save the fees and moneys herein specified; and a violation of any of the provisions of this section or any part thereof is hereby declared to be a misdemeanor and shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than two years, or by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

2535. Punishment for false certification.

SEC. 22. The clerk of any court exercising jurisdiction in naturalization proceedings, or any person acting under authority of this act, who shall knowingly certify that a petitioner, affiant, or witness named in an affidavit, petition, or certificate of citizenship, or other paper or writing required to be executed under the provisions of this act, personally appeared before him and was sworn thereto, or acknowledged the execution thereof or signed the same, when in fact such petitioner, affiant, or witness did not personally appear before him, or was not sworn thereto, or did not execute the same, or did not acknowledge the execution thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment not to exceed five years.

2536. Punishment for other violations—Perjury.

SEC. 23. Any person who knowingly procures naturalization in violation of the provisions of this act shall be fined not more than five thousand dollars, or shall be imprisoned not more than five years, or both, and upon conviction the court in which such conviction is had shall thereupon adjudge and declare the final order admitting such person to citizenship void. Jurisdiction is hereby conferred on the courts having jurisdiction of the trial of such offense to make such adjudication. Any person who knowingly aids, advises, or encourages any person not entitled thereto to apply for or to secure naturalization, or to file the preliminary papers declaring an intent to become a citizen of the United States, or who in any naturalization proceeding knowingly procures or gives false testimony as to any material fact, or who knowingly makes an affidavit false as to any material fact required to be proved in such proceedings, shall be fined not more than five thousand dollars, or imprisoned not more than five years, or both.

2537. Prosecutions must be begun within five years.

SEC. 24. No person shall be prosecuted, tried, or punished for any crime arising under the provisions of this act unless the indictment is found or the information is filed within five years next after the commission of such crime.

2538. Penal provisions of prior laws enforced.

SEC. 25. For the purpose of the prosecution of all crimes and offenses against the naturalization laws of the United States which may have been committed prior to the date when this act shall go into effect, the existing naturalization laws shall remain in full force and effect.

2539. Acts repealed.

SEC. 26. Sections 2165, 2167, 2168, 2173 of the Revised Statutes of the United States of America, and section 39 of chapter 1012 of the Statutes at Large of the United States of America for the year nineteen hundred and three, and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with or repugnant to the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

2540. Forms.

SEC. 27. Substantially the following forms shall be used in the proceedings to which they relate:

TITLE I

Negotiable Instruments in General

ARTICLE I—FORM AND INTERPRETATION

2548. What constitutes negotiability.

SECTION 1. An instrument to be negotiable must conform to the following requirements:

1. It must be in writing and signed by the maker or drawer;
2. Must contain an unconditional promise or order to pay a sum certain in money;
3. Must be payable on demand, or at a fixed or determinable future time;
4. Must be payable to order or to bearer; and,
5. Where the instrument is addressed to a drawee, he must be named or otherwise indicated therein with reasonable certainty.

2549. The sum payable.

SEC. 2. The sum payable is a sum certain within the meaning of this act, although it is to be paid—

1. With interest; or
2. By stated installments; or
3. By stated installments, with a provision that upon default in payment of any installment or of interest the whole shall become due; or
4. With exchange, whether at a fixed rate or at the current rate; or
5. With costs of collection or an attorney's fee, in case payment shall not be made at maturity.

2550. Unconditional order or promise.

SEC. 3. An unqualified order or promise to pay is unconditional within the meaning of this act, though coupled with—

1. An indication of a particular fund out of which reimbursement is to be made, or a particular account to be debited with the amount; or
2. A statement of the transaction which gives rise to the instrument.

But an order or promise to pay out of a particular fund is not unconditional.

2551. Payable at certain future time.

SEC. 4. An instrument is payable at a determinable future time, within the meaning of this act, which is expressed to be payable—

1. At a fixed period after date or sight; or
2. On or before a fixed or determinable future time specified therein; or
3. On or at a fixed period after the occurrence of a specified event, which is certain to happen, though the time of happening be uncertain.

An instrument payable upon a contingency is not negotiable, and the happening of the event does not cure the defect.

2552. Not negotiable, when.

SEC. 5. An instrument which contains an order or promise to do any act in addition to the payment of money is not negotiable. But the negotiable character of an instrument otherwise negotiable is not affected by a provision which—

1. Authorizes the sale of collateral securities in case the instrument be not paid at maturity; or
2. Authorizes a confession of judgment if the instrument be not paid at maturity; or
3. Waives the benefit of any law intended for the advantage or protection of the obligor; or
4. Gives the holder an election to require something to be done in lieu of payment of money.

But nothing in this section shall validate any provision or stipulation otherwise illegal.

2553. Validity not affected by certain things.

SEC. 6. The validity and negotiable character of an instrument are not affected by the fact that—

1. It is not dated; or
2. Does not specify the value given, or that any value has been given therefor; or
3. Does not specify the place where it is drawn or the place where it is payable; or
4. Bears a seal; or
5. Designates a particular kind of current money in which payment is to be made.

But nothing in this section shall alter or repeal any statute requiring in certain cases the nature of the consideration to be stated in the instrument.

2554. Payable on demand, when.

SEC. 7. An instrument is payable on demand:

1. Where it is expressed to be payable on demand, or at sight, or on presentation; or
2. In which no time for payment is expressed.

Where an instrument is issued, accepted, or indorsed when overdue, it is, as regards the person so issuing, accepting, or indorsing it, payable on demand.

2555. Payable to order, when.

SEC. 8. The instrument is payable to order where it is drawn payable to the order of a specified person or to him or his order. It may be drawn payable to the order of—

1. A payee who is not maker, drawer, or drawee; or
2. The drawer or maker; or
3. The drawee; or
4. Two or more payees jointly; or
5. One or some of several payees; or
6. The holder of an office for the time being.

Where the instrument is payable to order the payee must be named or otherwise indicated therein with reasonable certainty.

2556. Payable to bearer, when.

SEC. 9. The instrument is payable to bearer—

1. When it is expressed to be so payable; or
2. When it is payable to a person named therein or bearer; or
3. When it is payable to the order of a fictitious or nonexisting person, and such fact was known to the person making it so payable; or
4. When the name of the payee does not purport to be the name of any person; or
5. When the only or last indorsement is an indorsement in blank.

2557. Any clear terms sufficient.

SEC. 10. The instrument need not follow the language of this act; but any terms are sufficient which clearly indicate an intention to conform to the requirements hereof.

2558. Date.

SEC. 11. Where the instrument or an acceptance of any indorsement thereon is dated, such date is deemed prima facie to be the true date of the making, drawing, acceptance, or indorsement as the case may be.

2559. Not invalid when wrongly dated.

SEC. 12. The instrument is not invalid for the reason only that it is antedated or postdated, provided this is not done for an illegal or fraudulent purpose. The person to whom an instrument so dated is delivered acquires the title thereto as of the date of delivery.

2560. Holder may properly date.

SEC. 13. Where an instrument expressed to be payable at a fixed period after date is issued undated, or where the acceptance of an instrument payable at a fixed period after sight is undated, any holder may insert therein the true date of issue or acceptance, and the instrument shall be payable accordingly. The insertion of a wrong date does not avoid the instrument in the hands of a subsequent holder in due course; but as to him, the date so inserted is to be regarded as the true date.

2561. May fill blanks—Effect.

SEC. 14. Where the instrument is wanting in any material particular, the person in possession thereof has a prima facie authority to complete it by filling up the blanks therein. And a signature on a blank paper delivered by the person making the signature in order that the paper may be converted into a negotiable instrument operates as a prima facie authority to fill it up as such for any amount. In order, however, that any such instrument when completed may be enforced against any person who became a party thereto prior to its completion, it must be filled up strictly in accordance with the authority given and within a reasonable time. But if any such instrument, after completion, is negotiated to a holder in due course, it is valid and effectual for all purposes in his hands, and he may enforce it as if it had been filled up strictly in accordance with the authority given and within a reasonable time.

2562. Incomplete, when not valid contract.

SEC. 15. Where an incomplete instrument has not been delivered it will not, if completed and negotiated, without authority, be a valid contract in the hands of any holder, as against any person whose signature was placed thereon before delivery.

2563. Delivery.

SEC. 16. Every contract on a negotiable instrument is incomplete and revocable until delivery of the instrument for the purpose of giving effect thereto. As between immediate parties, and as regards a remote party other than a holder in due course, the delivery, in order to be effectual, must be made either by or under the authority of the party making, drawing, accepting, or indorsing, as the case may be; and in such case the delivery may be shown to have been conditional, or for a special purpose only, and not for the purpose of transferring the property in the instrument. But where the instrument is in the hands of a holder in due course, a valid delivery thereof by all parties prior to him so as to make them liable to him is conclusively presumed. And where the instrument is no longer in the possession of a party whose signature appears thereon, a valid and intentional delivery by him is presumed until the contrary is proved.

2564. Language ambiguous—How construed.

SEC. 17. Where the language of the instrument is ambiguous or there are omissions therein, the following rules of construction apply:

1. Where the sum payable is expressed in words and also in figures and there is a discrepancy between the two, the sum denoted by the words is the sum payable; but if the words are ambiguous or uncertain, reference may be had to the figures to fix the amount;

2. Where the instrument provides for the payment of interest, without specifying the date from which interest is to run, the interest runs from the date of the instrument, and if the instrument is undated, from the issue thereof;
3. Where the instrument is not dated, it will be considered to be dated as of the time it was issued;
4. Where there is a conflict between the written and printed provisions of the instrument, the written provisions prevail;
5. Where the instrument is so ambiguous that there is doubt whether it is a bill or note, the holder may treat it as either at his election;
6. Where a signature is so placed upon the instrument that it is not clear in what capacity the person making the same intended to sign, he is to be deemed an indorser;
7. Where an instrument containing the words "I promise to pay," is signed by two or more persons, they are deemed to be jointly and severally liable thereon.

2565. Persons liable.

SEC. 18. No person is liable on the instrument whose signature does not appear thereon, except as herein otherwise expressly provided. But one who signs in a trade or assumed name will be liable to the same extent as if he had signed in his own name.

2566. Signature by agent.

SEC. 19. The signature of any party may be made by a duly authorized agent. No particular form of appointment is necessary for this purpose, and the authority of the agent may be established as in other cases of agency.

2567. Idem—Liability.

SEC. 20. Where the instrument contains or a person adds to his signature words indicating that he signs for or on behalf of a principal, or in a representative capacity, he is not liable on the instrument if he was duly authorized; but the mere addition of words describing him as an agent, or as filling a representative character, without disclosing his principal, does not exempt him from personal liability.

2568. Signature by "procuration."

SEC. 21. A signature by "procuration" operates as notice that the agent has but a limited authority to sign, and the principal is bound only in case the agent in so signing acted within the actual limits of his authority.

2569. Corporation or infant—Liability.

SEC. 22. The indorsement or assignment of the instrument by a corporation or by an infant passes the property therein, notwithstanding that from want of capacity the corporation or infant may incur no liability thereon.

2570. Forged or unauthorized signature.

SEC. 23. When a signature is forged or made without the authority of the person whose signature it purports to be, it is wholly inoperative, and no right to retain the instrument, or to give a discharge therefor, or to enforce payment thereof against any party thereto, can be acquired through or under such signature, unless the party, against whom it is sought to enforce such right, is precluded from setting up the forgery or want of authority.

ARTICLE II—CONSIDERATION

2571. Consideration presumed.

SEC. 24. Every negotiable instrument is deemed prima facie to have been issued for a valuable consideration; and every person whose signature appears thereon to have become a party thereto for value.

2572. "Value" defined.

SEC. 25. Value is any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract. An antecedent or preexisting debt constitutes value; and is deemed such whether the instrument is payable on demand or at a future time.

2573. Holder for value.

SEC. 26. Where value has at any time been given for the instrument, the holder is deemed a holder for value in respect to all parties who became such prior to that time.

2574. Idem—Lien.

SEC. 27. Where the holder has a lien on the instrument, arising either from contract or by implication of law, he is deemed a holder for value to the extent of his lien.

2575. Absence of consideration.

SEC. 28. Absence or failure of consideration is matter of defense as against any person not a holder in due course; and partial failure of consideration is a defense pro tanto, whether the failure is an ascertained and liquidated amount or otherwise.

2576. Accommodation party.

SEC. 29. An accommodation party is one who has signed the instrument as maker, drawer, acceptor, or indorser, without receiving value therefor, and for the purpose of lending his name to some other person. Such a person is liable on the instrument to a holder for value, notwithstanding such holder at the time of taking the instrument knew him to be only an accommodation party.

ARTICLE III—NEGOTIATION2577. How negotiated.

SEC. 30. An instrument is negotiated when it is transferred from one person to another in such manner as to constitute the transferee the holder thereof. If payable to bearer it is negotiated by delivery; if payable to order it is negotiated by the indorsement of the holder completed by delivery.

2578. Indorsement.

SEC. 31. The indorsement must be written on the instrument itself or upon a paper attached thereto. The signature of the indorser, without additional words, is a sufficient indorsement.

2579. Idem—Must be of entire instrument.

SEC. 32. The indorsement must be an indorsement of the entire instrument. An indorsement, which purports to transfer to the indorsee a part only of the amount payable, or which purports to transfer the instrument to two or more indorsees severally, does not operate as a negotiation of the instrument. But where the instrument has been paid in part, it may be indorsed as to the residue.

2580. Special or in blank.

SEC. 33. An indorsement may be either special or in blank; and it may also be either restrictive or qualified, or conditional.

2581. Special indorsement.

SEC. 34. A special indorsement specifies the person to whom, or to whose order, the instrument is to be payable; and the indorsement of such indorsee is necessary to the further negotiation of the instrument. An indorsement in blank specifies no indorsee, and an instrument so indorsed is payable to bearer, and may be negotiated by delivery.

2582. Blank indorsement may be converted.

SEC. 35. The holder may convert a blank indorsement into a special indorsement by writing over the signature of the indorser in blank any contract consistent with the character of the indorsement.

2583. Restrictive indorsement.

SEC. 36. An indorsement is restrictive, which either—

1. Prohibits the further negotiation of the instrument; or
2. Constitutes the indorsee the agent of the indorser; or
3. Vests the title in the indorsee in trust for or to the use of some other person.

But the mere absence of words implying power to negotiate does not make an indorsement restrictive.

2584. Idem—Rights conferred.

SEC. 37. A restrictive indorsement confers upon the indorsee the right—

1. To receive payment of the instrument;
2. To bring any action thereon that the indorser could bring;
3. To transfer his rights as such indorsee, where the form of the indorsement authorizes him to do so.

But all subsequent indorsees acquire only the title of the first indorsee under the restrictive indorsement.

2585. Qualified indorsement.

SEC. 38. A qualified indorsement constitutes the indorser a mere assignor of the title to the instrument. It may be made by adding to the indorser's signature the words "without recourse," or any words of similar import. Such an indorsement does not impair the negotiable character of the instrument.

2586. Conditional indorsement, effect.

SEC. 39. Where an indorsement is conditional, a party required to pay the instrument may disregard the condition, and make payment to the indorsee or his transferee, whether the condition has been fulfilled or not. But any person to whom an instrument so indorsed is negotiated, will hold the same, or the proceeds thereof, subject to the rights of the person indorsing conditionally.

2587. Special indorsement, effect.

SEC. 40. Where an instrument, payable to bearer, is indorsed specially, it may nevertheless be further negotiated by delivery; but the person indorsing specially is liable as indorser to only such holders as make title through his indorsement.

2588. When all must indorse.

SEC. 41. Where an instrument is payable to the order of two or more payees or indorsees who are not partners, all must indorse, unless the one indorsing has authority to indorse for the others.

2589. Indorsed to bank officer.

SEC. 42. Where an instrument is drawn or indorsed to a person as "Cashier" or other fiscal officer of a bank or corporation, it is deemed prima facie to be payable to the bank or corporation of which he is such officer, and may be negotiated by either the indorsement of the bank or corporation, or the indorsement of the officer.

2590. Misspelled or wrong name.

SEC. 43. Where the name of a payee or indorsee is wrongly designated or misspelled, he may indorse the instrument as therein described, adding, if he think fit, his proper signature.

2591. In representative capacity.

SEC. 44. Where any person is under obligation to indorse in a representative capacity, he may indorse in such terms as to negative personal liability.

2592. Negotiation presumed before maturity.

SEC. 45. Except where an indorsement bears date after the maturity of the instrument, every negotiation is deemed prima facie to have been effected before the instrument was overdue.

2593. Indorsement presumed at place of instrument.

SEC. 46. Except where the contrary appears, every indorsement is presumed prima facie to have been made at the place where the instrument is dated.

2594. Continues negotiable.

SEC. 47. An instrument negotiable in its origin continues to be negotiable until it has been restrictively indorsed or discharged by payment or otherwise.

2595. May cancel indorsement, when; effect.

SEC. 48. The holder may at any time strike out any indorsement which is not necessary to his title. The indorser whose indorsement is struck out, and all indorsers subsequent to him, are thereby relieved from liability on the instrument.

2596. Instrument payable to order—Transfer without indorsement, effect.

SEC. 49. Where the holder of an instrument payable to his order transfers it for value without indorsing it, the transfer vests in the transferee such title as the transferor had therein, and the transferee acquires, in addition, the right to have the indorsement of the transferor. But for the purpose of determining whether the transferee is a holder in due course, the negotiation takes effect as of the time when the indorsement is actually made.

2597. Instrument reissued, effect.

SEC. 50. Where an instrument is negotiated back to a prior party, such party may, subject to the provisions of this act, reissue and further negotiate the same. But he is not entitled to enforce payment thereof against any intervening party to whom he was personally liable.

ARTICLE IV—RIGHTS OF THE HOLDER2598. Holder may sue.

SEC. 51. The holder of a negotiable instrument may sue thereon in his own name; and payment to him in due course discharges the instrument.

2599. Holder in due course, who.

SEC. 52. A holder in due course is a holder who has taken the instrument under the following conditions:

1. That it is complete and regular upon its face;
2. That he became the holder of it before it was overdue, and without notice that it had been previously dishonored, if such was the fact;
3. That he took it in good faith and for value;
4. That at the time it was negotiated to him he had no notice of any infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating it.

2600. When not holder in due course.

SEC. 53. Where an instrument payable on demand is negotiated an unreasonable length of time after its issue, the holder is not deemed a holder in due course.

2601. Holder in due course—Knowledge of infirmity.

SEC. 54. Where the transferee receives notice of any infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating the same before he has paid the full amount agreed to be paid therefor, he will be deemed a holder in due course only to the extent of the amount theretofore paid by him.

2602. Title defective, when—Fraud.

SEC. 55. The title of a person who negotiates an instrument is defective within the meaning of this act when he obtained the instrument, or any signature thereto, by fraud, duress, or force and fear, or other unlawful means, or for an illegal consideration, or when he negotiates it in breach of faith, or under such circumstances as amount to a fraud.

2603. Notice of infirmity, when deemed.

SEC. 56. To constitute notice of an infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating the same, the person to whom it is negotiated must have had actual knowledge of the infirmity or defect, or knowledge of such facts that his action in taking the instrument amounted to bad faith.

2604. Holder in due course may enforce payment.

SEC. 57. A holder in due course holds the instrument free from any defect of title of prior parties, and free from defenses available to prior parties among themselves, and may enforce payment of the instrument for the full amount thereof against all parties liable thereon.

2605. Defense in hands of other holder.

SEC. 58. In the hands of any holder other than a holder in due course, a negotiable instrument is subject to the same defenses as if it were not negotiable. But a holder who derives his title through a holder in due course, and who is not himself a party to any fraud or illegality affecting the instrument, has all the rights of such former holder in respect of all parties prior to the latter.

2606. Every holder deemed holder in due course—Exception.

SEC. 59. Every holder is deemed prima facie to be a holder in due course; but when it is shown that the title of any person who has negotiated the instrument was defective, the burden is on the holder to prove that he or some person under whom he claims, acquired the title as holder in due course. But the last-mentioned rule does not apply in favor of a party who became bound on the instrument prior to the acquisition of such defective title.

ARTICLE V—LIABILITIES OF PARTIES2607. Liability of maker.

SEC. 60. The maker of a negotiable instrument by making it engages that he will pay it according to its tenor, and admits the existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse.

2608. Drawer admits existence of payee—May limit liability.

SEC. 61. The drawer by drawing this instrument admits the existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse; and engages that on due presentment the instrument will be accepted or paid, or both, according to its tenor, and that if it be dishonored, and the necessary proceedings on dishonor be duly taken, he will pay the amount thereof to the holder, or to the subsequent indorser who may be compelled to pay it. But the drawer may insert in the instrument an express stipulation negating or limiting his own liability to the holder.

2609. What acceptance engages and admits.

SEC. 62. The acceptor by accepting the instrument engages that he will pay it according to the tenor of his acceptance; and admits—

1. The existence of the drawer, the genuineness of his signature, and his capacity and authority to draw the instrument; and
2. The existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse.

2610. What constitutes indorser.

SEC. 63. A person placing his signature upon an instrument otherwise than as maker, drawer or acceptor, is deemed to be an indorser, unless he clearly indicates by appropriate words his intention to be bound in some other capacity.

2611. Signature in blank—Liable as indorser.

SEC. 64. Where a person, not otherwise a party to an instrument, places thereon his signature in blank before delivery, he is liable as indorser, in accordance with the following rules:

1. If the instrument is payable to the order of a third person, he is liable to the payee and to all subsequent parties.
2. If the instrument is payable to the order of the maker or drawer, or is payable to bearer, he is liable to all parties subsequent to the maker or drawer.
3. If he signs for the accommodation of the payee, he is liable to all parties subsequent to the payee.

2612. What negotiator warrants.

SEC. 65. Every person negotiating an instrument by delivery or by a qualified indorsement, warrants—

1. That the instrument is genuine and in all respects what it purports to be;
2. That he has a good title to it;
3. That all prior parties had capacity to contract;
4. That he has no knowledge of any fact which would impair the validity of the instrument or render it valueless.

But when the negotiation is by delivery only, the warranty extends in favor of no holder other than the immediate transferee.

The provisions of subdivision 3 of this section do not apply to persons negotiating public or corporation securities, other than bills and notes.

2613. What indorsement without qualification warrants.

SEC. 66. Every indorser who indorses without qualification, warrants to all subsequent holders in due course—

1. The matters and things mentioned in subdivisions 1, 2, and 3, of the next preceding section; and
2. That the instrument is at the time of his indorsement valid and subsisting.

And, in addition, he engages that on due presentment, it shall be accepted or paid, or both, as the case may be, according to its tenor, and that if it be dishonored and the necessary proceedings on dishonor be duly taken, he will pay the amount thereof to the holder, or to any subsequent indorser who may be compelled to pay it.

2614. Indorser, liabilities.

SEC. 67. Where a person places his indorsement on an instrument negotiable by delivery he incurs all the liabilities of an indorser.

2615. Indorsers liable in sequence—Exception—Joint and several liability.

SEC. 68. As respects one another, indorsers are liable prima facie in the order in which they indorse; but evidence is admissible to show that as between or among themselves they have agreed otherwise. Joint payees or joint indorsees who indorse are deemed to indorse jointly and severally.

2616. Broker or agent, when liable.

SEC. 69. Where a broker or other agent negotiates an instrument without indorsement, he incurs all the liabilities prescribed by section 65 of this act, unless he discloses the name of his principal, and the fact that he is acting only as agent.

ARTICLE VI—PRESENTMENT FOR PAYMENT

2617. Presentment, when necessary.

SEC. 70. Presentment for payment is not necessary in order to charge the person primarily liable on the instrument; but if the instrument is, by its terms, payable at a special place, and he is able and willing to pay it there at maturity, such ability and willingness are equivalent to a tender of payment upon his part. But except as herein otherwise provided, presentment for payment is necessary in order to charge the drawer and indorsers.

2618. When must be made.

SEC. 71. Where the instrument is not payable on demand, presentment must be made on the day it falls due. Where it is payable on demand, presentment must be made within a reasonable time after its issue, except that in the case of a bill of exchange, presentment for payment will be sufficient if made within a reasonable time after the last negotiation thereof.

2619. When sufficient.

SEC. 72. Presentment for payment, to be sufficient, must be made—

1. By the holder, or by some person authorized to receive payment on his behalf;
2. At a reasonable hour on a business day;
3. At a proper place as herein defined;
4. To the person primarily liable on the instrument, or if he is absent or inaccessible, to any person found at the place where the presentment is made.

2620. How made.

SEC. 73. Presentment for payment is made at the proper place—

1. Where a place of payment is specified in the instrument and it is there presented;
2. Where no place of payment is specified, but the address of the person to make payment is given in the instrument and it is there presented;
3. Where no place of payment is specified and no address is given and the instrument is presented at the usual place of business or residence of the person to make payment;
4. In any other case if presented to the person to make payment wherever he can be found, or if presented at his last known place of business or residence.

2621. Instrument exhibited and delivered.

SEC. 74. The instrument must be exhibited to the person from whom payment is demanded, and when it is paid must be delivered up to the party paying it.

2622. During business hours.

SEC. 75. Where the instrument is payable at a bank, presentment for payment must be made during banking hours, unless the person to make payment has no funds there to meet it at any time during the day, in which case presentment at any hour before the bank is closed on that day is sufficient.

2623. When person liable is dead.

SEC. 76. Where the person primarily liable on the instrument is dead, and no place of payment is specified, presentment for payment must be made to his personal representative if such there be, and if, with the exercise of reasonable diligence, he can be found.

2624. When partners liable.

SEC. 77. Where the persons primarily liable on the instrument are liable as partners, and no place of payment is specified, presentment for payment may be made to any one of them, even though there has been a dissolution of the firm.

2625. When not partners.

SEC. 78. Where there are several persons, not partners, primarily liable on the instrument, and no place of payment is specified, presentment must be made to them all.

2626. Not required. when.

SEC. 79. Presentment for payment is not required in order to charge the drawer where he has no right to expect or require that the drawee or acceptor will pay the instrument.

2627. Idem.

SEC. 80. Presentment for payment is not required in order to charge an indorser where the instrument was made or accepted for his accommodation and he has no reason to expect that the instrument will be paid if presented.

2628. Made with reasonable diligence.

SEC. 81. Delay in making presentment for payment is excused when the delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder, and not imputable to his default, misconduct, or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, presentment must be made with reasonable diligence.

2629. Dispensed with. when.

SEC. 82. Presentment for payment is dispensed with—

1. Where after the exercise of reasonable diligence presentment as required by this act cannot be made;
2. Where the drawee is a fictitious person;
3. By waiver of presentment, express or implied.

2630. When dishonored by nonpayment.

SEC. 83. The instrument is dishonored by nonpayment when—

1. It is duly presented for payment and payment is refused or cannot be obtained; or
2. Presentment is excused and the instrument is overdue and unpaid.

2631. Immediate right of recourse.

SEC. 84. Subject to the provisions of this act, when the instrument is dishonored by nonpayment, an immediate right of recourse to all parties secondarily liable thereon accrues to the holder.

2632. "Maturity" construed.

SEC. 85. Every negotiable instrument is payable at the time fixed therein without grace. When the day of maturity falls upon Sunday, or a holiday, the instrument is payable on the next succeeding business day. Instruments falling due on Saturday are to be presented for payment on the next succeeding business day, except that instruments payable on demand may, at the option of the holder, be presented for payment before twelve o'clock noon on Saturday when that entire day is not a holiday.

2633. Time of payment, how determined.

SEC. 86. Where the instrument is payable at a fixed period after date, after sight, or after the happening of a specified event, the time of payment is determined by excluding the day from which the time is to begin to run, and by including the date of payment.

2634. Equivalent to order to pay.

SEC. 87. Where the instrument is made payable at a bank it is equivalent to an order to the bank to pay the same for the account of the principal debtor thereon.

2635. Payment in due course.

SEC. 88. Payment is made in due course when it is made at or after the maturity of the instrument to the holder thereof in good faith and without notice that his title is defective.

ARTICLE VII—NOTICE OF DISHONOR2636. Notice of dishonor.

SEC. 89. Except as herein otherwise provided, when a negotiable instrument has been dishonored by nonacceptance or nonpayment, notice of dishonor must be given to the drawer and to each indorser, and any drawer or indorser to whom such notice is not given is discharged.

2637. How given.

SEC. 90. The notice may be given by or on behalf of the holder, or by or on behalf of any party to the instrument who might be compelled to pay it to the holder, and who, upon taking it up, would have a right to reimbursement from the party to whom the notice is given.

2638. Idem.

SEC. 91. Notice of dishonor may be given by an agent either in his own name or in the name of any party entitled to give notice, whether that party be his principal or not.

2639. Notice for benefit of all parties.

SEC. 92. Where notice is given by or on behalf of the holder, it enures for the benefit of all subsequent holders and all prior parties who have a right of recourse against the party to whom it is given.

2640. Idem.

SEC. 93. Where notice is given by or on behalf of a party entitled to give notice, it enures for the benefit of the holder and all parties subsequent to the party to whom notice is given.

2641. Notice of dishonor by agent.

SEC. 94. Where the instrument has been dishonored in the hands of an agent, he may either himself give notice to the parties liable thereon, or he may give notice to his principal. If he give notice to his principal, he must do so within the same time as if he were the holder, and the principal upon the receipt of such notice has himself the same time for giving notice as if the agent had been an independent holder.

2642. Notice need not be signed—Misdescription.

SEC. 95. A written notice need not be signed, and an insufficient written notice may be supplemented and validated by verbal communication. A misdescription of the instrument does not vitiate the notice unless the party to whom the notice is given is in fact misled thereby.

2643. Notice, either written or oral.

SEC. 96. The notice may be in writing or merely oral and may be given in any terms which sufficiently identify the instrument, and indicate that it has been dishonored by nonacceptance or nonpayment. It may in all cases be given by delivering it personally or through the mails.

2644. Notice, to whom given.

SEC. 97. Notice of dishonor may be given either to the party himself or to his agent in that behalf.

2645. When party is dead.

SEC. 98. When any party is dead, and his death is known to the party giving notice, the notice must be given to a personal representative, if there be one, and if with reasonable diligence he can be found. If there be no personal representative, notice may be sent to the last residence or last place of business of the deceased.

2646. When partners.

SEC. 99. Where the parties to be notified are partners, notice to any one partner is notice to the firm even though there has been a dissolution.

2647. Joint parties not partners.

SEC. 100. Notice to joint parties who are not partners must be given to each of them, unless one of them has authority to receive such notice for the others.

2648. Bankrupts or insolvents.

SEC. 101. Where a party has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent, or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, notice may be given either to the party himself or to his trustee or assignee.

2649. Notice, when given.

SEC. 102. Notice may be given as soon as the instrument is dishonored; and unless delay is excused as hereinafter provided, must be given within the times fixed by this act.

2650. Time allowed for giving notice.

SEC. 103. Where the person giving and the person to receive notice reside in the same place, notice must be given within the following times:

1. If given at the place of business of the person to receive notice, it must be given before the close of business hours on the day following.
2. If given at his residence, it must be given before the usual hours of rest on the day following.
3. If sent by mail, it must be deposited in the postoffice in time to reach him in usual course on the day following.

2651. Idem.

SEC. 104. Where the person giving and the person to receive notice reside in different places, the notice must be given within the following times:

1. If sent by mail, it must be deposited in the postoffice in time to go by mail the day following the day of dishonor, or if there be no mail at a convenient hour on that day, by the next mail thereafter.
2. If given otherwise than through the postoffice, then within the time that notice would have been received in due course of mail, if it had been deposited in the postoffice within the time specified in the last subdivision.

2652. Mailing deemed notice.

SEC. 105. Where notice of dishonor is duly addressed and deposited in the postoffice, the sender is deemed to have given due notice, notwithstanding any miscarriage of the mails.

2653. Idem.

SEC. 106. Notice is deemed to have been deposited in the postoffice when deposited in any branch postoffice or in any letter-box under the control of the postoffice department.

2654. Notice to antecedent parties.

SEC. 107. Where a party receives notice of dishonor, he has, after the receipt of such notice, the same time for giving notice to antecedent parties that the holder has after the dishonor.

2655. Notice to address, when given—Rule if otherwise.

SEC. 108. Where a party has added an address to his signature, notice of dishonor must be sent to that address; but if he has not given such address, then the notice must be sent as follows:

1. Either to the postoffice nearest to his place of residence, or to the postoffice where he is accustomed to receive his letters; or
2. If he live in one place, and have his place of business in another, notice may be sent to either place; or
3. If he is sojourning in another place, notice may be sent to the place where he is so sojourning.

But where the notice is actually received by the party within the time specified in this act, it will be sufficient, though not sent in accordance with the requirements of this section.

2656. Notice may be waived.

SEC. 109. Notice of dishonor may be waived, either before the time of giving notice has arrived, or after the omission to give due notice, and the waiver may be expressed or implied.

2657. When waiver binding—Exception.

SEC. 110. Where the waiver is embodied in the instrument itself, it is binding upon all parties; but where it is written above the signature of an indorser, it binds him only.

2658. Waiver of protest.

SEC. 111. A waiver of protest, whether in the case of a foreign bill of exchange or other negotiable instrument, is deemed to be a waiver not only of a formal protest, but also of presentment and notice of dishonor.

2659. Notice dispensed with, when.

SEC. 112. Notice of dishonor is dispensed with when, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, it cannot be given to or does not reach the parties sought to be charged.

2660. Delay excused, when.

SEC. 113. Delay in giving notice of dishonor is excused when the delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder, and not imputable to his default, misconduct, or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, notice must be given with reasonable diligence.

2661. Notice to drawer not required, when.

SEC. 114. Notice of dishonor is not required to be given to the drawer in either of the following cases:

1. Where the drawer and drawee are the same person;
2. When the drawee is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract;

3. When the drawer is the person to whom the instrument is presented for payment;
4. Where the drawer has no right to expect or require that the drawee or acceptor will honor the instrument;
5. Where the drawer has countermanded payment.

2662. Idem—Indorser.

SEC. 115. Notice of dishonor is not required to be given to an indorser in either of the following cases:

1. Where the drawee is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract, and the indorser was aware of the fact at the time he indorsed the instrument;
2. Where the indorser is the person to whom the instrument is presented for payment;
3. Where the instrument was made or accepted for his accommodation.

2663. Notice, when unnecessary.

SEC. 116. Where due notice of dishonor by nonacceptance has been given notice of a subsequent dishonor by nonpayment is not necessary, unless in the meantime the instrument has been accepted.

2664. Omission does not prejudice, whom.

SEC. 117. An omission to give notice of dishonor by nonacceptance does not prejudice the rights of a holder in due course subsequent to the omission.

2665. May be protested, when—Protest required in case of foreign bills of exchange.

SEC. 118. Where any negotiable instrument has been dishonored it may be protested for nonacceptance or nonpayment, as the case may be; but protest is not required except in the case of foreign bills of exchange.

ARTICLE VIII—DISCHARGE OF NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS

2666. Instrument, how discharged.

SEC. 119. A negotiable instrument is discharged:

1. By payment in due course by or on behalf of the principal debtor;
2. By payment in due course by the party accommodated, where the instrument is made or accepted for accommodation;
3. By the intentional cancelation thereof by the holder;
4. By any other act which will discharge a simple contract for the payment of money;
5. When the principal debtor becomes the holder of the instrument at or after maturity in his own right.

2667. Secondary liability discharged, how.

SEC. 120. A person secondarily liable on the instrument is discharged:

1. By any act which discharges the instrument;
2. By the intentional cancelation of his signature by the holder;
3. By the discharge of a prior party;
4. By a valid tender of payment made by a prior party;
5. By a release of the principal debtor, unless the holder's right of recourse against the party secondarily liable is expressly reserved;
6. By any agreement binding upon the holder to extend the time of payment, or to postpone the holder's right to enforce the instrument, unless made with the assent of the party secondarily liable, or unless the right of recourse against such party is expressly reserved.

2668. Rights of persons secondarily liable.

SEC. 121. Where the instrument is paid by a party secondarily liable thereon, it is not discharged; but the party so paying it is remitted to his former rights as regards all prior parties, and he may strike out his own and all subsequent indorsements, and again negotiate the instrument, except—

1. Where it is payable to the order of a third person, and has been paid by the drawer; and
2. Where it was made or accepted for accommodation, and has been paid by the party accommodated.

2669. Rights renounced, how.

SEC. 122. The holder may expressly renounce his rights against any party to the instrument, before, at or after its maturity. An absolute and unconditional renunciation of his rights against the principal debtor made at or after the maturity of the instrument discharges the instrument. But a renunciation does not affect the rights of a holder in due course without notice. A renunciation must be in writing, unless the instrument is delivered up to the person primarily liable thereon.

2670. Unintentional cancelation inoperative—Burden of proof.

SEC. 123. A cancelation made unintentionally, or under a mistake or without the authority of the holder, is inoperative; but where an instrument or any signature thereon appears to have been canceled the burden of proof lies on the party who alleges that the cancelation was made unintentionally, or under a mistake or without authority.

2671. Material alteration avoids—Exception.

SEC. 124. Where a negotiable instrument is materially altered without the assent of all parties liable thereon, it is avoided, except as against a party who has himself made, authorized or assented to the alteration, and subsequent indorsers.

But when an instrument has been materially altered and is in the hands of a holder in due course, not a party to the alteration, he may enforce payment thereof according to the original tenor.

2672. "Material alteration" defined.

SEC. 125. Any alteration which changes—

1. The date;
2. The sum payable, either for principal or interest;
3. The time or place of payment;
4. The number or the relations of the parties;
5. The medium or currency in which payment is to be made;

Or which adds a place of payment where no place of payment is specified, or any other change or addition which alters the effect of the instrument in any respect, is a material alteration.

TITLE II

Bills of Exchange

ARTICLE I—FORM AND INTERPRETATION

2673. Bill of exchange defined.

SEC. 126. A bill of exchange is an unconditional order in writing addressed by one person to another, signed by the person giving it, requiring the person to whom it is addressed to pay on demand or at a fixed or determinable future time a sum certain in money to order or to bearer.

2674. Does not operate as assignment.

SEC. 127. A bill of itself does not operate as an assignment of the funds in the hands of the drawee available for the payment thereof, and the drawee is not liable on the bill unless and until he accepts the same.

2675. Two or more drawees.

SEC. 128. A bill may be addressed to two or more drawees jointly, whether they are partners or not; but not to two or more drawees in the alternative or in succession.

2676. Inland bill defined.

SEC. 129. An inland bill of exchange is a bill which is, or on its face purports to be, both drawn and payable within this state. Any other bill is a foreign bill. Unless the contrary appears on the face of the bill, the holder may treat it as an inland bill.

2677. Either bill of exchange or note, when may be so treated.

SEC. 130. Where in a bill drawer and drawee are the same person, or where the drawee is a fictitious person, or a person not having capacity to contract, the holder may treat the instrument, at his option, either as a bill of exchange or a promissory note.

2678. Referee in case of need.

SEC. 131. The drawer of a bill and any indorser may insert thereon the name of a person to whom the holder may resort in case of need, that is to say, in case the bill is dishonored by nonacceptance or nonpayment. Such person is called the referee in case of need. It is in the option of the holder to resort to the referee in case of need or not as he may see fit.

ARTICLE II—ACCEPTANCE2679. Acceptance must be in writing.

SEC. 132. The acceptance of a bill is the signification by the drawee of his assent to the order of the drawer. The acceptance must be in writing and signed by the drawee. It must not express that the drawee will perform his promise by any other means than the payment of money.

2680. Holder may require—Effect of refusal.

SEC. 133. The holder of a bill presenting the same for acceptance may require that the acceptance be written on the bill, and, if such request is refused, may treat the bill as dishonored.

2681. Acceptance on separate paper does not bind—Exception.

SEC. 134. Where an acceptance is written on a paper other than the bill itself, it does not bind the acceptor except in favor of a person to whom it is shown and who, on the faith thereof, receives the bill for value.

2682. Actual acceptance defined.

SEC. 135. An unconditional promise in writing to accept a bill before it is drawn is deemed an actual acceptance in favor of every person who, upon the faith thereof, receives the bill for value.

2683. Time allowed drawee.

SEC. 136. The drawee is allowed twenty-four hours after presentment, in which to decide whether or not he will accept the bill; but the acceptance, if given, dates as of the day of presentation.

2684. Certain acts constitute acceptance.

SEC. 137. Where a drawee to whom a bill is delivered for acceptance destroys the same, or refuses within twenty-four hours after such delivery, or within such other period as the holder may allow, to return the bill accepted or nonaccepted to the holder, he will be deemed to have accepted the same.

2685. Acceptance, when may be made.

SEC. 138. A bill may be accepted before it has been signed by the drawer, or while otherwise incomplete, or when it is overdue, or after it has been dishonored by a previous refusal to accept, or by nonpayment. But when a bill payable after sight is dishonored by nonacceptance and the drawee subsequently accepts it, the holder, in the absence of any different agreement, is entitled to have the bill accepted as of the date of the first presentment.

2686. Acceptance, general or qualified.

SEC. 139. An acceptance is either general or qualified. A general acceptance assents without qualification to the order of the drawer. A qualified acceptance in express terms varies the effect of the bill as drawn.

2687. General acceptance—Particular place.

SEC. 140. An acceptance to pay at a particular place is a general acceptance, unless it expressly states that the bill is to be paid there only and not elsewhere.

2688. Qualified acceptance.

SEC. 141. An acceptance is qualified, which is—

1. Conditional, that is to say, which makes payment by the acceptor dependent on the fulfilment of a condition therein stated;
2. Partial, that is to say, an acceptance to pay part only of the amount for which the bill is drawn;
3. Local, that is to say, an acceptance to pay only at a particular place;
4. Qualified as to time;
5. The acceptance of some one or more of the drawees, but not of all.

2689. Holder may refuse qualified acceptance—Effect of qualified acceptance.

SEC. 142. The holder may refuse to take a qualified acceptance, and if he does not obtain an unqualified acceptance, he may treat the bill as dishonored by nonacceptance. Where a qualified acceptance is taken, the drawer and indorsers are discharged from liability on the bill, unless they have expressly or impliedly authorized the holder to take a qualified acceptance, or subsequently assent thereto. When the drawer or an indorser receives notice of a qualified acceptance, he must, within a reasonable time, express his dissent to the holder, or he will be deemed to have assented thereto.

ARTICLE III—PRESENTMENT FOR ACCEPTANCE2690. Presentment must be made, when.

SEC. 143. Presentment for acceptance must be made—

1. Where the bill is payable after sight, or in any other case, where presentment for acceptance is necessary in order to fix the maturity of the instrument; or
2. Where the bill expressly stipulates that it shall be presented for acceptance; or
3. Where the bill is drawn payable elsewhere than at the residence or place of business of the drawee.

In no other case is presentment for acceptance necessary in order to render any party to the bill liable.

2691. Presentment or negotiation within reasonable time.

SEC. 144. Except as herein otherwise provided, the holder of a bill which is required by the next preceding section to be presented for acceptance must either present it for acceptance or negotiate it within a reasonable time. If he fail to do so, the drawer and all indorsers are discharged.

2692. Presentment at reasonable hour.

SEC. 145. Presentment for acceptance must be made by or on behalf of the holder at a reasonable hour, on a business day and before the bill is overdue, to the drawee or some person authorized to accept or refuse acceptance on his behalf; and—

1. Where a bill is addressed to two or more drawees who are not partners, presentment must be made to them all, unless one has authority to accept or refuse acceptance for all, in which case presentment may be made to him only;
2. Where the drawee is dead, presentment may be made to his personal representative.
3. Where the drawee has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, presentment may be made to him or to his trustee or assignee.

2693. When may be presented.

SEC. 146. A bill may be presented for acceptance on any day on which negotiable instruments may be presented for payment under the provisions of sections 72 and 85 of this act. When Saturday is not otherwise a holiday, presentment for acceptance may be made before twelve o'clock, noon, on that day.

2694. Reasonable delay excused.

SEC. 147. Where the holder of a bill drawn payable elsewhere than at the place of business or the residence of the drawee has not time with the exercise of reasonable diligence to present the bill for acceptance before presenting it for payment on the day that it falls due, the delay caused by presenting the bill for acceptance before presenting it for payment is excused, and does not discharge the drawers and indorsers.

2695. When presentment excused.

SEC. 148. Presentment for acceptance is excused, and a bill may be treated as dishonored by nonacceptance in either of the following cases:

1. Where the drawee is dead, or has absconded, or is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract by bill.
2. Where, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, presentment cannot be made.
3. Where, although presentment has been irregular, acceptance has been refused on some other ground.

2696. Dishonored by nonacceptance.

SEC. 149. A bill is dishonored by nonacceptance—

1. When it is duly presented for acceptance, and such an acceptance as is prescribed by this act is refused or cannot be obtained; or
2. When presentment for acceptance is excused, and the bill is not accepted.

2697. Right of recourse lost, when.

SEC. 150. When a bill is duly presented for acceptance and is not accepted within the prescribed time, the person presenting it must treat the bill as dishonored by nonacceptance or he loses the right of recourse against the drawer and indorsers.

2698. Right accrues, when.

SEC. 151. When a bill is dishonored by nonacceptance, an immediate right of recourse against the drawers and indorsers accrues to the holder and no presentment for payment is necessary.

ARTICLE IV—PROTEST

2699. Dishonor of foreign bill—Protest.

SEC. 152. Where a foreign bill appearing on its face to be such is dishonored by nonacceptance, it must be duly protested for nonacceptance, and where such a bill which has not previously been dishonored by nonacceptance is dishonored by nonpayment, it must be duly protested for nonpayment. If it is not so protested, the drawer and indorsers are discharged. Where a bill does not appear on its face to be a foreign bill, protest thereof in case of dishonor is unnecessary.

2700. What protest must specify.

SEC. 153. The protest must be annexed to the bill, or must contain a copy thereof, and must be under the hand and seal of the notary making it, and must specify—

1. The time and place of presentment;
2. The fact that presentment was made and the manner thereof;
3. The cause or reason for protesting the bill;
4. The demand made and the answer given, if any, or the fact that the drawee or acceptor could not be found.

2701. Protest, by whom made.

SEC. 154. Protest may be made by—

1. A notary public; or
2. By any respectable resident of the place where the bill is dishonored, in the presence of two or more credible witnesses.

2702. Protest on day of dishonor.

SEC. 155. When a bill is protested, such protest must be made on the day of its dishonor, unless delay is excused as herein provided. When a bill has been duly noted, the protest may be subsequently extended as of the date of the noting.

2703. Where protested.

SEC. 156. A bill must be protested at the place where it is dishonored, except that when a bill drawn payable at the place of business, or residence of some person other than the drawee, has been dishonored by nonacceptance, it must be protested for nonpayment at the place where it is expressed to be payable, and no further presentment for payment to, or demand on, the drawee is necessary.

2704. Subsequent protest.

SEC. 157. A bill which has been protested for nonacceptance may be subsequently protested for nonpayment.

2705. Bankrupt or insolvent.

SEC. 158. Where the acceptor has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent, or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, before the bill matures, the holder may cause the bill to be protested for better security against the drawer and indorsers.

2706. Protest dispensed with, when.

SEC. 159. Protest is dispensed with by any circumstances which would dispense with notice of dishonor. Delay in noting or protesting is excused when delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder and not imputable to his default, misconduct or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, the bill must be noted or protested with reasonable diligence.

2707. Protest on copy.

SEC. 160. When a bill is lost or destroyed or is wrongly detained from the person entitled to hold it, protest may be made on a copy or written particulars thereof.

ARTICLE V—ACCEPTANCE FOR HONOR2708. Acceptance supra protest.

SEC. 161. Where a bill of exchange has been protested for dishonor by nonacceptance or protested for better security, and is not overdue, any person not being a party already liable thereon may, with the consent of the holder, intervene and accept the bill supra protest for the honor of any party liable thereon, or for the honor of the person for whose account the bill is drawn. The acceptance for honor may be for part only of the sum for which the bill is drawn; and where there has been an acceptance for honor for one party, there may be a further acceptance by a different person for the honor of another party.

2709. Idem—Must be in writing.

SEC. 162. An acceptance for honor supra protest must be in writing, and indicate that it is an acceptance for honor, and must be signed by the acceptor for honor.

2710. Honor of drawer.

SEC. 163. Where an acceptance for honor does not expressly state for whose honor it is made, it is deemed to be an acceptance for the honor of the drawer.

2711. Acceptor for honor liable.

SEC. 164. The acceptor for honor is liable to the holder and to all parties to the bill subsequent to the party for whose honor he has accepted.

2712. Acceptor for honor—Liability.

SEC. 165. The acceptor for honor, by such acceptance engages that he will on due presentment pay the bill according to the terms of his acceptance, provided it shall not have been paid by the drawee, and provided also, that it shall have been duly presented for payment and protested for nonpayment and notice of dishonor given to him.

2713. Idem—Maturity, how calculated.

SEC. 166. Where a bill payable after sight is accepted for honor, its maturity is calculated from the date of the noting for nonacceptance and not from the date of the acceptance for honor.

2714. Protest to precede presentment to acceptor for honor or referee in need.

SEC. 167. Where a dishonored bill has been accepted for honor supra protest or contains a reference in case of need, it must be protested for nonpayment before it is presented for payment to the acceptor for honor or referee in case of need.

2715. Presentment for payment, how made.

SEC. 168. Presentment for payment to the acceptor for honor must be made as follows:

1. If it is to be presented in the place where the protest for nonpayment was made, it must be presented not later than the day following its maturity.
2. If it is to be presented in some other place than the place where it was protested, then it must be forwarded within the time specified in section 104.

2716. Provisions of section 81 apply.

SEC. 169. The provisions of section 81 apply where there is delay in making presentment to the acceptor for honor or referee in case of need.

2717. Dishonored by acceptor—Protest.

SEC. 170. When the bill is dishonored by the acceptor for honor it must be protested for nonpayment by him.

ARTICLE VI—PAYMENT FOR HONOR

2718. Who may pay for honor.

SEC. 171. Where a bill has been protested for nonpayment, any person may intervene and pay it supra protest for the honor of any person liable thereon or for the honor of the person for whose account it was drawn.

2719. Payment for honor must be attested.

SEC. 172. The payment for honor supra protest in order to operate as such and not as a mere voluntary payment must be attested by a notarial act of honor which may be appended to the protest or form an extension to it.

2720. Notarial act founded on declaration of payer.

SEC. 173. The notarial act of honor must be founded on a declaration made by the payer for honor or by his agent in that behalf declaring his intention to pay the bill for honor and for whose honor he pays.

2721. Preference to payers.

SEC. 174. Where two or more persons offer to pay a bill for the honor of different parties, the person whose payment will discharge most parties to the bill is to be given the preference.

2722. Subrogation of payer.

SEC. 175. Where a bill has been paid for honor, all parties subsequent to the party for whose honor it is paid and [are] discharged, but the payer for honor is subrogated for, and succeeds to, both the rights and duties of the holder as regards the party for whose honor he pays and all parties liable to the latter.

2723. Right of recourse, when lost.

SEC. 176. Where the holder of a bill refuses to receive payment supra protest, he loses his right of recourse against any party who would have been discharged by such payment.

2724. Payer entitled to documents.

SEC. 177. The payer for honor, on paying to the holder the amount of the bill and the notarial expenses incidental to its dishonor, is entitled to receive both the bill itself and the protest.

ARTICLE VII—BILLS IN A SET

2725. Bills in a set one bill.

SEC. 178. Where a bill is drawn in a set, each part of the set being numbered and containing a reference to the other parts, the whole of the parts constitutes one bill.

2726. Idem—True owner of bill.

SEC. 179. Where two or more parts of a set are negotiated to different holders in due course, the holder whose title first accrues is as between such holders the true owner of the bill. But nothing in this section affects the rights of a person who in due course accepts or pays the part first presented to him.

2727. Holder by indorsement liable on all parts.

SEC. 180. Where the holder of a set indorses two or more parts to different persons he is liable on every such part, and every indorser subsequent to him is liable on the part he has himself indorsed, as if such parts were separate bills.

2728. Acceptance on one part only.

SEC. 181. The acceptance may be written on any part and it must be written on one part only. If the drawee accepts more than one part, and such accepted parts are negotiated to different holders in due course, he is liable on every such part as if it were a separate bill.

2729. Acceptor liable after payment, when.

SEC. 182. When the acceptor of a bill drawn in a set pays it without requiring the part bearing his acceptance to be delivered up to him, and that part at maturity is outstanding in the hands of a holder in due course, he is liable to the holder thereon.

2730. Whole bill discharged, when.

SEC. 183. Except as herein otherwise provided where any one part of a bill drawn in a set is discharged by payment or otherwise the whole bill is discharged.

TITLE III

Promissory Notes and Checks

ARTICLE I

2731. Negotiable note defined.

SEC. 184. A negotiable promissory note within the meaning of this act is an unconditional promise in writing made by one person to another signed by the maker engaging to pay on demand, or at a fixed or determinable future time, a sum certain in money to order or to bearer. Where a note is drawn to the maker's own order, it is not complete until indorsed by him.

2732. Check is bill of exchange.

SEC. 185. A check is a bill of exchange drawn on a bank payable on demand. Except as herein otherwise provided, the provisions of this act applicable to a bill of exchange payable on demand apply to a check.

2733. Presentation for payment.

SEC. 186. A check must be presented for payment within a reasonable time after its issue or the drawer will be discharged from liability thereon to the extent of the loss caused by the delay.

2734. Certification constitutes acceptance.

SEC. 187. Where a check is certified by the bank on which it is drawn, the certification is equivalent to an acceptance.

2735. Drawer discharged, when.

SEC. 188. Where the holder of a check procures it to be accepted or certified the drawer and all indorsers are discharged from liability thereon.

2736. Check not assignment.

SEC. 189. A check of itself does not operate as an assignment of any part of the funds to the credit of the drawer with the bank, and the bank is not liable to the holder, unless and until it accepts or certifies the check.

TITLE IV
General Provisions

ARTICLE I

2737. Name of act.

SEC. 190. This act shall be known as "The Negotiable Instruments Law."

2738. Terms defined.

SEC. 191. In this act, unless the context otherwise requires:

"Acceptance" means an acceptance completed by delivery or notification.

"Action" includes counter-claim and set-off.

"Bank" includes any person or association of persons carrying on the business of banking, whether incorporated or not.

"Bearer" means the person in possession of a bill or note which is payable to bearer.

"Bill" means bill of exchange, and "note" means negotiable promissory note.

"Delivery" means transfer of possession, actual or constructive, from one person to another.

"Holder" means the payee or indorsee of a bill or note, who is in possession of it, or the bearer thereof.

"Indorsement" means an indorsement completed by delivery.

"Instrument" means negotiable instrument.

"Issue" means the first delivery of the instrument, complete in form, to a person who takes it as a holder.

"Person" includes a body of persons, whether incorporated or not.

"Value" means valuable consideration.

"Written" includes printed, and "writing" includes print.

2739. Idem.

SEC. 192. The person "primarily" liable on an instrument is the person who by the terms of the instrument is absolutely required to pay the same. All other parties are "secondarily" liable.

2740. Idem.

SEC. 193. In determining what is a "reasonable time" or an "unreasonable time," regard is to be had to the nature of the instrument, the usage of trade or business (if any) with respect to such instruments, and the facts of the particular case.

2741. Performance following holiday.

SEC. 194. Where the day, or the last day, for doing any act herein required or permitted to be done falls on Sunday or on a holiday, the act may be done on the next succeeding secular or business day.

2742. Provisions not retroactive.

SEC. 195. The provisions of this act do not apply to negotiable instruments made and delivered prior to the passage hereof.

2743. Other cases provided for.

SEC. 196. In any case not provided for in this act the rules of the law merchant shall govern.

The citations following are based upon a former act (Stats. 1861, 4). They are here given as possibly of use in construing some of the provisions of the foregoing act:

negotiable promissory note, except by the payee or indorsee. Van Doren v. Tjader, 1 Nev. 380, 389.

A guarantor of a promissory note will not be discharged by the failure of the holder

There can be no strict indorsement of a to demand payment and give strict notice of nonpayment. Reasonable notice of the dishonor of the note is all that he is entitled to. Idem.

Contract of guaranty, though made at the time of the principal contract and upon the same consideration, must, nevertheless, be in writing, signed by the party to be charged, and must express the consideration which sustains it. Idem.

When there is anything on the face of a note or bill of exchange showing that the party signing is acting for another, and not himself, parol testimony may be introduced to bind the principal. Gillig v. Lake Bigler Road Co., 2 Nev. 214.

A party can only be bound on a note executed in a firm name who is actually a member of the firm executing the same, or has held himself out as a member so as to give the firm credit on his responsibility. Sargent v. Collins, 3 Nev. 260.

Where a note is made by A to B, and by B indorsed to C, B is a regular indorser and entitled to all rights, and only subject to the liabilities of an indorser, although it may have been agreed in advance of the execution of the note that A was to make, and B to indorse the note, for the benefit of C. Heintzelman v. L'Amoureux, 3 Nev. 377.

There must be two parties to every promissory note: a maker and a payee. If the payee is not in esse, there is no note. Wayman v. Torreyson, 4 Nev. 124.

Note payable to fictitious payee not good. Idem.

Notes of municipal corporation, when binding. Douglass v. Virginia City, 5 Nev. 147.

An order in the form of an inland bill of exchange not upon any particular fund is not, before acceptance, an assignment, and does not create any lien in favor of the holder upon funds of the drawer in the hands of the drawee. Jones v. P. W. L. & F. Co., 13 Nev. 359, 373 (29 A. R. 308).

Consideration of note given by agent when sufficient. Estis v. Simpson, 13 Nev. 472.

Where a surety pays a promissory note, and has the same assigned to him, and commences an action under the note: Held, that he is entitled to maintain an action of implied assumpsit for the amount paid, but he cannot sustain an action upon the note. Frevert v. Henry, 14 Nev. 191.

Where the notes are given in the firm name the legal presumption is, that they were executed for a partnership purpose, and the burden of proof is upon defendants to establish the contrary. Davis v. Cook, 14 Nev. 265.

A pledgee of a negotiable note, as collateral security, is entitled to be protected as a bona fide holder to same extent as one who becomes the absolute owner, and may maintain suit therein in his own name as the real party in interest. The only difference between the rights of such parties is that the absolute owner may recover in full, while the pledgee, if there be equities, is restricted to the extent of his advances. Hayden v. Nicoletti, 18 Nev. 290, 298 (3 P. 473).

A negotiable note, payable to two or more persons jointly, is no evidence that it is owned in partnership; nor is the fact that such note is in the actual possession of one of the payees such evidence. Evidence reviewed: Held, that no partnership or agency existed between the payees of the notes in question. Idem.

Title to a negotiable note, payable to order, passes only by indorsement and delivery. Idem.

A negotiable note, payable to two or more persons jointly, indorsed by only one of the payees, is subject to any equities in favor of the maker, the same as though it had not been indorsed by either. Such a note is payable to all the payees, or to their joint order, and cannot be transferred except by the joint indorsement of all the payees. Idem.

When the powers of a corporation to borrow money and to execute and put into circulation its negotiable paper are only implied and incidental, such powers are not to be likely inferred as existing in its officers, nor are such officers justified in exceeding their instructions from the board of trustees, or those contained in the by-laws. Edwards v. Carson Water Co., 21 Nev. 469 (34 P. 381).

Evidence reviewed, and held that the note in suit does not bind respondent because it was executed without authority, and also because it was executed without any consideration received by respondent. Idem.

When affirmative authority from a board of trustees of a corporation is necessary to authorize its officers to execute its promissory note, the same character of authority is required to enable them to lawfully renew such note. Idem.

Where a note has been regularly endorsed and delivered by the payee to the endorsee, neither the maker of the note nor his creditors can challenge the right of the endorsee to receive payment thereof, upon the grounds that the endorsement was made causa mortis, and that the gift had been subsequently revoked by the recovery of the donor. Only the donor or his legal representatives could make such defense. Hulley v. Chedic, 22 Nev. 128 (58 A. S. 729, 56 P. 783).

In an action to recover on several promissory notes, defendants being liable on all of them, an error in applying a partial payment on a particular note is immaterial. Springer v. Pritchard, 22 Nev. 314 (39 P. 1009).

After reciting facts it was held that in an action on the notes claimed to have been fraudulently obtained, a verdict in favor of defendant was sustained by the evidence on the ground that plaintiff was not an innocent purchaser, without notice of the fraudulent representation. Swinney v. Patterson, 25 Nev. 411 (62 P. 1).

An Act to designate the holidays to be observed in the acceptance and payment of bills of exchange and promissory notes.

Approved October 30, 1861, 1

2744. Holidays designated.

SECTION 1. The following days, namely: The first day of January, Washington's Birthday, or the twenty-second day of February, the fourth day of July, Thanksgiving Day on the proclamation of the governor, the twenty-fifth day of December, commonly called Christmas Day, shall for all purposes whatsoever as regards the presenting for payment, or acceptance, and of the protesting and giving notice of the dishonor of bills of exchange, checks, and promissory notes, made after the passage of this act, be treated and considered as is the first day of the week, usually called Sunday. Three days, commonly called days of grace, shall be allowed, except on sight bills or drafts; and any one of the holidays specified in this act coming within the three days of grace shall be counted as one of such days.

[Section 1 repealed 1879, 45, see secs. 2385-2402.]

2745. Fees to be paid for commission.

SEC. 2. Each notary public, before he enters upon the duties of his office, and at the time he receives his commission, shall pay to the secretary of state the sum of ten dollars for the state library fund, and shall take the official oath as prescribed by law, which oath shall be endorsed on his commission, and shall enter into a bond to the State of Nevada in the sum of two thousand dollars, to be approved by the district judge of the county for which said notary public may be appointed. As amended, Stats. 1865, 408; 1883, 82.

2746. Oath and bond.

SEC. 3. The bond, together with his oath of office, shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county clerk of said county. As amended, Stats. 1911, 361.

2747. Powers and duties relative to commercial paper.

SEC. 4. Notaries public shall have authority to demand acceptance and payment of foreign and domestic bills of exchange, and to protest the same for nonacceptance and nonpayment, and to exercise such other powers and duties as by the laws of nations, and according to commercial usages, or by the law of any state, territory, or country, may be performed by notaries public.

2748. May protest bills of exchange.

SEC. 5. They may also demand acceptance of inland bills of exchange, and payment thereof, and of promissory notes, and may protest the same for nonpayment, or nonacceptance, as the case may require.

2749. Power to take and certify to acknowledgments.

SEC. 6. Each notary public shall have power to take and to certify to the acknowledgment or proof of powers of attorneys, mortgages, deeds, and other instruments of writing, the acknowledgment of any conveyance, or the instrument of writing executed by any married woman, or to give a certificate of such proof or acknowledgment, which certificate shall be indorsed on the said deed or other instrument, or attached thereto.

2750. Depositions and affidavits.

SEC. 7. Each notary public shall also have power and authority to take depositions and to administer oaths and affirmations in all matters incident or belonging to the duties of his office, and to take affidavits to be used before any court, judge, or officer in this territory.

Secs. 7, 8, and 9 cited, State v. Cal. M. Co., 13 Nev. 215.

2751. Record to be kept.

SEC. 8. Each notary public shall keep a correct record of all his official acts, done and performed by him under and by virtue of the authority conferred by sections 4 and 5 of this act.

See secs. 1098-1099.

2752. Record of instruments.

SEC. 9. Each notary public shall also keep a correct record, wherein he shall enter the name or character of any instrument acknowledged or proved before him, as provided in section 6 of this act, together with the date of the same and the parties thereto, as the same appears therein.

2753. Seal to be kept.

SEC. 10. Each notary public shall provide a notarial seal, an impression of which shall be made on his official bond, on which shall be engraved the name of the county for which he is commissioned, and the initials of the territory, the name of the notary, and the words "Notary Public," with which he shall authenticate all his official acts, which seal together with the register and official documents, shall not be liable to be seized on execution.

2754. Certified copy of record.

SEC. 11. Each notary public when required, shall give a certified copy of any record in his office to any person upon payment of the legal fees therefor; and any certificate or instrument, either printed or written, purporting to be the official act of a notary public under his seal and signature, shall be received in any county in this territory as prima facie evidence of the official character of such instrument, and of the truth of the facts therein set forth.

Where parties to a suit agreed that a deposition may be taken at a certain place during a certain month, before T, a notary public in another state, the deposition certified by T, made under his official seal as a notary, may be read by either party without other proof that T was a notary when the deposition was taken. The seal is prima facie evidence of his official character (Johnson, J., dissenting). Sargent v. Collins, 3 Nev. 280, 287, 288.

2755. Protests of notes and bills of exchange—Evidence of same.

SEC. 12. The original protests of a notary public, under his hand and official seal, of any bill of exchange or promissory note, for nonacceptance or nonpayment, stating the presentment by him of such bill of exchange or note for acceptance or payment, and the nonacceptance or nonpayment thereof, and the service of notice on any or all of the parties to such bill of exchange or promissory note, and specifying the mode of giving such notice, and the reputed place of residence of the party to such bill of exchange or promissory note to whom the same was given, and the postoffice nearest thereto, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts contained therein. The certificate of a notary public, drawn from his record, stating the protest and the facts therein contained, shall be evidence of the facts in like manner as the original protest.

See secs. 2665, 2699-2717.

2756. Penalty for neglect of duty.

SEC. 13. For any misconduct or neglect in any of the cases in which any notary public appointed under the authority of this territory, is authorized to act, either by the law of this territory, or of any state, territory, or country, or by the law of nations, or by commercial usage, he shall be liable on his official bond to the parties injured thereby, for all the damages sustained; and for any wilful violation or neglect of duty, any notary public shall be subject to criminal prosecution, and may be punished by fine not exceeding two thousand dollars, and removal from office.

2757. Removal—Records delivered to recorder for successor.

SEC. 14. If any notary public die, resign, be disqualified, or removed from office, or remove from the county for which he is appointed, his records and all his public papers shall, within sixty days, be delivered on demand to the recorder of the county, whose duty it shall be to demand the same within that time, who shall deliver them to the successor of the said notary when qualified.

2758. To deliver records to successor.

SEC. 15. When the term of office of any notary public expires, and his successor is appointed and qualified, he shall deliver his records and public papers to such successor on demand.

2759. Certified copies.

SEC. 16. Any notary public having in his possession the records and papers of his predecessor in office, may grant certificates or give certified copies of such records and papers, in like manner and with the same effect as such predecessor or predecessors could have done.

2760. Fees.

SEC. 17. Each notary public shall receive such fees for his services as may be allowed by law.

For fees of notary, see secs. 2004, 2018.

2761. Act repealed.

SEC. 18. An act concerning notaries public, approved November twenty-ninth, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, is hereby repealed, such repeal to take effect on the first day of March, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, on which day the commissions of the officers appointed under said law shall be revoked, and they shall deliver their records and all their public papers to the recorder of the county for which they may have been appointed.

An Act providing for the appointment of notaries public, fixing their term of office, and enlarging the territory within which they may act.

Approved February 26, 1907. 41

2762. Number unlimited.

SECTION 1. The governor is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint and commission notaries public in and for the several counties in this state, in any number in which applications may be made to him, without limit.

2763. Term of office.

SEC. 2. The term of office of a notary public shall be four years; provided, the governor may at any time, for cause, revoke the commission of a notary public.

2764. Acts legal anywhere in state.

SEC. 3. All notaries public may hereafter take acknowledgments of deeds, administer oaths and perform all other notarial acts and functions at any place within this state. All acts of any notary public hereafter performed anywhere within this state shall be of the same force and validity as if performed within the county for which he was appointed and in which he resides. The notaries heretofore appointed shall continue in office until the expiration of their terms under conditions of the existing law at the time of their appointment.

The act of 1893, 32, providing that the secretary of state shall be ex officio clerk of the supreme court, while sufficient to confer color of authority on the secretary of state acting as ex officio clerk, is without force as an amendment or repeal by implication of a clerk of the supreme court in the same manner as other state officers are elected. State ex rel. Josephs v. Douglass, 33 Nev. — (110 P. 177, 178).

2766. Who eligible—Age qualifications.

SEC. 2. No person who is not a qualified elector shall be eligible to any office of honor, profit, or trust, in and under the government and laws of this state. No person shall be eligible to the office of governor, lieutenant-governor, judge of the supreme court, secretary of state, state treasurer, state controller, attorney-general, surveyor-general, superintendent of public instruction, who, at the time of such election, has not attained the age of twenty-five years, and been a citizen resident of this state for two years next preceding the election; and to the offices of clerk of the supreme court, state senator, or assemblyman, who, at the time of such election, has not attained the age of twenty-one years, and been a citizen resident of this state one year next preceding the election. Any person over the age of twenty-five years shall be eligible to the office of district judge who is a qualified elector of the state and district in which he resides.

2767. Presidential electors.

SEC. 3. In each year when the election of president and vice-president of the United States is to take place, there shall be chosen as many electors of president and vice-president as this state may be entitled to at the time of such election.

2768. Idem—Time and manner of election.

SEC. 4. The qualified voters of the state shall meet at the places designated for holding the general election in the different counties in the state, on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November, in each year when the election of president and vice-president is to take place, unless the Congress of the United States shall appoint a different day, and in that case, on such day as Congress shall appoint, and shall proceed to elect as many persons as the state shall then be entitled to elect as electors of president and vice-president.

2769. Idem—Notice of election, how given.

SEC. 5. Notice of the election of electors shall be given in the same manner as notice is required to be given of other elections, and the election thereof made in the same manner as is prescribed by law in regard to the election of representatives in Congress.

2770. Electors, when and where to convene.

SEC. 6. The electors so chosen shall convene at the seat of government on the first Wednesday in December next after their election, at two o'clock in the afternoon, and in case of the death or absence of any elector so chosen, or in case the number of electors shall, from any cause, be deficient, the electors then present shall forthwith elect, from the qualified electors of the state, so many persons as shall supply the deficiency. As amended, Stats. 1869, 64.

2771. Duties when convened.

SEC. 7. The electors, when convened on said first Wednesday in December, shall vote by ballot for one person for president and one person for vice-president of the United States, one of whom, at least, shall not be an inhabitant of this state. They shall name in their ballots the persons voted for as president, and in distinct ballots the persons voted for as vice-president; and they shall make distinct lists of all persons voted for as president, and of all persons voted for as vice-president, and of the number of votes given for each, which list they shall sign and certify and transmit, sealed up, to the seat of government of the United States, directed to the president of the senate; and they shall, in all respects, proceed conformably to the constitution of the United States, and the laws of the United States in this behalf. As amended, Stats. 1869, 64.

2772. Representatives in Congress.

SEC. 8. At the general election in the year eighteen hundred and sixty-six, and at the general election in each second year thereafter, there shall be elected such number of representatives to the Congress of the United States as the State of Nevada may be entitled to.

2773. State, county and precinct officers.

SEC. 9. The governor, lieutenant-governor, secretary of state, justices of the supreme court, state treasurer, state controller, attorney-general, surveyor-general, clerk of the supreme court, and state superintendent of public instruction, shall be elected by the qualified electors of the state; members of the house of representatives of the United States, district judges, district attorneys, senators, members of the assembly, county commissioners, county school superintendents, sheriffs, county clerks, public administrators, recorders, assessors, county treasurers, and county surveyors, shall be elected by the qualified electors of their respective districts or counties. Justices of the peace and constables shall be elected by the qualified electors of their respective precincts or townships.

2774. State officers, when chosen—Term of office—Residence and office at Carson City—Exception.

SEC. 10. The governor, lieutenant-governor, secretary of state, state controller, state treasurer, attorney-general, and surveyor-general shall be chosen at the general election of the year eighteen hundred and sixty-six, and every fourth year thereafter, and shall hold their office for the term of four years from the time of their installment, and until their successors shall be qualified, and all of said officers, excepting the surveyor-general, shall keep their office and reside at the seat of government.

Lieutenant-governor not required to reside at seat of government, sec. 4249.

2775. Justices of supreme court, when chosen—Chief justice—Oath—Commission.

SEC. 11. One justice of the supreme court shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the state, at the general election of the year eighteen hundred and sixty-six, and one every second year thereafter, and shall hold his office for the term of six years from the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January next after his election. Each justice hereafter elected or appointed shall be commissioned by the governor, and before entering upon the discharge of his duties shall take the constitutional oath of office. The senior justice in commission shall be chief justice and in case the commission of any two or more of said justices shall bear the same date, they shall determine by lot who shall be chief justice.

See Const., sec. 318.

2776. Clerk of supreme court.

SEC. 12. At the general election in the year eighteen hundred and sixty-six, and at the general election every four years thereafter, the clerk of the supreme court shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the state, and shall hold his office for the term of four years from the first Tuesday after the first Monday in January next after his election, and until his successor is qualified.

Under the constitution, the office of clerk of the supreme court cannot be abolished by the legislature. State ex rel. Josephs v. Douglass, 33 Nev. —(110 P. 177, 178).

See ante, 290.

2777. Superintendent of public instruction.

SEC. 13. At the general election in the year eighteen hundred and sixty-six, and at the general election every four years thereafter, the state superintendent of public instruction shall be chosen by the qualified electors of the state, and shall hold his office for the term of four years from the first Monday of January next after the election, and until his successor is qualified.

2778. District judges.

SEC. 14. District judges shall be chosen by the qualified electors of their respective districts, at the general election of the year eighteen hundred and sixty-six, and shall hold their offices for the term of four years from the first Monday of January next after their election.

2779. Assemblymen.

SEC. 15. The members of the assembly shall be chosen by the qualified electors of their respective districts, at the general election of the year eighteen hundred and sixty-six, and shall hold their office for the term of two years from the day succeeding such election.

2780. State senators.

SEC. 16. The senators shall be elected by the electors of their respective districts, at the general election in the year eighteen hundred and sixty-six, and every two years thereafter, and shall hold their offices for four years from the day succeeding such general election.

2781. County officers.

SEC. 17. County clerks, sheriffs, county assessors, county treasurers, district attorneys, county surveyors, county recorders, county school superintendents, county commissioners, and public administrators, shall be chosen by the electors of their respective counties, at the general election in the year eighteen hundred and sixty-six, and at the general election every two years thereafter, and shall enter upon the duties of their respective offices on the first Monday of January subsequent to their election.

2782. Justices of the peace and constables—Counties divided into townships.

SEC. 18. The board of county commissioners of each county shall, from time to time, as the public good may require, divide said county into a convenient number of townships, and shall cause such division to be published. For each of such townships one justice of the peace shall be elected. The constables of the several townships of the state shall be chosen at the general election of the year eighteen hundred and sixty-six, and shall enter upon the duties of their offices on the first Monday of January next succeeding their election, and shall hold their offices for the term of two years thereafter, until their successors are elected and qualified. Justices of the peace of the several townships of the state shall be chosen at a general election, to be held for that purpose, on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November, in the year eighteen hundred and sixty-six, who shall hold their offices from the expiration of the term of the present incumbents until the first Monday of January, A. D. eighteen hundred and sixty-nine, and until their successors are elected and qualified.

Under Const., art. 6, sec. 8 (ante, 323), the legislature alone can determine the number of justices of the peace for each township, and the office must be filled by popular election. State ex rel. Bull v. Snodgrass, 4 Nev. 524, 525.

Although the power may exist in the legislature to provide otherwise than by election for filling the office of justice of the peace in case of emergency or special occasion, such as a vacancy, or the creation of a new office, it cannot delegate the power to determine the number of justices for the townships, nor can it provide that the office is to be filled under general laws otherwise than by popular election. Idem.

2783. New township.

SEC. 19. When any justice of the peace, in the formation of a new township, shall be brought within the limits thereof, he shall be one of the justices of the peace allowed to such new township, and shall continue in office until the expiration of the term for which he was elected.

2784. Justice of the peace in certain townships—Change of boundaries.

SEC. 20. If, by annexing a part of one township to another, there should be more than the proper number of justices within the limits of the townships to which such addition shall have been made, any justice of the peace brought within such township shall, notwithstanding, hold and exercise his office therein until the expiration of his term of office, but no successor shall be elected to fill any vacancy in said office which may be occasioned by the expiration of said term, or otherwise. And whenever any township, in consequence of a part being taken to form a new township, or to be annexed to any other township, shall be deprived of its proper number of justices of the peace, the vacancy thus produced shall be supplied, as in other cases.

2785. New township—Constable.

SEC. 21. When any constable, by the formation of a new township, shall be brought within the limits thereof, he shall continue to act as constable to such new township, and shall continue in office until the expiration of the term for which he was elected.

2786. Oath and bond—Term, when begins.

SEC. 22. Members of the legislature, and all officers, executive, judicial and ministerial, shall, before entering upon the duties of their respective offices, provide the official bond required by law, when such bond shall be required, and take and subscribe to the official oath. All officers elected, except senators and representatives, shall qualify, and execute and deliver their official bonds (when required), as above provided, prior to the Tuesday after the first Monday in January ensuing their election; and all officers appointed to fill vacancies, in the cases provided by law, shall qualify and give bond (when required) within thirty days from the time of their appointment. The term of office of all officers, elected or appointed, shall begin from the time of their qualification, unless some other express provision is made by law.

Form of oath, secs. 370, 2891.

Where an officer on being reelected accepted a commission, and took the oath of office for the new term and presented a bond therefor, which, however, was not approved, and he failed to present a new bond in the time prescribed by law, it was held that he had relinquished all claim to continue to hold over under the former term. State v. Rhoades, 6 Nev. 353, 356.

It was also held that he was an officer de facto and holding as of the new term; and that the sureties on the new bond afterwards filed were estopped from denying that he was holding as of the new term de jure. Idem.

A person discharging the duties of a public office under color of right is an officer de facto and not a mere intruder, and he and his sureties are estopped by the recitals of his official bond from denying that he is entitled to the office. Idem.

A petition for a mandamus to compel the governor to approve or disapprove the bond of an officer required to give bond within thirty days from the time of his appointment, must show that the bond was presented to the governor within the prescribed time. State ex rel. Laughton v. Adams, 19 Nev. 370 (12 P. 488).

2787. Oath indorsed on commission.

SEC. 23. Said oath, except in cases specified in the next two sections, shall be indorsed on the commission or certificate of election of such officer, and signed by him, and certified by the officer before whom such oath or affirmation shall have been taken.

Cited, State ex rel. Guinan v. Meder, 22 Nev. 269 (38 P. 668).

Where a school trustee has in fact taken the oath of office, the failure to indorse such oath on the certificate of his election does not affect his qualification, such requirement being merely directory. State ex rel. Dixon v. Van Patten, 26 Nev. 273, 277 (66 P. 822).

2788. Members of legislature—Oath.

SEC. 24. Members of the legislature shall take and subscribe to the official oath before they assume their seats as such members, and an entry thereof shall be made on the journal of the proper house.

2789. Official oaths of governor and lieutenant-governor, when subscribed.

SEC. 25. The governor and lieutenant-governor shall respectively take and subscribe to the official oath before the chief justice or one of the associate justices of the supreme court, on the first Monday of January next succeeding their election. As amended, Stats. 1881, 22.

2790. Before whom oath taken.

SEC. 26. The oath shall be taken, and, except in the cases prescribed in the two next preceding sections, may be subscribed before any judge of the supreme or district court or clerk thereof, county clerk, notary public, or justice of the peace, unless otherwise directed by law.

2791. Oath taken at the time of reception of commission.

SEC. 27. It shall be the duty of every officer, whose oath of office is required to be indorsed on his commission or certificate of election, to take and subscribe said oath at the time of the reception of said commission or certificate.

2792. Deputies to take oath.

SEC. 28. When any officer is authorized or required by law to appoint a deputy, such deputy, before he shall proceed to act, shall take the same oath as his principal.

2793. Commissions, how issued.

SEC. 29. All commissions of officers shall be in the name and by the authority of the State of Nevada, and shall be sealed with the great seal of the state, signed by the governor, and countersigned by the secretary of state.

2794. Certificate of election and commissions.

SEC. 30. Members of the legislature and all county and precinct officers elected by the people, shall receive certificates of election from the boards of county commissioners of their respective counties, and all state officers shall receive their commissions from the governor.

2795. Election and qualification certified to secretary of state—Vacancies certified—District officers to file duplicate oath—Resignations.

SEC. 31. It shall be the duty of the clerk of the board of county commissioners of each county in this state, within ten days after the election or appointment and qualification of any county officer (authorized by law to take acknowledgments or administer oaths), or justice of the peace, in their county, to certify, under seal, to the secretary of state (stating the election or appointment and qualification of any such officer), which certificate shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state as evidence of the official character of such officers. Said clerk shall, also, within ten days after a vacancy has occurred in any county office, or office of justice of the peace (by resignation or otherwise), certify to the secretary of state the fact of such vacancy. Each district officer, authorized by law to take acknowledgments or administer oaths, shall, within ten days after entering upon the discharge of the duties of his office, file a duplicate certificate of his official oath in the office of the secretary of state, which certificate shall be evidence of the official character of such officer; and all resignations of any officer, required to be made to the governor, shall be by him filed in the office of the secretary of state.

2796. Commission or certificate of office.

SEC. 32. Any officer elected or appointed to fill any vacancy shall be commissioned, or receive a certificate of election or appointment to such office.

An appointment to a public office must be in writing. State ex rel. Guinan v. Meder, 22 Nev. 264, 269 (38 P. 668).

2797. Resignations and vacancies—Special election.

SEC. 33. Any person who shall receive a commission, or a certificate of his election or appointment, shall be at liberty to resign such office, though he may not have entered upon the execution of its duties or taken the requisite oath of office; and when any vacancy shall occur in the office of member of the senate or assembly, by death, resignation, or otherwise, and a session of the legislature is to take place before the next general election, the governor shall issue a writ of election, directed to the board of county commissioners of the county or district in which such vacancy shall occur, commanding such board to notify the several inspectors in their county or district to hold a special election to fill such vacancy or vacancies, at a time appointed by the governor.

Where a vacancy occurs in the office of state senator by reason of the appointment of such officer to a federal position, no proclamation of the governor is necessary to enable the people to legally fill such vacancy, where no session of the legislature is to take place between the date of the occurrence of such vacancy and the next general election. State ex rel. McMillan v. Sadler, 25 Nev. 132, 173 (58 P. 284, 59 P. 546, 63 P. 128).

Independent of statute, an acceptance is not necessary to effect a resignation. State ex rel. Ryan v. Murphy, 30 Nev. 409, 422, 423, 18 L. R. A. (N. S.) 1210, 97 P. 391.

A sheriff, who presented to the board of county commissioners his resignation to take effect on a designated future day, may before such day withdraw it, notwithstanding ing the board's acceptance thereof. (Talbot, C. J., dissenting.) Idem.

A public officer shall not be permitted to vacate an office and assume it again at will, and this he cannot do as a matter of law, independent of any question of public policy. Idem.

2798. Resignations, how made.

SEC. 34. Resignations of office shall be made as follows, to wit: First—The governor and lieutenant-governor shall transmit their resignations to the legislature, if in session, and if not in session, then to the secretary of state. Second—All state officers commissioned by the governor or elected by the legislature (except the officers of that body), shall resign their commissions to the governor. Third—Members of the legislature, when they resign their seats, shall deliver their resignations to the governor, and he shall immediately order an election to fill such vacancy. Fourth—By all county officers (except district judges, and they to the governor), to the board of county commissioners of their respective counties. Fifth—By all other officers holding office by appointment, to the officer, body, or board that appointed them.

A person holding a civil office under the United States can resign such office without the consent of the appointing power, or the acceptance by it of such resignation. It is not in the power of the executive to compel any civil officer to remain in office. State ex rel. Nourse v. Clarke, 3 Nev. 566.

A civil officer has the right to resign his office at his own pleasure and will, and the acceptance or rejection of such resignation can in no manner affect such right. State ex rel. Williams v. Beck, 24 Nev. 92 (49 P. 1035).

A contingent resignation by a county official is subject to withdrawal by him at any time before the contingency happens, and the action of the governor in refusing to return the resignation, when required to do so, before such time, is of no effect. Idem.

See State ex rel. Ryan v. Murphy, under sec. 33 of this act.

2799. Vacancies, how occasioned.

SEC. 35. Every office shall become vacant upon the occurring of either of the following events before the expiration of the term of such office: First—The death or resignation of the incumbent. Second—The removal of the incumbent from office. Third—The confirmed insanity of the incumbent, found upon a commission of lunacy, issued to determine the fact. Fourth—A conviction of the incumbent of any felony or offense involving a violation of his official oath or bond. Fifth—A refusal or neglect of the person elected or appointed to take the oath of office, as prescribed in section 22 of this act; or, when a bond is required by law, his refusal or neglect to give such bond within the time prescribed by law. Sixth—The ceasing of the incumbent to be a resident of the state, district, county, city, or precinct, in which the duties of his office are to be exercised, or for which he shall have been elected or appointed. Seventh—The ceasing of the incumbent to discharge the duties of his office for the period of three months, except when prevented by sickness, or by absence from the state, upon leave, as provided by law. Eighth—The decision of a competent tribunal declaring the election or appointment void or the office vacant.

Where a district judge was pronounced insane and sent to an insane asylum under the provisions of the statute for the care of insane persons, and upon a certificate thereof, the governor appointed another person to fill his office as in case of a vacancy; Held, that the office was not vacant, and that the appointment of another judge was void. O'Neale v. McClinton, 5 Nev. 329.

The finding and declaration of an incumbent of the office of district judge to be insane, in accordance with the provisions of the statute for the care of the insane does not create a vacancy in his office. Idem.

As the constitution (art. 7, sec. 3, ante, 336) provides for the removal from office of judges in a certain manner by the legislature, such provision is exclusive and prohibitory upon the legislature of other means for such removal. Idem.

An office presently filled cannot become vacant without a removal either voluntary or involuntary; when voluntary no judicial determination resulting in vacation is necessary; when involuntary, such determination is essential, unless otherwise provided by the constitution or laws in pursuance thereof. Idem.

The argument of inconvenience can have no weight in the construction of a law; or at most, only in the case of a very doubtful point. Idem.

Under clause three above, two things are essential to create the vacancy: First, the insanity must be confirmed; and second, that fact must be found by the "commission of lunacy." Idem.

See State ex rel. Ryan v. Murphy, under sec. 33 of this act.

Where a new office is created and no person appointed to fill it there is a vacancy. State ex rel. Clarke v. Irwin, 5 Nev. 112, 130.

See, also, ante, 301.

See State ex rel. Loughton v. Adams, 19 Nev. 370 (12 P. 488), under sec. 22 of this act.

Cited, State v. Rhoades, 6 Nev. 356.

Under clause five of this section it was held that the failure of a lieutenant-governor to give bond as ex officio state librarian did not create a vacancy in the former office; that the two offices are separate and distinct, and that respondent's failure to give a new bond as ex officio state librarian created a vacancy in that office. State ex rel. Davenport v. Loughton, 19 Nev. 204, 207 (8 P. 344).

2800. Vacancy, member of legislature.

SEC. 36. But when a vacancy shall occur in the office of a member of the legislature during the session thereof, such vacancy shall be notified to the governor, by the presiding officer of the house in which such vacancy shall have occurred.

2801. Removal—Vacancy, how filled.

SEC. 37. Whenever any officer shall be removed from office on impeachment and conviction, as declared in the constitution and laws of this state, it shall be the duty of the secretary of state to transmit a certified copy thereof to the officer (as the case may be), whose duty it shall be to order an election, or make an appointment to supply the vacancy caused by the removal of such officer from office.

See Const., secs. 334-336.

2802. When declared vacant.

SEC. 38. The governor shall declare vacant the office of every state officer, and the office of district judge; and the board of county commissioners shall declare the office of every county officer, except the district judge, required by law to execute an official bond, whenever a final judgment shall be obtained against such officer for a breach of the conditions of such bond, or whenever such officer shall be finally convicted of a felony, or any offense involving a violation of his official oath.

2803. Cause of vacancy certified to governor or commissioners.

SEC. 39. Whenever a vacancy occurs in any office, as specified in this act (except in cases of resignation made to the governor or legislature, or board of county commissioners, in which cases it is the duty of the governor and such boards of county commissioners to issue a writ of election, or make an appointment to fill such vacancy, as the case may be), the secretary of state, or clerk of the board of county commissioners of the county where such officer exercised the duties of his office, if confined to a single county; and if not thus confined, then the clerk of the board of county commissioners, where such officer last resided, previous to the occurring of such vacancy, shall certify to the governor, or such board of county commissioners, the cause of such vacancy, and if such vacancy occurs from the confirmed insanity of the incumbent, or from his conviction of a felony, or an offense involving a violation of his official bond or oath, the secretary of state, or clerk of such board of county commissioners, shall also accompany their certificate by a certified copy of a judgment found upon the commission of lunacy, or a certified copy of the record of conviction for such felony or offense as the case may be.

2804. Vacancies, how supplied.

SEC. 40. Whenever a vacancy shall occur, during the recess of the legislature, in any office which the legislature is authorized to fill by election, or which the governor, subject to confirmation by the senate, is authorized to fill, the governor, unless it is otherwise specially provided, may appoint some suitable person to perform the duties of such office.

Power of governor to appoint to vacancy—Power of legislature to fill new office—Vacancy in new office—Meaning of vacancy in constitution—Appointment to take effect at future day. Clarke v. Irwin, 5 Nev. 111.

See secs. 284, 290, 301, ante.

2805. When temporary appointments made.

SEC. 41. When, at any time, there shall be in either of the county or precinct offices (except the office of district judge) no officer duly authorized to execute the duties thereof, some suitable person may be temporarily appointed by the board of county commissioners to perform the duties of such offices, until they are filled by election or appointment, as provided by law; provided, that in case there is no board of county commissioners in such county, the governor may, on notice of such vacancy, create or fill such board.

A law authorizing the electors of a county biennially to elect a person to fill a certain office, does not, even by implication, authorize them at an intermediate election to choose a person to fill out an unexpired term of the same office; especially is this so where there has been an appointment made to fill the vacancy by legal authority, and there is no law limiting this appointment to a period short of the expiration of the unexpired term. Sawyer v. Haydon, 1 Nev. 75.

2806. Idem—Duty to qualify.

SEC. 42. Any person so appointed, in pursuance of either of the last two preceding sections, shall, before proceeding to execute the duties assigned him, qualify in the same manner as required by law of the officer in whose place he shall be appointed; and he shall continue to exercise and perform the duties of the office to which he shall be so appointed until the election of his successor at the next session of the legislature, or the next general election, and the qualification of such successor thereafter.

2807. When powers of governor may devolve on lieutenant-governor.

SEC. 43. In case of the impeachment of the governor, or his removal from office, death, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the office, resignation, or absence from the state, the powers and duties shall devolve upon the lieutenant-governor for the residue of the term, or until the disability shall cease. But when the governor shall, with the consent of the legislature, be out of the state in time of war, at the head of any military force thereof, he shall continue commander-in-chief of all the military forces of the state.

2808. When president pro tem. of the senate to act as governor.

SEC. 44. If, during the vacancy in the office of the governor, the lieutenant-governor shall die, be impeached, displaced, resign, or become incapable of performing the duties of his office, or be absent from the state, the president pro tem. of the senate shall act as governor until the vacancy shall be filled or the disability shall cease.

2809. When senate to elect a president.

SEC. 45. Whenever the government is administered by the lieutenant-governor, or he shall be unable to attend as president of the senate, the senate shall elect one of its own members as president for that occasion.

2810. Vacancies to be filled by governor during recess of legislature.

SEC. 46. Vacancies that may occur in the office, the appointment of which is vested in the governor and senate, or in the legislature, shall be filled by the governor during the recess of the legislature, by granting commissions which shall expire whenever the governor and senate, or the legislature, shall appoint a person or persons to fill said offices.

2811. Governor to apprise legislature of appointments.

SEC. 47. It shall be the duty of the governor to lay before the legislature, at the earliest day practicable, a statement of all appointments made by him since the preceding session to fill vacancies.

2812. Vacancies, state and judicial officers, filled by governor—Term.

SEC. 48. Whenever any vacancy shall occur in the office of justice of the supreme court or district judge, or any state officer, the governor shall fill the same by granting a commission, which shall expire at the next general election by the people and upon the qualification of his successor, at which election such officers shall be chosen for the balance of the unexpired term.

2813. Vacancies in county or township offices, how filled.

SEC. 49. When any vacancy shall exist or occur in the office of county clerk, or any other county or township office, except the office of district judge, the board of county commissioners shall appoint some suitable person to fill such vacancy until the next general election.

The provision of the act of 1865, 286, that a vacancy in the office of district attorney shall be filled by appointment for the "balance of the unexpired term," was repealed by this section. State v. Wells, 8 Nev. 105, 109.

The subject-matter of sections 50 to 57, inclusive, relating to bribery, embezzlement and other misconduct of officers, is covered by the act concerning crimes and punishments, and such sections are therefore omitted.

2814. Inspector or clerk of election—Trying to control vote—Penalty.

SEC. 58. If any inspector or clerk of an election, while acting as such, shall induce, or attempt to induce, any elector, either by menace or reward, or promise thereof, to vote differently from what such elector shall intend or desire to vote, such officer so offending shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars.

2815. Wilful neglect or corrupt conduct by officer.

SEC. 59. If the secretary of state, or any inspector, clerk of any election, register, or any other officer, on whom any duty is enjoined by this act, shall be guilty of any wilful neglect of such duty, or of any fraudulent or corrupt conduct in the execution of any such duty, he or they so offending shall, on conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not exceeding two thousand dollars, to which may be added imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year.

2816. Duty of secretary of state upon failure to receive election returns—Evidence of failure.

SEC. 60. It is hereby made the duty of the secretary of state, after the expiration of thirty days from and after each election of governor, lieutenant-governor, representatives in Congress, and state and county officers, to certify to the proper district attorneys any and all failures and omissions of the boards of county commissioners, and their clerks and other officers, in their respective counties, to comply with the provisions of this act, in returning, or certifying the returns or certificates of any such election, to the office of the secretary of state, and every such certificate of the secretary of state, sealed with the state seal shall be sufficient presumptive evidence of any such failure or omission herein specified.

2817. Stealing, altering or defacing records.

SEC. 61. If any judge, justice of the peace, sheriff, public administrator, clerk, recorder, or any other public officer, or any other person whatsoever, shall steal, embezzle, corrupt, alter, withdraw, falsify, or avoid any record, process, charter, gift, grant, conveyance, bond, or contract, or shall, knowingly or wilfully, take off, discharge, or conceal any issue, forfeited recognizance, or other forfeiture, or shall forge, deface, or falsify any document or instrument recorded, or any registered acknowledgment or certificate, or shall alter, deface, or falsify any minute, document, book, or any proceedings whatever, of, or belonging to any public office within this state, the person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a term of not less than one nor more than eleven years, and fined in any sum not exceeding five thousand dollars.

See secs. 6344-6349.

2818. Inhumanity to prisoners.

SEC. 62. Every sheriff, or jailer, or person who shall be guilty of wilful inhumanity or oppression to any prisoner under his care or custody, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding two thousand dollars, and be removed from office.

2819. Refusing to deliver records—Applies to any person.

SEC. 63. If any officer, whose office shall be abolished by law, or who, after the expiration of the term for which he may be appointed or elected, or after he shall have resigned, or when legally removed from office, shall wilfully or unlawfully withhold or detain from his successor, or other person entitled thereto by law, the records, papers, documents, or other writing appertaining or belonging to his office, or mutilate, destroy, or take away the same, the person so offending shall, on conviction thereof, be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a term of not less than one nor more than eleven years. The provisions of this section shall apply to any person or persons who have such records, documents, papers, or other writings in his, her, or their possession, and shall wilfully mutilate, withhold, or detain the same, as aforesaid.

The subject-matter of sections 64 to 66, inclusive, is covered by the act concerning crimes and punishments, and such sections are therefore omitted.

2820. Officer refusing to receive or arrest.

SEC. 67. If any sheriff, public administrator, keeper of a jail, constable, or other officer, shall wilfully refuse to receive or arrest any person charged with criminal offense, such sheriff, public administrator, jailer, constable, or other officer, so offending, shall, on conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not less than one thousand nor exceeding five thousand dollars, or imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding five years, and removed from office.

See secs. 6360-6361.

2821. Purchasing judgment, when misdemeanor.

SEC. 68. If any justice of the peace or constable of the same precinct shall, directly or indirectly, purchase any judgment, or any part thereof, on the docket of such justice, or any docket in his possession, he shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined for each and every offense so convicted of, in any sum not less than one hundred nor more than one thousand dollars.

2822. Granting authority to discharge duties of office—Penalty.

SEC. 69. Every person holding or exercising any office under the laws or constitution of this state, who shall, for any reward or gratuity paid, or agreed to be paid, grant to another the right or authority to discharge any of the duties of such office (except his lawful deputies), shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five thousand dollars, and shall be removed from office; and every such person who shall so give, or make any such agreement to give, any reward or gratuity in consideration of such grant or authority, shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not less than five hundred nor exceeding five thousand dollars.

See secs. 6317, 6331.

2823. Officers not preventing duel.

SEC. 70. If any judge, justice of the peace, sheriff, or other officer bound to preserve the public peace, shall have knowledge of an intention, on the part of any two persons, to fight with a deadly weapon or weapons, and such officer shall not use and exert his official authority to arrest the parties and prevent the deed, every such officer shall be fined in a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars.

See secs. 6422-6426.

2824. Purchasing warrants and scrip—Certain officers forbidden to—Penalty.

SEC. 71. The state treasurer and controller, the several county, city, or town corporation officers of this state, are hereby expressly prohibited from purchasing or selling, or in any manner receiving to their own use or benefit, or to the use and benefit of any person or persons whatever, any state, county, or city warrants, scrip, orders, demands, claim or claims, or other evidences of indebtedness against the state, or any county, city, or town thereof; and any such officer, for each and every offense so convicted of, shall be punished by fine not less than five hundred nor more than one thousand dollars, and shall be imprisoned in the state prison for a term not less than two months nor more than two years; such conviction shall operate as a forfeiture of office, and the party convicted shall forever be disqualified from holding any office of honor, profit, or trust in this state. [Any person giving information which shall lead to the conviction of any person, under the provisions of this section, shall be entitled to receive one-half of the fine adjudged against and collected from such officer.]

Portion in brackets unconstitutional, see sec. 355.

2825. Purchasing evidence of indebtedness—Certain officers forbidden to—Penalty.

SEC. 72. The state treasurer and controller, all county, city, or town corporation officers, are prohibited from purchasing or being interested, or receiving, or selling, or transferring, or causing to be purchased, received, sold or transferred, either in person, or by agent, or attorney, or by or through the agency or means of any person or persons whatever, any interest, claim, demand, or other evidence of indebtedness against the state, county, city or town corporation thereof, either directly or indirectly; nor shall any clerk or employee of any such officer or officers, nor the commissioners employed, or to be employed, to fund any county, city, or town corporation indebtedness, be allowed to make any such purchase, sale, or transfer, or to receive any agency from other parties to purchase, sell, transfer, or bargain, in any manner, for any state, county, city, or town corporation warrants, scrip, demands, or other evidence of indebtedness, against the state, or any county, city, or town corporation thereof. Any person guilty, and convicted of a violation of any of the provisions of this section, shall be punished for each and every offense so convicted of, as provided in the foregoing section.

2826. Idem—Provisions of foregoing sections, how construed.

SEC. 74. The provisions of said sections shall not be construed so as to prohibit any state officer from purchasing or selling county or city warrants, or any county or city officer from purchasing the warrants of the state or of any other city or county, or to prevent any state, county, or city officer from selling or transferring such warrants or scrip as he may receive for his services, but none other.

2827. Unlawful for officer to have interest in contract.

SEC. 75. It shall not be lawful for any officer of state, or member of the legislature, alderman, or member of the common council of any city in this state, or for the trustees of any city, town, or village, or for any county commissioners of any county, to become a contractor under any contract or order for supplies, or any other kind of contract authorized by or for the state, or any department thereof, or the legislature, or either branch thereof, or by or for the aldermen or common council, board of trustees, or board of county commissioners of which he is a member, or to be in any manner interested, directly or indirectly, as principal, in any kind of contract so authorized.

See sec. 6331.

2828. Idem—In purchase or sale.

SEC. 76. It shall not be lawful for any town, city, county, or state officer, or member of the legislature, to be interested in any contract made by such officer, or legislature of which he is a member, or be a purchaser, or be interested in any purchase of a sale made by such officer in the discharge of his official duties.

See sec. 6331.

2829. Idem—Contracts may be declared void.

SEC. 77. All contracts made in violation of the provisions of the two preceding sections (or either of them) of this act, may be declared void, at the instance of the state, city, town, or village, or county interested, or of any other party interested in such contract, except the officers prohibited in said sections from making or being interested in such contract.

2830. Idem—Fine and forfeiture of office.

SEC. 78. Any person violating the provisions of sections 75 and 76 (or either of them) of this act, directly or indirectly, shall forfeit his office, and shall be punished by fine, not less than five hundred nor more than five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment.

See sec. 6331.

[Sec. 79, relating to the enforcement of sec. 6439, is covered by act concerning crimes and punishments, and is therefore omitted.]

2831. Governor required to offer reward in certain cases.

SEC. 80. If any person who has been sentenced to confinement in the state prison, by any court having competent authority within this state, shall escape therefrom, or shall be charged with murder, or the perpetration of any crime punishable with death, the governor is authorized and required, upon satisfactory evidence of the guilt of the accused, to offer a reward for his apprehension, which reward shall not exceed the sum of five thousand dollars, and shall be paid out of the general fund.

See secs. 3905-3907.

[Sec. 81, being covered by provisions of the act concerning crimes and punishments, secs. 6396-6397, is therefore omitted.]

2832. Mayor may order police force.

SEC. 82. The mayor or other officer having the direction of the police in a city, town, or village, shall order a force sufficient to keep the peace, to attend any public meeting, when he is satisfied that a breach of the peace is to be apprehended.

2833. Officer may command assistance when resistance is apprehended.

SEC. 83. When a sheriff, or other public officer authorized to execute process, shall find, or have reason to apprehend, that resistance will be made to the execution of his process, he may command as many male inhabitants of his county, as he may think proper, and any military company or companies in the county, armed and equipped, to assist him in overcoming the resistance, and, if necessary, in seizing, arresting, and confining the resisters and their aiders and abettors, to be punished according to law.

See sec. 6956.

2834. To certify to court the names of resisters—Punished for contempt.

SEC. 84. The officer shall certify to the court from which the process issued, the names of the resisters and their aiders and abettors, to the end that they be proceeded against for their contempt of court.

[Sec. 85 is covered by sec. 6361, and is therefore omitted.]

2835. Governor may order military force.

SEC. 86. If it appear to the governor that the power of any county is not sufficient to enable the sheriff to execute process delivered to him, he shall, on the application of the sheriff, order such military force from any other county or counties as shall be necessary.

See secs. 3982, 4058.

2836. Riotous assemblage—Command to disperse.

SEC. 87. When six or more persons, whether armed or not, shall be unlawfully or riotously assembled in any city or town, the sheriff of the county and his deputies, the mayor and aldermen of the city, or the constable of the town, and the justices of the peace, shall go among the persons so assembled, or as near as possible, and shall command them, in the name of the people of the United States and the State of Nevada, immediately to disperse.

See secs. 6593-6596.

2837. Idem—Arrest—Power of county.

SEC. 88. If the persons assembled do not immediately disperse, the magistrates and officers shall arrest them, that they may be punished according to law, and for that purpose may command the aid of all persons present or within the county.

[Sec. 89 is covered by sec. 6361, and therefore omitted.]

2838. Refusing to use authority to suppress riot—Penalty.

SEC. 90. If a magistrate or officer, having notice of an unlawful or riotous assembly, as provided in section 87, neglect or refuse to proceed to the place of assembly, or as near thereto as he can with safety, and to exercise the authority with which he is invested for suppressing the same and arresting the offenders, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished accordingly.

[Sec. 91 is covered by sec. 6361, and is therefore omitted.]

2839. Armed force to obey orders—Who may give.

SEC. 92. When an armed force is called out for the purpose of suppressing an unlawful or riotous assembly, or arresting the offenders, it shall obey such orders in relation thereto as may have been made by the governor, or by a judge of a court of record, or the sheriff of the county, or by a magistrate, or any other officer authorized by law to make such order.

See secs. 3982, 4058.

2840. Idem—May call out troops.

SEC. 93. When there is an unlawful or riotous assembly, with the intent to commit a felony, or to offer violence to person or property, or to resist, by force, the laws of the state, and the fact is made to appear to the governor, or to a judge of the district court, or to the sheriff of the county, either of those officers may issue an order, directed to the commanding officer of a division, brigade, regiment, battalion, or company, to order his command, or any part thereof (describing the kind and number of troops), to appear at a time and place therein specified, to aid the civil authorities in suppressing violence and enforcing the laws.

See secs. 3982, 4058.

2841. Commanding officer to obey orders.

SEC. 94. The commanding officer, to whom the order is given, shall forthwith obey the same, and the troops so required shall appear at the time and place appointed, armed and equipped with ammunition as per inspection, and shall execute any order that they shall then and there receive, according to law.

2842. When governor may declare county in insurrection—Proclamation.

SEC. 95. When the governor shall be satisfied that the execution of civil or criminal process has been forcibly resisted in any county, by bodies of men, or that combinations to resist the execution or process by force, exist in any county, and that the power of the county has been exerted and has not been sufficient to enable the officer having the process to execute it, he may, on the application of the officer, of the district attorney, or district judge of the county, by proclamation, to be published in such papers as he shall direct, declare the county to be in a state of insurrection, and may order into the service of the state such number and description of volunteers, or uniformed companies, or other militia of the state, as he shall deem necessary, to serve for such term, and under the command of such officers as he shall direct.

2843. May revoke proclamation.

SEC. 96. The governor may, when he shall think proper, revoke the proclamation authorized by the last section, or declare that it shall cease at such time and in such manner as he shall direct.

2844. Officers auditing accounts—Affidavit of officer filed.

SEC. 97. It shall, in all cases, be the duty of all officers who may be called upon to audit and allow the accounts of either state, county, city, or town officers, to take and file an affidavit of said officers that they have not violated any of the provisions of this act, and for that purpose all officers authorized by law to audit and allow accounts, are hereby empowered and required to administer oaths and affirmations, which shall have the same force and validity in all actions for perjury, as if administered by a judicial officer.

2845. When treasurer may refuse to redeem warrant.

SEC. 98. It shall be the duty of the state treasurer, and the several county, city, or town corporation treasurers, of the state, to refuse to redeem any warrants, scrip, orders, or other evidence of indebtedness against the state, or any county, city, or town corporation thereof, whenever it shall come to their knowledge that such warrants, scrip, or other evidence of indebtedness have been purchased, sold, received, or transferred in violation of any of the provisions of this act.

2846. May sell indebtedness for personal services rendered.

SEC. 99. All public officers referred to in any of the sections of this act shall have the right to sell or transfer any evidence of public indebtedness which may be issued according to law, for services rendered by them to the state, county, city, or town corporation, legally and justly due, and this act shall not be deemed to prevent the purchase, sale, or transfer of any funded public indebtedness whatever of the state, or of any county, city, or town corporation.

2847. Settlement or payment of persons violating act withheld—Prosecution.

SEC. 100. It shall be the duty of any officer charged with the disbursement of any public moneys, or any evidence of public indebtedness, when he shall be informed by affidavit of the violation of any of the provisions of this act, by any officer whose account is to be settled, audited, or paid by him, to withhold any settlement or payment of the same and to cause said officer to be prosecuted as for a felony, as provided in the foregoing sections of this act.

An Act authorizing ministerial officers to appoint deputies.

Approved February 19, 1864, 143

2848. Who may appoint deputies—Ex officio coroner.

SECTION 1. All prosecuting attorneys, county recorders, clerks of the several district courts, county clerks, sheriffs, assessors, collectors of taxes, constables and public administrators, are hereby authorized to appoint deputies, who shall have power to transact all official business appertaining to said officers, to the same extent as their principals; provided, that the deputy appointed by the public administrator may act as ex officio coroner. As amended, Stats. 1905, 33.

Full faith and credit should be given to all official acts certified either by the county clerk or his deputy. Gillig v. Ind. G. & S. M. Co., 1 Nev. 250.

The district attorneys of the several counties have authority to appoint deputies. State v. Harris, 12 Nev. 414, 420.

2849. Responsible for compensation and acts—May require bonds.

SEC. 2. Said officers shall be responsible for the compensation of said deputies, and shall be responsible on their official bonds for all official malfeasance or nonfeasance of the same. Bonds for the faithful performance of their official duties may be required of said deputies by said principals.

When the sureties on the official bond of a deputy assessor obligated themselves for the faithful performance by the officer of the duties of said office "during his continuance therein," it was held, that the obligation of the sureties was general for a term solely dependent upon the will of the assessor, and which would continue unless revoked during his entire term. Kruttschnitt v. Hauck, 6 Nev. 163-165.

2850. Appointments, how made.

SEC. 3. All appointments of deputies under the provisions of this act shall be in writing, and shall, together with the oath of office of said deputies, be filed and recorded in a book provided for that purpose in the office of the recorder of the county within which the principal legally holds and exercises his office. Revocations of such appointments shall also be filed and recorded as herein provided. From the time of the filing of said appointments or revocations therein, persons shall be deemed to have notice of the same.

The power of the county assessor to appoint deputies is limited only by the provision in the act of 1865, 346, that before such appointment he shall "divide the county into convenient districts, of which division notice shall be given to the board of county commissioners." Kruttschnitt v. Hauck, 6 Nev. 163-165.

An Act providing for the removal from office of public officers for malfeasance or nonfeasance in office, regulating the mode of procedure, and other matters properly connected therewith.

Approved March 24, 1909, 293

[Secs. 1 to 20 covered by criminal practice act, chapters 4 and 5, secs. 6877-6907.]

2851. Applies to all officers.

SEC. 21. If any person now holding or who shall hereafter hold any office in this state, who shall refuse or neglect to perform any official act in the manner and form as now prescribed by law, or who shall be guilty of any malpractice or malfeasance in office, may also be removed therefrom as hereinafter prescribed.

2852. Procedure for removal—Decree—Costs.

SEC. 22. Whenever any complaint in writing, duly verified by the oath of any complainant, shall be presented to the district court, alleging that any officer within the jurisdiction of said court has been guilty of charging and collecting any illegal fees for services rendered or to be rendered in his office, or has refused or neglected to perform the official duties pertaining to his office as prescribed by law, or has been guilty of any malpractice or malfeasance in office, it shall be the duty of the court to cite the party charged to appear before him on a certain day, not more than ten nor less than five days from the time when said complaint shall be presented, and on that day, or some subsequent day not more than twenty days from that on which said complaint is presented, shall proceed to hear, in a summary manner, the complaint and evidence offered by the party complained of, and if, on such hearing, it shall appear that the charge or charges of said complaint are sustained, the court shall enter a decree that said party complained of shall be deprived of his office, and shall enter a judgment for five hundred dollars in favor of the complainant and such costs as are allowed in civil cases.

2853. Copy of decree transmitted—Vacancy filled.

SEC. 23. It shall be the duty of the clerk of the court in which such proceedings are had to transmit, within three days thereafter, to the governor of the state, or board of county commissioners (as the case may be) of the proper county, a copy of any decree or judgment declaring any officer deprived of any office under this act; and it shall be the duty of the governor or such board of county commissioners (as the case may be) to appoint some person to fill said office until a successor shall be selected or appointed and qualified; and it shall be the duty of the person so appointed to give such bonds as security as are prescribed by law and pertaining to such office.

See secs. 2805, 2813.

2854. Convicted official not to hold office during appeal.

SEC. 24. In case judgment of the district court, as herein provided, shall be against the officer complained of, and an appeal taken from the judgment so rendered, the officer so appealing shall not hold the office during the pendency of such appeal; but such office shall be filled as in case of a vacancy.

An Act providing for the examination and auditing of the books and accounts of certain officers, and providing penalties for its violation.

Approved March 20, 1911, 276

2855. Accounts of officials to be examined semiannually. 2858. Grand jury may order examinations—Indict neglecting officials.

2856. Expert accountant to be employed. 2859. Penalty for neglect.

2857. Reports to go to grand juries. 2860. Expenses of examination—How paid.

2855. Accounts of officials to be examined semiannually.

SECTION 1. It is hereby made the duty of the board of examiners and the boards of county commissioners of the various counties of this state, and the board of trustees, city council, or other governing body, of any incorporated city or town within this state, to audit and examine at least twice in each year the accounts of all officials, state, county or town, charged with the receipt, collection, disbursement or handling of any money, credits, effects, or property belonging to the state, county, city or town, or collected by such person under any law of this state, and for this purpose they shall have the power to employ a competent expert accountant to examine said books or accounts, of such officers, but the examination and auditing by the board of examiners shall be confined to state officers, the examination and auditing by the board of county commissioners to county or township officers, and the examination and auditing by the board of trustees, or city council, shall be confined to the town or city officers.

2856. Expert accountant to be employed.

SEC. 2. The accountant so employed shall report to the board employing him, the amounts of money in the various funds, the amounts collected, the amounts disbursed, the condition of the books, and the manner in which such accounts are kept, giving in detail the information thus required, and shall further certify to such board if the amounts collected and expended and on hand correspond, and to report to such board any shortage, misappropriation, or misapplication of any of the public moneys so collected, and shall give such further information as may be required by such board.

2857. Reports to go to grand juries.

SEC. 3. The reports of such accountant shall, by order of the district judge, be laid before the grand jury of each of the counties of this state for an examination by them, and to take such action upon such report as they shall deem necessary.

2858. Grand jury may order examinations—Indict neglecting officials.

SEC. 4. In case any board hereby required to audit and examine, or cause to be audited and examined, the accounts of the various officers herein enumerated, shall fail to cause such examination and report to be so made, then it shall be the duty of the grand jury of the county, to employ competent experts to make such examination and to report to such grand jury, and such grand jury shall also indict such officers as have failed, refused or neglected to audit and examine, or cause to be audited and examined, the accounts of such officers as required by this act.

2859. Penalty for neglect.

SEC. 5. The members of the board who are hereby required to examine and audit, or cause to be examined or audited, the accounts of the various officers herein mentioned, who shall fail, refuse or neglect to do so, as required by this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in a sum not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than one thousand dollars, and unless such fine be paid, shall be confined in the county jail at the rate of one day for each two dollars of such fine.

2860. Expenses of examination, how paid.

SEC. 6. All expenses incurred in the examination of the accounts of the state officers, for experts or otherwise, shall be a legal charge against the sum of $2,400, which is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, and the controller is hereby authorized to draw his warrant, and the treasurer to pay the same upon the written order of the board of examiners drawn in favor of the person making such examination; all costs for the examination of the county books shall be a legal charge against the county, and all costs incurred in the examination of the books of any incorporated city or town shall be a legal charge against such incorporated city or town, all such accounts to be paid by the county or incorporated city or town, the same as any other claims against such county, city or town.

An Act to prevent drunkenness in office, fixing the penalty thereof and providing for the enforcement of the same.

Approved February 17, 1887, 65

2861. Drunkenness ground for removal—Gross misdemeanor.

SECTION 1. Any civil officer in this state who shall, during his term of office, become intoxicated, or under the influence of alcoholic, malt or vinous liquors, so that he shall not at all times be in proper condition for the discharge of the duties of his office, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor in office, and on conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one thousand dollars or imprisonment not exceeding one year, and shall be subject to removal from office by impeachment, if he be a state officer, and if a county or township officer, shall be removed from office by the judgment of the court in which the conviction is had, as a part of the penalty in such conviction.

2862. Duty of officers to prosecute—Court to specially charge grand juries.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the sheriff and his deputies, constable and his deputies, district attorneys and all other peace officers in this state, upon receiving information from any person that the provisions of this act have been violated, to immediately institute proceedings in the proper court against the person thus complained of, and prosecute the same with reasonable diligence to final judgment, and the provisions of this act shall be specially charged to the grand juries of the several counties of the state at each sitting of the district court.

2863. Judgment roll certified to secretary of state in case of state officer.

SEC. 3. In case of the conviction of any state officer under the provisions of this act, it shall be the duty of the prosecuting officer obtaining such conviction, to file a certified copy of the judgment roll with the secretary of state, and the secretary of state shall lay the same before the legislature at its next session after receiving said judgment roll.

An Act to authorize fees and salaries of officers, and compensation of other persons, to be taken in attachment and execution, and to prohibit assignments to defraud creditors.

Approved February 1, 1883, 26

2864. Fees and salaries—Fraudulent assignments void.

SECTION 1. The fees and salaries of all persons holding office or positions of profit under the government of the State of Nevada, or under any county, township, city town or school district within the state shall be subject to attachment and execution for all debts and liabilities created or incurred by such officials or other persons, and all assignments, sales or transfers of such fees and salaries, previous to becoming due, unless made in good faith and not to defraud creditors, shall be null and void as against all such debts and liabilities. As amended, Stats. 1889, 118.

2865. Garnishment—May pay into court.

SEC. 2. In case of the garnishment or attachment of any auditor, treasurer, or disbursing officer, under the provisions of this act, such officer so garnished or holding the funds or property attached, may pay the sum named, or deliver the property named in the garnishment or attachment, into the court issuing the same, taking the receipt of the court therefor, which shall be a full release of the disbursing officer from the garnishment or attachment.

2866. Statute of limitations does not run during term.

SEC. 3. The statute of limitations shall not run against any indebtedness of such officer or person, existing at the time of his entering upon the duties of his office or position, during the time such office or position shall be held.

OFFICIAL ADVERTISING

An Act fixing the rates for official advertising by the State of Nevada and the several counties of the state.

Approved March 16, 1897, 92

2867. Rates fixed—Annual contracts.

SECTION 1. All advertising ordered or required by the State of Nevada, or by the respective counties of the state shall be paid for by the state or the county ordering or requiring the same at the rate of two dollars per square of ten lines nonpareil measurement for the first insertion and one dollar per square for each subsequent insertion; an insertion to be held to be one publication per week whether the newspaper in which such advertising is ordered to be done be published daily or weekly; provided, that nothing herein contained shall prohibit boards of county commissioners from entering into annual contracts for the entire official printing and advertising of their respective counties when in their judgment a saving of public funds will be effected thereby.

A legislative act (Stats. 1887, 135) appropriating a certain sum "for the purpose of paying the expenses of the various counties of this state of the special election," does not create a fund applicable to the payment of a demand for publishing proposed amendments to the state constitution, to be voted upon at such special election, as such demand is not chargeable against any of the counties. Bragg v. State, 20 Nev. 443, 444 (23 P. 427).

OFFICIAL BONDS

Concerning official bonds, sections 2868–2879.

Providing for release of sureties, sections 2880–2884.

Concerning sureties on, sections 2885–2886.

Relating to official bonds, section 2887.

To provide surety bonds for officers, sections 2888–2890.

An Act concerning official bonds.

Approved March 14, 1865, 401

2868. Form of official bond.

2869. Time in force—Subsequent law to apply—Condition to be expressed.

2870. Who may bring suit.

2871. Defect in bond not material.

2872. Approval—Record and filing.

2873. Additional bond, when required.

2874. Idem—Office vacant, when.

2875. Insufficient bond of state officer—Procedure.

2876. Force of additional bond.

2877. Number of sureties.

2878. Justification of sureties, how made.

2879. Sureties may become liable for portion only.

2868. Form of official bond.

SECTION 1. All official bonds required by law of officers shall be in form joint and several, and made payable to the State of Nevada, in such penal sum, and with such conditions, as may be required by law.

2869. Time in force—Subsequent law to apply—Condition to be expressed.

SEC. 2. Every official bond executed by any officer pursuant to law shall be deemed and taken to be in force, and shall be obligatory upon the principal and sureties therein, for any and all breach of the condition or conditions thereof, committed during the time such officer shall continue to discharge any of the duties of, or hold such office; and every such bond shall be deemed to be in force and obligatory upon the principal and sureties therein, for the faithful discharge of all duties which may be required of such officer by any law enacted subsequently to the execution of such bond, and such condition shall be expressed therein.

2870. Who may bring suit.

SEC. 3. Every official bond executed by any officer pursuant to law, shall be in force and obligatory upon the principal and sureties therein, to and for the State of Nevada, and to and for the use and benefit of all persons who may be injured or aggrieved by the wrongful act or default of such officer in his official capacity, and any person so injured or aggrieved may bring suit on such bond, in his or her own name, without an assignment thereof.

2871. Defect in bond not material.

SEC. 4. Whenever any such official bond shall not contain the substantial matter, or condition or conditions required by law, or there shall be any defect in the approval or filing thereof, such bond shall not be void so as to discharge such officer and his sureties, but they shall be bound to the state or party interested, and the state or such party may, by action instituted in any court of competent jurisdiction, suggest the defect of such bond, or such approval or filing, and recover his proper and equitable demand or damages from such officer, and the person or persons who intended to become and were included in such bond as sureties.

2872. Approval, record and filing.

SEC. 5. The official bonds of officers shall be approved and filed as follows, to wit: The official bond of the secretary of state shall be approved by the governor, and filed and recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the seat of government is fixed. The official bond of all other state officers, required by law to give bond, shall be approved by the governor, filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state. The official bond of all county and township officers shall be approved by the board of county commissioners, and filed and recorded in the office of the county clerk of their respective counties; provided, that the bond of the county clerk shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder of the proper county.

If clerk is ex officio recorder, bond to be filed with treasurer, sec. 2887.
Cited, State ex rel. Davenport v. Laughton, 19 Nev. 210 (8 P. 344).

2873. Additional bond, when required.

SEC. 6. Whenever the sureties, or any one of them, in the official bond of any county or township officer, shall die, remove without the state, become insolvent or insufficient, or the penalty of such bond shall become insufficient on account of recoveries had thereon, or otherwise, it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners of the proper county, of their own motion, or on the showing of any person supported by affidavit, to summon any such officer to appear before them, at a time stated, not less than three days after service of such summons, and show cause why he should not execute an additional official bond with good and sufficient sureties.

2874. Idem—Office vacant, when.

SEC. 7. Should such officer, after due notice, fail to appear at the time appointed, the matter may be heard and determined in his absence. If, after examination, the board of county commissioners shall be of opinion that the bond of such officer has become insufficient, from any cause whatever, they shall require an additional bond, with such security as may be deemed necessary, which said additional bond shall be executed and filed within such time as the board of county commissioners may order; and if any officer shall fail to execute and file such additional bond within the time specified by such order, his office shall become vacant.

See secs. 2802–2803.

2875. Insufficient bond of state officer—Procedure.

SEC. 8. Whenever the official bond of any state officer shall become insufficient, from any cause whatever, the like proceedings may be had before the district court of the district in which said state officer holds his office, with reference thereto; provided, that such proceedings shall be commenced by a written motion, supported by affidavit.

2876. Force of additional bond.

SEC. 9. Every such additional bond shall be of like force and obligation upon the principal and sureties therein, and shall subject the officer and his sureties to the same liabilities as are prescribed respecting the original bonds of officers.

2877. Number of sureties.

SEC. 10. Unless otherwise expressly provided, there shall be at least two sureties upon the official bond of every officer.

Surety company may become, secs. 2888–2890.

2878. Justification of sureties, how made.

SEC. 11. In all cases where official bonds are required, or may be hereafter required from state, county or township officers, the officer or officers whose duty it is, or may be, to approve such bonds, shall not accept or approve any such bonds unless the sureties thereon shall severally justify before an officer authorized to administer oaths, as follows:

First—On a bond given by a state officer that he is a resident and freeholder or householder within this state, and on a bond given by a county officer that he is a resident and freeholder or householder within such county.

Second—That he is worth the amount for which he becomes surety over and above all his debts and liabilities in property situated within this state which is not exempt from sale or execution. As amended, Stats. 1889, 34.

2879. Sureties may become liable for portion only.

SEC. 12. When the penal sum of any bond amounts to more than two thousand dollars, the sureties may become severally liable for portions not less than five hundred dollars of such penal sum, making in the aggregate at least two sureties for the whole penal sum.

See State v. Rhoades, 6 Nev. 352, also sec. 2786.

A surety upon a joint and several official bond cannot recover from his cosureties the full amount of damages he may have sustained by the wrongs of their common principal. Alderson v. Mendes, 16 Nev. 298.

An Act providing for the release of sureties on official bonds and undertakings.

Approved February 13, 1867. 55

2880. Sureties may be released.

SECTION 1. Any surety on the official bond of any state, county, or city officer, or on the official bond of any executor, or administrator, or on the bond or undertaking of any person, where, by a law, a bond or undertaking is required, may be released from all liability thereon accruing, from and after proper proceedings had therefor, as provided in this act.

2881. Proceedings for release of surety.

SEC. 2. Any surety desiring to be released from liability on the bond of any state officer, shall file with the governor or secretary of state, a statement in writing duly subscribed by himself, or some one in his behalf, setting forth the name and office of the person for whom he is surety, the amount for which he is liable as such, and his desire to be released from further liability on account thereof. A notice containing the objects of such statement, shall be served personally on the officer, unless he shall have left the state, in which case the same may be served by publication for twenty days in some newspaper printed at the seat of government, or if none be printed there, then in such newspaper as shall be designated by the governor or secretary of state. Any surety desiring to be released from the official bond of any county officer, shall file and serve a similar statement. The statement, except when it concerns the county clerk personally, shall be filed with the clerk of the board of county commissioners, and when the county clerk is personally concerned, the statement shall be filed with the county auditor. Any surety desiring to be released from liability on the bond of a city officer, shall file and serve a similar statement with the city clerk or other proper officer. Any surety desiring to be released from an executor's or administrator's bond or undertaking, shall file and serve a similar statement with the clerk of the district court. Any surety desiring to be released from any other official bond or undertaking, shall file and serve a similar statement with the proper officer, person, or authority. All statements provided for in this section, must be served as in the first clause of this section provided; provided, the same, if served by publication, may be published in a newspaper in the same, and if no newspaper be published therein, then in an adjoining, or other county, without any order from any court, or other authority; provided, further, in all cases for which publication is provided, a printed or written notice, posted in at least ten conspicuous places within the county, for the time specified, shall be deemed legal notice thereof.

See sec. 2886.

A notice served by the surety in the following form was held to be sufficient:

"Hon. * * * You are hereby notified that I, as surety for the sum of * * * on your official bond as, desire to be relieved from further liability on account thereof, and withdraw and be discharged from said bond." State ex rel. Davenport v. Laughton, 19 Nev. 202.

2882. Office vacant on failure to give additional bond—Coroner to succeed sheriff, when.

SEC. 3. If any officer or person shall fail within ten days from the date of a personal service, or within thirty days from the date of the first insertion of a publication or posted service, to file a new or additional bond or undertaking, the office or appointment of the person or officer so failing shall become vacant, and such officer or person shall forfeit his office or appointment, and the same shall be filled as in other cases of vacancy, and in manner as provided by law, and the person applying to be released from liability on such bond or undertaking shall not be holden or liable thereon, after the date herein provided for the vacating and forfeiting of such office or appointment; provided, if a number of sureties on any such bond or undertaking, representing half the amount of the penalty thereof, shall unite in the same, or file and serve separate statements as herein provided, the right of such officer or person to exercise the duties and functions of his office, or appointment, shall immediately cease, until he shall file and have accepted and approved a new or additional bond or undertaking. Whenever by operation of this act, the functions of any sheriff shall become suspended, it shall be the duty of the clerk with whom the statement as hereinbefore provided shall have been filed, to notify the acting coroner of the county forthwith of such suspension; and upon being so notified, such coroner shall succeed to all the powers, and discharge all the duties of sheriff of his county, pending such suspension of the functions of the sheriff.

Cited, State ex rel. Davenport v. Laughton, 19 Nev. 204, 207, 210.

2883. Unreleased sureties on original bond also liable.

SEC. 4. In case a new or additional bond or undertaking be filed, the sureties on the original, not asking to be released, and on the new or additional bond or undertaking, shall be and continue liable for the official acts of such officer or person jointly and severally, the same as if all were sureties on one and the same instrument.

2884. Penalty of new bond.

SEC. 5. Whenever a statement is filed, or filed and served as herein provided, the proper authority shall prescribe the penalty or amount in which a new or additional bond or undertaking shall be filed, and if no such order be made, then such new or additional bond or undertaking shall be executed for the same amount as the original.

An Act concerning sureties on official bonds.

Approved January 31, 1883, 25

2885. Subscriptions, how taken.

SECTION 1. Subscriptions to official bonds shall be taken singly, and for a liability not exceeding the amount subscribed.

2886. Surety liable only for ratable proportion—How ascertained.

SEC. 2. When the official bond of any state, county, or township officer becomes insufficient by reason of the insolvency of any of the sureties thereon, or from any cause whatever, so that the same shall not contain at least two good and sufficient sureties for the whole penal sum named in the bond, and any liability occurs or becomes fixed by reason of the defalcation, omission, neglect, misconduct, or by any act of the officer who is the principal in such bond, then and in every such case, any surety or sureties, upon the payment of his or their ratable proportion of the liability on such bond, shall be released from all further liability thereon, so far as any loss to the state or county wherein such officer held office is concerned. Such ratable proportion shall be ascertained by considering all and each of the sureties on such bond as solvent, liable, and able to contribute his or their proportions of the whole amount of liability incurred on such bond. The state board of examiners, in the case of state officers, or the boards of county commissioners of the several counties of this state, in the case of county officers, are hereby authorized and required, in such cases, to make settlement with any or all such sureties who propose to pay and do pay their ratable proportions, as herein provided for, of the liability accrued on such bond. Any surety or sureties neglecting or refusing to pay such ratable proportions, or defending an action for the recovery of any liability on any official bond, shall be subject to such prosecution, judgments, and penalties as are now provided for by law; provided, that no judgment shall be rendered against such surety or sureties, for an amount above his or their pro rata liability on such bond, and costs of suit. As amended, Stats. 1885, 81.

See sec. 2881.

A previous act (Stats. 1881, 91), repealed by Stats. 1883, 13, was cited, White Pine Co. v. Herrick, 19 Nev. 36, 37 (5 P. 276).

An Act relating to official bonds.

Approved March 19, 1891, 77

2887. Bond of county clerk deposited with treasurer.

SECTION 1. In all counties in this state wherein the county clerk is ex officio county recorder, the official bond of such officer shall be recorded in the manner and place now provided by law, and immediately thereafter shall be deposited for safe keeping in the office of the county treasurer.

An Act to provide surety bonds for state, county and precinct officers.

Approved March 23, 1909, 187

2888. Surety company may be surety.

SECTION 1. That all state, county and precinct officers within the State of Nevada, who are now required by law, or who may hereafter be required by law, to give an official bond for the faithful discharge of the duties of such office, it shall be lawful for such officer or officers aforesaid to give security for the faithful discharge of the duties of their office by any surety company lawfully authorized to do business within the State of Nevada.

2889. Counties to pay premium for treasurers.

SEC. 2. In the case of each county treasurer of each county in the State of Nevada the premium of such surety bond for such treasurer shall be paid for by the county out of the general fund of each county.

2890. Surety bond must be accepted—Proviso.

SEC. 3. Whenever any of the aforesaid officials shall tender bonds of any surety company for approval to the county commissioners, or to any official board or person with whom such official bonds are required to be approved and filed, it shall be the duty of such board, which is required by law to approve the same, to accept such bonds; provided, however, said surety company shall have first complied with the laws of the State of Nevada, and be duly authorized to transact business within this state.

OFFICIAL OATH

An Act prescribing the official oath of the State of Nevada.

Approved January 16, 1865. 96

2891. Who required to make oath—Form of.

SECTION 1. All persons, including presidents, secretaries, trustees or directors of mining, or other corporations, formed under the provisions of the laws of this state, members of the legislature, all officers, executive, judicial and ministerial, and all other persons who may be required by law (except witnesses in the courts of justice of this state), to make oath or affirmation shall, before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, or other duties required of them, take and subscribe to the following oath, or affirmation: I, _____, do solemnly swear (or affirm), that I will support, protect and defend the constitution and government of the United States, and the constitution and government of the State of Nevada, against all enemies, whether domestic or foreign; and that I will bear true faith, allegiance and loyalty to the same, any ordinance, resolution or law of any state convention or legislature to the contrary notwithstanding; and further, that I do this with a full determination, pledge and purpose, without any mental reservation or evasion whatsoever. And I do further solemnly swear (or affirm), that I have not fought a duel, nor sent or accepted a challenge to fight a duel, nor been a second to either party, nor in any manner aided or assisted in such duel, nor been knowingly the bearer of such challenge or acceptance since the adoption of the constitution of the State of Nevada; and that I will not be so engaged or concerned, directly or indirectly, in or about any such duel during my continuance in office; and further, that I will, well and faithfully, perform all the duties of the office of _____, on which I am about to enter (if an oath), so help me God, (if an affirmation) under the pains and penalties of perjury.

See sec. 370.

The authority of an administrator cannot be attacked in a collateral proceeding because the oath required by the statute was not taken until after the letters were issued and was then taken before a notary; since the letters, having been regularly issued, are valid until revoked, the irregularities complained of were cured by taking the oath before the proper officer before trial of the case. Gallagher v. Holland, 20 Nev. 164, 167 (18 P. 834).

OPTOMETRY

An Act to regulate the practice of optometry in the State of Nevada, and to fix the license therefor.

Approved March 9, 1903, 72

2892. Qualifications required.
2893. How certificate obtained.
2894. Fees—License.

2895. Exceptions to application of act.
2896. Penalty for violation—District attorney to prosecute.

2892. Qualifications required.

SECTION 1. All persons engaging in the optical profession or the practice of optometry in the State of Nevada shall be graduates of a regularly chartered optical college, possessing by virtue of its charter from the state in which it is located, authority to confer degrees and issue diplomas certifying to the efficiency of its graduates.

2893. How certificate obtained.

SEC. 2. Any person engaging in the optical profession or the practice of optometry in correcting ocular, muscular imbalances, errors of refraction, or other defects of vision, not requiring surgical treatment, shall appear before the state controller as an applicant for a license to engage in the aforesaid profession and practice, and produce to said officer a certificate of said applicant's graduation, and shall also make affidavit that the said applicant is the person named therein, and that such certificate has been issued by a regularly chartered college.

2894. Fees—License.

SEC. 3. In addition to the foregoing requirements, any person engaging in the optical profession or practice of optometry, shall pay to the State of Nevada the sum of ten dollars, on the payment of which the state controller shall issue to such person, a license duly certified, authorizing said person to engage in the profession and practice aforesaid.

2895. Exceptions to application of act.

SEC. 4. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed as applying to regularly qualified medical practitioners, nor to persons who have been engaged in the optical profession, or the practice of optometry in the State of Nevada for one year preceding the passage of this act.

2896. Penalty for violation—District attorney to prosecute.

SEC. 5. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be fined in a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars, nor less than twenty dollars, and it shall be the duty of the district attorney of the county to prosecute such person.

PARTNERSHIP

To authorize the formation of limited partnerships, sections 2897-2909.

Requiring partners transacting business to file certificate of partnership, sections 2910-2914.

An Act to authorize the formation of limited partnerships.

| 2903. General and special partners. | |

2897. Limited partnerships.

SECTION 1. Limited partnerships, for the transaction of mercantile, mechanical, mining, or manufacturing business, within this territory, may be formed by two or more persons upon the terms and subject to the conditions and liabilities prescribed in this act; but nothing contained in this act shall authorize such partnerships for the purpose of banking or insurance.

2898. Responsibilities of partners.

SEC. 2. The said partnerships may consist of one or more persons, who shall be called general partners, who shall be jointly and severally responsible as general partners are by law, and of one or more persons who shall contribute to the common stock a specific sum, in actual cash payment, as capital, who shall be called special partners, and who shall not be personally liable for any debts of the partnership, except in the cases hereinafter mentioned.

2899. Terms of business.

SEC. 3. The persons forming such partnerships shall make and severally sign a certificate, which shall contain the name or firm under which said partnership is to be conducted, the names and respective places of residence of all the general and special partners, distinguishing who are general and who are special partners, the amount of capital which each special partner has contributed to the capital stock, the general nature of the business to be transacted, and the time when the partnership is to commence and when it is to terminate.

2900. Acknowledged and recorded.

SEC. 4. No such partnership shall be deemed to have been formed until a certificate, made as aforesaid, shall be acknowledged by all the partners before some officer authorized to take acknowledgment of deeds, and recorded in the office of the recorder of the county in which the principal place of business of the partnership is situated, in a book to be kept for that purpose, open to public inspection; and if the partnership shall have places of business situated in different counties, a copy of the certificate, certified by the recorder in whose office it shall be recorded, shall be filed and recorded in like manner in the office of the recorder in every such county. If any false statement shall be made in any such certificate, all the persons interested in the partnership shall be liable, as general partners, for all the engagements thereof.

Cited, State ex rel. N. T. G. & T. Co. v. Grimes, 29 Nev. 58.

2901. Publication.

SEC. 5. The partners shall, for three successive weeks immediately after such registry, publish a copy of the certificate above mentioned in a newspaper printed in the county where their principal place of business is situated; and if no such paper be there printed, then in a newspaper in the territory nearest thereto; and in case such publication be not so made, the partnership shall be deemed general.

2902. Renewal.

SEC. 6. Upon every renewal or continuation of a limited partnership beyond the time originally agreed upon for its duration, a certificate thereof shall be made, acknowledged, recorded and published, in like manner as is provided in this act for the original formation of limited partnerships, and every such partnership which shall not be renewed in conformity with the provisions of this section, shall be deemed a general partnership.

2903. General and special partners.

SEC. 7. The business of the partnership shall be conducted under a firm in which the names of the general partners only shall be inserted, and the general partners only shall transact the business. If the name of any special partner shall be used in said firm with his consent or privity, or if he shall personally make any contract respecting the concerns of the partnership with any person except the general partner, he shall be deemed and treated as a general partner.

2904. Capital stock.

SEC. 8. During the continuance of any partnership, under the provisions of this act, no part of the capital stock thereof shall be withdrawn, nor any division of interests or profits be made so as to reduce such capital stock below the sum stated in the certificate before mentioned. If at any time during the continuance or at the termination of the partnership, the property or assets shall not be sufficient to pay the partnership debts, the special partners shall severally be held responsible for all sums by them in any way received, withdrawn, or divided, with interest thereon from the time when they were so withdrawn respectively.

2905. In cases of general assignment.

SEC. 9. No general assignment by said partnership, in case of insolvency, or where their goods and estate are insufficient for the payment of all their debts, shall be valid unless it provide for a distribution of the partnership property among all the creditors in proportion to the amount of their several claims.

2906. Idem—Publication of assignment.

SEC. 10. In case of such assignment, as provided for in the preceding section, the assent of the creditors shall be presumed, unless, within sixty days after notice thereof, they shall dissent; and no such assignment shall be valid unless notice thereof shall be given in some newspaper printed in the county where the place of business of the party making it is situated; or if no newspaper be printed in such county, then in some newspaper printed in the territory nearest thereto, within fourteen days after the making such assignment.

2907. Suits against general partners only—Exception.

SEC. 11. All suits respecting the business of such partnerships shall be prosecuted by and against the general partners only, except in those cases in which provision is made in this act that the special partners shall be deemed general partners, and that special partnerships shall be deemed general partnerships, in which cases all the partners deemed general partners may join or be joined in such suits; and excepting, also, those cases where special partners shall be held severally responsible on account of any sums by them received or withdrawn from the common stock, as before provided.

2908. Dissolution of partnerships.

SEC. 12. No dissolution of a limited partnership shall take place except by operation of law, before the time specified in the certificate before mentioned, unless a notice of such dissolution shall be recorded in the recorder's office in which the original certificate, or the certificate of renewal or continuation of the partnership was recorded, and unless such notice shall also be published for three successive weeks in some newspaper printed in the county where the certificates of the formation of such partnerships were published, according to the provisions of this act; and if no newspaper shall, at the time of such dissolution, be printed in such county, then the notice of such dissolution shall be published in some newspaper in this territory nearest thereto.

2909. Liability and rights of partners.

SEC. 13. In all cases not otherwise provided for in this act, the members of limited partnerships shall be subject to all the liabilities and entitled to all the rights of general partners.

An Act requiring partners transacting business in this state to file certificate of partnership with names of each individual comprising the same.

Approved February 9, 1887, 46

county clerk to be. |

2910. File certificate with county clerk—Publication of same.

SECTION 1. Every partnership transacting business in this state under a fictitious name or a designation not showing the names of the persons interested as partners in such business, must file with the clerk of the county in which the said partnership is carrying on business, a certificate, stating the names in full of the members of such partnership and their places of residence, and publish the same once a week for four successive weeks in a newspaper published in the county, if there be one, and if there be none in such county, then in a newspaper published in an adjoining county.

2911. Certificate—Form of—Publication, when—Penalty for failure.

SEC. 2. The certificate filed with the clerk, as provided in section 1 of this act, must be signed by the partners and acknowledged before some officer authorized to take the acknowledgment of conveyances of real property. Where the partnership is hereafter formed, the certificate must be filed, and the publication designated in that section must be made within one month after the formation of the partnership, or within one month from the time designated in the agreement of its members for the commencement of the partnership; where the partnership has been heretofore formed, the certificate must be filed and the publication made within two months after the passage of this act. Persons doing business as partners contrary to the provisions of this act, shall not maintain any action upon, or on account of any contracts made or transactions had in their partnership name, in any court of this state, until they have first filed the certificate and made the publication herein required.

2912. New certificate on change of partners.

SEC. 3. On every change in the members of a partnership transacting business in this state under a fictitious name or a designation which does not show the names of the persons interested as partners in its business, a new certificate must be filed with the county clerk, and a new publication made, as required in this act, on the formation of such partnership.

2913. Clerk to keep register.

SEC. 4. Every county clerk must keep a register of the names of firms and persons mentioned in the certificates filed with him, pursuant to this act, entering in alphabetical order the name of every such partnership and of each partner therein, and he shall charge for each name so entered the sum of twenty-five cents, to be collected as other fees, which shall be full compensation for filing and registration.

2914. Evidence of fact—Copies of entries of county clerk to be.

SEC. 5. Copies of the entries of a county clerk, as herein directed, when certified by him, and affidavits of publication as herein directed made by the printer, publisher or chief clerk of a newspaper, are prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated; provided, that this act shall not apply to any incorporation duly created and existing under and by virtue of the laws governing and providing for the creation of incorporations in this state and now engaged or hereafter to be engaged in doing business in this state.

The following citations concerning partnerships, although not referring to the preceding acts, are here given as a matter of convenience:

Ultimate facts showing partnership as between partners. As between partners the ultimate facts whence a partnership is deduced are first, the agreement, and second, its execution; summed up as the executed agreement: there can be no partnership between parties, so far as they solely are concerned, without a consent thereto and a fulfillment thereof. Groves v. Tallman, 8 Nev. 178.

Partnership contracts joint. Partnership obligations are joint in their nature at least to the extent that one partner may always take advantage of the nonjoinder of his copartner in an action on a partnership contract. Tinkum v. O'Neale, 5 Nev. 93.

Judgment against one partner bars action against his copartner. A judgment against one partner upon a partnership contract merges the debt and constitutes a bar to a subsequent action for the same breach against his copartners. Idem.

Action against partner where copartner discharged in bankruptcy. Where one of two partners is discharged in bankruptcy, the other may be proceeded against alone. Idem.

Partnership in real estate—Burden of proof as to ownership. Hogle v. Lowe, 12 Nev. 286.

Real estate, when partnership property. Idem.

Power of partners to borrow money. A general partner in a mercantile business may borrow money for the benefit of the firm, and pledge its credit therefor, unless restrained by the articles of copartnership, of which the lender has notice. Roney v. Buckland, 4 Nev. 45.

Partners—Not bound by mortgage of copartner. Arnold v. Stevenson, 2 Nev. 234.

Real estate—Purchase of by one partner. The purchase of real estate may or may not be within the scope of the partnership business. Davis v. Cook, 14 Nev. 265.

Purchase in firm name binding. Plaintiff need not inquire as to consent of other partners. Idem.

Partners, joint tenants. Partners are quasi joint tenants, the survivor having a peculiar, qualified survivorship. Whitmore v. Shiverick, 3 Nev. 288.

A partner cannot sell his interest in partnership property so as to deprive his copartners of their lien thereon for partnership liabilities. Nor can a mortgage executed by one partner have such effect. Idem.

Partnership property may be sold without the right of redemption. Where the property of an insolvent partnership is ordered to be sold in order to pay the partnership debts, the right of redemption does not exist. Rhoades v. Williams, 12 Nev. 20.

Who not partners. Jones v. O'Farrell, 1 Nev. 354.

Liability as partners. Person sharing in profits as compensation for labor not liable. Mason v. Hackett, 4 Nev. 420.

Partners—When action at law may be maintained between. When balance has been found and agreed upon. Wicks v. Lippman, 13 Nev. 499.

Dissolution of copartnership—Relation of partners—Surety and principal debtor—Payment of indebtedness. Upon the dissolution of a copartnership where there is an agreement that one partner assumes and will pay all the debts of the firm, he thereby becomes the principal debtor, and the other partner becomes his surety, as between themselves and all others dealing with them with knowledge of the facts, and the surety has the right to protect himself by settling the indebtedness for which he is liable, at any time, whether it is due or not. Barber v. Gillson, 18 Nev. 89 (1 P. 452).

Partnership—Publication of notice of dissolution—Liability of party who holds himself out to the world as a partner. If a retiring partner, after notice of dissolution is published in a newspaper, holds himself out to the world as a partner, he must, in order to relieve himself from liability on account of such publication, prove that knowledge of such notice of dissolution came to the actual knowledge of plaintiff. Hixon v. Pixley, 15 Nev. 475.

Knowledge of dissolution—Lapse of time to be considered. Idem.

Dissolution of copartnership—Payment of taxes. Young v. Clute, 12 Nev. 31.

Allowance of costs in suit within the discretion of the court. Idem.

Surviving partner—Right of action. A surviving partner is entitled to sue in his representative capacity for the amount due the partnership, and in his own name for the amount due to himself individually. The respective demands may be united in the same action, but should be separately stated. Quillen v. Arnold, 12 Nev. 234.

2916. Relatives to support in certain cases—Intemperance.

SEC. 2. Every poor person who shall be unable to earn a livelihood in consequence of bodily infirmity, idiocy, lunacy, or other cause, shall be supported by the father, grandfather, mother, grandmother, children, grandchildren, brothers, or sisters of such poor person, if they, or either of them, be of sufficient ability; and every person who shall fail to support his or her father, grandfather, mother, grandmother, child, grandchild, sister, or brother, when directed by the board of commissioners of the county where such poor person shall be found, whether such relatives reside in the county or not, shall forfeit and pay to the county, for the use of the poor of their county, the sum of thirty dollars per month, to be recovered in the name of the county commissioners for the use of the poor, as aforesaid, before any justice of the peace, or any court having jurisdiction; provided, that when any person becomes a pauper from intemperance, or other bad conduct, he shall not be entitled to any support from any relation, except parent and child.

2917. Relatives called upon for support.

SEC. 3. The children shall be first called on to support their parents, if there be children of sufficient ability; if there be none, the parents of such poor persons shall be next called upon, and if there be no parents or children of sufficient ability, the brothers and sisters shall be next called on; and if there be no brothers and sisters, the grandchildren of such poor persons shall be called on, and then the grandparents; but married females, whilst their husbands live, shall not be liable to a suit, except that in cases where the grandchildren shall become paupers, the grandparents shall not be liable for but one-half the amount of such charge, or vice versa.

2918. County support—When—How.

SEC. 4. When any poor person shall not have relatives in any county in this state, as are named in the preceding section, or such relatives shall not be of sufficient ability, or shall fail or refuse to maintain such pauper, then the said pauper shall receive such relief as the case may require, out of the county treasury, and the county commissioners may either make a contract for the necessary maintenance of the poor, or appoint such agents as they may deem necessary to oversee and provide for the same.

2919. County commissioners to apprentice minors.

SEC. 5. When a minor shall become, or be likely to become chargeable to the county, either because of being an orphan, or because the parents, or other relations, as aforesaid, are unable, or refuse, to support such minor, it shall be the duty of the county commissioners to bind such minor as an apprentice, to some respectable householder of the county, by written indenture, which shall bind such minor to serve as an apprentice, and shall in all respects, be to the tenor and effect as required in the act concerning apprentices, and in the absence of such law, in such manner as they shall deem for the best interests of said minor.

See secs. 482-497.

2920. Sick paupers—Death and burial—Allowance.

SEC. 6. When any nonresident, or any other person not coming within the definition of a pauper, shall fall sick in any county of this state, not having money or property to pay his board, nursing or medical aid, it shall be the duty of the commissioners of the proper county, on complaint being made, to give, or order to be given, such assistance to such poor person as they may deem just and necessary; and if such sick person shall die, then the said commissioners shall give, or order to be given, to such person, a decent burial; and the said commissioners shall make such allowance for board, nursing, medical aid, or burial expenses, as they shall deem just and equitable, and order the same to be paid out of the county treasury.

The liability of a county, for the relief and support of its indigent poor is purely statutory, and to render one county liable for such relief granted by another county to one of the former's indigent residents, the case must come fairly within the statute. Washoe Co. v. Eureka Co., 25 Nev. 356 (60 P. 376); Lander Co. v. Humboldt Co., 21 Nev. 416-418 (32 P. 849).

There are none of the elements of a contract, expressed or implied, in a demand for the relief or support of the poor. The liability exists only in the pursuance of the positive provisions of the statute. Idem.

A county in this state is only liable for relief furnished by another county to one of its indigent residents when such indigent is a pauper. Idem.

2921. Satisfactory evidence of residence.

SEC. 7. When an application is made by any pauper to the board of county commissioners of any county in this state, for relief, it shall be necessary for said commissioners to require of said pauper satisfactory evidence that he or she has been a resident of said county for six months immediately preceding the day upon which such application is made, or if such is not the case, satisfactory evidence in regard to where said pauper last resided for six months prior to arrival in the county where such application is made. As amended, Stats. 1867, 116.

2922. When pauper entitled to relief—Temporary relief—Pauper to be removed—County of residence to afford relief—Liable for temporary relief.

SEC. 8. When application is made by any pauper to the board of county commissioners aforesaid, and it shall appear to the satisfaction of said board that the person so applying for relief has resided in said county agreeably to the provisions of the foregoing section of this act, said pauper shall be entitled to all of the relief provided by this act; but if, on the contrary, it shall appear to the satisfaction of said board, that such pauper has not been a resident of said county agreeable to the provisions of the foregoing section, but that said pauper, previous to removing to the said county, where said application is made, was a resident of some other county of this state, said board shall provide temporary relief for said pauper, and immediately notify the board of county commissioners of the county where said pauper last had a residence for six months, and said notice shall be in writing, duly attested by the clerk of the board of county commissioners, and deposited in the post-office, addressed to the board of county commissioners of said county, and it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners receiving said notice to cause said pauper to be immediately removed to their county, and pay a reasonable compensation for the temporary relief afforded, and if said board of commissioners neglect or refuse to remove said pauper, the county affording relief shall have a legal claim against said county for all relief necessarily furnished, and may recover the same in a suit at law. As amended, Stats. 1867, 117.

Cited, Lander Co. v. Humboldt Co., 21 Nev. 417 (32 P. 849).

When one county furnishes relief to a pauper resident of another county, the latter county incurs no legal liability to the former therefor, unless the statutory notice is given. Washoe Co. v. Eureka Co., 25 Nev. 356, 360, 361, 363 (60 P. 376).

The word "immediately" means as soon as practicable or without unnecessary delay. Idem.

It is essential to the validity of the notice that it shall emanate from the board of county commissioners who are charged with the care of the poor, and that it shall tend to show that it is from that official body, and that it be attested by the clerk of such board. Idem.

An attestation by the county clerk, simply as such clerk, is not an attestation by the clerk of the board of county commissioners. Idem.

2923. When not entitled to relief.

SEC. 9. After service of such notice, as aforesaid, no pauper shall be entitled to relief from such county, unless the county commissioners shall deem it absolutely necessary.

2924. County workhouses may be established.

SEC. 10. The board of county commissioners of any county in this state may, if they think proper, cause to be built or provided in their respective counties, workhouses for the accommodation and employment of such paupers as may, from time to time, become a county charge, and said workhouse and paupers shall be under such rules and regulations as said board of commissioners may deem proper and just.

2925. Penalty for transporting paupers.

SEC. 11. If any person shall bring and leave any pauper in any county in this state, wherein such pauper is not lawfully settled, knowing him to be a pauper, he shall forfeit and pay the sum of one hundred dollars for every such offense, to be sued for and recovered by and to the use of such county in a civil action before any court having jurisdiction of the same.

See secs. 2926-2928.

Approved February 20, 1905, 25

2926. County to support poor, when.

SECTION 1. Every county shall relieve and support all pauper, incompetent, poor, indigent persons and those incapacitated by age, disease or accident, lawfully resident therein, when such persons are not supported or relieved by their relatives or friends, or by their own means, or by state hospitals or other state or private institutions.

See sec. 2925.

2927. Act construed—Terms defined.

SEC. 2. The term "residence," as used in this act, shall be taken to mean and shall be considered to mean the actual residence of each of such persons, or the place where each such persons were employed, or in case such persons were in no employment, then it shall be considered and held to be the place where such person made his or her home, or his or her headquarters.

2928. Bringing pauper into state misdemeanor—Penalty.

SEC. 3. Every person, firm or corporation, or the officers, agents, servants or employees of any person, firm or corporation, bringing into or leaving within, or aiding in the bringing into or the leaving within, of any pauper or poor or indigent or incapacitated or incompetent person as hereinbefore mentioned, in any county in the State of Nevada, wherein such person is not lawfully settled or not lawfully residing as herein defined, knowing him to be such pauper, poor, indigent, or incapacitated or incompetent person, and for the purpose of imposing said person as a public charge on the county to which said person shall be taken as aforesaid shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum not less than twenty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not more than sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

2942. Price per volume.

2945. Reports turned over to successor.

2943. Volumes retained.

2946. Points and authorities.

2941. By whom and in what manner published.

SECTION 1. There shall be published by the publishers of the current volumes of Nevada supreme court reports, from time to time, under the direction and by the approval of the supreme court, all volumes of the reports of the decisions of said court which shall be out of print, or so nearly so as to make the republication thereof, in the opinion of the court, advisable; and such republication shall be edited by such person, learned in the law, as shall be selected or approved by said court, and in such manner, and with such reduction of the number of volumes as said court shall, by its order, direct; the entire cost of such editing to be paid by the publishers, and the numbers and pages of the present volumes to be preserved in such new edition; and the plates of all such volumes of reports as shall be republished under this act shall be stereotyped, and four hundred copies of each volume thereof, the same to be of the same style and quality as to paper and binding as volume 10 of Nevada Reports, and to contain seven hundred and fifty pages or more, as the supreme court may determine, shall be delivered to the secretary of state. And upon furnishing to the secretary of state such copies, and satisfactory proof of having stereotyped the plates of such volumes, the said publishers shall receive from the state the price of two dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) per copy for each volume of Nevada Reports so republished and furnished to the state, to be audited by the state board of examiners, and paid by the state treasurer, on the warrant of the state controller, out of any money not otherwise appropriated; provided, that when two volumes of said reports shall be printed and bound in one volume, by direction of the supreme court, the price to be paid by the state shall be five dollars ($5) per copy; and, provided further, that the said publishers shall enter into a contract, to be approved by the justices of the supreme court, and filed in the office of the secretary of state, stipulating that they will faithfully perform all the acts and conditions in this act required to be performed by them, and particularly will, at all times, keep for sale, and sell to the State of Nevada, and to the residents of the state, copies of the volumes to be so republished, at the rate herein fixed; and said publishers shall give bond, for the fulfillment of said contract, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, which bond shall be filed with the secretary of state and approved by the justices of the supreme court, or a majority thereof.

See secs. 4897-4899.

2942. Price per volume.

SEC. 2. The said publishers shall sell said volumes at a price not exceeding two dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) per volume for each and every volume of Nevada Reports so republished, to all residents of this state, and no greater price shall be demanded or received by them, or their agents, or assigns, or either of them.

2943. Volumes retained.

SEC. 3. The secretary of state is hereby authorized to sell any copies of the volumes to be so republished, which the state may now have on hand exceeding fifty copies of each volume, which he shall retain for the use of the state, at the rate of two dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) per volume.

2944. Who entitled to receive reports.

SEC. 4. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state, upon the republication of these reports as herein provided, to ascertain to whom the early reports have been supplied, as per act of February twentieth, eighteen hundred and seventy-five, and supply, when he finds deficiencies, the following parties with all the reports of the supreme court of Nevada: To each state and territory, one copy; to each of the heads of departments at Washington, one copy; to the library of Congress and the Nevada state library, two copies; to each of the United States circuit and district courts in the States of Nevada, California and Oregon, one copy; to each state officer, justice of the supreme court, clerk of the supreme court, district judge, district attorney, county clerk, and justice of the peace in this state, one copy; and to each public library and literary association within this state, one copy. He shall, also, from time to time, distribute said reports to such literary and scientific institutions, publishers, and authors as, in his opinion, may secure an interchange of works which may be properly placed in the state library. The remaining copies shall be kept in the office of the secretary of state for the use of the legislature when in session; provided, that no distribution shall be made to any party or parties outside of the state when there may be less than one hundred copies of any given volume on hand.

2945. Reports turned over to successor.

SEC. 5. All reports distributed to state, district, and other officers in this state, shall be for the use of the office, and shall be, by the person receiving the same, turned over to his successor in office; and the secretary of state shall take proper receipts for such reports.

See secs. 2935, 2952.

2946. Points and authorities.

SEC. 6. All volumes of reports republished under this act, except volumes 1 and 2, shall contain a brief citation of the points made and authorities cited by the attorneys.

SEC. 6. The local health officer in each county shall act as a collector of vital statistics and is empowered to appoint such deputy or deputies as may be necessary with the approval of the board of county commissioners. For collecting and compiling the vital statistics of the county he shall receive from the county a sum not less than twenty-five dollars per month, and the board of county commissioners are directed to allow a claim for this or for such greater sum as they may deem proper for the work performed; the deputies appointed by the local health officer with the approval of the county commissioners, shall be paid in the same manner a sum not to exceed twenty-five dollars per month, for registering and compiling the data prescribed by the state board of health and by this act. The deputy health officers shall file with the local health officer monthly reports not later than the fifth day of each month, which said reports, shall be compiled by the local health officer and forwarded to the secretary of the state board of health, not later than the tenth day of each month. He shall file a copy of said report with the county recorder.

2958. Certificate of death, regulations regarding.

SEC. 7. The certificate of death that shall be used is of the United States standard form as approved by the bureau of the census. The personal and statistical particulars shall be authenticated by the signature of the informant, who may be any competent person acquainted with the facts. The statement of facts relating to the disposition of the body shall be signed by the undertaker or person acting as such. The medical certificate shall be signed by the physician, if any, last in attendance on the deceased, who shall specify the time in attendance, the time he last saw the deceased alive and the hour of the day at which death occurred. And he shall further state the cause of death, so as to show the course of disease or sequence of causes resulting in the death, giving first the name of the disease causing death (primary cause), and the contributory (secondary) cause, if any, and the duration of each. Indefinite and unsatisfactory terms, indicating only symptoms of disease or conditions resulting from disease, will not be held sufficient for issuing a burial or removal permit; and any certificate containing only such terms as defined by the state board of health shall be returned to the physician for correction and more definite statement. Causes of death, which may be the result of either disease or violence, shall be carefully defined; and if from violence, the means of injury shall be stated, and whether (probably) accidental, suicidal, or homicidal. And in deaths in hospitals, institutions, or of nonresidence, the physician shall furnish the information required under this head and may state where, in his opinion, the disease was contracted.

2959. In cases of death without medical attendance.

SEC. 8. That in case of any death occurring without medical attendance, it shall be the duty of the undertaker to notify the local health officer of such death, and refer the case to him for immediate investigation and certification prior to issuing the permit; provided, where there is no qualified physician in attendance, and in such cases only, the local health officer is authorized to make the certificate and return from the statements of relatives or other persons having adequate knowledge of the facts; provided, further, that if the death was caused by unlawful or suspicious means, the local health officer shall then refer the case to the coroner for investigation and certification. And any coroner whose duty it is to hold an inquest on the body of any deceased person, and to make the certificate of death required for a burial permit, shall state in his certificate the name of the disease causing death, or if, from external causes (1) the means of death; and (2) whether (probably) accidental, suicidal or homicidal; and shall, in either case, furnish such information as may be required by the state board of health in order properly to classify the death.

2960. Duties of undertaker.

SEC. 9. That the undertaker, or person acting as undertaker, shall be responsible for obtaining and filing the certificate of death with the local health officer, or his deputy, in the district in which the death occurred, and for securing a burial or removal permit, prior to any disposition of the body. He shall obtain the personal and statistical particulars required from the person best qualified to supply them, over the signature and address of his informant. He shall then present the certificate to the attending physician, if any, or to the health officer, or coroner, for the medical certificate of the cause of death and other particulars necessary to complete the record, as specified in sections

7 and 8. And he shall then state the facts required relative to the date and place of burial over his signature and with his address, and present the completed certificate to the local health officer, in order to obtain a permit for burial, removal or other disposition of the body. The undertaker shall deliver the burial permit to the sexton, or person in charge of the place of burial, before interring or otherwise disposing of the body; or shall attach the transit containing the registration removal permit to the box containing the corpse when shipped by any transportation company; said permit to accompany the corpse to its destination, where if within the State of Nevada, it shall be delivered to the sexton or to any other person in charge of the place of burial.

2961. Burial permit, what to contain.

SEC. 10. That if the interment or other disposition of the body is to be made within the state, the wording of the burial permit may be limited to a statement by the local health officer, and over his signature that a satisfactory certificate of death having been filed with him, as required by law, permission is granted to inter, remove or otherwise dispose of the deceased, stating the name, age, sex, cause of death, and other necessary details upon the form prescribed by the state board of health.

2962. Body not to be interred without proper permit.

SEC. 11. That no sexton or person in charge of any premises in which interments are made shall inter or permit the interment or other disposition of any body unless it is accompanied by a burial, removal or transit permit, as herein provided. And each sexton, or person in charge of any burial ground, shall endorse upon the permit the date of interment, over his signature and shall return all permits so endorsed to the local health officer of his district, within ten days from the date of interment, or within the time fixed by the local health officer or by the state board of health. He shall also keep a record of all interments made in the premises under his charge, stating the name of the deceased person, place of death, date of burial, and name and address of undertaker; which record shall at all times be open to public inspection.

2963. Births to be registered.

SEC. 12. That all births that occur in the state shall be immediately registered in the districts in which they occur, as hereinafter provided.

2964. Duties of physician or midwife.

SEC. 13. That it shall be the duty of the attending physician or midwife to file a certificate of birth, properly and completely filled out, giving all the particulars required by this act, with the local health officer, of the district in which the birth occurred, within ten days after the date of birth. And if there be no attending physician or midwife, then it shall be the duty of the father or mother of the child, householder or owner of the premises, manager or superintendent of public or private institutions in which the birth occurred, to notify the local health officer, within ten days after the birth, of the fact that a birth has occurred. It shall then be the duty of the local health officer to secure the necessary information and signature to make a proper certificate of birth; provided, that in cities the certificate of birth shall be filed at a less interval than ten days after birth, if so required by municipal ordinance or regulations now in force or that may hereafter be enacted.

2965. What birth certificate must contain.

SEC. 14. That the certificate of birth shall contain the following items:

(1) Place of birth, including state, county, township, or town, village or city. If in a city, the ward, street, and house number; if in a hospital or other institution, the name of the same to be given, instead of the street and house number.

(2) Full name of child. If the child dies without a name, before the certificate is filed, enter the words "died unnamed." If the living child has not yet been named at the date of filing certificate of birth, the space for "full name of child" is to be left blank, to be filled out subsequently by a supplemental report, as hereinafter provided.

(3) Sex of child.

(4) Whether a twin, triplet, or other plural birth. A separate certificate shall be required for each child in case of plural birth, giving number of child in order of birth.

(5) Whether legitimate or illegitimate.

(6) Full name of father, except for illegitimate children.

(7) Residence of father.

(8) Color or race of father.

(9) Birthplace of father; state or foreign country.

(10) Age of father at last birthday, in years.

(11) Occupation of father.

(12) Maiden name of mother.

(13) Residence of mother.

(14) Color or race of mother.

(15) Birthplace of mother; state or foreign country.

(16) Age of mother at last birthday, in years.

(17) Occupation of mother.

(18) Number of child of this mother, and number of children of this mother now living.

(19) Born at full term?

(20) The certificate of attending physician or midwife as to attendance at birth, including statement of year, month, day and hour of birth, and whether the child was alive or dead at birth. This certificate shall be signed by the attending physician or midwife, with date of signature and address; if there is no physician or midwife in attendance, then the father or mother of the child, householder or owner of the premises, or manager or superintendent of public or private institution, or other competent person, whose duty it shall be to notify the local health officer of such birth, as required by section 13 of this act.

(21) Exact date of filing in office of local health officer attested by his official signature, and registered number of birth, as hereinafter provided.

All certificates, either of birth or death, shall be written legibly, in unfading black ink, and no certificate shall be held to be complete and correct that does not supply all of the items of information called for herein, or satisfactorily account for their omission.

2966. Given name of child, special blank for.

SEC. 15. That when any certificate of birth of a living child is presented without the statement of the given name, then the local health officer shall make out and deliver to the parents of the child a special blank for the supplemental report of the given name of the child, which shall be filled out as directed, and returned to the local health officer as soon as the child shall have been named.

2967. Physicians, midwives and undertakers to register names and addresses with local health officer.

SEC. 16. That every physician, midwife and undertaker shall, without delay, register his or her name, address and occupation with the local health officer of the district in which he or she resides, or may hereafter establish a residence; and shall thereupon be supplied by the local health officer with a copy of this act, together with such rules and regulations as may be prepared by the state board of health relative to its enforcement. Within thirty days after the close of each calendar year each local health officer shall make a return to the state board of health of all physicians, midwives or undertakers who have been registered in his district during the whole or any part of the preceding calendar year; provided, that no fee or other compensation shall be charged by local health officers to physicians, midwives or undertakers for registering their names under this section or making returns thereof to the state board of health.

2968. Superintendents of hospitals to record statistics of inmates.

SEC. 17. That all superintendents or managers, or other persons in charge of hospitals, almshouses, lying-in or other institutions, public or private, to which persons resort for treatment of diseases, confinement, or are committed by process of law, are hereby required to make a record of all the personal and statistical particulars relative to the inmates in their institutions at the date of approval of this act, that are required in the forms of the certificates provided for by this act, as directed by the state board of health; and thereafter such records shall be, by them, made for all future inmates at the time of their admission. And in case of persons admitted or committed for medical treatment of disease, the physician in charge shall specify for entry in the record, the nature of the disease, and where, in his opinion, it was contracted. The personal particulars and information required by this section shall be obtained from the individual himself if it is practicable to do so; and when they cannot be so obtained, they shall be secured in as complete a manner as possible from relatives, friends, or other persons acquainted with the facts.

2969. State board of health to furnish necessary blanks—Various duties of secretary.

SEC. 18. That the state board of health shall prepare, print and supply to all local health officers all blanks and forms used in registering, recording and preserving the returns, or in otherwise carrying out the purposes of this act; and shall prepare and issue such detailed instructions as may be required to secure the uniform observance of its provisions and the maintenance of a perfect system of registration. And no other blanks shall be used than those supplied by the secretary of the state board of health. He shall carefully examine the certificates received monthly from the local health officer, and if any such are incomplete or unsatisfactory he shall require such further information to be furnished as may be necessary to make the record complete and satisfactory. And all physicians, midwives, informants or undertakers, and all other persons having knowledge of the facts, are hereby required to furnish such information as they may possess regarding any birth or death upon demand of the secretary of the state board of health, in person, by mail, or through the local health officer. He shall further arrange, bind and permanently preserve the certificates in a systematic manner, and shall prepare and maintain a comprehensive and continuous card index of all births and deaths registered; the cards to show the name of child or deceased, place and date of birth or death, number of certificate, and the volume in which it is contained. He shall inform all health officers what diseases are to be considered as infectious, contagious, or communicable and dangerous to the public health, as decided by the state board of health, in order that when deaths occur from such diseases proper precautions may be taken to prevent the spreading of dangerous diseases.

2970. Local health officer to supply blanks—To issue burial permits—Birth certificates, duties regarding—To keep complete record.

SEC. 19. That it shall be the duty of the local health officer to supply blank forms of certificates to such persons as require them. Each local health officer shall carefully examine each certificate of birth or death when presented for record, to see that it has been made out in accordance with the provisions of this act and the instructions of the state board of health; and if any certificate of death is incomplete or unsatisfactory, it shall be his duty to call attention to the defects in the return, and to withhold issuing the burial or removal permit until they are corrected. If the certificate of death is properly executed and complete, he shall then issue a burial or removal permit to the undertaker; provided, that in case the death occurred from some disease that is held by the state board of health to be infectious, contagious, or communicable and dangerous to the public health, no permit for the removal or other disposition of the body shall be granted by the local health officer, except under such conditions as may be prescribed by the state board of health. If a certificate of birth is incomplete, he shall immediately notify the informant, and require him to supply the missing items if they can be obtained. He shall then number consecutively the certificates of birth and death, in two separate series, beginning with the number 1 for the first birth and the first death in each calendar year, and sign his name as health officer, in attest of the date of filing in his office. He shall also make a complete and accurate copy of each birth and death certificate registered by him in a record book supplied by the state board of health to be permanently preserved in his office as the local record, in such manner as directed by the state board of health. And he shall, on the tenth day of each month, transmit to the state board of health, all original certificates registered by him during the preceding month. And if no births or deaths occurred in any month, he shall, on the tenth day of the following month, report that fact to the state board of health, on a card provided for this purpose.

2971. Certified copies issued, when—Fee for same.

SEC. 20. That the state board of health shall, upon request, furnish any applicant a certified copy of the record of any birth or death registered under provisions of this act, for the making and certification of which he shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents, to be paid by the applicant. And any such copy of the record of a birth or death, when properly certified by the secretary of the state board of health to be a true copy thereof, shall be prima facie evidence in all courts and places of the facts therein stated. For any search of the files and records when no certified copy is made the state board of health shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents for each hour or fractional part of an hour of time of search, to be paid by the applicant. And the state board of health shall keep a true and correct account of all fees received under these provisions.

2972. Penalties for physician, undertaker, and health officer.

SEC. 21. That any physician who was in medical attendance upon any deceased person at the time of death who shall neglect or refuse to make out and deliver to the undertaker, sexton or other person in charge of the interment, removal or other disposition of the body, upon request, the medical certificate of the cause of death, hereinbefore provided for, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than five dollars nor more than fifty dollars. And if any physician shall knowingly make a false certification of the cause of death, in any case, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars.

And any physician or midwife in attendance upon a case of confinement, or any other person charged with responsibility for reporting births, in the order named in section 13 of this act, who shall neglect or refuse to file a proper certificate of birth with the local health officer within the time required by this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than five dollars nor more than fifty dollars.

And any undertaker, sexton, or other person acting as undertaker, who shall inter, remove, or otherwise dispose of the body of any deceased person, without having received a burial or removal permit as herein provided, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than twenty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars.

And any local health officer, or his deputy, who shall neglect or fail to enforce the provisions of this act in his district, or shall neglect or refuse to perform any of the duties imposed upon him by this act or by the instructions and directions of the state board of health, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars.

And any person who shall wilfully alter any certificate of birth or death, or the copy of any certificate of birth or death, on file in the office of the local or state board of health shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail not exceeding sixty days, or suffer both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

And any other person or persons who shall violate any of the provisions of this act, or who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to perform any duties imposed upon them by the provisions of this act, or shall furnish false information to a physician, undertaker, midwife, or informant, for the purpose of making incorrect certification of births or deaths, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars.

And any transportation company or common carrier transporting or carrying, or accepting through its agents or employees for transportation or carriage, the body of any deceased person, without an accompanying permit issued in accordance with the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars; provided, that in case the death occurred outside of the state and the body is accompanied by a burial, removal, or transit permit issued in accordance with the law or board of health regulations in force where the death occurred, such burial, removal or transit permit may be held to authorize the transportation or carriage of the body into or through the state.

2973. Duties of local health officer and state board—Duties of district attorney and attorney-general.

SEC. 22. That each local health officer is hereby charged with the strict and thorough enforcement of the provisions of this act in his registration district, under the supervision and direction of the state board of health. And he shall make an immediate report to the state board of health of any violation of this law coming to his notice, by observation or upon complaint of any person or otherwise. The state board of health is hereby charged with the thorough and efficient execution of the provisions of this act in every part of the state, and with supervisory power over local health officers, to the end that all of its requirements shall be uniformly complied with. They shall have authority to investigate cases of irregularity or violation of the law, personally or by an accredited representative, and all local health officers shall aid him, upon request, in such investigations. When they shall deem it necessary, they shall report cases of violation of any of the provisions of this act to the prosecuting attorney of the county, with a statement of the facts and circumstances; and when any such case is reported to him by the state board of health, the prosecuting attorney shall forthwith initiate and promptly follow up the necessary court proceedings against the person or corporation responsible for the alleged violation of law. And upon request of the state board of health, the attorney-general shall likewise assist in the enforcement of the provisions of this act.

2974. Burial certificate must issue, when—Proviso.

SEC. 23. That the body of any person whose death occurs in the state shall not be interred, deposited in a vault or tomb, cremated or otherwise disposed of, removed from or into any registration district or be held temporarily pending a further disposition more than seventy-two hours after death, until a permit for burial or removal or other disposition thereof shall have been properly issued by the local health officer of the registration district in which the death occurred. And no such burial or removal permit shall be issued by any local health officer, until a complete and satisfactory certificate of death has been filed with him as hereinbefore provided; provided, that when a dead body is transported by a common carrier into a local health district in Nevada, for burial, then the transit and removal permit, issued in accordance with the law and health regulations of the place where the death occurred, when said death occurs outside of the State of Nevada, shall be accepted by that local health officer of the district, into which the body has been transported for burial or other disposition, as a basis upon which he shall issue a local burial permit, in the same way as if the death occurred in his district; he shall plainly enter upon the face of the burial permit the fact that it was a body shipped in for interment, and gave the actual place of death; but a burial permit shall not be required from the local health officer of the district in which interment is made, when a body is removed from one district in Nevada to another in this state, for purpose of burial or other disposition, either by common carrier, hearse, or other conveyance, and no local health officer shall require from undertakers or persons acting as undertakers any fee for the issue of burial or removal permits under this act.

2975. Still-birth recorded, how.

SEC. 24. That still-born children or those dead at birth shall be registered as births and also as deaths, and a certificate of both the birth and death shall be filed with the local health officer, in the usual form and manner, the certificate of birth to contain in place of the name of the child, the word "still-birth." The medical certificate of the cause of death shall be signed by the attending physician, if any, and shall state the cause of death as "still-born," with the cause of the still-birth, if known, whether a premature birth, and, if born prematurely, the period of uterine gestation, in months if known; and a burial or removal permit in the usual form shall be required. Midwives shall not sign certificates of death for still-born children; but such cases, and still-births occurring without attendance of either physician or midwife, shall be treated as deaths without medical attendance, as provided for in section 8 of this act.

2976. Salary of secretary, and office expenses.

SEC. 25. The secretary shall receive for his services a salary of fifteen hundred dollars per year, payable in equal monthly payments, and when necessary, he shall be allowed the sum of three hundred dollars a year for a stenographer; he shall also be allowed a sum not to exceed one hundred dollars a year to provide a suitable office for the conduct of the affairs of the state board of health.

2977. Appropriation.

SEC. 26. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act the sum of five thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the general fund not otherwise appropriated, and the state controller is hereby authorized to draw his warrant on the state treasury for the amount of these claims or other necessary expenditures, when approved by the state board of health, and the state treasurer is hereby directed to pay the same.

2978. State board supreme in health matters.

SEC. 27. The state board of health is hereby declared to be supreme in all health matters and they are empowered to remove any deputy or local health officer for any violation of any of the provisions of this act.

2979. Sections herein declared independent.

SEC. 28. Each section of this act and every part of each section thereof is hereby declared to be independent sections and parts of sections and the holding of any section or part thereof to be void or ineffective for any cause shall not be deemed to affect any other section or part thereof.

2980. Printing—State printer to furnish.

SEC. 29. The state printer shall supply to the state board of health all stationery, blanks and bound books that may be required on a requisition of the secretary of said board.

An Act to create a county board of health in each of the several counties of the State of Nevada.

Approved March 2, 1905, 64

2981. Composition of board.

SECTION 1. Each of the several counties of the State of Nevada shall establish a county board of health to consist of the county physician, the sheriff and board of county commissioners of said county, and the county physician to act as chairman of said board.

2982. Duties—Proviso.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the said county board of health to oversee all sanitary conditions of the respective county in which the board is created, and to supervise, control and enforce such health regulations as will best subserve the health and cleanliness of their respective counties. Said board shall act in conjunction with, and under the supervision of the state board of health; provided, however, that in cases of emergency, possibly [possible] contagion or those demanding speedy and immediate attention the said board may act independently, and shall report at once to the state board of health. And any person, firm, association, or corporation, refusing or neglecting, within five days after having been duly notified in writing, to comply with the requirements of such regulations, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than fifty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period not less than twenty-five days nor more than one hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

An Act to provide for the recording of births and deaths in the several counties of the State of Nevada.

Approved February 26, 1887, 89

2983. Record of births—Form.

2984. Record of deaths—Form.

2985. Shall be filed and recorded.

2986. Penalty for failure to comply.

2987. Penalty for false certificate.

2983. Record of births—Form.

SECTION 1. Every person who shall officiate at the birth of a child shall make a record thereof, and within three months after such birth shall make and deliver to the recorder of deeds of the county wherein the birth took place, a certificate under his hand containing the facts of such birth. The certificate may be in the following form:

State of Nevada, County of _____, ss. This is to certify that the undersigned, a physician (or midwife, as the case may be) did, on the _____ day of _____ 18___, officiate at the birth, to the wife of _____, of a son (or daughter, as the case may be), in the presence of _____ and _____, witnesses. A. B., physician (or midwife).

2984. Record of death—Form.

SEC. 2. Every person who shall officiate at the burial of any deceased person shall make a record thereof, and within two weeks after such death shall make and deliver or send by due course of mail or express, or by such other manner as will insure safe transit to the recorder of deeds of the county wherein such death took place a certificate under his hand containing particulars of such death. The certificate may be in the following form:

State of Nevada, County of _____, ss. This is to certify that the undersigned, an undertaker (or whatever his occupation may be), did, on the _____ day of _____, 18___, officiate as undertaker at the burial of _____ (or of a man or of a woman whose name is unknown), a native of _____ (or whose nativity is unknown), aged ___ years (or whose age is unknown), in the presence of _____ and _____, witnesses. A. B., undertaker.

2985. Shall be filed and recorded.

SEC. 3. All certificates provided for in sections 1 and 2 of this act shall be filed and recorded by the said recorder in a book to be kept by him for that purpose; and for each certificate so recorded the recorder shall receive a fee of fifty cents, to be paid from the general county fund in the same manner that other claims against said fund are allowed and paid. The board of county commissioners of the several counties shall provide blank certificates, to be paid for by the county, to be furnished to physicians, midwives and undertakers to enable them to carry out and comply with the requirements of this act.

2986. Penalty for failure to comply.

SEC. 4. Every person officiating at a birth or a death, as provided in this act, who shall neglect to make and deliver to the recorder a certificate thereof, within the time specified in sections 1 and 2, shall forfeit for such neglect a sum not less than twenty dollars nor more than fifty dollars, and any recorder who shall neglect to record such certificate so delivered shall forfeit a like penalty; such penalties to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction, on complaint of any person who feels aggrieved by such neglect.

2987. Penalty for false certificate.

SEC. 5. If any person shall wilfully make any false certificate of any birth or death, such person shall forfeit for every such offense a sum not to exceed five hundred dollars or be confined in the county jail for any period not to exceed six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

2. The flesh of any animal which, when killed, was sick or diseased, or that died a natural or accidental death.

2991. Calf must be at least four weeks old.

SEC. 4. No person shall slaughter, expose for sale or sell, or bring or cause to be brought into any city, town or hamlet within this state, for human food, any calf unless it is in good, healthy condition and four weeks of age.

2992. What deemed offered for sale.

SEC. 5. Any article or animal that shall be offered or exhibited for sale, in any part of this state, in any market or elsewhere, as though it was intended for sale, shall be deemed offered and exposed for sale, within the intent and meaning of this act.

2993. Article or animal forfeited.

SEC. 6. Any person or persons who, in violation of the preceding sections of this act, shall bring within this state, city, town or hamlet, slaughter or sell, or expose for sale any article or animal (therein prohibited from sale) which is unfit or unsafe for human food shall forfeit the same to the authorities.

2994. State board of health to issue certificate, when—Veterinary surgeon to be employed, when—Damages and method of recovery.

SEC. 7. It is hereby made the duty of the state board of health to issue, upon the application of any person, partnership, company, association, or corporation, named in this act, after satisfactory proof and examination of any sheep, cattle or horses found to be entirely free from all the diseases and dangers in this act specified, to issue to such person, partnership, company, association or corporation, a certificate or bill of health certifying such good health and freedom from dangerous contact of such sheep, cattle or horses as is mentioned in section 1 of this act, and it is hereby made the duty of any sheriff, constable, policeman or other peace officer or any member of said board of health to forthwith remove, and they and each of them are hereby authorized and empowered, whenever he or they shall become aware of the existence thereof, any of the animals or articles named in section [two] of the act of which this act is amendatory, at the expense of the owner or owners thereof, in a manner that will insure safety and protection to the public. It shall be the duty of the state board of health, in cases of diseased stock, to employ a competent veterinary surgeon to inspect and investigate such stock. (SEC. 3.) If any person, partnership, company, association or corporation shall bring or cause to be brought into this state, any sheep, cattle or horses, in violation of the provisions of section 1 of this act, or shall by false representation procure a certificate of health as provided in section 2 of this act, he or they shall be liable to a civil action in any court of competent jurisdiction within the State of Nevada, by the party injured for all damage sustained on account of disease communicated by or from such sheep, cattle or horses, and action therefor is hereby authorized to be brought in the same manner as other suits for damage in a civil action in this state; and the judgment for damages in any such action, shall include the costs of action and such judgment shall be a lien upon all such sheep, cattle or horses, and a writ of attachment may issue in the first instance, and the court rendering such judgment may order the sale of said sheep, cattle or horses, or so many thereof as may be necessary to satisfy said judgment and accruing costs. Such sale shall be conducted as other sales under execution. As amended, Stats. 1895, 91.

2995. Penalty for violation.

SEC. 8. Every person violating any of the provisions of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum not exceed [ing] five hundred dollars, nor less than twenty dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not more than six months, nor fewer than twenty days. As amended, Stats. 1895, 91.

An Act to provide for preventing the spread of contagious diseases.

Approved March 12, 1903, 85

- 2996. Contagious diseases—Duty of county commissioners. 3001. Lawful to confine patient or person violating quarantine regulations.
- 2997. Quarantine officers to be appointed. 3002. State board of health may adopt quarantine regulations.
- 2998. Object of act.
- 2999. Failure to obey act, misdemeanor. 3003. Misdemeanor—Penalty.
- 3000. Quarantine regulations, failure to obey, misdemeanor.

2996. Contagious disease—Duty of county commissioners.

SECTION 1. Whenever it shall come to the knowledge of the county commissioners of any county in the State of Nevada, or to any one of them, that any case of smallpox or any other highly contagious disease exists in such county, said county commissioners shall meet and take all necessary and proper steps to prevent the spread of such disease. The commissioner living nearest the place at which such disease first appears shall act for the board of county commissioners till a meeting can be held, but shall notify the other members of the board immediately, by telegraph if possible, requesting a meeting, and when such meeting shall be held, he shall report his actions, which shall be confirmed by such board if found to be reasonable and necessary to prevent the spread of such disease.

2997. Quarantine officers to be appointed.

SEC. 2. The board of county commissioners may, and it shall be their duty, to adopt and enforce quarantine regulations in any and all cases of contagious disease appearing in their county, including the placing under quarantine of buildings, ranches, or towns; and upon the appearance of a highly contagious disease, they shall appoint whatever quarantine officers may be needed, and provide whatever buildings, medicines, disinfectants, and provisions may be required, and shall arrange for the payment of all debts or charges so incurred from any funds available; provided, however, each patient shall, if able, pay for his own food, medicines, clothes, and medical attendance.

2998. Object of act.

SEC. 3. The object of this act is to prevent the spread of any and all contagious diseases among human beings, from the place of origin in each county and from one county into another, and it shall be so construed by the various boards of county commissioners and by the courts within this state, in order to protect the inhabitants thereof.

2999. Failure to obey act, misdemeanor.

SEC. 4. Failure by any person to obey the provisions of this act, or any of them, shall be a misdemeanor.

3000. Quarantine regulations, failure to obey, misdemeanor.

SEC. 5. Failure to obey the quarantine regulations adopted by the board of county commissioners in any county in this state shall be a misdemeanor. The board of county commissioners shall, however, when formulating such regulations, consult with the county board of health, if there be any, or with the county physician, if there be any, or with the state board of health when practicable, but, when there is need of prompt action, shall act upon their own judgment temporarily at least.

3001. Lawful to confine patient or person violating quarantine regulations.

SEC. 6. It shall be lawful to confine any patient for a reasonable time, or any other person who violates the quarantine regulations made by the board of county commissioners, if such confinement is thought to be necessary to prevent the spread of disease.

3002. State board of health may adopt quarantine regulations.

SEC. 7. The state board of health may adopt reasonable quarantine regulations for the guidance of the boards of county commissioners, and such regulations shall be enforced as supplementary to the provisions of this act.

3003. Misdemeanor—Penalty.

SEC. 8. Any person convicted of a misdemeanor under the provisions of this act shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500) or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

3004. Highways, what are.

SECTION 1. All public roads, and the streets and alleys in incorporated cities and towns in this state, now used or lawfully entitled to be used as such, and all such roads, streets, and alleys as the board of commissioners of the county in which they are situate shall hereafter lawfully cause to be opened, are hereby declared to be public highways; provided, that nothing in this act shall be deemed or construed to injure or abridge the rights of any toll road; but all roads shall be entitled to all the protection and benefits arising from this act. As amended, Stats. 1867, 72.

3005. Road and street work, how let—Exception.

SEC. 2. All work hereafter done upon highways, streets or alleys, whether in opening, improving, or keeping the same in repair, shall, when the probable cost of such contemplated work shall exceed five hundred dollars, be done by contracts let to the lowest responsible bidder, and public notice of at least five days shall be given, describing the work to be done, the time and place that bids will be received, and the means of paying for such work. Such bids shall be sealed, may all be rejected, and if any are accepted it shall be that of the lowest bidder who is responsible, or will give satisfactory security.

Pa 113300

In cases of emergency, it shall be discretionary with the board of commissioners to let contracts for repairs without giving the five days' notice as is contemplated in this section. But no contract shall be let for an amount to exceed five hundred dollars without written notice. As amended, Stats. 1911, 357.

No officer, excepting the board of county commissioners, is given any authority to obligate the county for bridges, or for work upon public highways, and it is clear that the board is not authorized to let contracts in excess of $100 for the construction or repair of bridges or roads, except to the lowest bidder, after giving notice, or in cases of emergency. Lund v. Washoe Co., 31 Nev. 227, 233 (101 P. 550).

3006. Road fund created.

SEC. 3. To provide funds for paying the expenses of such work, the board of commissioners, at the time of levying other state and county taxes, may levy a tax not exceeding one-fourth of one per cent upon the taxable property of their county, to be assessed, collected, and paid in the same manner that state and county tax is collected; and all moneys so collected shall be paid into a fund to be called the road fund.

See Prison (convict labor) secs. 7596-7601.

3007. Disbursement of same.

SEC. 4. In disbursing the moneys of such road fund, the board of commissioners shall regard the interests of each road district, distributing upon the highways most beneficial to each road district the proportion of tax by it paid.

3008. Duties of county commissioners as to opening roads—Viewers to be appointed—Damages.

SEC. 5. If twenty-four freeholders in any township of any county containing one hundred or more legal voters, or twelve freeholders of any county containing less than one hundred legal voters, shall petition the board of county commissioners of such county for the location, opening to the public use, reestablishment, change or vacation of any road or highway to connect with any highway heretofore established, or any street or alley in any unincorporated town in such county, setting forth in such petition the beginning, course and termination of such road, highway, street or alley proposed to be located, open to public use, reestablished, changed or vacated, together with the names of the owners or occupants of the land through which the same may pass; the auditor of such county shall lay such petition before the board of county commissioners at their next session thereafter and thereupon such board of county commissioners may, within twenty days thereafter, proceed to locate, open to public use, reestablish, change or vacate such road, highway, street or alley; provided, that any public highway laid out or opened under the provisions of this act shall be at least four rods wide. Before opening any new road, street or alley through any property, it shall be condemned to public use as follows: The board of county commissioners shall appoint two disinterested persons to view, lay out and locate such new road, street or alley, and such two persons in conjunction with two others, chosen by any owner or occupant, or by the several owners or occupants of the property to be traversed by such road, street or alley, shall ascertain the damage done to any property so traversed, after deducting any advantage arising from such road, street or alley, to the owner or occupant of such property. If such four persons cannot agree as to such damages, then they shall choose a fifth, and the decision of a majority of them shall govern, and be reported to the board of county commissioners. If the owner or owners or occupants of any property so condemned shall not acquiesce in the amount of damages so reported, an examination may be had before the board and witnesses be examined for the state and such owner or owners or occupants, and the decision of the board shall be final, unless such owner or owners or occupants appeal from the decision of the board within thirty days after such decision to the district court, which he or they may do in the same manner that appeals are taken from justices' courts to the district court. Upon finally determining such damages, the board shall provide for the payment of such damages, either by the person interested in such road, street or alley, or pay the same out of the county treasury as other claims are paid, and after such payment is made the board shall then cause such road, street or alley to be opened. As amended, Stats. 1887, 56; 1895, 75.

For condemnation of property, see secs. 5606-5629.

Where the board of county commissioners closed a public road upon a petition signed by only fourteen persons, the petition being silent as to the number of legal voters in the county, it was held that the action of the board was in excess of its powers and completely null and void. State ex rel. Twaddle v. Washoe Co., 12 Nev. 17, 19.

When a bill is filed restraining county commissioners from opening a road on the ground that they have not assessed the damages and provided for the payment thereof, it is error to grant a perpetual injunction. The commissioners should only be restrained until they have complied with the preliminary requirements of the statute. Champion v. Sessions, 2 Nev. 271, 273, 274.

3009. Fine for obstructions.

SEC. 6. Any person or persons who shall, in any manner, obstruct any road, street, or alley, or, in any manner, injure the same, or prevent travel thereon, or who shall obstruct, dam, or divert any stream or water so as to throw the same, or cause the flowage thereof, upon, across, or along the pathway of any road, highway, street, or alley, shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not less than twenty, nor more than five hundred dollars, and the court before which such conviction shall be had, shall order the sheriff, or any constable of the county, to abate, as a nuisance, any fence or other obstruction, to the free and convenient use and travel of such road, street, or alley, or any obstruction from such stream, so as to allow the same to flow in its natural bed.

3010. Office of road supervisor abolished.

SEC. 7. The office of road supervisor is hereby abolished; and an act entitled "An act concerning roads and highways," approved November twenty-ninth, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, and all other acts, or parts of acts, in conflict with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed; provided, that nothing in this act shall be construed to repeal any other provisions of an act entitled "An act to provide for the improvement of streets and alleys in unincorporated towns and villages in the State of Nevada," approved March tenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-five.

SECTION 1. Whenever a majority of the taxpayers of any township or townships in any county of this state, whose names shall appear on the last previous assessment roll, shall petition the board of county commissioners of such county to divide such township or townships into a road district, or road districts, it shall be the duty of said county commissioners to so divide such township or townships, and to create such road district or districts (fixing the boundaries thereof and having the same recorded). * * * When such road district or districts shall once be created they shall remain the same, and have the rights and be subject to the duties herein given and imposed, until a majority of the taxpayers of such district shall petition the board of county commissioners of the county to disorganize the same, when it shall be the duty of such board to disorganize said district. As amended, Stats. 1877, 141.

[Omitted sections and portion of sections of this act refer to powers and duties of road supervisors, which office was abolished by Stats. 1887, 99.]

3012. Transfer of moneys from road fund to school fund, when to be made.

SEC. 5. All moneys remaining in the road fund belonging to any road district at the end of every year, or belonging to any district that may disorganize, as provided by this act, may, on petition of a majority of the taxpayers therein, be applied by the county commissioners to the building of any bridge or special improvement of any highway in said district, or the county in which said district is situated, or upon such petition said moneys may be transferred to the school fund, and applied to the public school or schools of said district.

3013. Moneys, how expended.

SEC. 7. The moneys constituting the fund of said road district shall first be used in the payment of * * *; any surplus may be used in the payment of other demands allowed on said road fund by the board of county commissioners, including building and repairing bridges, aqueducts, and highways of the district to which said fund belongs. And no money shall be drawn from the road fund without the order and approval of said board of county commissioners.

3014. Road fund, how created and maintained—Tax may be levied—Tax may be worked out.

SEC. 8. To create a road fund for the district[s] hereby authorized to be created, the said county commissioners are required to set off to said fund the net proceeds of the county's proportion of all poll taxes collected from citizens residing in such road district; also, when they deem it expedient, they may levy a property tax not to exceed one-fourth of one per cent on all the property of the county, annually, to be levied, assessed, and collected as other taxes, and assigned by them to the funds of the several road districts, as they may deem for the best interest of the county; also, when a majority of the property holders of any road district shall petition to the county commissioners in favor of an additional special tax for the benefit of such district, the commissioners shall levy a tax on all property within such district, at a rate not to exceed three dollars upon each one thousand dollars valuation, which tax shall be collected by the road supervisors, as hereinafter provided, and paid into the treasury for the road fund of such district; provided, that any person owing the last-named property tax, may pay a part or all of the same by labor on the roads of the district, under the direction of the supervisor thereof, at the rate of three dollars for each full day's work and implements of labor, four dollars per day for each team of two animals, and one dollar per day for each additional animal. As amended, Stats. 1877, 142.

A previous act in relation to public highways (Stats. 1873, 130), so far as it provides for a road tax upon individuals, was held void as obnoxious to the constitutional provision relating to poll taxes (ante, 256). Hassett v. Walls, 9 Nev. 387, 392.

The levy of service upon an individual for road purposes is an emanation from the taxing power. Idem.

A road tax, whether regarded as a levy in money or service, is a capitation or poll tax. Idem.

3015. Petition to open roads—Viewers, how selected—Parties aggrieved may commence action.

SEC. 10. At any time when a majority of the resident taxpayers of a road district, according to the last previous assessment roll, shall petition the county commissioners of their counties, for the location, opening for public use, establishment, change or vacation of any public road or highway, or road to connect with any highway heretofore established, any street or alley in any unincorporated town in such county, setting forth in such petition the beginning, course and termination of such road, or highway, street or alley proposed to be located and opened for public use, established, changed or vacated, together with the names of the owner or owners of the land through which the same will pass, said petition may be presented to the county clerk of said county, and the clerk shall lay said petition before the board of county commissioners, at their next meeting after the reception of said petition, and thereupon said board of commissioners shall, within thirty days thereafter, proceed to locate, open to public use, establish, change or vacate such road, highway, street or alley. Before opening any new road, street or alley, or changing same through private property, such property shall be condemned for public use as follows: The board of county commissioners shall appoint one disinterested person, and the owners or agents of the land through which said highway may run, shall select one such person; and the two shall proceed to view out such road, street or alley, and shall ascertain and make estimates of damages done to any property through which it may be located, changed or vacated, after deducting any advantage arising from such location, change or vacation of such road, street or alley, to the owner or owners of such property; provided, if the owner or owners shall refuse or neglect, for a period of ten days after receiving notice from said board of its said appointment, to appoint such person on their part, it shall be the duty of said board to appoint such person for them; and provided further, that if there shall be more than one owner of land through which said highway may run they shall unite in such appointments. If the two viewers cannot agree as to such damages, then they shall choose a third person, and the three persons so selected as viewers shall be authorized to administer oaths, compel the attendance of witnesses before them as road viewers, and their decision in the matter shall be final; and provided further, that said viewers shall take an oath prior to entering upon the discharge of their duties, before some person authorized to administer oaths, to faithfully discharge the duties of their trust in accordance with the provisions of this act; and provided further, that the parties aggrieved by the decision of such road viewers may commence action in the district court within twenty days from the date of such decision to set aside their award; and upon the final award and decision of such damages, the board of county commissioners shall order the road supervisor of the district to open, establish, change or vacate, as the case may be, such road, street or alley, according to the petition aforesaid; provided, that in no case shall the commissioners cause any road or street to be opened where the same shall run diagonally through any lands or lot, so as to greatly impair it in shape, or through an orchard four years old, without the consent of the owner or owners thereof; and in all cases they shall follow legal subdivisional lines of the government surveys or of town plats, where the same is practicable. As amended, Stats. 1879, 142; 1895, 35.

For condemnation of property, see secs. 5606-5629.

A board of county commissioners granted a petition for the establishment of a public road which did not disclose the names of the owners of land through which the road was to pass, nor did the records of the board show that they had found that a majority of the resident taxpayers of the district, according to the last previous assessment roll, had signed a petition. It was held, that compliance with the statute was a jurisdictional fact, which must appear, and the action of the board was null and void. Godchaux v. Carpenter, 19 Nev. 416, 417 (14 P. 140).

A petition for the vacation of a road failing to show that the petitioners constitute a majority of the resident taxpayers in the district according to the last assessment is insufficient. State ex rel. Dangberg v. Douglas Co., 27 Nev. 469-475 (77 P. 984).

The word "shall" preceding "within thirty days thereafter," should be construed to mean "may." Idem.

On the presentation of a petition signed by two persons, who constitute a majority and the only taxpayers in the road district, for the vacation of a road, the duty of the board is discretionary and not mandatory. Idem.

3016. Width of roads.

SEC. 11. The width of all public highways hereafter constructed shall be regulated and established by the boards of county commissioners; provided, no such highways shall exceed in width sixty feet. As amended, Stats. 1885, 49; 1877, 143.

The omitted sections and portions of sections are rendered void by the act of 1887, 99, abolishing the office of road supervisor.

An Act in relation to erection and maintenance of bridges.

Approved February 21, 1877, 81

- 3017. Maintenance of bridges.
- 3018. May be maintained from general fund or special tax.
- 3019. Commissioners must advertise for bids, when.

- 3020. Freeholders may petition—Advertisement.
- 3021. Commissioners to decide necessity and character of bridge.

3017. Maintenance of bridges.

SECTION 1. All public bridges, not otherwise specially provided for, are maintained by the road district in which they are situated, the districts which they unite, and the county at large, in the same manner as highways, and under the management and control of the road overseers and board of county commissioners; the expense of constructing, maintaining, and repairing the same being primarily payable out of [the] road fund of the district or districts in the hands of the county treasurer.

3018. May be maintained from the general fund or special tax.

SEC. 2. Whenever it appears to the board of county commissioners that any road district is or would be unreasonably burdened by the expense of constructing or maintenance and repair of any bridge, they may, in their discretion, cause all or a portion of the aggregate cost or expense to be paid out of the general county fund, or a portion out of that fund, or out of any other fund in the county, except school and judges' salary, in which there is a surplus uncalled for; or, they may levy a tax therefor, not to exceed one-fourth of one per cent on the taxable property of the county, annually, till the amount appropriated is raised and paid.

3019. Commissioners must advertise for bids, when.

SEC. 3. No bridge shall be constructed or repaired except on the order of the board of county commissioners, or unless a petition as provided for in section 4 of this act be filed. When the cost of construction or repair of any bridge will not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars, the board of county commissioners shall have the power to let a contract for such construction or repair without advertising or otherwise calling for bids therefor. When the cost of such construction or repair shall exceed the sum of five hundred dollars the contract therefor shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder after notice given by the board of county commissioners, in a county newspaper, for a period of at least two and not more than four weeks' publication, and if there be no such newspaper, then by three posted notices—one at the courthouse, one at the point to be bridged, and one at some other neighboring public place. The bids must be sealed, opened, and the contract awarded at the time specified in the notice; provided, that the board of county commissioners shall have the right to reject any and all bids, in which event new notice shall be given in manner and form as above set forth. The contract and bond to perform the work must be entered into and approved by the board of county commissioners. As amended, Stats. 1911, 369.

3020. Freeholders may petition—Advertisement.

SEC. 4. When a bridge, the cost of which will exceed one hundred dollars, is necessary, any five or more freeholders of the road district interested therein, may petition the board of county commissioners for the erection of such needed bridge; the board must thereupon advertise such application, giving the location and other facts, for two weeks, in a newspaper printed in the county; if none, then by posters, one at the proposed location, one at the court house, and one at some other public place in the county, and notify the overseer to attend at a certain time and place to hear the application.

3021. Commissioners to decide necessity and character of bridge.

SEC. 5. On the day fixed to hear the application, proof of the notice given being made satisfactory, the board must hear the petition, examine witnesses, and determine whether or not a bridge is necessary to be constructed or repaired as petitioned for. If found necessary, the board must determine the character of bridge to be constructed or repairs to be made, prepare plans and specifications, invite bids or otherwise let the contract for the construction or repair of same as in this act provided. As amended, Stats. 1911, 369.

An Act to provide for the better preservation of public roads and highways.

Approved March 5, 1885, 65

3022. Persons conducting water across highways to construct and maintain bridges and culverts.

SECTION 1. All persons conducting water across any public road or highway, or across any street or alley in any unincorporated town in this state, for domestic, mining, agricultural or manufacturing purposes, are hereby required to construct and maintain, at their own expense, good and substantial culverts or bridges, as the case may be, over such crossings, and shall in no case allow any stream of water, diverted from its natural channel for such purposes by them, to flood or wash any public road or any street or alley in any unincorporated town of this state.

See secs. 7596-7601.

3023. Notice to be given commissioners to have work done.

SEC. 2. It is hereby made the duty of the road supervisor, in each and every road district of this state, and in case there be no regularly elected and qualified road supervisor, then it is hereby made the duty of the chairman of the board of county commissioners, to at once notify the party or parties violating the provisions of this act to make such construction or repair as may be necessary, and if such persons shall refuse or neglect to make the same for a period of five days, then it shall be the duty of the road supervisor, or in case of his absence, the chairman of the board of county commissioners, to immediately cause the necessary construction or repairs to be made, and to submit in duplicate to the board of county commissioners and to the district attorney, itemized bills of the expense so incurred, which shall be allowed and paid as other bills against the road fund of the district in which said construction or repairs were made, and in case there be no moneys in the said fund, then out of any moneys in the general county fund not otherwise appropriated.

Office of road supervisor abolished, sec. 3010.

3024. Duties of district attorney.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the district attorney receiving such bill of expense, as provided in section 2 of this act, to immediately commence an action in any court of competent jurisdiction, for the recovery of such an amount as set forth in the itemized bill of expense aforesaid, together with costs of suit.

3025. Disposal of moneys collected.

SEC. 4. All moneys so collected, after paying costs of suit, shall be returned and paid into the fund from which the original bill of expense named in section 2 of this act shall have been allowed and paid by the board of county commissioners.

An Act to provide for the erection of guide-boards on public roads and highways.

Approved February 21, 1879, 44

3026. Guide-boards—Style of board.

SECTION 1. It is hereby made the duty of the board of county commissioners in each county of this state, within ninety days after the passage of this act, to cause to be put up, and to be thereafter kept up, at each crossing or forks of any public roads, or highways in such county, and at each place where a public road or highway crosses or diverges from any private or toll road, a guide-board, having thereon an index or pointer, and the words "to (naming the place or first point of any importance on such road, and the number of miles, as near as may be, thereto) miles." Such number of guide-boards shall be put up and so placed at all such points as to enable travelers to readily understand therefrom the road they may wish to travel, in order to arrive at the desired destination.

3027. Owners of toll roads to erect posts.

SEC. 2. The owner or owners of any toll road in this state, having one or more lateral branches, are hereby required, at their own expense, to comply with the provisions of section 1 of this act.

3028. Misdemeanor to deface guide-board.

SEC. 3. Any county commissioner or county commissioners or any owner or owners of such toll road or roads who shall wilfully neglect to carry out the provisions of this act before the 1st day of June, 1895, and every person or persons, who shall wilfully tear down, dig up, or in any manner deface, destroy or carry away any such guide-board as herein provided, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than three hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than one month nor more than six months or by both such fine and imprisonment. As amended, Stats. 1895, 40.

An Act to create the office of road inspector, to provide for work on public roads and to limit the compensation therefor.

Approved February 27, 1897, 25

3029. Duties of road inspector.

3030. Board of county commissioners may appoint.

3031. Relative to compensation.

3032. Paid from road fund.

3033. Compensation fixed by board of county commissioners.

3034. Payment for work on public roads.

3035. Day's work.

3036. Elko county rate.

3029. Duties of road inspector.

SECTION 1. The office of road inspector is hereby created. The duties of the office shall be to order, superintend, inspect and approve, if properly done, all work upon the public roads in the road district for which he may be appointed, as well as that to be done by supervisors, if any there be, as that done by other persons; to report thereon to the board of county commissioners, and to approve all proper bills for road work before they are presented to said board for allowance.

3030. Board of county commissioners may appoint.

SEC. 2. The board of county commissioners in each county may appoint one road inspector for each road district now existing or which may hereafter be created in any county of this state, to hold office at the will of said board.

3031. Relative to compensation.

SEC. 3. The office of road inspector shall be without compensation, and no money shall be paid from public funds to defray any expenses incurred therein, or thereby, unless by order of the board of commissioners there shall be especially prescribed a limit of compensation for said office in each road district, which order shall especially name the road district wherein said compensation may be given; and no road inspector shall receive any compensation as such officer, unless such compensation shall have been fixed by the board of commissioners within the limit aforesaid, in and for such road district, previously to his appointment as such road inspector.

3032. Paid from road fund.

SEC. 4. When a compensation is given it shall be paid to the road inspector from the road fund of the district in and for which any services by him are performed.

3033. Compensation fixed by board of county commissioners.

SEC. 5. Such compensation shall be a daily wage and shall not exceed the limit especially prescribed by law for that county; and shall be fixed by the board of county commissioners before the appointment of the road inspector or inspectors who are to receive it. The compensation so fixed shall be in full for all services and expenses of all kinds of said road inspector or inspectors.

3034. Payment for work on public roads.

SEC. 6. Compensation to others than road inspector shall be not to exceed three dollars for a day's work on the public roads by one man, or not to exceed six dollars by one man and a span of two draft animals, and one dollar and fifty cents additional for each such additional span. The person so compensated shall, without additional charge, furnish such tools, implements, vehicle, and other necessary equipment, as may be necessary to his work. As amended, Stats. 1911, 368.

3035. Day's work.

SEC. 7. A day's work on the public roads shall consist of at least eight hours actual labor, exclusive of the time spent in going to and returning from the work, and in no case shall pay be given for more than one day's time between sunrise and sunset of the same day, to or for the same person.

3036. Elko county rate.

SEC. 8. The rate of compensation for road inspector for the county of Elko shall not exceed the sum of two dollars per day for each day actually, necessarily, and economically employed.

An Act providing for the election of road supervisors, for the subdivision of counties into road districts, and matters properly relating thereto.

Approved March 19, 1901, 89

3037. Road districts established in certain counties.

SECTION 1. The county commissioners of each county polling at the last general election eighteen hundred votes or over shall for the purpose of supervision of roads, divide the county into road districts, each appropriately designated.

3038. Supervisor to be elected.

SEC. 2. At every election of county officers, there shall also be elected one road supervisor in each road district, whose duty it shall be to supervise all work upon the roads in his district, and to attest to the propriety of all bills for such work, and to direct the expenditure of all sums set apart for his district by the county commissioners.

3039. Compensation, how fixed.

SEC. 3. The compensation of road supervisors shall be fixed by the county commissioners.

3040. Duty of county commissioners.

SEC. 4. On or before the fifteenth day of April, nineteen hundred and one, the county commissioners shall appoint one road supervisor for each road district to serve and hold office until their successors have been elected and installed.

An Act providing for the appointment of road supervisors in counties polling three thousand votes or over, for the subdivision of said counties into road districts, and matters properly relating thereto, and to repeal all other acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Approved March 24, 1911, 355

3041. Road supervisor in certain counties.

SECTION 1. The county commissioners of each county in this state polling at the last general election three thousand votes or over, to be determined by the vote cast for secretary of state, shall, for the purpose of supervision of roads, divide the county into road districts, each appropriately designated.

3042. Commissioners to appoint.

SEC. 2. The board of county commissioners of said counties shall, at its first regular meeting in January, 1913, appoint and fix the compensation of one road supervisor in each road district, to serve during the pleasure of the board of county commissioners.

3043. Duties of road supervisors.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of road supervisors appointed under the provisions of this act to supervise all work upon the roads in his district, to attest to the propriety and correctness of all bills for such work, and to direct the expenditures of all sums set apart for his district by the board of county commissioners; provided, that no bills shall be contracted nor any money expended by said road supervisor, unless he shall have first obtained the consent and approval of said board of county commissioners.

3044. To take official oath.

SEC. 4. Each road supervisor appointed under the provisions of this act shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, take the oath prescribed by law, and execute a bond to the State of Nevada, to be approved by the board of county commissioners, in the penal sum of one thousand dollars; which bond shall be conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of his office, and shall be filed in the office of the county clerk.

An Act to protect public roads and highways from damage by water, and to provide a penalty for a failure to do so.

Approved March 18, 1911, 96

3045. All persons and corporations to prevent damage by water to public roads and streets.

SECTION 1. From and after the passage of this act, all persons, corporations or associations conducting water across any public road or highway, or across any street or alley in any unincorporated town in this state, for domestic, mining, agriculture or manufacturing purposes, shall construct and maintain, at their own expense, good and substantial culverts or bridges, over such crossing, and shall in no case allow any stream of water, diverted from its natural channel for such purposes by them, to flood or wash any public road or any street or alley in any unincorporated town of this state.

3046. Penalties.

SEC. 2. Any person, corporation or association which shall fail or refuse to construct and maintain culverts and bridges as in section 1 of this act specified, or which shall fail, after five days' written notice, served upon them by the proper authorities to repair all damages by them caused by flooding any road or highway shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall, for the first offense be fined not less than twenty-five dollars, nor more than fifty dollars, and for each subsequent offense shall be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not less than thirty days nor exceeding six months.

An Act relating to toll roads and bridges in Nevada Territory.

Approved February 18, 1864, 71

3047. Toll keepers not to charge the military.

SECTION 1. Hereafter no toll-gate or toll-bridge keeper or proprietor, or other person, shall be permitted to charge or collect any toll from any soldier, teamster, or other person in the military service of the United States government.

3048. Penalty.

SEC. 2. Any person charging or collecting, or attempting to charge or collect, any toll from any of the persons named in this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and may, on conviction thereof, before any justice of the peace, be fined in any sum not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars.

An Act to compel the owners of toll roads within this state to keep the same in repair.

Approved March 9, 1865, 271

3049. When right to maintain deemed forfeited.

SECTION 1. If, after the passage of this act, any toll road in this state shall not at all times of the year be kept in good condition and repair, without break or interval between the points of beginning and terminus, by the owner or owners of the same, such owner or owners shall be deemed to have forfeited his or their right to maintain such road, and all the rights, privileges, and franchises belonging or in anywise appertaining to the same. The question as to whether a forfeiture has accrued under the provisions of this act, shall be determined in the manner provided in an act entitled "An act regulating proceedings upon quo warranto and informations in the nature thereof," approved February twenty-first, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five.

See secs. 5656-5682.

SECTION 1. Any person or persons desiring to construct and maintain a toll road within any one or more of the counties of this state, shall make, sign and acknowledge, before some officer entitled to take acknowledgments of deeds, a certificate specifying, first, the name by which the road shall be known; and, second, the names of the places which shall constitute the termini of said road. Such certificate shall be accompanied with a plat of the route of the proposed road, and shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county or counties within or through which such road is proposed to be located; and the record of such certificate and plat shall give constructive notice to all persons of the matters therein contained. The work of constructing such road shall be commenced within thirty days of the time of making the certificate above mentioned, and shall be continued with all reasonable dispatch until completed.

Cited (on another point), State ex rel. Ford v. Hoover, 5 Nev. 141-145.

At the expiration of a toll-road franchise, the control for such road reverts to the sovereign, and in the absence of other special disposition, a free use of such road would be thereafter in the people. State ex rel. Boardman v. Lake, 8 Nev. 276-283.

The fact that the holder of an expired toll-road and bridge franchise has acquired the fee of the land on which the ends of the bridge rest and both sides thereof, does not give him any rights to a continuance of the franchise—the possession by the public of the easement of traveling the road being in no sense antagonistic to his possession of the title to the land. Idem.

Sections 1 and 2 of this act apply only to new roads, and give no right to the owner of an old road whose franchise is about expired to locate it as a new road. Idem.

A bridge over a navigable stream can only be lawfully built or used for taking tolls by authority of the legislature. Idem.

Where a toll-road franchise, granted in 1864, was by judicial action in May, 1865, declared forfeited; and in June, 1865, the holder sought to acquire the right to collect tolls on it by compliance with this act, it was held, that as the statute provided that no toll road constructed under its provisions or otherwise should "interfere with any road or highway in general use by the traveling public," no right could, in that manner, be acquired to collect such tolls. State ex rel. Buckley v. Curry, 6 Nev. 75-77.

3051. Rights and privileges.

SEC. 2. On complying with the provisions of the preceding section said person shall be deemed to have the franchise for the use of said road, together with the following rights and privileges and subject to the following restrictions:

First—To construct, complete and maintain a toll road over the route and between the termini mentioned in said certificate;

Second—To have the use of the right of way over which said road is constructed, together with fifteen feet on each side of the center of such road.

Third—To establish rates of toll over the whole and the various sections of such road, and to establish and fix different rates of toll for the different character of animals, vehicles and conveyances that use such road, as he may deem proper;

Fourth—To charge and collect from a person using such road, and in advance of its use, the toll at the rate fixed and established;

Fifth—To prevent the use of such road or any part thereof by any person who fails or refuses to pay in advance the tolls and charges as fixed and established; and for such purpose and, in the event of the continued or threatened use of such road by any person without paying the toll fixed and provided, to obtain an injunction;

Sixth—To enter upon and appropriate private lands for the use of said road and right of way as in said act provided; such person or persons shall tender to such owner or owners the appraised value of such lands; they shall be entitled to proceed in the construction of the road over the land so appraised, notwithstanding such tender may be refused; provided, that such tender shall always be kept good by such person or persons; and provided further, that an appeal may be taken by either party from the finding of the appraisers to the district court of the district within which the land so appraised shall be situated at any time within three months after such appraisalment.

Seventh—To post on a bulletin board at the termini of said road the rates of toll so fixed and established, written, painted or printed in a plain and legible manner, together with the address of the place or office where said tolls are payable; to place along said road, not to exceed two miles apart, sign boards with the words "Toll Road" written, printed or painted thereon.

Eighth—To deliver to a person paying the required toll a ticket, authorizing the use of such road by the party so paying such toll, said ticket to show upon its face the place of issue, the destination on the road of the user, such date to be so set as to give the user sufficient time to reach his destination on said road. As amended, Stats. 1905, 254; 1907, 404.

See Southern Dev. Co. v. Douglass, under sec. 7 of this act.

3052. May enter upon private lands—Eminent domain—Value, how ascertained—Tender of appraised value—Appeal.

SEC. 3. Any person or persons proposing to construct a toll road under the provisions of this act, shall have the right to enter upon private lands for the purpose of examining and surveying the same; and where such lands cannot be obtained by the consent of the owner or owners thereof, so much of the same as may be necessary for the construction of said road may be appropriated by said person or persons, after making compensation therefor, as follows. Said person or persons shall select one appraiser, and said owner or owners shall select one, and the two so selected shall select a third, who shall appraise the lands sought to be appropriated, after having been first sworn before some officer entitled to administer oaths to make a true appraisalment thereof, according to the best of their knowledge and ability. If such person or persons shall tender to such owner or owners the appraised value of such lands, they shall be entitled to proceed in the construction of the road over the lands so appraised, notwithstanding such tender may be refused; provided, that such tender shall always be kept good by such person or persons; and, provided further, that an appeal may be taken by either party from the finding of the appraisers, to the district court of the district within which the land so appraised shall be situated, at any time within three months after such appraisal.

For condemnation of property, see secs. 5606-5629.

3053. Penalty for failure to keep road in repair—Quo warranto.

SEC. 4. The owner or owners of any toll road constructed or maintained under the provisions of this act, shall at all times keep the same in as good condition and repair as may be practicable; and if such owner or owners shall fail to keep the same in such condition and repair, such failure shall work a forfeiture of all rights, privileges, and franchises, belonging to such owner or owners, or any person having any interest therein. Such franchise may be also declared forfeited on information in the nature of a quo warranto, in the manner provided by law; and the owner or owners of any road on which tolls are collected under the provisions of this act, shall be liable for all the damages sustained by parties passing over such road, in consequence of the carelessness or negligence of the owner or owners in keeping their road in proper repair.

Quo warranto, secs. 5656-5682.

3054. Using road without paying toll, punishment.

SEC. 5. Any person who shall go upon or travel over said road or any part thereof with animal, vehicle or conveyance without having first paid or tendered the toll or charges for the use of said road, as established and fixed by the owners, to the person designated to receive the same, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not exceeding fifty dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail where such offense is tried not exceeding five days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Failure of such person to have in his possession the ticket provided for in section 2 of said act shall raise the presumption that such person has not paid or tendered the required toll. Any person who shall obstruct, injure or destroy said road or any part thereof, or shall interfere with the removal of obstruction or repair or maintenance of said road, shall be deemed [guilty] of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not to exceed fifty dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail where such offense is tried not exceeding five days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. All fines collected under the provisions of this section shall be paid into the treasury of the county wherein such convictions shall have been had for the benefit of the school fund; but in no case shall the county be responsible for the costs of any prosecution under this section. As amended, Stats. 1875, 156; 1907, 405.

3055. Proportion of receipts to county.

SEC. 6. The owners of any toll road constructed under the provisions of this act shall cause to be kept an accurate account of the gross receipts and expenditures of such road, and make a quarterly report thereof under oath to the state controller. Such owners shall pay to the county treasurer of each county through which said road is constructed such county's pro rata portion of two per cent of the gross proceeds of said road, such ratio to be as the number of miles of said road in a certain county is to the whole length of such road. The receipts for such moneys from the county treasurers shall accompany the reports to the state controller. The county treasurers shall credit such moneys to the general road fund of the county; provided, that if in three years after the completion of any road, the net proceeds shall exceed fifty per cent per annum on the cost of construction, then all such excess of fifty per cent shall be paid into the general state school fund in the same manner as provided in this section for the payment of the two per cent on the gross proceeds. As amended, Stats. 1907, 406.

3056. Provision on expiration of charters—Proviso.

SEC. 7. Upon the expiration or forfeiture of any toll-road franchise granted under the provisions of this act, and in case of the expiration or forfeiture of any toll-road franchise granted under the provisions of any other act, whether the same shall have already happened or may hereafter happen, the ownership of said road, with all the rights and privileges theretofore belonging to the same, shall vest in the county or counties in which said road shall be located; and whenever the same shall have happened, or may hereafter happen, the county commissioners of the proper county may declare so much thereof as is within their county a free highway; provided, that in all cases falling within this section, the county commissioners of the proper county may give a lease at a nominal rental of any such road whereon tolls are now collected, either under the provisions of any act of the legislature of this state, or by and with the consent of the county commissioners aforesaid, to the proprietors, their successors or assignees, of such road, for a term of not to exceed five years, giving to such lessee the right to collect tolls on such road, subject, however, to all the provisions of this act; and upon the expiration or forfeiture of any such lease, and whenever and as often as the time shall happen, the county commissioners of the proper county, if they deem it expedient, may give a new lease of such road upon the like terms and conditions, for a further period of not to exceed five years, to the original or any other lessee, unless said road passes through two or more counties, in which case the original lessee, or his assigns, shall have preference. As amended, Stats. 1875, 156; 1877, 74.

See Boardman v. Lake, under sec. 1 of this act.

Where the franchise of a toll road previously granted, became or was judicially declared forfeited, it was held that the road became the property of the county, and that, if the county commissioners took no action for the collection of tolls, it became a free highway. State ex rel. Buckley v. Curry, 6 Nev. 75-77.

By allowing travelers to pass over a road, and by collecting tolls thereon, a toll-road proprietor dedicated the same to the public use. State v. Toll Road Co., 10 Nev. 155, 160, 162.

County commissioners made an order granting a lease to the proprietors of a toll road; but they did not then accept its conditions or agree to perform them, and the board subsequently refused to execute the lease submitted for that purpose and later made an order rescinding its original order therefor. It was held, that in making the later order the board did not exercise judicial functions and hence certiorari would not lie to set the same aside. Southern Dev. Co. v. Douglass, 26 Nev. 50, 53 (63 P. 38).

Under this section, the commissioners cannot grant a lease to a toll road constructed in 1882, since the phrase "whereon tolls are now collected," limited the commissioners' power to grant extensions to such roads only as were then in operation. Southern Dev. Co. v. Douglass, 26 Nev. 230, 239-241 (66 P. 66).

3057. Exorbitant toll, how remedied.

SEC. 8. Whenever ten taxpayers in any county through which a road is located and constructed under the provisions of this law are convinced that tolls charged on said road are unreasonably high, they shall have the right to petition the board of county commissioners to have said rate reduced, which petition shall be accompanied by an affidavit, setting forth wherein said rates of toll should be reduced, and thereupon the county commissioners shall immediately notify the owners of the road so complained of, who shall select three men to act with three county commissioners, and the six shall select a seventh man, and the seven so selected shall have power to fix the rates of toll to be charged on any road thus complained of, which rates shall not be reduced for a period of five years thereafter, except by petition of ten taxpayers to the county commissioners. As amended, Stats. 1907, 406.

3058. Franchises heretofore granted may be located under this act.

SEC. 9. All franchises granted for toll roads by the first legislature of this state may be located under the provisions of this act.

See Boardman v. Lake, under sec. 1 of this act.

3059. Toll bridges.

SEC. 10. Toll bridges may be established and maintained, subject to all the provisions of this act.

3060. Limit of right of way.

SEC. 11. Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to give a right of way to exceed in width forty-five feet.

3061. Not to interfere with road now in use.

SEC. 12. No toll road constructed under the provisions of this act, nor otherwise, shall interfere with any road or highway, now in general use by the traveling public, or the emigration from the east.

[Sec. 13, omitted as unconstitutional.]

See Buckley v. Curry, under sec. 1 of this act.

This includes toll roads—there being no such roads and common highways. State ex difference in the sense of the statute between rel. Boardman v. Lake, 8 Nev. 276.

3062. "Person" defined.

SEC. 14. Whenever the word "person" is used in said act it shall be construed to mean and include persons, corporations, partnerships and associations. Added, Stats. 1907, 407.

THE CAREY ACT

Synopsis of the General Features of the Carey Act and the Procedure Which Has Grown Up in the Western States in Applying it to the Reclamation of Desert Lands.

Congress, in 1894, passed an act granting to each of the arid-land states one million acres of desert lands, situate within each such state, subject to the state's selection from any of the unappropriated public domain. There were certain conditions and requirements attached to the original grant and these have been modified to some extent by three subsequent acts of Congress and also interpreted by the regulations of the department of the interior. These laws and regulations define the government's part in the procedure, every detail of which must be complied with.

In carrying out the government requirements, the states have had to pass laws to afford a statutory procedure which the applicant for Carey act lands must follow in order to fulfill the government requirements, as well as to afford the states the benefits which Congress intended should accrue to them.

No land is acquired by any person, company or corporation conducting a Carey act project. Carey act projects are, per se, reclamation projects, undertaken to supply water for the irrigation of a given tract of land, and when completed the person, company or corporation conducting the same derives his or its profits from the sale of the water rights to settlers.

When the irrigation system is prepared to deliver water to settlers, the lands are thrown open for entry, in allotments of not exceeding 160 acres to each entryman. Entrymen must be citizens of the United States, over the age of twenty-one years (including married and unmarried women), who have not previously exhausted their rights under the provisions of the act. The entryman pays the state by installments for the land and pays the reclamation company likewise for the water right. On completing payment to the state, patent is issued for the land, and on completing payments for the water right the settler acquires full title to the same. Once the project is initiated, the cost of the water right attaches as a lien upon the land and the lien is not lifted until the final payment for the water right.

The lien of the cost of the water right upon the land serves to complete the security of the contractor for the construction of the irrigation works and the profits expected from the enterprise. When the lands are finally sold and the payments for the water rights completed, the contracting company is eliminated from the enterprise and the settler is in possession.

The Carey act lands of Nevada are under the control and jurisdiction of the State Commission of Industry, Agriculture and Irrigation.

The act of the legislature of March 23, 1909, is superseded by the act of March 17, 1911, hereinafter contained, except in the cases specified in section 31.

An Act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1895, and for other purposes.

Approved August 18, 1894, 28 U. S. Stats. 377-422

3063. Secretary of the interior, with approval of the president, authorized to contract and agree to patent to the State of Nevada and other states, not to exceed 1,000,000 acres of desert lands, under certain conditions—State to file map and plan—State may make contracts—Patents to issue to state, when—160-acre limitation—Time limitation for state action—Liens in favor of state—United States not liable for lien—Lands may be withdrawn—Additional 1,000,000-acre grant to Nevada—Amendments.

SEC. 4. That to aid the public land states in the reclamation of the desert lands therein, and the settlement, cultivation, and sale thereof in small tracts to actual settlers, the secretary of the interior with the approval of the president, be, and hereby is authorized and empowered, upon proper application of the state to contract and agree, from time to time, with each of the states in which there may be situated desert lands as defined by the act entitled "An act to provide for the sale of desert land in certain states and territories," approved March third, eighteen hundred and seventy-seven, and the act amendatory thereof, approved March third, eighteen hundred and ninety-one, binding the United States to donate, grant, and patent to the state free of cost for survey or price such desert lands not exceeding one million acres in each state as the state may cause to be irrigated, reclaimed, occupied, and not less than twenty acres of each one hundred and sixty-acre tract cultivated by actual settlers, within ten years next after the passage of this act, as thoroughly as is required of citizens who may enter under the said desert land law.

Before the application of any state is allowed or any contract or agreement is executed or any segregation of any of the land from the public domain is ordered by the secretary of the interior, the state shall file a map of the said land proposed to be irrigated which shall exhibit a plan showing the mode of the contemplated irrigation and which plan shall be sufficient to thoroughly irrigate and reclaim said land and prepare it to raise ordinary agricultural crops and shall also show the source of the water to be used for irrigation and reclamation, and the secretary of the interior may make necessary regulations for the reservation of the lands applied for by the states to date from the date of the filing of the map and plan of irrigation, but such reservation shall be of no force whatever if such map and plan of irrigation shall not be approved. That any state contracting under this section is hereby authorized to make all necessary contracts to cause the said lands to be reclaimed, and to induce their settlement and cultivation in accordance with and subject to the provisions of this section; but the state shall not be authorized to lease any of said lands or to use or dispose of the same in any way whatever, except to secure their reclamation, cultivation and settlement.

As fast as any state may furnish satisfactory proof according to such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the secretary of the interior, that any of said lands are irrigated, reclaimed, and occupied by actual settlers, patents shall be issued to the state or its assigns for said lands so reclaimed and settled; provided, that said states shall not sell or dispose of more than one hundred and sixty acres of said lands to any one person, and any surplus of money derived by any state from the sale of said lands in excess of the cost of their reclamation, shall be held as a trust fund for and be applied to the reclamation of other desert lands in such state. That to enable the secretary of the interior to examine any of the lands that may be selected under the provisions of this section, there is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the treasury, not otherwise appropriated, one thousand dollars. 28 U. S. Stats. 373.

That under any law theretofore or hereafter enacted by any state, providing for the reclamation of arid lands, in pursuance and acceptance of the terms of the grant made in section 4 of an act entitled "An act making appropriations for the sundry civil expenses of the government for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and ninety-five," approved August eighteenth, eighteen hundred and ninety-four, a lien or liens is hereby authorized to be created by the state to which such lands are granted and by no other authority whatever, and when created shall be valid on and against the separate legal subdivisions of land reclaimed, for the actual cost and necessary expenses of reclamation and reasonable interest thereon from the date of reclamation until disposed of to actual settlers; and when an ample supply of water is actually furnished in a substantial ditch or canal, or by artesian wells, or reservoirs, to reclaim a particular tract or tracts of such lands, then patents shall issue for the same to such state without regard to settlement or cultivation; provided, that in no event, in no contingency, and under no circumstances shall the United States be in any manner directly or indirectly liable for any amount of any such lien or liability, in whole or in part. As amended, 29 U. S. Stats. 434.

That section 4 of the act of August eighteenth, eighteen hundred and ninety-four, entitled "An act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the government for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and ninety-five, and for other purposes," is hereby amended so that the ten years' period within which any state shall cause the lands applied for under said act to be irrigated and reclaimed, as provided in said section as amended by the act of June eleventh, eighteen hundred and ninety-six, shall begin to run from the date of approval by the secretary of the interior of the state's application for the segregation of such lands; and if the state fails within said ten years to cause the whole or any part of the lands so segregated to be so irrigated and reclaimed, the secretary of the interior may, in his discretion, continue said segregation for a period of not exceeding five years, or may, in his discretion, restore such lands to the public domain. As amended, 31 U. S. Stats. 1134, sec. 3.

That to aid in carrying out the purposes of section 4 of the act of August eighteenth, eighteen hundred and ninety-four, entitled "An act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the government for the fiscal year ending eighteen hundred and ninety-five, and for other purposes," it shall be lawful for the secretary of the interior, upon application by the proper officer of any state or territory to which said section applies, to withdraw temporarily from settlement or entry areas embracing lands for which the state or territory proposes to make application under said section, pending the investigation and survey preliminary to the filing of the maps and plats and application for segregation by the state or territory; provided, that if the state or territory shall not present its application for segregation and maps and plats within one year after such temporary withdrawal the lands so withdrawn shall be restored to entry as though such withdrawal had not been made. As amended, 36 U. S. Stats. 237.

An additional one million acres of arid lands within the State of Nevada is hereby made available and subject to the terms of section 4 of an act of Congress entitled "An act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the government for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1895," approved August 18, 1894, and by amendments thereto, and the State of Nevada is allowed under the provisions of said acts said additional area, or so much thereof as may be necessary for the purposes and under the provisions of said acts. As amended, Act of March 4, 1911.

THE STATE ACT

An Act in relation to the act of Congress known as the Carey act, and all acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, and governing the state commission of industry, agriculture and irrigation as heretofore or may be hereafter created and established by law in the control of the selection, management and disposal of all lands granted the state under the provisions thereof.

Approved March 17, 1911, 84

3064. Conditions of Carey act accepted.

SECTION 1. That the State of Nevada hereby accepts the terms and conditions of section 4 of the act of Congress approved August eighteenth, eighteen hundred and ninety-four (28 U. S. Stat. 372-422), commonly known as the "Carey Act," and all acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, heretofore, or which may be hereafter, passed by the Congress of the United States, together with all the grants of land heretofore made, or which may hereafter be made, to the state by the general government under the provisions thereof.

By act of the legislature of March 20, 1895, the State of Nevada "accepted the provisions and conditions of section 4 of the act of Congress * * * approved August 18, 1894, together with all grants of land to the State of Nevada under the provisions of said act" (Stats. 1895, 111).

3065. Selection and disposal of land, where vested—Surveyor-general register.

SEC. 2. The selection, management and disposal of said land shall be vested in the state commission of industry, agriculture and irrigation as is or may be heretofore created and established by law, and the surveyor-general is hereby designated as state register of lands under the Carey act.

3066. Applications for temporary withdrawals—Procedure—Rules and regulations.

SEC. 3. Any person or persons, association, company or corporation constructing, having constructed, or desiring to construct, impounding dams, canals, ditches or other irrigation works, pumping plants, or artesian wells, to reclaim lands under the provisions of this act, may file with said commission an application for the temporary withdrawal of such lands under the provisions of the act of Congress of March fifteenth, nineteen hundred and ten (public 87), designating the same by legal subdivisions. Such application shall be prepared and submitted in accordance with such general rules and regulations as the commission may adopt and prescribe, and which shall be in conformity with any regulations of the department of the interior, and shall be accompanied by the certificate of the state engineer that application for permit to appropriate water therefor has been filed in his office.

3067. Idem—Filing fee.

SEC. 4. A filing fee of one cent per acre for the total number of acres requested to be temporarily withdrawn shall accompany such application.

3068. State engineer to report on applications—Approval—Withdrawal.

SEC. 5. All such applications, prepared and submitted in accordance with the rules and regulations of the commission and of the department of the interior, shall be referred to the state engineer who shall submit a written report thereon, and which shall cover such information regarding water supply, feasibility of project, status of the water right, and other data necessary to enable the state register of lands under the Carey act to make the proper application and certification required by the general land office in such cases. No application on which the state engineer has reported adversely shall be approved by the commission, but if the state engineer report favorably thereon, said commission shall, at its earliest convenience, consider the same, and if a majority of the members approve the application (or approve a modification of such application, in which case, on the acceptance by the applicant of such modification), said commission shall direct the state register of lands under the Carey act to file in the local U. S. land office a request for the temporary withdrawal of the lands described.

3069. Money to be deposited to cover all preliminary costs—Relinquishment.

SEC. 6. Immediately after any application has been approved by the commission and prior to the filing of the request for the temporary withdrawal in the U. S. land office, said applicant shall deposit with the commission a sum which, according to the estimate of the state engineer, will cover the entire cost of the surveys, determinations, maps and plats required by the secretary of the interior before approving a segregation and allotment of such lands to the state. Such deposit shall be for a guarantee that all such surveys, determinations, maps and plats shall be properly and in good faith made on the part of the applicant, and completed and filed with said commission for its examination at least ninety days prior to the termination of the temporary withdrawal, and also to cover any fees and expenses of the state engineer authorized by law to be collected and charged against the applicant in such cases; and said state engineer is hereby empowered to supervise such surveys and determinations. From time to time, as such surveys, determinations, and the preparation of such maps and plats progress, and on requisition by the state engineer, said applicant shall be reimbursed from such deposit for the accrued costs of the same; provided, that any such applicant, desiring to relinquish and abandon such project prior to the completion of such surveys and determinations, who shall serve a written notice to such effect upon the commission, accompanied with a relinquishment to the state of his application for a water right, shall be reimbursed the unexpended balance of his deposit.

3070. Request for segregation to be filed—Waiver of withdrawal—Fees.

SEC. 7. Any applicant who shall submit his application for a segregation in a form complying with the requirements of the commission and of the secretary of the interior in respect to surveys, determinations, maps, plats, water rights, etc., and which shall be approved by the state engineer and by the commission, may waive request for a temporary withdrawal and, on payment to the commission of a fee of one cent per acre, and any fee required by the state engineer for any verification thereof; and any applicant who has completed the requirements of a temporary withdrawal in respect to such fees, surveys, determinations, maps, plats, water rights, etc., and who shall pay the segregation fee required by the U. S. land office, the state register of lands under the Carey act by direction of the commission, shall file a request on the part of the state for a segregation of the lands embraced in such approved application.

3071. Commission to enter into contract with applicant, when—Bond—Default—Extension of time, when—Sale of equity—Proceeds of sale, how used.

SEC. 8. Upon the approval of the secretary of the interior of the application for a segregation, it shall be the duty of the commission to enter into a contract with the applicant for such segregation, which contract shall contain such complete specifications with respect to the system of irrigation works proposed to reclaim the lands of such segregation as the commission, by its regulations, shall prescribe; the price, conditions and terms per acre at which such works and perpetual water rights shall be sold to settlers; the price, terms and conditions on which the state is to dispose of the lands to settlers, and such other and additional requirements and stipulations as shall insure and protect the good reputation of the state, and the rights of all parties in interest from date to the complete consummation of the enterprise. Such contract shall not be entered into until the contractor shall have filed a satisfactory bond in a penal sum equal to five per cent of the estimated cost of the works, which shall be conditioned for the faithful performance of the provisions of the contract with this state; provided, that if within three months after notice by the commission to the applicant, by registered letter, addressed to his, their, or its last known address, that such segregation has been approved by the secretary of the interior, said applicant person or persons, association, company or corporation neglects or refuses to appear in person, or through its duly authorized officers, or by agent satisfying the commission of his authority so to do, to enter into and execute a contract with the state and supply the bond as required, then said person or persons, association, company or corporation shall be declared in default by the commission (unless in the opinion of the commission an extension of time, not exceeding thirty days, should be granted), and all his, their or its rights and equities therein lapsed and defaulted to the state; and the commission may advertise the equity of such applicant for sale to the highest bidder, under such rules and regulations as it may prescribe, and sell the same and enter into a contract covering such segregation with the purchaser thereof, in which case the state engineer shall transfer the application for the water right in the name of and to such purchaser. The proceeds of any such sale shall be used, first, to cover the costs and expenses of advertisement and sale, second, to reimburse said defaulting applicant for his outlay in respect to such application, as the same may appear from the records and account of the commission and of the state engineer's office, and the surplus, if any, shall be deposited in the Carey act trust fund hereinafter created. In the case of any segregation approved by the secretary of the interior prior to the date this act goes into effect, where due notice to the applicant of such approval has been made by the state land register, said three months' limitation within which a contract must be signed shall begin to run from the date when this act goes into effect.

3072. Contracts limited as to time of construction of works—Proviso.

SEC. 9. No contract shall be entered into by the commission on the part of the state which requires a greater time than three years for the construction of the works, but all contracts must provide that work shall commence within three months from the date of said contract, that at least one-tenth of the construction work shall be completed within one year from the date of said contract, that construction shall be prosecuted diligently and continuously to completion, and that a cessation of the work under the contract with the state for a period of three months shall forfeit to the state all rights under said contract; provided, that if such three months' cessation of work shall occur in whole, or in part during the months of December, January, February, and March, and shall be caused by the inclemency of the weather, it shall not be deemed a forfeiture.

3073. Modification of contract, when.

SEC. 10. Any contract, so entered into, may be subsequently modified, if in the opinion of the commission such modification conserves and protects the public welfare and the rights of settlers; provided, that if such modification relates to changes in the irrigation works or system or to an extension of time for the completion thereof, the consent of the state engineer shall be a condition precedent to any act of the commission authorizing the same. Any contract so entered into may contain a stipulation for the subsequent enlargement of the works to irrigate more land under the Carey act, but no such enlargement shall be undertaken except in accordance with the requirements of an original application.

3074. State not obligated.

SEC. 11. Nothing in this act shall be construed as authorizing said commission to obligate the state to pay for any work constructed under any contract or to hold the state in any way responsible to settlers for the failure of contractors to complete the work according to the terms of their contracts with the state.

3075. Assignment of contracts not recognized under certain conditions—Approval of.

SEC. 12. No assignment by any applicant for a temporary withdrawal or segregation, of any right, interest, claim or equity therein, before or after its approval, and before contract shall actually have been entered into with the state, shall be recognized by the commission, without it be accompanied with a certificate signed by the assignee that he has had in his possession, and examined for his own information, a statement of the status of such application, or approved segregation, prepared and subscribed by the state register of lands under the Carey act of date not older than thirty days preceding the date of the execution of the assignment; and any assignment, without such statement in the actual possession of the assignee prior to the execution thereof, if for a valuable consideration shall render the assignor liable to prosecution for fraud. No assignment shall be valid until it receive the approval of the commission, when the same, or a certified copy thereof, shall be filed with the commission by the assignee.

3076. Commission to fix price of lands.

SEC. 13. Said commission is hereby authorized to fix the price at which the state shall dispose of lands in each segregation to settlers, which shall not be less than fifty cents per acre nor more than one dollar per acre, depending on the location, character of the land and climatic conditions; the proceeds of which shall be deposited in the state treasury, in a fund hereby created for such purpose, to be known as Carey act trust fund.

3077. Payment not made until water is available—Bond—Proviso—Sales through agency.

SEC. 14. No person, or persons, association, company or corporation, contracting with the state under the provisions of this act, or their assigns, shall require any advance payment of any settler or prospective settler, prior to the time that water for the irrigation of his entry or allotment is actually available, unless a satisfactory bond in such sum as the commission shall require shall be deposited with the commission, conditioned on the return to the settler, with interest at six per cent per annum thereon, of all payments so made, if water for the irrigation of his entry or allotment is not available at the time stipulated in the agreement with such settler; provided, that in lieu of a bond as aforesaid, said commission may authorize advanced sales to be made by, or through the agency of, a bank or trust company furnishing satisfactory assurances and guarantees that if said project is not consummated to deliver water for the irrigation of such settler's entry or allotment within the time specified, such payments with interest shall be returned to the settler.

3078. Limitation of time as to construction—Forfeiture of bond—Notice by publication in newspaper—Money from sale, how applied.

SEC. 15. Upon the failure of any parties having contracts with the state for the construction of irrigation works to begin the same within the time specified by the contract, or to complete the same within the time or in accordance with the specifications of the contract with the state, to the satisfaction of the state engineer, it shall be the duty of the commission to give such parties written notice of such failure, signed by the chairman of said commission and the state register of lands under the Carey act; and if, after a period of sixty days after the sending of such notice, they shall have failed to proceed with the work or to conform to the specifications of their contract with the state, the bond and contract of such parties, and all works constructed thereunder, shall be at once and thereby forfeited to the state; and it shall be the duty of the commission at once so to declare and to give notice, once each week, for a period of four weeks, in some newspaper of general circulation in the county or counties in which the work is situated, and in one newspaper at the state capital in like manner and for a like period, of the forfeiture of said contract, and that upon a fixed day proposals will be received at the office of the commission at Carson City for the purchase of the incompleting works and for the completion of the contract, the time of receiving said bids to be at least sixty days subsequent to the issuing of the last notice of forfeiture. The money received by the commission from the sale of partially completed works under the provisions of this section shall first be applied to the expenses incurred by the state in their forfeiture and disposal, and to satisfy the bond; and the surplus, if any exists, shall be paid to the original contractors with the state. Said commission shall give notice in its advertisement for proposals for the purchase of such incompleting works that the successful bidder therefor shall be required, before the transfer of ownership, to furnish a satisfactory bond in a prescribed sum conditioned for the faithful fulfilment of the uncompleted provisions of the contract with the state.

3079. Commission to determine conditions of opening land for entry.

SEC. 16. Said commission shall determine the time, manner and conditions under which lands and water rights of any segregation, or any part thereof, shall be thrown open for entry by, or sale to, intending settlers.

3080. Qualifications of applicants for land—160-acre limitation—Applications to be accompanied by contract for perpetual water right—Previous entry—Payments—Certificate and record.

SEC. 17. Any citizen of the United States, or person who has declared his intention to become such, over the age of twenty-one years, including married women, may make application under oath to the commission to enter any of such land in an amount not to exceed one hundred and sixty acres for any one person; and such application shall set forth that the person desiring to make such entry does so for the purpose of actual reclamation, cultivation and settlement in accordance with the act of Congress and the laws of this state relative thereto, and that the applicant has never received the benefit of the provisions of this act to an amount greater than one hundred and sixty acres, including the number of acres specified in the application under consideration. Said application must be accompanied by a certified copy of a contract for a perpetual water right, made and entered into by the party making application with the person or persons, association, company or corporation authorized by the commission to furnish water for the reclamation of said lands; and if said applicant has at any previous time entered lands under the provisions of this section he shall so state in his application, together with the description, date of entry and location of such land. The commission shall thereupon file in its office the application and papers relating thereto and, if allowed, issue a certificate of location to the applicant. All applications for entry shall be accompanied by a payment of twenty-five cents per acre, which shall be a partial payment on the land if the application is allowed; and all certificates when issued shall be recorded in a book to be kept for that purpose. If the application is not allowed, the twenty-five cents per acre accompanying it shall be refunded to the applicant. The balance unpaid on the price fixed by the commission for the land allowed an applicant shall be due and payable in such installments and at such times as the commission shall prescribe, but before patent shall issue the full price of such land shall have been paid by the settler.

3081. Final proof of reclamation, how made—Fees, where paid—Proofs—Patents.

SEC. 18. Within one year after a water right is available for the irrigation of the land described in a certificate of location, the settler shall cultivate and reclaim not less than one-sixteenth part of the land filed on, and within two years thereafter, shall have actually irrigated and cultivated not less than one-eighth thereof, and within three years thereafter the settler shall appear before the state register of lands under the Carey act, or the judge or clerk of any court of record within the state, or any agent designated by the commission, and make final proof of reclamation, settlement and occupation, in such form and according to such requirements as may be prescribed by the commission or the department of the interior. The officer taking this proof shall be entitled to receive a fee of two dollars, which fee shall be paid by the settler and shall be in addition to the price paid the state for the land; provided, that when the state register of lands under the Carey act takes final proof, all fees received by him shall be turned into the Carey act trust fund. Said state register and the agents appointed by the commission are hereby authorized to administer oaths required under this act. All proofs so received shall be accompanied with the final payment for said land, and upon approval by the commission the settler shall be entitled to the patent. If the land shall not be embraced in any patent theretofore issued to the state by the United States, the proofs shall be forwarded to the secretary of the interior, with the request that a patent to said lands be issued to the state. When the works designed for the irrigation of lands under the provisions of this act shall be so far completed as to actually furnish in a substantial ditch, or canal, or by artesian wells or reservoirs, water to reclaim any particular tract or tracts of such land, the State of Nevada may, by, and in the discretion of said commission, make proof of such fact, and apply for a patent to such lands in the manner provided by the act of Congress approved June eleventh, eighteen hundred and ninety-six.

3082. Patents to land, regulations concerning issue of.

SEC. 19. Upon the issuance of a patent to any lands by the United States, notice shall be forwarded to the settler upon such land. All patents issued by the state to the settler shall be signed by the governor and attested by the state register of lands under the Carey act, and under such seal as the commission may adopt for such purpose, and shall be recorded in the office of said state register in a book kept for that purpose. No patent shall issue on an assignment of a certificate of location, or by reason of a process of foreclosure, unless the assignee or purchaser under foreclosure, possesses all the qualifications of an original applicant.

3083. Water rights to attach to lands—Liens for deferred payments—Record.

SEC. 20. The water rights to all lands acquired under the provisions of this act shall attach to and become appurtenant to the land as soon as the title passes from the United States to the state. Any person or persons, association, company or corporation, furnishing water for any tract of land, shall have a first and prior lien on said water right and land upon which said water is used, for all deferred payments for said water right; said lien to be in all respects prior to any other and all other liens created or attempted to be created by the owner and possessor of said land; said lien to remain in full force and effect until the last deferred payment for the water right is fully paid and satisfied according to the terms of the contract under which said water right is acquired. The contract for the water right upon which the aforesaid lien is founded shall be recorded in the office of the recorder of the county where said land is situated.

3084. Default of deferred payments on lands—Foreclosure—Sale of land, when—Restrictions regarding said sale.

SEC. 21. Upon default of any deferred payments secured by any lien under the provisions of this act, the person or persons, association, company or corporation, holding or owning said lien, may foreclose the same according to the terms and conditions of the contract granting and selling to the settler the water right. All sales shall be advertised in a newspaper of general circulation, published in the county where said land and water right are situate, once each week, for six consecutive weeks, and shall be sold to the highest bidder at the front door of the court-house, or such place as may be agreed by the terms of the aforesaid contract. And the sheriff of said county shall in all cases give all notices of sale, and shall sell all such lands and water rights, and shall make and execute a certificate of sale to the purchaser thereof. And at such sale no person or persons, association, company or corporation, owning or holding any lien, shall bid in or purchase any land or water right at a greater price than the amount due on said deferred payment for said water right and land and the cost incurred in making the sale of the same.

3085. Idem—Land may be redeemed within six months—Who may redeem—Proviso.

SEC. 22. At any time within six months after the foreclosure sale by the sheriff of the the land and water rights aforesaid, the original owner against whom the lien has been foreclosed, may apply to the person or persons, association, company or corporation, purchasing at such sale, to redeem such land and water rights, and the purchaser shall assign the certificate of sale of such land and water rights to such original owner upon the payment by him, within such six months, of the amount of the lien for which the same was sold, together with the interest, costs and fixed charges thereon. Where the lien holder becomes the purchaser at such foreclosure sale, if such land and water rights are not redeemed by the original owner within six months, then at any time within six months thereafter any person (possessing the qualifications of an original applicant if patent has not yet issued), desiring to settle upon and use such land and water rights, may apply to the purchaser at such foreclosure sale to redeem such land and water rights, and such purchaser shall assign the certificate of sale thereof to the person desiring to redeem the same upon the payment by him, within such six months, of the amount of lien for which the same was sold at such foreclosure sale, together with the interest, costs and fixed charges thereon; provided, that in all cases arising under the provisions of this section and the section preceding, the right of the state to secure any unpaid balance due on the selling price of the land shall be protected.

3086. Sheriff to record certificate of sale—Deed issued, when—Disposition of proceeds of sale.

SEC. 23. Upon issuing any certificate of sale, it shall be the duty of the sheriff to file for record in the office of the recorder of the county where such land is situated, a certified copy of such certificate of sale; and in case the original owner shall redeem the land and water rights, said original owner shall file for record in the office of such recorder the certificate of sale assigned to him by the purchaser. In case the land and water rights shall be redeemed by any person other than the original owner, the sheriff shall, upon presentation of such certificate, if patent for the land has issued, issue a deed, otherwise a transfer (subject to an unpaid balance on the land due the state) of such land and water rights to the person so redeeming the same. If the land and water rights shall not be redeemed by any person within the times and in such manner hereinbefore provided, it shall be the duty of the sheriff, upon presentation of the certificate of sale by the original purchaser, to issue a deed or transfer as aforesaid to the purchaser. Where such land and water rights are not purchased by the lien holder at such foreclosure sale, it shall be the duty of the sheriff to first pay the lien holder out of the proceeds of such sale the amount of the lien, together with all interests, costs and fixed charges thereon, next the state any unpaid balance on the selling price of the land if patent has not issued, and any residue remaining to the person against whom such lien has been foreclosed, and for his services in such cases the sheriff shall receive the same fees as are provided by law in civil cases.

3087. Commission to make and enforce rules.

SEC. 24. Said commission is hereby authorized and empowered to establish, and require the observance of, such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary, proper or expedient, not in conflict with law or the regulations of the department of the interior, with respect to the administration of the provisions of this act, and which shall be published from time to time in pamphlet form for free distribution.

3088. Department of Carey act lands established: state register of lands under the Carey act—Duties—May appoint deputy—Compensation.

SEC. 25. There is hereby established, as a department of the bureau of industry, agriculture and irrigation, as is or may be created by law, the department of Carey act lands, and which shall be in charge of the state register of lands under the Carey act, subject to the general supervision and control of the commission. Said state register may appoint a deputy and such clerical and other assistance as may be required in such department, at such compensation as the commission may fix. He shall be the custodian of all papers, documents, maps and plats relating to such department, receive and receipt for all fees and payments required to be paid under the provisions of this act, or under any rule or regulation of the commission, and deposit the same with the state treasurer to the credit of the Carey act trust fund; conduct all correspondence relating to such department, perform such other duties as the commission may prescribe and is hereby named as the authorized agent of the state to enter into and to execute, for and in behalf of the state, the agreement prescribed by the secretary of the interior binding the state in respect to the disposal of lands under the Carey act. He shall be entitled to such compensation for his services as state register of lands under the Carey act as the commission may allow.

See sec. 4486.

3089. Fees.

SEC. 26. The following fees shall be collected by the commission under the provisions of this act and deposited with the state treasurer to be placed in the Carey act trust fund: For filing each application for entry of land, one dollar; for each assignment of entry, two dollars; for taking evidence in final proof, two dollars; for taking evidence of annual proof of cultivation, one dollar and fifty cents; for issuing each certificate of location, one dollar; for issuing each patent, one dollar; for making certified copies of papers or records, twenty cents per folio for the original, and five cents per folio for each carbon copy thereof; for each application for a temporary withdrawal or a permanent segregation, but not twice for the same lands by the same applicant, one cent per acre for the total number of acres covered by the application, and for each statement of the status of an application for a segregation, prepared for the information of a prospective assignee thereof, twenty-five dollars.

3090. Services of state engineer, how paid—Expenses—Report—Authorized agent of state—Deputy.

SEC. 27. The services of the state engineer shall be compensated for by such fees and expense allowances as are authorized by law to be assessed against an applicant for a water right and for his inspection, supervision and report upon the proposed irrigation works of such applicant, and all other services of the state engineer, if the expense thereof is not covered by existing law, shall be assessed against the applicant, and shall be required in advance, and the state engineer shall render a statement to the commission therefor, showing the disposition thereof; but, except in special cases and for unusual services, the work of the state engineer in connection with the Carey act shall be taken care of under the fee and compensation system of his office. He shall be the authorized agent of the state to make desert land selections under the Carey act, and may depute an engineer under his office to act in his stead.

3091. Name of commission—Suits at law.

SEC. 28. Said commission shall be known collectively as "State Commission of Industry, Agriculture and Irrigation," and in that name may sue and be sued in any action at law brought under the provisions of this act.

See sec. 4486.

3092. Annual report—Distribution—Pending proceedings not to be made public.

SEC. 29. The state register of lands under the Carey act at the close of each fiscal year shall submit a detailed report of the transactions of his department to said commission, and on its approval, such number of copies thereof shall be printed for gratuitous distribution as the commission may direct; provided, that all pending proceedings before the commission and the state engineer, except the application for permit for a water right, shall not be made public or be open to public inspection until the application for temporary withdrawal or a segregation is filed in the U. S. land office.

3093. Proceeds of sale of lands under control of the commission—Carey act trust fund—Proceeds of sale, how applied—Money appropriated from treasury for use of commission—Reimbursement—Examiners to approve disbursements—Proviso.

SEC. 30. Subject to the provisions of the act of Congress, approved August eighteenth, eighteen hundred and ninety-four, the proceeds derived by the state from fees and the sale of Carey act lands, and by this act required to be deposited in the Carey act trust fund, shall be subject to control and disposition by said commission and may be used and drawn upon by said commission from time to time for the following purposes, and for none other:

First—For the payment of all expenses, clerical assistance, and the compensation of the state register of lands under the Carey act, necessary to the administration and conduct of the said department of Carey act lands of the bureau of industry, agriculture and irrigation.

Second—For the reclamation, under the control and direction of the commission, of desert lands in the state, other than those included in any segregation or application for a temporary withdrawal by any applicant except the state.

Third—For such experimentation in agriculture, horticulture and forestry as shall aid the reclamation of the desert lands of the state.

Fourth—For such advertisement and publicity of the desert lands of the state as may advance their settlement and reclamation.

Until said Carey act trust fund shall have received deposits from fees and sales of land under the provisions of this act sufficient to meet the necessary disbursements arising under the first foregoing paragraph, the state controller and state treasurer are hereby authorized and directed to transfer from the general fund to said Carey act trust fund, from time to time, sufficient moneys to meet the same, not exceeding five thousand dollars, and such sum is hereby appropriated for that purpose; provided, that as soon thereafter as deposits to the credit of said fund, derived from fees and sales of lands shall be sufficient therefor, all sums so transferred shall be restored to the general fund. All disbursements from said Carey act trust fund shall be on certificates of the chairman of said commission, approved by the state board of examiners.

3094. Provisions nonapplicable to prior transactions—Provisions applicable—Proviso.

SEC. 31. The provisions of this act with respect to fees and the price authorized to be established by the commission and charged settlers for the purchase of lands shall not be held to apply in cases where the segregation applied for by any person or persons, association, company or corporation has been approved by the secretary of the interior and the contract covering the same entered into with the state, and executed on the part of the state by the state land register, prior to April first, nineteen hundred and eleven; but in all such cases the provisions of section 15 of the act of March twenty-third, nineteen hundred and nine, shall be held to apply as covering the same and said commission shall take such procedure under the terms thereof as shall reimburse the state for its actual expense and outlay in respect to proof of reclamation, settlement and occupation by settlers and the issuance of patent and recording the same; provided, that if prior to any actual sale of lands and water rights to settlers the contractor shall agree with the commission that such fees for proof of reclamation, settlement and occupation and for patent may be charged, the same shall apply.

3095. Certain contracts subject to these provisions.

SEC. 32. All contracts entered into on the part of the state with any person or persons, association, company or corporation on and after April first, nineteen hundred and eleven, irrespective of whether the segregation covered by said contract shall have been approved prior to the date this act goes into effect, shall be subject to the provisions of this act, and shall require the settler to pay such price as the commission shall establish for the land and the fees for proof of reclamation, settlement and occupation.

3096. Applications covered by this act.

SEC. 33. All applications for a segregation after the date this act goes into effect shall be covered by the provisions of this act, and irrespective of the fact that said land may have been temporarily withdrawn prior to such date, the fee of one cent per acre shall be required of the applicant before said commission shall authorize or direct the state register of lands under the Carey act to file the application for a segregation.

3097. Certain acts repealed.

SEC. 34. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed, including section 3 of the act of March twenty-third, nineteen hundred and nine. No provision of said act of March twenty-third, nineteen hundred and nine, shall hereafter be held to apply in any case other than as prescribed in section 31 of this act.

REGULATIONS OF THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR WITH RESPECT TO THE CAREY ACT

1. Under the provisions of the acts quoted the states and territories are allowed ten years from the date of the approval of the application for the segregation of the land by the secretary of the interior, in which to irrigate and reclaim them. The secretary of the interior may, however, in his discretion, extend the time for irrigating and reclaiming the land for a period of five years, or he may restore to the public domain the lands not reclaimed at the expiration of the ten years, or of the extended period.

2. The lands selected under these acts must all be desert lands, as defined by the acts of 1877 and 1891, and the decisions and regulations of this department therein provided for.

Lands which produce native grasses sufficient in quantity, if unfed by grazing animals, to make an ordinary crop of hay in usual seasons, are not desert lands. Lands which will produce an agricultural crop of any kind in amount sufficient to make the cultivation reasonably remunerative are not desert. Lands containing sufficient moisture to produce a natural growth of trees are not to be classed as desert lands.

Lands occupied by bona fide settlers and lands containing valuable deposits of coal or other minerals are not subject to selection.

3. The second paragraph of section 4, before quoted, provides that before the application of any state is allowed or any contract or agreement is executed or any segregation of any of the land from the public domain is ordered by the secretary of the interior, the state shall file a map of the land selected and proposed to be irrigated, which shall exhibit a plan showing the mode of contemplated irrigation and the source of the water. In accordance with the requirements of the act, the state must give full data to show that the proposed plan will be sufficient to thoroughly irrigate and reclaim the land and prepare it to raise ordinary agricultural crops; for which purpose a statement by the state engineer of the amount of water available for the plan of irrigation will be necessary. The other data required cannot be fully prescribed, as it will depend upon the nature of the plan submitted. All information necessary to enable this office to judge of its practicability for irrigating all the land selected must be submitted. Upon the filing of the map showing the plan for irrigation, and the lands selected, such lands will be withheld from other disposition until final action is had thereon by the secretary of the interior. If such final action be a disapproval of the map and plan, the lands selected shall, without further order, be subject to disposition as if such disposition had never been made; and the local officers will make the appropriate notations on the tract books and plat books, opposite those previously made, in accordance with the requirements of paragraph 7.

4. The map must be on tracing linen, in duplicate, and must be drawn to a scale not greater than 1,000 feet to 1 inch. A smaller scale is desirable, if the necessary information can be clearly shown. The map and field notes must be filed in the local land office for the district in which the land is located. If the lands selected are located in more than one district, duplicate map and field notes need be filed in but one district and single sets in the others. Each legal subdivision of the land selected should be clearly indicated on the map by a check mark, thus: V. The map and field notes must show the connections of termini of a canal or of the initial point of a reservoir with public survey corners, the connections with public survey corners, wherever section or township lines are crossed by the proposed irrigation works, and must show full data to admit of retracing the lines of the survey of the irrigation works on the ground.

5. The map should bear an affidavit of the engineer who made or supervised the preparation of the map and plan (Form 11), and also of the officer authorized by the state to make its selections under the act (Form 2). The map should be accompanied by a list in triplicate of the lands selected, designated by legal subdivisions, properly summed up at the foot of each page, and at the end of the list. If the lands selected are located in more than one district, a list in triplicate must be filed in each office, describing the lands selected in that district. Clear carbon copies are preferred for the duplicate and triplicate lists. The lists should be dated and verified by a certificate of the selecting agent (Form 3). The party appearing as agent of the state must file with the register and receiver written and satisfactory evidence, under seal, of his authority to act in the premises; such evidence once filed need not be duplicated during the period for which the agent was appointed. The state should number the lists in consecutive order, beginning with No. 1, regardless of the land office in which they are to be filed. Form of title page to be prefixed to the lists of selections will be found in Form 2, marked "A." Lists received at this office containing erasures will not be filed, but will be returned in order that new ones may be prepared. When a township has not been subdivided, but has had its exteriors surveyed, the whole township may be designated, omitting, however, the sections to which the state may be entitled under its grant of school lands. When the records are in such condition that the proper notations may be made, a section or part of a section of unsurveyed land may be designated in the list; but no patent can issue thereon until the land has been surveyed.

6. A contract in the form herein prescribed (Form 5), in duplicate, signed by the state officer authorized to execute such contract, must also be filed. A carbon copy of the contract will not be accepted. The person who executes the contract on behalf of the state must furnish evidence of his authority to do so.

7. The lists must be carefully and critically examined by the register and receiver, and their accuracy tested by the plats and records of their office. When so examined and found correct in all respects, they will attach a certificate at the foot of each list (Form 4). The register must note on the map, lists, contracts, and all papers the name of the land office and the date of filing over his written signature and will thereupon post the selections in ink in the tract book after the following manner: "Selected, 19....., by....., the State....., as desert land, act of August 18, 1894, serial No.," and on the plats he will mark the tracts so selected "State desert land selection." After the selections are properly posted and marked on the records, the lists, maps, and all papers will be transmitted to the general land office.

For rejected selections a new list will be required, upon which the register will note opposite each tract the objections appearing on the records and indorse thereon his reasons in full for refusing to certify the same. The state will be allowed to appeal in the manner provided for in the rules of practice. It is required that clear lists of approvals shall in every case be made out by the selecting agents, if after the above examination one or more tracts have been rejected, showing clearly and without erasure the tracts to which the register is prepared to certify. On the map of the lands selected the register will mark rejected such tracts as he has rejected on the lists.

8. When the canals or reservoirs required by the plan of irrigation cross public land not selected by the state, an application for right of way over such lands under sections 18 to 21, act of March 3, 1891 (26 Stat. 1085), should be filed separately, in accordance with the regulations under said act.

9. In the preceding paragraphs instructions are given for the designation of the lands by the proper state authorities. Upon the approval of the map of the lands and the plan of irrigation, the contract is executed by the secretary of the interior and approved by the president, as directed by the act. Upon the approval of the map and plan, the lands are reserved for the purposes of the act, said reservation dating from the date of the filing of the map and plan in the local land office. A duplicate of the approved map and plan, and of the list of lands, is transmitted for the files of the local land office, and a triplicate copy of the list is forwarded to the state authorities.

10. When patents are desired for any lands that have been segregated, the state should file in the local land office a list, to which is prefixed a certificate of the presiding officer of the state land board, or other officer of the state who may be charged with the duty of disposing of the lands which the state may obtain under the law (Form 6); and followed by an affidavit of the state engineer, or other state officer whose duty it may be to superintend the reclamation of the lands (Form 7).

11. The certificate of Form 6 is required in order to show that the state laws accepting the grant of the lands have been duly complied with.

12. The affidavit of Form 7 is required in order to show compliance with the provisions of the law, that an ample supply of water has been actually furnished in a substantial ditch or canal, or by artesian wells or reservoirs, for each tract in the list, sufficient to thoroughly irrigate and reclaim it, and to prepare it to raise ordinary agricultural crops. A separate statement by the state engineer must be furnished, giving all the facts as to the water supply and the nature, location, and completion of the irrigation works.

If there are some high points which it is not practicable to irrigate, the nature, extent, location, and area of such points should be fully stated. If no part of a legal subdivision is susceptible of irrigation such legal subdivision must be relinquished. Lands upon which valuable deposits of coal or other minerals are discovered will not be patented to the state under these acts.

13. These lists will be called "lists for patent," and should be numbered by the state consecutively, beginning with No. 1. The list should also show, opposite each tract, the number of the approved segregation list in which it appears. The aggregate area should be stated at the foot of each page and at the end of the list.

14. Upon the filing of such list the local officers will place thereon the date of filing and note on the records opposite each tract listed: "List for patent serial No., filed, giving the date.

15. When said list is filed in the local land office there shall also be filed by the state a notice, in duplicate, prepared for the signature of the register and receiver, describing the land by sections, and portions of sections, where less than a section is designated (Form 8). This notice shall be published at the expense of the state once a week in each of nine consecutive weeks, in a newspaper of established character and general circulation, to be designated by the register as published nearest the land. One copy of said notice shall be posted in a conspicuous place in the local office for at least sixty days during the period of publication.

16. At the expiration of the period of publication the state shall file in the local office proof of said publication and of payment for the same. Thereupon the register and receiver shall forward the list for patent to the general land office, noting thereon any protests or contests which may have been filed, transmitting such papers, and submitting any recommendations they may deem proper. They will also forward proofs of publication, of payment therefor, and of the posting of the list in their office.

17. Before patents are issued for lands within the former Southern Ute and the Ute Indian reservations in Colorado, the state will be required to pay the price ($1.25 per acre) fixed by the acts of March 1, 1907, and February 24, 1909. The state will be advised of the number of acres which will be included in the patent and payment shall be made to the receiver of the proper land office, who will issue a receipt as in other cases. The money will be accounted for in the same manner as other moneys received from the disposal of such lands.

18. Upon the receipt of the papers in the general land office such action will be taken in each case as the showing may require, and all tracts that are free from valid protest or contest, and respecting which the law and regulations have been complied with, will be certified to the secretary of the interior for approval and patenting.

FRED DENNETT,
Commissioner General Land Office.

Approved April 9, 1909:

R. A. BALLINGER,
Secretary of the Interior.

REGULATIONS RELATING TO THE AMENDMENT OF MARCH 15, 1910

1. Under the provisions of this amendatory act public lands of the United States may be temporarily withdrawn upon proper application by a beneficiary state or territory that proper surveys may be prepared and investigation made preliminary to the filing of application by such state or territory for the segregation of such lands under the Carey act.

If such application is not filed within one year from the date of withdrawal, the lands so withdrawn will, as directed by the act, be immediately restored to entry.

No provision is made for the extension of such temporary withdrawal.

2. To obtain the benefits of this amendatory act, the state or territory, through its proper official, will be required to file in the local land office in the land district within which lands sought to be withdrawn lie, an application therefor, which shall set forth the name of the individual or corporation proposing to reclaim the lands; that all of the forms and conditions imposed by the state law upon such proposer prior to segregation have been complied with; that from the showing made by the proposer (or state other source of information) it is believed that sufficient water to irrigate the whole of the lands asked to be withdrawn, over and above prior appropriations, is available; and that the proposer has either acquired title to such water or applied for the same, and that the lands are desert in character.

Appended to the application should be a list of the lands asked to be withdrawn. If the lands are unsurveyed, the fact should be set forth, together with a statement that an application for the survey thereof has been filed in the office of the surveyor-general.

3. Accompanying such application should be filed an affidavit (Form C), based upon personal examination, that the lands sought to be withdrawn are desert in character, as contemplated by the Carey act, and are nonmineral.

This affidavit should be made either by the proposer, his or its engineer, or by the state or territorial engineer, or one of his assistants.

4. Where the lands sought to be withdrawn are situated in more than one land district, a list must be filed in each district describing the lands in that district.

5. Upon the filing of such application the register will at once note the same upon his records, and will thereafter reject all applications to enter, purchase, or select any of such lands, excepting when settlement or application to enter, purchase, or select prior to the date of filing of the state's application is alleged or disclosed of record. He will then at once transmit the application to this office for further action, first noting thereon the date of filing over his written signature.

6. Within three months after the date of filing the application for withdrawal in the local office the state must file a corroborated affidavit by the proposer, his or its engineer, or the state engineer, that the work of surveying and laying out of the proposed irrigation system has been actually commenced in the field and is being energetically prosecuted. This affidavit should show the work accomplished and the result.

In default of such showing by the state, the withdrawal will be promptly revoked.

7. In the event that any of the tracts withdrawn are found to be above the proposed irrigation works, or for any other reason not susceptible of irrigation, the fact and description of the nonreclaimable land by smallest legal subdivisions should be at once communicated to this office, that they may be relieved from the withdrawal.

8. If at any time after withdrawal it is shown that the state is not energetically prosecuting the investigation and survey of the lands, that the same are not reclaimable by the proposed system of reclamation, are not desert in character, or for any reason are not subject to the provisions of the Carey act, or that the proposer is not proceeding in good faith, the withdrawal will be at once revoked.

9. The one year mentioned in the act as the period of withdrawal will commence to run from the date of the filing of the application for withdrawal in the local land office.

RULES AND REGULATIONS OF THE STATE COMMISSION OF INDUSTRY, AGRICULTURE AND IRRIGATION RELATING TO THE CAREY ACT

CHAPTER I

Defining the General Policy of the Commission Relative to Carey Act Projects and Other Matters Relating Thereto

Policy of the Commission with Respect to Carey Act Projects

Rule 1. It is the purpose and policy of the commission to aid, assist and foster all Carey act reclamation enterprises in the state undertaken and conducted in good faith under the provisions of the act approved March 17, 1911. It is to the highest interests of the state that the two million acres granted Nevada by act of Congress under the Carey act, and acts supplemental thereto, be reclaimed, occupied by settlers and made fruitful at the earliest practicable day. To insure such speedy result, the conduct of the Carey act reclamation projects will be businesslike, competent and responsible. The state will exercise such supervision over each project as will tend to protect investors in the securities of the construction company building the reclamation works, as well the settler who purchases the land and water right, and the commission will assume all powers in this respect that the law permits. The following special requirements under this rule must be complied with:

(a) Before an application for temporary withdrawal (complying in all other respects with the requirements of sections 3 and 5 of said act) will be approved, the commission must be supplied with satisfactory assurance of the responsibility of the applicant, with respect to his personal and business integrity and competency to carry such project through to a successful conclusion; and the same assurance of responsibility will be required of the assignee in all cases of assignment under the provisions of section 12 of said act.

(b) Where the same applicant has been granted a previous application for a temporary withdrawal or a segregation, the commission must be supplied with satisfactory assurances that all such other projects are successfully under way before a new application will be granted.

(c) The commission reserves the right to reject any application for a temporary withdrawal, or to reduce the acreage applied for, for any reasons which seem to it sufficient.

(d) The commission reserves the right to require any contracting applicant, under the provisions of section 8 of said act, either to maintain its principal place of business in the State of Nevada or a branch office in which shall be kept duplicate records of all transactions with respect to its stocks and securities and receipts and disbursements, and which shall be subject to examination at any time by any duly authorized agent of the commission. In all cases the contracting applicant shall designate some resident of the state as its agent upon whom all official notices by the commission, and all civil processes, may be served.

Relating to the Price at which Water Rights of a Project May Be Sold to Entrymen

Rule 2. In determining the price with the contractor at which water rights will be sold the settler, the estimated cost per acre of the reclamation works and all other attendant expenses will be considered, as well the value for crop growing purposes of the land when reclaimed, less the cost of clearing, leveling and seeding. And from which basis the commission will try to arrive at such fair price for the water right as will prove highly remunerative to the contractor as well as a land-bargain to the entryman. It is to the interest of the state that both the contractor who carries through the project which reclaims the segregation shall be handsomely recompensed for his enterprise, work and outlay, and equally so that the settler will be abundantly satisfied with his acquirement of the land and water right.

Relating to the Unity of an Irrigation Project

Rule 3. There must be a certain natural unity, either of the water system, or of the lands to be reclaimed, in any application for a temporary withdrawal or a complete segregation. In cases where the water-system is a connected unit, the lands applied for may be in tracts separated from one another, but become united in one project through the unity of the irrigation system. In cases where the land is a single tract, but irrigated by two or more separated and disconnected water-systems, a separate map may be filed of each water-system, together with a single map of the entire project, and all such maps must be assembled and fastened together, as a part of the application.

CHAPTER II

Interpreting Certain Provisions of the Act Approved March 17, 1911

Minimum Acreage Considered in Any Application

Rule 1. The interior department having previously rejected applications for a complete segregation where the acreage applied for was less than two sections, or 1280 acres, no application for either a temporary withdrawal or for a complete segregation will be considered for a less acreage.

Where the Applicant Is an Incorporated Company

Rule 2. Where the applicant for a temporary withdrawal or of a complete segregation, or the contracting party with the state for the construction of reclamation works, is an incorporated company, a certified copy of the articles of incorporation, the names and residences of the officers and stockholders and their shareholdings must be filed with the commission, and before the lands are opened for entry a copy of the by-laws in force at such time shall be filed with the commission.

Relating to Deposits of Money with Commission by Applicants under Provisions of Section 6

Rule 3. The sum deposited with the commission to cover the cost of surveys, determinations, maps and plats, as provided by section 6 of said act, shall immediately be deposited by the state register of lands under the Carey act, as a separate deposit, in some approved bank. From time to time as such surveys, etc., progress, said applicant may certify such work to the state engineer, requesting to withdraw an amount from such deposit proportional thereto, and on approval thereof by the state engineer he shall issue a requisition upon said state register of lands under the Carey act to forward to said applicant, from such deposit, the amount expressed in said requisition. The said surveys, etc., referred to, shall be such as required by paragraphs 3, 4 and 5 of the department regulations, approved April 9, 1909, and by paragraphs 6, 7 and 8 of the regulations applying to the supplemental act of Congress of 1910.

It is not the purpose of the commission, in carrying out this provision of the act, to cause the applicant any unnecessary annoyance or delay in the active use of the sum deposited. The purpose of the deposit is to insure that proper surveys, in accordance with the department requirements, will be made, and the state must presume that the applicant for a temporary withdrawal, possesses at least the means to make such surveys and pay the state and government filing fees.

Interpretation of the Meaning of the Word "Determinations" as Used in Section 6

Rule 4. The word "determinations" as used in section 6 of said act is hereby interpreted and construed to include in its meaning a determination, as accurately as may be estimated, of the entire cost of the proposed irrigation system and works; the water supply available for the project, and the acreage which may be reclaimed thereby.

Relating to the Price at which Water Rights Shall Be Sold Settlers as Provided in Section 8

Rule 5. Where the lands of a segregation are of different degrees of fertility, or value for crop raising, the price at which the water right is sold the entryman may be different for different lands in the same segregation; but in all such cases the contract shall stipulate such different prices and the legal subdivisions to which the same apply.

Water Must Be Brought within One-Half Mile of Each Quarter Section of a Segregation

Rule 6. The contract provided for in section 8 shall require that water furnished intending settlers shall be brought within one-half mile of each quarter section; that a survey of the settler's lateral to his land shall be made by the contractor, and a right of way for such lateral and for egress and ingress over the land of any other entryman shall be guaranteed.

Relative to the Water Rights Sold the Settler

Rule 7. The stipulations of the contract provided for in section 8 of said act, relative to the quantity of water per acre sold the settler as a perpetual water right, shall be sufficient to thoroughly irrigate and reclaim the land which he has entered and shall be subject to such conditions of delivery, with respect to continuous flow or rotation of delivery during the irrigation season, as will enable the most beneficial use thereof. Sufficient flexibility must be allowed in the contract stipulations as to permit of the adoption, by direction of the state engineer or on approval by the state engineer, of such regulations with respect to the use and delivery of water as experience may suggest as effecting the best results.

Section 10 Interpreted to Mean a Modification of Contract by Mutual Consent Rule 8. Section 10 of said act is hereby interpreted to mean a modification of contract only by mutual consent.

Relative to Section 12 of Said Act and Providing for Advancing the Date of the Statement of the Status of an Application or of an Approved Segregation

Rule 9. The provisions of section 12 of said act are intended to prevent fraudulent transfers to innocent parties of the right, interest, claim or equity of an applicant for a temporary withdrawal or a complete segregation and to compel all such transfers to be conducted on a legitimate business basis by requiring the assignee to be informed in advance of any purchase, involving a valuable consideration, of the exact status of the assignor's right, interest, claim or equity which he proposes to sell or transfer. The provisions of this section will be strictly enforced; provided, however, that where an official statement of the status of an application or of an approved segregation has been issued and the fee paid therefor, the date of the original statement may be advanced from time to time by certificate prepared and subscribed to by the state register of lands under the Carey act, certifying such changes, if any, in the status of such application or approved segregation, as shall have occurred subsequent to the date of said original statement. For each such certificate the state register of lands under the Carey act shall charge a fee of five dollars.

Rule Applying to Section 16 of Said Act

Rule 10. The contract entered into with an applicant or his assigns, under the provisions of section 8 of said act, shall contain a stipulation covering the time, manner and conditions under which the lands and water rights of the segregation, or any part thereof, may be thrown open for entry by, or sale to, intending settlers; and in addition to the bonded liability of the contracting applicant, as provided in section 8 of said act, on his or its failure or refusal to fulfil and comply with such stipulations, said commission will apply to the district court of the county or counties in which such segregation is located for an order of court directing and commanding said contracting applicant so to do.

State Engineer's Fees and Expenses under the Provisions of Section 27

Rule 11. In all cases requiring field investigations and examinations by the state engineer, not provided for by existing law with respect to reimbursing the state for the expenses thereof, the state engineer shall estimate the expenses of such field investigations and examinations and shall require the parties interested to advance the same for his use, or the use of any engineer he may designate to perform the same.

Relative to Maps, Plats, and Hydrographic and Meteorological Data Supplied Commission

Rule 12. The contracting applicant will be required to supply the commission from time to time, with a copy of such hydrographic and meteorological measurements and observations as may be taken, including a log of artesian borings, which may be of any practical or scientific value, and on the completion of the project, with a full set of maps, plats, drawings and specifications, including a hydrographic map of such perfected project.

CHAPTER III

Relating to Carey Act Projects Where the System of Reclamation Is by the Utilization of Subsurface Waters

Interpretation of Rule 3, Chapter 1, as applied to Artesian Reclamation Projects

Rule 1. Rule 3 of Chapter I hereof is hereby interpreted, in accordance with a ruling of the department of the interior dated February 11, 1911, as requiring separate maps of each section or half-section, with the proposed artesian wells for the irrigation thereof showing as connected by a common canal, ditch, pipe line, or other irrigation system, and all such separate systems showing on the general plan of reclamation of all the lands applied for as connected to make one united project.

EXTRACT FROM DEPARTMENT RULING, February 11, 1911: This department will do all in its power to assist the state in the reclamation of these (artesian) lands, but it must clearly appear that the proposed plan of reclamation is feasible, and that the project will be carried out to a successful completion before the application for segregation will be allowed. In applications where at best there is some doubt as to the water supply, I would urge upon the state officials the necessity and importance of making a careful and thorough examination of each application and also the financial ability and good faith of the company or individual contracting for the reclamation of the lands, and in the event of the approval of the application for segregation to observe that the lands are not disposed of to Carey act settlers until the artesian wells and reclamation works have been completed and it has been clearly shown that there is sufficient water available for the reclamation of the lands.

In applications under the Carey act where the water supply is to be obtained by means of artesian wells, which, at the date of the application have not been driven or definitely located, it is impossible to designate on the map the exact location of the water supply and distributing ditches or pipe lines, and a strict compliance with the regulations in this respect will not be required. There must, however, be shown upon the map a combined and connected scheme of reclamation, and sufficient data be furnished with the application to enable this office to get a complete idea of the proposed plan of reclamation, and to judge as to its feasibility.

S. V. PROUDFIT,

Assistant Commissioner General Land Office.

Relating to Applications to Appropriate the Underground Waters of the State

Rule 2. All applications to appropriate the underground waters of the state for the reclamation of Carey act lands shall be in accordance with and subject to the provisions of the rulings of the state engineer of April 20, 1911, and shall further be subject to the provisions of section 8 of the act approved March 17, 1911.

(For these rulings see schedule under Waters, sec. 4672.)

Rule Applying where Portions of an Artesian Reclamation Project Are Opened for Entry

Rule 3. Where the irrigation works of an approved segregation comprise a series of artesian wells withdrawing water from a common underground watercourse or lake, the contracting applicant may, on application to and approval by the commission, be authorized to offer for sale to entrymen portions of such segregation, not less than 640 acres in area, on satisfying the commission that sufficient water is available therefor and that all water rights sold to such senior entrymen will be protected by equipment, if necessary, with power lifts, from diminution of flow by reason of the sinking of additional wells tapping the underground water supply.

When Uncompleted Artesian Irrigation Project May Be Abandoned Without Default of Bond

Rule 4. The commission will hold that the contracting applicant of an approved segregation may not abandon any portion of his irrigation project, without defaulting his bond, except in cases where the good faith of the contractor is shown and it appears to the satisfaction of the state engineer that the probable available water supply of the underground watercourse or lake, under the general provisions of the rulings of the state engineer of April 20, 1911, is exhausted; or where the commission authorizes the relinquishment of a portion or all the segregation on satisfactory proof that the development of a water supply therefor is not economically feasible.

Contract with Power Company Required To Be Filed and Recorded Where the Reclamation Project Involves Pumping with Power Supplied by an Independent Power Company

Rule 5. Where an application for a complete segregation of lands is based on reclamation by water which must be elevated by power before it is available for irrigation purposes, and the power therefor is to be supplied by an independent power company, at the time of entering into contract with the state, the applicant must file with the commission a good and sufficient contract with such independent power company agreeing, for a period of not less than twenty years, to supply power to all settlers under the project, during the season required for crop growing, at a charge or toll per standard power unit not exceeding a stated maximum cost; and which contract shall express the times and conditions of payment for power used, and all penalties attaching to deferred payments. Such contract, before any contract is entered into on the part of the state with the applicant or his assigns, under the provisions of section 8 of the act approved March 17, 1911, must be placed on record in the office of the county recorder of the county or counties in which such project is situated, and its terms shall be explained in all advertising matter inviting settlers to make entry upon the lands of such project and due reference shall be made to it in the contract for the water right executed with the settler; provided, that said contract, by its terms, shall not prevent the settler from contracting with any other power company, meanwhile, at a less charge for power than that which said first-mentioned power company is willing to supply power, or to prevent a reduction of such maximum power charge voluntarily by said contracting power company, or a reduction by virtue of any existing law, or law that may hereafter be passed regulating power charges.

RECLAMATION ACT

3098. Irrigation—"Reclamation fund" established from certain public land receipts—Exception—Support of agricultural colleges—Deficiency.

That all moneys received from the sale and disposal of public lands in Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming, beginning with the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and one, including the surplus of fees and commissions in excess of allowances to registers and receivers, and excepting the five per centum of the proceeds of the sales of public lands in the above states set aside by law for educational and other purposes, shall be, and the same are hereby, reserved, set aside, and appropriated as a special fund in the treasury to be known as the "reclamation fund," to be used in the examination and survey for and the construction and maintenance of irrigation works for the storage, diversion, and development of waters for the reclamation of arid and semiarid lands in the said states and territories, and for the payment of all other expenditures provided for in this act; provided, that in case the receipts from the sale and disposal of public lands other than those realized from the sale and disposal of lands referred to in this section are insufficient to meet the requirements for the support of agricultural colleges in the several states and territories, under the act of August thirtieth, eighteen hundred and ninety, entitled "An act to apply a portion of the proceeds of the public lands to the more complete endowment and support of the colleges for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts, established under the provisions of an act of Congress approved July second, eighteen hundred and sixty-two," the deficiency, if any, in the sum necessary for the support of the said colleges shall be provided for from any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

3099. Location and construction of irrigation works—Estimates of cost.

SEC. 2. That the secretary of the interior is hereby authorized and directed to make examinations and surveys for, and to locate and construct, as herein provided, irrigation works for the storage, diversion, and development of waters, including artesian wells, and to report to Congress at the beginning of each regular session as to the results of such examinations and surveys, giving estimates of cost of all contemplated works, the quantity and location of the lands which can be irrigated therefrom, and all facts relative to the practicability of each irrigation project; also the cost of works in process of construction as well as of those which have been completed.

3100. Lands withdrawn from public entry—Restoration—Entry of irrigable lands—Homestead entries—Surveys—Commutation not allowed.

SEC. 3. That the secretary of the interior shall, before giving the public notice provided for in section 4 of this act, withdraw from public entry the lands required for any irrigation works, contemplated under the provisions of this act, and shall restore to public entry any of the lands so withdrawn when, in his judgment, such lands are not required for the purposes of this act; and the secretary of the interior is hereby authorized, at or immediately prior to the time of beginning the surveys for any contemplated irrigation works, to withdraw from entry, except under the homestead laws, any public lands believed to be susceptible of irrigation from said works; provided, that all lands entered and entries made under the homestead laws within areas so withdrawn during such withdrawal shall be subject to all the provisions, limitations, charges, terms, and conditions of this act; that said surveys shall be prosecuted diligently to completion, and upon the completion thereof, and of the necessary maps, plans, and estimates of cost, the secretary of the interior shall determine whether or not said project is practicable and advisable, and if determined to be impracticable or unadvisable he shall thereupon restore said lands to entry; that public lands which it is proposed to irrigate by means of any contemplated works shall be subject to entry only under the provisions of the homestead laws in tracts of not less than forty nor more than one hundred and sixty acres, and shall be subject to the limitations, charges, terms, and conditions herein provided; provided, that the commutation provisions of the homestead laws shall not apply to entries made under this act.

3101. Contracts—Public notice of irrigable lands, charges—Limit of work-hours—Mongolian labor.

SEC. 4. That upon the determination by the secretary of the interior that any irrigation project is practicable, he may cause to be let contracts for the construction of the same, in such portions or sections as it may be practicable to construct and complete as parts of the whole project, providing the necessary funds for such portions or sections are available in the reclamation fund, and thereupon he shall give public notice of the lands irrigable under such project, and limit of area per entry, which limit shall represent the acreage which, in the opinion of the secretary, may be reasonably required for the support of a family upon the lands in question; also of the charges which shall be made per acre upon the said entries, and upon lands in private ownership which may be irrigated by the waters of the said irrigation project, and the number of annual installments, not exceeding ten, in which such charges shall be paid and the time when such payments shall commence. The said charges shall be determined with a view of returning to the reclamation fund the estimated cost of construction of the project, and shall be apportioned equitably; provided, that in all construction work eight hours shall constitute a day's work, and no Mongolian labor shall be employed thereon.

3102. Requirements of entrymen — Limit — Payments — Disposal of receipts—Commissions.

SEC. 5. That the entrymen upon lands to be irrigated by such works shall, in addition to compliance with the homestead laws, reclaim at least one-half of the total irrigable area of his entry for agricultural purposes, and before receiving patent for the lands covered by his entry shall pay to the government the charges apportioned against such tract, as provided in section 4. No right to the use of water for land in private ownership shall be sold for a tract exceeding one hundred and sixty acres to any one land owner, and no such sale shall be made to any land owner unless he be an actual bona fide resident on such land, or occupant thereof residing in the neighborhood of said land; and no such right shall permanently attach until all payments therefor are made. The annual installments shall be paid to the receiver of the local land office of the district in which the land is situated, and a failure to make any two payments when due shall render the entry subject to cancellation, with the forfeiture of all rights under this act, as well as of any moneys already paid thereon. All moneys received from the above sources shall be paid into the reclamation fund. Registers and receivers shall be allowed the usual commissions on all moneys paid for lands entered under this act.

3103. Use of reclamation fund—Ownership of works—Title—Condemnation for rights.

SEC. 6. That the secretary of the interior is hereby authorized and directed to use the reclamation fund for the operation and maintenance of all reservoirs and irrigation works constructed under the provisions of this act; provided, that when the payments required by this act are made for the major portion of the lands irrigated from the waters of any of the works herein provided for, then the management and operation of such irrigation works shall pass to the owners of the lands irrigated thereby, to be maintained at their expense under such form of organization and under such rules and regulations as may be acceptable to the secretary of the interior; provided, that the title to and the management and operation of the reservoirs and the works necessary for their protection and operation shall remain in the government until otherwise provided by Congress.

3104. Rights acquired by condemnation or purchase.

SEC. 7. That where in carrying out the provisions of this act it becomes necessary to acquire any rights or property, the secretary of the interior is hereby authorized to acquire the same for the United States by purchase or by condemnation under judicial process, and to pay from the reclamation fund the sums which may be needed for that purpose, and it shall be the duty of the attorney-general of the United States upon every application of the secretary of the interior, under this act, to cause proceedings to be commenced for condemnation within thirty days from the receipt of the application at the department of justice.

3105. State laws not interfered with—Vested rights—Water right appurtenant to land—Beneficial use.

SEC. 8. That nothing in this act shall be construed as affecting or intended to affect or to in any way interfere with the laws of any state or territory relating to the control, appropriation, use, or distribution of water used in irrigation, or any vested right acquired thereunder, and the secretary of the interior, in carrying out the provisions of this act, shall proceed in conformity with such laws, and nothing herein shall in any way affect any right of any state or of the federal government or of any land owner, appropriator, or user of water in, to, or from any interstate stream or the waters thereof; provided, that the right to the use of water acquired under the provisions of this act shall be appurtenant to the land irrigated, and beneficial use shall be the basis, the measure, and the limit of the right.

See act of 1866, sec. 2401, ante.

3106. Funds, how applied.

SEC. 9. That it is hereby declared to be the duty of the secretary of the interior in carrying out the provisions of this act, so far as the same may be practicable and subject to the existence of feasible irrigation projects, to expend the major portion of the funds arising from the sale of public lands within each state and territory hereinbefore named for the benefit of arid and semiarid lands within the limits of such state or territory; provided, that the secretary may temporarily use such portion of said funds for the benefit of arid or semiarid lands in any particular state or territory hereinbefore named as he may deem advisable, but when so used the excess shall be restored to the fund as soon as practicable, to the end that ultimately, and in any event, within each ten-year period after the passage of this act, the expenditures for the benefit of the said states and territories shall be equalized according to the proportions and subject to the conditions as to practicability and feasibility as aforesaid.

3107. Act carried into effect—Rules and regulations.

SEC. 10. That the secretary of the interior is hereby authorized to perform any and all acts and to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary and proper for the purpose of carrying the provisions of this act into full force and effect.

An Act to assist the United States reclamation service in the construction and maintenance of irrigation works provided for by the congressional reclamation act approved June 17, 1902, by granting right of way over state lands, regulating the disposition of state lands included in government irrigation projects, and authorizing county commissioners to accept and use stock subscription books of water users associations formed under the provisions of said congressional reclamation act.

Approved March 9, 1905, 93

3108. Rights of way granted—Reservation in land patents.

SECTION 1. There is hereby granted, over all the lands now or hereafter belonging to the state, a right of way for ditches, tunnels, and telephone and transmission lines, constructed by authority of the United States. All conveyances of state lands hereafter made shall contain a reservation of such right of way.

3109. Regulations concerning sale of state lands within irrigation projects—Sale to United States.

SEC. 2. No lands belonging to the state, within the areas to be irrigated from works constructed or controlled by the United States or its duly authorized agencies shall hereafter be sold except in conformity with the classification of farm units by the United States, and the titles to such lands shall not pass from the state, until the applicant therefor shall have fully complied with the provisions of the laws of the United States and the regulations thereunder concerning the acquisition of the right to use water from such works and shall produce the evidence thereof duly issued. After the withdrawal of lands by the United States for any irrigation project, no application for the purchase of state lands within the limits of such withdrawal shall be accepted, except upon the conditions prescribed in this section. Any state lands needed by the United States for irrigation works shall be sold to the United States at the lowest price authorized by law.

3110. Duties of county commissioners—Water users associations—Stock subscriptions.

SEC. 3. The county commissioners are hereby authorized to accept from water users associations organized in conformity with the requirements of the United States under the reclamation act, books containing printed copies of their articles of incorporation and forms of subscription to stock, and to use such books for recording the stock subscriptions of such association; and the charges for the recording thereof shall be made on the basis of the number of words actually written therein.

An Act to authorize the government to contract for impounding, storing, and carriage of water, and to cooperate in the construction and use of reservoirs and canals under reclamation projects, and for other purposes.

Approved February 21, 1911

3111. Contracts for excess water—Charges, how determined.

Whenever in carrying out the provisions of the reclamation law, storage or carrying capacity has been or may be provided in excess of the requirements of the lands to be irrigated under any project, the secretary of the interior, preserving a first right to lands and entrymen under the project, is hereby authorized, upon such terms as he may determine to be just and equitable, to contract for the impounding, storage, and carriage of water to an extent not exceeding such excess capacity with irrigation systems operating under the act of August eighteenth, eighteen hundred and ninety-four, known as the Carey act, and individuals, corporations, associations, and irrigation districts organized for or engaged in furnishing or in distributing water for irrigation. Water so impounded, stored, or carried under any such contract shall be for the purpose of distribution to individual water users by the party with whom the contract is made; provided, however, that water so impounded, stored or carried shall not be used otherwise than as prescribed by law as to lands held in private ownership within government reclamation projects. In fixing the charges under any such contract for impounding, storing, or carrying water for any irrigation system, corporation, association, district, or individual, as herein provided, the secretary shall take into consideration the cost of construction and maintenance of the reservoir by which such water is to be impounded or stored and the canal by which it is to be carried, and such charges shall be just and equitable as to water users under the government project. No irrigation system, district, association, corporation, or individual so contracting shall make any charge for the storage, carriage, or delivery of such water in excess of the charge paid to the United States except to such extent as may be reasonably necessary to cover cost of carriage and delivery of such water through their works.

3112. Federal government to cooperate with private enterprises — Restrictions.

SEC. 2. In carrying out the provisions of said reclamation act and acts amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto, the secretary of the interior is authorized, upon such terms as may be agreed upon, to cooperate with irrigation districts, water users associations, corporations, entrymen or water users for the construction or use of such reservoirs, canals, or ditches as may be advantageously used by the government and irrigation districts, water users associations, corporations, entrymen or water users for impounding, delivering and carrying water for irrigation purposes; provided, that the title to and management of the works so constructed shall be subject to the provisions of section 6 of said act; provided, further, that water shall not be furnished from any such reservoir or delivered through any such canal to any one land owner in excess of an amount sufficient to irrigate one hundred and sixty acres; provided, that nothing contained in this act shall be held or construed as enlarging or attempting to enlarge the right of the United States, under existing law, to control the waters of any stream in any state.

[Sec. 3 provides that the moneys received in pursuance of such contracts shall be covered into the reclamation fund.]

An Act to provide for the sale of lands acquired under the provisions of the reclamation act and which are not needed for the purposes of that act.

Approved February 2, 1911

3113. Lands not required for government use in irrigation projects to be sold.

Whenever in the opinion of the secretary of the interior any lands which have been acquired under the provisions of the act of June seventeenth, nineteen hundred and two (Thirty-second Statutes, page 388), commonly called the "reclamation act," or under the provisions of any act amendatory thereof or supplementary thereto, for any irrigation works contemplated by said reclamation act are not needed for the purposes for which they were acquired, said secretary of the interior may cause said lands, together with the improvements thereon, to be appraised by three disinterested persons, to be appointed by him, and thereafter to sell the same for not less than the appraised value at public auction to the highest bidder, after giving public notice of the time and place of sale by posting upon the land and by publication for not less than thirty days in a newspaper of general circulation in the vicinity of the land.

3114. Idem—Conveyance—Limitations.

SEC. 2. Upon payment of the purchase price, the secretary of the interior is authorized by appropriate deed to convey all the right, title and interest of the United States of, in, and to said lands to the purchaser at said sale, subject, however, to such reservations, limitations, or conditions as said secretary may deem proper; provided, that not over one hundred and sixty acres shall be sold to any one person.

[Sec. 3 provides that the money derived from the sale of such lands shall be covered into the reclamation fund and be placed to the credit of the project for which such lands had been acquired.]

The land office issues different pamphlets containing regulations under the homestead, desert land, timber and stone laws, which are valuable guides to applicants.

3120. Persons in military or naval service, when and before whom to make affidavit.

SEC. 2293. In case of any person desirous of availing himself of the benefits of this chapter, but who, by reason of actual service in the military or naval service of the United States, is unable to do the personal preliminary acts at the district land office which the preceding sections require; and whose family, or some member thereof, is residing on the land which he desires to enter, and upon which a bona fide improvement and settlement have been made, such person may make the affidavit required by law before the officer commanding in the branch of the service in which the party is engaged, which affidavit shall be as binding in law, and with like penalties, as if taken before the register or receiver; and upon such affidavit being filed with the register by the wife or other representative of the party, the same shall become effective from the date of such filing, provided the application and affidavit are accompanied by the fee and commissions as required by law. Approved March 21, 1864; 13 Stat. L. 35.

3121. Affidavits under various land acts may be made, before whom—Where taken—False oath perjury—Fees.

SEC. 2294. That hereafter all proofs, affidavits, and oaths of any kind whatsoever required to be made by applicants and entrymen under the homestead, preemption, timber-culture, desert-land, and timber and stone acts, may, in addition to those now authorized to take such affidavits, proofs, and oaths, be made before any United States commissioner or commissioner of the court exercising federal jurisdiction in the territory or before the judge or clerk of any court of record in the county, parish, or land district in which the lands are situated; provided, that in case the affidavits, proofs, and oaths hereinbefore mentioned be taken out of the county in which the land is located the applicant must show by affidavit, satisfactory to the commissioner of the general land office, that it was taken before the nearest or most accessible officer qualified to take said affidavits, proofs, and oaths in the land districts in which the lands applied for are located; but such showing by affidavit need not be made in making final proof if the proof be taken in the town or city where the newspaper is published in which the final proof notice is printed. The proof, affidavit, and oath, when so made and duly subscribed, or which may have heretofore been so made and duly subscribed, shall have the same force and effect as if made before the register and receiver, when transmitted to them with the fees and commissions allowed and required by law. That if any witness making such proof, or any applicant making such affidavit or oath, shall knowingly, wilfully, or corruptly swear falsely to any material matter contained in said proofs, affidavits, or oaths he shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and shall be liable to the same pains and penalties as if he had sworn falsely before the register. That the fees for entries and for final proofs, when made before any other officer than the register and receiver, shall be as follows:

For each affidavit, twenty-five cents.

For each deposition of claimant or witness, when not prepared by the officer, twenty-five cents.

For each deposition of claimant or witness, prepared by the officer, one dollar.

Any officer demanding or receiving a greater sum for such service shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished for each offense by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars. As amended by act March 4, 1904. Approved March 21, 1864; 13 Stat. L. 35.

See Cent. Dig., vol. 41, Public Lands, secs. 72-77.

3122. Homestead lands not subject to prior debts.

SEC. 2296. No lands acquired under the provisions of this chapter shall in any event become liable to the satisfaction of any debt contracted prior to the issuing of the patent therefor. Approved May 20, 1862; 12 Stat. L. 393.

See Fed. Stat. Anntd., vol. 6, Public Lands, pp. 307-310, notes and cases.

See Cent. Dig., vol. 41, Public Lands, secs. 72-77.

3123. When lands entered for homestead revert to government—Proviso—Climatic conditions.

SEC. 2297. If, at any time after the filing of the affidavit, as required in section 2290, and before the expiration of the five years mentioned in section 2291, it is proved, after due notice to the settler, to the satisfaction of the register of the land office, that the person having filed such affidavit has actually changed his residence, or abandoned the land for more than six months at any time, then and in that event the land so entered shall revert to the government; [provided, that where there may be climatic reasons the commissioner of the general land office may, in his discretion, allow the settler twelve months from the date of filing in which to commence his residence on said land under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe]. Approved May 20, 1862; 12 Stat. L. 393.

See Fed. Stat. Anntd., vol. 6, Public Lands, p. 310, notes and cases.

See Cent. Dig., vol. 41, Public Lands, secs. 72-77.

3124. Quarter-section only may be acquired.

SEC. 2298. No person shall be permitted to acquire title to more than one quarter-section under the provisions of this chapter. Approved May 20, 1862; 12 Stat. L. 393.

See Fed. Stat. Anntd., vol. 6, Public Lands, p. 313, notes and cases.

See Cent. Dig., vol. 41, Public Lands, secs. 72-77.

3125. Existing preemption rights not impaired.

SEC. 2299. Nothing contained in this chapter shall be so construed as to impair or interfere in any manner with existing preemption rights; and all persons who may have filed their applications for a preemption right prior to the twentieth day of May, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, shall be entitled to all the privileges of this chapter. Approved May 20, 1862; 12 Stat. L. 393.

See Cent. Dig., vol. 41, Public Lands, secs. 72-77.

3126. Minors may have privileges of chapter in case of service in war.

SEC. 2300. No person who has served, or may hereafter serve, for a period not less than fourteen days in the army or navy of the United States, either regular or volunteer, under the laws thereof, during the existence of an actual war, domestic or foreign, shall be deprived of the benefits of this chapter on account of not having attained the age of twenty-one years. Approved May 20, 1862; 12 Stat. L. 393.

See Cent. Dig., vol. 41, Public Lands, secs. 72-77.

3127. Payment after expiration of fourteen months—Rights of applicant.

SEC. 2301. Nothing in this chapter shall be so construed as to prevent any person who shall hereafter avail himself of the benefits of section 2289 from paying the minimum price for the quantity of land so entered at any time after the expiration of fourteen calendar months from the date of such entry, and obtaining a patent therefor, upon making proof of settlement and of residence and cultivation for such period of fourteen months, and the provision of this section shall apply to lands on the ceded portion of the Sioux reservation by act approved March second, eighteen hundred and eighty-nine, in South Dakota, but shall not relieve said settlers from any payments now required by law. As amended by act March 3, 1891; 26 Stat. L. 1098. Approved May 20, 1862; 12 Stat. L. 393.

See Cent. Dig., vol. 41, Public Lands, secs. 72-77.

3128. No distinction on account of race or color—Mineral land not liable to entry.

SEC. 2302. No distinction shall be made in the construction or execution of this chapter on account of race or color; nor shall any mineral lands be liable to entry and settlement under its provisions. Approved June 21, 1866; 14 Stats. L. 67.

See Fed. Stat. Anntd., vol. 6, Public Lands, pp. 321-322, notes and cases.

See Cent. Dig., vol. 41, Public Lands, secs. 72-77.

3129. Soldiers and sailors' homesteads.

SEC. 2304. Every private soldier and officer who has served in the army of the United States during the recent rebellion for ninety days, and who was honorably discharged and has remained loyal to the government, including the troops mustered into the service of the United States by virtue of the third section of an act approved February thirteenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and every seaman, marine, and officer who has served in the navy of the United States or in the marine corps during the rebellion for ninety days, and who was honorably discharged and has remained loyal to the government, and every private soldier and officer who has served in the army of the United States during the Spanish war, or who has served, is serving, or shall have served in the said army during the suppression of the insurrection in the Philippines for ninety days, and who was or shall be honorably discharged; and every seaman, marine and officer who has served in the navy of the United States or in the marine corps during the Spanish war, or who has served, is serving, or shall have served in the said forces during the suppression of the insurrection in the Philippines for ninety days, and who was or shall be honorably discharged, shall, on compliance with the provisions of this chapter, as hereinafter modified, be entitled to enter upon and receive patents for a quantity of public lands not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres, or one quarter-section, to be taken in compact form, according to legal subdivisions, including the alternate reserved sections of public lands along the line of any railroad or other public work not otherwise reserved or appropriated, and other lands subject to entry under the homestead laws of the United States; but such homestead settler shall be allowed six months after locating his homestead and filing his declaratory statement within which to make his entry and commence his settlement and improvement. As amended by act March 1, 1901; 31 Stat. L. 847. Approved June 8, 1872; 17 Stat. L. 333.

See Fed. Stat. Anntd., vol. 6, Public Lands, p. 323, notes and cases.

See Cent. Dig., vol. 41, Public Lands, secs. 72-77.

3130. Deduction of military and naval service from time—Rights of widow and minor children.

SEC. 2305. The time which the homestead settler has served in the army, navy, or marine corps shall be deducted from the time heretofore required to perfect title, or if discharged on account of wounds received or disability incurred in the line of duty, then the term of enlistment shall be deducted from the time heretofore required to perfect title, without reference to the length of time he may have served; but no patent shall issue to any homestead settler who has not resided upon, improved, and cultivated his homestead for a period of at least one year after he shall have commenced his improvements; provided, that in every case in which a settler on the public land of the United States under the homestead laws died while actually engaged in the army, navy, or marine corps of the United States as private soldier, officer, seaman, or marine, during the war with Spain or the Philippine insurrection, his widow, if unmarried, or in case of her death or marriage, then his minor orphan children or his or their legal representatives, may proceed forthwith to make final proof upon the land so held by the deceased soldier and settler, and that the death of such soldier while so engaged in the service of the United States shall, in the administration of the homestead laws, be construed to be equivalent to a performance of all requirements as to residence and cultivation for the full period of five years, and shall entitle his widow, if unmarried, or in case of her death or marriage, then his minor orphan children or his or their legal representatives, to make final proof upon and receive government patent for said land; and that upon proof produced to the officers of the proper local land office by the widow, if unmarried, or in case of her death or marriage, then his minor orphan children or his or their legal representatives, that the applicant for patent is the widow, if unmarried, or in case of her death or marriage, his orphan children or his or their legal representatives, and that such soldier, sailor, or marine died while in the service of the United States as hereinbefore described, the patent for such land shall issue. As amended by act March 1, 1901; 31 Stat. L. 847. Approved June 8, 1872; 17 Stat. L. 333.

See Fed. Stat. Anntd., vol. 6, Public Lands, p. 323, notes and cases.

See Cent. Dig., vol. 41, Public Lands, secs. 72-77.

3131. Widow and minor children of persons entitled to homesteads.

SEC. 2307. In case of the death of any person who would be entitled to a homestead under the provisions of section 2304, his widow, if unmarried, or in case of her death or marriage, then his minor orphan children, by a guardian duly appointed and officially accredited at the department of the interior, shall be entitled to all the benefits enumerated in this chapter, subject to all the provisions as to settlement and improvement therein contained; but if such person died during his term of enlistment, the whole term of his enlistment shall be deducted from the time heretofore required to perfect the title. Approved June 8, 1872; 17 Stat. L. 333.

See Cent. Dig., vol. 41, Public Lands, secs. 72-77.

3132. Who may enter by agent.

SEC. 2309. Every soldier, sailor, marine, officer, or other person coming within the provisions of section 2304, may, as well by an agent as in person, enter upon such homestead by filing a declaratory statement, as in preemption cases; but such claimant in person shall within the time prescribed make his actual entry, commence settlements and improvements on the same, and thereafter fulfil the requirements of the law. Approved June 8, 1872; 17 Stat. L. 334.

See Cent. Dig., vol. 41, Public Lands, secs. 72-77.

3133. Additional homestead entries—160-acre limitation.

SEC. 6. That every person entitled, under the provisions of the homestead laws, to enter a homestead, who has heretofore complied with or who shall hereafter comply with the conditions of said laws, and who shall have made his final proof thereunder for a quantity of land less than one hundred and sixty acres and receive the receiver's final receipt therefor, shall be entitled under said laws to enter as a personal right, and not assignable, by legal subdivisions of the public lands of the United States subject to homestead entry, so much additional land as added to the quantity previously so entered by him shall not exceed one hundred and sixty acres; provided, that in no case shall patent issue for the land covered by such additional entry until the person making such additional entry shall have actually and in conformity with the homestead laws resided upon and cultivated the lands so additionally entered, and otherwise fully complied with such laws; provided, also, that this section shall not be construed as affecting any rights as to location of soldiers' certificates heretofore issued under section 2306 of the Revised Statutes. Approved March 2, 1889; 25 Stat. 854.

An Act providing for the validation of certain homestead entries.

Approved March 3, 1911

3134. Certain canceled entries on forest reserves reinstated—Application for.

All homestead entries which have been canceled or relinquished, or are invalid solely because of the erroneous allowance of such entries after the withdrawal of lands for national forest purposes, may be reinstated or allowed to remain intact, but in the case of entries heretofore canceled applications for reinstatement must be filed in the proper local land office prior to July first, nineteen hundred and twelve.

3135. Contests initiated prior to withdrawals—Preference right.

SEC. 2. In all cases where contests were initiated under the provisions of the act of May fourteenth, eighteen hundred and eighty, prior to the withdrawal of the land for national forest purposes, the qualified successful contestants may exercise their preference right to enter the land within six months after the passage of this act.

An Act providing for second homestead and desert-land entries.

Approved February 3, 1911

3136. Entry not perfected no bar to subsequent entry—Exception.

Any person who, prior to the approval of this act, has made entry under the homestead or desert-land laws, but who, subsequently to such entry, from any cause shall have lost, forfeited, or abandoned the same, shall be entitled to the benefit of the homestead or desert-land laws as though such former entry had not been made, and any person applying for a second homestead or desert-land entry under this act shall furnish a description and the date of his former entry; provided, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to any person whose former entry was canceled for fraud, or who relinquished his former entry for a valuable consideration in excess of the filing fees paid by him on his original entry.

This act supersedes the one of February 8, 1908, relating to second homestead entries, and the one of March 26, 1908, providing for second desert-land entries.

3137. Commutation of entry no bar to subsequent entry—Exception.

SEC. 2. That any person who has heretofore made entry under the homestead laws and commuted same under provisions of section 2301 of the Revised Statutes of the United States and the amendments thereto, shall be entitled to the benefits of the homestead laws, as though such former entry had not been made, except that commutation under the provisions of section 2301 of the Revised Statutes shall not be allowed of an entry made under this section of this act. Approved June 5, 1900; 31 Stat. 267.

3138. Entry prematurely made no bar to subsequent entry—Provisos.

SEC. 2. That any person who, prior to the passage of an act entitled "An act providing for free homesteads on the public lands for actual and bona fide settlers, and reserving the public lands for that purpose," approved May seventeenth, nineteen hundred, having made a homestead entry and perfected the same and acquired title to the land by final entry by having paid the price provided in the law opening the land to settlement, and who would have been entitled to the provisions of the act before cited had final entry not been made prior to the passage of said act, may make another homestead entry of not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres of any of the public lands in any state or territory subject to homestead entry; provided, that any person desiring to make another entry under this act will be required to make affidavit, to be transmitted with the other filing papers now required by law, giving the description of the tract formally entered, date and number of entry, and name of the land office where made, or other sufficient data to admit of readily identifying it on the official records; and provided further, that said person has all the other proper qualifications of a homestead entryman; and provided also, that commutation under section 2301 of the Revised Statutes or any amendment thereto, or any similar statute, shall not be permitted of an entry made under this act, excepting where the final proof, submitted on the former entry hereinbefore described, shows a residence upon the land covered thereby for the full period of five years of such term of residence thereon as added to any properly credited military or naval service shall equal such period of five years. Approved May 22, 1902; 32 Stat. 203.

An Act to provide for an enlarged homestead.

Approved February 19, 1909; 35 Stat. L. 639

3139. Homestead not exceeding 320 acres may be entered in Nevada and certain other states on certain prescribed lands.

Any person who is a qualified entryman under the homestead laws of the United States may enter, by legal subdivisions, under the provisions of this act, in the states of Colorado, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming, and the territories of Arizona and New Mexico, three hundred and twenty acres, or less, of nonmineral, nonirrigable, unreserved and unappropriated surveyed public lands which do not contain merchantable timber, located in a reasonably compact body, and not over one and one-half miles in extreme length; provided, that no lands shall be subject to entry under the provisions of this act until such lands shall have been designated by the secretary of the interior as not being, in his opinion, susceptible of successful irrigation at a reasonable cost from any known source of water supply.

3140. Idem—Affidavit—Fees.

SEC. 2. Any person applying to enter land under the provisions of this act shall make and subscribe before the proper officer an affidavit as required by section 2290 of the Revised Statutes, and in addition thereto shall make affidavit that the land sought to be entered is of the character described in section 1 of this act, and shall pay the fees now required to be paid under the homestead laws.

3141. May enter tract contiguous to former entry—Residence.

SEC. 3. Any homestead entryman of lands of the character herein described, upon which final proof has not been made, shall have the right to enter public lands, subject to the provisions of this act, contiguous to his former entry which shall not, together with the original entry, exceed three hundred and twenty acres, and residence upon and cultivation of the original entry shall be deemed as residence upon and cultivation of the additional entry.

3142. Requisites of final proofs.

SEC. 4. At the time of making final proofs as provided in section 2291 of the Revised Statutes the entryman under this act shall, in addition to the proofs and affidavits required under the said section, prove by two credible witnesses that at least one-eighth of the area embraced in his entry was continuously cultivated to agricultural crops other than native grasses beginning with the second year of the entry, and that at least one-fourth of the area embraced in the entry was so continuously cultivated beginning with the third year of the entry.

Under late rulings, the department requires specific proof of five years' actual residence, without allowing any deduction for absence between the time of application and entry, or during the first six months following the date of entry.

3143. Entry may be made under general homestead act—Restrictions.

SEC. 5. Nothing herein contained shall be held to affect the right of a qualified entryman to make homestead entry in the states named in section 1 of this act under the provisions of section 2289 of the Revised Statutes, but no person who has made entry under this act shall be entitled to make homestead entry under the provisions of said section, and no entry made under this act shall be commuted.

3144. Homestead rights of settlers—Rights relate back.

SEC. 3. That any settler who has settled, or who shall hereafter settle, on any of the public lands of the United States, whether surveyed or unsurveyed, with the intention of claiming the same under the homestead laws, shall be allowed the same time to file his homestead application and perfect his original entry in the United States land office as is now allowed to settlers under the preemption laws to put their claims on record, and his right shall relate back to the date of settlement the same as if he settled under the preemption laws. Approved May 14, 1880; 21 Stat. 140.

3145. Homestead entry by married woman.

That the third section of the act of Congress approved May fourteenth, eighteen hundred and eighty, entitled "An act for the relief of settlers on public lands," be amended by adding thereto the following:

Where an unmarried woman who has heretofore settled, or may hereafter settle, upon a tract of public land, improved, established, and maintained a bona fide residence thereon, with the intention of appropriating the same for a home, subject to the homestead law, and has married, or shall hereafter marry, before making entry of said land, or before making application to enter said land, she shall not, on account of her marriage, forfeit her right to make entry and receive patent for the land; provided, that she does not abandon her residence on said land, and is otherwise qualified to make homestead entry; provided further, that the man whom she marries is not, at the time of their marriage, claiming a separate tract of land under the homestead law. This act shall be applicable to all unpatented lands claimed by such entrywoman at the date of passage. Approved June 6, 1900; 31 Stat. 683.

An Act to provide for issuing patents for public lands claimed under the preemption and homestead laws in cases where the settlers have become insane.

Approved June 8, 1880; 21 Stat. 166

3146. Settlers who become insane.

That in all cases in which parties who regularly initiated claims to public lands as settlers thereon, according to the provisions of the preemption or homestead laws, have become insane or shall thereafter become insane before the expiration of the time during which their residence, cultivation, or improvement of the land claimed by them is required by law to be continued in order to entitle them to make the proper proof and perfect their claims, it shall be lawful for the required proof and payment to be made for their benefit by any person who may be legally authorized to act for them during their disability, and thereupon their claims shall be confirmed and patented, provided it shall be shown by proof satisfactory to the commissioner of the general land office that the parties complied in good faith with the legal requirements up to the time of their becoming insane, and the requirements in homestead entries of an affidavit of allegiance by the applicant in certain cases as a prerequisite to the issuing of the patents shall be dispensed with so far as regards such insane parties.

3147. Leave of absence, when granted—Length—Not to be deducted from actual residence.

SEC. 3. That whenever it shall be made to appear to the register and receiver of any public-land office, under such regulations as the secretary of the interior may prescribe, that any settler upon the public domain under existing law is unable, by reason of a total or partial destruction or failure of crops, sickness, or other unavoidable casualty, to secure a support for himself, herself, or those dependent upon him or her upon the lands settled upon, then such register and receiver may grant to such a settler a leave of absence from the claim upon which he or she has filed for a period not exceeding one year at any one time, and such settler so granted leave of absence shall forfeit no rights by reason of such absence; provided, that the time of such actual absence shall not be deducted from the actual residence required by law. Approved March 2, 1889; 25 Stat. 854.

3148. Settler forfeiting entry through unavoidable casualty, may make new entry.

That section 3 of the said act of March second, eighteen hundred and eighty-nine, be amended by adding thereto the following provision: That if any such settler has heretofore forfeited his or her entry for any of said reasons, such person shall be permitted to make entry of not to exceed a quarter section on any public land subject to entry under the homestead law, and to perfect title to the same under the same conditions in every respect as if he had not made the former entry. Approved December 29, 1894; 28 Stat. 599.

An Act to provide additional regulations for homestead and preemption entries of public lands.

Approved March 3, 1879; 20 Stat. 472

3149. Final proof notice—What to contain—Published, how.

That before final proof shall be submitted by any person claiming to enter agricultural lands under the laws providing for preemption or homestead entries, such person shall file with the register of the proper land office a notice of his or her intention to make such proof, stating therein the description of lands to be entered, and the names of the witnesses by whom the necessary facts will be established. Upon the filing of such notice the register shall publish a notice, that such application has been made, once a week for the period of thirty days, in a newspaper to be by him designated as published nearest to such land, and he shall also post such notice in some conspicuous place in his office for the same period. Such notice shall contain the names of the witnesses as stated in the application. At the expiration of said period of thirty days the claimant shall be entitled to make proof in the manner heretofore provided by law. The secretary of the interior shall make all necessary rules for giving effect to the foregoing provisions.

3150. Declaration, what to contain—Price of land—Limited to one section—Water appropriation—Patent, when issued—Right of entry.

That it shall be lawful for any citizen of the United States, or any person of requisite age "who may be entitled to become a citizen, and who has filed his declaration to become such" and upon payment of twenty-five cents per acre—to file a declaration under oath with the register and the receiver of the land district in which any desert land is situated, that he intends to reclaim a tract of desert land not exceeding one section, by conducting water upon the same, within the period of three years thereafter; provided, however, that the right to the use of water by the person so conducting the same, on or to any tract of desert land of six hundred and forty acres shall depend upon bona fide prior appropriation; and such right shall not exceed the amount of water actually appropriated, and necessarily used for the purpose of irrigation and reclamation; and all surplus water over and above such actual appropriation and use, together with the water of all lakes, rivers, and other sources of water supply upon the public lands, and not navigable, shall remain and be held free for the appropriation and use of the public for irrigation, mining, and manufacturing purposes subject to existing rights. Said declaration shall describe particularly said section of land if surveyed, and, if unsurveyed, shall describe the same as nearly as possible without a survey. At any time within the period of three years after filing said declaration, upon making satisfactory proof to the register and receiver of the reclamation of said tract of land in the manner aforesaid, and upon the payment to the receiver of the additional sum of one dollar per acre for a tract of land not exceeding six hundred and forty acres to any one person, a patent for the same shall be issued to him; provided, that no person shall be permitted to enter more than one tract of land and not to exceed six hundred and forty acres, which shall be in compact form.

Regarding right of second desert-land entry, see sec. 3136.

The land office issues regulations in pamphlet form directing applicants for desert lands how to proceed.

3151. What deemed desert land.

SEC. 2. That all lands exclusive of timber lands and mineral lands which will not, without irrigation, produce some agricultural crop, shall be deemed desert lands, within the meaning of this act, which fact shall be ascertained by proof of two or more credible witnesses under oath, whose affidavits shall be filed in the land office in which said tract of land may be situated.

3152. Applies to certain states and territories only.

SEC. 3. That this act shall only apply to and take effect in the States of California, Oregon, and Nevada, and the Territories of Washington, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Wyoming, Arizona, New Mexico, and Dakota, and the determination of what may be considered desert land shall be subject to the decision and regulation of the commissioner of the general land office.

An Act to repeal timber-culture laws, and for other purposes.

Approved March 3, 1891; 26 Stat. 1095

3153. Enacting amendment.

SEC. 2. That an act to provide for the sale of desert lands in certain states and territories, approved March third, eighteen hundred and seventy-seven, is hereby amended by adding thereto the following sections:

3154. Maps to be filed—Must show mode of irrigation—May associate with others in construction of canals and ditches.

SEC. 4. That at the time of filing the declaration hereinbefore required the party shall also file a map of said land, which shall exhibit a plan showing the mode of contemplated irrigation, and which plan shall be sufficient to thoroughly irrigate and reclaim said land, and prepare it to raise ordinary agricultural crops, and shall also show the source of the water to be used for irrigation and reclamation. Persons entering or proposing to enter separate sections or fractional parts of sections of desert lands may associate together in the construction of canals and ditches for irrigating and reclaiming all of said tracts, and may file a joint map or maps showing their plan of internal improvements.

3155. Amount of improvements required—Amount each year—How shown—Land reverts, when.

SEC. 5. That no land shall be patented to any person under this act unless he or his assignors shall have expended in the necessary irrigation, reclamation, and cultivation thereof, by means of main canals and branch ditches, and in permanent improvements upon the land, and in the purchase of water rights for the irrigation of the same, at least three dollars per acre of whole tract reclaimed and patented in the manner following: Within one year after making entry for such tract of desert land as aforesaid, the party so entering shall expend not less than one dollar per acre for the purposes aforesaid; and he shall in like manner expend the sum of one dollar per acre during the second and also during the third year thereafter, until the full sum of three dollars per acre is so expended. Said party shall file during each year with the register, proof, by the affidavits of two or more credible witnesses, that the full sum of one dollar per acre has been expended in such necessary improvements during such year, and the manner in which expended, and at the expiration of the third year a map or plan showing the character and extent of such improvements. If any party who has made such application shall fail during any year to file the testimony aforesaid, the lands shall revert to the United States, and the twenty-five cents advanced payment shall be forfeited to the United States, and the entry shall be canceled. Nothing herein contained shall prevent a claimant from making his final entry and receiving his patent at an earlier date than hereinbefore prescribed, provided that he then makes the required proof of reclamation to the aggregate extent of three dollars per acre; provided, that proof be further required of the cultivation of one-eighth of the land.

3156. Not affect valid rights heretofore acquired.

SEC. 6. That this act shall not affect any valid rights heretofore accrued under said act of March third, eighteen hundred and seventy-seven, but all bona fide claims heretofore lawfully initiated may be perfected, upon due compliance with the provisions of said act, in the same manner, upon the same terms and conditions, and subject to the same limitations, forfeitures, and contests as if this act had not been passed; or said claims, at the option of the claimant, may be perfected and patented under the provisions of said act, as amended by this act, so far as applicable; and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

3157. Patent issue, when—Amount of land limited—Additional proof may be required—Entry subject to contest.

SEC. 7. That at any time after filing the declaration, and within the period of four years thereafter, upon making satisfactory proof to the register and the receiver of the reclamation and cultivation of said land to the extent and cost and in the manner aforesaid, and substantially in accordance with the plans herein provided for, and that he or she is a citizen of the United States, and upon payment to the receiver of the additional sum of one dollar per acre for said land, a patent shall issue therefor to the applicant or his assigns; but no person or association of persons shall hold, by assignment or otherwise prior to the issue of patent, more than three hundred and twenty acres of such arid or desert lands; but this section shall not apply to entries made or initiated prior to the approval of this act; provided, however, that additional proofs may be required at any time within the period prescribed by law, and that the claims or entries made under this or any preceding act shall be subject to contest, as provided by the law relating to homestead cases, for illegal inception, abandonment, or failure to comply with the requirements of law, and upon satisfactory proof thereof shall be canceled, and the lands and moneys paid therefor shall be forfeited to the United States.

3158. Apply also to Colorado—Benefits limited to actual residents of states or territories.

SEC. 8. That the provisions of the act to which this is an amendment, and the amendments thereto, shall apply to and be in force in the State of Colorado, as well as the states named in the original act; and no person shall be entitled to make entry of desert land except he be a resident citizen of the state or territory in which the land sought to be entered is located.

An Act providing for the subdivision of lands entered under the reclamation act, and for other purposes.

Approved June 27, 1906; 34 Stat. 520

3159. Time lost by entryman through irrigation project not to be computed—Time begins to run from date of notice of abandonment of project—If project completed, acreage to be held limited—Proviso.

SEC. 5. That where any bona fide desert-land entry has been or may be embraced within the exterior limits of any land withdrawal or irrigation project under the act entitled "An act appropriating the receipts from the sale and disposal of public lands in certain states and territories to the construction of irrigation works for the reclamation of arid lands," approved June seventeenth, nineteen hundred and two, and the desert-land entryman has been or may be directly or indirectly hindered, delayed or prevented from making improvements or from reclaiming the land embraced in any such entry by reason of such land withdrawal or irrigation project, the time during which the desert-land entryman has been or may be so hindered, delayed, or prevented from complying with the desert-land law shall not be computed in determining the time within which such entryman has been or may be required to make improvements or reclaim the land embraced within any such desert-land entry; provided, that if after investigation the irrigation project has been or may be abandoned by the government, time for compliance with the desert-land law by any such entryman shall begin to run from the date of notice of such abandonment of the project and the restoration to the public domain of the lands withdrawn in connection therewith, and credit shall be allowed for all expenditures and improvements heretofore made on any such desert-land entry of which proof has been filed; but if the reclamation project is carried to completion so as to make available a water supply for the land embraced in any such desert-land entry, the entryman shall thereupon comply with all of the provisions of the aforesaid act of June seventeenth, nineteen hundred and two, and shall relinquish all land embraced within his desert-land entry in excess of one hundred and sixty acres, and as to such one hundred and sixty acres retained, he shall be entitled to make final proof and obtain patent upon compliance with the terms of payment prescribed in said act of June seventeenth, nineteen hundred and two, and not otherwise. But nothing herein contained shall be held to require a desert-land entryman who owns a water right and reclaims the land embraced in his entry to accept the conditions of said reclamation act.

An Act limiting and restricting the right of entry and assignment under the desert-land law and authorizing an extension of time within which to make final proof.

Approved March 28, 1908; 35 Stat. 52

3160. Right restricted to surveyed lands—Entryman has preference right, when.

That from and after the passage of this act the right to make entry of desert lands under the provisions of the act approved March third, eighteen hundred and seventy-seven, entitled "An act to provide for the sale of desert lands in certain states and territories," as amended by the act approved March third, eighteen hundred and ninety-one, entitled "An act to repeal timber-culture laws, and for other purposes," shall be restricted to surveyed public lands of the character contemplated by said acts, and no such entries of unsurveyed lands shall be allowed or made of record; provided, however, that any individual qualified to make entry of desert lands under said acts, who has, prior to survey, taken possession of a tract of unsurveyed desert land not exceeding in area three hundred and twenty acres in compact form, and has reclaimed or has in good faith commenced the work of reclaiming the same, shall have the preference right to make entry of such tract under said acts, in conformity with the public land surveys, within ninety days after the filing of the approved plat of survey in the district land office.

3161. Assignment of entry permitted, when—Prohibited to corporation or association.

SEC. 2. That from and after the date of the passage of this act no assignment of an entry made under said acts shall be allowed or recognized, except it be to an individual who is shown to be qualified to make entry under said acts of the land covered by the assigned entry, and such assignments may include all or part of an entry; but no assignment to or for the benefit of any corporation or association shall be authorized or recognized.

3162. Additional time allowed, when—Procedure to obtain.

SEC. 3. That any entryman under the above acts who shall show to the satisfaction of the commissioner of the general land office that he has in good faith complied with the terms, requirements, and provisions of said acts, but that because of some unavoidable delay in the construction of the irrigating works, intended to convey water to the said lands, he is, without fault on his part, unable to make proof of the reclamation and cultivation of said land, as required by said acts, shall, upon filing his corroborated affidavit with the land office in which said land is located, setting forth said facts, be allowed an additional period of not to exceed three years, within the discretion of the commissioner of the general land office, within which to furnish proof, as required by said acts, of the completion of said work.

ACTS RELATING TO TIMBER AND STONE ENTRIES

An Act for the sale of timber lands in the States of California, Oregon, Nevada, and in Washington Territory.

Approved June 3, 1878; 20 Stat. 89

3163. Limited to certain states—Timber and stone lands—Limit of acreage—Price not defeat or impair bona fide claim—Not apply to mineral, coal or state lands—Subject to water rights.

That surveyed public lands of the United States within the States of California, Oregon, and Nevada, and in Washington Territory, not included within military, Indian, or other reservations of the United States, valuable chiefly for timber, but unfit for cultivation, and which have not been offered at public sale, according to law, may be sold to citizens of the United States, or persons who have declared their intention to become such, in quantities not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres to any one person or association of persons, at the minimum price of two dollars and fifty cents per acre; and lands valuable chiefly for stone may be sold on the same terms as timber lands; provided, that nothing herein contained shall defeat or impair any bona fide claim under any law of the United States, or authorize the sale of any mining claim, or the improvements of any bona fide settler, or lands containing gold, silver, cinnabar, copper, or coal, or lands selected by the said states under any law of the United States donating lands for internal improvements, education, or other purposes; and provided further, that none of the rights conferred by the act approved July twenty-sixth, eighteen hundred and sixty-six, entitled "An act granting the right of way to ditch and canal owners over the public lands, and for other purposes," shall be abrogated by this act; and all patents granted shall be subject to any vested and accrued water rights, or rights to ditches and reservoirs used in connection with such water rights, as may have been acquired under and by the provisions of said act; and such rights shall be expressly reserved in any patent issued under this act.

See secs. 2401, 3152.

Under the regulations of the land office, when application is made for timber land it must be appraised and sold at its appraised value, but for not less than $2.50 per acre.

3164. Procedure to obtain land—Penalty for false swearing.

SEC. 2. That any person desiring to avail himself of the provisions of this act shall file with the register of the proper district a written statement in duplicate, one of which is to be transmitted to the general land office, designating by legal subdivisions the particular tract of land he desires to purchase, setting forth that the same is unfit for cultivation, and valuable chiefly for its timber or stone; that it is uninhabited; contains no mining or other improvements, except for ditch or canal purposes, where any such do exist, save such as were made by or belonged to the applicant, nor, as deponent verily believes, any valuable deposit of gold, silver, cinnabar, copper, or coal; that deponent has made no other application under this act; that he does not apply to purchase the same on speculation, but in good faith to appropriate it to his own exclusive use and benefit, and that he has not, directly or indirectly, made any agreement or contract, in any way or manner, with any person or persons whatsoever, by which the title which he might acquire from the government of the United States should inure, in whole or in part, to the benefit of any person except himself; which statement must be verified by the oath of the applicant before the register or the receiver of the land office within the district where the land is situated; and if any person taking such oath shall swear falsely in the premises, he shall be subject to all the pains and penalties of perjury, and shall forfeit the money which he may have paid for said lands, and all right and title to the same; and any grant or conveyance which he may have made, except in the hands of bona fide purchasers, shall be null and void.

3165. Idem—Notice to be published—Patent to issue if no adverse—Proviso.

SEC. 3. That upon the filing of said statement, as provided in the second section of this act, the register of the land office shall post a notice of such application, embracing a description of the land by legal subdivisions, in his office, for a period of sixty days, and shall furnish the applicant a copy of the same for publication, at the expense of such applicant, in a newspaper published nearest the location of the premises, for a like period of time; and after the expiration of said sixty days, if no adverse claim shall have been filed, the person desiring to purchase shall furnish to the register of the land office satisfactory evidence, first, that said notice of the application prepared by the register as aforesaid was duly published in a newspaper as herein required; secondly, that the land is of the character contemplated in this act, unoccupied and without improvements, other than those excepted, either mining or agricultural, and that it apparently contains no valuable deposits of gold, silver, cinnabar, copper, or coal; and upon payment to the proper officer of the purchase money of said land, together with the fees of the register and the receiver, as provided for in case of mining claims in the twelfth section of the act approved May tenth, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, the applicant may be permitted to enter said tract, and, on the transmission to the general land office of the papers and testimony in the case, a patent shall issue thereon; provided, that any person having a valid claim to any portion of the land may object, in writing, to the issuance of a patent to lands so held by him, stating the nature of his claim thereto; and evidence shall be taken, and the merits of said objection shall be determined by the officers of the land office, subject to appeal, as in other land cases. Effect shall be given to the foregoing provisions of this act by regulations to be prescribed by the commissioner of the general land office.

An Act to authorize the entry of lands chiefly valuable for building stone under the placer mining laws.

Approved August 4, 1892; 27 Stat. 348

3166. Lands valuable for building stone—Entered, how—Not apply to state or school lands.

That any person authorized to enter lands under the mining laws of the United States may enter lands that are chiefly valuable for building stone under the provisions of the law in relation to placer mineral claims; provided, that lands reserved for the benefit of the public schools or donated to any state shall not be subject to entry under this act.

See sec. 3149.

3167. Applicable to all public-land states.

SEC. 2. That an act entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the States of California, Oregon, Nevada, and Washington Territory," approved June third, eighteen hundred and seventy-eight, be, and the same is hereby, amended by striking out the words "States of California, Oregon, Nevada, and Washington Territory" where the same occur in the second and third lines of said act, and insert in lieu thereof the words "public-land states," the purpose of this act being to make said act of June third, eighteen hundred and seventy-eight, applicable to all the public-land states.

[Section 3 provides that nothing in this act shall be construed to repeal section 24 of the act entitled "An act to repeal timber-culture laws, and for other purposes," approved March third, eighteen hundred and ninety-one.]

An Act to abolish the distinction between offered and unoffered lands, and for other purposes.

Approved May 18, 1898; 30 Stat. 418

3168. Distinction between offered and unoffered land abolished.

That in cases arising from and after the passage of this act the distinction now obtaining in the statutes between offered and unoffered lands shall no longer be made in passing upon subsisting preemption claims, in disposing of the public lands under the homestead laws, and under the timber and stone law of June third, eighteen hundred and seventy-eight, as extended by the act of August fourth, eighteen hundred and ninety-two, but in all such cases hereafter arising the land in question shall be treated as unoffered, without regard to whether it may have actually been at some time offered or not.

An Act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the government for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and ninety-one, and other purposes.

Approved August 30, 1890; 26 Stat. 631

3169. Acreage to be acquired under land laws limited—Right of way for ditches and canals to be reserved.

No person who shall, after the passage of this act, enter upon any of the public lands with a view to occupation, entry, or settlement under any of the land laws shall be permitted to acquire title to more than three hundred and twenty acres in the aggregate, under all of said laws, but this limitation shall not operate to curtail the right of any person who has heretofore made entry or settlement on the public lands, or whose occupation, entry or settlement is validated by this act; provided, that in all patents for lands hereafter taken up under any of the land laws of the United States or on entries or claims validated by this act, west of the one hundredth meridian, it shall be expressed that there is reserved from the lands in said patent described a right of way thereon for ditches or canals constructed by the authority of the United States.

For act of 1866 regarding water rights and right of way for ditches on public lands, see sec. 2401.

An Act to repeal the timber-culture laws, and for other purposes.

Approved March 3, 1891; 26 Stat. 1095

3170. Reservoir sites restricted to land actually necessary—Act restricting acreage to be acquired not include lands entered under mineral laws.

SEC. 17. That reservoir sites located or selected and to be located and selected under the provisions of "An act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the government for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and eighty-nine, and for other purposes," and amendments thereto, shall be restricted to and shall contain only so much land as is actually necessary for the construction and maintenance of reservoirs, excluding so far as practicable lands occupied by actual settlers at the date of the location of said reservoirs; and that the provisions of "An act making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the government for the fiscal year ending June thirtieth, eighteen hundred and ninety-one, and for other purposes," which reads as follows, viz: "No person who shall after the passage of this act enter upon any of the public lands with a view to occupation, entry, or settlement under any of the land laws shall be permitted to acquire title to more than three hundred and twenty acres in the aggregate under all said laws," shall be construed to include in the maximum amount of lands the title to which is permitted to be acquired by one person only agricultural lands, and not include lands entered or sought to be entered under mineral-land laws.

NOTE—The 320-acre limitation provided by the above act of March 3, 1891 (26 Stat. 1095), applies to timber and stone entries. (33 L. D. 539, 605.)

An Act to amend an act to permit the use of the right of way through public lands for tramroads, canals, and reservoirs, and for other purposes.

3171. Rights of way across public lands for certain purposes.

That the act entitled "An act to permit the use of the right of way through the public lands for tramroads, canals, and reservoirs, and for other purposes," approved January twenty-first, eighteen hundred and ninety-five, be, and the same is hereby, amended by adding thereto the following:

That the secretary of the interior be, and hereby is, authorized and empowered, under general regulations to be fixed by him, to permit the use of right of way upon the public lands of the United States, not within limits of any park, forest, military, or Indian reservations, for tramways, canals, or reservoirs, to the extent of the ground occupied by the water of the canals and reservoirs, and fifty feet on each side of the marginal limits thereof, or fifty feet on each side of the center line of the tramroad, by any citizen or association of citizens of the United States, for the purposes of furnishing water for domestic, public, and other beneficial uses. As amended, May 11, 1898.

That the secretary of the interior be, and hereby is, authorized and empowered, under general regulations to be fixed by him, to permit the use of right of way to the extent of twenty-five feet, together with the use of necessary ground not exceeding forty acres, upon the public lands and forest reservations of the United States, by any citizen or association of citizens of the United States, for the purposes of generating, manufacturing, or distributing electric power. As supplemented, May 14, 1896.

3172. Idem.

SEC. 2. That the rights of way for ditches, canals, or reservoirs heretofore or hereafter approved under the provisions of sections 18, 19, 20, and 21 of the act entitled "An act to repeal timber-culture laws, and for other purposes," approved March third, eighteen hundred and ninety-one, may be used for purposes of a public nature; and said rights of way may be used for purposes of water transportation, for domestic purposes, or for the development of power, as subsidiary to the main purpose of irrigation. As amended, May 11, 1898.

The original act is omitted because its provisions are carried in the amendatory and supplemental acts.

The biennial report of the surveyor-general and state land register for 1909-1910 states that "There have been granted by the United States to the State of Nevada, at different times, lands to the amount of 2,732,884.70 acres in different grants. All these grants to the state have been exhausted by selections, but, as there are several thousand acres of selections to be adjusted on account of suspended duplicate and erroneous approval, all the grants have not as yet been closed."

An act of Congress approved March 21, 1864, donated twenty sections for the erection of public buildings for legislative and judicial purposes and twenty sections for a penitentiary.

An Act to prevent unlawful occupancy of the public lands.

Approved February 25, 1885

3173. Unlawful inclosure of or assertion of right to public lands.

That all inclosures of any public lands in any state or territory of the United States, heretofore or to be hereafter made, erected, or constructed by any person, party, association, or corporation, to any of which land included within the inclosure the person, party, association, or corporation making or controlling the inclosure had no claim or color of title made or acquired in good faith, or an asserted right thereto by or under claim, made in good faith with a view to entry thereof at the proper land office under the general laws of the United States at the time any such inclosure was or shall be made, are hereby declared to be unlawful, and the maintenance, erection, construction, or control of any such inclosure is hereby forbidden and prohibited; and the assertion of a right to the exclusive use and occupancy of any part of the public lands of the United States in any state or any of the territories of the United States, without claim, color of title, or asserted right as above specified as to inclosure, is likewise declared unlawful, and hereby prohibited.

3174. Duty of United States district attorney to institute suit—What courts have jurisdiction—Judgment.

SEC. 2. That it shall be the duty of the district attorney of the United States for the proper district, on affidavit filed with him by any citizen of the United States that section 1 of this act is being violated showing a description of the land inclosed with reasonable certainty, not necessarily by metes and bounds nor by governmental subdivisions of surveyed lands, but only so that the inclosure may be identified, and the persons guilty of the violation as nearly as may be, and by description, if the name cannot on reasonable inquiry be ascertained, to institute a civil suit in the proper United States district or circuit court, or territorial district court, in the name of the United States, and against the parties named or described who shall be in charge of or controlling the inclosure complained of as defendants.

And jurisdiction is also hereby conferred on any United States district or circuit court or territorial district court having jurisdiction over the locality where the land inclosed, or any part thereof, shall be situated, to hear and determine proceedings in equity, by writ of injunction, to restrain violations of the provisions of this act; and it shall be sufficient to give the court jurisdiction if service of original process be had in any civil proceeding on any agent or employee having charge or control of the inclosure.

And any suit brought under the provisions of this section shall have precedence for hearing and trial over other cases on the civil docket of the court, and shall be tried and determined at the earliest practicable day.

In any case if the inclosure shall be found to be unlawful, the court shall make the proper order, judgment, or decree for the destruction of the inclosure, in a summary way, unless the inclosure shall be removed by the defendant within five days after the order of the court.

By the act of March 3, 1911, the United States district court is given jurisdiction to restrain by injunction the unlawful inclosure of public lands. (36 Stat. L. 1093.)

3175. Peaceable entry on public lands not to be interfered with—Free transit over—Proviso.

SEC. 3. That no person, by force, threats, intimidation, or by any fencing or inclosing, or any other unlawful means, shall prevent or obstruct, or shall combine and confederate with others to prevent or obstruct, any person from peaceably entering upon or establishing a settlement or residence on any tract of public land subject to settlement or entry under the public-land laws of the United States or shall prevent or obstruct free passage or transit over or through the public lands; provided, this section shall not be held to affect the right or title of persons, who have gone upon, improved or occupied said lands under the land laws of the United States, claiming title thereto, in good faith.

3176. Penal provisions.

SEC. 4. That any person violating any of the provisions hereof, whether as owner, part owner, or agent, or who shall aid, abet, counsel, advise, or assist in any violation hereof, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and fined in a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars or be imprisoned not exceeding one year, or both, for each offense. As amended, March 10, 1908.

[Sec. 5 authorizes the president to take such measures as shall be necessary to remove any unlawful inclosure of public lands, and to employ civil or military force as may be necessary for that purpose.]

3177. No suit without authority from secretary of the interior if less than 160 acres inclosed.

SEC. 6. That where the alleged unlawful inclosure includes less than one hundred and sixty acres of land, no suit shall be brought under the provisions of this act without authority from the secretary of the interior.

An Act to protect the locators in good faith of oil and gas lands who shall have effected an actual discovery of oil or gas on the public lands of the United States, or their successors in interest.

Approved March 2, 1911

3178. Assignee or grantee of land containing oil or gas located under mining laws, may obtain patent, when—160-acre limitation—Proviso.

In no case shall patent be denied to or for any lands heretofore located or claimed under the mining laws of the United States containing petroleum, mineral oil, or gas solely because of any transfer or assignment thereof or of any interest or interests therein by the original locator or locators, or any of them, to any qualified persons or person, or corporation, prior to discovery of oil or gas therein, but if such claim is in all other respects valid and regular, patent therefor not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres in any one claim shall issue to the holder or holders thereof, as in other cases; provided, however, that such lands were not at the time of inception of development on or under such claim withdrawn from mineral entry.

See sec. 2394.

Approved September 4, 1841

3179. 500,000-acre grant.

SEC. 8. There shall be granted to each state specified in the first section of this act five hundred thousand acres of land for purposes of internal improvement; provided, that to each of the said states which has already received grants for said purpose, there is hereby granted no more than a quantity of land which shall, together with the amount such state has already received as aforesaid, make five hundred thousand acres, the selections in all of the said states to be made within their limits respectively in such manner as the legislatures thereof shall direct, and located in parcels conformably to sectional divisions and subdivisions, of not less than three hundred and twenty acres in any one location, on any public land except such as is or may be reserved from sale by any law of Congress or proclamation of the president of the United States, which said locations may be made at any time after the lands of the United States in said states respectively shall have been surveyed according to existing laws. And there shall be and hereby is granted to each new state that shall be hereafter admitted into the union, upon such admission, so much land as, including such quantity as may have been granted to such state before its admission and while under a territorial government, for purposes of internal improvement, as aforesaid, as shall make five hundred thousand acres of land, to be selected and located as aforesaid. U. S. Statutes at Large, vol. 5, 455.

The lands granted to the state by this and other acts are pledged to school purposes by the constitution, sec. 355.

An Act to authorize settlers upon sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections, who settled before the surveys of the public lands, to preempt their settlements.

Approved February 26, 1859

3180. Land granted in lieu of preemption on 16th and 36th sections.

Where settlements, with a view to preemption, have been made before the survey of the lands in the field which shall be found to have been made on sections sixteen or thirty-six, said sections shall be subject to the preemption claim of such settler; and if they, or either of them, shall have been or shall be reserved or pledged for the use of schools or colleges in the state or territory in which the lands lie, other lands of like quantity are hereby appropriated in lieu of such as may be patented by preemptors; and other lands are also hereby appropriated to compensate deficiencies for school purposes, where said sections sixteen or thirty-six are fractional in quantity, or where one or both are wanting by reason of the township being fractional, or from any natural cause whatever; provided, that the lands by this section appropriated shall be selected and appropriated in accordance with the principles of adjustment and the provisions of the act of Congress of May twentieth, eighteen hundred and twenty-six, entitled "An act to appropriate lands for the support of schools in certain townships and fractional townships not before provided for." U. S. Statutes at Large, vol. 11, 385.

An Act donating public lands to the several states and territories which may provide colleges for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts.

Approved July 2, 1862

3181. 90,000-acre grant.

That there be granted to the several states, for the purposes hereinafter mentioned, an amount of public land, to be apportioned to each state a quantity equal to thirty thousand acres for each senator and representative in Congress to which the states are respectively entitled by the apportionment under the census of eighteen hundred and sixty; provided, that no mineral lands shall be selected or purchased under the provisions of this act.

See sec. 3165.

3182. Moneys from sale of lands, how invested—Colleges for agriculture and mechanic arts—Military tactics.

SEC. 4. All moneys derived from the sale of the lands aforesaid by the states to which the lands are apportioned, and from the sales of land scrip hereinbefore provided for, shall be invested in stocks of the United States, or of the states, or some other safe stocks, yielding not less than five per centum upon the par value of said stocks; and that the moneys so invested shall constitute a perpetual fund, the capital of which shall remain forever undiminished (except so far as may be provided in section fifth of this act), and the interest of which shall be inviolably appropriated, by each state which may take and claim the benefit of this act, to the endowment, support, and maintenance of at least one college, where the leading object shall be, without excluding other scientific and classical studies, and including military tactics, to teach such branches of learning as are related to agriculture and the mechanic arts, in such manner as the legislatures of the states may respectively prescribe, in order to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes in the several pursuits and professions in life.

3183. Grants of land and scrip on certain conditions.

SEC. 5. The grant of land and land scrip hereby authorized shall be made on the following conditions, to which, as well as to the provisions hereinbefore contained, the previous assent of the several states shall be signified by legislative acts:

First—If any portion of the fund invested, as provided by the foregoing section, or any portion of the interest thereon, shall, by any action or contingency, be diminished or lost, it shall be replaced by the state to which it belongs, so that the capital of the fund shall remain forever undiminished; and the annual interest shall be regularly applied, without diminution, to the purposes mentioned in the fourth section of this act, except that a sum not exceeding ten per centum upon the amount received by any state under the provisions of this act may be expended for the purchase of lands for sites, or experimental farms, whenever authorized by the respective legislatures of said states.

Second—No portion of said fund, nor the interest thereon, shall be applied, directly or indirectly, under any pretense whatever, to the purchase, erection, preservation, or repair of any building or buildings.

Third—Any state which may take and claim the benefit of the provisions of this act shall provide, within five years, at least not less than one college, as described in the fourth section of this act, or the grant to such state shall cease; and said state shall be bound to pay the United States the amount received of any lands previously sold, and that the title to purchasers under the state shall be valid.

Fourth—An annual report shall be made regarding the progress of each college, recording any improvements and experiments made, with their cost and results, and such other matters, including state industrial and economical statistics, as may be supposed useful; one copy of which shall be transmitted by mail free, by each, to all the other colleges which may be endowed under the provisions of this act, and also one copy to the secretary of the interior.

Fifth—When lands shall be selected from those which have been raised to double the minimum price, in consequence of railroad grants, they shall be computed to the states at the maximum price, and the number of acres proportionally diminished.

Sixth—No state while in a condition of rebellion or insurrection against the government of the United States shall be entitled to the benefit of this act.

Seventh—No state shall be entitled to the benefits of this act unless it shall express its acceptance thereof by its legislature within two years from the date of its approval by the president. U. S. Statutes at Large, vol. 12, 503.

The time for the acceptance of the grant under this act was extended by amendatory act of Congress of April 14, 1864.

This act was accepted by act of the legislature, approved March 9, 1865, 349.

See, also, secs. 7, 8, and 9 of the enabling act, 209, 216, 217, ante, regarding the granting of lands to the state.

An Act concerning certain lands granted to the State of Nevada.

Approved July 4, 1866

3184. Confirmation by Congress of dedication to school purposes of the 500,000 acre-grant.

The appropriation by the constitution of the State of Nevada to educational purposes of the five hundred thousand acres of land granted to said state by the law of September fourth, eighteen hundred and forty-one, for purposes of internal improvement, is hereby approved and confirmed.

See sec. 3158.

3185. Grant for maintenance of university.

SEC. 2. Land equal in amount to seventy-two entire sections, for the establishment and maintenance of a university in said state, is hereby granted to the State of Nevada.

3186. Proceeds of land diverted from teaching agriculture and mechanic arts to that of mining.

SEC. 3. The grant made by law of the second day of July, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, to each state, of land equal to thirty thousand acres for each of its senators and representatives in Congress, is extended to the State of Nevada, and the diversion of the proceeds of these lands in Nevada from the teaching of agriculture and mechanic arts to that of the theory and practice of mining is allowed and authorized without causing a forfeiture of said grant.

See sec. 3160.

3187. President to appoint surveyor-general for Nevada—Office, compensation, duties, expenses.

SEC. 4. The president of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, shall be, and he is hereby, authorized to appoint a surveyor-general for Nevada, who shall locate his office at such place as the secretary of the interior shall from time to time direct, whose compensation shall be three thousand dollars per annum, and whose duties, powers, obligations, responsibilities, and allowances for clerk hire, office rent, fuel, and incidental expenses shall be the same as those of the surveyor-general of Oregon, under the direction of the secretary of the interior, and such instructions as he may from time to time deem it advisable to give him.

3188. Secretary of the interior may vary lines of subdivisions.

SEC. 5. In extending the surveys of the public lands in the State of Nevada, the secretary of the interior may, in his discretion, vary the lines of the subdivisions from a rectangular form, to suit the circumstances of the country; but in all cases lands valuable for mines of gold, silver, quicksilver, or copper shall be reserved from sale.

3189. Lands not subject to other than homestead entry until state has received full quota.

SEC. 6. Until the State of Nevada shall have received her full quota of lands named in the first, second, and third sections of this act, the public lands in that state shall not be subject to entry, sale, or location under any law of the United States, or any scrip or warrants issued in pursuance of any such law except the homestead act of May twentieth, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and acts amendatory thereto, and the acts granting and regulating preemptions, but shall be reserved exclusively for entry by the said state for the period of two years after such survey shall have been made; provided, that said state shall select said lands in her own name and right, in tracts of not less than forty acres, and dispose of the same in tracts not exceeding three hundred and twenty acres, only to actual settlers and bona fide occupants; and, provided further, that city and town property shall not be subject to selection under this act; and, provided further, that this section shall not be construed to interfere with or impair rights heretofore acquired under any law of Congress. U. S. Statutes at Large, vol. 14, 85.

By act of the legislature approved February 3, 1867, the state accepted all grants of public land theretofore made by the United States to the state.

See enabling act, secs. 215-217.

An Act to provide for giving effect to the various grants of public lands to the State of Nevada.

Approved June 8, 1868

3190. State authorized to select certain sections within railroad grant.

The State of Nevada is authorized to select the alternate even-numbered sections within the limits of any railroad grant in said state, in satisfaction, in whole or in part, of the several grants made in the following acts of Congress, to wit: the act organizing the Territory of Nevada, passed March second, eighteen hundred and sixty-one; the act admitting the State of Nevada into the Union, passed March twenty-one, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, and the act concerning certain lands granted to Nevada, passed July fourth, eighteen hundred and sixty-six; provided, that this privilege shall not extend to lands upon which there may be rightful claims under the preemption and homestead laws; and, provided, that if lands be selected, the minimum price of which is two dollars and fifty cents per acre, each acre so selected shall be taken by the state in satisfaction of two acres, the minimum price of which is one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre; and, provided further, that the lands granted in the eighth and ninth sections of the said act admitting Nevada into the Union shall be selected within four years from the passage of this act, and the period for the selection of said lands is hereby so extended.

3191. Selection of lands for agricultural college.

SEC. 2. The lands known and designated for the establishment of an agricultural college by the act of July second, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and the acts amendatory thereto, shall be selected in the same manner and of the same character of lands as may be selected in satisfaction of any other grants referred to in the first section of this act. But this act shall not authorize the selection of lands valuable for mines of gold, silver, quick-silver, or copper. U. S. Statutes at Large, vol. 15, 67.

An Act to continue in force a grant to the State of Nevada for college purposes.

Approved March 16, 1872

3192. Time for establishment of college extended.

The grant made to the State of Nevada under section 3 of the act of July fourth, eighteen hundred and sixty-six, entitled "An act concerning certain lands granted to the State of Nevada," shall not cease by reason of the failure of the said state to provide at least one college, as required by the several acts of Congress as a condition of said grant, but the same shall continue in full force; provided, that all the conditions of law be complied with prior to the tenth of May, eighteen hundred and seventy-seven. U. S. Statutes at Large, vol. 17, 40.

An Act to grant to the State of Nevada lands in lieu of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections in said state.

Approved June 16, 1880

3193. Lands granted in lieu of 16th and 36th sections.

That there be, and are hereby, granted to the State of Nevada two million acres of land in said state in lieu of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections of land heretofore granted to the State of Nevada by the United States; provided, that the title of the state and its grantees to such sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections as may have been sold or disposed of by said state prior to the passage of this act, shall not be changed or vitiated in consequence of or by virtue of this act.

3194. Selections to be from any unappropriated nonmineral public lands.

SEC. 2. The lands herein granted shall be selected by the state authorities of said state from any unappropriated, nonmineral, public land in said state, in quantities not less than the smallest legal subdivision; and when selected in conformity with the terms of this act, the same shall be duly certified to said state by the commissioner of the general land office and approved by the secretary of the interior.

3195. Lands may be disposed of under rules prescribed by legislature—Proceeds of sale.

SEC. 3. The lands herein granted shall be disposed of under such laws, rules, and regulations as may be prescribed by the legislature of the State of Nevada; provided, that the proceeds of the sale thereof shall be dedicated to the same purposes as heretofore provided in the grant of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections made to said state. U. S. Statutes, 1879-80, 288.

The lands granted by this act were accepted by the state by act of the legislature of March 8, 1879, 106; and by the constitution the proceeds of these lands are pledged to educational purposes, sec. 355.

SECTION 1. For the purpose of selecting and disposing of the lands that have been or may hereafter be granted by the United States to the State of Nevada, including the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections, and those selected in lieu thereof, in accordance with the terms and conditions of the several grants of land by the United States to the State of Nevada, a state land office is hereby created, of which the surveyor-general shall be and is hereby made ex officio land register. He shall, as such land register, be required to give bonds in the sum of ten thousand dollars for the faithful performance of his duties, which bonds shall be approved by the governor and filed in the office of the secretary of state. The land register shall keep his office at the seat of government, and the same shall be kept open on all legal days, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m., for the transaction of business.

3197. Register to procure township plats—Report to county assessor.

SEC. 2. The register shall procure from the United States surveyor-general's office one copy of each township plat of the public surveys now approved or that may hereafter be approved by the proper United States authorities, unless the same shall have been previously obtained; provided, that said copies be made upon material of such a quality as the state land register may prescribe, the cost of the same not to exceed six dollars each. He shall keep a record of all applications and contracts and of lands which have been or may hereafter be approved to the state, and of all lands which have been sold by the state, which, together with all plats, papers and documents relating to the business of his office, shall be open to public inspection during office hours without fee therefor; and he shall also furnish on or before the first day of July, eighteen hundred and eighty-seven, or as soon thereafter as practicable, a copy of the plat of each township within any county to the county assessor of such county, to be used by him in performing the duties of his office; and all lands applied for in the state land office thereafter shall be reported by the register to the county assessor of the county in which such lands are situated, on or before the first day of May of each year thereafter, and the said assessor shall immediately mark the same upon the township plats in his office, and shall keep such plats subject to the inspection of all persons interested in examining the same. As amended, Stats. 1887, 112; 1889, 123.

Cited, State ex rel. N. T. G. & T. Co. v. Grimes, 29 Nev. 59.

3198. Price state land—Lands in railroad limits—Simultaneous applications.

SEC. 3. The price of all lands applied for after the approval of this act, is hereby fixed at one dollar and twenty-five ($1.25) cents per acre, except such lands within the limits of the Central Pacific railroad grant as have heretofore been or may hereafter be approved to the state as double minimum lands, the price of which is hereby fixed at two dollars and fifty ($2.50) cents per acre, notwithstanding such lands have been or may hereafter be forfeited to the state; provided, that in cases of simultaneous applications to purchase the same lands, where neither party claims a preferred right, the price per acre shall be that offered by the highest bidder, as provided by section 13 of this act; and further provided, that nothing in this act shall invalidate or change the condition of any completed sale or any contract which may have been entered into between the state and individual purchasers for the sale of any lands. As amended, Stats. 1887, 32; 1889, 124; 1891, 100.

See secs. 3208, 3221, regarding simultaneous applications.

3199. Application to purchase, what to state—How signed—Statement to assessors.

SEC. 4. All applications to purchase lands shall be made in writing to the land register and shall be signed by the applicant or his or her agent, and shall designate in conformity with the United States survey, the tracts of land applied for to purchase, the number of acres, and amount necessary to purchase such land, and the section of this act under which the applicant wishes to purchase; also residence, postoffice address, and county in which such land is located, and it shall be the duty of the state land register to furnish each of the several county assessors with a statement showing all the lands that have been applied for in their respective counties, and which have not heretofore been shown by such statement, together with the name and address of the applicant or assignee, so far as the same may be known, and on or before the first day of May of each year thereafter, to furnish such assessor with a statement showing all additional applications and forfeitures since last annual statement. As amended, Stats. 1887, 118; 1889, 124; 1891, 100.

Contract for the sale of state lands considered and held to constitute an entire contract for the land described therein, and that if the purchaser fails to pay interest upon the balance due upon any part of the land, he forfeits it all. State ex rel. Powning v. Jones, 22 Nev. 510, 516-517 (34 P. 450).

The statute permitting such a sale reviewed, and held to authorize the kind of contract made in this case, and to show that the legislature intended it to be entire and indivisible. Idem.

3200. Nonmineral affidavit—Duties state land register and state controller—Duties of state treasurer—Unselectable lands—Completion of purchase.

SEC. 5. Upon the application of any citizen of the United States or any person who has legally declared his intention to become such, to purchase lands not previously selected by the state, such applicant shall deposit with the state land register an affidavit, in due form, by the applicant or some other competent person, made before an officer having an official seal and legally authorized to administer oaths, that the lands described in the application are nonmineral in character, and such affidavit shall not refer to any lands not included in such application. The land register shall indorse upon each application the exact time of its receipt in his office, and shall certify to the state controller that such person is entitled to apply for the lands, describing the same as in the application, which shall accompany the certificate, and said certificate shall state the amount necessary to purchase such lands. The controller shall thereupon issue his order directing the state treasurer to receive from such applicant such amount, placing the same in the proper fund, and upon such payment being made, the treasurer shall issue his receipt in duplicate, describing the lands applied for, and he shall at the same time enter in his abstract of applications the name of the person so applying, description of land, number and date of receipt, and amount paid by the applicant. Upon return of the application with the treasurer's receipt to the land office, the register shall file the same, and take prompt measures at the United States land office of the district in which such lands are situated to select, for the state, the lands described in such application. If, during a period of sixty days after the filing of any application, the state land register shall remain unable so to select any of the lands therein described, on account of conflicting entries or reservations in the United States land office, he shall cancel such application, so far as it concerns the unselectable lands therein described, and at once certify to the controller and treasurer each, that such applicant is entitled to the amount paid by him or her, on said unselectable lands, and the controller shall draw his warrant upon the proper fund for the amount due such applicant, and the same shall be paid by the treasurer. The state land register shall, at the same time, notify the applicant of such cancelation, and that the amount deposited thereon is subject to withdrawal as provided by law, and no subsequent application for lands embraced in such canceled application shall be certified by the state land register until due official notice shall have been received from the intending applicant, that the lands in question are subject to selection. Whenever purchase can be completed, in whole, or in part, upon lands applied for, as in this section provided, the land register shall certify the same to the controller and treasurer each, and shall at once proceed to complete such sale. Should the controller, upon receipt of such certificate, find that any payment had been wrongfully apportioned, he shall issue his order directing the treasurer to transfer such amount to its proper fund. If by reason of the nonapproval of the lands to the state, or other cause, the contemplated sale cannot be completed, in whole or in part, then, upon the demand of the applicant or his or her legal agent or assignee, the land register shall certify to the controller and treasurer each, that such applicant is entitled to the amount paid by him or her, and the controller shall draw his warrant upon the proper fund for the amount due such applicant, and the same shall be paid by the treasurer. The term citizen, as used in this act, is held to mean and include females of lawful age. As amended, Stats. 1889, 124; 1891, 100.

As all grants are exhausted, section 5 is obsolete so far as it relates to the selection of new lands.

3201. Register to certify application to controller—Duplicate receipts by state treasurer.

SEC. 6. Upon the application of any person as defined in section 5 of this act, for the purchase of land after the state has obtained title thereto, should such person be entitled to purchase, the land register shall certify the same to the controller. Said certificate shall be accompanied by such application, as provided in section 5 of this act, whereupon the controller shall issue his order directing the treasurer to receive the amount necessary to purchase such land, placing the same in the fund specified in the order. Upon payment being made by the applicant, the treasurer shall issue his receipts in duplicate for the same, and on return of said application, with the receipt, to the state land office, the register shall thereupon file the same and complete such sale. As amended, Stats. 1889, 126.

3202. Fees to be deposited with state land register.

SEC. 7. All applicants for purchase of lands not approved to the state at the time of making application shall deposit with the state land register the amount of fees required for selecting the same in the United States local land office; also the amount of fees required for advertising such selection—if the land so selected or any part thereof—be situated within six miles of a mineral claim or location, the amount of which said advertising fee for each application is hereby limited to and fixed at two dollars. The applicant in every instance shall also bear the actual expense of all nonmineral affidavits required by law, or the regulations of the United States general land office. As amended, Stats. 1889, 126; 1897, 71.

3203. Register authorized to sell or contract—Conditions—Upon failure to pay interest, land subject to sale—Payment of overdue interest—Duty of register—Issuance of patent.

SEC. 8. In addition to the mode and manner of the sale of state lands, the state land register is hereby further empowered to sell and dispose of any agricultural or grazing lands, payable as hereinafter specified—that is to say, with any person so defined in section 5 of this act, wishing to purchase lands under the provisions of this section, and who shall have made proper application therefor, and duly establish his or her right to purchase under the provisions of this act, the state land register is hereby authorized and required to enter into contract to sell such lands, upon the receipt of the list certifying the approval of such lands to the state, upon the following conditions, to wit: One-fifth of the purchase price to be paid upon application, the remainder of the purchase price to be paid in fifty years from the date of contract, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, interest payable annually; provided, that the applicant, or his heirs or assigns, may, at any time prior to the maturity of such contract, make full payment of the principal and interest due under the terms of such contract and receive patent in the name of the applicant. All such contracts shall be entered into in writing with the person so purchasing, in which the conditions shall be distinctly expressed, that upon the failure to pay the annual interest or principal when due, as stipulated, the land shall immediately thereafter be subject to sale in the same manner and under the same conditions as though no such prior contract of sale had been made; provided, that the state land register is hereby authorized to accept an overdue interest payment on any contract during the period of one year from the date required for such interest payment; but when application is made for any portion of the land described in any contract on which the annual interest payment is overdue, it shall be the duty of the state land register to immediately declare such contract forfeited, and to accept and certify such application, and the remainder of the land embraced in such forfeited contract shall unconditionally revert to the state. It shall be the duty of the register to certify each sale and the terms thereof to the treasurer. The register shall certify to the controller each payment, and the controller upon the receipt of each such certificate, shall issue his order to the treasurer, apportioning the interest to the fund to which it may belong, as in section 5 of this act, and upon payment being made by the applicant of the amount specified in the order, the treasurer shall issue his receipts in duplicate, and when full payment shall have been made, patent shall issue to the purchaser as provided in section 16 of this act. No timber land shall be sold unless the whole purchase price shall be paid at the time of application. As amended, Stats. 1889, 126; 1899, 124; 1909, 82.

See State ex rel. Powning v. Jones, under sec. 4 of this act.

3204. Contracts may be renewed.

SEC. 9. All contracts in existence at the time of the passage of this act may remain under the same conditions as stipulated in said contracts; or the unpaid principal may be made the subject of a new contract under the provisions of the foregoing section, to be paid within fifty years from the date of such new contract, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum at the option of the holder of such contract; provided, that such contract shall be made only on the day when the annual interest payment becomes due; and provided further, that the applicant shall pay to the state land register a fee of fifty cents for each and every new contract so issued; said fees shall be used by the state land register for the payment of extra clerical labor employed in preparing and recording such new contract. The state land register is hereby authorized and empowered to make such rules and regulations as will carry out the provisions of this act. As amended, Stats. 1909, 83.

3205. Register to cause notice to be given.

SEC. 10. The state land register shall, with reasonable dispatch, cause proper notices to be prepared, requiring the applicant, or his or her agent or attorney, to make full payment, or enter into contract, in the applicant's name, with the state land register, as provided in section 8 of this act, for the purchase of the land applied for by said applicant, and shall inclose with such notice duly prepared contracts, in duplicate, for the applicant to sign, and shall address the same to such applicant, or his or her agent or attorney, by mail in registered letter, and the register shall file the postoffice receipts in his office. If, at the expiration of ninety days from the date of mailing of such notices and contracts in duplicate, the person so notified, or his or her legal representative, shall fail to make the required full payment, or to sign and return to the register such contracts, he or she shall forfeit his or her right to complete the purchase of such land, and the title of the state to such land shall rest as fully in the state as though it had never been applied for, and shall be subject to sale to any person, including the person so forfeiting such land on previous application. Any and all sums of money deposited as partial payments on lands so forfeited shall immediately and unconditionally become the property of the state. As amended, Stats. 1889, 127.

See State ex rel. Powning v. Jones, under sec. 4 of this act.

3206. Unlocated land warrants—Rights of holder.

SEC. 11. The holder of any unlocated land warrant of this state, heretofore issued, shall have the right to use the same in payment for lands which he or she may desire to purchase from the state, and any person holding any of said warrants for one hundred and sixty acres or less, at the rate of two and one-half dollars per acre, shall be allowed to surrender the same to the state treasurer in full payment for double the number of acres expressed therein, of land valued at one and one-fourth dollars per acre. And upon the surrender of such land warrant to the controller by the treasurer, properly indorsed, the controller shall draw his warrant upon the state school fund, in favor of the state treasurer, for the amount of said land warrant.

Where one applied to the state to purchase certain public land, which, however, was not part of a sixteenth or thirty-sixth section, or of land selected in lieu thereof, and deposited a land warrant issued under acts of 1865, 173, and 1866, 194, it was held such warrant was not receivable in payment for that class of land, and that no right accrued to the applicant or his grantees.

The only land which could be purchased with a school-land warrant was that embraced in the sixteenth or thirty-sixth sections or land selected in lieu thereof.

The privilege given by the act of 1867, 165, to "the holders of any unlocated land warrant" is limited to the lands "subject to sale by private entry." State ex rel. Sharon v. Treadway, 7 Nev. 241.

3207. Moneys paid on order from controller.

SEC. 12. All moneys hereafter paid into the treasury on lands shall be paid in on an order from the controller, and all moneys refunded to applicants shall be drawn out upon a warrant issued by the controller upon the treasurer, as provided in section 5 of this act. All purchases to be completed, on amounts to be refunded, upon special deposit receipts issued by E. Rhoades, defaulting treasurer, and still outstanding, shall be disposed of in the following manner: Whenever purchase can be completed, in part or in whole, upon lands thus applied for, the state land register shall complete such sale, surrendering to the controller the treasurer's receipts issued by E. Rhoades, with his certificate of the completion of such sale, and the controller shall receive and file the same in his office as vouchers. The register shall at the same time also certify such sale to the treasurer. Whenever, by reason of nonapproval of lands to the state, or other cause, the contemplated sale cannot be completed, the land register shall certify to the controller that such applicant is entitled to the amount paid, and the controller shall file such certificate in his office as a voucher, drawing his warrant upon the proper fund for said amount, and the treasurer shall pay the same. The land register shall, at the same time, certify in like manner to the treasurer. As amended, Stats. 1889, 127.

3208. When two or more persons apply for the same lands, proceedings—
Artesian well to give preferred right—Rights of first applicant—Board to decide rights of contesting claimants—Contests to be certified to district court, when—Practice in hearing contested cases—Cost of contest.

SEC. 13. An occupant or party in possession shall have a preferred right to purchase all the lands he or she may be entitled to purchase under the provisions of this act, for the period of six months after the date of filing in the state land office of the official plat or plats covering the survey, by the United States government, of the land occupied or possessed by him or her. After the filing in the state land office of a formal application for lands, not previously approved to the state, should one or more persons, each claiming a preferred right by reason of occupancy or possession severally apply to purchase the same lands, the register shall require each of such claimants to make and deposit with his or her application an affidavit affirming occupancy or possession thereof, dating prior to the filing of the first existing application for the lands so claimed. An occupant or party in possession as named in this act and section, shall be deemed and considered to include any person, as defined in section 5 of this act, who, after the approval of this act, shall commence, and prosecute with due diligence, the sinking of an artesian well upon any unoccupied public lands, subject to selection by the State of Nevada, according to the requirements of an act to encourage the sinking of artesian wells, approved March 5, 1887, and acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, and every such person shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of an occupant or party in possession, as to a preferred right to purchase when he or she shall have complied with the provisions of said act, concerning said well and the requirements herein written as to diligence in the prosecution of said work, and upon proof being made before the proper court, as hereinafter provided, that said person has complied therewith, his or her preferred right shall date from the commencement of the sinking of said well. When two or more persons severally apply to purchase the same lands, the first applicant, although not claiming a preferred right to purchase, shall be entitled to appear and contest the right of an applicant to purchase under the claim of a preferred right. When two or more persons severally apply to purchase the same lands, neither claiming a preferred right, the first applicant shall be allowed to purchase. It shall be the duty of the state land register to notify the first existing applicant or his or her attorney or other legal representative, immediately upon the filing of a subsequent application for any portion of the lands embraced in his or her application. Such notice shall be given by registered letter through the United States mails. When two or more persons simultaneously apply to purchase the same lands, neither claiming a preferred right, the determination of the right to purchase shall be submitted to a board consisting of the state controller, state treasurer, and state land register. The said board shall designate a time to receive bids from the several applicants who have simultaneously applied to purchase the lands in question, and shall proceed to determine and award the right to purchase to the highest bidder. The board shall direct the state land register to proceed toward the completion of such highest bidder's application. The money derived from such bids shall be added to the original deposit on each successful application. All cases of contest arising under the provisions of this act from other causes than simultaneous applications shall be certified, together with all the facts in his possession relating thereto, by the state land register, to the district court in and for the county in which the lands in dispute are situated, and the land register shall, at the same time, notify the contestants, by registered mail, of the certification of their cause to the proper court. When a cause shall have been certified by the state land register to the district court for trial, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the court in which the action is pending forthwith to notify the respective parties, and, within forty days after proof of service of notice of such certification, the party making the contest shall file and serve upon the adverse party a complaint setting forth the facts upon which he or she claims to be entitled to purchase the lands. The adverse party shall, within twenty days after the service of the complaint, file an answer setting forth the facts relied upon. In case of default, the court shall proceed to hear and determine the controversy as upon default in other cases. The notice, complaint and answer shall be served in the manner now provided by law for service of process in other cases. In case the party making the contest should neglect to file a complaint, as herein provided, the first applicant shall be entitled to a judgment of the court upon the papers certified by the state land register, decreeing him or her to be entitled to purchase said lands. In case of the rendition of judgment under the provisions of this section, the clerk of the court shall immediately transmit to the state land register, certified, a copy of said judgment, together with a certified statement of all the accrued costs of said contest in said court. All costs in contested cases shall be paid by the parties litigant, as the court or judge may determine. Upon receiving the certificate of the clerk of the court, or order of the board, as herein provided, the state land register shall proceed with the successful applicant, as if he or she alone had applied, and immediately cancel all other applications for the lands in question. It shall be the duty of the state land register to notify each unsuccessful applicant that his or her application has been canceled, and that the amount deposited thereon may be withdrawn from the state treasury, as provided in section 5 of this act; provided, that the state land register may withhold from the amount so deposited by said unsuccessful applicant a sum sufficient to pay and satisfy the costs of the contest in the district court as herein provided, and the state land register is hereby directed to transmit to the clerk of said court, taking his receipt therefor, the amount so withheld, and directing that the same shall be applied by said clerk to the satisfaction of the costs adjudged against said unsuccessful applicant; provided, further, that if said unsuccessful applicant shall fail, for a period of thirty days after the rendition of the judgment by the district court, to make application for the withdrawal of the amount so deposited by him under the provisions of this act, it shall be the duty of the state land register to make application for withdrawal of the same, and out of said sum so withdrawn shall pay the costs, as herein provided, and remit any balance to said unsuccessful applicant. As amended, Stats. 1887, 118; 1889, 120; 1891, 101; 1893, 59.

Regarding simultaneous applications, see secs. 3198, 3221.

Where a person acquires the United States patent to land, he acquires a new title, against which there is no prescription; in other words, his patent sweeps away all former titles, and confers upon him as complete a title as the United States had. Vansickle v. Haines, 7 Nev. 250.

An applicant claiming a preferred right of purchase is not limited to 320 acres, but is entitled to 640 acres. State ex rel.

Springer v. Preble, 20 Nev. 39, 43 (14 P. 584).

This act makes no provision for easements where there are two or more simultaneous applicants for the same lands, and neither applicant claims a preferred right to purchase by reason of prior occupancy or possession. Mandamus to the surveyor-general and ex officio land register, to compel him to sell to one applicant, in preference to the others, in such a case, will therefore be denied. State ex rel. Sohl v. Preble, 20 Nev. 44 (14 P. 586).

3209. Two-million-acre grant.

SEC. 14. All lands which have been or shall be selected under the two-million-acre grant of June sixteenth, eighteen hundred and eighty, may be sold in tracts equal to six hundred and forty acres to each applicant, notwithstanding such applicant may have heretofore purchased, or may hereafter purchase, three hundred and twenty acres of the state, selected under other grants of land to the state. No lands shall be sold in tracts less than the smallest legal subdivision. As amended, Stats. 1889, 128.

The fact that the equitable owner of the land permitted a number of years to elapse without taking action which he might have taken to obtain a legal title, does not prevent him, when sued for the land, from setting up his equity in defense of his possession. Dutertre v. Shallenberger, 21 Nev. 507, 515 (34 P. 449).

3210. Register to select.

SEC. 15. It is hereby made the duty of the state land register to select as portions of the several grants of land to this state all lands for which money has been deposited under the provisions of this act. As amended, Stats. 1889, 128.

3211. Patent to land from state.

SEC. 16. The title of the state to any lands sold under the provisions of this act shall be conveyed by patent, free of charge, to the applicant, and none other, except as may be otherwise ordered by a competent court having jurisdiction. All patents shall be in such form as the attorney-general and land register shall jointly prescribe, to be prepared by the land register, signed by the governor, and shall have the great seal of the state affixed by the secretary of state, and shall be countersigned by the register. The secretary of state and state land register shall each keep a record of patents issued. As amended, Stats. 1889, 128.

Mineral land reserved, sec. 2457.

[Sec. 17 superseded by various salary acts.]

3212. Selections erroneously made.

SEC. 18. The state land register is hereby authorized to withdraw from the local and general land offices of the United States all selections of lands that have been or may be erroneously made, at any time before such lands have been listed and approved to the state by the department of the interior. And the governor is hereby authorized to reconvey, by deeds of relinquishment, all lands that have been or may hereafter be erroneously listed as approved to the state, in such form as the secretary of the interior may prescribe. Such deeds of relinquishment shall be duly attested by the secretary of state, under the seal of his office, and be countersigned by the register of the state land office; provided, that in no case shall any selections of lands be withdrawn, or deed of relinquishment executed, so long as there shall be any existing contract or patent for the same, or any pending litigation respecting the right of title of the state to such lands. Nor in any case shall such lands be conveyed or relinquished, when the same were subject to selection, or where the state's title to such land is valid. When such deeds shall have been executed they shall be forwarded to the commissioner of the general land office at Washington, D. C. The state land register shall, immediately after forwarding such deeds to the general land office, deduct the number of acres thus reconveyed from the amount of lands charged to the state under her grants from the United States. As amended, Stats. 1887, 46; 1889, 128.

3213. Seal of state land office.

SEC. 19. The impression of the seal of the state land office upon the original or copy of any paper, plat, map, or document emanating from such office, shall impart verity to the same, and such paper, plat, map, or document bearing the impression of such seal, shall be admitted as evidence in any court in this state, and the use of such seal by the state land register is hereby authorized.

The affidavits and declaratory statements of entrymen applying to preempt public lands, filed in the proper land office, or copies thereof certified thereto by the register of the land office wherein the originals are filed, are admissible as evidence of the facts therein stated. Peers v. Deluchi, 21 Nev. 164 (26 P. 228).

A certificate of the register of the land office containing a copy of all the entries, as to preemption, settlement, payment of purchase money, and issuance of patent, that appeared in the books of the land office, in relation to the lands in question, is competent evidence of the facts intended to be proven thereby. Brown v. Warren, 16 Nev. 229.

3214. Investment of funds.

SEC. 20. All funds derived from the sale of lands under this act shall be invested in interest-bearing bonds of this state or of the United States, as required by section 3, article 11, of the constitution of this state. The proceeds of the sale of lands donated to this state by act of Congress of July second, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, shall be invested by the board of regents, and the proceeds of other lands herein referred to, whenever the sum of five thousand dollars shall have been paid into the state school fund, shall be invested as directed by law.

See sec. 355.

3215. Board of examiners to allow claims.

SEC. 21. All claims and accounts for services, or for expenses authorized by and legitimately incurred in carrying out any of the provisions of this act, except the salaries of the register and his deputy, shall be presented by itemized bills to the state board of examiners; and when any such claim shall be allowed by said board, they shall indorse thereon their approval of the same, and direct out of what fund or funds the claim so allowed shall be paid. Payment of all such allowed bills shall be made from appropriations made by law of moneys arising from sales of lands under this act. As amended, Stats. 1889, 129.

3216. Acts repealed.

SEC. 22. An act entitled "An act to provide for the selection and sale of lands that have been or may hereafter be granted by the United States to the State of Nevada," approved March fifth, eighteen hundred and seventy-three, p. 120; also, an act supplementary to the foregoing, approved March seventh, eighteen hundred and eighty-one, p. 162; also, an act to amend an act entitled "An act fixing the price of lands within the limits of the Central Pacific Railroad grant," etc., approved February nineteenth, eighteen hundred and eighty-three, p. 42; also, an act in relation to the sale of certain lands granted by the United States to the State of Nevada, approved March first, eighteen hundred and eighty-three, p. 103; and all other acts and parts of acts, so far only as in conflict with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed; provided, that such repeal shall not divest any parties of any rights heretofore acquired under any of said acts referred to.

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act supplemental to an act entitled 'An act to provide for the selection and sale of lands that have been or may hereafter be granted by the United States to the State of Nevada,' approved March 12, 1885, as amended February 1, 1887, as amended February 9, 1887, as amended March 3, 1887, as amended March 5, 1887; as amended March 5, 1887, as amended March 11, 1889, as amended March 11, 1889, as amended March 21, 1891, as amended February 28, 1893, as amended March 10, 1897, as amended March 18, 1899," approved March 13, 1903.

Approved March 17, 1905, 110

3217. When claimant abandons—When neither party prosecutes.

SECTION 1. Any applicant for lands in the State of Nevada, who is now a contestant or party to any suit in the courts of this state involving the right to purchase the lands so applied for, and who fails to prosecute with due diligence the suit or suits so instituted, within one year after the approval of this act, shall be deemed as having abandoned his or her right in said land or lands, and the opposing or adverse applicant or claimant shall be entitled to complete and purchase and receive a patent or patents therefor. Where neither party to the suit or contest prosecutes the suit with due diligence within the time required by the provisions of this act, the suit shall be dismissed by the court before which such suit is pending, upon the request of any citizen of the state, and upon the payment to the clerk of said court by the party making such request, of all court costs, it shall be the duty of the clerk of the court to immediately notify the state land register of the dismissal of such suit, and upon the receipt of such notification, the state land register shall declare the land and money paid therefor forfeited to the state, and the land shall be open to entry. As amended, Stats. 1905, 205.

3218. Land and money forfeited to state, when.

SEC. 2. Where the contest papers certified from the state land office have not been filed, then the certificate of the clerk that no suit is pending before said court affecting said contest or contests, shall operate and have the same force and effect as the certificate of dismissal in cases where suits are pending and the contest papers have been filed, and upon receipt of such certificate of no suit pending the state land register shall declare the land and money paid therefor forfeited to the state, and the land shall be open to entry.

An Act to provide for the advertising of certain unapproved lands, fixing the charge therefor, and providing for the expense of affidavits.

Approved March 9, 1899, 59

3219. Relating to advertising of certain unapproved lands—Applicant to bear actual expenses.

SECTION 1. All applicants for the purchase of land not approved to the state at the time of making application, shall deposit with the state land register, in addition to the amount of fees required for selecting the same in the United States local land office, the amount of fees required for advertising such selection, if the land so selected, or any part thereof, be situated within a township containing any mineral entry, claim or location, said advertising fees or charges, when a daily newspaper is designated, not to exceed seven dollars for each ten lines of space for sixty-one consecutive day's publication, and where a weekly newspaper is designated as the medium of publication, five dollars for the same space of ten lines, for ten consecutive publications. The applicant in every instance shall also bear the actual expense of all non-mineral affidavits required by law, or by the regulations of the United States general land office.

An Act to provide for determining the rights of applicants who simultaneously apply to purchase the same lands from the State of Nevada.

Approved March 21, 1891, 103

3220. Board of awards, how organized.

SECTION 1. A board is hereby created which shall be known as the board of award of the State of Nevada, and shall consist of the state controller, state treasurer and state land register. Said board shall organize by electing from their number a chairman and secretary. All meetings shall be held at the state capitol. A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum.

3221. Powers and duties of—Simultaneous applications.

SEC. 2. The powers and duties of said board shall be: First—To prescribe rules in accordance with law, for their own government and the transaction of business. Second—To receive bids and determine the rights of all applicants who may have simultaneously applied to purchase the same lands from the State of Nevada.

See secs. 3198-3208.

An Act relating to contracts and patents for state lands, and matters pertaining thereto.

Approved March 24, 1911, 355

3222. Contracts, how renewed—How patent rights inure.

SECTION 1. All contracts made by the State of Nevada for the sale of lands may be renewed as now provided by law by the contractor, or by his or her successor in interest, or by the holder of or claimant under the original contract, or by the agent of such contractor, successor in interest, holder or claimant, regardless of whether the original contractor be living or dead; but, unless otherwise ordered by a court of competent jurisdiction, such new contract shall be made only in the name of the original contractor, and it shall be sufficient if the same be signed by such successor in interest, holder, claimant or agent. All rights under any new or renewed state land contract, by whomsoever heretofore or hereafter made, and regardless of whether the original contractor be or may have been living or dead at the time of the making thereof, and all rights under any patent issued under any new contract in the name of the original contractor, whether he be or may have been living or not at the time of the making of the contract or the issuance of the patent, shall inure to and become vested in him or her or in his or her heirs, devisees, assignees in interest, or other legal representatives, the same as if such contract had been renewed by the original contractor or such patent had been issued during the life of such deceased contractor.

An Act relating to the issuing and effect of patents for state lands.

Approved March 16, 1903, 179

3223. Issuance of patent in name of deceased applicant—Effect.

SECTION 1. In case of the death of the applicant for any state lands, upon payment and compliance with the law by his heirs, devisees or assignees, patents for such lands shall issue in pursuance of any statute of this state in his name the same as if he were living, without requiring any order of court, and when so issued the title to the lands designated in these patents, and the title to lands embraced in any patent heretofore issued after the death of the applicant, shall inure to, and become vested in, the heirs, devisees or assignees of the deceased patentee as if the patent had issued to the deceased person during life.

An Act defining the rights of applicants for and contractors to purchase land from the State of Nevada, and providing for maintaining certain actions concerning such land.

Approved March 5, 1887, 124

3224. Right to exclusive possession.

SECTION 1. Every person who has applied to the State of Nevada to purchase any land from it, or who has contracted with the State of Nevada for such purchase, or who may hereafter apply to or contract with the State of Nevada, in good faith, for the purchase of any of its public land, and who has paid, or shall pay to the proper state officers, the amount of money requisite under such application or contract, shall be deemed and held to have the right to the exclusive possession of the land described in such application or contract; provided, no actual adverse possession thereof existed in another at the date of the application.

Regarding possessory actions to public lands, see secs. 5349-5356.

3225. May defend action.

SEC. 2. Every person who has contracted with the State of Nevada, in good faith, to purchase any land from it, shall be entitled to maintain or defend any action at law or in equity concerning said land or its possession, which may now be maintained or defended by persons who own land in fee, and every person who has applied or may hereafter apply to the State of Nevada, in good faith, to purchase any land from it, and has paid or shall pay the amount of money which may be required under such application, to the proper state officer, shall be deemed and held to have the right to the exclusive possession of such land, and shall be entitled to maintain and defend any action at law or in equity, concerning such land or the possession thereof, which may now be maintained or defended by persons who own land in fee; provided, no actual adverse possession of such land existed in another at the date of such application.

3226. Prospector may enter and work mine.

SEC. 3. Nothing in this act contained shall be so construed as to prevent any person or persons from entering upon such lands for the purpose of prospecting for any of the precious metals, or to prevent the free and economical working of any mine which may be discovered therein.

See secs. 2456, 2458, 2459.

One taking a patent to state lands, containing above reservation, acquired no interest in a mine located after his application was filed, and before the patent issued, notwithstanding that the selection by the state under the grant by the government determined that the lands were agricultural and nonmineral, within the meaning of the grant. Stanley v. Mineral Union, Limited, 26 Nev. 55, 65, 66 (63 P. 59).

Previous acts in regard to public lands have been cited as follows:

Act of 1865, 173: Cited, O'Neale v. Cleveland, 3 Nev. 491.

Act of 1867, 57: See citation from Heydenfeldt v. Daney G. & S. M. Co., under sec. 215.

This state, in accepting the grant, unequivocally consented to the reservation by Congress of the mineral lands, and accepted the grant with all the conditions and reservations contained in the act of Congress. Heydenfeldt v. Daney G. & S. M. Co., 10 Nev. 291, 311-319.

If the state had a vested title to the mineral lands contained in the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections, by this act, it relinquished its right thereto, and thereby agreed to accept other lands in lieu thereof; the passage of this act was a recognition by the legislature of the validity of the claim made by the United States to the mineral lands. Idem.

Where plaintiff claims title under patent issued by the state under virtue of a statute authorizing the conveyance of lands granted by enabling act: Held, that the title of the state to the land so conveyed was, at the time of the survey thereof, subject to the terms and conditions imposed by this act; and as the said land was then rich in minerals, and was in possession of defendant for mining purposes, the plaintiff acquired no title thereto by virtue of the patent. Idem.

This act applies to all grants made by Congress where the lands granted had not been surveyed, and includes the grant mentioned in the enabling act. Idem.

The word "public," as used in this act, is applied to all unsurveyed lands, whether the same had been previously granted or not, and is used to distinguish the unsurveyed from the surveyed and segregated lands, where the rights of private proprietorship have attached. Idem.

No patent can be issued in the name of any person who has already purchased from the state 320 acres of land. State ex rel. Faris v. Hatch, 15 Nev. 304, 306.

Act of 1867, 165: By this act, an intention was manifested by the state to sell such public lands as the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections, vested in it without selection, as well as the lands it was authorized to select. State ex rel. Wall v. Blasdel, 4 Nev. 241.

The board of regents, under this act, were authorized to fix the price of public land in but one instance, and that was when the lands had previously been selected in lieu of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections. Idem.

Under this act the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections belonging to the state, which were not applied for by actual settlers within six months after its passage, became subject to entry at the minimum price. Idem.

Section 6 of this act refers only to such lands as are selected by the state as provided in sections 4 and 5 of the act and not to the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections, which vest in the state without selection. Idem.

Under sec. 6 of this act a settler on public land selected for the state has for six months after selection a preferred right to purchase at the minimum price, notwithstanding the fact that more may have been offered by one not the first occupant. Idem.

Where occupants of public land erected fixtures, consisting of a sawmill, thereon, but failed to take any steps to acquire the title to the same, and afterward the land was selected by the state, and (not being applied for by the occupants within six months) was duly sold and patented to other parties, subsequent to which the occupants removed the mill, it was held that they were trespassers and liable in damages for such removal. Treadway v. Sharon, 7 Nev. 38, 47, 48.

In a suit against the sureties of the state treasurer for the loss of "special deposits" paid in under this act, the measure of damages is the amount of the deposits, unless a nonapproval of the land locations for which the deposits were made, or an actual repayment to or release by the depositor or something equivalent thereto, is shown in mitigation. State v. Rhoades, 7 Nev. 435, 439, 441.

"Occupant" and "party in possession" are not strictly synonymous. Occupant means one dwelling upon and occupying a part of a tract of land; it does not necessarily imply that the party is in possession of the whole. O'Neale v. Cleveland, 3 Nev. 485, 489, 491.

Parties who become occupants before selection of lands afterwards selected in lieu of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections, are entitled at their option to buy the same at $1.25 per acre; although they may have previously purchased the land warrants to locate the same lands. Idem.

Section 7 was not intended to prohibit the judge from hearing such testimony where convenient to himself and preferable to the parties. O'Neale v. Cleveland, 3 Nev. 486, 493, 495.

Section 11, if construed by itself would be held to confer a preferred privilege on the occupant who purchased the entire sixteenth or thirty-sixth section upon which he might have an occupancy; but taken in connection with other sections it is clear that the legislature only intended to give this preferred right to the extent either of 160 or 320 acres. O'Neale v. Cleveland, 3 Nev. 485, 491-495.

Lands selected in lieu of sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections are to be disposed of in accordance with the provisions of this section and section 21 of this act. O'Neale v. Cleveland, 3 Nev. 485, 494, 495.

Section 12 was intended by the legislature to give a preferred right to the actual occupant. But the extent of that preferred right not being shown in this section, we have to resort to section 11 and other portions of the act to ascertain the quantity or extent of land to be affected by this preferred right. That quantity cannot be less than 160 acres. Idem.

This section gave first a preferred right to the actual occupant. Next, if no claim was asserted by an actual occupant, then to any person who had applied to locate a land warrant on lands selected in lieu of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections.

Section 21, taken in connection with other portions of the act indicates: First, that an occupant shall have a preferred right of purchase over all other persons; second, that rights shall be limited in quantity to 160 or 320 acres; third, actual occupancy of any portion of the section would give a preferred right to at least 160 if not to 320 acres; fourth, the purchase should be within the time limited to other preferred purchases. O'Neale v. Cleveland, 3 Nev. 485.

Act of 1871, 135: Cited, Shoemaker v. Hatch, 13 Nev. 264.

No patent can be issued in the name of any person who has already purchased from the state 320 acres of land. State ex rel. Faris v. Hatch, 13 Nev. 304, 306, 307.

Cases of contest for public land under this act, being governed by the practice act as far as applicable, a statement for motion on new trial in such case, which contains no specifications of error, is insufficient. Neil v. Wynecoop, 9 Nev. 46, 47.

Act of 1873, 120: Where a party has a contract of purchase from the state, he has the beneficial estate or interest as well as the possession, and as such equitable owner and actual possessor is entitled to enjoy all the incidents to the land and its ownership as well as to the land itself. Barnes v. Sabron, 10 Nev. 218, 228.

In construing this act it was held that no patent can be issued in the name of any person who has already purchased from the state 320 acres of land. State ex rel. Faris v. Hatch, 15 Nev. 304, 307.

Where there is but one applicant claiming a preferred right to purchase land under this act, the register should proceed at once and enter into a contract with the applicant, providing his claim presents a prima facie case and was filed within the time provided by law; and his duty in this respect, being ministerial, may be enforced by mandamus. State ex rel. Springer v. Preble, 20 Nev. 38-44 (14 P. 584).

A claimant of a preferred right need not set forth in his application the facts upon which his occupancy or possession is based, so as to enable the register to determine therefrom whether the applicant possesses the requisite qualifications prescribed by statute. Idem.

Contests for public land are governed by the provisions of the practice act so far as applicable. Burbank v. Rivers, 20 Nev. 81-83 (16 P. 430).

The method of taking appeals, and the questions to be considered thereunder by the appellate court, are matters of purely statutory regulations. Idem.

Act of 1881, 115: Under this act an applicant claiming a preferred right of purchase is not limited to 320 acres, but is entitled to 640 acres. State ex rel. Springer v. Preble, 20 Nev. 38-44 (14 P. 584).

PUBLIC LIBRARIES

An Act to provide for free public libraries and other matters relating thereto.

Approved March 16, 1895, 79

3227. On petition, commissioner to levy tax for library fund.
3228. Library trustees, how appointed—Term—No compensation.

3229. Powers of library trustees.
3230. Manner of paying claims.
3231. Library and rooms to be free.

State library, sections 3946-3964.

District school library, sections 3393-3397.

3227. On petition, commissioners to levy tax for library fund.

SECTION 1. Whenever in any county in the State of Nevada a petition or petitions for the establishment of a free public library, certified by the district judge of any judicial district of the State of Nevada as being signed by a majority of the taxpayers or by taxpayers representing a majority of the taxable property, as shown by the last preceding assessment roll of any city, unincorporated town or school district shall be presented to the board of county commissioners of the county in which said city, unincorporated town or school district is situated, accompanied by affidavit of one or more of the signers thereof that the signatures thereto are genuine, the said board of county commissioners shall within ten days after said petition or petitions are so presented levy a tax upon all taxable property of said city, unincorporated town, or school district of not less than five nor more than ten cents on each one hundred dollars valuation of taxable property therein for the purpose of creating a fund to be known as the "Library Fund." And each year thereafter said board of county commissioners at the time and in the manner other taxes are levied shall levy a tax upon said property for said purpose of not more than ten cents on each one hundred dollars valuation thereof. As amended, Stats. 1897, 30; 1901, 37; 1901, 99; 1907, 181.

3228. Library trustees, how appointed—Term—No compensation.

SEC. 2. The state board of education of Nevada, whenever notified that a petition has been presented as provided in section 1 of this act, shall appoint three competent persons who are residents of such city, unincorporated town or school district, to be known as library trustees, who shall hold office for the period of one, two, and three years respectively, and said state board of education shall annually thereafter appoint one library trustee, who shall hold office for the period of three years, and all vacancies which may occur at any time in the said office of library trustee shall be filled by appointment by the said state board of education; said trustees shall serve without compensation, and shall hold office until their successors are appointed and qualified. As amended, Stats. 1901, 38.

3229. Powers of library trustees.

SEC. 3. Said library trustees shall have power to, and shall establish and maintain a library and reading room, make purchases, secure rooms, employ assistants, appoint officers, establish by-laws and regulations, and manage and control the affairs and business of said library; and they and their successors, shall hold and possess the property and effects of said library and reading room in trust for the public and for the purpose of said library and reading room, and may as said library trustees, and for the purpose hereinbefore provided, acquire and hold real estate and personal property, by purchase or bequest, and administer any trust declared or created, for such library or reading room, and may prosecute, maintain or defend any action, in reference to the property or affairs of said library and reading room.

3230. Manner of paying claims.

SEC. 4. All claims for indebtedness incurred or created by said library trustees, shall be audited by a majority of said library trustees, and presented to and acted upon by the board of county commissioners, and paid out of said library fund in the same manner as claims against the county are presented, acted upon and paid. No indebtedness in excess of the amount of money, to be realized in any year from said levy for said library fund, shall be incurred by said library trustees, or allowed by the board of county commissioners, and in no case shall any claim except for library and reading-room purposes, be allowed or paid out of said library fund.

3231. Library and rooms to be free.

SEC. 5. Said library and reading room shall forever be and remain free and accessible to the people of such city, unincorporated town or school district, subject to such reasonable rules and regulations as said library trustees may adopt.

PUBLIC RECORDS

An act empowering all persons to copy or make abstracts or memoranda of all books and records of state and county officers and to utilize the same to supply the general public with copies, abstracts, and memoranda, and to otherwise make use thereof.

Approved March 20, 1911, 290

3232. State and county records may be copied.

SECTION 1. All books and records of the state and county officers of this state shall be open at all times during office hours to inspection by any person, and the same may be fully copied or an abstract or memoranda prepared therefrom, and any copies, abstracts or memoranda taken therefrom may be utilized to supply the general public with copies, abstracts or memoranda of said records or in any other way in which the same may be used to the advantage of the owner thereof or of the general public.

Prior to the passage of this act it was held, under sections 1038, 1039, ante, providing that every conveyance of real estate, and every instrument of writing setting forth an agreement to convey any real estate, or whereby any real estate may be affected, proved, acknowledged, certified, and recorded in the manner presented, "shall from the time of filing the same with the recorder, for record, impart notice to all persons of the contents thereof, and subsequent purchasers and mortgagees shall be deemed to purchase and take with notice," and under other statutes enumerated, as construed in connection with the common law, that a corporation organized for the purpose of furnishing abstracts and guaranteeing titles, may, free of charge, through its agents and employees, during regular business hours, inspect and make memoranda and copies of all the files and records in the office of the county recorder, in so far as they relate to current transactions in which it is authorized or employed to make searches, furnish abstracts, or guarantee titles by persons having, or seeking to acquire, an interest in property; the examination to be made at such times and under such circumstances as will not prevent the recorder or his assistants from discharging their duties, nor interfere with the right of other persons to have access to the records.

Under the laws mentioned, relator has not the right to copy or inspect all records for the purpose of compiling an independent set of abstract books, covering all the property to which the records relate and for use in equipping an office in opposition to the recorder. State ex rel. N. T. G. & T. Co. v. Grimes, 29 Nev. 50, 5 L. R. A. (N. S.) 545, 124 A. S. 883, 84 P. 1061.

PUBLIC SAFETY

An Act to secure persons and animals from danger arising from mining and other excavations.

Approved February 8, 1866, 59

3233. Safeguards to be erected.

3234. Notice of violation of preceding section may be filed—What notice shall state.

3235. Upon filing notice, justice or judge to issue an order.

See chapter 16, Crimes, sections 6561-6591.

See Explosives, sections 1946-1948, 6561-6591.

3233. Safeguards to be erected.

SECTION 1. Any person or persons, company or corporation, who shall hereafter dig, sink, or excavate, or cause the same to be done, or being the owner or owners, or in the possession, under any lease or contract, of any shaft, excavation, or hole, whether used for mining or otherwise, or whether dug, sunk or excavated, for the purpose of mining, to obtain water, or for any other purpose, within this state, shall, during the time they may be employed in digging, sinking, or excavating, or after they may have ceased work upon or abandoned the same, erect, or cause to be erected, good and substantial fences, or other safeguards, and keep the same in good repair, around such works or shafts, sufficient to securely guard against danger to persons and animals, from falling into such shafts or excavations.

This act is not limited to excavation for mining purposes, but requires the guarding of excavations in streets, made for the benefit of abutting owners, rendering them liable for injuries to a traveler because of their failure to comply therewith. Anderson v. Feutsch, 31 Nev. 501 (103 P. 1013, 105 P. 100).

3236. What notice shall require—Liable to fine in addition to judgment.

3237. Suits to be in name of the state.

3238. County commissioners shall fence abandoned excavations—Expenses, how paid.

An excavation in a sidewalk in a traveled thoroughfare is so inherently dangerous that the person making it cannot escape responsibility for injuries to others by having the work done by an independent contractor; he being bound to protect others from injury therefrom. Idem.

3234. Notice of violation of preceding section may be filed—What notice shall state.

SEC. 2. Any person being a resident of the county, and knowing, or having reason to believe, that the provisions of section 1 of this act are being or have been violated within such county, may file a notice with any justice of the peace or police judge therein, which notice shall be in writing, and shall state: First—The location, as near as may be, of the hole, excavation, or shaft. Second—That the same is dangerous to persons or animals, and has been left, or is being worked, contrary to the provisions of this act. Third—The name of the person or persons, company or corporation, who is or are the owners of the same, if known, or if unknown, the persons who were known to be employed therein. Fourth—If abandoned, and no claimant; and, Fifth—The estimated cost of fencing, or otherwise securing the same against any avoidable accidents.

The notice under this section must state that the person or persons proceeded against are the owners, or in possession, of the unguarded well or excavation, in order to give a justice court jurisdiction of the person. Wiggins v. Henderson, 22 Nev. 103-108 (36 P. 459).

3235. Upon filing notice, the justice or judge to issue an order.

SEC. 3. Upon the filing of the notice, as provided for in the preceding section, the justice of the peace, or judge of the police court, shall issue an order, directed to the sheriff of the county, or to any constable or city marshal therein, directing such officer to serve a notice, in manner and form as is prescribed by law for service of summons upon any person or persons, or the authorized agent or agents, of any company or corporation named in the notice on file, as provided in section 2 of this act.

3236. What notice shall require—Liable to fine in addition to judgment.

SEC. 4. The notice thus served shall require the said persons to appear before the justice or judge issuing the same, at a time to be stated therein, not more than ten nor less than three days from the service of said notice, and show, to the satisfaction of the court, that the provisions of this act have been complied with, or if he or they fail to appear, judgment will be entered against him or them for double the amount stated in the notice on file; and all proceedings had therein shall be as prescribed by law in civil cases; and such persons, in addition to any judgment that may be rendered against them, shall be liable and subject to a fine not exceeding the sum of one hundred dollars for each and every violation of the provisions of this act, which judgments and fines shall be adjudged and collected as provided for by law.

But one fine can be imposed on all persons jointly proceeded against under this section. Wiggins v. Henderson, 22 Nev. 103-108 (36 P. 459).

3237. Suits to be in the name of the state.

SEC. 5. Suits commenced under the provisions of this act shall be in the name of the State of Nevada, and all judgments and fines collected shall be paid into the county treasury for county purposes.

3238. County commissioners shall fence abandoned excavations—Expenses, how paid.

SEC. 6. If the notice filed with the justice of the peace, or police judge, as aforesaid, shall state that the excavation, shaft, or hole, has been abandoned, and no person claims the ownership thereof, said justice of the peace, or judge, shall notify the board of county commissioners of the county, or either of them, of the location of the same, and they shall, as soon as possible thereafter, cause the same to be so fenced, or otherwise guarded, as to prevent accidents to persons or animals; and all expenses thus incurred shall be paid first, out of the fines and judgments collected in accordance with the provisions of this act, as other county expenses; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to compel the county commissioners to fill up, fence, or otherwise guard, any shaft, excavation, or hole, unless in their discretion the same may be considered dangerous to persons or animals.

CHAPTER 1

STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION

3239. State board of education—How composed.

3240. Officers of board.

3241. Time of meeting.

3242. Powers and duties of board.

3239. State board of education—How composed.

SECTION 1. The state board of education shall consist of the governor, the superintendent of public instruction and the president of the university.

3240. Officers of board.

SEC. 2. The governor shall be the president, and the superintendent of public instruction the secretary of the board.

3241. Time of meeting.

SEC. 3. The board shall meet at the call of the secretary, but shall hold at least two meetings a year.

3242. Powers and duties of board.

SEC. 4. The powers and duties of the board shall be as follows:

1. To prescribe and cause to be enforced the courses of study for the public schools; provided, that schools of the first class may have modified courses of study, subject to the approval of the state board of education;

2. To adopt lists of books for district libraries; provided, that boards of trustees in districts of the first class may make such adoptions;

3. To revoke or suspend for immoral or unprofessional conduct, evident unfitness for teaching, or persistent defiance of and refusal to obey the laws of the state, or the rules and regulations of the state board or of the state superintendent defining and governing the duties of teachers, any state diploma or any state certificate;

4. To have done by the state printer any printing required by the state board such as state courses of study, the proceedings of the teachers' institutes, blank forms, and such other matter as the state board may require; provided, that text-books are not included in such courses of study;

5. To adopt and use in authentication of its acts an official seal;

6. To keep a record of its proceedings which shall be published biennially in the report of the superintendent of public instruction;

7. To designate some monthly school journal as the official organ of the department of education. The publishers of such journal shall mail one copy of every number of such journal to the clerk of every school district in the state and shall file an affidavit with the superintendent of public instruction showing that such copies have been so mailed. The county treasurer of every county before notifying the superintendent of public instruction of the county fund to be apportioned in the July apportionment shall set aside an amount equal to one dollar for each and every school district of the county and this fund shall be known as the school journal fund. The amount certified to the superintendent of public instruction for apportionment shall not include the school journal fund so set aside. The superintendent of public instruction shall draw his orders annually in favor of the publishers of such school journal for an amount equal to one dollar for each and every school district in each county to which the school journal has been sent in accordance with this section, to be paid out of the school journal fund, and the county auditor shall immediately draw his warrant, in favor of the publishers of such journal, for an amount equal to that named in aforesaid order to be paid out of the school journal fund.

CHAPTER 2SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

3243. Election of superintendent of public instruction 3244. Duties of said officer.

3243. Election of superintendent of public instruction.

SEC. 5. The superintendent of public instruction shall be elected quadrennially by the qualified electors of the state at the same time and in the same manner as the governor is elected and shall hold office for the term of four years from the first Monday in January next after the election, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

Under the act of 1865, 413, sec. 9, it was held that hotel bills incurred by the superintendent of public instruction, while staying at a place for the purpose of visiting schools, are not a portion of the "actual traveling expenses" which are to be allowed and paid to that officer. State ex rel. Cutting v. La Grave, 23 Nev. 88, 90, 91 (42 P. 797).

Under the act of 1891, 32, it was held that the superintendent of public instruction was not entitled to receive any of the compensation attaching in solido to the four ex officio offices. State ex rel. Cutting v. La Grave, 23 Nev. 120, 123 (43 P. 470).

3244. Duties of said officer.

SEC. 6. The superintendent of public instruction shall have power and it shall be his duty:

1. To visit each county in the state at least once each year for the purpose of conducting institutes, visiting schools, consulting with school officers, and addressing public assemblies on subjects pertaining to the schools; and the necessary traveling expenses incurred by the superintendent in performance of such duties, such traveling expenses to include the cost of transportation and board while absent from his place of residence, shall be allowed, audited and paid out of the general fund, in the same manner as claims upon said fund are now allowed, audited, and paid; provided, that the sum so expended in any one year shall not exceed one thousand dollars;

2. To apportion the state distributive school fund;

3. To apportion the county school fund of each county among its various districts;

4. To report to the governor biennially, on or before the first day of December of the years preceding the regular session of the legislature. The governor shall transmit said report to the legislature; and whenever it is ordered published the state printer shall deliver a sufficient number of copies to the superintendent, who shall distribute the same among school officers of the state and of the United States. Said report shall contain a full statement of the condition of public instruction in the state; a statement of the condition and amount of all funds and property appropriated to the purpose of education, the number and grade of schools in each county; the number of children in each county between the ages of six and eighteen years of age; the number of such attending public schools; the number attending private schools; the number attending no schools; the number under six years of age; the number between eighteen and twenty-one years of age; the amount of public-school moneys apportioned to each county; the amount of money raised by county taxation, district tax, subscription or otherwise, by any city, town, district, or county, for the support of schools therein; the amount of money raised for building schoolhouses; a statement of plans for the management and improvement of public schools; and such other information relative to the educational interests of the state as he may think of importance;

5. To prescribe suitable rules and regulations for making all reports and conducting all necessary proceedings under this act and to furnish suitable blank forms for the same; to cause the same, with such instructions as he shall deem necessary and proper for the organization and government of schools, to be transmitted to the local school officers, who shall be governed in accordance therewith. He shall prepare a convenient form of school register for the purpose of securing accurate returns from the teachers of public schools, and shall furnish each school district in the state with such registers. He shall prepare pamphlet copies of the school law and all amendments thereto, and shall transmit a copy thereof to each school trustee, school census marshal, and school teacher in the state;

6. To convene a state teachers' institute biennially in the even-numbered years in such place and at such time as he may deem advisable. It shall be his further duty to convene five district teachers' institutes in the various sections of the state biennially in the odd-numbered years in such places and at such times as he may deem advisable. He shall engage such institute lecturers and teachers as he shall deem advisable, and shall preside over and regulate the exercises of all state and district institutes. No institute shall continue less than four nor more than ten days. The expenses incurred in holding such institute shall be paid out of the state general fund; provided, that the amount for the state institute shall not exceed five hundred dollars nor the amount of any one district institute two hundred and fifty dollars and the state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrants for the same upon the order of the superintendent of public instruction. All teachers shall be required to attend the district institutes held in the supervision districts in which they may be teaching respectively, unless they shall be excused for good cause by the superintendent of public instruction, and without loss of salary for the time thus employed;

7. To call, with the approval of the board of county commissioners, a county teachers' institute in any county at such time and place as in his judgment will best subserve the educational interests of the county, and to preside over and regulate the exercises of the same. The expenses of such institute shall be paid out of the county general fund of the county in which such institute is held; provided, that the board of county commissioners shall authorize such institute upon the application of the superintendent of public instruction; and provided, that such expenses shall not exceed the sum of one hundred dollars. All teachers shall be required to attend any county institute held in the counties in which they shall be teaching respectively, unless excused for good cause by the superintendent of public instruction, and without loss of salary for the time thus employed;

8. To call meetings of the state board of education in January and June of each year, and at such other times as he shall deem proper or when two members of said board shall request a meeting;

9. To nominate deputy superintendents of public instruction for appointment by the state board of education;

10. To perform such other duties relative to the public schools as may be prescribed by law;

11. To have done at the state printing office any printing required in the performance of his duties;

12. To require a written report from each deputy superintendent on the first day of October, the first day of January, the first day of April, and the first day of July of each school year. Such reports shall contain any information or facts that the superintendent of public instruction may require;

13. To arrange blank forms, including school registers, for teachers' contracts, and supply the same to school trustees and teachers;

14. The superintendent of public instruction shall, at the expiration of his term of office, deliver to his successor all property and effects belonging to his office and take a receipt for the same.

| 3249. Duties of deputies. | 3254. Removal of deputies. |

3245. Office of county superintendent abolished.

SEC. 7. The office of county superintendent of public schools either as a separate office or as an ex officio office shall be, and hereby is, abolished for all counties in this state on and after the thirty-first day of August, 1907; provided, that the ex officio county superintendent shall make the reports for the school year ending on the thirty-first day of August, 1907.

Cited, State ex rel. Daggett v. Collins, 2 Nev. 352.

3246. Educational districts established.

SEC. 8. Five educational supervision districts are hereby established as follows: District Number 1, comprising Elko County; District Number 2, comprising White Pine, Lander, Eureka Counties; District Number 3, comprising Humboldt and Churchill Counties; District Number 4, comprising Washoe, Storey, Ormsby, Douglas, Lyon, and Mineral Counties; District Number 5, comprising Lincoln, Nye, Clark, and Esmeralda Counties.

3247. Supervision districts.

SEC. 9. Upon the nomination of the superintendent of public instruction the state board of education shall, on or before the first Monday in May, 1911, and each fourth year thereafter, appoint one deputy superintendent of public instruction for each supervision district as herein provided for, and such appointee shall, at the time of his appointment and during his term of office, be a bona fide resident of the district for which he is appointed. Such appointee shall take office on the first Monday in September and shall serve for a period of four years, or until his successor shall have been appointed and shall have qualified; provided, that in case any nominee of the state superintendent is unsatisfactory to the board another nomination or nominations shall be made to the satisfaction of the board. In case a vacancy shall occur in the office of deputy superintendent of public instruction, the state board of education shall in like manner make an appointment for the unexpired term. The deputy superintendents of public instruction shall devote their entire time to school supervision and shall not engage in other work while holding this office.

3248. Qualifications of deputies.

SEC. 10. Any person holding a teacher's certificate of high-school grade and who shall have had not less than forty-five months' successful experience in teaching, at least twenty months of which shall have been in the State of Nevada, shall be eligible to appointment as deputy superintendent of public instruction, and no others shall be eligible to such appointment.

3249. Duties of deputies.

SEC. 11. It shall be the duty of each deputy superintendent to visit each school in his district at least twice a year, to examine the records and observe the work of each school carefully, to advise with teachers as to organization, management and teaching, to inspect school buildings, libraries and apparatus, to confer with trustees and county officers as to the condition and needs of their schools, to hold teachers' meetings, to assist at state, district and county institutes, and otherwise advance the educational interests of his district. The deputy superintendent of public instruction shall act as deputy examiner at teachers' examinations, as member of the board of educational examiners and shall assist the state board of education in preparing courses of study. He shall attend the meetings of the state board of education to furnish information pertaining to the schools of his district when said board shall so order.

3250. Powers and duties of deputies.

SEC. 12. Within his supervision district, each deputy superintendent shall have power and it shall be his duty:

1. To file with the county auditor of each county a directory of all teachers who shall be entitled to draw salary from the state or the county funds, and to advise the county auditor from time to time of any changes or additions to such directory, and to file with the county auditor a directory of all qualified school trustees of each county. The county auditor shall not draw any warrant in favor of any teacher until he shall be officially informed by the deputy superintendent that such teacher is legally entitled to receive salary from the state or county school funds;

2. To investigate any claim against any school fund whenever a written protest against the drawing of a warrant in payment of said claim against any school fund shall be filed with the county auditor. If, upon investigation, the deputy superintendent of public instruction shall find that any claim against any school fund is illegal or unreasonably excessive, he shall notify the county auditor and the clerk of the board of trustees who drew the order for such illegal claim, stating the reasons in writing why such order is illegal or excessive, and the county auditor, if so notified, shall not draw his warrant in payment of such claim. If the deputy superintendent of public instruction shall find that any protested claim is legal and actually due the claimant, he shall authorize the county auditor to draw his warrant for such claim, and the county auditor shall immediately draw his warrant in payment of the claim;

3. To suspend the certificate of any teacher for a time not to exceed one year, who fails to attend any district or county institute unless excused for nonattendance by the deputy superintendent;

4. To suspend the certificate of any teacher for any of the causes for which a certificate may be revoked by the state board of education;

5. To inspect the record books and accounts of boards of trustees, and to authorize and enforce an efficient method of keeping the financial records and accounts of the school district;

6. To inspect the school fund accounts of the county auditors of the several counties, and report the condition of the funds of any school district to the trustees thereof;

7. To grade the schools in his supervision district, in the month of July of each year, designating which schools are high schools, and which are elementary schools, and to keep record of such graduation in his office;

8. To appoint school trustees in all districts in which the qualified voters fail to elect.

3251. Compensation of deputies.

SEC. 13. The compensation of each deputy superintendent of public instruction is hereby fixed at two thousand dollars per annum, and shall be paid out of the general fund of the state as the salaries of other state officers are paid. All claims for the traveling expenses, including the cost of transportation and cost of living, of each deputy superintendent of public instruction while absent from their places of residence, together with necessary office expenses, shall be paid from the general fund of the state, whenever such claims shall be allowed by the state board of examiners; provided, that not more than eight hundred dollars shall be paid from the general fund of the state in settlement of claims for such traveling expenses of any deputy superintendent of public instruction during any one year, and not more than three hundred and fifty dollars shall be paid from the general fund of the state in settlement of claims for such office expenses of any deputy superintendent of public instruction for any one year.

3252. Powers of deputies.

SEC. 14. The superintendent of public instruction shall confer upon the deputy superintendents such power and authority to act in his name as he shall deem proper; provided, such power and authority shall be in accordance with the laws of this state.

3253. Rules for deputies.

SEC. 15. The state board of education shall adopt such rules and regulations further defining the powers and duties of the deputy superintendents of public instruction as shall, in its judgment, be needful to secure efficiency and coordination; provided, that such rules and regulations shall be in accordance with the laws of this state.

3254. Removal of deputies.

SEC. 16. The state board of education shall, upon the recommendation of the superintendent of public instruction, have power to remove deputy superintendents of public instruction from office for evident unfitness or for conspicuous failure to perform the duties of said office.

| 3257. Deputy examiners—Compensation. | 3267. Certificates to certain graduates of state normal school. |
| 3258. Regulations regarding questions. | 3268. Other graduates privileged. |
| 3259. Unlawful use of questions. | 3269. Life certificates of other states. |
| 3260. Idem—Penalty for. | 3270. Papers graded by whom. |
| 3261. Grades of certificates. | 3271. Special certificates. |
| 3262. High-school certificates. | 3272. Temporary certificates—Restriction. |
| 3263. Elementary certificate, first grade. | 3273. Age limit. |
| 3264. Elementary certificate, second grade. | |

3255. Certificates of teachers.

SEC. 17. All teachers' certificates and diplomas, except temporary certificates, shall be granted by the state board of education, and the state board of education shall grant only those classes and grades described in this act; provided, that the deputy superintendents of public instruction may issue temporary certificates; provided, further, that all teachers' certificates previously issued by legally constituted authorities shall remain valid for the time and under the conditions of the original issue unless revoked in accordance with law. In case of the renewal of any grammar-grade certificate now in force an elementary certificate of the first grade shall be issued instead of the grammar-grade certificate.

3256. Examinations, when held.

SEC. 18. Examinations for teachers' certificates shall be held in the several counties in this state semiannually, during the months of June and December of each year; provided, that the interest of the schools shall require such examinations. The state board of education shall give at least sixty days' notice of the time and places of holding the examinations; provided, that the dates of holding the regular semiannual examinations shall be uniform throughout the state and no examination shall continue for more than four days. The state board of education shall make provision for such other examinations at such times and places as in its judgment the public interest may require.

3257. Deputy examiners—Compensation.

SEC. 19. All examinations for teachers' certificates shall be conducted by deputy examiners, who shall act under the authority of the state board of education. It shall be the duty of the deputy examiners to send all examination papers to the superintendent of public instruction without grading them. The deputy superintendents of public instruction shall act as deputy examiners in such counties in their respective districts as shall be designated by the superintendent of public instruction, and the deputy superintendent of public instruction shall appoint in addition a sufficient number of deputy examiners to provide for all the counties of the state; provided, that there shall not be more than two such deputy examiners in any one county. Deputy examiners other than the deputy superintendents of public instruction shall receive a compensation of five dollars a day, to be paid as other claims out of the state general fund. The state board of education shall prescribe such rules and regulations governing examinations as may be needful to secure uniformity and justice.

3258. Regulations regarding questions.

SEC. 20. The questions used for written work in teachers' examinations shall be prepared by the state board of education, and shall be uniform throughout the state. Such examination questions shall be forwarded to the various deputy examiners throughout the state by the superintendent of public instruction, so as to reach their destination immediately before the date set for the examination. Such questions shall be sent under the seal of the state board of education, the questions on each subject being under separate seal, and no questions shall be opened by any deputy examiner or other person, until the day and the hour set for the use of such questions, and this time shall be plainly specified under each seal.

3259. Unlawful use of questions.

SEC. 21. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell or offer for sale, or buy or offer to buy, or to distribute, or to have in his or her possession, except as authorized by this act, any printed or written examination questions prepared for any examination to be held for the purpose of testing the qualifications of persons desiring to be admitted to the practice of any of the professions in this state in which it is required that such person be examined as to their qualifications, or any printed or written examination questions prepared for teachers' examinations for certification of teachers in this state, or of any printed or written examination questions prepared for the final examination of students in any of the schools of this state prior to the time for holding such examination.

3260. Idem—Penalty for.

SEC. 22. Any person selling or offering to sell, buying or offering to buy, distributing or having in his or her possession any such examination questions contrary to section 21 of this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in the sum of not less than $25 nor more than $100, or imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than six months; provided, that the provisions of this act shall not be construed to prevent the proper officials or instructors whose duty it is to conduct the said examination referred to in section 21 of this act from having in their possession printed or written copies of such examination questions; provided, further, that the state printer shall have the care and custody of such examination questions while they are in process of being printed.

3261. Grades of certificates.

SEC. 23. Teachers' certificates in this state shall be:

High school, authorizing the holder thereof to teach in any high school or elementary school in the state;

Elementary, authorizing the holder thereof to teach in any elementary school in the state;

Special, authorizing the holder to teach such special branch or branches of learning, and in such grades as are named in the certificate;

Temporary, authorizing the holder to teach such branches of learning and in such grades and school districts as are named in the certificate.

3262. High-school certificate.

SEC. 24. The high-school certificate shall be valid for four years from the date of issuance and shall be issued upon examination in the following subjects: English grammar, spelling, arithmetic, English literature, general history, history of the United States, civil government, algebra, plane geometry, physics, history and methods of teaching. Any one of the following foreign languages: Latin, French, German, Spanish; and any three of the following additional subjects: Rhetoric, English history, solid geometry, physical geography, chemistry, botany, and zoology; provided, that no high-school certificate on examination shall be issued to any person whose general average is less than ninety per cent; and provided further, that such certificate shall not be issued to any person under twenty years of age. The high-school certificate may be renewed by the state board of education according to such rules and regulations as the board may prescribe.

3263. Elementary certificate, first grade.

SEC. 25. The elementary-school certificate, first grade, shall be valid for three years from the date of issuance, and shall be issued upon examination in the following subjects: Spelling, reading, writing, English grammar, mental arithmetic, written arithmetic, physiology and hygiene, history of the United States, geography, general history, drawing, music, business forms, and theory and methods of teaching; provided, that no such certificate shall be issued on examination to any person whose general average is less than eighty-five per cent or whose grade is less than sixty-five per cent in any one subject. The elementary certificate, first grade, shall not be issued to any person under twenty years of age, nor to any person who has had less than sixteen months of successful experience in teaching. Such certificate may be renewed by the state board of education according to such rules and regulations as the board may prescribe. Any person who shall at any regular examination make a grade of eighty-five per cent or more in any subject or subjects shall receive credit for such subject or subjects toward a first-grade elementary certificate; provided, that no such credits shall be held for a period of more than two years.

3264. Elementary certificate, second grade.

SEC. 26. The elementary certificate, second grade, shall be valid for two years from the date of issuance and shall be issued upon examination in all subjects required for the first-grade elementary certificate; provided, that no second-grade elementary certificate on examination shall be issued to any person whose general average is less than seventy-five per cent or whose grade is less than sixty per cent in any one subject. In no case shall an elementary certificate of the second grade be renewed.

CERTIFICATION

3265. Elementary certificate, third grade.

SEC. 27. The state board of education shall have power, after the regular teachers' examination in December, and before the next regular examination is held, to grant third-grade elementary certificates to applicants who took the December examination, and who are actively engaged in teaching in Nevada; provided, that a third-grade elementary certificate shall entitle the holder to teach in the school in which she was engaged as a teacher at the time of the December examination, and in no other school, for a period not longer than until the next regular examination of teachers; provided, further, that but one third-grade elementary certificate shall be granted to the same person.

3266. Life diplomas.

SEC. 28. The state board of education may grant a life diploma to any resident of the State of Nevada who shall present evidence of having taught successfully and continuously for a period of seventy-two months, thirty-six of which shall have been in the State of Nevada. A life diploma granted under this section shall be of the same grade as the certificate held by the applicant at the time of the application for the diploma and shall entitle the holder thereof to teach in any school in the State of Nevada of a grade corresponding to the grade of the certificate upon which the life diploma was granted; provided, that no life diploma shall be granted upon a nonrenewable certificate.

3267. Certificates to certain graduates of state normal school.

SEC. 29. High-school certificates, good for five years, shall be issued to graduates of the Nevada state normal school, advanced course. First-grade elementary certificates, good for five years, shall be issued to graduates of the Nevada state normal school, elementary course. To the graduates of the Nevada state normal school who hold high-school certificates, the state board of education shall grant a life diploma of high-school grade when said graduates shall have completed at least forty-five months of successful teaching in public schools. To all graduates of the Nevada state normal school who hold a grammar-school certificate, the state board of education shall grant a life diploma of the grammar grade when said graduate shall have completed at least forty-five months of successful instruction in public schools.

3268. Other graduates privileged.

SEC. 30. Graduates of universities, colleges, and normal schools supported by state appropriations, approved by the state board of education, shall be permitted to submit their credentials from such institutions, and to the extent that these credentials give evidence of scholarship and professional preparation they shall be accepted in lieu of examination; provided, that no certificate of the elementary grade shall be granted upon any credentials not equivalent to a diploma of graduation from the Nevada state normal school; and provided further, that no high-school certificate shall be granted upon any credential not equivalent to a diploma of graduation from a science course or the liberal arts course of the University of Nevada, together with the required training in educational subjects.

3269. Life certificates of other states.

SEC. 31. Any teacher holding a life certificate from another state shall be permitted to submit such certificate as evidence of his or her fitness for teaching, and if the state board of education shall be satisfied that the state which issued such certificate maintains a high professional standard, said board may issue a certificate for teaching in this state of such grade as it shall deem proper. Such credentials should be forwarded to the superintendent of public instruction, Carson City, Nevada.

3270. Papers graded, by whom.

SEC. 32. All examination papers for teachers' certificates shall be examined and graded under the authority of the state board of education by the board of educational examiners which shall consist of at least one member of the state board of education, the deputy superintendents of public instruction, and such other persons, not to exceed three in number, as may be appointed by the superintendent of public instruction. The board of educational examiners shall certify the grade of each applicant in each subject to the state board of education. Persons appointed by the superintendent of public instruction as members of the board of educational examiners shall receive compensation at the rate of five dollars a day for the time actually employed in such service, to be paid out of the state general fund in the usual manner.

3271. Special certificates.

SEC. 33. The state board of education shall grant special certificates valid for teaching music, drawing, manual training, penmanship, commercial subjects, kindergarten work, or any specified foreign language, provided that it shall be satisfied that the applicant is qualified to teach such special subject. The board shall determine as to the fitness of the applicant by whatever method shall appear to be most appropriate. Such certificate shall be valid for two years. A special certificate shall entitle the holder to teach only the subject or subjects mentioned in the certificate.

3272. Temporary certificate—Restriction.

SEC. 34. The deputy superintendent of public instruction may, at his discretion, issue temporary certificates without examination; provided, that such certificate shall be issued upon request of the board of school trustees of a school district in this state, and that such certificate shall be valid only in the district from which the request is made, and such certificate shall be valid only until the next teachers' examination held in the county in which such person shall be teaching. If any member of the board of school trustees making the above-mentioned request is a member of the family or a near relative of the applicant, the certificate shall not be granted. Not more than one temporary certificate shall be granted to any one person.

3273. Age limit.

SEC. 35. No certificate authorized by this act shall be issued to any person under eighteen years of age.

CHAPTER 5

POWERS AND DUTIES OF TEACHERS

3274. Teacher must be legally employed.

3276. Form.

3275. School officer may administer oath.

3277. Duties of teacher.

3274. Teacher must be legally employed.

SEC. 36. No teacher shall be entitled to receive any portion of the public school moneys as compensation for services rendered, unless such teacher shall have been legally employed by the board of trustees, nor unless such teacher shall have a certificate issued in accordance with law, in full force and effect at the time such service is rendered, nor unless such teacher shall have made a full and correct report, in the form and manner prescribed by law, to the superintendent of public instruction, and to the board of school trustees.

3275. School officer may administer oath.

SEC. 37. The superintendent of public instruction and the deputy superintendents of public instruction are hereby authorized to administer the oath (or affirmation) to teachers and all other oaths (or affirmations) relating to public schools.

3276. Teachers to take official oath—Form.

SEC. 38. Each and every teacher employed in this state, whose compensation is payable out of the public funds, shall take and subscribe to the oath as prescribed by the fifteenth article of the state constitution before entering upon the discharge of the duties of such teacher. Such oath, when so taken and subscribed to, shall, if that of a teacher in the state university, be filed in the office of the board of regents; if of any other class of teachers, the same shall be filed in the office of the superintendent of public instruction.

The oath is as follows:

I,, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support, protect and defend the constitution and government of the United States, and the constitution and government of the State of Nevada, against all enemies, whether domestic or foreign, and that I will bear true faith, allegiance, and loyalty to the same, any ordinance, resolution or law of any state convention or legislature to the contrary notwithstanding. And further that I will well and faithfully perform all the duties of teacher on which I am about to enter (if an oath); "so help me God"; (if an affirmation) "under the pains and penalties of perjury."

Sworn and subscribed to before me a of the County of and State of Nevada, this day of, Anno Domini 191.....

3277. Duties of teacher.

SEC. 39. Every teacher in the public schools shall:

1. Upon opening school in any school district file with the deputy superintendent of public instruction, a Nevada teachers' certificate entitling the holder to teach the school in the district in which he shall be hired, together with the oath of office, and any other report that the superintendent of public instruction shall require. The deputy superintendent shall acknowledge the receipt of each teacher's certificate and shall make proper record of the same in his office. The teacher's certificate shall remain on file in the office of the deputy superintendent until the teacher's final report shall be received in his office;

2. One week before closing the school, make a final report in the manner and on the blank forms prescribed by the superintendent of public instruction. The final report shall include all required statistics and information for the entire school year, notwithstanding any previous report for a part of the year. The teacher shall make estimates of the statistics and information for the last week in order to close the final report. Upon receipt of the teacher's final report, the deputy superintendent shall, if he approve such report, notify the clerk of the school district from which the report comes that the teacher's final report has been received, and the clerk of the board shall then draw the trustees' order in payment for the teacher's last month's salary. Any trustees' orders drawn in violation of the provisions of this act shall be illegal;

3. Keep record of all scholars attending school in accordance with the registers prescribed by the superintendent of public instruction, and teachers shall make reports of such records at such times and to such persons as the superintendent of public instruction shall designate. All school registers shall be delivered to the board of trustees at the close of every school term;

4. Enforce the state course of study, or the city course of study (as the case may be), the use of the legally authorized text-books, and the rules and regulations prescribed for teachers and schools;

5. Hold pupils to a strict account for their conduct on the way to and from school, on the playground, and during any intermission; provided, however, that no school teacher or principal, or board of trustees, shall expel or suspend any pupil under the age of fourteen years for any cause without first securing the consent of the deputy superintendent of public instruction.

 3288. Preparation of list—Compensation:
 3289. List delivered to inspectors.
 3290. Voting by ballot.
 3291. Ballots, number of—What to contain.
 3292. How to vote.
 3293. Instructions as to voting.
 3294. Not allowed at polls—Misdemeanor—
 Acts prohibited.
 3295. Assistance in marking ballot, when allowed.
 3296. Illegal voting punished.
3297. Candidates to file names with county clerks.
 3298. Duty of election board on completion of count.
 3299. Certificates of election.
 3300. Terms of office.
 3301. Vacancies, how filled.
 3302. Deputy to fill vacancies.
 3303. Meetings of trustees.
 3304. Majority vote to legalize action.
 3305. Powers and duties of trustees.
 3306. Schools to be maintained with equal rights and privileges.
 3307. Clerks to issue warrants.
 3308. Itemized statement of bills.
 3309. Trustees to have no interest in contracts.
 3310. To enforce discipline.
 3311. Trustees vested with necessary power.
 3312. Idem—Teachers.
 3313. County boards of education, power of.

3278. Board of trustees body corporate.

SEC. 40. The trustees of a school district shall constitute a board for such district and such board is hereby created a body corporate.

3279. Property held as corporation.

SEC. 41. All property which is now vested in, or shall hereafter be transferred to the trustees of a district, for the use of schools in the district, shall be held by them as a corporation.

3280. Number of trustees.

SEC. 42. School districts having fifteen hundred or more school children, as shown by the last preceding school census, shall have five trustees; other districts shall have three trustees.

If an office is filled, and the duties appertaining thereto are performed, by an officer de jure, another person, claiming the office under color of title, cannot become an officer de facto. State ex rel. Harris v. Blossom, 19 Nev. 312, 315 (10 P. 430).

3281. Election of trustees.

SEC. 43. An election of school trustees shall be held in each school district of the state on the first Saturday in April, nineteen hundred and ten, and on the same day every two years thereafter. At such elections, three trustees shall be elected in any district having fifteen hundred or more school census children, as shown by the last preceding census, two for four years and one for two years; and two trustees shall be elected in every other district, one for four years and one for two years.

Referring to act of 1885, 111, sec. 2, providing a five-year term for trustees, it was held that this section is in conflict with sec. 379, ante, and is void. State ex rel. Davenport v. Harris, 19 Nev. 222-225 (8 P. 462).

The unconstitutional provision is so inseparably connected with the other provisions as to render all of the act, in relation to the election of school trustees, void. Idem.

Referring to act of 1887, 138, sec. 2, it was held: This section does not authorize a separate May election in cases where parts of school districts are within the same election precincts. State ex rel. Vansickle v. Hansen, 20 Nev. 401, 402 (22 P. 753).

The office of long-term school trustee is separate and distinct from that of short term, and a certificate of appointment which does not state that it is for the long term is insufficient to entitle the appointee to that position. State ex rel. Guinan v. Meder, 22 Nev. 264, 265, 269, 270 (38 P. 668).

An appointment to a public office must be in writing. Idem.

The legislature has power to provide for the manner in which the result of election shall be determined and declared, and their enactment in reference thereto is binding. Idem.

The failure of the election board to canvass the votes and issue a certificate is fatal to the right to hold office. Idem.

3282. Number of, how determined.

SEC. 44. In any school district having for the first time fifteen hundred school census children, as determined after the election of trustees in any year, there shall be elected at the next ensuing school trustee election two trustees for four years and two trustees for two years, to bring such district to the five-trustee basis; and in any district falling below such number, as determined after a school trustee election, there shall be elected at the next ensuing trustee election one trustee for four years, to bring such district to the three-trustee basis.

3283. Election officers, how appointed.

SEC. 45. Three inspectors of election and such other officers as may be necessary, shall be appointed by the school trustees in each district; provided, that respecting all questions that come before said election boards, the inspectors only shall determine the same. If the trustees fail to appoint the election officers, or if they are not present at the time of opening the polls, the electors present may appoint them. All such officers shall serve without compensation; provided, that in school districts of the first class, the inspectors and a clerk of election may be allowed compensation not to exceed four dollars each for services at such election, said compensation to be paid from the district school funds.

If two or more polling-places are kept open in districts of the first class, three inspectors and one clerk shall be appointed for each polling-place, and each such officer shall be allowed compensation not to exceed four dollars.

3284. Notice to be posted—Hours of election.

SEC. 46. Not less than ten days before the election held under the provisions of this act, the trustees in each district shall post notices in three public places in the district, which notices shall specify that there will be an election held at the schoolhouse in such district and the hours between which the polls will be kept open. In districts of the first class the polls shall be kept open between the hours specified by the board of trustees, and in districts of the second class the polls shall be kept open between the hours of 1 o'clock p. m. and 5 o'clock p. m. If the trustees shall have failed to post notices as required by this section, then any three electors of the district may, within five days of the day of election, give notice of such election, which notices shall be sufficient for the election required by this act, and in such case no registration shall be necessary, but all the other provisions of this act shall be enforced; provided, that in districts of the first class as many different polling-places may be kept open as there are schoolhouses in the district, and the trustees may decide in what buildings the election shall be held; but in such cases, the trustees must specify, in the election notice, the particular buildings in which polling-places will be held.

3285. Qualification for voting.

SEC. 47. No person shall be allowed to vote at any school election unless he is a resident of the district and his name appears upon the official registry list of the voting precinct or precincts including the district for the last preceding general election; provided, that any citizen of the United States who shall have resided in this state six months, and in the school district thirty days next preceding the day of election, and whose name is not upon the said official registry list, may apply to the clerk of the board of school trustees, or to a person authorized by the trustees of the district to act as registry agent, not more than eight nor less than five days prior to the day of election to have his name registered.

3286. Registration regulations—Oath.

SEC. 48. It shall be the duty of the clerk of the board of school trustees, or the person appointed by the board of school trustees, as the case may be, to register any qualified voter of the school district who may apply to be registered under the provisions of the preceding section; provided, that if the person applying to be registered be unknown to the registry agent, or his qualifications for voting be unknown, he shall, before having his name registered, be required to subscribe to the following oath: "You do solemnly swear that you are a citizen of the United States; that you are twenty-one years of age; that you will have resided in the state six months and in this school district thirty days next preceeding the day of the school election." False swearing under the provisions of this section shall be deemed perjury and punished as now provided by law.

3287. List of voters.

SEC. 49. No person shall be entitled to vote under the provisions of this act except he be registered as herein provided. The board of school trustees shall prepare or cause to be prepared, or obtain a list, certified or sworn to as being correct, of the names of all persons entitled to vote at the school election as herein provided, which said list shall be completed at least three days prior to the day of election, and shall be under the charge of the clerk of the board of school trustees and subject to the inspection of any qualified voter in the district.

3288. Preparation of list—Compensation.

SEC. 50. The board of school trustees in all districts having a voting population of fifty or more, are authorized to employ a competent person to prepare said list of qualified voters and to pay for the work out of the school fund of the district, in a manner as other claims against the district are allowed and paid, a reasonable sum, not exceeding five cents a name for each qualified voter, providing that the total amount to be allowed shall not exceed fifty dollars. The list so prepared shall be sworn to by the person making the same as correct according to his best knowledge, information and belief.

3289. List delivered to inspectors.

SEC. 51. The list of qualified voters, as hereinbefore described, shall be delivered to the inspectors of election prior to the time of opening the polls on the day of election, and no person shall be entitled to vote at the election whose name is not on said list; provided, that any person whose name is left off said list by mistake, design, accident, or otherwise, may have his name placed thereon by the inspectors of election upon satisfactory proofs being presented of his having previously been registered in accordance with the provisions of this act.

3290. Voting by ballot.

SEC. 52. The voting shall be by ballot, either written or printed, and when two or more trustees are to be elected for different terms, the ballot shall designate such term as "long term" and "short term," respectively.

3291. Ballots, number of—What to contain.

SEC. 53. In all school districts having a voting population of one hundred or over, the board of school trustees shall have printed ballots of uniform size containing the names in alphabetical order, of all persons candidates for the office of school trustee. There shall be twice as many ballots printed as there are voters in the district, and no ballots other than those furnished by the board of school trustees shall be voted.

3292. How to vote.

SEC. 54. A person desiring to vote shall, if his name be upon the registry list as herein provided, receive from the board of election or some member thereof, and from no other person, a ballot upon which he shall designate his choice for trustee or trustees to be elected in the district, by placing a cross thus: X, opposite and to the right of the name of the person for whom he intends to vote.

3293. Instructions as to voting.

SEC. 55. There shall be placed on the ballots, in addition to the names of the candidates, such information as the board of trustees may deem necessary to inform the voter how to mark his ballot, such as: "Place a cross thus: X, opposite and to the right of the name of the candidate for whom you wish to vote," "vote for one," "vote for two," etc.

3294. Not allowed at polls—Misdemeanor—Acts prohibited.

SEC. 56. No person, other than the board of election or a police officer in the discharge of his duty, shall be allowed within one hundred feet of the polls, except when actually engaged in voting or in going to or from the polls for the purpose of voting or of challenging the vote of another, and excepting all persons in attendance upon any school which may be in session in the building. No person shall show his ballot to another while marking it or after marking it so as to disclose for whom he has voted, but he shall, as soon as possible after marking it, fold it so that the marking will be on the inside and return it to the board of election to be counted. Wilful violation of any of the provisions of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not exceeding fifty dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding twenty-five days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

3295. Assistance in marking ballot, when allowed.

SEC. 57. No person shall receive assistance in marking his ballot unless physically unable to mark it and then only by permission of the board of election. A voter spoiling his ballot may procure another by delivering the spoiled ballot to the board of election.

3296. Challenge—Illegal voting punished.

SEC. 58. Any registered person offering to vote may be challenged by any elector of the district, and the judges of election must thereupon administer to the person challenged an oath in substance as follows: You do swear that you are a citizen of the United States; that you are twenty-one years of age; that you have resided in this state six months, and in this school district thirty days next preceding this election, and that you have not voted before this day. If he takes the oath prescribed in this section his vote shall be received, otherwise his vote must be rejected. Illegally voting under the provisions of this act shall be punished the same as the law now provides for punishing offenses of this character.

A judge of an election is not authorized to administer the oath of office to a school trustee; the only oath he is authorized to administer is the oath to a voter when challenged. State ex rel. Davenport v. Horton, 19 Nev. 199 (8 P. 171).

In proceedings to determine the right of persons to hold the office of school trustees, it was held that the question of the qualification of trustee cannot be inquired into; that it was enough to show that he had been elected, entered upon and exercised the duties of his office. Idem.

An official oath attached to a certificate of appointment, or indorsed upon the face thereof, is as valid as if indorsed upon the back of the certificate. Idem.

3297. Candidates to file names with county clerk.

SEC. 59. In school districts having a voting population of one hundred (100) or over, candidates for the office of school trustee shall, not later than five days before the day of election, have their names filed with the county clerk of said county, with designation of the term of office for which they are candidates, and no names shall be placed upon the ballots unless filed within the time herein provided.

3298. Duty of election board on completion of count.

SEC. 60. The board of election in districts of the first class shall keep a poll-list and tally-sheet, which, together with the registry list and all ballots cast, shall be delivered to the county clerk upon the count being completed, and such returns shall be kept as the law now provides for keeping returns of general elections; but in districts of the second class, said poll-list, tally-sheet; registry list and all ballots cast, upon the count being completed, shall be delivered to the deputy superintendent of public instruction and kept on file in his office. After the completion of the count at each polling-place in districts of the first class using more than one polling-place, the election board of each polling-place shall meet at a place designated by the board of trustees and there summarize all votes cast in the district and make out the election certificates.

3299. Certificates of election.

SEC. 61. The election board shall issue certificates of election to those receiving the greatest number of votes cast in accordance with the provisions of this act, specifying the number of years for which each is elected; and the election board shall immediately send by mail a copy of each election certificate to the deputy superintendent of public instruction.

3300. Terms of office.

SEC. 62. Trustees elected under this act shall take office on the first Monday in May following their election.

3301. Vacancies, how filled.

SEC. 63. On the fourth Saturday after the occurrence of any vacancy or vacancies in any board of school trustees, an election may be held to elect a trustee or trustees for the remainder of the unexpired term or terms. Such elections shall be conducted in accordance with the law now in effect for the election of public school trustees; provided, that the remaining members or member of the board may serve as a full board for the purpose of making all required preliminary arrangements for conducting said elections to fill said vacancies.

3302. Deputy to fill vacancies.

SEC. 64. In case the voters fail to elect, or in case no election is held, as provided in the preceding section, the deputy superintendent shall fill all vacancies occurring in said board of trustees.

3303. Meetings of trustees.

SEC. 65. It shall be the duty of the board of trustees, a majority of whom shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, to meet on the first Monday in May following their election, or as soon as practicable thereafter, after taking the oath of office, at such place as may be most convenient in the district, and to organize by electing one of their number president of the board and another as clerk. It shall be the duty of the president to preside at the meetings of the board. It shall be the duty of the clerk to record the proceedings of the board in a book to be provided for the purpose; and all such proceedings, when so recorded, shall be signed by said clerk. Said book shall at all times be subject to the inspection of the deputy superintendent of public instruction and of any taxpayer in the district. In districts having a school census population of three hundred or more and not exceeding one thousand the clerk of the board of trustees may receive such salary as said board may allow; provided, that such salary shall not exceed ten dollars per month; provided, that in districts having a school census population of one thousand or more the clerk of the board of trustees shall receive not to exceed fifty dollars.

See State ex rel. Davenport v. Horton, under sec. 58 of this act.

3304. Majority vote to legalize action.

SEC. 66. No action of the board of school trustees in any school district shall be valid unless such action shall receive the approval of a majority of the members of such board at a regularly called meeting. The clerk of the board shall give notice of each meeting to each member of the board of school trustees, specifying the time, place and purpose of each meeting; provided, that if all members of such board are present at such meeting the lack of such notification shall not invalidate its proceedings.

In all school districts in which there are not less than three hundred school census children, as shown by the last preceding school census report, the board of school trustees shall hold a regular meeting at least once each month, at such time and place as it shall determine, and public notice of such meeting shall be given in one or more newspapers published in such district; provided, that such notices can be published without cost to the district.

3305. Powers and duties of trustees.

SEC. 67. School trustees shall have the power and it shall be their duty:

1. To buy or sell any schoolhouse or schoolhouse site directed to be bought or sold by a vote of the heads of families of the district; provided, that in districts in which there shall be fewer than ten such heads of families, no schoolhouse or schoolhouse site shall be sold without the approval of the deputy superintendent of public instruction;

2. To build, purchase, or rent schoolhouses when directed to do so by a vote of the heads of families, and to equip and supply the same with all things necessary for the successful operation of the schools of the district. The trustees, without such vote, shall make necessary repairs on any school buildings when the expense of such repairs will not exceed five hundred dollars; provided, that in districts of the first class the trustees may make all necessary repairs without a vote of the electors. No public schoolhouse shall be erected in any school district until the plan of the same has been submitted to and approved by the deputy superintendent of public instruction. The county auditor shall draw no warrant in payment of any bill for the erection of such new schoolhouse until notified by the deputy superintendent of public instruction that the plans for the said new schoolhouse have received his approval;

3. To change the location of schools or schoolhouse sites; provided, that in districts in which there shall be fewer than ten heads of families, no school or schoolhouse site shall be changed without the approval of the deputy superintendent of public instruction;

4. To call meetings of the heads of families of the school district in order to secure by vote the authority to procure or sell schoolhouse sites, or to erect, purchase, sell, hire, or rent schoolhouses for the use of the district. Whenever the trustees shall decide to hold such meeting, they shall give at least ten days' notice by posting at least three notices of such meeting in three conspicuous places within the district. One of such notices shall be posted on the school grounds. The notices shall contain the time, place, and purpose of the meeting. The president of the board shall call such meeting to order and shall preside over the deliberations of the same. The clerk of the board shall keep a record of the proceedings of such meeting in a book kept especially for that purpose. In case of the absence of either the president or the clerk of the board at such meeting, the heads of families assembled shall proceed to elect a president pro tem. and a temporary clerk. All questions placed before the meeting shall be determined by ballot or by taking the "ayes" and "noes" as the meeting shall decide;

5. To manage and control the school property within their districts, and pay all moneys collected by them, from any source whatever, for school purposes, into the county treasury, to be placed to the credit of the county fund of their district;

6. To cause to be erected at least two suitable and convenient privies for each of the schools under their charge, which shall be entirely separate each from the other, and have separate means of access and approaches thereto. In case of failure or neglect on the part of the trustees to provide privies in accordance with the provisions of this section, the deputy superintendent of public instruction shall have power and it shall be his duty to cause such privies to be built, and to pay for the same by drawing his order on the county auditor on the funds of the district, and the auditor shall draw his warrant upon the county treasurer in payment of the same;

7. To prescribe and enforce rules, not inconsistent with law or those prescribed by the state board of education, for their own government and government of schools, and to transact their business at regular or special meetings, called for such purpose, notice of which shall be given each member;

8. To keep the public-school buildings in their charge in such repair as is necessary for the comfort and health of pupils and teachers, and in case of neglect to do so, the deputy superintendent of public instruction shall have power and it shall be his duty to cause such needed repairs to be made, and to pay for the same by drawing his order upon the county auditor on the funds of the district, and the auditor shall draw a warrant upon the county treasurer in payment of the same; provided, that the cost of such repairs shall not exceed fifty dollars;

9. To have the custody and safe keeping of the district schoolhouses, their sites and appurtenances;

10. To insure the schoolhouses, furniture and school apparatus in some company authorized by law to transact business in the State of Nevada, and to comply with the conditions of the policy;

11. To employ legally qualified teachers, to determine the salary to be paid and the length of the term of school for which teachers shall be employed, embodying these conditions in a written contract to be signed by the president and the clerk of the board or by a majority of the trustees and the teacher, and a copy of the said contract properly written shall be delivered to each teacher at the opening of the term of school; provided, that the trustees shall not have the right to employ teachers for any term of service commencing after the time for which any member of the board of trustees was elected. The salaries of teachers shall be determined by the character of the service required, and in no district shall there be any discrimination in the matter of salary as against female teachers; provided, that it shall be unlawful for the board of trustees of any school district to employ any teacher not legally qualified to teach all the grades of the school for which such teacher is engaged to teach;

12. To pay toward the salaries of legally qualified teachers the public moneys apportioned to districts for such purpose by giving them orders therefor on the county auditor;

13. To provide at least six months of free school in the district under their charge. If at any time the deputy superintendent of public instruction shall find that the state and county moneys to which any district is entitled are not sufficient for the completion of a term of school of at least six months during the current school year, he shall immediately certify that fact and information to the clerk of the board of the said district. Upon the receipt of such information, the clerk shall immediately notify the other members of the board, and they shall, as soon as possible thereafter, meet and levy a district tax upon the taxable property of such district sufficient to raise an amount of money which will insure the completion of at least six months of school in that school year. Immediately after the trustees shall have made the levy provided herein, the clerk of the board shall notify the county commissioners and the deputy superintendent of public instruction of its action. The said notice shall contain the statement of the amount of money to be raised by such district tax. The county commissioners shall ascertain the necessary percentage on the property of said district as shown by the last assessment made thereof after equalization, to raise the amount of money voted and they shall add it to the next county tax to be collected on the property aforesaid, and the same shall be paid into the county treasury and shall be added to and become a part of the county fund of that district, and shall be drawn in the same manner as other school moneys.

The tax provided herein shall be assessed, equalized, and collected in the same manner prescribed for assessing, equalizing, and collecting the taxes voted for furnishing additional school facilities in section 141 of this act.

If for any reason the trustees shall fail to provide the necessary funds to insure the completion of at least six months of school in any school year, when notified by the deputy superintendent of public instruction that such action is necessary on their part, as provided in this act, then the deputy superintendent of public instruction shall himself notify the county commissioners and the county auditor of the deficiency in funds for the district in question, and he shall make an estimate of the amount of money necessary to be raised, and the commissioners shall proceed to assess, equalize, and collect this amount as though the trustees themselves had made the levy as provided in this act;

14. To maintain at least eight months of school in the school district during each and every school year; provided, there is sufficient money to the credit of the district to pay the expenses of maintaining the said eight months of school.

Whenever there shall be sufficient money to the credit of any school district to pay the expenses of maintaining a school for eight months in any school year, and the trustees shall for any reason neglect to provide for the said eight months of school, the deputy superintendent of public instruction shall take such steps as may be necessary to prolong and maintain the said school for at least eight months. He shall draw his order on the county auditor and the county auditor shall draw his warrant on the county treasurer in payment of all expenses incurred in prolonging school as provided in this section;

15. To administer all oaths pertaining to teachers, census marshals, and school trustees, whether of the same school district or of any other school district in the State of Nevada; provided, that in districts of the first class, the city superintendent may administer the oath of office to teachers in their respective districts;

16. To provide books for the indigent children, desk text-books for the teachers, and record books for the district, and to pay for the same out of the county school moneys belonging to their district;

17. To divide the public schools within their district into kindergarten, primary, grammar, and high-school departments, and to employ competent and legally qualified teachers for the instruction of the different departments whenever they shall deem such division into departments necessary; provided, that such division into departments shall be in accordance with the state courses of study and all rules and regulations of the department of education; and provided further, that there shall be means for all such departments, and if not, then the division shall be in the order in which they are herein named, excepting the kindergarten department, which shall not be considered as taking precedence over any other department; and provided also, that the kindergarten department shall not be established in any school district having a school census population of less than one hundred;

18. To suspend or expel from any public school within their district, with the advice of the teachers and deputy superintendent of public instruction, any pupil who will not submit to reasonable and ordinary rules of order and discipline therein, and to exclude from school all children under six years of age when the interests of the school requires it to be done; provided, however, that under no circumstances shall any school teacher or principal, or board of trustees be authorized to expel any pupil under the age of fourteen years for any cause without first securing the consent of the deputy superintendent of public instruction;

19. To enforce in schools the course of study and the use of text-books prescribed and adopted by the proper authority;

20. To make, with the approval of the deputy superintendent of public instruction, arrangements with the trustees of any other district for the attendance of such children in the school of either district as may be most convenient, and to transfer the school moneys due by apportionment to such children to the district in which they may attend school. The school trustees of any district may transfer to another district any child, whenever the parent or guardian shall present a written request accompanied by a written permit from the board of school trustees of the other district. Whenever two boards of trustees shall agree upon the transfer of any child, together with the money due such child by apportionment from state and county funds, the trustees of the district from which the child is to be transferred shall draw their order upon the county auditor for the amount equal to the money apportioned to that district at the last preceding apportionment of state and county funds, in favor of the county treasurer of the county in which the district to which the child is to be transferred is located. The county treasurer of such county shall place the amount ordered to be transferred to the credit of the proper fund of the district to which the child is to be transferred, and he shall immediately notify the county auditor of such county that the amount of money so transferred has been placed in the fund of said district; provided, that the amount of money to be transferred in accordance with this section shall consist only of the moneys apportioned to the child, and not any part of the amount of money apportioned to the teacher of the district from which the child is to be transferred;

21. To visit every school in their district at least once in each term, and examine carefully into its management, condition and wants. This clause to apply to each and every member of the board of trustees;

22. To furnish writing and drawing paper, pens, inks, blackboard erasers, crayons, and lead and slate pencils, and other necessary supplies for the use of the schools, and charges therefor must be audited and paid as other claims against the county school fund of their districts are audited and paid;

23. To make an annual report on or before the first day of July, to the deputy superintendent of public instruction in the manner and form and on the blanks prescribed by the superintendent of public instruction;

24. To enforce needful sanitary regulations, to make and enforce such rules for preventing the spread of contagious and infectious diseases as they may deem necessary, and to pay out of the public-school funds any expenses incurred by them in enforcing such regulations and rules among indigent children.

Cited, in dissenting opinion of Bronson, J., State v. First National Bank, 4 Nev. 492, 493.

Section 50 of the act of 1867, 95, in so far as it excludes negroes from the public schools, is unconstitutional. State ex rel. Stoutmeyer v. Duffy, 7 Nev. 342, 345-347, 357-361 (8 A. R. 713).

Where the trustees of a public school refuse to admit a negro, between the ages of six and eighteen, and a resident of the district as a pupil into such school, it was held that an application for mandamus to compel such admission should be granted. Idem.

While school trustees cannot legally deny to any (such as a negro) resident person of proper age an equal participation in the benefits of a common school, it is entirely within their power to send all blacks to one school and all whites to another; or, in other words, to make such classification, whether based on age, sex, race or any other existent condition as may seem to them best. Idem.

3306. Schools to be maintained with equal rights and privileges.

SEC. 68. The boards of school trustees and county boards of education must maintain all the schools established by them for an equal length of time during the year and, as far as practicable, with equal rights and privileges;

2. When in any district it is necessary for the convenience of the residents of said district that the school therein should be maintained a part of the year in one portion of the district, and a part of the year in another portion of the district, the aggregate of the time the school has been maintained in the different portions of the district shall be considered in estimating the time for which a school has been maintained in the district during the school year.

3307. Clerk to issue warrants.

SEC. 69. It shall be the duty of the clerk of the board of school trustees in each district, subject to the direction of said board, to draw all orders for the payment of the moneys belonging to his district, and such orders, when signed by the president and clerk of the board or by a majority of the board of trustees, shall be valid vouchers in the hands of the county auditor for warrants on the county treasurer, to be paid out of the funds belonging to such district; provided, that in school districts having fewer than five trustees, no warrant for the payment of money for a new school building or for repairs or furniture in excess of five hundred dollars shall be issued unless the order shall be approved by the deputy superintendent of public instruction.

3308. Itemized statement of bills.

SEC. 70. All such orders shall be accompanied by an itemized statement of the purpose or purposes for which the order is issued, and such statement shall be kept on file in the office of the county auditor, subject to inspection by the deputy superintendent of public instruction, until ordered to be destroyed by the state board of education. No order for the payment of the money of any district shall be issued by the clerk of such district unless there shall be in the county treasury credited to such district a sum of money equal to the amount for which the order is issued, and available for the purpose of such order. If the clerk of the board of school trustees of any district shall draw any order for the payment of school moneys in violation of the laws of this state, the members of the board of school trustees of such district shall be jointly and severally liable for the amount of such order.

3309. Trustees to have no interest in contracts.

SEC. 71. No trustee shall be pecuniarily interested in any contract made by the board of trustees of which he is a member.

3310. To enforce discipline.

SEC. 72. The school trustees, principals and teachers are hereby given concurrent power with the peace officers for the protection of children in school and on the way to and from school, and for the enforcement of order and discipline among them.

3311. Trustees vested with necessary power.

SEC. 73. The board of school trustees of the respective school districts of the State of Nevada are hereby given such reasonable and necessary powers, not conflicting with the constitution and laws of the State of Nevada as may be requisite to attain the ends for which the public schools are established, and to promote the welfare of school children.

3312. Idem—Teachers.

SEC. 74. The school trustees may direct the principals and teachers employed by them to exercise such powers and authority in the schools as the trustees are invested with under this act.

3313. County boards of education, powers of.

SEC. 75. Under the provisions of this act, county boards of education in control of high schools shall have the same powers as are herein given to school trustees.

| | 3339. Disposal of proceeds. |

3314. One district only in town or city.

SEC. 75. Each village, town, or incorporated city of this state shall constitute but one school district; and the public schools therein shall be under the supervision and control of the trustees thereof.

3315. Classes of school districts.

SEC. 76. All school districts in Nevada are hereby divided into two classes. Districts employing ten or more regular grade teachers shall be known as districts of the first class, and districts employing less than ten teachers shall be known as districts of the second class. The board of school trustees of any district of the first class is hereby authorized to create the office of city superintendent of schools for such district, to define the powers and duties of such superintendent, to elect to said office any person entitled to teach in the high schools of this state, and to fix the salary; provided, that no city superintendent shall be elected for more than one year, unless said city superintendent shall have first served one year acceptably in the district, when said board of trustees is empowered to elect said superintendent for a term not to exceed four years; provided, further, that said superintendent may be dismissed at any time for cause.

3316. New districts, when.

SEC. 77. The boards of county commissioners of the several counties of the state are hereby authorized and empowered to create new school districts from unorganized territory when there shall have been presented to them a certified petition from the parents or guardians of five school census children, which petition shall accurately describe the boundaries of the proposed district, such boundaries to conform, when practicable, with the lines of the government surveys, and the names and ages of all children residing in such proposed district at the date of said petition. The boards of county commissioners may create new districts from a portion or portions of one or more established districts upon the presentation of a similar petition signed by not less than three-fifths of the heads of families and taxpayers of the districts from which the proposed new district is to be taken. They may make changes in the boundaries of districts upon petition of three-fifths of the heads of families and taxpayers of the district or districts to be affected by the change.

When a new school district is organized, school shall be commenced within one hundred and twenty days from the date of the action of the board of county commissioners creating such district and if school shall not be commenced within such time in said district, then such action shall become void and no such district shall exist.

No school district organized under the provisions of this act shall exceed in size sixteen miles square.

3317. But one school, when.

SEC. 78. In any neighborhood or community containing not more than twenty school census children, in which a schoolhouse may be located so that the most distant school census child resides not to exceed three miles therefrom, but one school district shall be created or shall exist; and, in any neighborhood or community in which more than one school district is now organized not in conformity with this act, such districts shall be consolidated, and it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners of the county in which said neighborhood or community is located to organize the territory comprised in said districts into one school district. It shall be the duty of the county auditor and county treasurer to place the funds of the several districts to the credit of the newly organized district, and the deputy superintendent of public instruction shall appoint trustees for said district. In any such neighborhood or community no school district shall receive an apportionment from the school funds until consolidated as herein provided. The deputy superintendent of public instruction shall decide where the school shall be held, and if school is held in any other place in the district than that designated by the deputy superintendent of public instruction, the county auditor shall draw no warrants upon the funds of the district in payment of claims for the maintenance of said school.

3318. Restriction in apportionment.

SEC. 79. The county school fund shall not be apportioned to any school district unless there shall be at least five school census children residing therein as shown by the last preceding census report. The state school fund shall not be apportioned to any school district unless there shall be at least three school census children residing therein as shown by the last preceding census report.

3319. Certain districts not to receive school money, when.

SEC. 80. From and after September first, nineteen hundred and eleven, no school district, except when newly organized, in which there was not taught by a legally qualified teacher, a public school for a term of at least six school months of the school year ending the last day of June preceding, with at least three children of school age in actual attendance for eighty days, sixty days of which shall have been consecutive, shall receive any portion of the public school moneys. When a new district is formed by the division of an old one, it shall be entitled to a just share of the school moneys to the credit of the old district after the payment of all outstanding debts at the time when a school was actually commenced in such new district; and the superintendent of public instruction shall divide and apportion such remaining money according to the number of census children resident in each district, for which purpose he may order a census to be taken, the expenses of which shall be met as provided in section 133 of this act.

3320. Joint school district, when.

SEC. 81. A joint school district may be formed of parts of two or more counties, provided a majority of the qualified voters in that part of each county which it is proposed to include in such joint district shall petition for the creation of such joint district, such petition to contain a description of the boundaries of the proposed joint district. When such petition is presented to the board of county commissioners in each county in which any part of the territory of said proposed joint district is located, such boards shall, if they favor the establishment of a joint district, provide for such establishment, and the superintendent of public instruction shall appoint the members of the board of school trustees, who shall serve until their successors are elected and qualified according to law.

3321. State superintendent to apportion funds, how.

SEC. 82. The superintendent of public instruction shall apportion the county school fund to any such joint school district as follows: In apportioning sixty per cent of the county school fund of any county, he shall apportion to a joint school district the regular amount per census child residing in that county. In apportioning forty per cent of the county school fund of any county, he shall consider the teacher as belonging in part to each county, part of which lies in the joint school district, and the part belonging to any county will be in proportion to the number of school census children in that county.

In apportioning thirty per cent of the state distributive school fund within any county, he shall apportion to a joint school district the regular amount per census child residing in that county. In apportioning seventy per cent of the state distributive school fund within any county, he shall consider the teacher as belonging in part to each county, part of which lies in the joint school district, and the part belonging to any county will be in proportion to the number of school census children in that county.

3322. Union school, how established.

SEC. 83. On the recommendation of the deputy superintendent of public instruction, the boards of school trustees of any contiguous school districts in the same county or in adjoining counties may, in joint meeting of the two boards, unite the two districts and establish a union school to be supported out of the funds belonging to the respective districts.

Where the inhabitants of two school districts in adjoining counties have for nearly twenty years acted as a union district and carried on a union school supported by the public-school funds belonging to the respective districts, it will be presumed to be a union district regularly organized without proof of its formation by the records of either the said trustees or commissioners. State ex rel. Schulz v. Sweeney, 24 Nev. 350 (55 P. 88).

3323. Joint board to govern—More than one school, when.

SEC. 84. The school thus established shall be governed by a joint board, composed of the trustees of the combining districts; provided, that school may be maintained at more than one point in the union district thus formed, if found necessary or advisable; and provided further, that the classes and grades in the two districts shall be arranged with reference to the convenience of the children and the efficient and economical management of the school. In case of a disagreement of the joint board as to the arrangement and distribution of the various classes and grades in the two districts, the deputy superintendent of public instruction shall determine the same.

3324. Expenses, how paid.

SEC. 85. A majority of the members of the joint board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Vouchers shall be made out on the separate district funds for the pro rata of monthly expenses, as agreed upon by the joint board, and these vouchers shall be signed by the president and clerk of the school board in the district on whose fund the vouchers are drawn.

3325. District dissolved, when.

SEC. 86. The union school, or district, herein provided for may be dissolved in June of any year by mutual consent or action of the boards of school trustees in the districts interested, or by the unanimous action of the school board of either district; provided, that no indebtedness incurred by the joint board exists; and provided further, that in case of dissolution by action of only one of the two districts as herein prescribed, at least thirty days' notice of intention to dissolve shall have been given to the joint board.

3326. Districts enlarged or consolidated, how.

SEC. 87. The board of county commissioners in any county on the recommendation of the deputy superintendent of public instruction, and without formal petition, may enlarge the boundaries of any school district, wherein there may be uncertainty of maintaining the minimum requirement of five census children, sufficiently beyond the sixteen-mile-square limit to include five or more school census children actually residing, and not temporarily living, therein, or the board, upon the recommendation of the deputy superintendent, may consolidate two or more such districts or parts of districts into a single district.

3327. Property of consolidated districts.

SEC. 88. In case of the consolidation of two or more districts as herein provided for, the property of the separate districts shall become the property of the district thus formed, and any money in the fund of a district consolidated with another shall, on notice given by the deputy superintendent of public instruction, be transferred by the county auditor and the county treasurer to the credit of the district so formed.

3328. Board for, appointed, when.

SEC. 89. When a district is formed by consolidation as herein provided, the deputy superintendent of public instruction shall appoint a board of school trustees therefor; he shall determine the points therein where instruction is to be given, and shall aid the trustees in making necessary provision for carrying out the purposes of this act.

3329. Emergency fund created.

SEC. 90. At the time of the apportionment of money in the state distributive school fund in January and July of each year, the superintendent of public instruction, before making such apportionment, shall set aside from said fund the sum of three thousand dollars, the same to constitute and be known as the emergency school fund; and he shall at once notify the state controller and the state treasurer of his action.

3330. Used how.

SEC. 91. The emergency school fund, or such portion thereof as the state board of education shall deem advisable, shall be used as hereinafter provided for payment of a teacher's salary in any legally constituted school district formed after the regular apportionment in January and July of any year and not consisting mainly or wholly of census children and territory theretofore included in an established school district.

3331. Conditions before money is distributed.

SEC. 92. Before any portion of the emergency school fund is distributed to any school district that may be entitled thereto under the provisions of this act, the superintendent of public instruction shall cause a census to be taken and shall satisfy himself that a competent teacher has been employed and that a suitable building has been provided.

3332. Basis of distribution.

SEC. 93. The money in the emergency school fund, or such part thereof as may be necessary, shall be distributed to the various districts entitled thereto on the basis of teachers—one teacher to every fifty census children or fraction thereof; and not more than two hundred and fifty dollars shall be allowed for any one teacher. The money thus distributed shall be used only for the payment of salaries of teachers. The superintendent of public instruction shall submit to the state board of education lists of school districts entitled to money under the provisions of this act, and estimates of the amount of money necessary for each district.

3333. But one apportionment from emergency fund.

SEC. 94. No more than one apportionment shall be made to any one school district from the emergency school fund. But at the general apportionments thereafter such district shall be entitled to its share of the state distributive school fund and of the general school fund of the county in which the district is located, the census provided for in section 92 of this act serving as the basis of apportionment until the general school census is available therefor.

3334. State board to approve distribution.

SEC. 95. Upon approval by the state board of education of the amounts to be distributed, the superintendent of public instruction shall draw his order on the state controller for the sum to be sent from the emergency school fund to any county, and the state controller shall thereupon draw his warrant on the state treasurer therefor, and the state treasurer shall pay over the money to the county treasurer, or any treasurer named. The superintendent of public instruction shall inform the county auditor and the county treasurer of any county to which money is thus sent, of the amount set aside for any school district or districts in that county; and such money shall be applied by the board or boards of school trustees thereof for the purpose named in this act, and disbursed in the manner prescribed by law.

3335. Residue to revert.

SEC. 96. Any money remaining in the emergency school fund on the thirtieth day of June and the thirty-first day of December of any year shall revert to the state distributive school fund.

3336. District abolished, when.

SEC. 97. Upon notice from the deputy superintendent of public instruction that a district has fewer than three resident children in actual school attendance, the board of county commissioners shall abolish such district.

3337. Funds to revert.

SEC. 98. All moneys remaining to the credit of any school district which has been legally abolished, by action of the board of county commissioners of the county in which the district is situated, shall revert to the county school fund of the said county.

3338. Property of abolished district.

SEC. 99. All property, real and personal, of any abolished school district shall revert to the county in which the said district is situated, and the board of county commissioners are hereby authorized to control and manage, rent or sell such reverted school property in the manner prescribed for the sale of county property; provided, that in case the said board of county commissioners shall find all of the real and personal property of any abolished district to be of a value less than one hundred dollars, the same may be sold without publication of notice and to the highest bidder for cash at private sale.

3339. Disposal of proceeds.

SEC. 100. All the moneys derived from the sale or rent of reverted school property shall be paid into the county school fund.

3340. Public schools defined.

SEC. 101. Public schools within the meaning of this act shall include all elementary schools, and all district and county high schools.

3341. Elementary and high school defined.

SEC. 102. An elementary school within the meaning of this act shall be one in which no grade work above that included in the eighth grade according to the regularly adopted state course of study shall be given.

A high school within the meaning of this act shall be a school in which subjects above the eighth grade according to the state course of study may be taught.

3342. School year.

SEC. 103. The public school year shall commence on the first day of July and shall end on the last day of June.

3343. School month.

SEC. 104. A school month shall consist of four weeks of five days each, and teachers shall be paid only for the time in which they are actually engaged in teaching; provided, that when an intermission of less than six days is ordered by the trustees no deduction of salary shall be made therefor.

3344. Sectarian literature prohibited.

SEC. 105. No books, tracts, or papers of a sectarian or denominational character shall be used or introduced in any schools established under the provisions of this act; nor shall any sectarian or denominational doctrines be taught therein; nor shall any school whatever receive any of the public-school funds which has not been taught in accordance with the provisions of this section.

See secs. 361, 362.

3345. School property exempt from taxation or execution.

SEC. 106. All lots, buildings, or other school property, owned by any district, town, or city, and devoted to public-school purposes, shall be, and the same are hereby, exempted from taxation, and from sale on any execution or other writ or order in the nature of an execution.

3346. Hygiene to be taught.

SEC. 107. Physiology and hygiene shall be taught in the public schools of this state, and especial attention shall be given to the effects of stimulants and narcotics upon the human system.

3347. Instruction relative to birds, fish and game.

SEC. 108. It is hereby made the duty of each and every teacher in the public schools of this state to give oral instruction at least once a month, to all children attending such schools, relative to the preservation of song-birds, fish, and game; and to explain to such children of suitable ages, at least twice each school year, the fish and game laws of the State of Nevada.

3348. Teachers to comply with provisions—Penalty.

SEC. 109. No teacher shall be entitled to receive any portion of the public-school moneys as compensation for services, unless such teacher shall have complied with the provisions of the last preceding section.

3349. Arbor day.

SEC. 110. Arbor Day is hereby established in the State of Nevada, and shall be fixed each year by proclamation of the governor at least one month before the fixing of such date, and it shall be observed as a holiday by the public schools of this state; provided, that nothing in this act shall be so construed as making this a legal holiday, so far as the courts and civil contracts are concerned.

3350. Governor to make proclamation of.

SEC. 111. His excellency the governor is requested to make proclamation setting forth the provisions of the preceding section of this statute, and recommending that Arbor Day so established, be observed by the people of the state in the planting of trees, shrubs, and vines, in the promotion of forest growth and culture, in the adornment of public and private grounds, places, and ways, and in such other efforts and undertakings as shall be in harmony with the character of the day so established.

3351. Holidays—Election days.

SEC. 112. No school shall be kept open on the first day of January, the thirtieth day of May, the fourth day of July, the first Monday of September, Thanksgiving Day, and the twenty-fifth day of December of each year, nor on any day appointed by the president of the United States or the governor of this state for public fast, thanksgiving, or holiday.

All schools shall be kept open and shall observe with appropriate exercises the twelfth day of February, the twenty-second day of February, Arbor Day, and the thirty-first day of October of each year, if such days occur on regular school days.

No school shall be closed on the date of any primary or general election, except in cases of school elections when the school building is needed as a polling-place.

3352. The national flag to be provided.

SEC. 113. Boards of school trustees in all school districts throughout the state shall provide for their respective schoolhouses a suitable flag of the United States, which shall be hoisted on the respective schoolhouses on all suitable occasions. The respective boards of trustees are hereby authorized and directed to cause said flags to be paid for out of any county school money in their respective school district funds not required for regular expenses. If the trustees in any school district fail or neglect to provide such flag, the deputy superintendent of public instruction shall himself provide the school with a flag and shall install the same upon the schoolhouse, and shall pay the expenses incurred in such action by drawing his order on the county auditor, and the county auditor shall draw his warrant on the county treasurer in payment of same.

3353. The state flag.

SEC. 114. The flag of the State of Nevada shall be of blue bunting with the following devices thereon, to wit: The word "NEVADA" in silver-colored block letters, equidistant between the top and bottom; near the top the word "SILVER" in silver color, and near the bottom the word "GOLD" in gold color, each of which shall be in Roman capital letters, and there shall be under the word "Silver" a row of eight stars in silver color, under which and above the word "Nevada" a row of nine stars in gold color, at each end of the word "Nevada" a silver-colored star, and under the word "Nevada" a row of nine stars in gold color, under which and above the word "Gold" a row of eight stars in silver color. Each star shall have five points and be placed with one point up.

3354. District attorney legal adviser.

SEC. 115. The district attorneys of the several counties of Nevada must give, when required, and without fee, his opinion in writing to school trustees, on matters relating to the duties of their offices.

3355. Attorney-general legal adviser of deputy superintendents.

SEC. 116. The state attorney-general shall give, when required, and without fee, his opinion in writing to deputy superintendents of public instruction on matters relating to the duties of their offices.

3356. Teachers exempt from jury duty.

SEC. 117. Teachers actually engaged in teaching in the public schools of the state and members of the faculty of the state university shall be exempt from jury duty during the session of the public schools or university, but nothing in this act shall be construed as to excuse said teachers from liability to jury duty during a vacation.

3357. Classification of funds.

SEC. 118. On and after the fifteenth day of September, nineteen hundred and eleven, the county auditors and the county treasurers of the several counties of the State of Nevada shall keep separate accounts in their books for the library fund, the county school fund, and the state school fund of each district within their respective counties, and in no case shall they keep any school fund account in such manner that its balance shall at any time include the amounts on hand in any two school funds.

If on the said fifteenth day of September, nineteen hundred and eleven, the county auditor and the county treasurer in any county shall not have their respective school fund accounts arranged so that no school fund account shall show by its balance the amount on hand in any two or more school funds, the said county auditor and the county treasurer shall adjust their school fund accounts in the following manner:

The county auditor shall determine the total amount of money in the county treasury to the credit of each school district on the said fifteenth day of September, nineteen hundred and eleven. He shall then deduct from the said total amount to the credit of each school district at the time mentioned, the amount of money which should be in the library fund of each of the said school districts on the fifteenth day of September, nineteen hundred and eleven, and the amount so deducted shall constitute, for each school district, a separate fund which shall thereafter be designated as the library fund for such school district, and the county auditor shall thereafter make such entries in the said library fund as will show, at all times, the apportionments made to that fund, and all amounts drawn from the said fund in payment of legal claims.

If for any reason the auditor cannot tell the exact amount which should be in the library fund of any school district on the date mentioned above, he shall deduct from the total amount to the credit of the school district an amount equal to the apportionment to the library fund of that district made in July, nineteen hundred and eleven, and the amount so deducted shall constitute, for such school district, a separate fund which shall thereafter be designated as the library fund as provided above.

After the auditor has established the library fund for each school district, as described above, he shall deduct from the remainder of the total amount to the credit of each school district, the amount apportioned to the state school fund of that district in July, nineteen hundred and eleven, and the amount so deducted shall constitute the state school fund of that school district, and the auditor shall open a separate account in his books for the said state school fund, and he shall thereafter make such entries in the state school fund account as will show, at any time, the apportionments made to such state school fund, and all amounts drawn from the said fund in payment of teachers' salaries; provided, that only the salaries of teachers shall be paid from such fund.

After establishing a library fund, and a state school fund, for each school district in the manner described above, the auditor shall establish a county school fund for each school district in the county by opening a separate account in his books and making proper entry therein of the amount left to the credit of each district after deducting from the said total amount the several amounts described above as constituting the library fund and the state school fund for each district, and the remainder left when the said two amounts shall have been deducted from the total amount to the credit of each school district, shall constitute the county school fund of each school district, and the county auditor shall thereafter make such entries in the county school fund account as will show, at all times, the apportionments made to that fund, and all amounts drawn from the said fund in payment of legal claims.

After the county auditor in each county has established the library fund, the state school fund, and the county school fund for each school district in the manner described above, he shall certify the amounts in each of the said funds to the county treasurer, and the county treasurer shall immediately open a separate account in his books for each of the three funds mentioned above, and he shall, thereafter, make such entries in each of the said accounts as will show, at all times, the apportionments made to each fund, and all amounts drawn from each fund in payment of legal claims.

3358. Penalty for failure of treasurer or auditor to comply.

SEC. 119. In case of failure or neglect on the part of the county auditor or the county treasurer of any county to comply with the provisions of the foregoing section, he shall forfeit for the benefit of the county school fund the sum of one hundred dollars from his official compensation, and it is hereby made the duty of the county commissioners, on notice from the deputy superintendent of public instruction of such failure or neglect on the part of any county auditor or county treasurer to comply with the provisions of the foregoing section, to deduct the said one hundred dollars from the compensation of the said negligent officer, and the commissioners shall place the said amount to the credit of the county school fund.

3359. Penalty of teacher for nonfulfilment of contract.

SEC. 120. Should any teacher employed by a board of school trustees for a specified time, leave the school before the expiration of such time, without the consent of the trustees, in writing, said teacher shall be deemed guilty of unprofessional conduct, and the deputy superintendent of public instruction is authorized, upon receiving notice of such fact, to suspend the certificate of such teacher for the period of one year.

3360. Appeal, how made, and to whom.

SEC. 121. From any decision made by a deputy superintendent affecting adversely the rights, powers or duties of any teacher or school board as fixed by law, in any case in which no appeal is allowed to the board of education, an appeal may be taken to the superintendent of public instruction, and his decision in the premises shall be final.

CHAPTER 9

CENSUS MARSHALS

- 3361. Appointment of—Females may act as.
- 3362. Blanks for marshal.
- 3363. Duties of marshal.
- 3364. Idem.
- 3365. Report—What shall contain.
- 3366. In case of districts in two counties.
- 3367. Clerk to examine marshal's report—Approval—Transmission.
- 3368. Dates for completing reports.
- 3369. Deputy superintendents to compare reports.
- 3370. Special census marshal, when.
- 3371. Negligence of marshal—Punishment.
- 3372. Compensation—County to pay.

3361. Appointment of—Females may act as.

SEC. 122. It shall be the duty of the board of school trustees of each school district to appoint a competent person over twenty-one years of age as school census marshal before the first day of March of each school year and to notify the deputy superintendent of public instruction of such appointment immediately after it is made. This section shall not be construed in such a way as to prevent the appointment of a member of the board of school trustees or of a woman as school census marshal. Before the school census marshal shall enter upon the performance of his duties he shall take and subscribe to the oath of office, and such oath shall be filed in the office of the deputy superintendent of public instruction.

If the board of school trustees of any district shall fail to appoint a school census marshal and to notify the deputy superintendent of public instruction of the same, as provided in section 122 of this act, it shall be the duty of the deputy superintendent of public instruction to call the attention of the clerk of the board of such district to such failure, and if a notification of an appointment is not received at his office before the fifteenth day of March, the deputy superintendent of public instruction shall appoint the school census marshal for such district, such appointee to proceed in like manner as if appointed by the board of school trustees, and any appointment of census marshals made by the board of school trustees of such district shall be void.

3362. Blanks for marshal.

SEC. 123. The superintendent of public instruction shall supply each school census marshal with printed instructions as to his duty, and with all blank forms required for taking and reporting the census.

3363. Duties of marshal.

SEC. 124. It shall be the duty of the school census marshal of each district to take annually in the month of April a census of the resident children of the district for which he shall have been appointed, and to report the same to the deputy superintendent of public instruction. The term "resident children," as used in this section, shall be defined in such a way as to include:

1. Children residing with their parents or guardians in such district;
2. Children temporarily residing outside of said district for the purpose of attending institutions of learning or benevolent institutions, except those children who are in the state orphans' home and the said children in the state orphans' home shall be taken in the Carson City school district; provided, that the parents of such children shall be residing in such district on the first day of April; and provided further, that the children themselves shall have been actual residents of the district immediately previous to the time of such outside residence. The term "resident children" shall be further defined in such a way as to exclude:

1. Indian children who shall not have attended public school at least eighty days in the twelve months preceding the date of taking the census during the last preceding year;

2. Children temporarily visiting in or passing through said district;

3. Children who have never actually resided within the district, even in cases where the parents or guardians shall reside in such district;

4. Children who are residing in the district for the purpose of attending institutions of learning or benevolent institutions, except the children of the state orphans' home and the census of the children in the state orphans' home shall be taken in Carson City school district; and, in general, all children who may properly be included in the census of some other district.

The wards of the state at the orphans' home should not be counted as a part of the children of Ormsby County, in the apportionment of the school fund as required by Const. sec. 355, as their education is provided for by the state at the orphans' home, and they have not the right to attend the public school. State ex rel. Wright v. Dovey, 19 Nev. 396, 397 (12 P. 910). But see Stats. 1911, 135, secs. 4106-4108, providing for education of these children in Carson City schools.

3364. Idem.

SEC. 125. The school census marshal shall visit each home, habitation, residence, domicile, or place of abode in his district and require the necessary information of parents or others competent to give accurate information, supplementing and correcting this by actual observation when necessary. The school census marshal shall have power to administer the legal oath to parents, guardians, and other persons furnishing such information.

3365. Report—What shall contain.

SEC. 126. The report of the school census marshal shall be made upon blank forms to be furnished by the superintendent of public instruction, and shall show the following facts:

1. The full names of all children less than twenty-one years old and residing in the district on the first day of April, such names to be given by families under the name of the parents or guardian;

2. The year, month, and day on which each child was born, and the age in years, counting to the first day of April;

3. The sex and race of each child;

4. The place of birth of each child and of each parent;

5. The total number of children less than six years of age; the total number not less than six nor over eighteen years of age, and the total number of children over eighteen and less than twenty-one years of age, counting from the first day of April. Only those children who are not less than six nor over eighteen years of age shall be considered as school census children;

6. Such other facts as the superintendent of public instruction may require.

3366. In case of districts in two counties.

SEC. 127. In the case of districts lying partly in two or more counties, the school census marshal shall report separately the children of each county.

3367. Clerk to examine marshal's report—Approval—Transmission.

SEC. 128. Immediately after the school census marshal shall have completed the work of taking the census, he shall submit a report of the same, according to a form to be prescribed by the superintendent of public instruction, to the clerk of the board of school trustees, and if the clerk finds the report to be correct, according to the best of his knowledge, he shall approve the same and certify to its correctness, after which the census marshal shall transmit it to the deputy superintendent of public instruction with a sworn statement to the effect that reasonable diligence and care have been exercised and that, to the best of his knowledge, all parts of the report are correct.

3368. Dates for completing reports.

SEC. 129. In the case of districts having a school census population of less than three hundred the report shall be sent to the deputy superintendent of public instruction before the fifteenth day of May. In the case of districts having over three hundred census children the report shall be sent to the deputy superintendent of public instruction before the first day of June.

3369. Deputy superintendents to compare reports.

SEC. 130. The deputy superintendent of public instruction shall compare the census reports submitted to him by the various school census marshals so far as he shall consider needful, and he shall strike from them the names of any children whose names are, according to his best knowledge, wrongly included in the reports, and it shall be his duty to correct all manifest errors in such reports. In all cases he shall make sufficient investigation to confirm him in his action before correcting any report.

Upon a review of sections 31 and 32 of the act of 1865, 413, and section 1 of the act of 1887, 138, it was held that the superintendent has no power to correct, without ordering a new census, a census marshal's report and make his apportionment of school moneys on the basis of such corrected report. State ex rel. Miles v. Trustees, 27 Nev. 61-69 (72 P. 817).

3370. Special census marshal, when.

SEC. 131. If at any time the deputy superintendent shall have reason to believe that a report contains errors which he is unable to correct, or if at any time the report of the school census marshal is not transmitted as provided by section 129 of this act, he may appoint a special school census marshal who shall retake the census as soon as practicable and not later than the thirtieth day of June, conforming otherwise to the rules governing the original census.

3371. Negligence of marshal—Punishment.

SEC. 132. If the school census marshal of any district neglects or refuses to make his report at the time and in the manner prescribed by law, or if he, with intention to defraud the state, or through failure to exercise reasonable care, include the names of children in violation of law, or if he report their names, ages or number falsely, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine in any amount not less than five or more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than five nor more than thirty days, and it shall be the duty of the various district attorneys to cause the arrest and prosecution of such persons upon information furnished by the superintendent of public instruction, other school officers, or by other persons.

3372. Compensation—County to pay.

SEC. 133. Every bill for the compensation of a school census marshal shall be presented to the board of county commissioners of the county in which the district for which he shall have been appointed lies, and upon the order of said board shall be paid as other claims out of the general fund of the county. No bill for the compensation of any school census marshal shall be ordered paid unless the bill shall be accompanied by a statement from the deputy superintendent of public instruction to the effect that a satisfactory census report has been returned as provided by law. In any school district containing ten or less school census children the compensation for taking the school census shall not exceed eight dollars. In school districts having more than ten school census children there may be allowed not more than twenty-five cents additional for the name of each school census child above the said ten names; provided, that in districts in which there are less than three families having school census children, the compensation shall not exceed five dollars.

3374. Ad valorem state school tax.

SEC. 135. An ad valorem tax of ten cents on the hundred dollars of all taxable property in the state is hereby levied and directed to be collected and paid in the same manner as other state taxes are required to be paid; and said tax shall be known as the state school tax, and the board of county commissioners of the several counties shall, annually, at the same time other state taxes are levied, add this to the other taxes provided by law to be levied and collected, and it shall be annually collected at the same time and in the same manner as other state taxes are collected, and if, from any reason whatever, in any year said taxes are not levied as herein required, by the board of county commissioners, the county auditor shall enter them on the assessment roll, as required by law for other taxes.

3375. State distributive school fund.

SEC. 136. All moneys derived from interest on the state permanent school fund, together with all moneys derived from the state school tax, shall be placed in and constitute a fund to be known as the state distributive school fund, and be apportioned semiannually among the several school districts of the state in the manner provided in this act for the apportionment of the state distributive school fund to the several school districts of the state.

3376. Use of this restricted.

SEC. 137. The school moneys distributed from the state distributive school fund, shall not be used for any other purpose than the payment of qualified teachers, under this act; and no portion of said fund shall, either directly or indirectly, be paid for the erection of schoolhouses, the use of schoolrooms, furniture, or any other contingent expenses of public schools.

R-12-10

3377. State tax, use restricted.

SEC. 138. No portion of the public-school funds, nor of the moneys raised by the state tax, or specially appropriated for the support of public schools, shall be devoted to any other object or purpose; nor shall any portion of the public-school funds, nor of money raised by state tax for the support of public schools, be in any way segregated, divided, or set apart for the use or benefit of any sectarian or secular society or association.

3378. County school tax.

SEC. 139. The board of county commissioners of each county shall, annually, at the time of levying other county taxes, levy a county school tax, not to exceed fifty cents nor less than twenty cents on each one hundred dollars valuation of taxable property, which tax shall be added to the county tax and collected in the same manner, and paid into the county treasury as a special deposit, to be drawn in the same manner, as other public-school moneys; and should said county commissioners fail or neglect to levy said tax as required it shall be the duty of the county auditor to add such tax as the superintendent of public instruction may deem sufficient, between the limits of twenty and fifty cents on each one hundred dollars valuation of taxable property in the county, to the assessment roll, to be collected as specified in this section.

The repeal of a former school law does not interfere with the disposition of funds already collected under the old law. Trustees v. Ormsby County, 1 Nev. 334, 337.

This act (1861, 273) sets apart ten per cent of the property tax, but not of licenses for school purposes. Idem.

Such ten per cent is only to be taken from the tax collected for county purposes and not that collected for territorial purposes. Idem.

The act to regulate the finances of Ormsby

County (Stats. 1864, 92) exempts the building fund from operation of this section and substitutes a special school tax. Idem.

The tax of forty-five cents levied for building fund and sixty cents for current expense fund are specified funds, exempted from the operation of the school law requiring ten per cent of the property tax to be set aside for school purposes. The eighty-cent tax for a general and contingent fund is subject to the provisions of the school law, and ten per cent of that amount must be added to the school fund. Idem.

3379. Special school tax, when.

SEC. 140. When, in the judgment of the board of school trustees of any district, the school moneys to which such district shall be entitled for the coming school year will not be sufficient to maintain the school properly and for a sufficient number of months, said board shall have power to direct that a tax not more than twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars of assessed valuation of such district shall be levied, and, upon notification by the clerk of the board of school trustees of such district that such action has been taken, the board of county commissioners shall levy and cause to be collected such tax upon the taxable property of such district.

3380. Election to decide tax levied—Tax, when due and how enforced.

SEC. 141. The board of trustees of any school district may, when in their judgment it is advisable, call an election and submit to the qualified electors of the district the question whether a tax shall be raised to furnish additional school facilities for said district, or to keep any school or schools in such district open for a longer period than the ordinary funds will allow or for building an additional schoolhouse or houses, or for any two or for all these purposes. Such election shall be called by posting notices in three of the most public places in the district for twenty days, and also if there be a newspaper in the county by advertisement therein once a week for three weeks. Said notice shall contain time and place of holding the election, the amount of money proposed to be raised, and the purpose or purposes for which it is intended to be used. The trustees shall appoint three judges to conduct the election, and it shall be held in all other respects as nearly as practicable in conformity with the general election law. At such election the ballot shall contain the words: "Tax—Yes," or "Tax—No." If a majority of the votes cast are "Tax—Yes," the officers of the election shall certify the fact to the county commissioners, together with a statement of the amount of money proposed to be raised, who shall ascertain the necessary percentage on the property of said district, as shown by the last assessment made thereof after equalization, to raise the amount of money voted, and shall add it to the next county tax to be collected on the property aforesaid; and the same shall be paid into the county treasury as a special deposit in favor of said school district, to be drawn in the same manner as other school moneys; provided, if in any school district the school trustees shall certify to the county commissioners that the state and county money to which any district is entitled is not sufficient to keep school open in such district up to the date when state and county taxes shall become due, the tax provided for in this section shall be due and payable to the assessor of such county in which the tax is levied immediately after he shall make the assessment and demand for payment of the tax; provided, the owner of the property shall, if he deem the assessment too high, have the privilege of submitting the assessment to the board of county commissioners, for equalization within ten days after the demand made for the payment of the tax, and the county commissioners, within five days after complaint made to them, shall meet and determine the correct valuation of the property assessed, and may change the same by adding to or deducting from the sum fixed either by the owner or assessor, and upon notice to the owner of the result of their equalization the tax shall be immediately payable to the assessor, and if not paid shall become delinquent; and all taxes so assessed shall constitute a lien on the property charged therewith, from the date of the levy thereof by the county commissioners, or entry thereof on the assessment roll by the county auditor, until the same are paid, and thereafter if allowed to become delinquent shall be enforced in the same manner as provided by law for the collection of state and county taxes. If for any reason said tax is not added to the county tax by the county commissioners, the county auditor shall enter it upon the assessment roll to be charged against the property of that district, on application from the trustees of said district.

The "State of Nevada" is the proper party plaintiff in a suit for delinquent school taxes. State v. First National Bank, 4 Nev. 491, 492.

This section means not only that the form of action and mode of procedure shall be the same, but that the State of Nevada shall be the party plaintiff in both. Idem.

"Once a week for three weeks." It is not necessary for the call to be published twenty-one days before the day of election. Three insertions upon three successive weeks and at any time of any such weeks before the election, are sufficient. State v. Y. J. S. M. Co., 5 Nev. 416, 422-437.

3381. Use of county school funds, for what.

SEC. 142. The board of trustees, or board of education, of each city, town, and district, may use the moneys from the county school funds to purchase sites, build, or rent schoolhouses, to purchase libraries, and to pay teachers or contingent expenses as they may deem proper, or for transportation of pupils to and from school.

3382. Controller to keep separate accounts.

SEC. 143. The state controller shall keep a separate and distinct account of the state permanent school fund, of the interest and income thereof, of such moneys as shall be raised by the state school tax, and of all moneys derived from special appropriations or otherwise for the support of public schools.

3383. Controller to report school securities.

SEC. 144. The state controller shall, on or before the tenth day of April and the tenth day of October of each year, make to the state board of education a statement of the securities belonging to the state permanent school fund. He shall also, on or before the tenth day of January and the tenth day of July of each year, render to the superintendent of public instruction a statement of the moneys in the treasury subject to distribution to the several districts of the state, as provided in section 151 of this act.

3384. State treasurer custodian of school securities.

SEC. 145. The state treasurer shall be the legal custodian of all state and national securities in which the moneys of the state permanent school fund of the State of Nevada are or may hereafter be invested, and for their safe keeping he shall be liable on his official bond. It shall be the duty of the state treasurer to pay over all public-school moneys received by him only on warrants of the state controller, issued upon the orders of the superintendent of public instruction, under the seal of the board of education, in favor of county treasurers, or on orders of the state board of education, for purposes of investment, as provided in section 148 of this act, which orders, duly endorsed, shall be valid vouchers in the hands of the state controller for the disbursement of public-school moneys.

3385. County treasurers to receive school moneys semiannually.

SEC. 146. All school moneys due each county in the state shall be paid over by the state treasurer to the county treasurers on the tenth day of January and the tenth day of July of each year or as soon thereafter as the county treasurer may apply for the same upon the warrant of the state controller drawn in conformity with the apportionment of the superintendent of public instruction, as provided in section 151 of this act.

3386. State treasurer, duty of.

SEC. 147. When the interest on any securities belonging to the state permanent school fund is due, the state treasurer shall, upon the warrant of the state controller and in the presence of a majority of the members of the state board of education, cut off and pay the coupon on such securities, and place the moneys so paid into the state distributive school fund, and keep a correct account thereof in his books.

3387. Duties of state controller.

SEC. 148. It is hereby made the duty of the state controller, quarterly, to notify the state board of education of the amount of money in the state permanent school fund, and whenever there shall be a sum in said fund sufficient for investment said board shall direct the state treasurer to negotiate for investment of the same in United States securities, or in the bonds of this state, or in the bonds of other states, at the lowest purchasable rates, and the board shall then draw their order upon the controller in favor of the state treasurer, for the amount to be invested. Said controller shall thereupon draw his warrant as directed, and the state treasurer shall complete the purchase of the securities negotiated for by him in pursuance of this act; provided, that before any such investment of said school moneys as is contemplated by the provisions of this act is made, said board of education shall require of the attorney-general of this state his legal opinion as to the validity of any act or acts of any state under which said bonds are issued and in which said board of education are about to make an investment; and provided further, that in no case shall any bonds be purchased as herein provided without said board of education making due and diligent inquiry as to the financial standing and responsibility of the state or states whose bonds it is proposed to purchase.

3388. Duties of county treasurer.

SEC. 149. It shall be the duty of the county treasurer of each county:

1. To receive and hold as a special deposit all public-school moneys, whether received by him from the state treasurer or raised by the county for the benefit of the public schools, or from any other source, and to keep separate accounts thereof and of their disbursements;

2. On the second Monday of June and on the second Monday of December of each year to notify the superintendent of public instruction of the amount of money in the county school fund subject to distribution;

3. To pay over all public-school moneys received by him only on warrants of the county auditor, issued upon orders of the board of school trustees for their respective school districts. All orders issued by the said trustees shall be valid vouchers in the hands of county auditors for warrants drawn upon such orders; provided, that orders for the payment of money for new school buildings and for repairs of furniture amounting to over five hundred dollars must be approved by the superintendent of public instruction before such warrants are drawn;

4. On or before the tenth day of July, annually, to make full report to the superintendent of public instruction of the public-school moneys received into the county treasury within the school year ending on the last day of June next previous thereto, with a particular statement of the disbursement of the said school moneys, and of any amount of said school moneys which may remain in his hands at the close of the school year, designating the part remaining in the state school fund and the part remaining in the county school fund; and in case of failure or neglect of said county treasurer to make such report, he shall forfeit for the benefit of the county school fund the sum of one hundred dollars from his official compensation, and it is hereby made the duty of the county commissioners, on notice from the superintendent of public instruction of such failure or neglect on the part of any county treasurer, to deduct said one hundred dollars from his compensation and place said amount to the credit of the county school fund.

3389. No fees for handling school moneys.

SEC. 150. No tax collector or county treasurer shall receive any fees or compensation whatever for collecting, receiving, keeping, transporting, or disbursing any school moneys mentioned in the preceding sections of this act. In case of a special school tax for any school district, as provided in sections 140 and 141 of this act, the board of county commissioners may allow a reasonable compensation for assessing and collecting if such taxes are assessed and collected independently and separate from the regular taxes, such compensation to be paid out of the special taxes thus collected.

3390. Apportionment of state distributive school fund.

SEC. 151. It shall be the duty of the superintendent of public instruction immediately after the state controller shall have made his semiannual report, as provided in section 144 of this act, to apportion to the several school districts in the state the moneys in the state distributive school fund, subject to apportionment at such time. He shall apportion the moneys of said fund among the several school districts of the state in the following manner:

1. He must ascertain the number of teachers to which each school district is entitled by calculating one teacher for every thirty school census children or fraction thereof, as shown by the last preceding school census;

2. He must ascertain the total number of teachers in the state by adding together the number of teachers assigned to the several school districts upon the basis of one teacher to each thirty school census children or fraction thereof;

3. He must apportion seventy per cent of the state distributive school fund, subject to apportionment at that time among the several school districts of the state in proportion to the number of teachers in each school district, upon the basis of one teacher to each thirty school census children or fraction thereof as shown by the last preceding school census;

4. He must apportion thirty per cent of the state distributive school fund, subject to apportionment at that time, among the several school districts of the state in proportion to the number of children between the ages of six and eighteen years in each school district as shown by the last preceding school census.

Immediately after making the apportionment of the state distributive school fund in the manner prescribed in this act, the superintendent of public instruction shall, by means of a printed report, notify the state controller, the county treasurer, the county auditor, and the clerk of each board of school trustees of the apportionments in detail. He shall also furnish to each county treasurer, under seal of the state board of education, an order on the state controller for an amount of money equal to the full amount of school moneys apportioned to the several school districts of that county from the state distributive school fund, and he shall take such county treasurer's receipt for the said order.

The term "census children" means the number of children officially registered. State ex rel. Schulz v. Sweeney, 24 Nev. 350 (55 P. 88).

3391. Apportionment of county school funds.

SEC. 152. The superintendent of public instruction shall, immediately after he has apportioned the state distributive school fund, as provided in this act, proceed to apportion the county school fund of each county among its several school districts. He shall apportion the county school fund as follows:

1. He must ascertain the number of teachers to which each district is entitled by calculating one teacher for every seventy-five census children or fraction thereof as shown by the last preceding census report;

2. He must ascertain the total number of teachers for the county by adding together the number of teachers assigned to the several school districts upon the basis of one teacher to each seventy-five census children or fraction thereof;

3. Forty per cent of the amount of the county school fund shall be apportioned equally to each school district for every teacher assigned to it upon the basis of seventy-five census children or fraction thereof;

4. All school moneys remaining on hand in the county school fund after apportioning forty per cent of the county school fund equally to each school district for every teacher assigned it upon the basis of seventy-five census children or fraction thereof, must be apportioned to the several school districts in proportion to the number of school census children between the ages of six and eighteen years as shown by the last preceding school census.

The superintendent of public instruction shall by means of a printed report notify the county treasurer, the county auditor, and the clerk of each board of school trustees of such apportionment in detail.

This act construed. State ex rel. Love v. Elko Co., 21 Nev. 19, 21. See citation of this case under sec. 275, pp. 77-78, ante.

The superintendent has no power to correct, without ordering a new census, the census marshal's report, and make his apportionment of school moneys on the basis of such corrected report. State ex rel. Miles v. Wedge, 27 Nev. 61, 67 (72 P. 817).

3392. Duties of state superintendent in regard to distribution of funds.

SEC. 152½. On or before the tenth day of July of each school year the county auditor in each county shall report to the superintendent of public instruction the amount of moneys in the state and county funds to the credit of each school district in his county.

The superintendent of public instruction shall, upon receipt of such report, deduct from the total amount of money to the credit of each of the school districts, all amounts over and above two hundred and fifty dollars for each teacher assigned to said district upon the basis of one teacher for every thirty census children or fraction thereof, as shown by the last preceding school census; provided, that if the county auditor shall have his accounts so arranged that the state school fund account is entirely separate from the county school fund account, then he shall notify the superintendent of public instruction of the amount in each fund to the credit of each school district, and the superintendent of public instruction shall deduct from the state school fund all amounts in excess of one hundred and fifty dollars for each teacher assigned to such school district on the basis of one teacher to every thirty school census children or fraction thereof, as shown by the last preceding school census, and he shall also deduct from the county school fund all the amounts in excess of one hundred dollars for each teacher assigned to the district on the basis of one teacher for every thirty school census children or fraction thereof, as shown by the last preceding school census; provided, further, that if the sum of the balances in the state school fund and the county school fund of any school district on the first day of July does not exceed two hundred and fifty dollars for each teacher assigned to the district on the basis of one teacher to each thirty census children or fraction thereof as shown by the last census, the superintendent of public instruction shall not make the deductions as provided in this section, and in no case shall the superintendent of public instruction deduct such amounts from the school funds of any district as will make the balance in the funds of the district less than two hundred and fifty dollars for each teacher assigned to the district upon the basis of one teacher to every thirty school census children or fraction thereof, as shown by the last preceding school census.

The amounts deducted from the several school funds of each county as provided in the above paragraph shall be placed to the credit of the unapportioned county school fund of the county, and be apportioned with the said county fund.

The superintendent of public instruction shall, at the time of making the deductions in accordance with this act, notify each county auditor and county treasurer of his action, and the county auditor and county treasurer shall make such entries in their accounts as will show that such deductions have been made; provided, that this section shall not apply so as to remove from the funds of any school district any moneys derived from any source other than by apportionments from the state fund or the county fund.

If the trustees of any school district shall certify to the superintendent of public instruction that a new building, or repairs on an old school building, are necessary to the district, and that the trustees have been authorized by vote of the district, if a vote is required, to build such new school building, or to make such needed repairs, or that the balance in the funds of the district is necessary for the maintenance of school in the district, and that the trustees have estimated that the cost of such new school building, needed repairs, or school maintenance is to be _____ dollars, the superintendent of public instruction shall make whatever investigation he may deem best, and if he shall become satisfied that such new building or repairs are necessary in the district, or that the balance in the funds of the district is necessary for the maintenance of school in the district, and that the amount estimated to be spent for such new building, repairs, or maintenance of school is a reasonable amount to be set aside for the purpose mentioned, he shall not make the deductions as provided in this section, but he shall make such deductions as will leave the funds in the district, an amount equal to the estimated amount to be spent for such new building, repairs, or maintenance of school, together with two hundred and fifty dollars for each teacher assigned to that district upon the basis of one teacher for every thirty census children or fraction thereof as shown by the last preceding school census.

3393. Apportionment of district school library fund.

SEC. 153. It shall be the duty of the superintendent of public instruction in July of each year, after apportioning the public-school moneys of each county among its respective districts, to set apart for each district out of the money thus appropriated to such district a sum of not less than three dollars nor more than five dollars for each teacher to which the district is entitled, calculating one teacher for every seventy-five census children or fraction thereof, and the further sum of not less than five cents nor more than ten cents for each census child as shown by the last school census, and the sums thus apportioned shall constitute for each district a library fund.

3394. Amount for libraries, how determined.

SEC. 154. The amount of money to be set apart and apportioned, within the limits provided by the preceding section, shall be determined by the superintendent of public instruction.

3395. How expended.

SEC. 155. The moneys herein designated and apportioned shall be expended for the purchase of books, approved by the superintendent of public instruction for the public-school library of each district, and for no other purpose and shall be paid out and expended as the other school funds of such district are now paid out.

3396. Idem.

SEC. 156. The board of school trustees of each district in this state is hereby authorized and directed to purchase books for public-school libraries in accordance with the provisions of this act.

3397. Rules for libraries.

SEC. 157. The superintendent of public instruction is hereby authorized and directed to make such rules and regulations for the purchase of books provided for, and for the preservation and use thereof, as may be proper, provided such rules and regulations do not in any wise conflict with the laws of the state.

| 3404. Commission's choice of books to be used in schools. | 3411. Per diem of appointed commissioners. |
| | 3412. Penalty for overcharge on books. |

3398. Text-book commission, how composed.

SEC. 158. As now and heretofore provided by law, there shall be a text-book commission, to consist of members of the state board of education and of four additional members appointed by the governor. The four members appointed on this commission by the governor during the month of January, 1911, shall hold office from the date of appointment to the first day of March, 1915. During the month of February, 1915, and during the month of February every four years thereafter, the governor shall appoint four members of said commission, who shall hold office for four years from and after the first day of March succeeding their appointment, and who, with the members of the state board of education, shall constitute the state text-book commission. Such appointees shall be persons actively engaged in school work. They shall take the constitutional oath and have the same filed in the office of the secretary of state before entering upon the duties of their office. If any vacancy occur during the terms of such appointees, by death, resignation, or removal, the governor shall fill such vacancy by the appointment of some person eligible as provided above.

The state board of education may, after it has passed a resolution prescribing a certain series of text-books, reconsider its action and rescind such resolution at any time before the adoption of such books by the different school districts. State ex rel. Newnham v. State Board of Education, 18 Nev. 173, 174, 180, 181 (1 P. 844).

3399. Officers of—Meetings public.

SEC. 159. The governor shall be ex officio president and the superintendent of public instruction ex officio secretary of said text-book commission. The commission shall adopt rules of procedure in harmony with the provisions of this act. Four members of the commission shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, but no action shall be taken by the commission unless a majority of the entire commission shall vote in favor thereof. All meetings of the commission shall be public, and the secretary shall keep a full and correct record of all proceedings, which record shall be open to the inspection of the public. Vote on the adoption of all text-books shall be by roll-call and the secretary shall record the name and vote of each member.

3400. Method of adopting text-books.

SEC. 160. The state text-book commission shall hold its meetings to adopt text-books in the office of the superintendent of public instruction in Carson City on the third Tuesday in June, nineteen hundred and eleven, and on the third Tuesday in June every four years thereafter. The secretary at the request or with the consent of any three members of the board, may call special meetings of the text-book commission whenever there may be business to transact of such importance as to justify the call, stating definitely the purpose of the meeting. At the meeting held on the third Tuesday in June, nineteen hundred and eleven, and every four years thereafter on the third Tuesday in June, the commission shall adopt a uniform series of text-books for exclusive use as text-books in all the public schools of the state. If a contract for any text-book adopted at any regular meeting of the text-book commission shall expire, either through the failure of the publishers of said book to fulfil the conditions of the contract, or for any other reason, the text-book commission may adopt another book to take the place of the one on which the contract has lapsed, after notifying the text-book publishers as herein-after provided for in cases of regular adoption. When regular adoptions are being made the commission may adjourn from day to day; provided, the session shall not continue beyond ten actual days.

3401. Meetings of commission.

SEC. 161. Immediately after the first meeting of the commission, and not later than the first day of April, 1911, and every four years thereafter, if the commission shall deem it advisable to make changes in the list of prescribed text-books, the secretary of the commission shall notify all publishers of text-books who shall have placed their names and postoffice addresses on file with the superintendent of public instruction, to be kept on file in the office of said superintendent of public instruction, that the text-book commission will meet, as herein provided, and will receive sealed proposals, up to 12 o'clock, noon, of said third Tuesday of June, 1911, and up to 12 o'clock, noon, of the third Tuesday of June every four years thereafter, for supplying the State of Nevada with a series of text-books for use in all the public schools of the state, for a period of four years from and after the first day of September, 1911, and for like periods of four years from and after the first day of September every four years thereafter, in the following branches, viz.: Reading, grammar, arithmetic, geography, history of the United States, physiology and hygiene, writing, spelling, drawing, music, and will also approve other books for supplemental use, as permitted in this act. Said sealed proposals shall be made in accordance with a form to be prescribed by the commission and shall be addressed to the superintendent of public instruction, Carson City, Nevada; and shall be indorsed "Sealed proposals for supplying text-books for use in the State of Nevada." Said proposals shall include a statement of the introductory price, the exchange price for new books in the hands of the dealers, the exchange price for second-hand books, and the retail price at which publishers will agree to furnish each text-book to the school children of Nevada at one or more places in each county as shall be designated by the commission. Whenever any contract shall be terminated by reason of the failure of any contracting publisher to observe the terms of the contract, or when any contract shall cease to be in force and effect, the text-book commission shall notify publishers to this effect, in a manner hereinbefore prescribed, that adoptions will be made to fill out the unexpired term of such contract, and that sealed bids shall be filed with the superintendent of public instruction on or before a date to be determined by the commission, to be specified in the notification to publishers.

3402. Geographies to contain special matter for Nevada.

SEC. 162. The publishers, contracting and agreeing to furnish books for use in the State of Nevada under the provisions of this act, shall cause to be prepared a special map and a special supplement descriptive of Nevada for the geography adopted by said commission. The map and special descriptive geography of Nevada shall be revised every four years by the publishers. They shall further agree to maintain the mechanical excellence of the books adopted by said commission, fully equal to the samples submitted, in binding, printing, quality of paper, and other essential features, and the books shall be of the latest revised edition.

3403. Commission to adopt text-books.

SEC. 163. It shall be the duty of said text-book commission to meet at the time and place mentioned in said notice and to open all sealed proposals in public, in the presence of a quorum of said commission, to select and adopt such text-books for use in the public schools, and to approve such supplemental books as in the opinion of the commission will best subserve the educational interests of the state; provided, however, that the text-book commission may, at its discretion, reject any and all proposals, if it be deemed by it to be to the interest of the state so to do, and call for new proposals, stating the time when such new proposals shall be opened, which time shall not be later than thirty days from the rejection of the previous proposals.

3404. Commission's choice of books to be used in schools.

SEC. 164. The series of text-books so selected and approved by said textbook commission shall be certified to by the president and secretary, and said certificate, with a copy of the books named therein, shall be placed on file in the office of the superintendent of public instruction. Such certificate must contain a complete list of all books adopted and approved by said commission, giving introductory, exchange, and retail prices for which each text-book will be furnished, and the names of the publishers agreeing to furnish the same. The said books named in said certificate shall, for a period of four years, from and after the first day of September next following the date of such adoption, be used in all the public schools of the state to the exclusion of all others; provided, however, that nothing in any part of this act shall be construed so as to prevent the purchase or use by the district of any supplemental or reference books for use in the schools of this state.

3405. Commission shall make contracts.

SEC. 165. The text-book commission shall have power to make such contracts for the purchase and use of text-books in the name of the state as they shall deem necessary, for the interests of the public schools of the state. Such contracts shall set forth the introductory, exchange, and retail price of each text-book, and such prices shall not be less favorable than the prices at which such books are sold in any other state; and such contract shall provide, further, that the contracting publisher shall, during the life of the contract, keep on hand at one or more depositories, in each county as shall be designated by the commission, a sufficient number of copies of such text-books to supply the needs of the schools of the state, as ordered by the keepers of said depositories.

3406. Contractors to give bonds—Proviso.

SEC. 166. All publishers contracting to furnish text-books adopted by the text-book commission shall be required to give bonds in an amount equal to one-half of the value of the books to be furnished during one school year, as estimated by the text-book commission, and such bonds shall be forfeited to the state distributive school fund, if such publishers fail to comply with the terms of the contract in any county of the state; provided, however, that such bonds shall not be forfeited through the unauthorized action of text-book dealers in this state if such publisher shall, upon notification by the superintendent of public instruction, promptly correct any violation of contract prices on the part of any local dealer. Upon information furnished by the state text-book commission, the attorney-general shall bring action for the recovery of the amount of any such bond of any publisher who shall have failed to comply with the terms of any contract, and the full amount named in such bond shall be deemed to be fixed and liquidated damages for the breach of such contract.

3407. Contracts, when in effect.

SEC. 167. Such contract with the publishers of text-books shall not take effect until such publishers shall have filed with the secretary of state, their bond, with at least two sufficient sureties, or a bond from a bonding company authorized to do business in this state, to be approved by the governor, and in such sum as shall be determined by the text-book commission.

3408. Contracts void, when.

SEC. 168. In case the publishers of any text-books adopted by the text-book commission shall not, on or before the fifteenth day of July next following such adoption, have filed with the secretary of state a bond as hereinbefore provided, or in case such publishers shall at any time thereafter fail to comply with the terms of such contract, and if within reasonable time, after due notice shall have been given by the superintendent of public instruction, they shall have failed to comply with the conditions of the contract in any respect, the adoption of said books shall become null and void. The text-books adopted by the said text-book commission under this act shall, upon the compliance of the publishers with the aforesaid conditions, continue in use for the period of four years after the first day of September next following the date of such adoption, to the exclusion of all other text-books.

3409. Price of text-books promulgated.

SEC. 169. Whenever the publishers of the books adopted under the provisions of this act shall have filed their bond as herein provided, it shall be the duty of the superintendent of public instruction to cause all prices of text-books as guaranteed by the publishers to be printed and distributed among the superintendents and school trustees, and it shall be the duty of the school trustees in each district to cause such prices to be kept constantly posted in a conspicuous place in each schoolroom.

3410. Use of authorized books compulsory.

SEC. 170. The text-books adopted by the text-book commission shall be used in every public school in the state in the grades for which they are adopted, and no other books shall be used as text-books in such grades; provided, however, that this section shall not be interpreted in such a manner as to prohibit the use of supplemental books purchased by the district. Any school officer or teacher who shall violate the provisions of this act by requiring the pupils to use text-books other than those adopted by the text-book commission, or by permitting the use of such other books as texts, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty dollars, nor more than one hundred dollars. All superintendents and school officers are charged with the execution of this law, and the superintendent of public instruction shall require the trustees of the several school districts, or the clerks thereof, to report annually as to the text-books used in their schools.

3411. Per diem of appointed commissioners.

SEC. 171. The members of the state text-book commission shall, with the exception of the governor, the superintendent of public instruction, and the president of the university, receive the sum of five dollars per diem for each day actually engaged in transacting the business of the commission, and actual traveling expenses. There is hereby appropriated the sum of five hundred dollars per year, or so much thereof as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, from the state general fund. Bills for such compensation shall be allowed and paid in the usual manner. The state text-book commission shall not be in session more than ten days in any one year.

3412. Penalty for overcharge on books.

SEC. 172. Any person who shall sell or bargain to sell any of the regularly adopted text-books for any amount more than the prices agreed upon by the several text-book publishers and the text-book commission, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty dollars, nor more than one hundred dollars; provided, that any local dealer in the state may, when sending out such books by mail, include in the selling price the cost of the postage necessary to send such books by mail.

CHAPTER 13

COUNTY HIGH SCHOOLS

- | | |
|---|--|
| 3413. County high schools, how established. | 3419. Duties of board. |
| 3414. Idem—Election—Ballots. | 3420. Tax levy. |
| 3415. Location of school, how determined. | 3421. Eligible pupils. |
| 3416. Tax levy to raise amount estimated. | 3422. Principal may supervise other schools. |
| 3417. Temporary board. | 3423. Conducted under general laws. |
| 3418. County board of education elected. | 3424. Dormitories and dining halls. |

3413. County high schools, how established.

SEC. 173. There may be established in any county in this state a high school; provided, that at any general or special election held in said county after the passage of this act, a majority of all the votes cast at such election, upon the proposition to establish a high school shall be in favor of establishing and maintaining such high school at the expense of said county.

3414. Idem—Election—Ballots.

SEC. 174. The board of county commissioners at any general election to be held in any county after the passage of this act, upon the presentation of a petition signed by fifty or more qualified electors, taxpayers of said county, at any regular meeting of said board held not less than eight weeks before any general or special election, must make an order submitting the question of establishing, constructing and maintaining a county high school to the qualified electors thereof. The board of county commissioners, upon the presentation of said petition, may order a special election for said purpose. Said election shall be conducted in the manner prescribed by law for conducting elections, and the ballots at such election shall have printed thereon the words "For a County High School" and the words "Against a County High School." The votes cast for and against said county high school at any election therefor, shall be counted and the returns thereof made and canvassed in the manner provided for by law for counting, making returns, and canvassing the votes of a general election; provided, that the election officers appointed to conduct any special election held in accordance with this act, as required by law, shall perform all services required of them by law in holding and conducting such elections, without any fees or pay therefor.

3415. Location of school, how determined.

SEC. 175. If a majority of the votes cast on a proposition to establish a county high school shall be in the affirmative, it shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners, within thirty days after canvassing said vote, to locate the high school in the place in said county where the said board shall deem most suitable and convenient for the purpose. If, after the county commissioners shall have located said high school, there shall be presented a certified petition bearing the signatures of at least one-fourth of the qualified voters of such county according to the last general election returns, said petition requesting a vote on the question of the location of the county high school and specifying a desired location, said board of county commissioners shall submit the question of such location to the voters of the county at the next general election, or a special election called for the purpose of voting upon the question of locating or changing the county high school; provided, that in all cases where special elections have been called by the board of county commissioners of any county of this state previous to the passage of this act to submit the question of location of any county high school to the voters in any such county wherein two thousand or more votes were cast at the last general election, and wherein the assessed valuation of real and personal property is six million dollars or more, the board of county commissioners may, if said board deems it to the best interest of the people of such county, establish two county high schools; one at the place selected by the board of county commissioners and one at the place named in the petition presented to the said board of county commissioners praying for said special election in said county, and thereupon the said board may revoke the order calling said special election, and in such cases no special election shall be held. At any general or special election at which the location of any county high school is submitted to the voters of the county, the form of ballot shall be:

Shall the county high school be located at _____? Yes

Shall the county high school be located at _____? No

In any other respects the provisions of the general election law shall be followed. If at any such election a majority of all voters who shall vote on the question of such location shall vote in favor of locating the county high school at the place designated in the petition, it shall be the duty of the county board of education to cause the high school to be located at such place, not later than the first day of the next following September. While the vote on the question of changing the location of any county high school is pending, no contract for the purchase of grounds or for the erection of a building shall be made. When the location of the county high school has been finally determined, the board of county commissioners shall estimate the cost of purchasing suitable grounds, procuring plans and specifications, erecting a building, furnishing the same, fencing and ornamenting the grounds, and the cost of running said school for the following twelve months; provided, that the estimate mentioned herein for purchasing suitable grounds, procuring plans and specifications, erecting a building, furnishing the same, and fencing and ornamenting the grounds shall not be made, if previous to the time when the commissioners are to make such estimate the legislature shall have authorized said county to issue bonds for such purpose.

3416. Tax levy to raise amount estimated.

SEC. 176. When such estimate shall have been made, the board of county commissioners shall thereupon immediately proceed to levy a special tax upon all the assessable property of the county, sufficient to raise the amount estimated. Said tax shall be computed, entered on the tax roll and collected, and the amount so collected shall be deposited in the county treasury and be known and designated as the "County High-School Fund," and shall be drawn from the treasury in the manner now provided by law for drawing money from the treasury by school trustees; provided, however, that the tax levy for purchasing suitable grounds, procuring plans and specifications, erecting a building, and furnishing the same, fencing and ornamenting the grounds, may be deferred as long as a sufficient number of suitable rooms in a public school building can be secured for the purposes of such county high school at a reasonable rental. In case such levy be deferred until after the election of a county board of education, the levy shall be made by the board of county commissioners whenever so ordered by the county board of education, and the board of education shall be charged with the duty of purchasing grounds and erecting and furnishing such school building.

3417. Temporary board.

SEC. 177. The board of county commissioners shall act as a county board of education in the performance of the duties hereinbefore mentioned and shall continue to perform the duties of the county board of education until a county board of education shall have been elected or appointed and qualified as hereinafter provided, and at such time the board of county commissioners shall transfer all property and control of said school to the county board of education, who shall hold the same in trust for the county.

3418. County board of education elected.

SEC. 178. At each general election there shall be elected a county board of education, to consist of three members, two of whom shall serve two years, and the other four years, and thereafter at each regular biennial election there shall be elected two members of said board, one of whom shall serve for two years and the other for four years. Each person elected as herein provided shall enter upon the duties of his office on the first Monday in January next following his election, and shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualified. If at any time a vacancy shall occur on said board, it shall be the duty of the superintendent of public instruction to appoint a member for the unexpired term.

3419. Duties of board.

SEC. 179. It shall be the duty of the county board of education to furnish annually, an estimate of the amount of money needed to pay all the necessary expenses of running said school; to enforce the uniform high-school course of study adopted by the state board of education; to employ teachers holding Nevada state certificates of the high-school grade in full force and effect; to hire janitors and other employees, and discharge such employees when sufficient cause therefor shall exist; and to do any and all other things necessary to the proper conduct of the school.

3420. Tax levy.

SEC. 180. It shall be the duty of the board of county commissioners to include in their annual tax levy the amount estimated by the county board of education as needed to pay the expenses of conducting the county school; and such amount when collected, and paid into the county treasury, shall be known as the "County High-School Fund," and may be drawn therefrom for the purpose of defraying the expenses of conducting said county high school in the manner now provided by law for drawing money from the county treasury by school trustees.

3421. Eligible pupils.

SEC. 181. All county high schools shall be open for the admission of graduates holding diplomas from the eighth grade of the elementary schools of the state; provided, that the examinations for the said diplomas shall have been given under the direction and authority of the state board of education; and to such other pupils as shall pass the examination for admission to the county high school, which examination shall be conducted under the direction and authority of the state board of education.

3422. Principal may supervise other schools.

SEC. 182. Nothing in this act shall be construed so as to prevent the principal of the county high school from acting as principal of the grammar school of the district in which the county high school is located if so desired by the trustees of said school district and the county board of education.

3423. Conducted under general laws.

SEC. 183. The county high school shall be under the same general supervision and shall be subject to the same laws, rules, and regulations governing the other schools of the state school system.

3424. Dormitories and dining-halls.

SEC. 184. The county board of education is hereby empowered to provide for the rental, purchase, or erection of a suitable dormitory or dormitories and dining-hall for high-school students, and to provide for the support, maintenance, and management of the same. The said dormitory or dormitories shall be considered part of the regular high-school equipment and organization.

CHAPTER 14

NORMAL TRAINING SCHOOLS

3425. How established.

3428. Graduation certificate.

3426. Training school board.

3429. Provisions for maintaining schools.

3427. Duties of board.

3430. Authority conferred.

3425. How established.

SEC. 185. Upon notification by the county board of education in counties where a county high school is in operation, or of the board of trustees of the school district in which the county-seat is located, in counties not having an established county high school, that the said county board of education or board of trustees and the board of county commissioners of the county have decided by a majority vote of each of the said boards to establish a normal training school, and that there are at least five bona fide applicants for a normal training course in such school, the state board of education shall, subject to the provisions herein named, grant permission to establish and maintain a normal training school for the purpose of giving free instruction and training in the principles of education and methods of teaching to residents of this state; provided, that no such normal training school shall be established in any county having within its borders a state normal school or state university; and, provided further, that but one such normal training school shall be established in any county.

3426. Training school board.

SEC. 186. The state board of education shall constitute the normal training school board.

3427. Duties of board.

SEC. 187. The duties of the normal training school board shall be as follows:

1. To determine the qualification for admission to the normal training school; provided, that applicants who do not hold a diploma from an accredited high school or a teacher's certificate of at least the primary grade shall be required to pass an entrance examination. And said examination shall include all subjects taught in the high schools as provided by the laws of this state;

2. To establish a course of study to be pursued for a period of not less than thirty-six weeks;

3. To grant certificates of graduation to such persons as finish the course adopted in such form as the normal training school board shall prescribe.

3428. Graduation certificate.

SEC. 188. The certificate of graduation shall entitle the holder thereof to a second-grade elementary certificate without further examination, and said certificate shall entitle the holder thereof to teach in any of the rural schools of this state not employing more than one teacher, and said certificate shall not be good for more than two years.

3429. Provisions for maintaining schools.

SEC. 189. For the purpose of maintaining such normal training schools as are herein described, it is further provided:

1. That the county in which a normal training school shall be established shall provide rooms with heating and equipment satisfactory to the normal training school board for the purposes of such school;

2. Upon certification of the state board of education that a normal training school has been established in any county, that the school has been properly equipped, that at least five bona fide students are in actual attendance, and that a competent normal training teacher is employed, the state controller shall on the first day of October and the first day of February of each year set aside from any money in the state general fund not otherwise appropriated, a sum designated by the state board of education not exceeding nine hundred dollars and not less than six hundred dollars, to be known as the normal training school salary fund for County, to be used in payment of the teacher's salary and to be drawn from the state treasury in the usual manner. Any money remaining in such fund on the thirty-first day of August of each year shall revert to the state general fund;

3. In any county establishing a normal training school the normal training school board shall, previous to the first day of September in each year, estimate the cost of maintaining the rooms and equipment of the normal training school for the ensuing year and certify the amount estimated to the board of county commissioners of said county; provided, such estimate shall not exceed the amount of five hundred dollars for any one year. Claims for equipment and maintenance shall be just and legal charges upon the general fund of said county; provided, that not more than the amount estimated shall be allowed for any one year.

3430. Authority conferred.

SEC. 190. The normal training school board is hereby given the power to make and put into effect any and all rules and regulations necessary to the proper conduct of any normal training school established under and by virtue of the provisions of this act.

CHAPTER 15

SCHOOL DISTRICT BONDS

3431. Bonds may be issued.

3432. Submitted to popular vote.

3433. Election how conducted—Notice.

3434. Maturity—Sale to be published.

3435. Bonds signed—Seal.

3436. Register of bonds.

3437. Special bond tax.

3438. Not affected by change in boundary.

3439. Taxes lien on property.

3440. Bonds for various purposes.

3441. Under general act.

3442. Not affected by change in districts.

3431. Bonds may be issued.

SEC. 191. Any school district of the state, now existing or which may hereafter be created, is hereby authorized to borrow money for the purpose of erecting and furnishing a school building or buildings, maintaining the same, purchasing grounds on which to erect such building, or buildings, or for refunding floating indebtedness, or for any or all of these purposes, by issuing negotiable coupon bonds of the district in the manner by this act provided.

The jurisdiction of school district trustees is limited to the legislative authority conferred upon them. State ex rel. Henderson Banking Co. v. McBride, 31 Nev. 57, 63, 64, 66, 69 (99 P. 705).

Under this act a school district cannot issue bonds maturing at the rate of $1,000 annually for the first eight years and at the rate of $1,500 during the remaining eight years. Idem.

Mandamus will not lie to compel officers to execute bonds not in accordance with law. Idem.

3432. Submitted to popular vote.

SEC. 192. When the board of trustees of any school district shall deem it necessary to incur an indebtedness authorized by this act by issuing the negotiable coupon bonds of the district, said board of trustees shall first determine the amount of such bonds to be issued, and a certificate of such determination shall be made and entered in and upon the records of said district. Thereupon the board of school trustees shall, by resolution duly made and entered in and upon the records of said board, submit the question of contracting a bonded indebtedness for any of the purposes authorized by this act to a vote of the duly qualified electors of the district at the next general election of the school trustees, or at a special election which the school trustees are hereby authorized to call for such purpose.

3433. Election, how conducted—Notice.

SEC. 193. The election provided in this act shall be called and held, and the vote canvassed and returned, in all respects as nearly as may be in accordance with the provisions of law now governing the election of school trustees; provided, that if there is a newspaper published in the school district, the notice shall be published for at least once a week for two successive weeks, preceding said election. The election notice must contain:

First—The time and place of holding such election.

Second—The names of inspectors to conduct the same.

Third—The hours during the day in which the polls will be open.

Fourth—The amount and denomination of the bonds, the rate of interest and the number of years, not exceeding twenty, the bonds are to run. All persons voting on the question submitted at such election shall vote by separate ballot whereon is placed the words "For the Bonds" or "Against the Bonds." The ballots shall be deposited in a separate box provided by the school trustees for that purpose.

3434. Maturity—Sale to be published.

SEC. 194. If upon the official determination of the result of such election it appear that a majority of all the votes cast are "For the Bonds," the board of trustees, as soon as practicable, shall issue the negotiable coupon bonds of the district in such form and denomination as the board of trustees may direct, said bonds to run for a period not to exceed twenty (20) years from the date of issue, and bearing interest at a rate not exceeding eight (8%) per cent per annum, payable semiannually, both principal and interest payable at such place as the board of trustees may direct, said bonds not to be sold for less than their par value. And before said sale is made notice of such proposed sale must be given by publication, in a newspaper, if there is a newspaper published in the district, for at least one week before said bonds are disposed of, inviting sealed bids to be made for said bonds, and said bonds are to be sold to the highest and best bidder for said bonds; provided, if there is no newspaper published in said school district, the notice herein provided for shall be given by posting in three public places in said school district for at least ten days before said bonds are disposed of.

3435. Bonds signed—Seal.

SEC. 195. All bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be signed by the chairman of the board of trustees and be duly attested by the clerk thereof, and shall bear the seal of the district if the district has a seal, and shall be countersigned by the county treasurer.

3436. Register of bonds.

SEC. 196. Before any district shall issue bonds under the provisions of this act, all such bonds shall be presented to the treasurer of the county to be duly registered by him in a book kept for that purpose in his office, which registry shall show the school district, the amount, the time of payment, and the rate of interest, and all such bonds shall bear the certificate of the county treasurer to the effect that they are issued and registered under the provisions of this act. After such registry the bonds shall be at the disposal of the board of trustees of the district issuing the same, to be sold for the purpose of raising funds for the objects designated by this act.

3437. Special bond tax.

SEC. 197. Whenever any school district shall issue any bonds under the provisions of this act it shall be the duty of the board of commissioners of the county in which such district may be situated to levy and assess a special tax on all the taxable property of such district in an amount sufficient to pay the interest thereon when the same shall become due according to the tenor and effect of said bonds, and the county treasurer shall collect the same as other taxes are collected, in cash only, keeping the same separate from other funds received by him; and if there shall be any surplus after paying said interest and the expenses of collecting such special tax, the treasurer shall without delay pass the same to the credit of such school district, and such funds so passed to the credit of the district shall be subject to the disposal of the board of trustees; and beginning with the year the bonds are issued, and annually thereafter, until the full payment of said bonds has been made, the board of county commissioners of the county in which said school district is situated shall levy and assess a special tax, and shall cause said special tax to be collected on all property of the school district, including the net proceeds of mines, sufficient to pay annually a proportion of the principal of said bonds equal to a sum produced by taking the whole amount of said bonds outstanding and dividing it by the number of years said bonds then have to run, which amount shall be levied, assessed, and collected in the same manner as the tax for the payment of the interest coupons and when collected shall be known as the "Sinking Fund," and shall be used only in the payment of such bonds. The sinking fund thus provided may be applied to the purchase and cancellation of the outstanding bonds of the district. At the maturity of such bonds the county treasurer shall call in and pay such bonds and accrued interest thereon and duly cancel the same, and certify his action to the board of trustees of the school district.

3438. Not affected by change in boundary.

SEC. 198. No change in the boundary lines of any school district shall release the taxable real property of the district from assessment and levy of the taxes to pay the interest and principal of such bonds, and if there shall be any change in the boundary of such school district so as to leave any portion of the taxable real property of the district which was subject to taxation in the district at the time of the issue of such bonds, the assessment and levy of taxes for the payment of the principal and interest of such bonds shall be made on such property as if it were still within the district, and if there shall be any change of the boundary lines of such school district so as to annex or include any taxable or real property, after the issue of such bonds, the real property so included or annexed shall thereafter be subject to the assessment and levy of a tax for the payment of the principal and interest of such bonds.

3439. Taxes lien on property.

SEC. 199. All taxes levied and assessed as in this act provided shall constitute a lien on the property charged therewith, from the date of the levy thereof by the county commissioners, or the entry thereof on the assessment roll of the county auditor, until the same are paid, and thereafter, if allowed to become delinquent, shall be enforced in the same manner as is now provided by law for the collection of state and county taxes. And no additional allowance fee, or compensation whatever shall be paid to any officer for carrying out the provisions of this act.

3440. Bonds for various purposes.

SEC. 200. Any school district of the state is hereby authorized to borrow money for the purpose of purchasing grounds, erecting buildings, and furnishing, equipping, and maintaining the same, for instruction in industrial training, manual training, domestic science, and agriculture, or for any one or all of these purposes, by issuing negotiable coupon bonds of the district.

3441. Under general act.

SEC. 201. Such bonds shall be determined upon, submitted to vote of the district interested, authorized, issued and paid, in accordance with the provisions of sections 191 to 199, inclusive.

3442. Not affected by change in districts.

SEC. 202. No change in the boundary lines of any school district that has been, or may hereafter be, bonded for school purposes shall operate to release any part of the property of such district, as existing prior to such change, from taxation for payment of the outstanding bonds issued prior thereto.

CHAPTER 16

COMPULSORY EDUCATION

3443. Various excuses for nonattendance.

3444. Truancy defined.

3445. Punishment of parent.

3446. School trustees to make investigation.

3447. Trustees may appoint and remove attendance officer.

3448. Separate rooms for habitual truants.

3449. Persons encouraging truancy punished.

3450. Punishment for false statements.

3451. Disposal of fines.

3443. Various excuses for nonattendance.

SEC. 203. Each parent, guardian, or other person, in the State of Nevada, having control or charge of any child between the ages of eight and sixteen years shall be required to send such child to a public school during the time in which a public school shall be in session in the school district in which said child resides; but such attendance shall be excused:

1. When satisfactory evidence is presented to the board of trustees of the school district in which such child resides, that the child's bodily or mental condition is such as to prevent or render inadvisable attendance at school, or application to study. A certificate from any reputable physician that the child is not able to attend school, or that its attendance is inadvisable, must be taken as satisfactory evidence by any such board;

2. When the child has already completed the eight grades of the prescribed grammar-school course;

3. When satisfactory evidence is presented to the board of trustees that the child is being taught in a private school, or by a private tutor, or at home, by any person capable of teaching in such branches as are usually taught in the primary and grammar schools of this state;

4. When satisfactory evidence is presented to the board of trustees that the child's labor is necessary for its own or its parent's support;

5. When the deputy superintendent shall determine that the child's residence is located at such distance from the public school as to render attendance impracticable or unsafe.

3444. Truancy defined.

SEC. 204. Any child shall be deemed a truant, in the meaning of this act, who shall have been absent from school, without valid excuse, more than three days; and absence for any part of day shall be considered as absence for that entire day. The teacher, attendance officer, or other person connected with the schools, shall send or deliver a written notice of such truancy to the parent, guardian, or other person, having control or charge of the child. After such notice has thus been furnished or sent to said parent, guardian, or other person, any child who is absent from school thereafter within the school year, without valid excuse, one or more days or parts thereof, shall again be deemed a truant. Any child shall be declared an habitual truant who shall have been deemed a truant three or more times within the school year. Any child who has once been declared an habitual truant and who in a succeeding year is absent from school, without valid excuse, for one or more days or parts thereof, may again be declared an habitual truant.

3445. Punishment of parent.

SEC. 205. Any parent, guardian, or other person having control or charge of any child, to whom notice has been given of truancy, as provided in section 204 of this act, and who fails to prevent the child's subsequent truancy within that school year, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be liable, for the first offense, to a fine of not more than ten dollars or imprisonment for not more than five days, and for each subsequent offense he shall be liable to a fine of not less than ten or more than fifty dollars, or to imprisonment for not less than five nor more than twenty-five days, or to both such fine and imprisonment.

3446. School trustees to make investigation.

SEC. 206. The board of trustees of any school district shall, on the complaint of any person, make a full and impartial investigation of all charges against parents or guardians or other persons having control or charge of any such child, for violation of any of the provisions of this act. If it shall appear upon such investigation that any such parent or guardian or other person has violated any of the provisions of this act, it is hereby made the duty of the clerk of such board of trustees to make and file in the proper court a criminal complaint against such parent, guardian, or other person, charging such violation, and to see that such charge is prosecuted by the proper authorities; provided, that in such school districts having an attendance officer, such officer shall, if so directed by the board of trustees, make and file such complaint, and see that such charge is prosecuted by the proper authorities.

Any taxpayer, or any school officer or deputy school officer, in the State of Nevada shall be eligible to make and file in the proper court a criminal complaint against any parent, guardian, or other person who shall violate any of the provisions of law requiring the attendance of children in the public schools of the state.

3447. Trustees may appoint and remove attendance officer.

SEC. 207. The board of trustees of any school district may appoint and remove at pleasure an attendance officer and shall fix the compensation therefor, and shall prescribe the duties of said officer, not inconsistent with law, and make rules and regulations for the performance thereof. It shall be the duty of the attendance officer, or any peace officer, or any other school officer, to arrest during school hours, without a warrant, any child between the ages of eight and sixteen years, who has been reported to him by the teacher, the city superintendent, or other person connected with the schools, as an absentee from instruction upon which he is lawfully required to attend within the school district. Such arresting officer shall forthwith deliver the child so arrested to the teacher, parent, guardian, or other person having control or charge of said child.

3448. Separate rooms for habitual truants.

SEC. 208. Boards of trustees are hereby authorized to set apart any school building or buildings or any room or rooms in any school building or buildings for the establishment of special or ungraded schools, to provide for the instruction of habitual truants as defined in section 2 of this act, or for pupils who have been insubordinate or disorderly during attendance at school. Boards of trustees are also authorized to purchase sites and erect buildings for such purposes, in the same manner as other school sites and school buildings may be purchased and erected; or boards of trustees may rent suitable property for special or ungraded rooms without being so directed by vote of the district. Teachers of such special or ungraded schools shall have the same qualifications as other teachers in the grades, and shall be paid from the same funds. Boards of trustees are hereby authorized to assign habitual truants and other pupils who have been insubordinate or disorderly during attendance at school to such special and ungraded schools for a period not to exceed the remainder of the school year. Such pupils, however, may be restored to their former room or grade when in the judgment of the board there has been sufficient improvement to warrant the belief that their example and influence will no longer be a detriment to the room to which they shall return.

3449. Persons encouraging truancy punished.

SEC. 209. Any person who induces or attempts to induce any child to be absent unlawfully from school, or who knowingly employs or harbors while school is in session any child absent unlawfully from school, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction shall be punished by a fine of not more than fifty dollars or by imprisonment of not more than twenty-five days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. The attendance officer or any other school officer is hereby empowered to visit any place or establishment where minor children are employed to ascertain whether the provisions of this law are duly complied with, and may demand from all employers of such children a list of children employed, with their names and ages.

3450. Punishment for false statements.

SEC. 210. Any parent, guardian, or other person who makes a false statement concerning the age or school attendance of a child between the ages of eight and sixteen years who is under his control or charge, such false statement being made with intent to deceive under this act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction, shall be punished by a fine of not more than fifty dollars or by imprisonment of not more than twenty-five days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

3451. Disposal of fines.

SEC. 211. All fines collected under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the permanent school fund of the state.

CHAPTER 17

PROTECTION OF SCHOOL CHILDREN

3452. Misdemeanor to interfere with pupils. 3454. Penalty.

3453. Misdemeanor to disturb school.

3452. Misdemeanor to interfere with pupils.

SEC. 212. It shall be a misdemeanor for any person or persons to detain, beat, whip, or otherwise interfere with any pupil or pupils attending any public school in the State of Nevada on his, her, or their way to or from such school against the will of such pupil or pupils.

See sec. 6599.

3453. Misdemeanor to disturb school.

SEC. 213. It shall be a misdemeanor for any person or persons to disturb the peace of any public school in the State of Nevada by using vile or indecent language, or by threatening or assaulting any pupil or teacher within the building or grounds of such school, and for the purpose of this act the ground of every public school in the State of Nevada shall extend to a distance of fifty yards in all directions from the school building.

See sec. 6600.

3454. Penalty.

SEC. 214. Any person or persons convicted of a misdemeanor under either of the foregoing sections of this act shall be subject to a fine not exceeding three hundred dollars or imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed six months, or to both such fine and imprisonment.

CHAPTER 18

PROTECTION OF SCHOOL PROPERTY

3455. Misdemeanor to injure or deface property. 3456. Penalty.

3462. Free text-books, when.

SECTION 1. The board of trustees of each school district may upon their own motion, and shall upon written demand by a number of qualified voters equal to ten per cent of the average number of children attending the public schools in said district during the preceding full school month, submit to a vote of the people, at the next ensuing general or special school election, the question of providing free text-books for the pupils attending said schools, and of levying a special tax for this purpose at a rate to be named in the demand, if demand be made, and in a notice of such election, which shall be given as required in the case of other special tax elections.

3463. Trustees to levy tax, when.

SEC. 2. If a majority of those voting at such election vote in favor of providing free text-books and of a special tax for the same, the board of trustees shall levy such tax, which shall be collected as other special taxes are collected and, from the fund so provided, which shall be called the book fund, shall purchase a sufficient number of authorized text-books, as they may be required, and shall loan them upon such terms, and under such rules and regulations, as may be made by said board, or as may be provided by law, to parents or guardians for the use of the pupils of the schools of said district.

3464. Books district property.

SEC. 3. All property purchased under this act for a school district shall be and remain the property of said district, except as otherwise provided by law.

3465. Books disposed of, how.

SEC. 4. Text-books purchased under this act may be disposed of as follows:

(a) They may be sold for cash to pupils of the public schools, or to parents or guardians of such pupils.

(b) If the board of trustees so decide, pupils who have completed the last two years of the course of study for the district, may, as a mark of merit, be given the permanent ownership of such four text-books used by them during their last two years of study in the schools of said district, as said pupils may select.

3466. Parents or guardians responsible for books loaned.

SEC. 5. The parents and guardians of pupils shall be responsible for all books loaned to the pupils in their charge, and shall pay to the clerk of the board of trustees, for the book fund of the district, the full purchase price of every such book destroyed, lost, or so damaged as to make it unacceptable to other pupils succeeding to their classes. The board of trustees may also make rules for payment for slighter injuries to books.

3467. Credits to pupils for good care.

SEC. 6. Credits shall be given to pupils in a ratio to be fixed by those having authority to fix ratios of credits, for the economic use and care of books in the hands of pupils, whether such books be the property of the district or otherwise.

3468. Material other than books.

SEC. 7. Equipment and materials for use in manual training, industrial training and the teaching of domestic science, may be supplied to pupils in the same manner, out of the same fund and on the same terms and conditions as books; provided, that no private ownership can be acquired in such equipment or material unless sold according to law when such equipment or material shall be no longer used or required for the schools of the district.

3469. Other books may be purchased.

SEC. 8. Authorized supplementary books for the use of the teachers may be purchased under this act, and shall remain the property of the school district for which purchased unless sold in accordance with law.

3470. Tax levy for books.

SEC. 9. Each year after the first introduction in any school district of the system provided for in this act, and on or before the tenth day of January thereof, the board of school trustees of such district shall estimate the amount of money necessary for maintaining or increasing the supply of books, equipment, and material, or any or all of these, and proceed to levy the necessary tax therefor in the manner now provided for by law for levying a special tax not in excess of twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars.

3471. Not invalidate existing contracts.

SEC. 10. This act shall not be so construed as to authorize the violation of any valid existing contract, nor to provide a means for the adoption of text-books.

3472. Penalty.

SEC. 11. Every person violating the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not more than twenty dollars ($20) or imprisoned not more than ten (10) days, or both so fined and imprisoned.

An act to authorize the issuance of interest-bearing school warrants in emergencies, to repeal all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith, and other matters properly connected therewith.

Approved March 23, 1911, 347

3473. When may be issued.
3474. How endorsed.

3475. Order in which paid.
3476. Amount of warrants limited.
3477. Preliminaries as to issue.

3473. When may be issued.

SECTION 1. Whenever the county school fund of any school district is exhausted and there is not available money to meet the necessary expenses involved in maintaining the public schools of the district, the board of trustees of such district may, by unanimous vote, by resolution setting forth the character of the emergency, authorize the clerk of the board to issue orders, for the payment of current bills of the schools of the district, to the county auditor, and said county auditor shall draw warrants for the same on the county treasurer in the usual manner. Such orders shall be in the hands of the county auditor valid vouchers for warrants so drawn.

3474. How endorsed.

SEC. 2. When such warrants are presented to the county treasurer he shall endorse thereon the date and "Not paid for want of funds," and such warrants shall draw interest from date at the rate of seven per cent per annum.

3475. Order in which paid.

SEC. 3. The county treasurer shall keep a list of all warrants so endorsed and shall pay them in the order of endorsement whenever there is sufficient money in the fund upon which such warrants are drawn. The interest on such warrants shall stop when the county treasurer shall give notice that he has funds with which to pay the same.

3476. Amount of warrants limited.

SEC. 4. It shall not be lawful for the clerk of the board of trustees of such district to draw orders on the county auditor in such amount that the total amount of such interest-bearing warrants of the district, outstanding and unpaid, shall exceed the total cost of maintaining the schools of the district for the current year, nor exceed one per cent of the total assessed valuation of the district.

3477. Preliminaries as to issue.

SEC. 5. Before the issuance of the first of such interest-bearing warrants the clerk of the board of trustees shall submit to the county commissioners of said county a copy of the resolution of the board of trustees authorizing the same, and said county commissioners shall levy and cause to be collected a special tax upon the taxable property of the school district, sufficient to pay such warrants within three years.

An Act providing that ten per cent of proceeds from fees which issue to the counties from national forest reserves be paid into the county school fund of the county in which such fees may be collected.

Approved March 29, 1907, 415

WHEREAS, The president of the United States has been authorized to establish, from time to time, forest reserves in the several states, and legislation is now pending which will grant him further authority to establish grazing districts upon the vacant public lands of the United States; and

WHEREAS, Certain fixed charges will be made for the grazing of live stock upon said lands, ten per cent of such fees to be paid into the treasury of the county in which such fees may be collected; now, therefore, 3478. Apportionment of fees.

SECTION 1. That the proceeds from such fees which may be paid into the treasury of the several counties of the state shall be paid into the county school fund of such counties, and shall be apportioned at the same time and in the same manner as other county school funds.
